

MY FGB 501

Chapter 501

Sam was weak, and his face was pale. "Why are you targeting Parker?"

His face twisted into a grimace as he said, "I won't tell you even if you're going to kill me."

Kayson slapped him across his face. "It's fine if you don't want to tell me. I have plenty of ways to make you tell the truth."

After that, he cast the Soul-guiding Curse on Sam.

Sam's eyes turned glassy, and he said honestly, "It's an order from my master. His name is Master Octavius. He told me that Parker had seen something he shouldn't have, and I needed to silence him."

Kayson lifted his eyebrows. "What is it?"

Sam replied blankly, "I don't know."

"Why didn't you kill Parker straightaway?" Sam replied, "Parker's life is simple. He has never gotten into a conflict with anyone before, and it'd create suspicion if we just killed him directly. "Initially, I planned to knock Parker out cold. Then, I'd sneak into the hospital and kill him at night when he was getting treated in the hospital." The Younts were dumbfounded, and an angered expression appeared on their faces when they heard what Sam had said. "What a close call!" Cody growled, "How can they be so vicious?!" Parker felt that Lady Luck must be on his side this time. If his brother had not gotten Kayson here, he would have been dead.

Kayson turned his head around and asked, "Parker, have you seen anything odd lately?"

Parker replied gloomily, "No, Kayson. I hardly ever go out..."

Suddenly, he remembered something and said, "Wait a second. There is one thing. It happened several days ago "A classmate of mine got married. He stays in Clouspring, so I went there to attend his wedding. When I was on my way back, I came across a car accident on the highway..."

A weird expression hopped onto his face as he said, "Well, it didn't really look like a car accident. The guardrail wasn't damaged, and only one car was on the road with the hood lifted, "Besides, there was someone who pulled two people out of the car as if he was going to beat them up..."

A hint of suspicion rose from Kayson's guts as he said, "Do you still remember the plate number?"

Parker shook his head, "I can't see it clearly since it was late at night, but I remember that the car was from Clouspring.."

"Could you see the faces of the two people inside the car?" Parker searched through his memory and said, "One of them was old, and the other was younger. I guess they were father and son... It was too dark at that time. I couldn't really see clearly."

Kayson then showed Parker Jules and Ivan's photo.

Parker said in surprise, "Huh? This old man looks a bit similar..."

Kayson could more or less be certain that the two people Parker had seen were Jules and Ivan. It seemed that Cloudia Paragon was behind the disappearance of the Killicks! He asked Sam, "Do you know Jules and Ivan Killicks?" Sam replied, "I've heard of them, but I don't know much about them." "Are they in Cloudia Paragon?" "I have no idea. I've been practicing in seclusion the whole time." Kayson knew he could not get more information from Sam. He smacked his head, and he came back to his senses. "What have you done to me!?" Sam's eyes were filled with fear. He did not know why, but he had lost consciousness for a moment. Kayson asked, "Do you know Master Oclave?" Sam replied fretfully, "Of course. Master Oclave is one of the grandmasters in Cloudia Paragon!" Kayson said, "I'm the one who killed him."

Sam was startled when he heard what Kayson said. "You killed Master Oclave!?"

Chapter 502

Kayson chuckled and said, "I'm sure Cloudia Paragon already knows that I'm the one who killed Master Oclave. What are they going to do to me?" Gritting his teeth, Sam said, "You're dead, kid. Master Oclave is the junior of the head of Cloudia Paragon. Soon, the person who's going to take your life will come to you!" "Hmm?"

Kayson was excited. Just as he expected, Cloudia Paragon was planning something. Besides, it seemed to him that they were treating him as a powerful opponent. That was why they did not act rashly.

Sam continued and threatened him, "Kid, I suggest you go to Cloudia Paragon and beg for forgiveness. This way, maybe we'll show you some mercy and grant you a painless death!"

Kayson laughed as if he had heard the funniest joke in the world and slapped Sam so hard that two of his teeth flew out of his mouth. "You're at my mercy, yet you still have the guts to act all high and mighty here? It seems like you have quite a lot of confidence in Cloudia Paragon."

Kayson kicked him out of the door and continued. "Go back to Cloudia Paragon and tell them that I'll be coming for them very soon." Sam looked at him in disbelief. "You're letting me go?"

Kayson said indifferently, "Hmm? You don't want me to let you go? Well, if you want to die, I can also grant you your wish."

Sam crawled with both his hands as if he were a dog with its hindlegs broken and ran away. While he was crawling, he was vomiting blood. Before he disappeared from their vision, he shouted, "Just you wait, you arrogant kid! You're digging your own grave!" Edward hurriedly went ahead and said, "Master Yarde, Cloudia Paragon is really powerful. You must think twice before you act!"

Cody had heard of Cloudia Paragon as well and chimed in. "Kayson, Master Garland is right. My father told me before that Cloudia Paragon is a dangerous place. Anyone who goes against them won't end up well." Kayson smiled and said, "Don't worry. I'll be back soon. Cloudia Paragon won't be a threat for me."

After that, he turned to Tanner. "Tanner, you stay here." Tanner panicked after receiving Kayson's order. "Mr. Yarde, you must give me a call after settling your affairs"

He just wanted to follow Kayson and be his most loyal sidekick.

Kayson lrt out a chur klesand nodded. He then turned around and walked toward the entrance.

Cody styband said, "Don't you guys think Kayson is a bit too hasty? I heard that the people Tron! 'atacon Alestrong."

Edward did not dare to make any comment and said, "I'm sure Master Yarde knows what he's doing. All we can do is stay here and wait for him."

Sam used both his hands and dragged himself back to Cloudia Paragon. By the time he arrived at Cloudia Paragon, it was already one o'clock in the afternoon. "Help... Master... Help!" Sam shouted, and two younger members of Cloudia Paragon rushed over.

"Mr. McConell! Who did this to you!?" one of them shouted as his face was filled with shock

Sam shouted, "Bring me to my master... I can't hold on anymore..." After he finished speaking, his head dropped, and he fell unconscious. The two disciples hurriedly carried him back into the hall. A man came into the hall. He had a pair of thick eyebrows and big eyes, and he exuded a strong aura. "What happened? Who the hell dares to hurt my disciple?! I'm going to skin him!"

The man was Master Octavius, Sam's master. "Toby, go get my kit here!"

"Yes, sir!"

The disciple named Toby soon returned with a kit in his hands. Master Octavius took a pill out of the kit and fed it to Sam. Sam regained consciousness and said in an agitated manner, "Sir, I've met Kayson! He's the one who killed Master Oclave!"

Master Octavius's pupils constricted. "Is he the one who beat you up like this?" Sam gnashed his teeth and hissed. "Yes, sir! He said he's coming to Cloudia Paragon! He seriously underestimated us, sir! We must show him who we are and mustn't let him get out of here alive!"

Master Octavius flew into a rage, and his eyes seemed as if they were spewing fire. "How dare he belittle Cloudia Paragon!?"

Chapter 503

"Go look for Master Ocvera. He'll heal you. I'll go look for my senior!" Sam was delighted inwardly. Master Octavius' senior was the head of Cloudia Paragon. He was the strongest amongst them. "Yes, sir!"

Master Octavius left the hall and came to the Hall of Excellence, the place where the head of Cloudia Paragon stayed.

"Senior!"

In the Hall of Excellence, his senior was sitting on a couch with his eyes closed. When he heard Master Octavius's voice, he slowly opened his eyes and said, "What's wrong, Octavius? Why are you in such a hurry?"

After Master Octavius recounted everything that Sam had told him, he fell silent for a while and said slowly, "I see. If he comes, then all we have to do is make sure he won't be able to get out of here alive.

After all, we need to avenge Oclave's death." Master Octavius nodded and said, "I'll ask our members to get ready for battle. There is a probability that he'll come for us soon." As soon as he had finished talking, his senior said, "He's already here."

At the entrance of Cloudia Paragon...

Kayson paced into the hall confidently as if he was strolling across the garden. "You vile creature! Who gives you the permission to come in!?" A voice erupted, and Master Octavius appeared in front of Kayson. Kayson scanned him and smiled. "You're a late-stage grandmaster. Counting Master Oclave in, there are already two grandmasters here. Now I can see why other people say that Cloudia Paragon is powerful."

Master Octavius was startled. He hadn't done anything yet, and Kayson had already seen through his strength. Master Octavius's voice turned cold as he asked, "Are you a pre-celestial immortal who has reached the mind expansion stage?" "Not bad." Kayson nodded. Then, he flicked his finger, forming his vulcan fire energy into a fireball as he threw it toward Master Octavius.

Master Octavius assumed his stance and threw a punch forward. A massive amount of energy surged forward, and the wind howled. An explosion occurred, and Kayson's fireball was extinguished.

However, some type of energy was left, and it went straight to Kayson.

Kayson was taken aback a little and lifted his hand. A thumping sound erupted, and a red welt appeared on his palm.

"What kind of move is this? I can't believe that he has such precise control of his energy flow!" Master Octavius was stunned.

He found it hard to believe that there was someone who could stop his Odinous Power. After all, he had killed a grandmaster once with the formless Odinous Power.

However, this kid in front of him was able to stop that attack and appeared unscathed from it.

'D*mn it! Could it be that he has practiced the Titanium Technique too?' "There's no need for a dying person to know about it." Master Octavius leaped into the air and pushed his palm forward. A powerful Odinous Power poured forth and charged toward Kayson. Kayson activated the Titanium Technique. At the same time, he circulated the lightning energy around his first as he attempted to intercept the Odinous Power. The stone underneath Kayson's feet cracked, but his body remained standing firm like a ramrod.

"Master Octavius, you've already attacked me twice. I think it's about time you accept an attack from me."

Kayson jumped into the air with feline graces and activated his Novem Lightning Zero Impact while he delivered a palm strike at Master Octavius. Master Octavius let out a cold laugh and said, "You asked for it!" His Odinous Power could reach its full potential at such a close distance. It seemed to him that Kayson was not aware of the Odinous Power's strength, and he felt that his action was no different from digging his own grave. "Now, die!" Master Octavius thought he was going to win this as he unleashed his Odinous Power at its full strength. In the next second, Master Octavius' right sleeve burst into powder, and his bones and skin cracked.

"Ah!"

He let out a pained scream as he flew toward the back and rammed heavily into the wall of a hall.

Chapter 504

Some of the disciples came forward when they heard the commotion when they saw Master Octavius' arm was drenched in blood, their faces turned pale with fright Kayson did a somersault in the air and landed on the ground with feline graces. His arm was also a bit numb, and it seemed to him that he had underestimated the Odinous Power

It was a skill that increased one's inner energy. Even though Master Octavius' inner energy was not as potent as his, he was able to unleash such a powerful attack after practicing the Odinous Power

If he could practice the Odinous Power as well, did this not mean that he would be able to easily kill a grandmaster by just unleashing his inner energy alone? That would be very awesome!

"L... I can't believe that you also have lightning energy..."

Master Octavius' forehead was filled with beads of cold sweat, and his face was contorted in pain.

Although he was the fifth amongst his senior brothers, his strength was ranked second, just below their eldest senior. However, he couldn't even last for a few rounds against Kayson. It occurred to him that he had underestimated Kayson's strength.

Even the Odinous Power couldn't do anything to Kayson.

Kayson said indifferently, "Master Oclave tried to kill me, so I killed him. You guys can't just blame me like that.

"Also, I didn't come here to apologize. I'm here to ask you something

"Did you send someone to take Parker's life because he saw your people take Jules and Evan away? You realized that things might go out of hand if Parker were to tell anyone about the car accident, so you decided to kill him. Am I right?" Master Octavius was startled, but he did not allow his true emotion to escape to his face "I don't know what you are talking about at all!"

Kayson sighed, "It seems like you won't tell me the truth. Well, I guess I have no other choice but to beat all of you before asking for more information out of your mouth"

Master Octavius' expression changed, and he shouted, "Senior!"

Kayson lifted his eyebrows, and suddenly, a wizened figure appeared on the rooftop He was none other than Master Oczen, the head of Claudia Paragon

Master Oczen looked at Kayson indifferently and said, "Mr. Yarde, we truly don't know anything about Jules and Evan that you mentioned. "However, you'll need to give me an explanation as to why you attacked Cloudia Paragon and injured my junior today."

Kayson let out a chuckle and said, "You can drop your act, Master Orzen."

A hint of killing intent flitted across Master Oczen's eyes as he said, "It seems like you really have a death wish."

As soon as he finished speaking, he disappeared from the rooftop and dashed toward Kayson at high speed.

Kayson lifted his hand to block his attack, but Master Oczen pushed his arm away with ease. After that, he raised his hand and rammed a punch into Kayson's chest. A loud thud sounded out. Kayson was sent a few steps backward as he grunted. "What a powerful punch!" Master Oczen frowned slightly and asked, "You practice the Titanium Technique?" Kayson smiled. "Bingo!" A manic light flashed across Master Oczen's eyes as he asked, "Where did you get the manual from? I'll spare your life if you can hand it over to me." Kayson was stumped. It seemed to him that the Titanium Technique was indeed very famous. Even someone like Master Oczen would want to get his hands on it. Kayson said, "There's no way I can hand that manual to you just like that, Master Oczen." "Hand it over to me! Or else, I'll shred you down into pieces!" Master Oczen did not make any effort to hide his greed. Even his posture had changed. Kayson let out a cold smirk and said, "Come and take it if you can!" "Hya!" Master Oczen turned into a blur and closed the distance between them in an instant. Their moves were fast, and they exchanged a few blows in the blink of an eye. Kayson did not know why, but he had a feeling that Master Oczen had a special ability that could neutralize every attack he threw at him. No matter what Kayson threw at him, be it a punch or a kick, he was able to neutralize it with ease.

Right after all of his attacks had been intercepted, an idea appeared in Kayson's mind. He cast the Ground Serincan and threw himself straight at Master Oczen.

Mastit Oszer felt as if he had been hit by a truck. He flew backward and smashed into the hall where he just stood on the roof

Chapter 505

Master Oczen, whose head was drenched in blood, was only able to stop himself after he smashed through two halls in consecutive.

The world in his vision was spinning, and he could barely stand straight.

"You

Master Oczen was both surprised and angered.

'What the hell was that thing?'

Before he could finish his sentence, Kayson had already appeared in front of him with his fist raised high in the air. He rammed his fist straight into Master Oczen's chest, causing him to spit a mouthful of blood.

The result of an exchange between two powerful fighters was often decided in one hit.

Master Oczen was seriously injured, and it was apparent that he had lost the battle.

“D*mn it! Elite Eight! Get into formation!” shouted Master Oczen, and eight muscular bare-chested men appeared from the surrounding area.

The alarm in Kayson’s heart blared, and he hastily took a few steps back.

The eight muscular men swiftly surrounded Kayson, each holding a stick in their hand.

In the next second, a terrifying aura emerged from each of them as if they had received some kind of power boost. Kayson lifted his eyebrows. “An offensive formation?”

All of their killing intent and aura had been merged into one. When one of them made a move, the rest of the seven would stay completely still while channeling their energy and power to the person who would make a move. Kayson was stuck in the center, and then a stick came straight at him with terrifying momentum.

“I didn’t expect there to be an offensive formation here... But it’s a lot weaker than the offensive formation of the old man.”

Kayson raised his fist and intercepted the stick.

The long stick broke into two pieces, and half of it flew away.

After that, he raised his right foot and stomped hard on the ground. A powerful surge of energy swept across the ground.

The ground of the courtyard exploded, throwing the eight muscular men off balance. As they spurted out blood, they looked at Kayson in disbelief.

They couldn’t believe that Kayson was able to break through the Rakshasa Formation.

“How is that possible?!” Master Oczen was startled and found this hard to believe.

Kayson flicked his finger and delivered some lightning energy into the bodies of the eight muscular men. They instantly twitched as if they had been electrocuted and then passed out.

Master Oczen’s face turned pale. He couldn’t fight with Kayso anymore. Kayson asked, “Where are Jules and Evan?” Master Oczen’s face was livid as he replied, “I don’t know what you are talking about.”

Kayson delivered a bolt of lightning and destroyed Master Oczen’s leg, causing him to scream in agony. “I know the Soul-guiding Curse, so I suggest you tell me everything.”

Master Oczen was stunned.

‘He knows the Soul-guiding Curse too?’

Unfortunately, Kayson had run out of patience and was not going to give him the chance to choose. He smacked his head and activated the Soul-guiding Curse.

He also took Master Octavius over and controlled him through the Soul-guiding Curse too.

He asked about the whereabouts of the Killicks.

Master Oczen said, "Jules has been taken away. Evan is in a basement 600 feet behind the Hall of Heroes. The entrance is behind the pillar."

Kayson asked again, "Who instructed you guys to take the Killicks away? And why?"

"It's Mr. Denn who asked us to abduct both of them. We don't know what he's up to."

Kayson frowned slightly.

'It's Mr. Denn again! In fact, he had suspected that it was Mr. Denn behind the Killicks' disappearance. After all, not many people in the world could instruct a grandmaster to carry out a simple task like abducting two ordinary people, and one of them was the mysterious Mr. Denn.

Chapter 506

Kayson took a deep breath. Mr. Denn was powerful. There had been several grandmasters who were tied to him. He could even get grandmasters from outside of Springside. Mr. Denn was definitely not someone simple. Kayson asked, "What other experts are there in Cloudia Paragon?"

"There's my junior Ocvera, but he's not well versed in combat," said Master Oczen.

Kayson used mind expansion and discovered Master Ocvera's location. Sam was also there. He actually did not have to mind the regular disciples too much.

As Kayson went to Master Ocvera, the latter looked grim when he saw him. "My seniors have lost?"

Master Ocvera heaved a long sigh at Kayson's nod. "I knew it. They'd get Cloudia Paragon in fatal trouble sooner or later since they worked for those people."

Sam, who was on the side, dared not say a thing. His gaze on Kayson was only filled with fear.

"Sir, we're certainly at fault, but the disciples are innocent. Could you let them go?"

Master Orvera was a kind soul.

"I won't harm the innocent, that's for sure. Please make a move," said Kayson.

Master Ocvera nodded and told Sam, "Sam, go back. Don't come to Cloudia Paragon again."

"Senior Ocvera..." Sam was shaking all over. Was Cloudia Paragon done for?

As Master Ocvera followed Kayson, he bowed solemnly when he saw his two seniors who were subdued.

Kayson came to the entrance of the basement after that, to which Master Ocvera said, "I know that there's a basement here, but I don't know what's inside."

Kayson nodded, and the four of them went down, reaching an underground room shortly.

Ivan was not the only one in the room as there was a pretty young girl whose mouth was sealed.

When Ivan slowly opened his eyes and saw Kayson , his gaze was emotional, but he was unable to say a thing since his mouth was also taped.

Kayson approached him and pulled the tape off.

Ivan exclaimed emotionally, “Mr. Yarde! You’re actually here to save me!”

The middle aged man in his 40s was close to tears from happiness.

TULUI

Ivan nodded quickly. “I do. She’s Livia Shore, daughter of the richest man in Skyriv!”

“Should I save her too then?” Kayson asked in surprise.

“Definitely! He’ll owe you a huge favor if you save his daughter!” said Ivan.

Kayson did not mind much about the favor, but the richest man in Skyriv sounded like an impressive title. Thinking about it further, though, it seemed like that was all it was.

Kayson looked at the skeletons at the side and asked,” Master Ocvera, Oczen and the others have killed people?”

Master Ocvera was quiet for a moment before he answered, “I think so, but they rarely tell me these things. I... don’t quite get along with them.”

Kayson carried Livia back up to the ground while Ivan took in gulps of fresh air. “I thought I wouldn’t have the chance to breathe fresh air again in this life!”

Kayson put Livia aside and used mind expansion over the Cloudia Paragon. When he realized that several more corpses had yet to fully decompose at the back of the mountain, his expression grew grim as he called Cameron.

Cameron was astonished. “Kayson, sealing Cloudia Paragon off isn’t something minor. You must have concrete evidence in asking me to do so!” “I can guarantee it. Just come soon with your guys,” said Kayson.

Cameron dared not stall. Kayson gave it a thought and called Captain Philip. The latter said nothing as he brought his team and rushed over. Master Ocvera was a little panicky as well, looking grim and upset.

Chapter 507

Before the men came, Kayson asked Master Ocvera, “You should have a lot of martial techniques here, right?”

Master Ocvera understood the implied meaning and replied right away, “I’ll take you there for a look. Just take what you like.”

Kayson nodded and actually found some awesome techniques in the library.

More than an hour later, Cameron and his men surrounded Cloudia Paragon. After Philip arrived, he started an excavation according to Kayson's marking and discovered quite a number of bodies.

Master Ocvera looked solemn and actually wanted to kill himself to make up for the crimes, but Kayson stopped him.

Kayson left Philip and Cameron in charge. As for Livia, of course, Philip had his people send her back.

After returning to the Garland Gym, Ivan went to take a shower and changed into a new set of clothes. He soon cleaned up and pleaded, "Mr. Yarde, you have to save my father!"

Kayson nodded. "I'm here in Greenspring to save you and Mr. Killick Sr., so don't worry about it."

At the same time, news about Cloudia Paragon being sealed got out.

Mr. Denn, who was in his residence, was infuriated. "Useless!" He insulted as he kicked a middle-aged man in front of him down to the floor.

"Do you know how many of our secrets are in Cloudia Paragon? How could something like this happen?"

The middle-aged man was fearful. "Mr. Denn, it's Kayson Yarde! He just swept Cloudia Paragon like a storm. He's so fast that I couldn't react in time!"

Mr. Denn glowered. Kayson Yarde! It was him again! Who and where did he come from!?

"Didn't I ask you to investigate him? Why isn't there an update?" The middle-aged man quickly responded, "There's some information. Kayson Yarde is close to Wolfenden Corp. in Clouspring ! He killed Steelification Doyan not too long ago and became known in the martial world because of it!

"The Tinsleys and Killicks in Skyspring are on good terms with him. He seems to have decent medical skills, and his battle prowess is superb..."

"What's his background?" Mr. Denn asked coldly.

"This... hasn't been found out for now. All that's known is that he comes from a small countryside village.

Nothing can be tracked because he hasn't taken any transportation..."

"You piece of trash! What's the point of keeping all of you? Get out!" roared Mr. Denn. The middle-aged man excused himself hastily, afraid that Mr. Denn would kill him out of disgruntlement.

Mr. Denn's butler, Alfredo, spoke up seriously. "Mr. Denn, Kayson Yarde needs to be taken out as soon as possible, or a lot of things that we've done in Greenspring could be exposed..."

"Get Hansel." Mr. Denn took a deep breath.

Alfredo turned away to contact Hansel.

At the Garland Gym...

Kayson got what Master Octavius was practicing in Cloudia Paragon-Odinous Power. He was interested in this manual and sat down to go through it as soon as he had time.

More than an hour later, he stood up and punched the sandbag hanging over ten meters away through the air, but the sandbag had only swayed.

Edward and Parker came over with the former chuckling. "Master Yarde, this sandbag is custom-made and doesn't come cheap!

"Even a grandmaster wouldn't be able to break it with their power from such a long distance."

Kayson grinned. "Not necessarily."

He used Odinous Power and threw another punch. The strong wave of strength rushed through the air like a billowing gale. The sandbag exploded in the blink of an eye.

Chapter 508

Edward and Parker were stunned, caught at a loss, when the sandbag exploded.

Kayson wore a satisfied smile. It was just Odinous Power at its beginning stage, but the magnification of his inner energy was already apparent. Even a grandmaster who was specifically trained in the art of punching could hardly release such strong inner energy over ten meters away. 1

"Master Yarde... your power's a terror!"

It was hard for Edward not to be in shock. He had not been boasting about what he said earlier. With that distance, even a grandmaster could not break the sandbag. He had gotten someone to test it!

Despite that, Kayson did it. If that power was targeted on a human, they would probably be killed instantly, even if it were a grandmaster.

Edward could not help thinking that it was scary. He had almost been killed by Kayson back then. This was really his second chance in life!

Kayson looked at Parker and smiled. "You have a solid foundation. Master Garland's taught you well. I can help you gather your inner energy. Would you like that?"

"Of course, Master Yarde!" Parker was overjoyed after the initial stupor.

Kayson chuckled. "The address sounds weird. Just call me by my name."

"Kayson!" Parker grinned innocently.

Kayson nodded and asked him to sit down, retrieving silver needles to unblock several pressure points for him.

Within half an hour, Parker was an energy practitioner who had inner energy collected within him!

Edward was both emotional and comforted. This was his best disciple.

Kayson then looked at Edward. "You've been refining your inner energy for years. You just lack the timing to step into the master level.

"I can help you reach the level of a master, but I have two requests."

Edward's eyes widened, and he was going to fall to his knees, but Kayson waved his hand with easy manipulation of power to stop him.

"Please go on, Master Yarde. I'll do my best!"

"I Cody Yount's family is in trouble, remember to help them. As long as you're not dead, contact me. I can save all of you.

"Next is Wolfenden Corp. in Clousrping. If anyone from the Wolfendens of the company is in trouble, you have to rush there."

"I'll keep it in mind and commit it to heart!" Edward promised.

Kayson nodded and patted Edward on the back twice.

Edward's eyes glowed immediately before he punched another sandbag. With a boom, the sandbag was thrown up horizontally and hit the ceiling. "Hahaha! I'm a genuine master now!"

Kayson smiled upon seeing how thrilled Edward was.

When Cody came over and heard Parker talk about Kayson's help toward him, he bowed deeply.

Kayson then took Ivan and Tanner back to the Queens' mansion. When Jason saw Ivan, he was slightly surprised. Although Ivan was not the decision-maker in the Killicks for now, the right would be in his hands when Mr. Killick Sr. passed on in the future. Jason was not opposed to getting closer to Ivan now.

Kayson stayed in the room after eating. He had obtained three technique manuals and two magic circles from Cloudia Paragon today. The techniques were Odinous Power, Divine Shot, and Clairvoyance.

Chapter 509

The formations were the Rakshasa Formation and Universal Violet Dragon Formation.

He was very familiar with the Odinous Power. Clairvoyance was Master Oczen's special skill. It allowed him to feel the momentum of the enemy's attack so that he could deftly avoid and neutralize it.

Master Oczen had been able to neutralize his attacks because he had seen Kayson's movements. The Divine Finger was another powerful skill. It amassed a massive amount of inner energy on a finger before firing out like an energy arrow. It had terrifying penetrating power. The Rakshasa Formation was the formation that the Elite Eight had used against him, while the Universal Violet Dragon Formation was a defensive formation that could defend the user from the attack of a grandmaster.

As for other skills in Cloudia Paragon, they were too normal and nothing special, so Kayson was not interested in them.

He hadn't practiced the other two skills before, so he decided to look into them tonight.

He took out the Divine Shot manual first. After he had finished reading through the manual, he said, “This Divine Shot has a pretty good offensive power. It’s called a skill that can take down a pre-celestial immortal in one hit. I guess it can strengthen my attack once I’ve mastered it.

“As for Clairvoyance... It’s a skill that will hone my mind as well as my five senses. It’s going to take some time, so I guess I’ll practice the Divine Shot first.”

After making up his mind, he gave the Queens a heads – up, left the mansion, and headed to a mountain.

He gathered his inner energy on his right middle finger and pointed it forward. However, there was only a faint amount of energy being released, and it looked just like a fart. It did not have any offensive power at all.

Kayson felt embarrassed but thought this was normal since he had only started practicing it.

He kept trying and trying, and after one hour, a black strand of inner energy shot from his middle finger and penetrated a big tree.

Kayson’s face broke into a smile. “This Divine Shot is indeed awesome!”

He had a massive amount of inner energy, so he could keep on practicing for an entire night without getting tired. Besides, this was just the elementary stage, and he had to be more proficient and skilled in using it.

Kayson continued to practice for a few more hours, and he only stopped when the energy arrow that shot out of his finger could pierce through the big tree about 300 feet away from him.

“With this Divine Finger, I can kill an enemy from 1,000 feet away without moving. However, it needs to be used with mind expansion. Luckily, my senses can cover a wide area.”

In the next few hours, Kayson began practicing Ground – Scrinca. This special skill from the Shamanian Society was versatile and powerful, so he had to master it no matter what.

Kayson only returned to the mansion when the dawn broke.

After they had finished their breakfast, Yvette smiled and said, “Kace, Talia is going home tonight. Jason and I have something else to do, so can you do us a favor and send her home?”

Kayson nodded. “Sure, Aunt Summers.”

Talia took a glance at Kayson, but she did not say anything

Tanner did not feel comfortable staying at the Queens, so he told Kayson he was going to the Garland Gym and asked him to bring him along when he was leaving. Ivan had nothing else to do, so he decided to go visiting around with Jason.

Therefore, Kayson sent Talia home.

Talia mumbled, “Are you serious? You’re a man, but you don’t have a driving license?”

Kayson said helplessly, "I came from a small village. We don't use cars over there. Besides, if I'm really pressed for time, I can even run faster than a car."

Talia was rendered speechless.

"Oh please, stop bragging. Do you know how fast a car can go on a highway? 74.56 MPH! If you can run faster than a car, then you aren't a human anymore."

Kayson thought for a moment and said in a serious manner, "I can't keep it up for a long time, but if it's just for a short amount of time, I can run even faster than that."

Talia did not believe him at all. She was pretty sure that he was lying and that she was not stupid enough to fall for it.

Talia drove the car, and both of them soon arrived at the residential area where Talia and her family lived.

It was an up-scaled residential area, and Jason had developed it.

Chapter 510

After stopping the car, Talia shouted, "Dad, Mom, I'm back!"

Kayson had no other choice but to go inside her house with her. Upon hearing her voice, a middle-aged woman who looked somewhat like Talia came downstairs. She was wearing a silk nightgown, and when she saw Kayson, she nodded at him with a smile and went upstairs again.

After a short while, Talia's mother came downstairs in different attire.

Talia then introduced Kayson to her mother, "Mom, this is Kayson. He's the one who cured Aunt Yvette's infertility."

Yvonne was stunned for a moment before saying, "Nice to meet you, Kace. Thank you for curing my sister and sending Talia back."

Kayson replied, "Don't mention it, madam."

Yvonne smiled at Kayson gently. She was only a few years older than Yvette. However, she was wearing well, and she looked youthful.

She was aware of the purpose of Yvette calling her daughter to her place, so she was also sizing Kayson up.

After measuring Kayson, Yvonne smiled and asked, "May

I know where you're working right now, Kace?"

"I'm currently working at Wolfenden Corp. in Clouspring," replied Kayson. Yvonne was stunned for a moment before replying, "Wolfenden Corp.? Well, Wolfenden Corp. is a good company. It has been on the rise recently, and the entire real estate industry of Skyriv has become more lively because of its rise."

Talia's family worked in the home furnishing industry, so they were familiar with what was happening in the real estate industry.

"What is your position in Wolfenden Corp.?"

"I'm the project team leader of The Tetrad."

"I see..." Yvonne fell silent for a moment before continuing. "Do you have any intention of moving to Greenspring? If you want to work in a project team, I can ask Jason to arrange a position for you. "Or perhaps you can come to work at Hall Furnishing. I'll ask Talia's father to prepare a better position for you."

Kayson was dumbfounded. After a short while, he said, "It's okay, madam. I don't have any plans to stay in Greenspring"

"I'm going back to my village. My mentor refuses to stay outside, and I need to take care of him."

"Village?" Yvonne was stumped, and her heart sank. 'He comes from a village? No, I can't let my daughter live in a village.'

Her impression of Kayson dropped instantly.

However, since her sister valued this young man in front of her so much, she decided to give him one last chance." You can bring your mentor to the city too. It's much more convenient in the city."

Kayson knew where Yvonne was going. However, he couldn't say no directly since she did not point it out explicitly. If not, he would be putting Talia in a difficult position.

Therefore, he smiled and said, "My mentor has gotten used to living in the village. I'm afraid he won't agree to move to the city."

Yvonne frowned slightly. Honestly, she was pretty satisfied with Kayson's appearance, the way he talked, and his demeanor when she first met him.

However, after getting to know more about him, she was disappointed in him. It was good that he wanted to take care of the older people in his family. At the very least, this proved that he was a filial person.

It was just that it was a bad thing if he kept putting his elder as his top priority. It seemed to Yvonne that he did not know how to draw the line.

Yvonne had lost all her interest in Kayson. There was no way she would allow her daughter to marry someone like Kayson and move to a poor village in the countryside.

If the news got out, it would make the Halls the laughingstock of the city.

Talia stood at the side without saying anything as she knew her mother very well. Considering the situation, she could tell that her mother was not satisfied with Kayson.

She hastily said, "Kayson, thank you for sending me back. I'll ask the driver to send you home."

Kayson did not have the intention of staying here either. He nodded and rose to his feet. "Alright then. Goodbye, madam."
