

MY FGB 571

Chapter 571

“The Titanium Technique?”

Master Meyer’s face changed, and he shouted, “Master Hannigan, get back!”

Master Hannigan still hadn’t come around to his senses, and it was too late by the time he tried to run away.

Kayson grabbed him by the ankle and spun him around like a fan before smashing him on the ground, injecting his inner energy into his body through his leg.

A loud thud echoed, and a storm of dust rose into the air. Stones were flying in multiple directions while Master Hannigan spurted out a mouthful of blood, his eyes widening in shock as he died.

Master Meyer was taken aback by Master Hannigan’s death. However, he soon came back to his senses and roared, “Let’s get him together! All of us will be punished if we don’t keep the Ninth Lightning Serum safe!”

Master Meyer, the remaining three grandmaster –level fighters, and the rest of the 14 fighters dashed toward Kayson at the same time, their faces grim.

Kayson stomped on the ground and activated the Odinous Power, sending a wave across the ground while cracking it in the process.

“Pfft!”

One after another, all of the fighters were flipped off the ground by his Odinous Power. Some of their skins cracked while blood kept oozing out of their wounds.

“How is that possible? How can his inner energy be so powerful?” Master Meyer was able to guard himself against Kayson’s attack, albeit with a bit of difficulty. He looked at Kayson in disbelief.

Kayson said, “Why would it not be possible?”

After saying that, he amassed energy on his finger and cast the Divine Shot.

Bam!

Master Meyer defended himself with his inner energy, but the Divine Shot still punctured his arm. He grunted in pain and recoiled, taking a few steps back.

The remaining two grandmaster –level fighters felt a chill down their spine, but there was nothing they could do other than throw themselves at Kayson.

Kayson neutralized their attacks effortlessly and then punched each of them respectively.

They were injured by the Novem Lightning Zero Impact, so both of them fell to the ground.

Master Meyer, who was startled, turned around in an attempt to run. He was going to tell the Hanns to send more reinforcements, but it went without saying that Kayson wouldn’t let him have his way.

He lifted his finger and cast the Divine Shot again, puncturing Master Meyer's legs as he dropped to the floor.

"Who... Who are you?"

Master Meyer turned his head around and looked at Kayson in fear. He felt like he was having a dream after what he had experienced today.

There had been four grandmaster –level fighters and 15 fighters here. All of them had been experienced, yet they had been defeated by Kayson in just less than three minutes.

Then, Kayson kicked his head and he lost consciousness.

After ascertaining that everyone was unconscious, Kayson walked toward the withered tree.

"It seems like luck is on my side!"

A smile appeared on Kayson's face. At that moment, lightning was zipping through the sky, lightening it up, and the sound of thunder could be heard clearly.

Kayson looked at the layer of heavy clouds and pulled out the Lightning Log.

A bolt of lightning hit the Lightning Log, but one lightning was far from enough to get the Ninth Lightning Serum to reach maturity.

Therefore, Kayson continued to wait.

One bolt of lightning, two bolts of lightning, three bolts of lightning...

It was only when the tenth bolt of lightning struck the Lightning Log and its color began to change that Kayson put it away.

Then, he released the lightning energy in the Lightning Log in the form of a powerful thunderbolt through the Lightning Strike Charm.

Bam!

A thunderbolt that seemed to be able to destroy everything in the world appeared. With an earth-shattering thunderstorm, it struck the withered tree.

Kayson scanned the area and said in exhilaration, "It's done! | can save Chief Rivera now!"

Chapter 572

Kayson scanned the area and saw the crystal clear Ninth Lightning Serum that exuded a unique energy under the root of the tree.

Right now, the viscosity of the Ninth Lightning Serum had increased, and its color had become creamy white.

That being said, there was a hint of guilt in Kayson. The formation of the Ninth Lightning Serum meant that this withered tree had reached the end of its life.

All of its essence had been absorbed by the Ninth Lightning Serum, reducing it to nothing but an ordinary tree.

Kayson shattered the trunk with his inner energy and pulled the Evergreen Seed out. The seed was about the size of a pea and emerald in color. While holding it in his hand, he felt more energetic, as if a surge of energy had entered his body.

He joyfully put the seed away and cut a section of the Thunderstruck Wood to carve it into a wooden container.

Then, he dug up the root and collected all the Ninth Lightning Serum in the container.

Kayson put the Lightning Log away. It was a precious item that might come in handy one day in the future.

It was fortunate that he had decided to bring the Lightning Log with him. If he had not brought the Lightning Log with him, he wouldn't have known how to get the Ninth Lightning Serum to form completely.

Even though this withered tree was reaching the end of its life, some parts of it could still be made into Lightning Wood. Therefore, Kayson took two sections with him. He was going to keep one for himself and give one to Felix.

He turned around and looked at the group of fighters. He then fell into thought for a while and decided to spare their lives.

They were just doing their job, so he believed there was no need for him to kill all of them.

An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

Since they had not done anything bad to him, he did not have to kill them all.

Besides, after seeing how powerful he was, he was certain that they wouldn't dare attack him anymore.

"I guess I should get going now."

Kayson waved his hand and went down the mountain.

Meanwhile, a group of young men were preparing to go up the mountain. They were Felix and his friends from Eastsea.

Felix was anxious. He had gone to Kayson's hotel, but since Kayson had already gone out, he hadn't been able to find him.

Right now, his friends were looking at him with mocking gazes.

"Felix!" The girl who had treated Kayson with disdain yesterday called out to him.

Felix turned his head around and asked, "Lily?"

The girl was 21 years old, and her name was Lily Parvel.

She smiled at Felix and said, "We'll go up first. You can come up later yourself."

Felix's expression changed. There was only a handful of Lightning Wood. If he did not follow them, then he might not have the chance to get some anymore.

Although he wanted to wait for Kayson, if he did not get the Lightning Wood, it would be meaningless for him to make a trip to Mount Violightning.

Felix said, "Mr. Yarde might be busy. Let's go up by ourselves first."

A hint of disdain crossed Lily's eyes as she continued. "Nope. You're going to wait here. You can only go up after we come down."

Felix's expression changed. He finally realized something and snarled, "What do you mean by this, Lily?"

Another pretty girl with an expressionless face let out a scoff.

"Felix, the reason we let you come with us is that we treat you as a friend. But don't you ever think that someone like you, someone from Skyspring, has the privilege to walk side by side with us. We're just not on the same level."

Felix's face turned ugly as he snarled, "What do you mean by that, Qiana?"

Lily rolled her eyes at Felix and chimed in, "It means that you don't qualify to go up the mountain with us, understand? People from a small town are the same. You're all fools!"

Chapter 573

A young man with a mature look interrupted and said, "Alright. do not waste your time on him. If he dares to come with us, I'll make sure he won't walk away from Soritown alive."

It was only now that Felix noticed something. He looked at them angrily and snarled, "You guys never intended to let me get the Lightning Wood, right?"

Lily chuckled and said, "Oh gosh, how can you say that? People from a small town truly are disgusting. You guys have such poor morals!"

Felix had not expected them to pull something like that on him. He had never felt so humiliated before and he was so angry that he wanted to punch someone.

The young man squinted his eyes and picked up a branch. He imbued it with his inner energy, and the branch shot toward Felix without any warning.

Felix was taken aback, but it was too late for him to evade it in time. A second later, he felt like he had been hit by a bullet as the branch shot through his shoulder. A hole appeared, and his bones cracked.

"Finn! How dare you attack me!" Felix shouted angrily. Finn had attacked him without any warning, so he hadn't been able to dodge in time.

Finn said calmly, "It seemed to me that you were going to attack us, so I couldn't let you harm Qiana and Lily."

A smile appeared on Qiana's expressionless face as she said gently. "Thank you very much, Finn."

Lily also chimed in, saying reverently, "You're the best, Finn. You saw through Felix's intentions and stopped him before he could harm us!"

The rest of the people chimed in and praised Finn, who enjoyed this kind of feeling a lot.

A second later, he lifted his head and told Felix in a condescending manner, "This was just a small lesson.

"If it happens again, I'll kill you."

Felix's face turned pale. Finn was an inner energy fighter. He hadn't even mastered outer energy yet, so it went without saying that he was no match for Finn.

He did not have any other choice but to sit dejectedly under a tree.

He knew this was his only chance to get the Lightning Wood and he shouldn't give up so easily, but there was nothing he could do right now.

Finn and the others were preparing to go up the mountain. However, he felt a little bit strange when he saw the blood on the ground.

"This is strange. Why is there blood on the ground? And the people who used to guard the mountain aren't around either."

Qiana was confused as well. "You're right. This is strange."

Lily said, "If they're not around, do you think Felix will come after us?"

As soon as she finished talking, a figure appeared in their line of sight.

Qiana was stunned, and Lily shouted, "Hey! What are you doing here?!"

Kayson glanced at them and said calmly, "Why can't I be here?"

Finn's face sank. "Kid, who gave you permission to go up the mountain?"

Kayson ignored him and looked at Felix.

"Mr. Yarde!"

Felix was dumbfounded. He did not know why Kayson was coming down the mountain or how he had gotten up there.

Kayson nodded and looked at Finn. He then asked, "You're the one who injured him?"

Finn's gaze was cold as he replied, "Yes. What are you going to do about it?"

Kayson said calmly, "I'm going to hit you back, of course."

As soon as he finished speaking, he lifted his arm and a storm blew through the area. A second later, Finn flew back and rammed into a tree several feet away.

"Ahh!" Lily shouted.

Qiana's face turned pale with fear, while the others squatted on the ground with their hands on their heads.

Finn spat out a mouthful of blood and fell unconscious.

Kayson ignored the others and walked up to Felix, who still hadn't come around to his senses.

Chapter 574

Kayson took a look at his wound and said, "I'll give you something to stop the bleeding and the pain."

"It's okay. I'm fine..." Felix was, after all, a fighter. Although he looked pale, he could still handle the pain.

"Let's go back to the hotel."

Felix shook his head. "No. I need to get the Lightning Wood..."

Kayson chuckled. It seemed to him that Felix was truly a good grandson. Even though he was badly injured, he still remembered that his grandfather needed the Lightning Wood.

"I got the Lightning Wood. There is nothing on top of the mountain now."

Slack-jawed, Felix said, "Really?"

Kayson nodded and said, "Let's go."

Felix did not say anything and followed him this time.

He got to his feet and followed Kayson to the small town.

Qiana and the rest did not dare stop them. Lily gnashed her teeth and snarled, "What the hell is wrong with that guy?"

Qiana stared at Kayson's figure as a myriad of emotions flashed in her eyes.

'Finn is an inner energy fighter, yet he stood no chance against him at all. Just who the hell is he? Why is he so strong?'

"The fighters guarding the mountain are gone..."

Qiana said, "There was a thunderstorm on top of the mountain just now. It was pretty scary, so I guess we shouldn't go up there anymore."

Lily had seen the thunderstorm too, and since Finn was unconscious, she did not have the guts to go up there anymore.

She said, "You're right. Let's take Finn back to town. Then, we'll get someone to get rid of Kayson and that f*cker!"

Qiana did not say anything in return. She lowered her head and fell into contemplation.

Kayson had gotten quite a few high-quality herbs on his way down the mountain, so he used them to help Felix tend to his wound.

When Felix saw the Lightning Wood, he got excited and said, “Thank you very much, Mr. Yarde! Just name a price. I won’t take your Lightning Wood for nothing!”

Kayson smiled. “Just take it. This Lightning Wood is no use to me now.”

Felix shook his head and said sternly, “No, Mr. Yarde. I can’t just take it like that. It’s a valuable object...”

“If you don’t want it, I’m throwing it in the rubbish.”

“Ah! Don’t! I’ll take it!”

Felix felt a lot of gratitude for Kayson. He had not wasted his time by coming to Mount Violighting, and it must have been fate that had led him to Kayson.

“Go get a room next to mine. I’ll tend to your wound shortly.”

Felix said, “Only the hospital can handle a wound like this. There is only one hospital in town. I’ll go there later.”

After saying that, he shook his head and sighed. “My bones are crushed. I can’t use my left arm anymore.”

In other words, he wouldn’t be able to become a grandmaster – level fighter in the future.

Kayson chuckled and said, “You don’t have to go to the hospital. I can fix it.”

Felix was dumbfounded for a few seconds after he heard what Kayson had said. “Please stop teasing me, Mr. Yarde. There’s no way such a thing could be done.”

After all, his bones were crushed.

Kayson did not want to explain any further, so he decided to show him the result right away.

Even though Felix did not believe him, he still went out of the room.

Kayson sat on the couch and pulled out the Evergreen Seed. He was going to extract the energy inside of the seed.

Very soon, the entire room was filled with a mist of green energy. If one looked from a distance, it would feel like Kayson was sitting inside a poisonous mist.

When all of the energy disappeared, Kayson opened his eyes.

“Finally!”

Kayson opened his palm and a glob of green energy that looked like fire hovered over his palm. He then got to his feet and went to Felix’s room next door.

Chapter 575

Kayson opened the door and went into the room. Felix wanted to stand up, but he stopped him.

Then, Kayson put his hand on Felix’s wounded shoulder and transferred some of the energy he had absorbed from the Evergreen Seed into him.

A while later, Felix frowned and said, "Mr. Yarde, it feels itchy..."

"Don't move!" Kayson said.

Felix had no other choice but to do what Kayson said and sit still.

However, as the pain slowly abated, he realized in surprise that he could move his left shoulder again.

After Kayson finished the treatment, Felix looked at his shoulder and said in disbelief, "Mr. Yarde, my... my shoulder ... I can move my shoulder again!"

"Yeah." Kayson nodded. "I told you I'd fix you. I was not lying, was I?"

Kayson clenched his fist and realized his bones had all grown back. This was something he had never experienced before, and he was truly surprised.

"Mr. Yarde! This is so awesome! Thank you so much!"

Felix was filled with so much joy that he wanted to give Kayson a bow. Kayson hastily stopped him and said, "You don't have to do this."

Felix said with gratitude, "I never expected this. If I had known earlier, I would have taken your phone number back when we were at the Rosella Lodge."

Chuckling, Kayson replied, "It's not too late now, is it?"

Felix flashed him a grin and asked, "Oh yeah, Mr. Yarde. How did you get to the top of the mountain? Was no one standing guard there?"

Kayson replied, "There was, but I defeated them all."

Shaking his head, Felix replied, "Stop messing with me, Mr. Yarde. There was more than one grandmaster-level fighter stationed on top of the mountain."

Kayson said, "I'm telling you the truth... Forget about it. You won't believe me anyway."

'Of course I won't. How am I supposed to believe something like that?'

Kayson said, "I'm going back to Skyspring. What about you?"

Felix replied joyfully, "I'm going back too. Mr. Yarde, you've got to help my grandfather when you get back!"

"Sure. I'll go check on your grandfather when I get back to Skyspring."

"If my grandfather heals from his injuries, he could become a grandmaster-level fighter right away!

"Although you injured Finn today, when my grandfather gets back on his feet and becomes a grandmaster–level fighter , I’ll ask him to help you,” Felix said with a serious voice. “Even though Finn is from Eastsea, I’m sure he won’t have the guts to do anything to you since he’s a grandmaster–level fighter.”

Kayson smiled. “I’ll be counting on you, then.”

“Haha! Leave it to me, Mr. Yarde!”

Suddenly, Kayson felt the presence of a grandmaster–level fighter. He got to his feet and said, “Well, I guess your grandfather won’t be able to help me now. Finn is here.”

Felix was stunned. “What? He’s fast!”

Before the two of them could get out of the room, someone kicked the door open from the outside.

Then, Finn, whose face was pale and filled with rage, pointed at Kayson and hissed, “Master Ivanka, that’s him!”

Master Ivanka turned to look at Kayson and cold sweat began to trickle down his forehead.

Shaking his head, Kayson said, “I thought I’d spared your life when we were on the mountain? Why have you come to die again?”

Master Ivanka dropped to his knees and said, “.... I didn’t know it was you!”

Master Ivanka was one of the fifteen fighters that Kayson had defeated earlier.

After he had come around to his senses, he had walked down the mountain. Perhaps he was related to Finn, or he was one of the fighters in Finn’s family, as he had come here to help him get revenge.

Finn, who was happy that someone was going to help him get revenge, had brought him here.

However, when he saw Master Ivanka drop to his knees, his pupils constricted and his face turned pale.

Chapter 576

Qiana, Lily, and the rest of Finn’s followers were dumbfounded.

Even though a peak master–level fighter was not that powerful in Eastsea, there was no way they would fall to their knees when facing a grandmaster–level fighter.

However, they were stunned when they saw Master Ivanka kneel before a young man around their age.

The lot of them couldn’t come around to their senses for a long while.

Master Ivanka was cursing Finn inwardly. Of all the people, why did he have to mess with someone who was far more powerful than him?

“Sir, I meant no disrespect of any kind to you. I hope you can spare my life...” Master Ivanka pleaded.

Kayson glanced at Finn. His expression was dark, and his eyes were filled with fear. However, he clenched his jaw tightly and refused to say anything.

Kayson thought for a while and injected his inner energy into Master Ivanka.

“Argh!”

Blood was oozing out of Master Ivanka’s body, and his pain scream sent a chill down their spines.

“If it were anyone else, you wouldn’t have let them go, right?”

Kayson said indifferently. “I’m not going to kill you. But I’m taking your power away because I don’t think you need it anymore.”

Master Ivanka dropped to the floor, his face blank and his eyes glassy.

“As for you...”

Kayson looked at Finn and fell into deep thought.

Finn’s knees went weak. If even Master Ivanka was no match for Kayson, it went without saying that Kayson would be able to defeat him with ease since he was just an inner energy fighter .

He was worried that Kayson would take his power away as well, so he disregarded his dignity and got to his knees.

“I shouldn’t have messed with you. Can you tell me what I should do for you to spare me?” Finn said, his voice shaking. “I’m willing to pay any price.”

Kayson did not intend to take his power away. After all, Finn was just an inner energy fighter. He did not feel the need to do something like that to him.

However, he was the one who had injured Felix, so he did not know what Felix wanted to do to him.

“What do you say, Felix?”

Felix was stunned for a moment, but he soon realized that Kayson was helping him get revenge, and he was touched.

He had only met Kayson twice and he had approached Kayson himself the second time.

However, Kayson treated him as a friend. Not only had he healed him, but he was also helping him get revenge.

Felix let out a sigh and said, “Give me back my money. I’ll forget about the rest.”

Finn’s eyes glowed, and he said, “Sure!”

He returned the money to Felix on the spot. Kayson was a bit curious, so he asked, “Aren’t you friends? Why would Felix need to give you money?”

Finn was stunned and then looked flustered.

Lily’s face turned pale, and she grabbed Qiana nervously.

Qiana whipped up an alluring smile and said softly, "Mr. Yarde, this is just a misunderstanding. Why don't we just stop?"

Kayson took a glance at the woman. Although she had a frail appearance, he knew that she was arrogant deep down.

If he hadn't shown them his true strength, he was certain that she wouldn't even have spared him a single glance, let alone talked to him in such a gentle tone.

"I'll decide for myself if it's a misunderstanding or not," Kayson said, causing Qiana's smile to freeze on her face.

Kayson looked at Finn and ordered, "Speak now." Finn did not dare lie to him, so he told him everything.

Chapter 577

He said falteringly, "A few of us are qualified to go up the mountain and decide who to take up with us..."

"Felix wanted to bring you along. We didn't want to, so we asked him to give us $2,200,000..."

Felix felt embarrassed and wanted to bury himself in a hole.

This was because he had been screwed over after giving them the money. He felt so stupid that he couldn't even look at himself.

Kayson was tongue-tied. He did not know that Felix had done something like this behind his back.

'How could he give these people $2,200,000 to bring me along? He could've given me the money! I could have taken him to the mountain myself!

"Did you guys suggest it?" Kayson asked as he scanned them with his sharp gaze. Finn, who was startled, said, "No! This was suggested by Lily alone!"

Lily's face turned pale from fear as she shouted, "Finn, you coward!"

She had not expected that Finn would betray her and sell her out.

Kayson took a glance at Lily. She was the most arrogant amongst her friends. She looked down on anyone who was not from Eastsea and considered all outsiders beneath her.

Kayson said faintly, "You give Felix $4,400,000. The others will give him $1,500,000 each."

Lily did not have that much money.

She gritted her teeth and said, "I don't have that money! Kill me if you can! If you lay a single finger on me, my family won't let you off the hook so easily!"

When Qiana saw that Kayson's face had turned stern, her heart skipped a beat and she said, "I'll help her pay!"

Kayson glanced at her and said indifferently, "Hmm? Sure."

Everyone else gave Felix the money after Finn did so.

Felix, who was dumbfounded, couldn't come around to his senses for a long time.

1... I'm rich now?

Although his family was quite well off, that did not mean that he could dish out $2,200,000 easily.

After all, his family had not risen to fame because of wealth. Otherwise, he wouldn't have given up after the price had exceeded the upper limit when bidding for the Lightning Wood at the Roselle Lodge.

When all of them transferred the money to Felix, Kayson patted his head and said, "Let's go."

"Huh? Okay..."

Felix followed Kayson and exited the hotel, ignoring Finn and his group.

Qiana looked at Finn coldly, as if she was looking at a stranger.

Lily hastily went up to her and said, "Thank you so much, Qiana."

Qiana chuckled and said, "You don't have to thank me. We're besties, remember? Let's go back. We need to inform our families about what happened here."

"Alright!"

Lily ignored everyone else and left.

As for Finn, he carried Master Ivanka away and left Soritown.

Two hours or so later, Kayson and Felix arrived at the downtown train station

Felix said in a serious voice, "Mr. Yarde, give me your account number. I'll transfer the money Finn gave me to you."

Kayson shook his head. "It's okay. You can keep the money."

"But Mr. Yarde..."

Seeing that he was about to say something, Kayson said, "If you insist on giving me the money, I won't treat your grandfather anymore."

Felix was stunned and said with a bitter face. "Alright, alright! I'll keep the money."

Kayson smiled. Both of them went to buy return tickets then.

Felix took his phone out and called Carl.

"Grandpa! I've got the Lightning Wood! And I also found a doctor who knows how to use the Lightning Wood!"

Chapter 578

Carl was taken aback. However, he soon came around to his senses and said gently, "Thank you very much, Felix. But the Living Reaper's disciple is coming to see me soon."

Felix was startled. "The Living Reaper's disciple?"

The Living Reaper was the best doctor in their country, so his disciple had to be very skillful as well.

“Yeah. She’s coming this afternoon . I’m sure she’ll be able to help me with her medical skills.”

Felix said happily, “If she’s the Living Reaper’s disciple, then there shouldn’t be a problem.”

Carl replied, “Yeah. Hurry up and get back. Although there is a possibility that I don’t need the Lightning Wood anymore, we can keep it just in case.”

Then, both of them ended the call.

Felix turned around and told Kayson happily, “Mr. Yarde, the Living Reaper’s disciple is going to treat my grandpa! He will get well very soon!”

Kayson was happy for him as well and said, “That’s great to know.”

Felix was excited. “I can’t believe that my grandpa got the Living Reaper’s disciple to treat him. This is so awesome...”

“I need to get back as soon as possible. I can’t wait to meet the disciples of the great doctor in the legend!”

Kayson did not say anything. He had heard a lot about the Living Reaper and the Stellar. The two of them were the best doctors in their country.

Since their skills were recognized by the whole world, it meant that these two were extraordinary.

The two of them bought tickets for the last train. After passing the security checkpoint, they got on the train more than forty minutes later, ready for the return trip.

Nothing happened throughout the entire trip, so they just rested on the train.

While they were on their way back to Skyspring, The Phillius in Skyspring welcomed the arrival of the Living Reaper’s disciple.

Carl and his family went to the door to greet her themselves. When they saw her, they were stunned.

They couldn’t believe that the Living Reaper’s disciple was a young girl.

Carl’s son was David. His wife came from Skyspring too, and her name was Julie Lowe.

The Living Reaper’s disciple took a step forward, and a smile appeared on her emotionless face.

“Nice to meet you, Elder Master Phillius. I’m Naomi Lynn, a member of Admiralporium’s eighth division.”

Carl asked in surprise, “You’re working for Admiralporium? I never thought that someone like you would be around us.”

Naomi smiled gently. “Not many people know that the Living Reaper is my master.”

Carl replied with a grin, “I didn’t know either.”

Then, they invited Naomi into their house.

Not wanting to waste their time, Naomi got straight to the point after they chatted for a while and began to check his condition.

After she finished checking his condition, she frowned. "Most of the inner walls of your veins have hardened. It isn't an illness but rather a cold energy that's freezing your veins.

"I assume that you started having this condition after fighting with someone? It seems to me that he was aiming to end your journey as a fighter. How vicious!"

Carl nodded in appreciation. She had been able to determine the source of his injuries very quickly, so she had really lived up to her name as the disciple of the Living Reaper.

David then asked worriedly, "Dr. Lynn, is there a way to treat my father?"

Naomi hesitated for a moment before saying, "A vein injury is the hardest to treat. First, we need to remove the cold energy freezing the veins...

"And we can't do it by force. This is because Elder Master Phillius' vein has become very fragile after being frozen by this cold energy for so long."

Carl chimed in, asking, "What if we had Lightning Wood?"

*Lightning Wood?" Naomi was stunned. It went without saying that she knew all about this item as well.

"Indeed. Lightning Wood is the best item to counter the cold energy inside of your body, but as I said earlier, your vein is very fragile right now."

Chapter 579

"It's true that we can remove the cold energy with Lightning Wood, but as I said just now, it'll end up destroying all of your veins.

"If that happens, not only will you lose all your power, but you'll become extremely weak and you'll be tortured for the rest of your life."

David's expression changed. "Does this mean that it'd be better if he didn't get treated?"

Naomi replied, "Unless someone can protect his veins while using the Lightning Wood to remove the cold energy. However, only my master is capable of such a feat in this country."

David and his wife were disappointed when they heard what Naomi said.

On the contrary, Carl seemed rather calm. After so many years, he had already gotten used to disappointment.

He smiled and said, "Thank you so much, Dr. Lynn. Every single one of us will die eventually. If I cannot be cured, then there is no need to force it."

At that moment, Julie suddenly said, "Didn't Felix say he was bringing who can use Lightning Wood? Should we ask him?"

David was stunned for a moment before a bitter smile appeared on his face. "Even Dr. Lynn said that only her master can save Dad, so do you think there is anything the doctor that Felix mentioned can do? We should stop having unrealistic dreams.”

Naomi said, “I know some famous doctors in Eastsea, but unfortunately, they’re helpless against Elder Master Phillus’s condition as well.”

Julie was disappointed, and the atmosphere became tense.

Then, someone called them.

David answered the call.

Felix’s voice rang out from the other side of the line, and he sounded happy. “Dad, is the disciple of the Living Reaper there?”

“Yeah, she’s in our house,” David replied.

Felix asked excitedly, “So how did it go? Can she cure Grandpa?”

David glanced at Naomi and replied, “No. Dr. Lynn said there’s nothing she can do either.”

Felix fell silent for a few seconds before saying nervously, “What? Isn’t she the Living Reaper’s disciple? Dad, are you sure she’s the right person? Is there any possibility that she’s faking it?”

David’s face turned stern as he growled, “That’s impossible! I’m sure Dr. Lynn is the right person. She was introduced by Elder Master Pattingson!”

Felix, who was sad, pressed on. “What if we use the Lightning Wood?”

David said, “There’s nothing the Lightning Wood can do either.”

“Why?” Felix asked anxiously.

David knew how close his own son was to Elder Master Phillius, so he replied patiently, “Your grandfather won’t be able to handle the recoil of the Lightning Wood. It might shatter his veins.”

Inside the train, many passengers were glaring at Felix, who was shouting and disturbing them.

His eyes were red around the rims, and he was so sad that he did not know what to say.

Kayson patted him and said, “I can cure him. Ask them to wait for me.”

Felix was stunned for a moment, but then the spark of hope appeared in his eyes. “You’re not kidding, right, Mr. Yarde?”

Kayson smiled and said, “Naomi is right. The Lightning Wood will indeed injure your grandfather’s veins. However, we don’t have to worry about anything if we protect his veins during the treatment.”

Felix did not notice that Kayson had mentioned Naomi’s name and quickly called his father back.

“Dad! My friend said that he can cure Grandpa!”

Chapter 580

At Phillius' place, David widened his eyes in shock.

"Felix, you've got to make sure this is true. Don't get your grandpa's hopes up for nothing!"

Felix assured his father. "He can do it for sure! Tell grandpa not to worry!"

After David ended the call, he relayed Felix's message.

Naomi arched her brow. She was inwardly furious and she wanted to see who would dare make such a bold promise.

David looked at her awkwardly after he spoke, as she had just claimed that only her mentor could treat the old man, yet his son, a university student, was bringing home someone who could heal him right away.

Carl smiled. "Felix might have been conned out of his intent to be filial. I still believe Dr. Lynn's diagnosis."

Naomi commented nonchalantly, "I'm not necessarily right. After all, there are so many people and geniuses in the country. Who knows? There might be some prodigies hidden among them."

"We'll know when he does his thing. You'll have to do us a favor and be on the lookout, Dr. Lynn," David replied. "My father's made enemies. Someone might be using my son to harm the old man."

Naomi nodded. "I'll keep an eye out."

The group waited for Kayson and Felix at home. The sun set, and it was close to 8 p.m. when the two young men arrived at the Phillius' villa.

"Grandpa ! Dad, mom, I'm home!" Felix yelled, rushing into the living room, where his family and Naomi were sitting on the couch.

Carl chuckled with a fond expression. "I feel so much love. Our Felix has been traveling all over the place the whole summer break and didn't even get much rest."

"You're my grandpa . I'd go up to heaven if I had to as long as you could be healed, grandpa," Felix said seriously.

David asked, "Felix, where's the doctor you mentioned?"

"Kayson, come on in!" Felix looked at the door.

Naomi turned her gaze to the door as well with an aloof expression. She wanted to see who had dared boast so loftily.

When someone walked in holding a flower, Naomi was stunned upon seeing who it was. "Mr. Yarde?"

Kayson had already guessed that it was Naomi when he had heard the name "Dr. Lynn" in the car earlier, so he was not surprised to see her here. He nodded. "Dr. Lynn, we meet again."

"Dr. Lynn, you know each other?" David asked in astonishment.

Naomi looked conflicted as she answered, "Yeah, we do... I'm sorry. I forgot that there was someone better than me in Skyriv."

David, who was shocked, asked excitedly, "You mean Mr. Yarde here, Dr. Lynn?"

Naomi nodded, losing her cool when she saw that it was Kayson. Back when they had been analyzing what had poisoned Hendery, she had been completely defeated.

Carl got up and bowed slightly. "It's a delightful surprise to meet Mr. Yarde again here today! Nice to meet you!"

"The pleasure's mine, Mr. Phillius Sr. Just call me Kayson." Kayson bowed back.

David was astounded. "Dad, you know each other too?"

Carl nodded. "I tried to bid for the Lightning Wood when it appeared at the Roselle Lodge last month, but I failed.

"His contest with Howard involved so much money that I was nowhere near beating them."

Felix, who did not care about that, quickly asked, "Kayson, can you check on my grandpa?"

"His condition is treatable, don't worry," replied Kayson.

The Phillius family was ecstatic. Treatable? This was amazing news!
