

MY HIDDEN 101

Chapter 101: Pregnant?

Back in her room, Gu Weiwei put the rest away in her bag and decided to toss it away at school tomorrow.

She greeted them happily after breakfast, when she found out that she was not pregnant.

Fu Hanzheng frowned in surprise – so she had become happy after one night’s sleep?

“Ji Cheng will have her test next week, and I need to help her with the piano. I won’t be back until tonight.” Gu Weiwei said.

“Okay.” Fu Hanzheng responded.

Gu Weiwei took a sip of porridge and checked the time. “Oh, I should be late! I am off now.”

Fu Shiqin looked at his brother’s expression when he saw off the girl, sighed and then reminded him, “Bro, why do I think that you are not in a loving relationship but instead dealing with a daughter as a father instead?”

Fu Hanzheng squinted at him and said to Aunt Wang who was tidying up in the kitchen.

“Tell Lucas that he can go back home.”

“No, no, I won’t survive without Lucas.” Fu Shiqin groaned.

Lucas was a foreign chef hired by the Fu Family from another country and he was best at making desserts.

And a man like Fu Shiqin, who was deeply interested in desserts, would rather die than live, without a chef like him.

Fu Hanzheng wiped his lips elegantly with the napkin, stood up and headed off to work.

“Don’t forget about the business trip tomorrow.”

Fu Shiqin sighed helplessly. He thought that his brother could not be real – he did not feel any sense of familial love from him!

By evening, when Fu Hanzheng had come back to the apartment from attending a dinner, it was already quite late.

Seeing him looking at Gu Weiwei’s room, Fu Shiqin asked sinisterly, “Should I open the door, so you can sleep in there?”

Fu Hanzheng moved his gaze away and said indifferently, “How about expanding the one week’s business trip to a month?”

Fu Shiqin felt wronged. "I am just giving you suggestions about how to promote your relationship with her!"

"Oh, really?" Fu Hanzheng said with raised eyebrows.

"Third Brother said that a couple should have more communication internally, because that is the best way to promote a relationship." Fu Shiqin said.

Fu Hanzheng frowned. "Internal communication?"

Fu Shiqin glanced at the lower part of his own brother and smirked

"Internally, down there."

Fu Hanzheng squinted at him sinisterly and stood up to go wash himself.

Fu Shiqin snorted. He did not allow her to get a boyfriend or to move out of here, the final purpose was to have internal communication with her. So what was he pretending to be a gentleman right now for?

The following morning, Fu Hanzheng greeted Gu Weiwei briefly and then both left for school or the company, respectively.

Since Fu Shiqin was going off on a business trip in the afternoon, he slept in and woke up later to pack.

As he was packing, he kept complaining about his ruthless brother.

Aunt Wang, who was washing the clothes for them, suddenly came up to him with an anxious expression on her face.

"Second Master, is Miss. Mu... pregnant?"

"Pregnant what?" Fu Shiqin was busy packing and did not fully catch what she said.

Aunt Wang brought out the invoice from Gu Weiwei's blouse and gave it to him. "A girl would not buy anything like this unless she is pregnant."

Fu Shiqin took it and was so startled that he gasped.

"My gosh!"

He made a call to his brother excitedly, ready to report what he had found.

But Fu Hanzheng did not answer his phone call after two times.

He texted with gritted teeth – 'answer me now, or you will regret that you haven't!!!'

Chapter 102: Father-to-Be

At the headquarters of Fu's Enterprise, in the president's office that was located on the top floor.

Fu Hanzheng was busy listening to the plans for new projects when he glanced at the text on his phone, looking annoyed.

Then Fu Shiqin called him again.

“Three minutes.”

“You were wondering about why Mu Weiwei was being nervous last night, right? Now I understand what she is nervous about.” Fu Shiqin said as he continued to mention his conditions in exchange for the information, “If you can take me off the business trip and let me keep Lucas, I will tell you everything.”

Threatened, Fu Hanzheng sounded equally lethal and cold.

“Two more minutes.”

“It is a secret related to life and death, don’t you really want to hear what it is?” With the bargaining chip under his control, Fu Shiqin was scared of nothing.

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a few seconds and added. “Xu Qian can go on the business trip.”

“And Lucas, my Lucas must stay.” Fu Shiqin added.

Fu Hanzheng’s face sank and he said, “Okay.”

If his information was not worth the conditions he mentioned, he could be arranged to do mining in South Africa instead.

Fu Shiqin tossed himself onto the sofa with a small hop after he heard his brother’s agreement.

“When you brought her back home the other night, Mu Weiwei came in first and I accidentally bumped into her with my hot cocoa, which splashed all over her...”

“Stay to the point.” Fu Hanzheng reminded him coldly.

“No need to hurry, listen to me carefully.” Hearing his brother’s anxious voice, Fu Shiqin continued proudly, “Because of that incident, I discovered her secret.”

Fu Hanzheng stayed patient after hearing ‘her secret.’

“What secret?”

However, Fu Shiqin said indifferently. “Bro, you were not wearing... a condom that day, were you?”

His brother never brought women over at night and he would not have had these things ready.

So he was one-hundred percent sure that when his brother was with Mu Weiwei the other night, he was not wearing a condom.

Fu Hanzheng’s eyes changed colors within a few seconds.

He more or less guessed what Fu Shiqin was about to say.

“When Aunt Wang was doing the cleaning at home today and washing clothes for Mu Weiwei, she found a receipt for her buying a pregnancy test.” Fu Shiqin said and stressed how important his role had been.

“Let me tell you, if I had not splashed the cocoa over her so that she ended up getting changed straight away after she came back home, the receipt would have been gone.”

Silent, Fu Hanzheng waved away the staff from the Planning Department.

Now he finally understood what she was so nervous about the other night.

Fu Shiqin continued to babble on the other side of the phone.

“She spent an hour in the bathroom without doing anything, which I found strange.”

Fu Hanzheng was still silent. He looked serious.

She did not mention anything to him about what had happened the day before.

If her secret had not been discovered today, she wouldn't have even told him now.

Fu Shiqin said excitedly after he finished reporting the information, “Bro, are you going to be a father and am I going to be an uncle?”

Ah, should he tell this news to grandma, Third Brother and others so that everyone could do some celebrating.

Fu Hanzheng checked the time and said, “In three hours, finish one thing for me.”

She would be out of school in three hours.

“What is it?”

Fu Hanzheng ended the call after telling him what he was supposed to do.

Chapter 103: Proposal

Six o'clock in the afternoon, Yingcheng High School was dismissed.

Gu Weiwei met with Luo Qianqian down at the building, and the two were waiting for Ji Cheng, who was in the bathroom.

She had switched on the phone that had been off for the entire afternoon, and many messages rolled in the moment it was turned on.

One was from Fu Hanzheng: Come to the parking lot at Ziwu Crossing after school.

Then Fu Shiqin texted several: Mu Weiwei, come to the parking lot of the school.

[Ten minutes after school has ended and you are still inside?]

[Turn on the phone, call me now!]

Gu Weiwei frowned as she saw the messages – what were these two brothers doing?

She had told them that she would be practising piano with Ji Cheng and would not come home until later tonight.

She was just about to reply to Fu Hanzheng when Fu Shiqin called.

“Mu Weiwei, why is your phone on only now? Come to the Ziwu Road parking lot.”

“I and Qianqian will practise piano together, I can’t go home now.” Gu Weiwei said.

She had just finished the words when Fu Hanzheng took over the phone. His low voice was very intimidating.

“We are already here, come here now.”

“If you are not coming now, I will drive into school and pick you up.” Fu Shiqin added.

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth and said, “I will be right there.”

Ji Cheng had just returned and said joyfully, “Let’s go, we can drink some milk tea before piano practise.”

“Cheng, I may not be able to make it, I need to go home now.” Gu Weiwei said apologetically.

What were these two people doing around her school?

If she did not go out to meet them, she suspected that these two dumb-headed men would drive into the campus.

“Ah, but my test is in just a few days time.” Ji Cheng’s face sunk.

“Just practise as you did yesterday, that will help you make it through.” Gu Weiwei had yet to finish her words when Fu Shiqin called her again urgently.

She had to quickly wave goodbye to Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian and ran out of the school. She came to Ziwu Road and found Fu Hanzheng’s car there.

She opened the door and saw there was no one outside before entering the car.

“What is going on? Why must you come to my school?”

Fu Hanzheng brushed away her unkempt hair and said gently, “We have an important place to go to now.”

“What place?”

Fu Hanzheng took ahold of her hand and tightened his grip so she was not able to pull it away.

“You will know soon.”

Gu Weiwei felt something bad was going on when this man looked at her with such a mild look. She suspected that it would be a weird place waiting ahead of her.

Fu Shiqin was driving and music was playing. It was a very romantic song of Love Paradise.

“Aren’t you supposed to be on a business trip today?” Gu Weiwei looked at this man who seemed excited.

“My brother withdrew the order.” Fu Shiqin said and started to whistle happily.

Gu Weiwei looked sideways at Fu Hanzheng and found the man was staring at her for the entire time.

His look was profound and gentle.

“Where... are we going ?”

If it was about his company’s dinner, she would not have had the chance to attend it as a student.

Fu Shiqin pulled over the car and said.

“Here is the Civil Affairs Office.”

“Civil Affairs Office?” Gu Weiwei looked out of the window and it was really the Civil Affairs Office outside. “What are we doing here?”

“Getting married.” Fu Hanzheng replied.

“Who is?” Gu Weiwei looked at him and then at Fu Shiqin.

“We are.”

Chapter 104: Proposal 2

Gu Weiwei’s face turned pale. She gripped ahold of the seat belt and protested.

“I am not getting married, not to you!”

“Are you sure?” Fu Hanzheng asked with a low voice.

“I am sure.” Gu Weiwei had her hands tightly holding the seat belt.

“We slept with each other once, but President Fu, you are an adult, why must I, a teenage girl, be responsible for you?!”

“I should be responsible for you.” Fu Hanzheng said seriously, pressing down his fury.

“I don’t need your responsibility.” Gu Weiwei shook her head. “What is more, I am too young to get married.”

What was going on with this man! He had brought her to the Civil Affairs Office! Was he trying to force her into marrying him?

“Hua Land has a special regulation, as long as the two parents of the two sides approve of the marriage, anyone can get married at 18.” Fu Shiqin said to her as he turned around.

“Li Jiacheng would not approve of this marriage.” Gu Weiwei said.

If Li Jiacheng had known about this marriage, he would definitely not approve of it but instead send Li Xing’er and Li Xiangxiang to him.

In his eyes, Mu Weiwei was not his daughter and he would not have allowed her to marry into the Fu Family.

Fu Shiqin pulled out a piece of paper from the document file on the passenger's seat and waved it in front of her.

"Look, this is Li Jiacheng's signed agreement."

Gu Weiwei took a look at it and found that it was indeed Li Jiacheng's signature.

But it was so easy for the Fu Family to get a signed paper by Li Jiacheng.

And they could just write the content of the agreement without any problems.

"But I don't have a household registration book either."

"Here it is." Fu Shiqin waved the household registration book in front of her.

Three hours, he had gotten everything ready.

What they needed to do now was to take a picture at the Civil Affairs Office and get the registration.

Gu Weiwei was speechless. They were well prepared!

"Now, what else is needed?" Fu Hanzheng said, staring at her transfixed.

Gu Weiwei could not pull out her hand from his tight grip. "My consent. This is not a normal routine. Have you proposed to me? Have you given me time to think about it?"

Fu Hanzheng stretched out his hand to Fu Shiqin in the driver's seat.

"Huh?"

Fu Shiqin instantly took out an exquisite velvet box and placed it in his hand.

"Here is the ring."

Then he stepped out of the car, took out a bunch of roses from the rear and stuffed it into her arms.

"Now, we have the music, the roses, and the ring."

Fu Hanzheng opened the ring box and presented the beautiful diamond ring to the girl.

"Now, you have five minutes to think about it."

Gu Weiwei looked at the roses in her arms, the diamond ring and then the man holding the ring.

This was really his style of proposal.

As the romantic music echoed in the car, she became increasingly annoyed.

Fu Hanzheng would truly pull her into the Civil Affairs Office no matter whether she would agree or not.

"Then... can I ask why?"

There was no omen at all yesterday or this morning? What happened?

Fu Hanzheng looked a bit furious.

“It seems that you are not going to tell me that you are pregnant.”

“What pregnant? I am not pregnant!” Gu Weiwei bellowed.

“Then why did you buy the pregnancy test if you are not pregnant?” Fu Hanzheng said and showed the receipt.

Chapter 105: Mrs. Fu or Girlfriend

Gu Weiwei looked at the evidence and blinked in astonishment.

She thought of how she had bumped into Fu Shiqin and then changed in her bedroom, forgetting about the receipt in her pocket.

It seemed that although she had dealt with the test, they had still found something.

“I bought that yes, but it doesn’t mean that I am pregnant.”

“You have not had your period for more than a month.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth – how did he know that?

“I have problems with my period.”

Fu Hanzheng checked the time and said, “You have two more minutes.”

“I really am not pregnant. Let’s go to the hospital to check, if you don’t believe me.”

She could go anywhere except this Civil Affairs Office.

Fu Hanzheng looked calm. “We can go after we finish this matter.”

“President Fu, just calm down, don’t be so impulsive with this important matter of your life.” Gu Weiwei tried to persuade him patiently.

Fu Hanzheng said, “I am very calm.”

Gu Weiwei sighed and started to analyze for him.

“You suspect that I am pregnant, so you want to marry me, so you need to see if I am pregnant or not first, right?”

“I am fine with either having a child before marriage or after.” Fu Hanzheng said.

He was going to marry her anyways.

Gu Weiwei had no idea what she should say. “But I haven’t thought about marrying you.”

It seemed that despite the lack of child in her belly, he was marrying her anyway.

Gu Weiwei almost wanted to kneel down and beg in front of him. “President Fu, I don’t want a marriage without love.”

Fu Hanzheng reached out to unbutton her seat belt and said calmly, “I love you and you can try to love me later.”

Gu Weiwei tightened her seat belt – she would rather die.

“Fu Hanzheng, we really must calm down. We don’t know much about each other, so we should not get married so fast.”

Fu Hanzheng unbuttoned the seat belt and said, as he leaned sideways, “I think I know you well.”

“But I don’t.”

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a moment and said with a mild voice, “Ask me anything you want to know about me. I can answer all of your questions.”

Gu Weiwei found that Fu Hanzheng was being very unreasonable and forced herself to put on a prompt performance with reddened eyes that had tears swimming in them.

“I don’t want to... marry someone I don’t love like my mother did and end up like her.”

Li Jiacheng used all the methods and means he could to get Mu Yao pregnant, so Mu Yao had to marry Li Jiacheng and in the end, gave birth to Mu Weiwei.

Hearing the girl’s sobs, Fu Hanzheng felt his heart harden. He stayed silent for a moment.

An unfortunate marriage between parents would leave a shadow in their children’s lives, and her parents had more than just an unfortunate marriage.

So he softened his tone.

“So, what are you thinking?”

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and did not want to ask too much of him so she said, “What about not getting married now, let’s get to know each other first. If we are compatible in our relationship, we can then become a couple first and get married later.”

Fu Hanzheng looked at the ring in his hand and said after thinking for a long while, “Mrs Fu or girlfriend, your call.”

Gu Weiwei asked discreetly, seeing that he was holding back a little bit, “Any other... choices?”

Fu Hanzheng raised his eyebrows. “Then I can choose one for you?”

“Girlfriend, I pick girlfriend...” Gu Weiwei was forced to make a choice with a bitter face.

Which person would force themselves to become someone’s boyfriend?

Even though he was so damn, good-looking, she still didn’t want him now.

When they decided not to get married, Fu Shiqin in front of them was no longer pleased.

“I worked the entire afternoon, preparing the certificate, flowers and postponing all the meetings to tomorrow! Now we are here, you are not getting married?”

Chapter 106: Mrs. Fu

Gu Weiwei’s heart started to beat quickly again.

“Why not get married now? We have told the staff to wait for us. Don’t you feel sorry for us?”

Fu Shiqin was very displeased. He had been working the entire afternoon just for their marriage.

Now Mu Weiwei was pretending to be pitiful so as not to marry his brother, and his brother’s heart was softened and agreed to not get married.

“Let’s leave.” Fu Hanzheng urged with a low voice.

He had been selfish to only think about himself when it came to getting married. He had not given her much thought.

Her parents had experienced a failed marriage, and she had suffered greatly from their marriage.

So forcing her right now would definitely disgust her.

Fu Shiqin kept complaining, but still drove them away from the parking lot outside the Civil Affairs Office.

Gu Weiwei took a look at the extremely good-looking man beside her.

Although she always regarded him as the worst enemy of the Gu Family when she was with them back then; after she was reborn and spent time with him, her mind had changed tremendously.

But she also knew that it was impossible between the two of them.

“Fu Hanzheng, what I want to say is that... I appreciate what you did.”

Thank you so much for treasuring me... even though I had fallen into the deepest darkness.

Fu Hanzheng placed the jewelry box into her hand and stared at the girl’s crystal eyes, saying with a low voice, “If you ever change your mind, put on the ring and you will be my wife. Mrs. Fu.”

Gu Weiwei looked at the box in her hand, falling into a complicated state of mind.

She had been waiting for Gu Siting to push through into the next step of their relationship, so he could propose to her and so that she could become his girl.

But she had failed to receive his proposal even at death’s door.

When she was reborn as Mu Weiwei, she received Fu Hanzheng’s proposal instead.

Fu Shiqin was driving in displeasure and as he passed by a large pharmacy, Fu Hanzheng said, “Stop the car, buy the things now.”

“What?” Fu Shiqin pulled over and asked as he looked up.

“Pregnancy tests.”

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips.

It seemed that he still did not believe that she was not pregnant.

Fu Shiqin put on his sunglasses and went, obediently, into the pharmacy. He bought a pregnancy test from every brand.

When he entered the car, he said happily, “Someone asked me if I am Fu Shiyi. Seems that he is going to hit the headlines tomorrow.”

The three of them went into the apartment, and Gu Weiwei went into the bathroom with a bag full of pregnancy tests.

After a long time, she came out with dozens of pregnancy tests and said to Fu Hanzheng as she placed them in front of him one after another.

“See? Two columns mean positive, one column means negative. These are all negative.”

Fu Shiqin glanced at it and said, “One column negative... does it mean that you are pregnant with a girl?”

“Damn you! One column means not pregnant! Read the manuals!” Gu Weiwei said as she flung over the manuals.

Where did he pick up that twisted theory?

Fu Shiqin looked at the manual and sighed with disappointment.

“You really are not pregnant. I thought that my brother would become a father, since he is so strong.”

Fu Hanzheng glanced at the tests with only one column, thought for a moment and then said, “Let’s go to the hospital.”

“Ah?” Gu Weiwei was dumbfounded.

“There are fake products everywhere, these are not trustworthy enough.” Fu Hanzheng said.

“...” Gu Weiwei was speechless.

She truly didn’t have a baby inside her belly, the products aren’t fake!

Chapter 107: Goodnight Kiss

Fu Hanzheng did not trust the results of the dozens of pregnancy tests and forced her to visit the hospital with him after all.

He Chi had just gotten off work, so he brought them to his colleagues in the related department.

The results still turned out to be ‘not pregnant’.

Fu Hanzheng was a bit disappointed. He still asked He Chi, unconvinced, "Are you sure that there is nothing wrong with your medical instruments?"

"No, our medical instruments are totally fine, but your girlfriend's belly is... not right." Arms crossed, He Chi complained.

"If you really want a child, go home and make one. What are you doing here at the hospital?"

Before, he had barely seen him, but recently, he had been visiting the hospital with Mu Weiwei all the time. He was so annoyed.

Gu Weiwei got dressed and came out. "Can we go home now?"

Fu Hanzheng did not leave but said, "She has a problem with her period."

He Chi gritted his teeth and said, "I am a nerve doctor for, not a gynecologist for women."

Having said those words, he still brought them to his colleagues in the gynecology department and helped Gu Weiwei get a prescription.

When they returned to the apartment, it was already nine p.m.

They ate their dinner and Fu Hanzheng asked her to complete her homework in the study.

Fu Hanzheng was delayed with his work, and he had tons of files to deal with. He also had another video meeting with cooperators abroad.

Gu Weiwei sat opposite him quietly and the room was filled with the sound of the man's and the cooperators' meeting in French. His voice sounded very attractive.

During the interval of the meeting, Fu Hanzheng glanced at the girl who was bending over the desk and doing her homework. Afterwards he turned off the video after the meeting ended.

"Finished?"

Gu Weiwei said honestly, "I have two more left, they are really difficult."

Fu Hanzheng removed the files in front of him, reached out for the paper she was working on, and said, "Let me take a look."

Gu Weiwei gave him her homework, walked around the table and stood by his side, waiting for the results of his examination.

With one hand on her homework, the other over her waist, Fu Hanzheng pulled her to sit on his thighs.

Startled, Gu Weiwei was about to stand up when the man pointed at the mistakes in her homework as if nothing was wrong with their position.

After telling her about the mistakes, he also told her about the two questions she was not able to solve.

He did not finish the explanation all in one go, but asked her to do the questions little by little. She found that she had no choice but to write whilst still sitting in his arms.

But as the man's attractive air wafted over her face, she found that her face started to flush bright red and she felt that her brain was slowing down.

When her mistakes were pointed out by Fu Hanzheng, she felt that her face had become toasty warm.

It took her a great deal of time to finish the two questions under his direction.

Fu Hanzheng checked the homework again and caressed her head with a praising tone, "It is time to sleep now."

Gu Weiwei nodded, put away the books and asked.

"Want some black tea?"

"Yes."

Gu Weiwei put away the things, made a cup of black tea in the dining room and brought it into the study, when her hand was taken by the man again.

"Give me a goodnight kiss."

Gu Weiwei was a bit hesitant as she saw the man who was waiting for her kiss with a smile.

Alright then, he helped her with the homework and proposed to her despite his work.

She took a deep breath, leaned forward and gave him a small kiss on the man's exquisite lips.

He reached out for her head and deepened the kiss.

Then her phone rang, interrupting Fu Hanzheng's kiss, who then kissed her forehead instead.

"Good night!"

Flushing, Gu Weiwei left the study and picked up her phone.

Ji Cheng was whining on the other side of the phone. "Weiwei, my idol is having a baby with someone else!"

Chapter 108: Getting Girls

"Who is having a baby?" Gu Weiwei felt a bit confused after the kiss. She doesn't understand what happened.

"Shiyi, my idol! Someone took a snapshot of him buying a pregnancy test! It is all over the internet." Ji Cheng said in tears.

Gu Weiwei looked at Fu Shiqin who was watching TV on the sofa in the living room.

"Don't worry, it is not Fu Shiyi, but his brother Fu Shiqin."

"Are you sure it is Second Master and not Third Master?" Ji Cheng sobbed and said, "But he was wearing a Shiyi outfit."

“Of course I am.”

She was sure about it, because he had done it for her sake!

Fu Shiqin was sitting relaxedly on the sofa, watching the latest gossip on the TV. Fu Shiyi had walked on the red carpet for the fashion ceremony two hours ago.

He was wearing a grey shirt with a fashionable dark blue suit; causing several hundreds of fans to scream out in excitement.

Shiyi posed in front of the camera, showing a charming smile, making himself look very sinister yet attractive at the same time.

Fu Shiqin was holding a bowl of cotton candy, tearing off pieces one after another and shoving them into his mouth. He snorted at the TV.

“So fake!”

On TV, Fu Shiyi signed his name in a scribble and then constantly posed in front of the autograph wall.

Fu Shiqin ate one more piece of cotton candy and heard the hostess speaking highly of Fu Shiyi, he snorted again.

“Exaggerating!”

Gu Weiwei glanced at the man on the sofa after the call with Ji Cheng.

“Are you sure you are brothers from the same mom?”

Fu Shiqin turned around to look at her and snorted. “Yes, but maybe we are not real brothers!”

Anyway, Fu Shiyi had punched him before and he had lost his first tooth.

And his first girlfriend was taken away by Fu Shiyi too.

He had just finished speaking when his phone rang. Instead of reaching out for the phone, he turned on the speaker.

Fu Shiyi bellowed furiously from the phone.

“You, are you crazy! Why did you put on my outfit to buy the pregnancy tests?!”

“It is your fault that you look the same as me!” Fu Shiqin was very glad to hear Fu Shiyi’s angered voice.

“Are you thinking that I am too busy to punch you?” Fu Shiyi bellowed furiously.

“You hit the headlines every day, so you should be used to it!” Fu Shiqin sounded indifferent.

“Damn you! Now everyone thinks that I am married with a child!” Fu Shiyi was so annoyed that he almost wanted to climb through the phone to punch his brother.

He knew that they looked very similar to each other and yet he was still out causing trouble in his clothes. He did it on purpose!

He was involved in so many scandals, because his second brother always pretended to be him!

"I didn't mean to! Our brother asked me to and I couldn't turn him down, alright." Fu Shiqin glanced at the study and said, "You can vent your anger at him instead, if you have the guts."

Fu Shiyi stayed silent for a few seconds and asked in a low voice, "So... sister-in-law is pregnant?"

"Is she pregnant with a son or a daughter?"

"Really my brother's son?"

....

"No she is not, we were all happy in vain." Fu Shiqin said.

"Maybe she is not right now, next time, we can probably be uncles." Fu Shiyi said as he forgot what he was calling him for.

"Oh yes, I asked you to teach our brother how to flirt with girls. Did you do that?"

"Which one did you mean? There were way too many!" Fu Shiqin said.

"The most important thing about a couple is to make... love, the more they make, the more they will love, vice versa..."

"..." Gu Weiwei had just come out of the bathroom after brushing her teeth and heard their conversation.

She was wondering if it was the right decision to sign with Shiyi Culture.

Chapter 109: Girlfriend's Homework

Early in the morning, Fu Hanzheng got up early as usual and started to read the morning post whilst drinking coffee in the dining room.

Gu Weiwei washed herself and sat down in the dining room too.

"Morning."

Fu Hanzheng put away the newspaper and started to eat breakfast with her.

"Still going to your friend's home this afternoon?"

Gu Weiwei nodded as she took a sip of hot milk.

"Yes, their test is only a few days away and I need to help them practice the piano. I accepted their tuition fees, after all."

"Call me when you finish." Fu Hanzheng stressed.

Gu Weiwei was startled. "Why?"

Didn't he postpone the meeting from yesterday to today instead? Wasn't he going to be very busy?

Fu Hanzheng reached out for her mouth, wiping away the milk stains on her lips and raised the corners of her lips.

“We are going on a date.”

Gu Weiwei had just thought of how she had agreed to become his girlfriend yesterday.

But that was a choice she had made in an emergency! What she needed to do was to find an opportunity to break up with him.

But who would be able to tell her how to do so?

“I... I have a maths test tomorrow, I want to review the classes today.”

Fu Hanzheng thought for a moment and said, “Then we can go after your exam.”

Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of relief, finished her breakfast, picked up her school bag and was about to leave when...

“Hang on.” Fu Hanzheng called out to her as he brushed away the strands of hair on her cheeks.

Then he lowered his lips and kissed her softly on her lips.

“Be careful.”

Fu Shiqin, who was watching beside them, found that the porridge he had added sugar to, still turned out to be too sweet.

Because of the proposal plan the day before, much work had been delayed. They had three meetings in a row the moment they reached the company.

It was not eight p.m and Fu Shiqin and the staff in the Planning Department were still at work.

However, the man who had ordained their extra-hours was about to get off from work after he received a phone call.

“Finish the plan today, and give it to me tomorrow.”

Fu Shiqin sounded helpless. “Where are you going if we ourselves are doing extra hours?”

Mu Weiwei was getting ready for a test today, so she did not agree to have a date with him today.

“I need to tutor my girlfriend for her homework.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Fu Shiqin gritted his teeth. “Can’t you tutor her after you finish the extra hours?”

Fu Hanzheng put on his coat and said straightforwardly, “I don’t want to keep her up too late.”

Having said this, he turned and left work instantly.

Fu Shiqin was so annoyed at seeing him leave.

He had thought that a man in love would become a bit more emotional, yet it seemed that he had become more cruel instead.

He laid out loads of work for them to work on, whilst he himself left for home to be with his girlfriend instead.

So they could work overnight, but his girlfriend must not sleep one hour later than usual?

At the Luo Family home, Luo Qianqian asked Ji Cheng and Gu Weiwei to spend the night there because of the pouring rain.

They were just preparing for dinner when the doorbell rang.

Ji Cheng did not know how to cook, so she was waiting for the food, whilst chewing on the snacks. When she heard the doorbell, she went to answer the door.

The door opened, showing a slender and noble-looking man with a wet umbrella in hands. Judging from the dripping water, he must have come in the rain.

“Uncle Fu...”

“I am picking Weiwei up.”

Ji Cheng was still a bit confused, so she called into the kitchen and said, “Weiwei, Uncle Fu is here!”

Gu Weiwei was just cutting the vegetables when she almost cut herself. She put down the knife and came to the door, only to find Fu Hanzheng standing out there.

“I told you I am not coming home if it rains!”

“You must not stay outside overnight.” Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

Gu Weiwei picked up her stuff and waved goodbye to Luo Qianqian and Ji Cheng embarrassedly, following him back home obediently.

Standing in the doorway, Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian saw the man helping the girl into the car carefully with the umbrella over her head.

“Qianqian, why do I think that Uncle Fu is not really Weiwei’s uncle?”

An uncle would not have spoiled a niece so deeply.

“But instead... like her... boyfriend.”

Chapter 110: Unexpected

Gu Weiwei opened the car door and was startled when she saw the roses on the passenger’s seat.

Fu Hanzheng gave them to her and said, “I bought you flowers on the way here.”

She took the flowers, went into the car and sat down as she saw Fu Hanzheng opening the other door and climbing inside.

“...The flowers are very beautiful, thank you.”

Well, look at the pouring rain, you did make an effort.

On the way home, Fu Hanzheng was driving and dealing with work on a phone call at the same time. She mumbled as she saw the pouring rain after he ended the call.

“I told you not to pick me up.”

Fu Hanzheng looked at her sideways. “I was... scared that I would miss you if I didn’t see you.”

They had barely met today, and they only had the hours in the late evening to see each other.

He did not want such precious time to be erased because of the rain.

“...”Gu Weiwei found it unexpected.

It was pouring outside the car, but inside, it was sweet and warm.

Gu Weiwei took a look at the man who was holding the steering wheel. “Can I ask you a question?”

“Go ahead.”

“I remember that... one month ago, you found me disgusting. But now... everything seems to have changed and it has been changing too quickly.” Gu Weiwei asked her question discreetly.

He had found her disgusting before and now he was out proposing to her and trying to be her boyfriend.

Wasn’t that too contradictory?

As far as Mu Weiwei could remember, she could tell that when he saw her before, he found her as annoying as a cockroach.

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent and then laughed self-mockingly.

“Honestly, I don’t know why I have become like this either.”

He had found her disgusting before, but a few days later, his heart was drifting away.

He started to look forward to seeing her and thinking about her involuntarily...

He had never been a hesitant man and it was after he realized his feelings, that he knew that he really wanted this girl.

“You have no idea?” Gu Weiwei frowned.

Fu Hanzheng took a look at her and continued. “For some reason, my heart seemed to skip a beat when I saw you at the apartment unexpectedly.”

Even he himself could not believe why he suddenly had such a feeling towards the girl he used to hate.

Gradually, he found that he did not know her very well.

Gu Weiwei was a bit startled as she looked at Fu Hanzheng’s eyebrows. He looked hesitant and helpless.

She had thought that Fu Hanzheng changed because Mu Weiwei had slept with him, so then he started to like her.

But now she was not so sure.

Was he falling for Mu Weiwei or her who had been reborn as Mu Weiwei?

Fu Hanzheng looked sideways and saw the girl who seemed to be absent-minded. "Anything else?"

From that day on, his state of mind started to change.

And she seemed to have changed too. She seemed to have become more distressed and mature than she ought to be.

But when she thought of what happened at her own home, he found her reaction to be very reasonable.

"Nothing more." Gu Weiwei came back to herself and looked at the street outside of the moving car.

They went back to the apartment and the housemaid had already got the dinner ready.

Gu Weiwei took a few mouthfuls of food and saw that Fu Shiqin was missing. So she asked, "Where is Second Master?"

Fu Hanzheng gave her a slice of boneless fish and said calmly, "He is working overtime at the company, and he is not coming home tonight."

Gu Weiwei was startled and wiped away sympathetic tears for Fu Shiqin out of compassion.

"Don't you feel guilty making your brother work overnight whilst you are here alone?"

"No, I don't"
