

MY HIDDEN 111

Chapter 111: Model Boyfriend

Because of the terrible results that she had received on the last maths mock exam, Gu Weiwei brought out the maths exercises and started to work over the questions after dinner.

She was quite confident about her major test for the Film Academy, yet she was not so sure about the written test.

Especially when Mu Weiwei had asked for a leave, that was way too long, in courses that she had already fallen behind in.

She was not worried about English, and she had made up for the classical poetry in Chinese, whilst also raising her grades in other subjects too.

Only maths was difficult and Fu Hanzheng was busy helping her.

When she was working over the tests, Fu Hanzheng was standing by the window, talking with cooperators from America.

As the handsome man stood by the floor-to-ceiling window, his low voice echoed across the silent study, elegant and attractive.

Fu Hanzheng saw her staring at him from the reflection of the window and asked softly, "Did I disturb you?"

Gu Weiwei shook her head and started to bend over the questions again. She wondered why her eyes had started to fall upon him instead.

Fu Hanzheng smiled, then he picked up his crystal glass and sipped on his whisky, as he continued to talk on the phone.

Gu Weiwei worked over the homework and found that her stomach started to ache.

So she sneaked out of the study and visited the bathroom, only to find that her period was finally here.

But after she moved to this apartment, she had not bought any pads or tampons with her, so she now had to go out and buy them.

Having finished on the call, Fu Hanzheng came out and saw her changing her shoes at the door, ready to go outside.

"Where are you going? It's late"

Gu Weiwei took the umbrella and said, "I am going out to buy something, I will be back soon."

"It is raining outside. Aunt Wang can bring whatever you need here tomorrow." Fu Hanzheng had a cold demeanor.

"I... I can't wait until tomorrow." Gu Weiwei insisted.

Fu Hanzheng noticed her hands over the belly and saw her pale face, figuring out what she needed to get.

"I can go, you stay at home."

You?!

Startled, Gu Weiwei just could not imagine a noble president like him going out to buy such things.

"I better go myself, it is not very... proper for you to buy such things."

Fu Hanzheng picked her up, carried her into the living room and put her down, warmed a cup of milk in the kitchen before going out.

With hands over the cup, Gu Weiwei waited for him with a complicated mind.

The sweet warm milk made her feel less uncomfortable and she found her heart turning a bit warm and sweet inside as well.

Half an hour later, Fu Hanzheng returned with a large bag of supplies.

"So... many?"

He had bought the pads, painkillers, ginger, brown sugar and back warmers back home!

Was he really someone who had never been in a relationship before?

He was a model boyfriend, being able to take such good care of girls!

"I called He Chi and he said that these things help." Fu Hanzheng said calmly.

She moved her lips, brought the things to the bathroom, finding herself feeling very weird.

Gu Siting would always take care of her and keep her company when she was sick, but this was a different feeling to the one she had before.

A long time later, when she came out again, Fu Hanzheng had already made her the brown sugar and water, and helped her move her maths homework into the living room.

"How much do you have left?"

"One unit." Gu Weiwei said and was about to reach out for her homework when he said, "Let me help you solve the question, you just sit and watch."

He could tell from his experience of only needing to explain the question once, that she would understand and not make any similar mistakes again – she had a great memory.

Gu Weiwei nodded, sat down next to him and listened to him carefully.

Fu Hanzheng found something bumping into his left arm before he had finished the unit.

He looked sideways and saw the girl next to him, falling asleep as she leaned against him.

He put down the pen, picked up the girl and carried her to her own room, when he suddenly hesitated...
He turned around and brought her into his own room.

Chapter 112: Model Boyfriend 2

Fu Hanzheng put her on the bed, brushed the hair away from the girl's face and sighed.

What was happening to him?

She used to be the girl that he hated the most, but what had happened to him so that he suddenly kept thinking about her?

She had become so cute, and when she made trouble, she was being cute too! She was like an innocent person who always brought him happiness.

In one word, he liked everything about her.

He was an adult, and he should not have been full of such childish thoughts.

Fu Shiqin had laughed at him before because he had driven her out and now he was the one who was trying to stay by her side. It was such a contradictory thing, that only he would be able to do it.

But this was also the first time for him to feel such a lingering feeling towards a girl.

So even if she was not feeling the same way about him, he would still try to make her stay by his side.

Gu Weiwei felt a bit cold as she was sleeping, so she rubbed herself against the man next to her, squirming into his arms as she fell asleep in satisfaction.

Seeing her falling fast asleep, Fu Hanzheng laughed at himself self-mockingly.

He had not expected that he would have been conquered by a teenage girl.

Early in the morning, he woke up out of habit. When he saw the sweet girl in his arms, he found that he was reluctant to get up so quickly as he usually did.

So he checked the time and decided to stay in with her for a little while longer.

Gu Weiwei was feeling drowsy as she rubbed herself against his arms with squinted eyes.

Fu Hanzheng started to breathe heavily. She truly had no idea that men in the morning were the most vulnerable.

He checked the time and found that he should wake her up. So he lowered his head and kissed her lips.

Gu Weiwei had not noticed that danger was heading her way when she was half-awake. What she felt was just some moist things touching her lips, so she opened her mouth and took it in.

It was just a morning kiss, which had turned into a lingering kiss of passion.

When the man's tongue went deeper, she opened her eyes and found something weird was going on.

“...ahh.”

The moment she opened her eyes, she saw Fu Hanzheng’s handsome face in front of her. Frightened, she opened her eyes wide and wondered what Fu Hanzheng was doing in her bed.

Fu Hanzheng finished the kiss hesitantly and saw the confused girl and reminded her with a low laugh.

“You are late for school.”

Gu Weiwei got up and glanced around, only to find herself in Fu Hanzheng’s bed rather Fu Hanzheng in hers.

She glared at this handsome man – must he use such an extreme way to wake her up?

If she had not been on her period, he would have slept with her!

She hurried out of the room, got changed, washed herself, picked up the bag and was about to leave, when Fu Hanzheng after getting changed, called out to her in a laid-back manner from the dining room.

“Eat some breakfast, I can drive you there.”

“I am late, no time for food.” Gu Weiwei said.

“It’s still raining are you going to run to school in the rain?” Fu Hanzheng sounded displeased.

Gu Weiwei looked out of the window and decided to eat breakfast first.

Fu Hanzheng did not eat himself, but after she had finished her food, he brought her downstairs and drove her to a spot that was close to school.

“Xu Qian can pick you up this afternoon. It will still be raining.”

“No thanks, we can take a taxi.” Gu Weiwei turned him down out of habit.

“It is not safe.” Fu Hanzheng parked the car and brought out the umbrella for her.

Gu Weiwei took the umbrella and asked curiously with a little surprise, “Fu Hanzheng, you are so good at taking care of girls, are you sure... that you have never been in a relationship before?”

“I had no interest in anyone before, but now I do.”

Chapter 113: For Other Purposes

After the mock exams that lasted for several days, it was time for Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian to take the art test for the Capital Music Academy.

Ji Cheng was not very confident. She begged Gu Weiwei to come with her to the exam to cheer her up.

She stayed with the two of them as they finished their art exams and then came her own test for the Film Academy.

The first, the second and the third round of the examination lasted for one whole week and she had just taken one day of rest when Jolin called her.

“Mu Weiwei, audition for the Long Wind tomorrow at ten o’clock.”

“Okay, I will arrive on time tomorrow.”

“Though Tang Shaoqi is not a very pleasing role, yet the film is directed by a famous director and there are many people going for the audition. It depends on you, yourself, if you are able to get the role.”

“I will try my best to get it.” Gu Weiwei said and understood that Jolin had no idea that she was living with the Fu Family.

“I will send you the address and don’t be late tomorrow.” Jolin said and ended the call.

Gu Weiwei put away her phone, and pulled out the original novel of the Long Wind that she had bought before.

The Long Wind was a very classical Wuxia novel in Hua Land and she bought it ages ago. However, due to the exams that came one after another, she still hasn’t had the time to read it.

Now she only has very little time left.

The novel was indeed appealing so that she did not put it down even at the dining table.

“Eat first.” Fu Hanzheng reminded her.

“I need to go to the audition of the Long Wind tomorrow, I have not even read the original book. What if I can’t get into the audition tomorrow?” Gu Weiwei said and turned one more page.

Fu Shiqin heard her and said, “If you can’t get in, then we can hit Third Brother. What a useless scumbag he is!”

Gu Weiwei glared at him speechlessly. “I am trying for my own sake, leave Third Master alone!”

Silent, Fu Hanzheng peeled two shrimps and put them into her bowl.

“Eat first.”

Fu Shiqin bit away one small piece of the sweet and sour rib and looked at his own brother as he said, “Put down the book, and butter up my brother right now. So that tomorrow, you can even get the lead roll!”

She did not need to try to do anything – his brother was her greatest ability!

Fu Hanzheng heard the words and squinted at her vaguely, expecting to hear something from her.

“I don’t want to be rumored as someone who gets positions through strange means.”

“Third Brother signed you, so you can be given to my brother for other purposes.” Fu Shiqin spilled the truth.

Third Brother had abandoned the company for the entertainment industry and he had not been treated well by his brother for years. So he signed her so that he could flatter his brother.

He knew his own brother very well.

Gu Weiwei closed the book and said, "Second Master, can't you just eat your food?"

"I am just reminding you that you don't have to be so stupid in not using your tools." Fu Shiqin said.

"I am capable and I don't need the tools."

"What more do you have apart from your face?" Fu Shiqin said in disbelief as he raised his eyebrows.

"You..." Gu Weiwei just could not say anything back to him so she turned around to Fu Hanzheng next to her. "Can't you say something to your brother?"

Fu Hanzheng's lips were slightly raised as he turned to Fu Shiqin, showing him a cold look.

"Go to the kitchen and stay there."

"I haven't finished my food yet!" Fu Shiqin protested.

"Then go with the bowl." Fu Hanzheng said with a low voice.

Under the threat of his gaze, Fu Shiqin helped himself to some of the dishes and carried the bowls into the kitchen.

He was helping her, so why must he be treated in this way?

Chapter 114: For other Purposes?

It was midnight when Gu Weiwei finished the original book of the Long Wind.

The following day, she met Jolin at the audition.

There were several famous actors, as well as some new people at the audition.

Jolin looked around at the actresses and actors present for the audition and gave her the script.

"The lead male and female roles are already confirmed, so just try your best to do the role of Tang Shaoqi."

Movie actresses required talent and practise. Mu Weiwei looked amazing, but she looked way too young and too unprofessional.

There were several actresses who had been in the film industry for a long time.

Especially Shen Qiu who had been nominated for the Gold Phoenix Award last year for the supporting female role.

Therefore, there was no hope for Mu Weiwei.

"Okay." Gu Weiwei took the script and started to read it very discreetly.

The script was about the scene when Tang Shaoqi met the male lead once again and it was required that the audition should be finished within two minutes.

Tang Shaoqi was a bad supporting role in the Long Wind, and she was dressed as a man in the movie.

When the Tang Family were destroyed, she took refuge in the court so as to take revenge, and she became the murderous follower of the court.

The male lead was a hero she had met when she was little and someone she loved too, except that he had no idea that she was actually a girl.

In this meeting, she was under an order to kill the lead character's family and the man was here to save the female lead character.

It was actually a very difficult scene for Tang Shaoqi, when she again met the man she loved after she had killed so many people.

She tried the scene several times and went to visit the bathroom. On the way, she ran into Shen Qiu who had just been seen off by the casting director and the assistant politely.

"Director Lee, has it been decided that Shen Qiu would take the role of Tang Shaoqi?" The assistant asked.

Only Shen Qiu's performance pleased the director today among all the actresses here today, and she was nominated last year as the Best Supporting Role, so of course she was skilled.

"Contact Shen Qiu and her agent for the signing. She is very busy." The casting director said.

"But there are still several who haven't done the audition yet." The assistant glanced at Gu Weiwei who was walking behind them. "I just saw that one of them is very pretty."

"You mean the Black Swan?" Casting director pretended as if he did not see anyone behind his back and said indifferently.

"So nowadays, everyone who has done some plastic surgery would want to be a movie star."

"I saw the real person, she is very pretty." The assistant said with a low voice.

"Anyway, people with plastic surgery can not get into movies, it doesn't work with a nice face." The casting director said as he walked into the room for an audition.

Gu Weiwei became very annoyed as she was walking behind them.

So she was pretty because she had some plastic surgery done right?

She hadn't done plastic surgery! She was a pure lady, born this way!

As she returned to the meeting room, Jolin threw a look at her and said straightforwardly, "You are up next. But it seems that they have made up their mind for Shen Qiu, you're just doing it for the formality."

Gu Weiwei sighed. The agent had no confidence in her and the casting director had also considered her to have no skills because of her face. Was it so difficult to get into the entertainment industry in Hua Land?

Was she going to ask Fu Hanzheng for help?

That was just a small thought, but she had decided to fight for the role with her own ability.

“Lend me something.”

“What?” Jolin did not even look up as he kept staring at the phone.

Gu Weiwei reached out for the box in his bag and saw a dark silk scarf inside.

“Put it down, that is my own birthday present, no lending!”

“Just for a moment.” Gu Weiwei said and took it in her hand.

The crew member was at the door and calling out to her. “Mu Weiwei, it is your turn.”

Chapter 115: Role Taken

Jolin came after her, trying to get back his silk scarf when he saw Gu Weiwei entering the audition room, and he noticed that she had the silk scarf covering her face, showing only a pair of eyes. That annoyed him extremely.

The casting director and the executive director looked at each other, confused at the sight of the actress – was she here to play games?

The chief director Yi An did not change his expression, but said to her when he saw her standing in position, “You can begin now.”

The audition was on the spot, and most of the time Tang Shaoqi was wearing a mask and her emotions were only shown through her eyes.

Only with close-up shooting were they able to see how well the actress was playing.

And this actress on audition had surprised him – she arrived with her face covered.

Gu Weiwei picked up the sword from the shelf and took a deep breath with her eyes closed.

Then she opened her eyes again, looking lethal.

Then she waved the sword and chopped around, making each move sharp and fierce.

She was playing against the air alone, yet she looked as if she were going through a ruthless slaughter.

She looked lethal from both her look and the movements.

Suddenly, she made a chopping yet got stuck in the midair.

That was when the male lead character arrived and stopped her, saving the girl from her sword.

Gu Weiwei shivered as she was holding the sword, and her crystal-clear eyes reflected with slightly shrinking pupils, looking both shocked and joyed.

She opened her mouth and spoke the only line of this scene.

The cold voice was thronged with shivering and sobbing.

“Are you going to save her?”

Yi An, who had been maintaining a cold expression showed a face of surprise and joy as if he had discovered something precious.

The executive director had not paid much attention to this Black Swan when he had heard about her from the casting director.

But the moment the girl started to perform, he became so dumbfounded that he just could not move his eyes away from her.

She was sharp and clean in martial arts, and she was so capable in playing the follower of the court.

But the moment she saw the man in her heart, her lethal look turned different, gripping people's hearts.

Gu Weiwei finished the performance, bowed and was about to leave.

"Hang on." Yi An called out to her.

Gu Weiwei stopped, removed the mask over her face and asked with a smile.

"Yes, Director Yi?"

Yi An saw the girl's amazing face and demanded.

"Can you repeat the last scene without the mask?"

Gu Weiwei nodded, gave Jolin the silk scarf and came back to the camera.

Yi An instructed the angle of shooting and said to her. "Now, you can begin."

Gu Weiwei took a deep breath, and her look turned lethal as if seeing the man she had been longing for against the camera.

Within one moment, her look reflected different emotions, gripping people's hearts.

"Are you going to save her?"

Without the mask, she had even more influence over people's emotions, when speaking that line.

Also, her face was born to make her a movie star.

After Yi An saw the scene from the camera, he came over to her and offered her his hands as he said, "Mu Weiwei, you will take the role."

Shen Qiu had moved him, but Mu Weiwei's performance had conquered him.

Her performance had told him that she was exactly Tang Shaoqi.

The casting director, who had been laughing at her, flushed as he stood to the side, totally embarrassed.

Jolin showed an amazed expression – honestly, he had just brought her so as to go through a formality!

Chapter 116: Someone Else's Role?

Gu Weiwei smiled and shook hands with Yi An.

“Thanks.”

The executive director watched the audition films twice and said to the casting director next to him.

“Lee, didn’t you say that Mu Weiwei is just a popular figure on the internet and has no skills in acting?”

“Without a martial arts director’s help, she has performed such excellent scenes and her emotion is so well controlled. So she is not skilled?”

“I...”

The casting director had no words to respond with. Mu Weiwei did perform a very perfect scene and he had nothing else to say.

“She will have the role.” The executive director said with a smile.

The casting director had just thought of how he had promised Shen Qiu the contract. “She did perform well, but she is a new person, she is not as popular as Shen Qiu!”

“She is a good seed, and it does not matter if she is new.” The executive director was very impressed by Gu Weiwei’s performance skills.

These days, Yi An had been very annoyed by the actress playing the female lead.

If he had found the person who performed Tang Shaoqi, he might not make a big fuss anymore.

Yi An and the executive director were just talking with Gu Weiwei and Jolin when a young elegant-looking man came over with an assistant.

“Yi, Director Mo and Director Lee, good to see you here.”

“Chu Chen, it’s good that you are here.” Yi An pointed at Gu Weiwei and said, “This is Mu Weiwei who is going to be playing Tang Shaoqi, and soon you will be in the same team. Try to get to know each other.”

Mu Weiwei stretched out her hand to him. “Nice to see you, I am Mu Weiwei.”

Chu Chen looked at her but asked, without shaking her hand, “Director Yi, didn’t you say that Shen Qiu is going to play Tang Shaoqi?”

Yi An got annoyed. “Who said so?”

“Shen Qiu and I share the same company and she just called me and said that she will soon be taking the role! Her agent has started to make the schedule!” Chu Chen said.

“The audition has just finished, who said that it would be her?” Yi An looked at the casting director who had seen her off just now.

“Director Yi... I asked Shen Qiu to give us the schedule.” The casting director said guiltily.

Everyone had been very satisfied by Shen Qiu’s audition, but Mu Weiwei had arrived unexpectedly.

“Director Yi, you know how well Shen Qiu can play, she is definitely better than a new person. Now she has given us her schedule, so if you want someone else...” Chu Chen was on the verge of laughing when he stopped himself.

Yi An became very annoyed – Shen Qiu did give a good performance, but she was far worse than Mu Weiwei.

Seeing Yi An hesitating, Chu Chen said with a smile, “I once acted with Shen Qiu before and shooting with her would make everything smooth. Miss. Mu is a bit too young to play Tang Shaoqi.”

“What if I told you that Tang Shaoqi will be played by Mu Weiwei?!” Yi An said.

“I am afraid that I can not... play the role if I have to play with a new woman.” Chu Chen said.

His last movie was so popular that every fan of the original book said that he fitted the male lead character.

They had offered him many rich conditions just to get him to play the role.

So if he insisted, Tang Shaoqi would definitely become Shen Qiu’s role.

After all, they couldn’t just lose him for the sake of a new person.

Gu Weiwei’s lips pursed, she could see how troubled Yi An was.

Yi An was satisfied by her performance skills, but Chu Chen insisted on giving the role to Shen Qiu.

Apart from her performance skills, one would need background and social networks in the entertainment industry too. It seemed that she would lose the role after all.

“If you can’t play the role, then let me do it.”

A good-looking man with silver, grey hair leaned against the door, looking both handsome and flirty.

Chapter 117: Pestering Fu Shiyi

Jolin frowned as he saw the man who was standing flirtatiously in the doorway.

“Third Master, what are you doing here?”

“I was shooting a commercial in the neighbourhood and heard that you were doing an audition here. So I just dropped by.” Fu Shiyi said, as he waved to the fans on site who were courting him.

Gu Weiwei sized him up and looked at the man. He was Fu Shiyi, the twin brother whom Fu Shiqin quarreled with every day.

But when observing carefully, she was able to see that the two of them did have some differences.

Fu Shiqin might have eaten too many desserts so that there was some chubbiness to his face whilst Fu Shiyi looked thinner and more handsome.

Chu Chen greeted Fu Shiyi with a dry smile.

Fu Shiyi closed the door of the audition room and sat down in the director's chair as he said, "Yi, since the male lead says that he is not going to do it, then I can do you a favor, since I am very free these days."

Jolin held his hands against his forehead... Was he really saying that he was free?

He had a role to play in Hollywood next month and his schedule had been filled to the following year! And he said that he was free?

Chu Chen's face sank as he quickly said, "I did not say that I can't play the role."

He had known that this man was a pest and now he was here trying to steal away the role!

Yi An said to Fu Shiqin, when he saw that Chu Chen had stopped talking about Tang Shaoqi's role, "Alright, alright, you busy man, stop messing with us."

"Yi, I am being serious." Fu Shiyi said.

"It is already decided that Chu Chen will play Gu Changfeng." Yi An said with a sunken voice.

"But you haven't signed him, have you?"

Fu Shiyi was playing with his phone as he said, without showing any modesty, "I am better looking, more popular, and I am a better fit for the role than he is. Also, we used to work together, didn't we?"

Yi An glared at him – yes, you are good-looking but your performing skill is so...

They had worked together twice and he had become totally annoyed by him!

Gu Weiwei was startled – was this man being serious?

Although she had never met him before, but judging from what Fu Shiqin said, he was going abroad for a film shoot next month so what was he doing here at the Long Wind audition?

"Stop it, Third Master, Brother Jiaming will get so annoyed that he will have to be sent to the hospital again." Jolin stepped in and tried to persuade him.

Honestly, when he slipped out of his sight, he became a wild horse without sleigh.

Was he so crazy as to give up the role in Hollywood, so as to come and steal a role in a Wuxia movie instead?

Fu Shiyi did not accept anything that he said. Seeing Yi An hesitating, his expression became sad and he started to type on his phone.

"I am unhappy, I am going to post something on Weibo."

"What are you going to post?" Jolin became so nervous that he rushed up, trying to get a hold of his phone.

Fu Shiyi was typing whilst reading.

"Oh, I just missed Gu Changfeng whom I have been dreaming about, how saddening!"

“Shiyi, the first ones always get the first roles, you are over the top to steal the role from me.” Chu Chen reminded, with gritted teeth.

Fu Shiyi had a large number of fans in the entertainment industry and he had always been very active in his work.

If he ever managed to post that Weibo post, then his fans would tear him apart.

“You yourself gave up the role, that was why I took it over. Here, I have it all on video.” Fu Shiyi waved his phone.

Seeing that Fu Shiyi was really up for the role, the executive director stepped out and said, “If Chu Chen has given up the role, and Yi insists on having Mu Weiwei for Tang Shaoqi, then it is okay if Shiyi takes over the male lead role too.”

Shiyi was better looking and more popular than Chu Chen, and originally, the investors had been interested in Shiyi.

Yet he had been too busy to take it, so they had to choose Chu Chen instead as the last resort.

Now that he had volunteered to play the role, they would never be worried about the box office, due to his popularity.

Chapter 118: Born Well

Chu Chen felt that it was unfair, although it had been him who threatened them, by leaving the film.

Yet he had been confident that apart from him, they would not be able to find anyone else to take over the role, who was also popular and skilled; so that they would surely approve of his requirements.

But he had never expected that Fu Shiyi would suddenly appear and say that he was going to play the role.

“Director Yi, we agreed that we are signing over these past few days.”

He had given up so many other roles just for the sake of this film.

He would have to bear so much loss when the role was stolen away by someone else.

Yi An looked at him for a few seconds and said, “You said that you are not taking the role, and the investors wanted Shiyi to play it too. We only turned to you when he had no time for us. But you have now said that you are no longer playing the role and he now has the time. Reasonably he can take your place.”

“Director Yi, I was just saying that, I didn’t really mean that.” Chu Chen explained quickly.

He had just hoped that Shen Qiu could take the role of Tang Shaoqi for the sake of the company... but instead of helping, he got himself sold out too.

“Actors are always available in the entertainment industry, what you can do, can easily be found.” Yi An said with a serious face.

So he was trying to negotiate with him, when he only had a few small achievements.

Chu Chen gritted his teeth and understood that it was hopeless for him to strive any longer. Then he turned to Fu Shiyi who was playing with his phone.

“You are dominating the industry only because you have the Fu Family!”

The investors thought Shiyi was the fitting role, mostly because he had Fu’s Enterprise behind his back.

Fu Shiyi shrugged and said, “Well, I was just born well.”

Having lost the role, Chu Chen slammed the door as he left.

When no one was paying attention, Fu Shiyi winked at Gu Weiwei naughtily.

“My god, Chu Chen is gaining so much popularity right now, are you trying to get yourself cursed by his fans!” Jolin was very annoyed by this impulsive boss.

They had had to decline many other invitations when he came up with the idea of taking on this role.

“No one is going to beat up my army.” Fu Shiyi was not scared at all.

“...” Jolin had nothing to say.

His fans had been so good at arguing with others that they had become the most combative group in the entire industry.

The executive director was very satisfied with the roles, so he said, “Since everything is settled, we can do the signing soon. We are doing the principle shooting next week and we will inform you of the specific times.”

Jolin was just talking with them when Fu Shiyi asked Gu Weiwei to come with him.

“Jolin, you can go back to the company by yourself, I need to present her to someone.”

Gu Weiwei followed him into the elevator and said, “Thanks, Third Master.”

“We are a family, no need to thank me.” Fu Shiyi smiled brightly.

Fu Shiyi got into the car and said, “Get in with me, I am going back home too.”

He had not dared to return home for months, after he had irritated his brother.

Gu Weiwei followed him in and on the way home, Fu Hanzheng called her.

“All went well with the audition?”

“It was okay.”

“You should take a rest now, you slept too late last night.” Fu Hanzheng reminded her with a mild voice.

“I am on my way home.”

Hearing the way she was talking, Fu Shiyi said quickly, “Give me the phone, I need to speak with my brother.”

“Third Master needs to talk with you.” Gu Weiwei turned on the speaker and gave it to Fu Shiyi.

“Brother, let me tell you, I arrived just in time to save my sister-in-law’s role.”

“Also, I stole the male lead role too, in this way, you will never need to worry about sister-in-law falling in love with anyone during the film shooting...”

“Do you think I am your best friend?”

The man ruthlessly hung up after listening to Fu Shiyi.

Gu Weiwei squinted at Fu Shiyi... so he was just there to steal the role?

Chapter 119: Better than Dinner

When they returned to Jinxiu Compound, they were just in time for lunch.

Gu Weiwei finished her lunch and slept for more than two hours. When she woke up again, she continued with her studies.

Fu Shiyi played games on his phone for the entire afternoon and when Fu Shiqin returned home from work, he asked him to join him.

Since Fu Hanzheng went out for a banquet, the three were alone for dinner and they made a spicy hot pot.

They three were just eating happily when Xu Qian made a call. Fu Shiqin picked it up and gave it to Gu Weiwei after a few words.

“I don’t know, just ask her.”

Gu Weiwei took it over and asked. “What is wrong, Mr. Xu?”

“President Fu seems to have a stomach ache again. Have you got medicine at home?” Xu Qian said.

“There is still some left.” Gu Weiwei said and added. “Is it serious?”

“He has been very busy these past few days and he has not eaten or rested well. He barely ate lunch and now he is at the banquet on an empty stomach, it seems that he is suffering.”

Gu Weiwei frowned. She understood that he always worked very late but she had not expected that he would skip meals in the daytime. No wonder he always had problems with his stomach.

“When are you coming back?”

“In an hour.” Xu Qian estimated.

Gu Weiwei ended the call and looked at Fu Shiqin.

“Why didn’t you ask your brother to eat on time?”

“He is working too hard! I have food delivered to his table but he is always too busy to notice it. You think that I should feed him?” Fu Shiqin felt wronged.

Fu’s Enterprise was vast, and it was quite normal that his brother would forget about meals.

The thing was neither he nor Xu Qian could persuade him.

“You have to talk to him, you are his girlfriend.” Fu Shiyi took a sip of wine and reminded her with a teasing smile.

Gu Weiwei ignored these two men, put down the chopsticks and went to the fridge for vegetables. Then she headed towards the kitchen.

So Xu Qian said that he barely ate lunch and dinner, but he still could not eat the hotpot. However, the servants were gone, so she had to make dinner for him on her own.

An hour later, Xu Qian drove Fu Hanzheng home and he also gave him some files that he needed to go through tonight.

Before Xu Qian left, he told her, “Miss Weiwei, please give the medicine to President Fu.”

Gu Weiwei nodded, poured a cup of water and knocked on the door of the study with the tablets.

“Come in.”

Gu Weiwei opened the door and entered. Her face sank when she saw him dealing with work files.

“Here is your medicine.”

Fu Hanzheng took the medicine with the water and raised his eyebrows at the sight of her displeased face.

“Are you upset?”

“Do you want porridge?”

Fu Hanzheng loosened his tie and continued to bend over the desk.

“I have some urgent files to deal with, you better rest.”

“I cooked the porridge for an hour.” Gu Weiwei said with a serious face.

Fu Hanzheng looked at her sideways and smiled helplessly. He closed the files and stood up.

“I am feeling a bit hungry now.”

Gu Weiwei served him a bowl of porridge and presented him with a bowl of toasted pumpkin.

“Yam porridge and pumpkins are both good for your stomach.”

Fu Hanzheng took a look at the porridge and smiled brightly.

“What... are you laughing at?” Gu Weiwei looked at him in a strange way. He had been a serious man and his smile looked a bit weird.

“I am just happy that my girlfriend has started to care about me.”

“Since when did I stop caring about you?” She felt a bit guilty when she said these words.

Because... she truly did not care much about him.

Fu Hanzheng smiled without saying a word. He took a spoonful of the porridge and felt less tired.

“Anything else you want? I was in a hurry.” Gu Weiwei asked.

He drove her to school and back home every single day, last time she was on her period and he even took care of her for a few days too.

Today, she was paying him back.

Fu Hanzheng looked at the concerned girl and nodded.

“Yes.”

“What is it?” Gu Weiwei asked.

Fu Hanzheng said with a smile on his face.

“You.”

Compared to these dishes, she looked even more delicious.

Chapter 120: Lovely Girlfriend

Embarrassed, Gu Weiwei said, “I... need to study now.”

She should not have cooked him porridge!

She should have left him alone when he was suffering from his stomach ache! Why should she care about him?

Fu Hanzheng took a hold of her hand. “Please, sit down with me. I can’t eat alone.”

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth but still did not leave him alone.

She went into her bedroom and grabbed the book, sat down opposite him and started to study whilst keeping him company over food.

“You should eat on time.”

Fu Hanzheng got startled. “I was very busy today, but I will try from tomorrow onwards.”

“Not trying, you must.” Gu Weiwei said seriously with a serious face.

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and nodded as he watched the girl’s expression.

“Alright, alright.”

His girlfriend seemed extremely lovely today.

She did not want to care about him, but she could not help but care for him.

Gu Weiwei tried to persuade him more, when she saw him agreeing with her.

“And... no more wine for the next few months.”

Stomach aches were the most difficult to truly fix. If he drank any more wine, nothing would help him.

Fu Hanzheng agreed with her as he smiled brightly.

“Sure, I will obey your orders.”

He finished dinner and went back to his bedroom, only to find Fu Shiyi lying in his bed.

Then he knocked at Fu Shiqin’s bedroom with a sunken face.

“You, get that man off my bed.”

Gu Weiwei just finished washing the dishes when she saw two men following Fu Hanzheng into the room with weird faces.

Only now did she realize that Fu Shiyi had thought that his brother’s room was his own after dinner.

Fu Shiqin helped him up but Fu Shiyi burped and puked on the bed.

“Brother, what about him sleeping in your bed? He has puked too much for you to sleep there.”

Gu Weiwei frowned. Fu Shiyi did drink some wine at dinner but it was not that much, was it?

What made him so drunk?

Fu Shiqin patted his brother who had a sunken face as he asked discreetly,

“What about you... sleeping in my bedroom? It is not that clean.”

Fu Hanzheng was even more annoyed. “Didn’t I tell you that you should not come here too often when you don’t have anything to do here?”

Fu Shiqin pointed at the drunk Fu Shiyi and said, “He wanted to come here. He has not come home for months.”

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and suggested with a small voice.

“What about sleeping in my bedroom?”

“...” Fu Hanzheng was surprised and his eyebrows raised.

Fu Shiqin lost his words at that moment – was she inviting his brother to sleep with her?

“I... I mean you can sleep in my room and I can sleep on the sofa.” Gu Weiwei explained quickly.

“No thanks, I have tons of work to do.” Fu Hanzheng left the room and started to deal with work in the study.

The two had just left when Fu Shiqin closed the door and tossed the napkin box upon the bed.

“Wipe the puke off.”

Fu Shiyi, who had just been very drunk, stood up suddenly and said proudly, “See, that is what a helper is called, alright?”

“And you only know how to be the third wheel.”

....

“Then continue with your work, don’t expose yourself.” Fu Shiqin said, opened the door and decided to sleep in his own bedroom.

But the moment he came out of the bedroom, he saw Gu Weiwei getting ready for the night on the sofa with a blanket and pillow in her arms.

“What’s wrong with sharing the bedroom with my brother? Are you afraid that he will eat you up?”

So Third Master had tried so hard to put on a show, so that his brother could sleep in her bedroom, but she had truly come out to sleep on the sofa.

Gu Weiwei put the pillow down and went into the bathroom to wash herself.

“I really am afraid that he will eat me up, alright?”
