

MY HIDDEN 1181

Chapter 1181: The Twins' Mom

On the 72nd birthday of the Old Lady, Fu Hanzheng failed to return home because of Gu Weiwei's pregnancy.

He had asked Fu Shiyi to take the present home on his behalf and made a call to his family on her birthday, but Gu Weiwei had no idea what it was about.

And as the children grew larger and larger, the fetal movements became more and more frequent and obvious.

Six months later, Gu Weiwei fell asleep in the middle of the night and was woken up by the kicking in her belly.

She could only sleep on the left side of the bed, which made her very uncomfortable.

Fu Hanzheng woke up when he felt her turning around.

"What's wrong?"

Gu Weiwei sighed helplessly. "That kick hurt a bit."

At the beginning, when the fetal movements became more frequent and obvious, she and Fu Hanzheng were worried that something was wrong with the baby.

But when she went to Doctor Liu, she said that everything was normal and that it would be dangerous if the fetus did not move much this month.

But when the baby was healthy, she, as the mother, suffered. She was kicked many times by the two little ones in her belly.

Sometimes she wondered if they were fighting inside.

Fu Hanzheng sat up with a frown, feeling the urge to punish the two babies in her belly.

It was not the first time that she had been tormented in the middle of the night.

But this pregnant woman could only tolerate it, and he could do nothing about it.

"Go to sleep, I will take a rest," Gu Weiwei said.

She had tried her best to turn herself around quietly, but she still woke him up.

"What about finding Doctor Liu tomorrow?" Fu Hanzheng said.

The children were important, but he loved her even more.

Although she knew that she would have to suffer a lot from the moment she was pregnant, she had not expected that she would have to suffer so much.

“They are saying that they are healthy, that is something to be happy about.” Gu Weiwei knew that he was feeling sorry for her, but she did not know whether to laugh or cry.

If they wanted to move, could they stop them?

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly. He was not happy to see them making her suffer.

These two little ones... must be punished when they come out.

Gu Weiwei felt her belly and waited for the baby movements to pass. She yawned and was about to go back to sleep.

Fu Hanzheng did not rest until she fell asleep.

He then made up his mind to never have a child again.

When she was suffering, he felt very stressed, fearing that something would happen to her and the child.

Although he was worrying for nothing most of the time, he truly did not want to go through such an experience a second time, nor did he want her to experience such pain again.

After a few hours of sleep, Gu Weiwei was woken up by the annoying babies in her belly early in the morning, so she decided not to sleep any more.

Fu Hanzheng followed her out of bed and they took a rare walk together. But when he thought of the two active little ones in her belly, he could not help but look displeased.

Gu Weiwei looked at his serious face that kept glaring at her belly, as if he wanted to stare at the two little ones through her belly.

“Alright, every pregnant mother has experienced this before, can you relax?”

She had been trying to persuade him to be less anxious, but he had not changed much.

If this went on, he would be exceedingly worried before the due date.

“This is still pregnancy, but there are now two babies. It is different,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei chuckled. “So your mother is different from me when she was pregnant with Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin?”

Fu Hanzheng was speechless.

It seemed that... his mother had not been much better off than her.

Chapter 1182: Sweet Torture

As the fetal movement became more and more frequent, Gu Weiwei’s sleep gradually became a problem.

Luckily, Fu Hanzheng’s work here had gradually stabilized and he could spend more time with her.

Unless there was something very important going on, he would visit the company every two days and come back to keep her company after finishing the work.

In the morning, he accompanied her to class in the yoga classroom, ate breakfast with her and learned how to take care of the babies with the nursery teacher.

Everything was fine except for the two troublemakers in her belly.

Sometimes they would kick her hard, sometimes her belly would be pushed up and sometimes it would swell. No one could guess what they were doing inside.

He was always frightened by what he saw, but Gu Weiwei was still very happy about the baby's movement, even if they made her gasp in pain.

When she was six months pregnant, they would occasionally kick until it hurt a little, but when she was seven months pregnant, they would kick even harder and they would roll around in her belly.

Gu Weiwei had to go through such sweet torment every day, and her body started to ache.

Fu Hanzheng asked Doctor Liu how to massage her and whenever she felt uncomfortable, he would massage her, making her feel better.

But every time this happened, he would get very angry at the two culprits who had caused her misery.

But they were still in her belly and he had to tolerate it.

"I am just not feeling well, it is not that painful." Gu Weiwei did not know whether to laugh or cry at the sight of him staring at her belly. "They are not even born yet and you dislike them already?"

"I don't dislike them, but they are too troublesome," Fu Hanzheng said.

Last night, he had just placed his hand on her belly when he was kicked really hard.

"It is just because they find it easier to move. If they don't move now, we will be in danger." Gu Weiwei explained to him numerous times.

The children had fetal movement and it was a healthy sign for the babies to move within a normal range. If the fetal movement was too frequent or too rare, it meant that the children were not healthy and might even be in danger in the belly.

Luckily, although the two babies in her belly tormented her, they had always been healthy.

However, Fu Hanzheng obviously cared more about her than the children, so whenever he saw her being disturbed or feeling unwell, his expression sank.

And that was because they were in her belly. If they had been born, she had no doubt that they would have been lectured by him.

That made her worried that their father would not be on good terms with them from the moment they were born.

"Feeling better?" Fu Hanzheng massaged her aching legs and asked.

His precious wife had suffered so much because of them, it was impossible for him not to be angry. But they were still in her belly and there was nothing he could do.

“Much better.” Gu Weiwei nodded and looked at her swollen feet. “Am I too fat now that I no longer look good?”

Her stomach was the only obvious thing that showed she was pregnant and she did not have much weight on her hands and feet. This month, her hands and feet started to swell and she looked much fatter.

“No, you have always been pretty,” Fu Hanzheng said sincerely.

“You are lying.” Gu Weiwei snorted.

She had not been able to look at herself in the mirror these past two days, so how could she be considered pretty?

Chapter 1183: Regret

“Different times, so different kinds of beauty,” Fu Hanzheng said with a smile.

No matter what she had become, she was still the person he liked.

Gu Weiwei, who had been feeling a bit depressed, was successfully appeased by his sweet words.

They rested at home for a while before Fu Hanzheng drove her to Doctor Liu for the second examination.

After a series of examinations, Doctor Liu looked at the data and said to them, “The two babies are healthy in all aspects, but starting next week, I suggest a checkup once a week. If there are any abnormal reactions, inform me in time.”

“Strange reactions?” Fu Hanzheng frowned.

“Like if the number of times the fetus moves is abnormal, and she has other abnormal reactions such as lack of oxygen or seeing red.” Doctor Liu stressed.

Fu Hanzheng got nervous. “What is going on?”

Under his stare, Doctor Liu became even more nervous.

“Well... starting from eight months when you are pregnant with twins, you will be in a bit more danger than with a normal single child. A pregnant woman will have a greater burden on her body, or the chances of her giving birth sooner are higher. Of course, these are just possibilities, not necessarily for Mrs. Fu.”

Gu Weiwei was calmer. “Okay, it is so close to being eight months and we will inform you if anything happens.”

“Then due to the risk of giving birth to twins, I think... should we talk about it in advance?” Doctor Liu looked at her and then at Fu Hanzheng.

The sooner she told them the truth, the sooner the father-to-be would be mentally prepared, in case he panicked.

“What risk?” Fu Hanzheng looked even worse.

“Just some possible problems. I will talk with you about the countermeasures.” Doctor Liu explained.

Although she was paid a lot for this job, it was not easy to make money.

“Go ahead,” Gu Weiwei said calmly.

“If there are any signs of prenatal delivery, I will perform a cesarean section in time. Of course, even if there is no prenatal delivery, there is too much risk to the twins when having a natural birth. If the fetus is not in the proper position, we must perform a cesarean section...” Doctor Liu carefully analyzed and explained to them.

“How risky is it?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

“Well... we are not sure yet, but Mrs. Fu and the babies are in a very healthy state, so the risk should not be that high,” Doctor Liu said as she placed the countermeasures she had prepared on the table. “These are the reports of several countermeasures, President Fu... why don’t you take a look?”

Fu Hanzheng took it and leafed through it carefully.

“Is this the only way?”

Although it seemed to be the right response, it was still risky.

“That is the safest and most effective plan I can come up with,” Doctor Liu said seriously.

It was risky to have children, not to mention that they were pregnant with twins, so the risk they had to bear was double that of others.

It was almost impossible to have a child without any risks.

Gu Weiwei took hold of his hands. “We should trust Doctor Liu’s medical skills.”

Doctor Liu was one of the most experienced women in the capital, otherwise Fu Hanzheng would not have invited her here.

Fu Hanzheng leafed through the reports and looked increasingly serious.

He truly regretted having a child. Although he had known that having a child required taking some risks, he had not expected that there would be so many.

Chapter 1184: Regret 2

Seeing Fu Hanzheng’s serious face, Gu Weiwei said with a gentle voice, “Let me see?”

Fu Hanzheng gave her the report of the operation plan. He had always been restrained, but now he looked very nervous.

Gu Weiwei took it and leafed through it for a few minutes before asking, "Must we do a cesarean section?"

Doctor Liu took out all the examination papers and showed her a few pages.

"If it is a natural childbirth, you must see the condition of your body and the position of the fetus. If both babies are in the first position, then you will be arranged for a natural childbirth. But if both babies are not in the first position, then a natural childbirth is dangerous for you and the child.

Also, you are still young, and your pelvic bone is not that big. It is too risky to give birth naturally, and you may not be able to hold on until the second child is born. Secondly, I am afraid that the fetus will lack oxygen, so after considering all the safety factors, I suggest a cesarean section."

Hearing the words, Fu Hanzheng still could not relax.

"What is wrong with a cesarean section?"

"A pregnant woman recovers slower than when having a natural childbirth, and she needs to be taken care of. Also... if she has a second child, she can only do a cesarean section and not a natural childbirth," Doctor Liu said calmly.

If she had not been pregnant with twins and her pelvis was not too small, she would not have suggested a cesarean section.

But with her years of experience in gynecology, he was very familiar with such a surgery.

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and said, "Let's think about the child's safety. If we really can't have a natural birth, I will undergo a cesarean section."

The moment she finished the words, Fu Hanzheng stressed.

"Your safety is the most important thing, they are secondary."

He could have more children if they were gone, but if something happened to her, he would not be able to get her back.

"Of course, we need to think about the safety of the mother." Seeing Gu Weiwei agreeing to her plan, Doctor Liu said, "For twins, a cesarean section surgery will save the pregnant woman from pain such as contractions and labour. Some babies are not easy to give birth to, and they won't be born for hours or even dozens of hours."

She guessed that if Mrs. Fu was really going to suffer because of natural birth, the father would go crazy.

"Then let's do as you say, Doctor Liu. If there is nothing else, we are leaving now." Gu Weiwei threw a look at Fu Hanzheng and felt that she had to console someone.

"Also, start exercising tomorrow, so as not to cause premature labor. Let me know if anything happens," Doctor Liu said.

Gu Weiwei nodded and asked Fu Hanzheng to help her leave. Then she sized up the man's serious face.

“Don’t tell me you regret having a child.”

Judging from his expression, she could almost guess what he was thinking.

“I do,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei did not know whether to laugh or cry. “Cesarean is how most people have children, you are thinking too much.”

When the Old Lady was hospitalized, he had calmly arranged everything, even after so many things happened at their wedding.

Why was he so frightened before she did anything?

“Others are others, but you are you,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“But they are in my belly now, how can I not give birth?” Gu Weiwei teased.

Fu Hanzheng was speechless. It was useless for him to regret now. The children had already been in her belly for eight months.

No matter how worried he was, they were still going to be born.

Chapter 1185: Lower Your Head to Money

Doctor Liu’s words totally dispelled Fu Hanzheng’s joy as a father-to-be.

Although he knew that Doctor Liu’s suggestion had minimized the risk of childbirth, he was still worried.

So when Gu Weiwei took her lunch break, he called He Chi who was at home.

“Send some experienced nurses to the hospital and you can come next month.”

He Chi, who had just left the operation room and had not changed his clothes, looked confused.

“Come? Where?”

“Dubai, Weiwei is due next month,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Doctor Liu and the two nurses were obviously not enough.

“Didn’t you bring Doctor Liu with you? Why are you asking me to go there? I am not a gynecologist, really,” He Chi explained seriously.

His wife was having a child, why was he asking him to go over? He did not know how to deliver babies.

However, Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a moment and changed his mind.

“One month is a bit late, you will be here in half a month’s time.”

Doctor Liu said that she was afraid that she would give birth early, so he asked them to come here as soon as possible.

Although Doctor Liu said that it was the least risky plan, just in case something happened, He Chi could help them in time.

“Well, are you listening to me or not? I don’t know how to deliver babies, why did you ask me to go there?” He Chi asked furiously.

However, Fu Hanzheng did not listen to him and said resolutely, “Four experienced nurses and you. Come here in two weeks.”

“Should I move the whole hospital just for your wife?” He Chi complained.

It was just a child. Doctor Liu had talked with him over the phone the other day and he had found out that everything was just a normal cesarean section surgery.

It was not enough that he had brought so many people with him, but now he had to bring four nurses with him. Why not just open a gynecology hospital for his wife to have children?

“If you are not here in half a month’s time, Fu’s Enterprise will no longer provide you with funding for all the experiments you are doing, and no one else will either.” Fu Hanzheng ignored He Chi’s protest and threatened him directly.

What he meant was that if he did not come, he would not give him money and neither would anyone else.

“I...” He Chi gritted his teeth and chose to bow down to money. “I will go, I will definitely go. President Fu, what more do you need?”

“Nothing yet.”

Having said these words, Fu Hanzheng rang off.

After talking with He Chi, he made a call to the chief of the Prince’s private hospital and told him to get ready.

After making all the arrangements, he felt slightly relieved.

After the conversation with him, He Chi called Fu Shiqin and complained.

“Your boss asked me to bring four nurses to Dubai in half a month. Is he crazy?”

“Please understand, it is my brother’s first time being a father.” Fu Shiqin was totally on his brother’s side.

Although he knew that his request was a bit too much, sister-in-law was his darling after all.

It was such a big deal to have a child, so of course he had to be prepared for anything that might happen.

“Then he can just go to a hospital there.” He Chi snorted.

Fu Shiqin said as he was dealing with work, “Setting up a hospital would alert my father, so he can only borrow someone else’s private hospital.”

“...” He Chi was speechless.

If it had not been for the elders of the Fu Family, he would have done so.

Chapter 1186: Lower Your Head to Money 2

Fu Shiqin thought for a while and suddenly realized something.

“That is not right. Isn’t my sister-in-law’s due date next month? Why did my brother ask you to go there in half a month?”

“Because she is pregnant with twins, she may have premature labor,” He Chi said.

Startled, Fu Shiqin started to mumble, “No way, my sister-in-law’s pregnancy tests are normal every month, I don’t think it will be so.”

“Who knows?” He Chi sighed when he thought that he would be in Dubai in half a month.

“Alright, let’s all go there. Third Brother and I will go there next month. Let us know if anything happens,” Fu Shiqin said.

No matter how unreasonable his brother’s request was, he could understand.

At this moment, his sister-in-law and the children were the most important things.

“Fine, let’s go, let’s just treat it as the bet’s finale.” He Chi snorted.

They had been holding on to the secret of how many boys and girls they were pregnant with, but now the truth would be revealed.

“This is our secret. If you dare to mention it in front of my brother, Third Brother and I will bury you in the desert of Dubai.” Fu Shiqin warned seriously.

“You two better watch your mouths.” He Chi snorted and hung up.

Still annoyed, he arranged the work and selected a few nurses to go to Dubai with him.

But on the day when they left for the airport, Fu Shiyi came with them.

The moment he showed up, the nurses were overjoyed.

“Your sister-in-law is the one having children, what are you doing there?”

“If you can go, why can’t I, the future Third Uncle, go?” Fu Shiyi snorted.

He Chi snorted speechlessly. “What is so great about being a Third Uncle?”

“Everything.”

Fu Shiyi snorted proudly. Of course being a Third Uncle was better than him.

They flew there overnight and it was the afternoon in Dubai.

His brother was taking a walk with Gu Weiwei, who was eight months pregnant now. His sister-in-law, who had shined brightly on the screen, was now pregnant and had gained some weight because of the swelling that came with pregnancy.

Gu Weiwei did not know that Fu Hanzheng had called He Chi here, so she was startled when she saw them.

“What are you doing here?”

He Chi pointed at the man holding her. “He threatened me.”

Fu Shiyi said, “I came here voluntarily.”

He had planned to come with Fu Shiqin next month for the due date, but Fu Shiqin said that being pregnant with twins might result in premature labor. He had to deal with a lot of company matters and could not come early, so he asked him to come first.

In case something happened, even though his brother would panic he would still have someone by his side.

“...” Gu Weiwei sighed.

If she naturally gave birth to the children, many people would be watching.

But it was good that Fu Shiyi was here. She was worried that Fu Hanzheng would get very anxious when she entered the delivery room.

Fu Hanzheng pointed at the villa where Doctor Liu and the other nurses were staying. “Stay there.”

Having said these words, he helped Gu Weiwei into the house.

He Chi brought the nurses over and Fu Shiyi followed his brother into the house.

“Brother, don’t worry. Second Brother and I are your strong backers, don’t worry.”

Fu Hanzheng glanced at him coldly. “What did you say?”

“Second Brother and I are your strong backers.” Fu Shiyi laughed dryly.

“The last sentence.” Fu Hanzheng reminded him.

“Anything more?” Fu Shiyi played dumb.

How could he say that his brother was nervous? Even if his brother was nervous, he could not reveal it.

Chapter 1187: A C-section

As the prenatal period approached, Gu Weiwei’s body became heavier and heavier. She even had to put something under her legs to get a better sleep.

Since she always needed to rest on the left side, her left arm and left leg would become numb easily.

Luckily, Fu Hanzheng massaged her every time, so she did not feel too terrible.

After He Chi came over, he talked with Doctor Liu about the operation and said to Fu Hanzheng at dinner, “I really don’t know anything about cesarean section, what are you so nervous about?”

However, he had done many surgeries that were dozens of times more dangerous than this one, so he could definitely get her off the operation table alive.

“Stop talking nonsense, it is not your wife who is going to have children.” Fu Shiyi stood on his brother’s side resolutely.

He Chi glanced at them and snorted.

“With the two babies in her belly, it will take at least four or five hours for her to get through a natural birth, and at most ten or so hours. She might not even be able to give birth to the babies, and she will need a cesarean section in the end. One hour for the cesarean section and the twins will have already been born. What more do you want?”

Fu Shiyi thought for a while and agreed.

If it was a natural birth, his brother would be very nervous if his sister-in-law was in pain for so long.

This way, the cesarean section would save his sister-in-law from suffering and his brother from suffering. It was a good thing.

Without saying a word, Fu Hanzheng scooped some fish soup for Gu Weiwei.

Of course he knew what they were talking about, but even only an hour was not enough for him to relax.

Doctor Liu had confirmed the date of the cesarean section with them, so he was a bit nervous.

“What about me being the chief surgeon?” He Chi asked.

“It is none of your business, you are just a spare.” Fu Shiyi reminded him.

As long as there was no emergency, he did not need to do anything.

“I have never helped with a natural birth before, but a cesarean section is not that different from other abdominal surgeries. If you are worried about Doctor Liu, I can go.” He Chi suggested.

He had not touched the scalpel for so many days, and his hands were itchy.

Fu Hanzheng squinted at him. “I don’t need you now.”

“Why did you call me here when you don’t need me?” He Chi complained.

He had been here for so many days and apart from going out with Fu Shiyi, he had done nothing else.

However, it was very rare for him to not have a blade in his hands for so long at the hospital, and he would panic if he had too much free time.

But now, he was not letting him return home.

He did not need him and he did not want him to go home either. He was crazy.

“Just take it as a vacation,” Gu Weiwei said with a smile, seeing the tense atmosphere.

Fu Hanzheng asked He Chi to come over because he was worried that something would happen during the cesarean section, so He Chi could be here for emergency treatment.

“My hands tremble when I am free.” He Chi protested.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and suggested.

“There is a pet hospital three kilometers away, what about playing there?”

He Chi regarded surgery as the biggest hobby of his life and it was true that he would get very itchy if he did not hold the blade for a few days.

“Okay, okay.” He Chi agreed.

However, the moment she finished the words, Fu Hanzheng objected.

“No.”

What if she needed his help on the day of the operation and he brought the germs back from the pet hospital?

He Chi looked helpless.. The biggest mistake of his life was getting to know this inhuman person who he had to give in to because of his money.

Chapter 1188: Birth

When the prenatal period arrived, Gu Weiwei moved into the private hospital Fu Hanzheng had arranged everything for her and did all the pre-surgery examinations with her.

Fu Shiqin also arrived from home on this day, so he went to the checkup and was followed by a group of bodyguards.

It was a magnificent scene.

After the examination, Doctor Liu and He Chi talked for a while before telling Fu Hanzheng about the situation.

“The two children only have one head facing down, so it is impossible for them to have a natural birth. So, we will go with the plan. We will do the cesarean section tomorrow. If we wait any longer it will be a burden for you to keep the children in your belly as there’s only a month left before you are nine months pregnant.”

With such a big belly every day, she would not be doing any better.

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Gu Weiwei who was resting in bed. “Then let’s do it according to the plan.”

Doctor Liu threw a look at He Chi, indicating that he should tell her what to take note of.

He Chi sighed helplessly and said, “Eat lightly from afternoon to night, and don’t drink any more water after midnight. Keep your intestines clean, in case you get an infection.”

“Got it, anything else?” Gu Weiwei asked.

He Chi thought for a while and said, "After you enter the operation room, the anesthetist will talk with you about the dosage of the anesthesia. Don't be too nervous, the operation will be very fast."

"Okay." Gu Weiwei cooperated.

"Also, arrange for the children's caregiver to come out first."

He Chi glanced at Fu Hanzheng. He guessed that Fu Hanzheng was going to be too focused on his wife to care about the two children.

"We will take care of them." Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin raised their hands.

His brother would be so worried about his sister-in-law that he would not care about the two children. Also, they wanted to see who won the bet as soon as possible.

Therefore, he volunteered to take care of the two children.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at them and did not object to their request.

They were just doing him a favor with the help of looking after them.

"Then there is nothing else. As for postnatal care, I will tell you about it after the surgery," He Chi said briefly.

Fu Hanzheng nodded and glanced at the people standing in the room.

"If there is nothing else, you can leave now."

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin obediently dragged He Chi away and said excitedly as they walked out, "What should I do? I am so excited to be Second Uncle."

"I am so excited to be the Third Uncle."

He Chi glanced at them speechlessly, as if they were idiots.

Their brother was still frowning, but these future uncles were very happy.

"Your brother probably won't be able to care about the children for the next week, so the two children will depend on you."

Gu Weiwei needed to be taken care of the most after the operation. Fu Hanzheng loved his wife so much that he had to take care of her all the time, not caring about the two children.

For him, children were an accident and his wife was his true love.

After Fu Shiqin and the others left, only Fu Hanzheng was left with Gu Weiwei who was resting in bed.

"Don't worry, everything will go smoothly." Gu Weiwei consoled the nervous man with a smile.

Sitting in front of the bed, Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands and kissed the back of them.

"I am sorry that you have to suffer so much."

"You already share a lot of the burden," Gu Weiwei said gently.

She thought that no father-to-be would do such a thing.

He had made all the preparations he could, but the children were in her belly and she was definitely going to be the one on the operation table. That was not something he could share.

Chapter 1189: Birth 2

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands and sighed deeply.

“But I am not sharing the real pain.”

“Sorry, medicine is not advanced enough, so I can’t ask you to help me with childbirth.” Gu Weiwei smiled sinisterly.

Most women would experience childbirth, but no father-to-be was as nervous as him.

She knew that he did not want her to suffer.

But she felt that it was totally worth it if the pain could be exchanged for their babies.

Fu Hanzheng brushed her hair and consoled her with a gentle voice.

“Don’t worry, I am here.”

“You are the one who should be relieved.” Gu Weiwei reminded him with a smile. She had always been in a good mood and she was worried that he would get too nervous.

Fu Hanzheng did not know whether to laugh or cry, but he could not argue back.

Compared to her, who was pregnant, he was more worried.

He tried his best to control his emotions so that she would not worry, but he never did it well enough because she easily noticed his anxiety.

“Don’t worry, I will let myself and the babies come out safely.” Gu Weiwei promised.

Fu Hanzheng nodded and stared at her belly for a few seconds before saying, “Work hard too.”

Gu Weiwei chuckled. “I don’t think they will understand what you mean even if they hear it.”

The children were still in her belly, so they had to work hard. How were they going to do that?

Fu Hanzheng checked the time and said, “You did not sleep well last night, so you need to sleep now.”

After the cesarean section tomorrow, she might not be able to rest well either.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and said, “But I want to eat something.”

She had to fast at night and she would not be able to eat anything after the operation tomorrow.

“What do you want to eat?” Fu Hanzheng chuckled.

“I want grapes, very sweet ones,” Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng took out his phone and called Fu Shiqin, instructing him to buy the grapes.

Within one hour, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin had brought in many fruits.

“Sister-in-law, I have bought you some grapes. If you want to eat anything else, you can have some of these other fruits.”

Having said these words, they washed the grapes and gave them to his brother.

Then they saw their brother carefully peel off the skin, remove the seed and feed it to Gu Weiwei.

Fu Shiyi sighed.

“Tsk, tsk, tsk, his ‘slave to his wife’ nature has been revealed.”

After all, he had been here for so long because he had become entranced by his brother taking great care of his sister-in-law.

Sister-in-law wanted to eat something, and he was the one who peeled the skin.

Sister-in-law’s legs were aching and he was the one who was massaging her.

...

Actually, even if he did not do it, the nurses he hired would help.

However, he was very willing to do these trivial things, and he would rather do everything himself.

In all the years since he was born, he had never seen his brother working so hard on such trivial matters.

“It is not the first time, you already know about this,” Fu Shiqin said as he happily ate the other fruits he had bought.

Fu Shiyi mumbled excitedly when he thought of the two children being born tomorrow, “It is not right for only us to know such great news.”

“Are you trying to tell the world?” Fu Shiqin snorted.

Whether it was because of sister-in-law’s identity as a star or because of their elders, they could not reveal the fact that she had children to the public.

“I am just imagining,” Fu Shiyi said.

He really wanted to tell the whole world that he was going to be a Third Uncle.

But he did not dare to. He could only imagine.

Chapter 1190: Birth 3

The night before the operation, Gu Weiwei went to bed early.

However, Fu Hanzheng could not fall asleep when he thought of what would happen tomorrow.

In the middle of the night, Gu Weiwei woke up because of the baby in her belly. The moment she opened her eyes, she saw the man who was staring at her deeply.

“Why are you still awake?”

However, what Fu Hanzheng cared about was her.

“Are your feet numb or something else?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “A baby moved in my belly, what time is it?”

Fu Hanzheng checked his watch. “Two in the morning.”

Gu Weiwei reached out for his hand.

“Take a rest too.”

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly. “I do want to, but I just can’t sleep.”

“But if you don’t rest well, you won’t be able to take care of me after the operation tomorrow,” Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and agreed.

“Okay.”

Gu Weiwei pointed at the single bed and said, “Lie down there and close your eyes.”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled, leaned forward and kissed her on the forehead. Then he followed her words and went to the bed and laid down.

Seeing him lying down, Gu Weiwei closed her eyes and continued to sleep.

However, Fu Hanzheng still could not fall asleep as he looked at her, who was resting on the other side of the bed.

Early in the morning, Gu Weiwei had just woken up and moved when Fu Hanzheng followed her up.

Then he helped her to wash her face and brush her teeth in the bathroom and tied her long hair into a refreshing ponytail.

Seeing that it was almost time, He Chi hurried her.

“Time to go into the operation room.”

Gu Weiwei took a deep breath and said to Fu Hanzheng, “Let’s go.”

Fu Hanzheng helped her out and went into the elevator, ready to go to the operation room.

But he was too worried to look happy.

He Chi glanced at his expression and complained.

“You are sending your wife to the operation room to have your children, not the execution room. What is that expression on your face?”

Fu Hanzheng was not in a good mood, so He Chi ignored him and drove him out of the operation room, refusing to let him in.

So Fu Hanzheng said to He Chi, “I am going in to keep you company.”

He Chi touched his nose. "I will ask Doctor Liu."

Having said these words, he entered the operation room.

A few minutes later, he came out and said, "You better not come in. If Doctor Liu gets so stressed by you that her hands tremble, then something big will happen."

Not to mention Doctor Liu, even if he was doing the surgery, his hands would tremble when he was being watched.

Also, the operation was too bloody, so he better not go in.

Gu Weiwei also tried to persuade him.

"No thanks, I can do it by myself, just wait for me."

Doctor Liu had told her that Fu Hanzheng was putting too much pressure on her, so if she asked him to keep her company, she would be frightened.

"Brother, let's wait outside." Fu Shiqin suggested.

With his brother watching them, everyone would feel very stressed.

Especially when he was the one who was cutting open his sister-in-law, his hands would definitely tremble.

Hearing their words, Fu Hanzheng's face sank.

But in order for her and the children to be safe, he had to give up on the idea of being a nurse.

Under He Chi's urging, Fu Hanzheng took hold of the pregnant Gu Weiwei and kissed her forehead, feeling sorry for her. Then he released her hands unwillingly.

"Don't be afraid, I am here."

He Chi chuckled. You are the one who is afraid.
