

MY HIDDEN 1341

Chapter 1341: Perfect Man

At the Fu Family's mansion, Fu Shengying was just feeling happy that Gu Weiwei's 'new boyfriend' had left, when Fu Shiyi returned home in disappointment.

Fu Shiqin and the others threw a strange look at this distraught man. "What, broken up?"

Fu Shiyi nodded heavily. "That woman turned against me the moment she got out of bed. Are all women so terrible nowadays?"

"Aren't you always such a scumbag too?" Fu Shiqin snorted.

Unlike his elder brother who was pure in love, Fu Shiyi was very flirty in love.

He had had many girlfriends over the years and even if he did not have a girlfriend, he never lacked a date.

It was more like he had done it to himself.

Fu Shiyi took Tiantian from Fu Shiqin's arms with a bitter face. "Tiantian, Third Uncle has fallen out of love. I need hugs and healing."

She had been very happy with him on the date and during the night they had slept together, but the day after she slept with him, that woman said that they were not a couple.

If they were not a couple, why did they have so many dates?

If they were not a couple, how could they end up in bed?

He had spent so many years playing games and now he was dumped by a woman?!

Gu Weiwei threw a sympathetic look at Fu Shiyi who seemed to be a bit sad. He had always been a careless man, but today he looked very depressed.

"Did you say something wrong or did you do something wrong?"

"Is it because you have displeased her in some way?" Fu Shiqin gloated.

"Fu Shiqin, do you want to die?" Fu Shiyi glared at him with his teeth clenched.

But his fierce look made Tiantian cry.

"I am sorry, I am sorry, I wasn't scolding you..."

Gu Weiwei got up and took over the crying daughter who then lay on her shoulders pitifully.

Fu Shiyi went straight to the alcohol cabinet and grabbed a bottle of whiskey, trying to drown his sorrows.

"What have I done to offend her to make her play with my feelings in such a way?"

“Didn’t you toy with her feelings first?” Fu Shiqin snorted.

Ding Dongdong had not looked very outstanding, but she had been very nice to Fu Shiyi. But after he dumped her, he did not even remember her name or appearance.

Now that she had appeared in front of him again, he had never thought about it.

Therefore, he had brought it upon himself.

“I was just trying to win her affection! Now I am the one who has been injured!” Fu Shiyi said as he poured himself another glass of whiskey.

Fu Shiqin took the bottle and poured a little for himself, clinked glasses with him and said with a smile, “Congratulations, you are single again.”

“Second Brother, you are gloating! Did you reveal my dark history to Ding Dongdong?” Fu Shiyi suddenly thought of something and furiously asked.

Fu Shiqin rolled his eyes at him. “Honestly, I have been either at work or with the little buns these past few days. I have no time for you!”

But Ding Dongdong had dumped him because she was taking revenge for herself and all his exes.

“I am his witness, he really did nothing, it is your problem.” Gu Weiwei spoke up for Fu Shiqin.

Fu Shiyi might have been courting Ding Dongdong for a long time, but he was so flirty that any girl wouldn’t feel assured with him.

“It is my problem? But I am such a perfect person, what is wrong with me?” Fu Shiyi asked narcissistically..

Chapter 1342: Credits

Gu Weiwei and Fu Shiqin looked speechless. They did not want to talk with him any more.

Fu Shiqin endured and said, “Hehe, perfect, you really know how to flatter yourself?”

He was full of flaws but yet he claimed to be a perfect person.

“You should learn from your brother when it comes to love.” Gu Weiwei suggested sincerely.

“My brother?” Fu Shiyi threw a look at his brother who was eating in silence and said, “I am much more experienced than my brother in love.”

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. “Is that something to be proud of?”

It was the first time Fu Hanzheng was in a relationship, but he never did anything that made her feel uncomfortable or insecure.

That was something Fu Shiyi did not have.

Maybe he was sincere to Ding Dongdong, but not completely.

He had been pursuing her all this time because it was the first time that he had met a girl who had not submitted to his charm, and Ding Dongdong happened to be his type.

But his frivolous attitude gave Ding Dongdong, who had been dumped by him once, no sense of security.

She had dumped him now because she was afraid that the past would repeat itself.

So she had to get rid of Fu Shiyi first.

“That means that I am very popular with women and very charming. Is it not worth being proud of?” Fu Shiyi said proudly.

Gu Weiwei sighed deeply. “I think that this is a deduction in a woman’s eyes.”

The more experienced a man was in love, the more fickle he was.

“Forget it, it is just the feeling of being played by a woman, why do you have to take it so hard?” Fu Shiqin patted Fu Shiyi’s depressed face, showing no intention of consoling him.

This was karma!

He had thought that he and Ding Dongdong were going to have a happy ending, but it turned out that he had been kicked to the curbside after tasting some sweetness.

“Second Brother, I have been hurt in love and you are still making fun of me?!” Fu Shiyi was angry but he was not in the mood to argue with him.

Fu Hanzheng’s face sank when he smelled the scent of alcohol.

“Take your alcohol and go out.”

The two children were at home and he was drinking here. Was he itching for a beating?

Fu Shiyi pursed his lips and was about to cry. “Brother, I am in such a terrible state and you still dislike me?”

“You have three minutes, get out.” Fu Hanzheng showed no mercy.

Fu Shiyi gasped. With one hand holding the bottle and the other holding the glass, he obediently went out to the garden to drink alone.

Gu Weiwei coaxed her daughter and gave her to the nurse, before going outside to Fu Shiyi with Fu Shiqin.

“Alright, it is not that Ding Dongdong doesn’t like you, just talk with her.”

If Ding Dongdong had not cared about him, she would not have returned home to find him.

“If she liked me, she would not have dumped me. I have always been the one who dumped people, but now someone dares to dump me. It is so humiliating...” Fu Shiyi sighed bitterly.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and tried to persuade him.

“If you really like Ding Dongdong, show some sincerity and honesty. It would be weird if she doesn’t dump you because you lack these things.”

He only knew how to pamper people, but he rarely did anything that made people feel at ease.

“Sincerity? Honesty?” Fu Shiyi blinked and said, “Isn’t it too early for me to propose to her?”

“Then I can only say that you don’t like her that much,” Gu Weiwei said.

If a man truly loved a girl, his first thought would be to marry her and take her for himself.

Chapter 1343: Marrying?

“How don’t I like her? If I didn’t like her, I would have courted her for so long!” Fu Shiyi protested.

He liked Ding Dongdong more than any other girl in the past. How could he not like her?

But this woman regarded his love as crap.

“You like her, but you don’t want to marry her.” Gu Weiwei explained.

“...” Fu Shiyi stayed silent.

He liked her and he only liked her a little bit more than anyone else. But he did not like her so much that he had to marry her.

It was just that he did not want to get married right now, he couldn’t speak for the future.

“You are not very serious about this relationship, so it is reasonable for Ding Dongdong to do this.” Gu Weiwei sighed.

Ding Dongdong had never let go of Fu Shiyi, but Fu Shiyi was not serious about relationships, so she did not dare to reveal her true feelings.

She was afraid that once she sincerely gave her heart to him, he would leave her ruthlessly again.

Fu Shiyi blinked, threw a look at Gu Weiwei and then at Fu Shiqin and asked with a bitter face, “I was dumped, I was kicked out of love, why am I at fault?”

He was the one who was injured?

He was the wronged one!

“Here are three words for you.” Fu Shiqin patted his back and said, “You deserve it.”

“I...” Fu Shiyi felt wronged. He was the one who had been kicked out of love, but instead of consoling him, they kept lecturing him.

“If you really like Ding Dongdong and want to marry her, then go to her, or... let her go.” Gu Weiwei sincerely tried to persuade him.

Ding Dongdong had waited for so many years before coming back to find him. She thought that if she experienced the same type of breakup from back then, she would be deeply hurt.

Fu Shiyi pulled his hair. "Let me think about it."

He had never thought about getting married.

But now she was telling him that he should want to get married just because he was in a relationship. He had to think about it.

"You are being a hooligan if you don't want to get married." Fu Shiqin sat next to Fu Shiyi and said as he had one arm over his shoulders, "You must learn from our brother. He proposed to sister-in-law exactly when he fell in love with her. He failed in the proposal and continued to fall in love until he got married and had children with her."

Fu Shiyi used to laugh at his brother for not having a good EQ, but when his brother started to fall in love, he became an excellent role model.

A long while later, Fu Hanzheng opened the door and asked Gu Weiwei to come in.

Gu Weiwei patted Fu Shiqin's shoulders. "Stay here with your brother, I will go in first."

Having said these words, she followed Fu Hanzheng into the room.

"Aren't you going to comfort your brother?"

"No need." Fu Hanzheng snorted.

It was not like he was truly heart-broken, so there was no need to console him.

"I have tried everything I can to persuade him, and it is up to him to try and make it work with Ding Dongdong," Gu Weiwei said.

Hearing her words, Fu Hanzheng said as he took hold of her waist, "We don't even have time to talk about our own love, but you have time to console him."

The arrival of the two children did bring them great happiness, but in contrast, they could not spend much time alone together.

These two little ones took up most of her time and mind.

Gu Weiwei looked up and smiled.. "Then... why don't I ask Mrs. Fu to take care of the children the day after tomorrow, and that way I can find an excuse to go out for a meeting, okay?"

Chapter 1344: Somewhere I Want to Take You

Fu Hanzheng nodded with a smile. "Where do you want to go?"

From the time she was pregnant until the child was born, there were very few things they could think about together.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. "I do have a place I want to go to with you."

"Where?" Fu Hanzheng smiled with interest.

“C Land,” Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng frowned. “It is not safe there.”

C Land had been in the middle of a war for years and it was not until the civil war ended that the country gradually stabilized and developed.

However, after the war, there were still some opposing forces in the country and it was not as peaceful as Hua Land.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips. “There is a place I want to go to no matter what.”

Fu Hanzheng thought for a moment. “Okay, I will arrange it.”

C Land was not far from Hua Land and they would only be there for a few hours, so they should not run into any trouble.

“Then... can you ask Mrs. Fu to take care of the children?” Gu Weiwei asked.

“I will inform her later,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. “Should we send the children there or let them come here?”

“Send them there, it is not going to be long anyway, just ask the nursery teacher to go with them,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Although he asked his mother to take care of the two children, his father and the Old Lady would definitely participate.

If they were asked to come here, he had too many private things here, which would easily make his father suspicious.

Therefore, it was better to send the children to the old mansion and pick them up when they returned.

“Alright, whatever you say.”

Gu Weiwei thought that it would be more convenient if the environment was familiar for the children because they also had everything they needed.

But there was something else that was not convenient. Fu Hanzheng lived here behind the Fu Family’s back, and it would be too easy for them to discover the secret.

They had just finished the conversation when Fu Hanzheng’s phone rang again. He picked it up.

“I need to answer a call.”

Gu Weiwei nodded. Seeing him going into the study, she went back to the master bedroom to wash herself up and rest.

When Fu Hanzheng returned, she was already resting.

In the latter half of the night, they were just sleeping when one of the children next door woke up.

Gu Weiwei flipped herself up and was about to visit the two children and hadn't even managed to open her eyes, when Fu Hanzheng pressed her back into bed. "I will go and take a look, you can sleep."

Gu Weiwei nodded and gave up.

Fu Hanzheng went to the nursery next door and checked the diapers of the two children. He found that Youyou's diaper was wet, but Tiantian's was not.

Therefore, he changed Youyou's diaper and the boy quickly went back to sleep.

Then he made a bottle of milk for Tiantian and fed her.

The little girl fell asleep as she was drinking the milk.

He covered the two children with their blanket, turned off the light and went back to the room to lie down.

Gu Weiwei was not in a deep sleep, so she mumbled when she felt him coming to bed, "What happened to them?"

"Youyou's diaper was wet and Tiantian was hungry." Fu Hanzheng said.

After they turned half a year old, the two children often woke up in the middle of the night like this.

When Youyou woke up, he probably needed to have his diaper changed.

But apart from changing her diaper, Tiantian was probably going to want to drink milk.

Gu Weiwei did not know whether to laugh or cry.. This little foodie daughter had just eaten her fill before she slept and yet she still needed to wake up for a midnight snack.

Chapter 1345: Send the Children to the Fu Family

Since it was already very late when Fu Hanzheng finished his work, he did not call the old mansion until the following morning.

"Can I send Youyou and Tiantian to the old mansion tomorrow?"

"For you or?" Mrs. Fu was startled.

"Weiwei needs to deal with some work tomorrow." Fu Hanzheng made up a perfect excuse.

"Okay, okay, okay, send them over. What time tomorrow?" Mrs. Fu asked happily when she thought of her grandchildren coming home.

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Gu Weiwei who was feeding the two children porridge. "Tomorrow at noon."

"Okay, if you are too busy, we can pick them up." Mrs. Fu suggested.

"No need, I can do it," Fu Hanzheng said.

“Then it is settled. You can drop them round tomorrow.” Mrs. Fu hung up the phone and could not wait to return to the dining room to share the good news with Fu Shengying and the Old Lady. “Youyou and Tiantian will be sent here tomorrow for half a day.”

“Really?” Fu Shengying asked happily.

“Gu Weiwei said that she has some work to deal with, so she is sending the children here for half a day and they will be here tomorrow at noon.” Having said these words, Mrs. Fu said to the servants, “Clean the nursery later and disinfect the toys and milk bottles.”

Ever since they found out about the existence of their grandchildren, they had added a nursery and a toy room in the old mansion, just so that they could have some fun when they came home.

“Also, check again if there is anything we haven’t prepared.” Fu Shengying reminded the servant and said, as he thought of something, “The milk powder, yes, the milk powder we bought last time, check the shelf date and the fruits. Don’t they like mashed fruit?”

“Of course, I will get someone to buy the freshest fruits tomorrow morning.” Old Lady added.

The three elders were so immersed in the joy of their grandson and granddaughter’s return that they did not even bother to eat breakfast. They kept thinking on if there was anything they had not prepared for them.

What Gu Weiwei did not know was that because she was sending the two children over, the Fu Family’s mansion was very busy.

The following morning, Fu Hanzheng went to the company to deal with work, so that he could go out with her in the afternoon.

Therefore, she was responsible for sending the children to the Fu Family’s mansion.

She fed the two children in the morning, ate breakfast and started to pack up the things she had brought for the two children, including food, clothes and toys.

Before they left, Mrs. Fu had already made two calls asking her what time she was going to come over.

She decided on the time, sorted out her things and left ahead of time. Then she drove the two children and the nursery teacher there.

The moment the Fu Family received the call from the villa security that they had entered the compound, they came out to greet them.

Gu Weiwei parked the car, got out and carried the two children out of the car.

Mrs. Fu came over and took the boy from her arms. “Come, grandma will carry you.”

Fu Shengying was so jealous because he wanted to hold his grandson, but seeing Gu Weiwei here, he had to put on a serious expression.

“They have already eaten breakfast, so give them some lunch and let them sleep around three o’clock in the afternoon. I will pick them up at seven in the evening.” Gu Weiwei stressed the correct food and rest time of the two children.

“Okay, we still have the nursery teacher, so you can do whatever you want,” Mrs. Fu said with a gentle voice.

Gu Weiwei nodded with pursed lips. “Their clothes, toys and milk powder are all in the bag.”

“It is getting late, go and do your work, we will take good care of them.” Mrs. Fu promised repeatedly.

“Thanks, I will try my best to come back as soon as possible,” Gu Weiwei said, got into the car and drove away from the Fu Family’s mansion.

Chapter 1346: Past Contact

The moment she left, Fu Shengying took Tiantian from the carry seat and smiled happily.

His expression looked totally different from before when Gu Weiwei was around.

“Let’s go, grandpa will take you somewhere exciting and show you something fun,” he said as he carried the child into the house and brought her to the large toy room.

After Gu Weiwei drove the two children to the Fu Family, she drove to the airport to meet Fu Hanzheng.

She had just arrived at the airport when Fu Hanzheng’s car arrived.

“Did you send the children there okay?”

“Yes, I did,” Gu Weiwei said as she hurried to board the plane with him.

Fu Hanzheng put down his work for the time being, so that she did not just have to sit there and worry about the two children. They sat together hand in hand on the plane.

“Why C Land?”

Gu Weiwei smiled mysteriously. “You will know when we get there.”

“So mysterious?” Fu Hanzheng chuckled.

But it was only around a two hour flight and he was not in a hurry.

It took less than three hours to fly from the capital to C Land.

As a country that had just quelled their civil war, you could still see the traces of war in C Land, but the main city area had been repaired.

“Where are we going?” Fu Hanzheng, who was sitting in the passenger’s seat, asked his wife who was driving.

Gu Weiwei smiled without saying a word. “Just a while more and you’ll see.”

Instead of asking anything more, Fu Hanzheng made a call and asked the bodyguards to follow them closely.

The motorcade passed through the bustling main city area of C Land and went to an abandoned town on the outskirts.

Most of the houses in the town had been razed to the ground and only some were still standing.

Gu Weiwei stopped the car on a broken street, opened the door and got out.

Fu Hanzheng followed her out of the car and sized up the deserted town with a frown.

“Why are we here?”

He had thought that she was coming to the capital city of C Land, but he had not expected that she would instead bring him here.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while. “I think so.”

When the war broke out in C Land, Fu’s Enterprise sold military weapons to C Land’s military and helped them to clear up the arms buying channels; he had come here in person.

However, the anti-government forces of C Land received the news that the army had brought him in and lay in wait to ambush him; it seemed that had happened near this town.

“Me too,” Gu Weiwei said.

“You?!”

Fu Hanzheng suddenly remembered that she once said that she had come to C Land to track her father.

Could it have been back then?

Gu Weiwei said with a smile, “At that time, I was also in C Land and I was infected by the plague here. During the war in C Land, I and many people with the plague were placed in the temporary medical center of this town by the government. But no vaccines were delivered, and I almost died here because of the military and the armed forces.”

Hearing these words, Fu Hanzheng understood everything and looked thoughtful.

“Your motorcade was attacked nearby and you retreated to this town, protecting it and getting someone to deliver the vaccines and drugs for the plague. I was saved and brought back to A Land.” Gu Weiwei looked at him sideways and said, “This is the only place that the past me and you have ever interacted in.”

At that time, they were in this town and he had saved her life.

However, they did not meet at that time. They only stayed in the same place for a short while before going their separate ways.

It was not until a few days ago, when she heard Fu Shiqin talking about him coming here, did she find out that they had both stayed at this place for a short while.

After she returned home, she had asked Gu Siting to investigate who had delivered the vaccine and drugs to the town.

When he said that it was the military of C Land, she did not suspect him of lying..

Chapter 1347: Wife

At that time, this town had become the target of the opposing forces in C Land. If he had not come, she might have died here with many people in this town.

Since Gu Siting had been stopping her from leaving A Land, Yuan Meng helped her to disguise herself.

But the situation was more complicated than she had expected.

At that time, she was infected by the plague and the medical conditions in C Land were very poor. She and many patients were isolated by the military.

She had not been able to contact Yuan Shuo and the Gu Family, so she was in a very dangerous situation.

One day, she and the people who were infected received the vaccines and drugs. At that time, it was said that they were brought by a Chinese man.

At that time, she did not know that it was him. After she returned home, Gu Siting told her that the C Nation's military bought it from Hua Land, so she did not pursue the matter.

Fu Hanzheng looked around the ruined town, feeling very emotional.

One of the top managers in the C Nation's military was an old friend of his father, so he took the risk of delivering the supplies bought by the C Nation's military. This town was just a place for a short rest after the attack.

He had not expected that she would be here.

Also, if he had not hurried over, she would not have been saved.

He had never expected that she would come to his side and become his beloved wife after so many years.

"Where were you then?"

Gu Weiwei released his hands, looked around and walked over to a ruin.

"This used to be a small hospital and many people were isolated here."

Fu Hanzheng looked at the girl standing in the ruins in silence; he then approached her and took her hand out of habit.

Then he pointed at a building not far away.

"I was there, in the town government."

The town was not large, so the hospital was not far from the town government building.

He had thought that he had never interacted with her in the past, but they had once been so close to each other and had just passed by each other.

Gu Weiwei smiled at the direction he pointed in. "I didn't expect that we were so close to each other."

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands tightly. "Now we are together."

He had not believed in destiny before, but now he did.

Everything between them must have been caused by destiny.

When they met, it was neither too early in life nor too late. Her arrival had moved him and changed his life.

If they had met at that time, they might not have had the same loving outcome because they were both in opposing families at that time.

Although he was regretful that they had not met earlier, and that he had not been by her side when she was at her lowest point, he would do his best to not let her suffer any more harm for the rest of her life, now that she was at his side.

However, it was obvious that he had not done well enough because he had still made her suffer because of his family.

“Yes.” Gu Weiwei took hold of his hands and said with a smile, “Luckily, I found you after a long journey.”

Although she would occasionally think that it would be great if they had met earlier on... when she thought about it carefully, she realized that she would have still been in the Gu Family and even if she had met him, so what? It wouldn't have turned out the same.

Thinking of this, she had no regrets.

Although everything came a bit late, fortunately, they did not miss the timing. Now, they could still come to this place where they had passed by each other, and they could still spend the rest of their lives together..

Chapter 1348: Love Me?

Fu Hanzheng led her down from the ruins and they both sat in front of the car, sizing up the ruined town.

Gu Weiwei looked at the man next to her. “You are not displeased that I brought you here on such a rare date, are you?”

“No.” Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands and chuckled. “Why would I be unhappy with you beside me?”

Also, this was a meaningful place for them.

They sat against the car for an hour before Gu Weiwei checked the time.

“We should go home now, we need to pick up the children.”

It would take just over two hours to travel back to the city by plane and it was getting dark in the capital city of C Land, so they could not delay any more.

“Okay.” Fu Hanzheng released her hands and opened the door for her. “I will drive, take a rest.”

Instead of turning him down, Gu Weiwei got into the passenger's seat and let him drive them both to the airport.

Fu Hanzheng turned the car around and brought her back to the airport.

Gu Weiwei sized up the scenery outside the car and asked nonchalantly, "Fu Hanzheng, if we had met earlier, would you have fallen for me?"

Fu Hanzheng smiled. "I don't know, maybe?"

"What do you mean you don't know? Maybe? Let me tell you, I was very pretty back then." Gu Weiwei brushed her hair behind her ears.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at her sideways. "You look very pretty now too."

Even if they had met at that time and he might have thought that she was a beautiful girl, he would not have allowed himself to fall for her, knowing that she was from the Gu Family.

Even if she did fall for him, they would never be together.

Gu Weiwei chuckled and sighed deeply.

"Forget it, the children are already born, what is the point of sighing about the past?"

Although she was regretful that she had not met him earlier, she was lucky that she had not missed him. Fate had treated her well.

"I will drive you home first, and then I will pick the children up," Fu Hanzheng said.

If they both went to pick the children up, his father would be displeased, and she needed to go home and rest early.

"Let me pick them up," Gu Weiwei said.

"The villa is close to the airport, so you can go home and rest first." Fu Hanzheng insisted.

Gu Weiwei sighed helplessly and explained her reason for wanting to go and pick them up.

"I am afraid that they will not let the children go, if you go and pick them up by yourself."

The elders of the Fu Family liked Youyou and Tiantian very much. If he went home to pick them up, they would definitely not let the children leave.

However, if she went to pick them up herself, they would not be able to make the children stay with them.

"Then let's go there together," Fu Hanzheng said.

"Alright." Gu Weiwei did not counter him.

It was already six in the evening when they returned to the capital from C Land.

After they got off the plane, they drove straight to the Fu Family's mansion. Fu Shengying and the Old Lady were playing with the two children in the living room.

Hearing their mother's voice, the two children stopped playing and craned their necks, looking for her. Seeing Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng entering the room together, Tiantian waved her hands excitedly in Fu Shengying's arms.

Youyou happily looked at his mother who had disappeared for the entire afternoon and reached out for a hug.

When she went over to hug Youyou, Tiantian, who was sitting in Fu Shengying's arms, started to pout.

Helpless, she gave Youyou to Fu Hanzheng and took over her spoiled daughter.

Mrs. Fu knew that she was here to pick up the children, so she said, fearing that they would leave in a hurry, "The children have just woken up and haven't eaten anything yet. We have just made some bone soup and we are going to cook some noodles for them.. The chef has already started cooking, so let them eat it before leaving."

Chapter 1349: Follow Second Uncle

Gu Weiwei looked down at her daughter in her arms and nodded with a smile.

"Make the noodles soft and put some vegetable mush with them."

"Okay, okay, I will go and take a look now," Mrs. Fu said and went to the kitchen to make sure the noodles were cooked properly for the two children.

Fu Shengying looked at his grandchildren and realized he could not ask to hold them anymore because Gu Weiwei was here. He picked up the newspaper he was reading from before and leafed through it in embarrassment.

Old Lady said passionately, "If you have work in the future, just send the children over. We have nothing to do at home anyway."

"Okay." Gu Weiwei nodded.

They were just talking when Mrs. Fu came out with two cute cartoon bowls.

"Here are the noodles."

Fu Shengying glanced at them and found that there was only a small amount in each bowl.

"What sort of portion is that? Is that enough for them to eat?"

Mrs. Fu glared at him. "The children are so young, how big do you think they are? They will get sick if they eat too much."

Fu Shengying pursed his lips and continued to read the newspaper in his hands awkwardly. He was worried that his grandchildren would not be full.

Gu Weiwei put the children down in their chairs and tried the noodles.

"They will like it."

“The noodles are hand-made and they are very soft. There is no seasoning apart from a little salt,” Mrs. Fu said as she mixed the noodles, preparing to feed Youyou.

Gu Weiwei stirred the lovely butterfly noodles in the bowl, scooped a small spoonful to cool it down and fed it to Tiantian. After the girl finished the noodles, she even licked her lips, seemingly very satisfied with the taste.

Seeing this, Mrs. Fu smiled.

“Tiantian likes grandma’s noodles, right? I can make you anything you want to eat in the future.”

The girl was enjoying the food and thought that Gu Weiwei was too slow, so she reached out for the bowl and spoon, making Old Lady and the others smile.

“Look at her, she is just like her Second Uncle.”

“True, Shiqin could eat a lot when he was young too.” Mrs. Fu was feeding Youyou noodles as she talked about Fu Shiqin’s embarrassing childhood.

The moment Fu Shiqin entered the house, he heard everyone badmouthing him.

“Enough, it has been so many years and you still don’t want to move on.”

“We mean that Tiantian is like you,” Mrs. Fu said with a smile.

“My niece takes after me,” Fu Shiqin said proudly.

Gu Weiwei finished feeding her daughter, wiped her mouth and hands, and lifted her up from the children’s chair.

After Mrs. Fu finished feeding Youyou, she allowed Fu Hanzheng to carry the child.

“Weiwei, if there is no hurry, let’s all eat dinner here before you go home.”

Gu Weiwei felt a bit embarrassed. “No need, I already have food at home and the two children need to take a shower and rest.”

“It is so rare that you are all here and dinner is ready, let’s eat first.”

Fearing that she would not agree, Mrs. Fu threw a look at Fu Hanzheng, asking him to persuade her.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at her. “It is not too late, let’s eat first.”

“Stay. The kitchen has been busy for the entire afternoon just to let you eat here.” Old Lady added.

Gu Weiwei nodded with a smile. “Sorry for the disturbance.”

Seeing that she had agreed, Mrs. Fu asked the servants to serve the food.

Fu Shengying still wanted to see his grandchildren, so he did not object.

After all, it was rare for his grandchildren to visit him. If she took them back home so quickly, he did not know when they would come again to stay..

Chapter 1350: Sister-in-law

Fu Shengying did not say anything but he did not show any hostility either.

After all, she was the mother of his grandchildren.

If they offended her and she refused to let the children return, they would be the ones who would be at a loss.

The family had been eating for half an hour, when Old Lady asked, "Where is Fu Shiyi? Why is he not home yet? Didn't you call him?"

She had planned to ask Gu Weiwei to stay here for dinner when she came to pick up the children, so she called all three brothers and asked them to come home together too.

But when they came home, Fu Shiyi was nowhere to be seen.

Fu Shiqin answered as he chewed the chicken wing, "He has lost in love recently and probably doesn't have time to come home."

"Lost in love? How did he become the one who lost?" Old Lady was surprised. He was the only person who could cause someone else to lose in love, but now he was the one who had lost in love?

Fu Shiqin wiped off the oil on his hands and said, "It is all because of Ding Dongdong! She dumped him after sleeping with him and Fu Shiyi went to find her to take responsibility."

Fu Shengying's lips twitched. "What is he doing?"

"Dad, don't worry about him." Fu Shiqin threw a look at his father and smiled sinisterly. "If he is smart, he can bring you home a daughter-in-law. If he is stupid, he might find himself a one night stand."

"He needs to be serious." Fu Shengying snorted.

How many times had he lectured him before? Whenever he met a suitable girl, he wouldn't seriously talk with her and he didn't stop indulging himself in pleasure either.

Now that he had met someone who did not like him, he was courting her.

"I think that Ding Dongdong is not bad either. If he really has the ability to get her back, it would be a happy occasion," Mrs. Fu said happily.

They had met once at the wedding at Chenis Castle and again during the New Year. She was a very understanding girl.

It seemed that Fu Shiyi needed a girl to torment him so that he would become serious.

Fu Shengying nodded, apparently agreeing with Mrs. Fu.

Then he turned to Fu Shiqin who was busy eating.

"Your brother has children and Shiyi knows how to pursue his girlfriend. What about you? You only know how to eat!"

Fu Shiqin could not understand why he had become the target again.

What did it have to do with him if his brother had children? Why did Fu Shiyi have to go after Ding Dongdong and shove him into the firing line?

“Your father is right, you can’t fall behind your brother, can you?” Mrs. Fu added.

Old Lady followed suit. “What have you been doing these past few years apart from talking with one or two people in school?”

During the past few years, apart from working, he had been eating and playing around.

“Where do I have the time?”

He was so busy with work every day, what was wrong with him eating and playing around in his spare time?

He had been so busy with work that he had no time or energy to fall in love. Also, there was nothing he wanted to talk about with anyone.

Fu Hanzheng looked indifferent as he ate in silence.

Gu Weiwei was an outsider of the Fu Family, so she could not get involved in their family topic. She lowered her head and ate without uttering a word.

“Oh yes, Weiwei, your friend Luo Qianqian is not bad, what about introducing her to Shiqin?” Mrs. Fu suggested.

“What?” Gu Weiwei was startled.

Fu Shiqin put down the chopsticks and begged with his hands together.

“Sister-in-law, please let me go.”
