

MY HIDDEN 1531

Chapter 1531: Grandchildren 2

After what happened with the He Family, some relatives and friends of the Fu Family got to know that Fu Hanzheng got married and gave birth to a pair of twins, and they all wanted to meet them.

Mrs. Fu and the others from the old mansion had been jealous of other people's grandchildren, and now they themselves had become grandparents, so of course they did not turn down their relatives' request.

What was more, their grandchildren were such lovely twins.

In order to make the two children comfortable, she tidied up the nursery and toy room.

That morning, Mrs. Fu was still instructing the kitchen to prepare the food, when Fu Shengying went to check the children's room and toy room. When he came to the dining room, he thought of the issue of the children's food.

"Oh yes, get someone to buy some fresh fruits and vegetables. Doesn't Youyou and Tiantian always eat supplementary food for lunch?"

Mrs. Fu squinted at him. "Why do you care about what your grandchildren eat? Instead, you should be concerned about what to prepare for lunch when there are so many people around."

"Just let them eat whatever they want," Fu Shengying said as he sat down with the morning paper, showing no interest in what the guests wanted to eat.

"..." Mrs. Fu had no words to counter.

He had been thinking about what to feed the children and what games to play with them since the day before, but he did not care about what to do with the guests.

Fu Shengying checked the time and reminded her.

"It is very late, should we call them and ask what time they will send the children here?"

Mrs. Fu and the servants finished discussing the menu before answering his question. "Of course, when the time comes."

Fu Shengying shut up and went to find his own phone.

"I will call Lei Meng and ask him to pick her up. It is not safe these days."

Mrs. Fu pursed her lips. He was not satisfied with this daughter-in-law, but his heart ached for his two grandsons.

At villa number seven, Gu Weiwei did not pack up the bottles and children's stuff until Fu Hanzheng left for work.

When everything was ready, she called Mrs. Fu before she left.

"Aunt, I will drive Youyou and Tiantian over."

“Okay, Lei Meng and Lei Ning are there, come with their cars.” Mrs. Fu stressed.

“...Oh, okay.”

Gu Weiwei went out with the children and found the two Hummers parked outside, feeling amused.

She was just driving children over, and yet they were making it seem as if they were escorting a nuclear weapon. This was way too exaggerated.

Lei Ning came over and asked, “Mrs. Fu, want me to drive?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “No need, I can do it myself.”

Instead of forcing her, Lei Ning went to Lei Meng and asked one car to lead the way and the other to follow behind, so that Gu Weiwei’s car was in the middle.

Gu Weiwei put the children into the safety seats and fastened the seat belts. Then she gave a toy to Youyou and a small cookie to Tiantian. Then she asked the nursery teacher to take care of them, whilst she took the driver’s seat.

Since there were children in the car, she did not drive too fast. When she arrived at the Fu Family’s mansion, she saw rows of luxurious cars parked outside. She guessed that some guests were already here.

Mrs. Fu and Fu Shengying received Lei Ning’s call and came out to pick up the children the moment the car arrived.

“Come, come, we are at grandpa and grandma’s house.”

The two children did not see them as strangers, so the grandparents picked them up.

Chapter 1532: Grandchildren 3

Gu Weiwei put the same hat on the two children and there were two cute ears on the hat.

The children had round faces and big eyes, and they were dressed in twin outfits of the same color. They looked very cute together.

Gu Weiwei adjusted her son’s crooked hat and said to Mrs. Fu, “There are their water bottles, milk bottles and milk powder in this bag, and we can leave the supplementary food to the nursery teacher.

“Tiantian is very greedy, don’t give her too much food, or she will get indigestion.

“They might take a nap around two in the afternoon.”

“Okay, we get it,” Mrs. Fu said with a smile as she held the boy in her arms.

Gu Weiwei said something to the nursery master and said to Mrs. Fu, “Take them in, I will pick them up tonight.”

“Okay, be careful on the road.” Mrs. Fu took hold of Youyou’s little arm and waved goodbye to her.

Gu Weiwei went into the car and looked out.

“Call me anytime, I am leaving now.”

Mrs. Fu nodded and went into the house with Fu Shengying.

The relatives and friends in the living room had been looking forward to seeing them. When they heard them coming in, they all came over to them.

“Ha, these two little ones are so strong.”

“She is his daughter after all. She looks exactly like Hanzheng when he was little.”

“You have been looking forward to this for so many years, and now you have got your grandson and granddaughter! How lucky you are!”

....

Calmly, the boy sized up the people around him curiously.

Tiantian threw a look at the crowd and leaned herself against Fu Shengying’s shoulders.

Fu Shengying patted his granddaughter’s back, feeling very proud of being a grandfather.

“Stay away from her, don’t scare my granddaughter.”

“This girl is so pretty, she’ll be so pretty when she grows up.” Someone praised Tiantian.

“Brother Shengying, we agreed for our families to join in marriage, but you have three sons and so do I.” Old Master Zhou was teasing Tiantian as he said with a smile, “My eldest grandson is two years older than your granddaughter, what about...”

“What are you thinking?” Fu Shengying glared at him and snorted. “Do not get any ideas about my granddaughter.”

“Didn’t we agree on it?” Grandpa Zhou accused Fu Shengying of breaking the promise.

“Did I say that?” Fu Shengying denied it totally.

He could not bear to part with such a lovely granddaughter.

“If Grandpa Zhou’s grandson can’t do it, what about my grandson? You always say that he is smart!” Another person added.

Fu Shengying sat down on the sofa with his granddaughter in his arms and snorted disdainfully.

“Your grandson is six years old, way too old for you to think about it.”

Mrs. Fu found it funny. He must have forgotten the age gap between the children’s parents was.

Mrs. Qin looked at the grandson Mrs. Fu was holding and asked curiously, “Oh yes, where is the mother?”

“That’s right, didn’t she bring the children here? Why is she not here?”

“Your family never said a thing about Fu Hanzheng getting married and having children. We don’t even know who Mrs. Fu is!”

....

When Mrs. Qin mentioned the mysterious Mrs. Fu, everyone else became curious too.

The crowd sized up Fu Shengying and his wife curiously, wondering if the parents were not a good match or if these two children were just love children.

Otherwise, why was there no news from the Fu Family about when they got married and the children being born?

Chapter 1533: Grandchildren 4

Fu Shengying’s expression sank, but he said nothing.

He could not reveal the private affairs of his family, even if they were family and friends.

Mrs. Fu smiled and asked the servant to serve the fruits.

“She was in a hurry to go out. Also, young people are not interested in hanging out with us old people.”

“But we have so many relatives and elders here, she should at least greet them,” a distant relative of the Fu Family said with a smile. What he meant was that the woman Fu Hanzheng married was way too impolite.

Hearing the words, Mrs. Fu smiled brightly but looked displeased.

“Young people have their own problems. Hanzheng doesn’t want her to deal with us elders, so he doesn’t live here with her.”

“That is his dearest girl! If she is with us, he will blame me if she is wronged.”

...

“I didn’t expect that such a cold person like Hanzheng would love his wife so much,” Mrs. Qin said with a smile.

Mrs. Fu said helplessly with Youyou in her arms, “He treasures her!”

“When did they get married? You did not even invite us to the wedding!” someone said.

Mrs. Fu smiled. “You know that Hanzheng never likes noise, so he held a wedding abroad without any guests.”

Although the wedding was stopped halfway.

But that was not something to be told to outsiders, because that would make their family into a joke.

“No wonder, I was wondering why your grandchildren have grown up before the wedding.”

Mrs. Qin was playing with the toy when the boy took a look at her and reached out for the toy.

“Oh my, look at his strong hands, you have raised her well.”

"It is the mother who is considerate and takes good care of them, so we have nothing to do but follow them around," Mrs. Fu said with a smile.

Mrs. Zhou asked curiously, "Grandpa and grandmas have to take care of everyone's children, let alone two children is not to much. What is your daughter-in-law thinking when she doesn't want you to get involved?"

The twins were indeed cute, but their mysterious daughter-in-law did not seem to fit in with the Fu Family.

Fu Shengying and his wife had always been enviable. They were in a good relationship and they had three outstanding sons.

But after being jealous for so long, he got a bit of satisfaction at the imperfections.

Mrs. Fu understood what he meant. He was trying to embarrass their family.

"They are doing this out of filial piety. They don't want us to work too hard, and Hanzheng has hired a nutritionist and nurse to take care of the two children."

"We are just here teasing our grandchildren."

....

"I am so jealous of you." Mrs. Qin sighed.

Mrs. Fu chuckled. "Your eldest grandson is already so old, but my two babies are so little."

"I am troubled by our second son and my daughter." Mrs. Qin sighed as she thought of what had happened at home recently. "Qin Lang and Ruya are in love with each other, but my daughter keeps objecting to their relationship, so the family is in chaos."

"Ruya..." Mrs. Fu smiled and hesitated.

Mrs. Qin's look changed. "You used to dote on Ruya, but you have not talked with the Meng Family for two years."

Mrs. Fu smiled meaningfully and said, "Hanzheng is married, and it is not good for anyone if he keeps in touch with the Meng Family."

Meng Ruya was not a bad person, but she was not a good person either.

She might not have been able to see through her, but Hanzheng did.

Chapter 1534: Good Daughter-in-law

Mrs. Qin chuckled and teased.

"You are worried that your daughter-in-law would be displeased, right?"

After all, she had wanted Fu Hanzheng to marry Meng Ruya, but he ended up marrying someone else instead.

If she continued to have contact with the Meng Family, she would displease her daughter-in-law who would think that she was displeased with her.

Mrs. Fu smiled without saying a word. She did not keep in touch with the Meng Family, not because she was worried that Gu Weiwei would be displeased, but because she found that this family was not worth keeping in touch with.

Also, if she still kept in touch with the Meng Family, Meng Ruya might think that she still had a chance and try her best to interfere with Hanzheng's marriage.

By that time, her son would blame her for causing trouble at home.

Also, as time went by, she gradually realized that Weiwei was actually much better.

She was better and more educated than Meng Ruya and the other noble ladies.

Luckily, Hanzheng was smart enough not to make a mistake.

"Ruya is so gentle and refined, where can we find such a good daughter-in-law? The Fu Family is not fated to have such a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Qin, you must hurry up." One of them could not help but speak up for Meng Ruya.

Mrs. Fu sounded displeased and said with a smile, "Well, if we are not fated, then so be it. If Hanzheng had not married the current daughter-in-law, we would not have been able to get two grandchildren in one go."

Now Hanzheng and Weiwei looked so lovely together and the twins looked so cute and sweet. They looked so happy.

The only thing she was displeased about was that this stubborn man did not want them to remarry.

She believed that Meng Ruya was unable to bring anything to the Fu Family.

"We don't have any problem with that, except for my daughter," Mrs. Qin said helplessly.

A few days ago, because of what happened between Meng Ruya and Qin Lang, her daughter, who had always been obedient and sensible, made a fuss at home and started to fight with her.

Mrs. Fu took hold of her son's hands and said nonchalantly, "Qin Man has always been cautious and smart. She has every reason to object. You should listen to her too."

The two families had known each other for years, but she just could not say anything bad about Meng Ruya behind her back because that would ruin the relationship between the two families.

But Meng Ruya was not a kind-hearted person, so she did not say anything more than this.

After all, there was someone in the Qin Family who understood what was going on, and she did not need to worry about this outsider.

Mrs. Qin looked at her in surprise, but since there were other people present, she did not ask anything more but said, "I had thought that I would be able to meet your daughter-in-law today. I heard that she is very young and we had once thought about letting her meet with my grandnephew"

“Match her up with your grandnephew Qin Lv?” Someone asked in disbelief, “Xiao Lv calls Fu Hanzheng Uncle, but this uncle and nephew are interested in the same girl? That is so rare.”

“Mrs. Fu, your daughter-in-law is almost the same age as Qin Lv, but she is way too young for Fu Hanzheng.”

“But this Lv calls President Fu Uncle. That girl is almost the same age as Lv, so she has to call President Fu Uncle...”

....

Mrs. Fu found that the gathering was getting boring, and they might as well have fun with their grandchildren.

“As long as he really likes her, age is not a problem. They are in a very good relationship.”

Mrs. Qin could tell that she was displeased, so she tried to smooth things over. “That’s true. If two people truly like each other, then it doesn’t matter if they are a few years apart. It is easy to have children when they are young. Now they have given birth to a grandson and a granddaughter, and two more years later, they will have another younger child.”

Mrs. Fu smiled without saying a word. They were already satisfied with these two babies. Hanzheng might not want Weiwei to suffer from childbirth again.

Chapter 1535: Angel of Fate

Youyou and Tiantian were playing cutely at the gathering of the Fu Family, whilst Gu Weiwei was driving to meet Luo Qianqian and Ji Cheng.

When she arrived, she was surprised to find that Luo Qianqian, who had always been short-haired, now had longer hair.

Although she had only grown it out a little bit, she did not trim it like before.

“What made you want longer hair?”

Also, she had not only grown her hair out but also dressed in a better way.

“I changed my hairstyle because I was bored of having short hair,” Luo Qianqian said as she tucked the hair behind the ears.

Ji Cheng had one hand against her cheek and asked with a smile, “I think you are making progress with Mr. Gu, right?”

Gu Weiwei agreed inside. There was only one explanation for such a huge change — a woman dresses up for her lover.

“Sort of.” Luo Qianqian chuckled.

Maybe it was because of what Sister Yuan Meng had taught her that she felt she looked prettier with long hair.

So she decided that she would grow it for him.

"I told you that he would like you, unless he is blind," Ji Cheng said proudly.

Luo Qianqian might be sharp-tongued and distant, but she was still willing to do anything for her friends. Now Ji Cheng and Weiwei were both lucky enough to be with the person they loved, so they hoped that their best friend could get the happiness she desired.

Gu Weiwei asked curiously, "Have you been in touch these days?"

Luo Qianqian nodded and brought out an exquisite and gorgeous doll from the bag. It was dressed in a European style and had a three pointed hat, with bells on the ends, on its head.

"I received this yesterday."

Gu Weiwei laughed out of surprise. "A Tri-angel?"

Ji Cheng reached out for it and mumbled, "This is just for a child."

Gu Weiwei reached out for it and adjusted the pointy hat as she said with a smile, "Tri-angel, also known as the Angel of Fate, is the guardian of love and destiny in Italy. According to the ancient Roman legend, Cupid the God of Love had a golden arrow and a silver arrow. While the golden arrow joined the destinies of mankind, the silver arrow broke the destinies of mankind. In order to prevent Cupid from making mistakes, the gods created the silver arrow that Tri-angel used to undo Cupid's mistakes."

Ji Cheng had not thought that this doll was special, but after hearing what she said, she sighed.

"Wow, that is so romantic."

Gu Weiwei looked at the doll's face and hands and gave it back to Luo Qianqian.

"This doll's face and hands are made of titanium-white porcelain which is unique to Italy, and the facial features are hand-drawn. It is a very expensive authentic Tri-angel doll, made with 103 different steps."

"Really?" Ji Cheng was dumbfounded.

"Also, after every Tri-angel is completed, the water-lighting ceremony will take place at the Trevi Fountain in Rome. It is said that after the baptism, the Trevi Fountain in Rome will become more spiritual," Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

With her eyes upon the Tri-angel, Luo Qianqian smiled.

Actually, Gu Yun Che had not known that this doll was so special. But when he took a picture and she saw this doll in the picture, she said that she thought it was interesting.

Then he bought it, and probably asked the staff to help him with the international mail.

When she received it the day before, she was also incredibly surprised.

Although he had no idea what it meant to give such a present, yet she was still very happy about it.

"I was worried that you and Mr. Gu would not get along well, but it seems that I was worried for nothing," Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

For a man to have the intention of giving her such a present, he must have meant something.

Chapter 1536: No Love

Luo Qianqian looked at the exquisite doll in her hands and felt a bit complicated.

Although they were in touch more than before, yet they were still far apart.

But it was already good enough that the distance between them was shortened.

With her face in her hands, Ji Cheng gossiped curiously.

“Qianqian, can you tell us more about your Mr. Gu?”

“Why don’t you tell us more about your cousin?” Luo Qianqian countered.

Ji Cheng pursed her lips. “What is there to talk about? We have met so many times. If you really want to know about him, I can ask him to join us. You can talk about whatever you want with him.”

“No, I don’t want to be filled with love.” Luo Qianqian took a sip of coffee.

Ji Cheng sighed. Since the woman did not want to say anything more, she did not ask anything more. She turned to Gu Weiwei and said, “Oh yes, Weiwei, what did an old lady online say about the children of the Fu Family?”

She had been in the middle of preparing for an examination, so she did not ask anything more when she called her.

Gu Weiwei took a sip of the black tea and said calmly, “A few days ago, I brought Youyou and Tiantian to the morning school and Mrs. He’s grandson tripped and knocked over Tiantian. The child got frightened and there was a small conflict.”

“There was a small conflict, so why did the old lady try to victimize herself in the article?” Luo Qianqian asked.

“The children’s grandparents were a bit angry, so they asked them to leave the capital city. But they did not want to do that, so they made a fuss. But it has been taken care of,” Gu Weiwei said.

Hearing these words, Ji Cheng said fiercely, “Our Tiantian is so cute and lovely, and that boy even dares to do that to her?! How annoying!”

“It is all in the past, the children are not injured, they were just frightened.” Gu Weiwei smiled.

Although she did not ask how they dealt with the He Family, she was sure that they would not forgive them easily either.

Ji Cheng asked regretfully, “Why didn’t you bring Tiantian and Youyou with you?”

“The children’s grandparents have friends and relatives over, so they are with them.” Gu Weiwei checked the time and asked, “Aren’t you going to buy something?”

“Yes!” Ji Cheng replied instantly as she packed up her bag and said, “There is a performance next week at school and I need to buy a gown.”

“I have a program in a few days too, and I need to buy clothes.” Luo Qianqian added.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. "Any brand you like?"

"I would like to wear Muse, but I don't think they will sell it to me." Ji Cheng complained.

Muse's clothing were all called fairy dresses and they were all designed for fairies. Ordinary people like her could not wear them.

Luo Qianqian said amusedly, "Then MG it is, you can be the spokesperson."

"I used to be the spokesperson." Gu Weiwei reminded them with a smile, then stood up and said, "But I can still bring you guys to buy clothes."

The contract of MG only lasted for one year, and she did not accept Martin's invitation because she was pregnant. Now MG had got a new spokesperson and she was a very famous model.

The three of them left the cafe and Gu Weiwei drove them to the main store of MG located in capital city.

The manager of the main store had been to villa seven and given them the parent-child outfits, so he recognized her instantly.

"Mrs. Fu, what can I do for you?"

"They can take a look at the gowns, while I can occupy myself," Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

The manager bowed and asked Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian to try on the gowns.

Gu Weiwei sat down on the sofa in the lounge and passed the time with a magazine.

However, the moment she sat down, the door of the fitting room opposite her opened and someone walked out dressed in the latest style of MG.

"Mu Weiwei, what are you doing here?"

Chapter 1537: Sugar Daddy Fu Hanzheng

Gu Weiwei looked up and raised her eyebrows in astonishment. She had not expected to run into this woman here.

It was Li Xing'er whom she had not seen for more than two years.

She had heard that Li Xing'er gave birth to a child and that she used a popular parent-child variety show to prove her innocence and started to work again.

Judging from the exquisite makeup and the proud look on her face, it seemed that the rumor was true.

Since they were not close enough for her to greet her, she took one look at her and started to read the magazine again.

Li Xing'er sized up this girl who was dressed casually on the sofa, turned around and looked at herself in the mirror.

"Mu Weiwei, it seems that you are not doing well without Third Master."

She had not worked for two years or received any more commercials; she also heard that the studio was closed too.

Gu Weiwei frowned. What did she mean by saying that she wasn't doing well without Fu Shiyi? She and Fu Shiyi were just rumored to be together by journalists? Did she really think that she was entangled with Fu Shiyi?

But she did not want to explain anything more to this woman and tell her that she and Fu Shiyi were sister-in-law and brother-in-law.

"Not bad, but slightly better than you."

"Is that so?" Li Xing'er laughed and sneered. "Without Third Master, you have no one to invest in your movies or give you resources. Yet you are better than me?!"

Hearing her words, Gu Weiwei said indifferently, "At least I have more trophies than you."

It turned out that when she quit acting for two years, Li Xing'er thought that she had been abandoned by her rumored boyfriend Fu Shiyi, so she lost the resources she used to have and ended up being worse off than her.

She must have forgotten how she lost her reputation and left the entertainment zone.

"That is the past, who knows what will happen in the future?" Li Xing'er snorted as she tried to press down her anger.

"Then good luck to you," Gu Weiwei said calmly.

She heard that she and Mrs. Wei had been trying all kinds of methods to meet her, but it turned out to be a different story when they met in reality.

"No need." Li Xing'er snorted.

She was once cornered by her and her parents went to jail.

But now all was well, her husband Wei Ziting's career was rising and her own performing arts career was back on track.

Gu Weiwei was reading the magazine when Li Xing'er went back into the fitting room, got changed and gave the gown to the MG employee.

"Prepare it for me, I am taking it away."

The staff of MG brought out the gown for ironing and Li Xing'er sat down in the armchair opposite Gu Weiwei.

"Since we used to be sisters, let me give you a hand. There is a private banquet tonight attended by all the famous and wealthy people in the capital. What about me bringing you in and you can find someone else?"

"I don't need it, but are you going to find the next one?" Gu Weiwei twisted the meaning on purpose.

Why did this woman think that she was doing so badly that she had to find a sugar daddy for her?

Fu Hanzheng was the biggest sugar daddy in the entirety of Hua Land.

Li Xing'er gritted her teeth, controlled her anger and said proudly, "It is Brother Ziting who is going with me. It is not an easy opportunity for you, and don't blame me for not helping you."

"You can keep this opportunity to yourself." Gu Weiwei looked calm and checked the time impatiently.

If she had known that she was here, she would not have come here so as to avoid being pestered by her.

Chapter 1538: Mrs. Fu

Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian tried on the clothes and came to ask for her opinion.

"Weiwei, look..."

Before they finished their words, they saw Li Xing'er standing opposite her and their expressions sunk.

"What are you doing here?"

Li Xing'er glanced at Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian and said, "You two must be Linna's schoolmates, the ones with Gu Weiwei."

"You must be related to the Zhou Linna who stole someone else's song and fled abroad, the notorious cousin Li Xing'er!" Luo Qianqian cursed at both Li Xing'er and her cousin.

Ji Cheng added. "Have you forgotten that you created rumors and got yourself kicked out of the entertainment industry?"

She was only living like this right now because she had a child and tried to prove her innocence through the parent-child variety show.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian and said calmly, "How is what you've tried on? Everything looks good on you."

"Weiwei, we are not in the mood to try on clothes, tear her apart!" Ji Cheng said angrily.

Gu Weiwei was not in the mood to argue with her. "No need, just pick your clothes first."

Normally, she did not like to waste time talking with anyone unless her interests were threatened.

Li Xing'er snorted as she saw her clothes being ironed.

"I was trying to help her out of kindness, but she turned me down."

"You are not blind, are you?" Ji Cheng snorted.

No one in Hua Land was worth more than her, and Li Xing'er was in a worse position than her.

Luo Qianqian did not utter a word, fearing that Li Xing'er still had no idea that Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng were together.

That was why she had said such a ridiculous thing.

Li Xing'er picked up her new Chanel bag and snorted.

“Hasn’t she been down and out for two years without any work?”

Ji Cheng said, “That is her...”

“That is because she doesn’t want to accept any jobs. If she wanted to accept the job, she would get tons of resources, unlike you who only attends variety shows and needs your son to attract popularity...”

Luo Qianqian was worried that Ji Cheng would tell her about Weiwei’s marriage and the two children she had birthed in the past two years, so she spoke before she could spill the beans.

“I am lucky to have such a lovely son,” Li Xing’er said.

Now, everyone online was calling her son God Meng, and he was almost as popular as a B or C-list idol.

Ji Cheng snorted disdainfully; her son was nothing compared to Youyou and Tiantian.

They were still arguing when the staff of MG came over with the wrapped bag.

“Mrs. Wei, your gown is done.”

Li Xing’er took the bag and glanced at Gu Weiwei.

“You turned me down today, but don’t regret it in the future. It is a rare opportunity.”

Having said these words, she left with the bag.

Ji Cheng was confused and turned to Gu Weiwei.

“What is her good intention?”

Gu Weiwei closed the magazine and said with a smile, “She said that she is going to some banquet and that she will take me with her to meet a sugar daddy.”

“Is there anyone more powerful than your husband in the whole of Hua Land?” Luo Qianqian snorted.

Ji Cheng adjusted her gown in front of the mirror. “You should have told her that you are Mrs. Fu. That would have frightened her.”

Gu Weiwei got up, sized them up and said after some consideration, “Ji Cheng, get a pink or blue one. You look better with a brighter color.”

“Qianqian, you look great in this dress.”

Ji Cheng had no time to care about clothes. “Honestly, why didn’t you tell her that you are Mrs. Fu?”

Gu Weiwei turned around and picked out a pink and blue sleeveless gown for her and said, “Even if I tell her now, she will think that I am just bragging. Why should I bother?”

Chapter 1539: Spoiled Wife

Ji Cheng took over the pastel blue and pink gown she picked and held it against herself.

“Which woman marries Fu Hanzheng but doesn’t want to tell the world that such a powerful man is mine, but is instead afraid that people will know about it?”

"I am marrying him because I love him, not because I want to show off the title of Mrs. Fu." Gu Weiwei realized that she was indeed dressed in a very casual way, and it did not seem right for her to be dressed in this way when she went to attend the banquet with Fu Hanzheng.

Ji Cheng put on the dress in the fitting room, looked at herself in the mirror and said, "If you tell the world that you are Mrs. Fu, you can do whatever you want, and traverse wherever you want, in Hua Land."

Gu Weiwei picked out a simple and fresh long-sleeved dress and looked at it against herself in the mirror.

"Traverse? I am not a crab."

Having said these words, she put on the dress in the fitting room.

Ji Cheng said outside the fitting room, "At least everyone will not dare to provoke you."

"They won't provoke us, but will instead try all kinds of methods to please us, which is very annoying."

Gu Weiwei put on the dress, looked at herself in the mirror and felt very satisfied.

Luo Qianqian sighed as she saw the fitting dress on her.

"You don't look like someone who has had two children. How annoying!"

Ji Cheng looked at her waist and then at her own.

"Didn't you say that after a child is born, the mother's body will have traces of pregnancy or something? Why do you have nothing?"

"Why do I feel that you want me to have traces?" Gu Weiwei asked with raised eyebrows.

She did have a large belly after giving birth to Youyou and Tiantian, but she had a nursery teacher to take care of the babies after the birth and so she also did some exercises to recover after the birth. That was why she recovered so well.

As for the stretch marks, they were not that large, and they were gone after the baby was born.

There was only a small scar left from the incision of the C-section. Fu Hanzheng had found ointment to remove the scar and she noticed that it was becoming very faint.

"I am jealous!" Ji Cheng pinched her chubby waist.

Luo Qianqian selected the clothes and asked Gu Weiwei, "If you have time later, please help me read the lyrics and songs for Director Mo's new movie. It is my first time working with him, and I am worried that I may not do it well."

Gu Weiwei nodded. "I'll buy the clothes and then we can talk, there is a teahouse nearby where it is quiet."

The three of them had picked their dresses and paid the bill at the cashier. The manager said with a smile, "Mrs. Fu, you don't have to pay, Mr. Fu pays every year."

Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian exchanged a helpless look. "Alright, we poor things better pay for ourselves."

President Fu was spoiling his wife way too much.

He was not even here and he still wanted to show off his love in front of her.

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead and said, "Put them on my tab too."

"Don't, I can pay for it myself." Ji Cheng said and gave her credit card to the cashier, "I know that your President never gives presents to anyone other than you."

Fu Hanzheng wouldn't pay for whatever they did.

Luo Qianqian also paid the bill and said resolutely, "You can spend Fu Hanzheng's money, but we can't."

Gu Weiwei did not force them. "Okay."

"But if you feel bad, you can treat us to dinner tonight. I know a very good restaurant nearby," Ji Cheng said with a smile.

Gu Weiwei frowned. "I will treat you guys next time. I have a banquet to go to with Fu Hanzheng tonight."

"What banquet? You are leaving the children behind so you can spend some alone time with him." Luo Qianqian teased.

Chapter 1540: A Person Without Conscience

Gu Weiwei chuckled and did not deny her guess.

They said that they were going out for dinner, but they would leave after showing up politely.

Ji Cheng protested in displeasure.

"You and your President are together all the time, and you haven't eaten with us for a long time. Don't you feel guilty that you value your man over your friends?"

Gu Weiwei chuckled. "I am probably a heartless person, which is why it doesn't hurt."

The three of them left MG happily and drove to a quiet teahouse on a pedestrian street.

Gu Weiwei asked for a pot of black tea and some dried fruits, and the three of them put down the dresses and took a rest.

Luo Qianqian brought out the music score from her bag and gave it to her.

"Director Mo's new film is about the era in Shanghai, and this is the first draft I wrote; I haven't given it to him yet."

Gu Weiwei took a look at the music score and the lines. It turned out that it had been recorded too, and so all kinds of musical instruments were playing melodiously in the quiet room.

When the song finished playing, Luo Qianqian said, "I feel that something is missing, what do you think?"

"It does feel a bit lacking," Gu Weiwei said and replayed the recording.

Luo Qianqian looked at her calmly and said nothing.

Ji Cheng sipped the tea and did not interrupt their music discussion.

Gu Weiwei asked after she played the recording three times, "Got a pen?"

Luo Qianqian took out a pen from the bag and gave it to her. "What's missing?"

Gu Weiwei circled out the chorus. "I suggest that the lyrics should be more powerful so that they are more profound."

"Yes, I only focused upon the prosperity and features of Shanghai, but I did forget about that." Luo Qianqian nodded.

Gu Weiwei circled out the introductory section. "For the first section, I suggest turning it into the sound of an old Shanghai gramophone, so that the characters can be brought into the right place and time, and it will fit the movie better."

Luo Qianqian took over the score and made some changes, then gave it back to Gu Weiwei.

For the entire afternoon, the three of them were in the teahouse, making music with Luo Qianqian.

Gu Weiwei and Ji Cheng drank the tea as they waited, occasionally giving their own opinions. Their hard work paid off and they finally finished the song after one whole afternoon.

"It is late, let me drive you home," Gu Weiwei checked the time and said.

"No thanks, you can go on a date with your President." Ji Cheng packed up her bag and turned her down.

Luo Qianqian agreed with her. "We can take a taxi home, you better go on a date with him, otherwise your President will be displeased."

Gu Weiwei did not insist on seeing them off when she received Fu Hanzheng's text.

"Alright, be careful. We can meet again when you have time. I am very free now."

"I will visit your children at home after the competition," Ji Cheng said.

"Okay." Gu Weiwei agreed with a smile.

Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian left the teahouse and Gu Weiwei made a call to Fu Hanzheng.

"Are you done with work?"

"I'm on my way home, I can pick you up," Fu Hanzheng said.

"No thanks, just tell me the address and I will drive there myself, so no need to pick me up. That way no one will have a reason to drive me back," Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng told her the address. "Did you bring the invitation card I left this morning?"

"Yes, it is not far from here, I can go there myself," Gu Weiwei said.

“Okay, see you later,” Fu Hanzheng said.
