

MY HIDDEN 331

Chapter 331: Another Unknown Man?

Jolin knew pretty well what Fu Shiyi was like. Whenever he got a girl, he would definitely show off his relationship to the entire world, just to tell everyone how charming he was.

So if he denied that it was him, then he was probably telling the truth but if it were not Fu Shiyi, who else could it be?

Could it be... the relative his girl had always been trying to hide from everyone?

He had suggested that she should move out of her home or that he should drive her home several times, but she turned those proposals down each time.

If Fu Shiyi was not her man, that relative of hers must be the suspect.

He was just about to hang up when Fu Shiyi asked, "Oh, I heard that you are asking everyone to take the roles that Chu Chen auditions for, why?"

"Don't mention it, that b*stard went to knock at my girl's door last night and tried to create a fake story!" Jolin got extremely annoyed when he heard it mentioned again.

Fu Shiyi asked after hearing this, "Is he still alive?"

"The film is still going on, so I can't do anything right now. We will wait after the filming is done." Jolin said.

"Oh man, so nothing is happening to him?" Fu Shiyi asked in disbelief.

His brother must have been in Mu Weiwei's room the other night at that time, so if Chu Chen did go to knock at her door, he should have died, considering what his brother's personality was like.

He, as his younger brother, was already seriously punished when nothing was going on between him and her.

But Chu Chen was a man with ill intentions and it was so strange of his brother to have not done anything.

Losing energy to talk with him any more, Jolin hung up when he saw his girl finishing with the makeup artist.

When they returned to the capital this time, he should definitely pay some attention to see which b*stard was flirting with his artist.

His artist was young and pretty and if he did not keep an eye out for her, she would be cheated by those men with their ill intentions.

Having had the makeup done, Gu Weiwei saw Mo Jiao coming towards her. He had already heard about what happened the night before.

“I am sorry to have caused you trouble.”

It was a very normal thing in this industry, but Chu Chen was way out of line to aim at a 19-year-old girl.

But they did not replace the actor... so he did actually save some face for Chu Chen.

“It is all in the past and I won’t delay the filming.” Gu Weiwei said with a brief smile.

Mo Jiao looked at this girl who knew how to behave properly. She was beautiful, talented and never arrogant. No wonder Yi An kept recommending her to him!

“Chu Chen has asked for leave today, so you and Song Yu will do your scenes together.”

It would be a bad decision to make Chu Chen and her complete the scenes together today, especially after what had happened the night before. They would have both been dominated by their remaining emotions, which could affect the ambiance of the scene.

“Okay.”

Gu Weiwei had no objection towards that and she truly did not want to see Chu Chen today either.

This man had paid haters to leave mean comments about her some time before but now when he saw her rising career, he decided to get involved with her instead. How terrible could this man be?!

When she was talking with Mo Jiao about the scenes to shoot, Jolin saw the incoming message on her phone. He came over to her.

“Weiwei, your Baby Zheng says that she is leaving, want to reply?”

Gu Weiwei smiled guiltily and sent one text from the phone.

[Travel safe]

Seeing her finishing the reply, Jolin took her phone and went onto the set with her.

“Aren’t you in a way too close relationship with this Baby Zheng?”

He had thought about men who might try to create something with his girl but maybe, it was a woman instead!

She kept talking with this Baby Zheng and the phone kept ringing and messages poured in like a waterfall... it wasn’t normal at all!

Chapter 332: Meeting with Yuan Meng

Gu Weiwei gave out an even guiltier sounding laugh. “It is just... that we are in a very good relationship.”

Fu Shiyi said that Fu Hanzheng was Jolin’s most ideal man, the very man he would like to sleep with... But now, he was her boyfriend!

So she truly couldn’t tell him that she was in a relationship with Fu Hanzheng.

The director was already on set, ready for the filming and although Jolin was full of questions, he couldn’t continue on with his inquiry.

However, the Baby Zheng in her phone had become the top suspect, when they returned to the capital, he was definitely going to figure out who this Baby Zheng was!

No one, be it a woman or a man, should be allowed to toy with his girl.

Gu Weiwei was certainly aware of Jolin's suspicions that she was in a secretive relationship with someone but she truly did not want to reveal her relationship with Fu Hanzheng right now.

Especially after her agent had been drooling over Fu Hanzheng, she must not say a word about it.

After a day's work, she was extremely tired. She had just reached the elevator when the private butler told her agent and assistant, "I am sorry, but since an important client has just moved onto this floor, no one is allowed to enter this floor except for the guest who is living here."

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. She knew pretty well that it must have been an order from Fu Hanzheng.

He must have been worried that another actor would come knocking at her door for some script practice.

Without thinking deeply into it Jolin and the assistant waved goodbye to her at the elevator and went downstairs to their own room.

When she reached the room, she found the phone she had hidden away and texted Yuan Meng with the new number.

It was not until she went to bed that the phone rang.

"You finally think of me! I've had to conceal myself every day, what a waste of my looks and body!"

Yuan Meng kept complaining to her the moment the phone call went through.

"Let's meet as soon as possible, I will give you the address." Gu Weiwei said.

When Fu Hanzheng was abroad on business, she had no idea how many men he had sent out to hunt for Yuan Meng.

That was why she did not set up a meeting with her but because the men of the Dorrans Family had come to Hua Land, he would be distracted for the time being and so, it was the best time for her to meet Yuan Meng.

"So soon?" Yuan Meng was startled.

"The Fu Family will not be concentrating on you, so we can meet now." Gu Weiwei confessed.

"Why do you know everything about the Fu Family?" Yuan Meng asked in confusion.

It was not the kind of information that was just open to anyone.

"I am next to Fu Hanzheng." Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng never concealed anything in front of her and he would tell her everything as long as she asked him out of curiosity.

"Even if you are next to him, he would not tell you everything, right?"

Yuan Meng just could not understand why Fu Hanzheng would tell her everything... wasn't he a man who never talked to strangers?

"I will tell you, when I meet you." Gu Weiwei said.

If she was going to tell her that she was in a relationship with Fu Hanzheng, she would constantly ask her questions throughout the entire night.

"Six o'clock tomorrow afternoon, west gate of Mingguo Film Town, don't come with your real appearance."

With Fu Hanzheng's bodyguards following her, she would still cause some suspicion if she got rid of them to meet her but she could not possibly let them know that she was meeting with Yuan Meng.

"Honestly, it is such a waste of my looks and body, when I have to conceal them both!" Yuan Meng complained.

She had not dared to show her real appearance after she left A Land.

What a waste of her excellent appearance and body shape.

"It is enough when you show them off to master." Gu Weiwei said and hung up after stressing the time and address once again.

Chapter 333: The Secretive Meeting with Yuan Meng

Three days later, Jolin went back to the capital to sign a contract for a spokesperson role.

She finished the filming for that day, removed the makeup, got changed and started to go back to the hotel via the west gate of the Film Town.

She ran into several fans who asked her for autographs and pictures together, and she happily agreed.

Then she saw a woman with blue, short hair sitting on the bench outside the west gate; her legs were crossed and there was a cigarette between her fingers. She was looking around as if she was waiting for someone.

Her face had been changed but Gu Weiwei knew that sitting posture and expression way too well.

"Xu, my jewelry seems to have been left behind in the makeup room, can you go and fetch it for me?"

Xu suddenly realized that she did have her earrings with her this morning, for she was the spokeswoman for that brand.

It was not a top luxury brand but it was still quite expensive.

"Wait for me here, I will go and get them now."

"Okay, I will be sitting over there." Gu Weiwei pointed at the bench not too far away.

Xu put the stuff on the bench and went back to get the things for her.

Gu Weiwei came to the bench, brought out her phone and pretended to answer a call.

“Yuan Meng?”

Yuan Meng, who was wearing blue, short hair and a smoky-eye makeup, turned around and sized her up from head to toe.

Gu Weiwei was the only person who had talked with her before about meeting here... but her face looked different now. She was not the Gu Weiwei she remembered.

With her phone in her hand, Gu Weiwei looked around and said,

“Stop staring at me, how is Master?”

Yuan Meng withdrew her gaze, brought out her phone, also pretending to be answering a call.

“He is badly injured and he is still undergoing treatment, so he couldn’t make it today.”

She held the phone as she sized up the person next to her.

Being reborn might sound like bullshit but this person sitting next to her, was able to tell her everything about what happened to her in the Yuan Family.

“You experienced death once but you do look much younger after rebirth, good-looking too, except that your breasts have shrunk.”

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. “Can’t we talk about something serious?”

Yuan Meng cleared her throat and asked, “Didn’t Gu Siting bring you back, what happened?”

She was brought back to the Gu Family, and Yuan Shuo was badly injured too, so they did not have the time or energy to check on her.

But all of a sudden, Gu Siting started to look into the Yuan Family and she had to bring Yuan Shuo, and the rest of the family, away from A Land and had to hide themselves in Hua Land instead.

Gu Weiwei looked into the distance and narrated how she got killed in a calm voice.

“I was in a coma for a few months and Ling Yan and her mother, put lethal drugs into me so they could take my heart.”

Yuan Meng glanced at her sideways. “What about Gu Siting, did he approve of that?”

Although she was the adopted daughter of the Gu Family, she was also the apple of the Gu Family’s eye.

“I thought that he would save me but he agreed to give my heart to Ling Yan.” Gu Weiwei said.

It was not until she was dead that she realized that something was going on between Gu Siting and Ling Yan, something she was totally unaware of.

She was the daughter of Cayman Dorrans, so she was indeed important but Gu Siting still chose to give her heart to Ling Yan.

So for him, Ling Yan was even more important.

Sitting next to her, Yuan Meng stayed silent for a long while before saying, "Then what do you plan to do? Not going back to the Gu Family?"

"No, and I won't be able to either." Gu Weiwei said in distress.

The place she used to call home was not real.

Gu Siting whom she had thought liked her, did not really like her at all.

She was just a bargaining chip under the charge of the Gu Family and whatever they gave to her, was based on just one single fact – her real father was Cayman Dorrans!

Chapter 334: The Secretive Meeting with Yuan Meng 2

Yuan Meng extinguished the cigarette stub and sighed heavily.

She realized that the reason why Gu Siting was looking them, was probably because of her.

As long as she returned to the Gu Family, Gu Siting might leave them alone but it seemed that it was not possible to go back.

Yuan Meng lit up another cigarette and blew out smoke rings.

"What about that b*tch, how do you plan to deal with her?"

"She is under Gu Siting's protection, so it is not that easy to touch her but I am not going to ignore her either." Gu Weiwei looked slightly cold.

She was alone, with no money or background supporting her, so it was even more difficult for her to deal with the Ling Family, when Gu Siting was now protecting her.

Without enough ability, she would only cause trouble for herself.

"I told you before that I could help you kill her." Yuan Meng inhaled and said fiercely. "She got your heart right? I will get it back for you."

"And you and Master are hunted by the Gu Family for the rest of your life?" Gu Weiwei asked.

"..." Yuan Meng truly had no words to respond with. However, she still felt terribly angry.

"You are not alone now, you have Master and your son."

Gu Weiwei was very grateful that she was willing to do that for her but she needed to settle the score herself.

"I warned you that the b*tch didn't have good intentions but you were still lured by her! You brought a wolf into the sheep pen."

Yuan Meng was both annoyed and heart-broken. She was a woman who should live with her chin up in the air but now she had to keep herself hidden in a dark corner.

This girl had helped her with a blood infusion before but now, her heart had been dug out by that b*tch.

Gu Weiwei took a deep breath and smiled meaningfully.

“Everything might look so dreadful but still... I may have to thank her anyways.”

“Huh?” Yuan Meng turned to her suddenly. “Are you mental?”

She had taken her heart and so she deserved to die a hundred times over... what did she mean that she should thank her?

“I was dead but now I have met someone different and I have gotten all that I desired, yet never received, before this rebirth.” Gu Weiwei said as she thought of the man far away in the capital city.

If Ling Yan had not killed her, she might not have been reborn as Mu Weiwei or met Fu Hanzheng.

She would never have known that it was such a sweet feeling to be liked and adored by someone.

Yuan Meng turned around and looked about, feeling baffled about what she had just heard.

“Thanking her for digging out your heart to keep her own life and stealing away your man? She and Gu Siting might have been engaged and you still are thanking her?”

“Maybe those things she stole away never belonged to me anyways.” Gu Weiwei said with a relieved smile.

At the beginning, she did feel angry and miserable but because of Fu Hanzheng, none of these things seemed that painful any more.

She no longer had nightmares where her heart was being dug out and she no longer felt so miserable that she could not breathe, whenever she saw what was happening between Ling Yan and Gu Siting.

“Anyways, forget about this scumbag Gu Siting, you told me that the Fu Family are looking for us too?” Yuan Meng got back onto the serious topic.

Gu Weiwei said, “The Fu Family don’t know that I am dead and they want to find me through you.”

“You?” Yuan Meng was increasingly confused.

“Something to do with my real father, you better ask Master.” Gu Weiwei said as she saw her assistant coming over to their direction.

“I would like to meet Master and discuss with him how to convince the Fu Family that I am already dead.”

Otherwise, the Fu Family would find them before the Gu Family.

At that time, they would have been exposed.

Yuan Meng sighed. “That may not happen so soon. He is seriously injured and he can’t leave right now.”

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. “I can go and meet him when we have the chance.”

The longer the matter dragged on, the more dangerous the situation would be for them but the problem was, was that Fu Hanzheng’s men were following her all the time and she had to make out a very clear plan so that her schedule was not suspicious.

“Okay, I will tell him about it.” Yuan Meng said and then suddenly thought of an important question.

“Oh yes, you said that you are next to Fu Hanzheng, how did you end up being with him? Isn't it true that he is not a very easy man to get close to?”

Gu Weiwei thought for a long moment and confessed honestly.

“He is my boyfriend now.”

Chapter 335: Too Lustful?

Yuan Meng blinked in astonishment. She was so startled that the cigarette almost dropped out of her hand.

“What... did you say that he is...?”

“My boyfriend.” Gu Weiwei said.

Yuan Meng was still startled. “Fu Hanzheng? Your boyfriend?”

Was she mental or were her ears broken?

Since when did the world become so crazy?

“Yes.” Gu Weiwei replied.

“You mean, the richest and the most powerful man of Hua Land, not someone else with the same name?” Yuan Meng still could not believe her words.

Gu Weiwei glanced at her expression of disbelief. “How would I know that the Fu Family are looking for you guys if not for him?”

“That... is a lot of information, I need to calm down a bit.”

Yuan Meng looked at her sideways and her brain was feeling dizzy after hearing this explosive information.

Gu Weiwei reminded her. “Don't stare at me, the Fu Family always have men following me.”

Without changing her expression, Yuan Meng looked at the tree opposite them and asked, after calming herself down, “You sucked up to Fu Hanzheng because you want to deal with Ling Yan?”

“If that was my plan, I would not have waited for this long, right?” Gu Weiwei said.

Also, she did not suck up to him!

She just could not get rid of him!

“Then why are you with him anyways, if it is not for this reason?” Yuan Meng countered.

The Fu Family and the Gu Family were in a conflict that she should be pretty aware of because she grew up in the Gu Family.

She died in the Gu Family yet was reborn and became Fu Hanzheng's woman.

If it were not for the revenge that she could achieve through Fu Hanzheng, she truly could not remember any other reason why she would approach that man.

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly, "Can't it be because of love?"

Yuan Meng laughed so hard that her shoulders shivered. "I remember someone using Fu Hanzheng's picture as the target for darts and saying that he must be gay seen as he didn't date women, now you are telling me that it is because of love?"

Gu Weiwei smiled calmly without replying.

She did not explain everything to everyone about how she felt and what she thought.

After laughing for a long time, Yuan Meng saw the calm and serious look on her face.

"You are being serious?"

She was the Gu Weiwei she knew but she seemed to have changed a great deal.

She was no longer arrogant and conceited but tolerant and smart.

"He is just... so irresistible." Gu Weiwei said.

She had tried to resist Fu Hanzheng's affection but she had somehow internally indulged herself in him.

Yuan Meng frowned. "Because he is too good-looking?"

Although Fu Hanzheng was indeed very good-looking, she was not a narrow-minded and shallow girl, right?

"I am not like you, I mean the thing deep within!" Gu Weiwei corrected her.

That woman fell for her Master because of his looks but she was different!

Yuan Meng was startled and looked sideways to size her up.

"So... was it Fu Hanzheng who courted you?"

"Do remember to tell my Master to think of a way to convince the Fu Family about my death." Gu Weiwei got up, after seeing the assistant coming closer their way.

"My assistant is here, I have to go now."

The assistant came with the earrings. "I have found them! They were packed away by the makeup team."

Gu Weiwei put away the phone and left with the assistant.

Filled with lots of questions, Yuan Meng tossed away the cigarette and followed behind them pretending to be one of the passers-by.

"Hey, please, finish the conversation!"

"Did you say that he courted you?"

Xu turned around and took a look at Yuan Meng who was talking loudly on the phone, opened the car door and left with Gu Weiwei.

Instead of running after them, Yuan Meng was so curious that she almost turned crazy whilst still holding her phone, as she was left standing on the exact same spot.

Without an answer...

Chapter 336: A Nice Present

After Gu Weiwei went back to the hotel to eat dinner, she and the main cast of the film, were asked to attend a meeting in the small conference room of the hotel.

The director's team and the scriptwriter handed out a new version of the script and after Gu Weiwei went through a few pages, she realized that Chu Chen, the supporting actor, had tremendously fewer scenes compared to before. Instead, her and the lead actor's scenes together were increased.

Seeing the script, Chu Chen interrogated the director without hesitation. "Director Mo, what happened to my scenes?"

"The script is adjusted according to the filming process." Mo Jiao said with a chuckle.

Since the lead actress and the lead actor were doing well together and the supporting actor was not as satisfying as they had expected, in order to reach a certain effect, he and the scriptwriter had talked about changing the script.

What was more, he had been disappointed about his previous pestering of the lead actress.

"But dozens of my scenes have been cut, that is not how the contract was signed."

Unconvinced, Chu Chen protested vividly – now he was just like a minor role.

"Because what you have been doing these past few days, is quite disappointing in the movie aspect." Mo Jiao said straightforwardly.

He was always in need of professionals, and if an actor could do well, he would focus on him or her rather than someone without any skills.

Chu Chen glared at Gu Weiwei who was reading the script. All he had done was go and visit her so they could check over the script together, yet she hadn't even allowed him to enter the room!

So did they really need to bring him down in this way?

But the director's team had already decided to use the new script and his opportunity that he had tried so hard to get hold of, as a cast member, was still more important.

Although he was unconvinced, he could not possibly quit the cast.

"That's all for today, now, everyone go back to your rooms and prepare for tomorrow's work." Mo Jiao said, got up and left his seat.

Gu Weiwei left the conference room with the new script and checked her phone as she entered the elevator. Then she returned Fu Hanzheng's call.

“I was in a meeting just now, so I could not answer your call.”

“Finished dinner?”

Fu Hanzheng asked as he engaged himself in his work.

“I’ve eaten dinner, are you still busy with work?” Gu Weiwei asked.

“Yes.” Fu Hanzheng chuckled and asked, “How much longer before you come home?”

“I have one more task to handle, so I need to ask for leave for one day.” Gu Weiwei confessed honestly.

Fu Hanzheng asked, “Do you have time to meet up?”

“I am going home early in the morning and I return in the afternoon, so maybe not, also...”

Gu Weiwei sighed and wondered whether she should continue.

“Also what?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

“Also, my agent suspects that I am in a relationship and he has been keeping an eye on me for the past few days.” Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

These days, Jolin kept asking her about the Baby Zheng in her contact list and it was very difficult for her to dislodge Jolin, so that she could meet Fu Hanzheng in the capital.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a moment and said.

“I will arrange it.”

It was unreasonable that they could not even meet each other when she was in the capital.

“Alright, but don’t get noticed by Jolin.” Gu Weiwei warned him with a chuckle.

Hearing her opening and closing the door, Fu Hanzheng said, “I had some things delivered to your room, have you seen them?”

Gu Weiwei entered the room and was about to look for whatever he had given to her when she heard something stirring in the bathroom.

Then she followed the sound and gasped at the sight of the bathroom.

“What is it?” Fu Hanzheng could tell that something was wrong.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and calmed herself down.

“That is indeed... a nice present.”

“Enjoy it well. Good night!”

Chapter 337: Be Careful!

Gu Weiwei finished the conversation with Fu Hanzheng, and pushed the door of the bathroom open wider, only to see the woman who was taking a bath and drinking red wine.

“Are you mental, what are you doing here?”

“You ran away in the middle of the conversation, so I had to come and ask you about it.” Yuan Meng took a sip of the red wine and smiled charmingly, “And I haven’t taken a shower for two days in a row, so, well, thanks for your bathtub.”

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead worriedly, “I told you that the Fu Family have bodyguards following me and we will be doomed if you are discovered here.”

Fu Hanzheng would know about it, when any of the three bodyguards with six pairs of eyes between them, saw them.

“Isn’t he your boyfriend?” Yuan Meng leaned herself against the bathtub and asked, “And he is still watching over you?”

“It’s protection! Someone tried to attack me before.” Gu Weiwei explained.

Yuan Meng nodded suspiciously, “If you had told me you were here, then I could come straight to you, would have saved you so much trouble.”

“This hotel belongs to the Fu Family, there are bodyguards everywhere.”

Gu Weiwei felt that her head was exploding. This woman was indeed crazy and never thought about any of the consequences.

“Don’t worry, I won’t let myself be discovered.” Yuan Meng said confidently.

Gu Weiwei sighed. Maybe she truly was not discovered, otherwise Fu Hanzheng would have known about it.

“Put on your clothes and come out.” She said, closed the door and left the room, where she saw the present on the table.

So this was the present Fu Hanzheng gave to her but just a minute ago on the phone, she was startled by Yuan Meng’s appearance.

Yuan Meng washed herself off in the bathroom and came out with just a towel wrapped around her body.

With one hand holding the red wine bottle and the other holding the wine glass, she came to the dining table and poured herself a glass and also one for Gu Weiwei.

“Alright, continue on from where we stopped this afternoon. So you are serious with Fu Hanzheng?”

She had indeed been startled by what Weiwei had said about Fu Hanzheng being her boyfriend this afternoon.

Gu Weiwei took a sip from the glass and looked a bit baffled, as she stared outside the window.

“I don’t know how much further we could go.”

Yuan Meng sized her up, realizing that Fu Hanzheng had no idea of her real identity as Gu Weiwei.

The Fu Family and the Gu Family were each other's worst enemies. As long as her true family name was revealed, he would probably do something to her, let alone having a relationship with her.

"Gu Siting deserted you and turned to Ling Yan, why are you so sure about Fu Hanzheng whom you've only known for just a year?"

She had no idea what Fu Hanzheng had got on her but in her opinion, they were playing with the fire.

"No, he is different from Gu Siting." Gu Weiwei said resolutely.

With one hand resting against her forehead, Yuan Meng looked at Gu Weiwei who was a total stranger, yet also a friend to her.

Whenever she talked about her relationship with Gu Siting, she was always worried and confused but when it came to Fu Hanzheng, she sounded so resolute and was totally unwilling to conceal the joy sparkling in her eyes.

"You did not end up with Gu Siting whom you have known for more than twenty years but now, you are in a life and death vow with Fu Hanzheng who you've only know for a year?"

Gu Weiwei dangled the glass in her hands and sized up the topped up wine.

"Some people are strangers to you even at an old age but some people can be old friends at first sight. Love is not measured by time."

Yuan Meng sipped the wine and asked suddenly, "You slept with each other?"

Gu Weiwei choked on the wine. "Can you be a little more careful with what you say?!"

"Well, don't tell me that the condoms in the drawer are used as balloons?" Yuan Meng snorted

Chapter 338: Ling Yan's Baby

Gu Weiwei came back to herself and nodded helplessly.

"Yes, we slept together, satisfied?"

"Who took the initiative?" Yuan Meng asked, desperately wanting to hear the gossip.

"Are you done or not?" Gu Weiwei glared at her.

Yuan Meng pointed at her. "So you did!"

There was a moment when she looked guilty, so she must have been the one who took the initiative!

"Are you here for serious business or gossip?" Gu Weiwei asked with a sunken face.

"You are indeed wonderful. I had suggested that you should throw yourself at Gu Siting but you told me that you couldn't! But look at Fu Hanzheng! You've only known him for a short while and yet you did that with him!"

Yuan Meng sighed and said, "It seems that he is indeed irresistible."

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead, feeling totally unwilling to carry on engaging with her.

Yuan Meng stopped gossiping after seeing her expression of helplessness.

“So, you are planning on convincing the Fu Family that Gu Weiwei is dead, which means you are hoping to become Mu Weiwei from this day forward?”

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and nodded.

“If that could work.”

Maybe, only by hiding this secret would they be able to stay together.

Also, it was a good way to keep Yuan Meng and her family safe.

If Fu Hanzheng was convinced that Gu Weiwei was already dead, then he would no longer hunt them down.

“If you can, conceal the secret from Fu Hanzheng but I still think that Gu Siting will suspect you when you run into him again.” Yuan Meng reminded her.

She had been living with the Gu Family for more than twenty years and Gu Siting knew her better than anyone else did.

“I already met him and Ling Yan in A Land a few months ago and I was invited to his home as well.” Gu Weiwei confessed.

Yuan Meng frowned and came over to her side, then she put her arms around her shoulders.

“Alright, we will figure something out to make sure that the Fu Family will learn about your death. As for the Gu Family, you don’t have to return to that house ever again.”

She had no idea what had happened so that Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng were now together but she could tell that what Fu Hanzheng had given to her, exceeded everything that the Gu Family had given to her.

Especially after she had experienced death and betrayal, whatever she then received afterwards, mattered even more.

Gu Weiwei took a sip of the red wine and looked sideways, only to bump into Yuan Meng’s breasts that she was so proud of.

“Can’t you just put on clothes first and then talk?”

Yuan Meng straightened up her back and asked proudly, “Jealous?”

Gu Weiwei removed the hands on her shoulders and moved an inch away from the rude woman.

“Gu Siting was looking for you and a child, was that Yuan Bao?”

Yuan Meng tossed herself onto the sofa and crossed her long legs, looking very charming.

“Maybe it is because him and Ling Yan can’t have babies, so they want my cute, little Yuan Bao.”

Gu Weiwei rolled her eyes at her. “Can you be more ridiculous?”

“Ask your Master, he never tells me anything because he thinks I talk too much.” Yuan Meng snorted.

Gu Weiwei reminded her. “Can you not call him Master, Master’s Wife!”

“I call him Master because it’s sexy, haven’t you ever called Fu Hanzheng something else?” Yuan Meng explained.

Gu Weiwei frowned – maybe Uncle Fu?

Yuan Meng poured herself some more wine and was thinking about whether or not to tell the truth.

After lingering on the question for so long, she looked up and said, “Weiwei, I have something that I should tell you about.”

“What is it?” Gu Weiwei asked.

It was rare that she had something to say that she didn’t immediately spill out at the first thought.

“Ling Yan once had a miscarriage.”

Chapter 339: Ling Yan’s Baby 2

Gu Weiwei’s hand that held the glass shook. She took a deep breath and drank all of the red wine in the glass. It tasted rather bitter.

Yuan Meng had thought that she would ask her questions but it turned out that she wasn’t asking anything at all.

“It was in the year when you left A Land to look for news of your father. At the time I did not know who the father was but now it seems that everything has fallen into place..”

Gu Siting used her heart to save Ling Yan and even asked Ling Yan to move into the Gu Family so as to take good care of her.

So the father of Ling Yan’s child was undoubtedly Gu Siting.

Gu Weiwei reached out for the red wine and poured herself another glass.

In that year when she left, she was having dinner with Ling Yan, who got so sick that she almost vomited but at the time she just told her that it was a stomach ache; now she knew it was actually because there was a child in her belly.

Also, before she left, Ling Yan had a surgery and she had even given her 600CC blood.

So she was not going through a heart surgery, but a miscarriage.

She had thought that on one side it was her best friend and on the other the closest man she had ever known but as a matter of fact, she was just like a fool being played around by the two of them.

“Ling Yan had heart problems back then, so she couldn’t possibly have babies. That was why she miscarried.” Yuan Meng said as she looked at Gu Weiwei who couldn’t utter a word.

“That happened four or five years ago but they told you nothing about it and now they are together after you’ve died, so I don’t think that I need to say anything more about the baby’s father.”

Before, Gu Weiwei was in a good relationship with Ling Yan and Gu Siting, so she did not have any evidence to prove that the story was true and she wouldn't have believed it.

"Thanks for telling me, but..." Gu Weiwei smiled and said, "I don't care anymore."

Her heart had been dug out anyways, so how much of a big deal would a baby be?

"It's good that you don't care." Yuan Meng said with a gratified tone and after taking a sip of wine she said, "Anyways, let's drop this unhappy topic, tell me more about you and your boyfriend, okay?"

Honestly, she could not believe that she was in a relationship with Fu Hanzheng, the most powerful and richest man in Hua Land.

A man who could run Fu's Enterprise must be someone with a wide horizon and high intelligence.

But why did he fall for her...?

She glanced at this 19-year-old Gu Weiwei... so Fu Hanzheng wasn't attracted to any of the other rich ladies at the same level as him but fell for someone who was only 19-years-old?

Was she charming or was Fu Hanzheng strange in his tastes?

Gu Weiwei glared at her. "You are indeed a potential paparazzi."

Yuan Meng sipped the wine with a smile. "Tell me how you took the initiative to get Fu Hanzheng?"

"I was trying to drag out the time so that you could run away! That was why I did that with him!" Gu Weiwei truly wanted to kill this gossiping woman!

Sigh, she should not have sacrificed so much to save this woman who had not changed.

"Oh!" Yuan Meng raised her eyebrows and leaned forward. "So, when I called you the other day and you sounded feeble, that was because you were just coming out of bed with him?"

"Now you are done with your gossiping, maybe you should leave?"

Gu Weiwei started to drive her away because her secret had been found out.

This woman could be dull in other things but she was always sharp when it came to gossip.

Yuan Meng smiled flirtily as she held the wine in her hand.

"But not everyone gets to have a taste of Fu Hanzheng, so are you going to thank me for your success?"

Chapter 340: One Sleep

"..."

Speechless, Gu Weiwei gave up on continuing the conversation with her.

"You took a bath and drank my wine, what are you still doing here?"

Yuan Meng emptied her glass, stretched out her arms and legs and threw herself onto the bed in a very charming way.

“It is rare for us two to meet, I can stay for the night.”

“Just go home and stay with Master!”

Gu Weiwei washed glasses and cleaned up all of the traces left behind by Yuan Meng in the room.

“Can’t you just help me understand how it feels to sleep with Fu Hanzheng’s woman?” Yuan Meng complained charmingly with one hand supporting her head.

“Please, Senior Sister, let’s just get down to important business, alright?” Gu Weiwei stressed intensively.

The longer she stayed here, the more worried she became.

Especially when she had to work for the entirety of tomorrow. She would be really tired if she did not get a good night’s sleep.

Yuan Meng patted the bed and said, with a bright smile, “Just come to bed.”

They were just in the middle of sparring with each other when the doorbell rang.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at the bed, only to find that Yuan Meng had already gotten off the bed and gone into the closet.

She tidied up the room and went to answer the door.

“Miss. Mu, the tap was broken this afternoon and someone came in to fix it. I am here to check that everything is fine.”

“Thanks.” Gu Weiwei leaned forward and let the man in.

The private butler went into the bathroom and checked it before asking, “All is well, is there anything else you need?”

When he was talking, he was also sizing up the room.

“I am fine now, ready for bed.” Gu Weiwei said and yawned.

“Then have a nice evening, good night!” The private butler lowered his head and left the room.

Gu Weiwei locked the door before opening the closet.

“It is not safe here, just leave now.”

The private butler was not here checking the tap. He was here checking on her.

Also, that was an order from Fu Hanzheng.

She believed that it must have been the hurried conversation they had over the phone that made him worried.

“Is he your boyfriend or the mafia? He has men following you around and checking on you so suddenly.” Yuan Meng mumbled as she came out of the closet.

Gu Weiwei said, “He doesn’t mean any harm.”

Yuan Meng did not have any intentions of leaving. She reached out for the exquisite looking cookies in the gift box lying on the table.

But Gu Weiwei put it away, together with the box.

“This is not for you.”

Last time, she had mentioned that the desserts at the mansion were tasty but the chef went south with the Old Lady, so Fu Hanzheng must have sent someone to have them delivered here from the south.

Yuan Meng pursed her lips unhappily. “You two have only been together for a short time and now you are helping outsiders instead of me!”

Gu Weiwei put away the gift and glanced at the woman in her bed, suddenly feeling too lazy to say anything more.

She took a shower and went into bed for a good night’s sleep too.

Yuan Meng reached out for her hands and sighed.

“I am so sorry, Weiwei.”

“Why?” Gu Weiwei asked with a smile.

“Your Master asked me to watch out for you but he was too badly injured for me to do so, that was why you were killed by Ling Yan.” Yuan Meng said.

If she had been more careful, maybe she would not have been murdered.

Gu Weiwei was, however, very calm as she said, “That is okay, at least... I have come to realize things and see through people, which would have been totally unknown to me if I had stayed in the Gu Family. That is my fortune, isn’t it?”
