

MY HIDDEN 341

Chapter 341: Only Child Missing

The following morning when she woke up, Yuan Meng had already been long gone.

She had no idea when she left and how she did it.

After a few more intensive days of filming on the set, herself, her agent and her assistant, took the earliest plane back to the capital city for a program.

It was a non-profitable event for Asian filmmakers.

It was a program held every year in different Asian countries and this year, the program happened to be held in Hua Land. So some filmmakers would be there.

The moment Gu Weiwei got off the plane, she went to the company with her agent and got changed. Then she ate some simple food and hurried to the event's location.

She had thought that she would not run into anybody, so she decided to just show up briefly and later on, leave without anybody noticing her.

But the moment she stepped on site, she noticed Fu Shiyi who was surrounded by a group of women.

Fu Shiyi waved to her when he saw her and drove away the girls surrounding him.

"What are you doing here?"

"Trust me I really don't want to be here!" Fu Shiyi pointed at the black rings under his eyes and said, "He wants to have a date with you later, so I had to finish my two day's worth of work within one day's time! I'm so tired now as his wing-man!"

"Thanks." Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

The moment she got off the plane, she received a text from him and when Jolin saw it, he desperately wanted to dig around in her phone, to find out who on earth Baby Zheng was.

Therefore, she needed someone to stop Jolin so as to meet up with him.

But Jolin was the agent of Shiyi Culture... No one else would be able to stop him unless the President's brother of Shiyi Culture showed up to do the work.

"Why don't you just tell him that you are in a relationship with my brother." Fu Shiyi suggested with a huge yawn.

Actually, what he wanted was to see how Jolin would react, when he heard that his girl had already slept with the man of his dreams.

But he couldn't just say that, in case he brought himself trouble after annoying his brother again, who would punish him.

He had been deeply affected by what happened last time, so he decided to stay away from him, gathering up his strength for further combat.

“You just want to see how Jolin tries to compete with me.” Gu Weiwei pointed out what Fu Shiyi was inwardly thinking.

“That’s impossible!” Fu Shiyi gave a very guilty smile and said, “Even if Jolin knows about it, he won’t be a match against you, right?”

Damn, how had she become so smart after getting together with his brother?

“Better not, otherwise...” Gu Weiwei smiled meaningfully.

She did not care about how he tried to annoy his brother but if he wanted to do something to her, she would not retreat.

Fu Shiyi laughed dryly. Well, if she and his brother wanted to stay the victorious party, then they shouldn’t plan to have children.

Because after all, their secret plan about cultivating a little monster was already in motion.

As long as they had a baby... everything was going to work out perfectly.

They were still talking when a sound arose from outside the set. They both looked in the direction that it came from.

Then they saw Ling Yan, wearing a chic embroidered dress, entering the set as she waved to the filmmakers on site.

She was a legendary Movie Queen that everyone knew, just like a Goddess on the earth that received much respect from filmmakers.

Fu Shiyi was never friendly when it came to anyone related to the Gu Family.

“Ling Yan seems to be getting ready for her return. Yaoshi Culture is going to make a Dream of a Long Life sequel, as a tribute to the girl who gave her, her heart.”

Gu Weiwei looked on and sneered... how shameless this woman was, the very one who had dug out her heart and tried to make a movie, to pay her respects to her, so hypocritically.

Chapter 342: Ling Yan and Gu Siting

Because of Ling Yan’s arrival, many filmmakers went over to meet and shake hands with the legendary Movie Queen.

Seeing Ling Yan’s diamond ring on her finger, Gu Weiwei realized that the news that they were engaged might actually be true.

Everything she had expected to get from Gu Siting was now Ling Yan’s.

Seeing Ling Yan who was exalted into the sky by the public, Fu Shiyi snorted speechlessly.

“Dream of a Long Life is just a movie, nothing to be proud of.”

Gu Weiwei glanced at Fu Shiyi. "What about us making a movie of our own too?"

Fu Shiyi shook his head constantly.

"I don't want to make a movie or a program with you because my brother would become extremely jealous about what didn't even happen between us."

"I mean, Shiyi Culture can make a movie." Gu Weiwei suggested.

When the Eyes of the Eagle was released in the cinemas, she was going to be the star of a first-rate movie.

Fu Shiyi's eyes twinkled. "Oh, that sounds good. You can act better than she did when she was in Dream of a Long Life, and all I need to do is to get a script and a director."

"I will be the director." Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Shiyi blinked and said, "You have never been to a single lesson at the Film Academy and even though you are a gifted actress, a director might sound a bit..."

Gu Weiwei said, "I have learnt how to direct a movie before."

Fu Shiyi thought for a while and shrugged.

"Alright then, as long as you are happy."

The cost of a movie was worth a few hundred million and she could do whatever she wanted.

His brother would be the one compensating for the loss, if it turned out to be a horrible failure.

"When the filming of the Eyes of the Eagle finishes, we can start the preparations." Gu Weiwei said seriously.

If Dream of a Long Life could bring Ling Yan up to the highest position, then she could make her fall off the position with a sequel.

If she hired someone to direct the movie, she might gain popularity and high box office ratings but it would take years before she was able to produce a movie that exceeded Dream of a Long Life.

She put her heart and blood into Dream of a Long Life, which was what made Ling Yan who she was today.

Only she was able to understand how to exceed the Dream of a Long Life and Ling Yan.

Fu Shiyi checked the time and said, "We can talk about this later but right now, let's see how to meet my brother."

His brother, despite the huge pile of work he had to deal with in the company, had spared some time to have a date with her.

Second Brother of the Fu Family must be rather annoyed right now.

"Do we still need to come up with a plan?" Gu Weiwei asked.

As long as he could keep Jolin from approaching her, she could leave the site alone.

“What are you two talking about?” Jolin asked from behind them.

“Oh...” Fu Shiyi, in that moment, couldn’t find an excuse to reply with

Gu Weiwei calmly said, “We are thinking about making a film with Shiyi Culture.”

Jolin said, “That sounds good.”

They had not produced this kind of project before because their artists were terrible at acting, just like their boss who only had a pretty face.

They had tried making one years ago but the box office profits had been horrible, even less than what they had spent.

However, with his girl as the main actress, he thought that the whole project sounded reliable.

Fu Shiyi saw a text on his phone and said, “When the donation section finishes, we are leaving ahead of time.”

“Why?” Jolin asked out of astonishment.

Fu Shiyi glared at him. “That Ling person is here, so Gu Siting must be here too. I may have to hit him if I see him again.”

Actually, it was his brother who didn’t want his girlfriend to remain here, in case something happened between her and Gu Siting again.

Chapter 343: Proud

The “Echoing Program” was an event for non-profitable filmmakers, one that was held every year as a donation party in Asia.

Apart from making donations, the filmmakers present would also ask their fans to donate as well.

Then they would use the funds to help people who were deaf and mute have their hearing or speaking ability restored.

After Fu Shiyi received Fu Hanzheng’s text that she should leave after the donation section, the program formally started.

After a sentimental speech, the founder said, with a mysterious smile, “This year, our event is lucky to have invited Ms. Ling Yan, the lead actress of Dream of a Long Life to be present. She is the pride and the legend of our filmmakers and the miracle of life.”

“Today, I expect that Ms. Ling Yan would be able to help give voice to more people’s miracles.”

Applause arose on the site and many people even gave her a standing ovation.

Ling Yan went up to the podium as the applause arose and chitchatted with the founder for a short while.

Ling Yan took over the microphone and smiled gently and shyly, as she sized up the filmmakers below the podium.

“Many people say that Dream of a Long Life is a legend of the film industry but as a matter of fact, I did not think much about it when I was shooting the movie because I already had a dream of being an actress and I had expected to realize this dream, before my life ended. I had thought that Dream of a Long Life would be the last film I made before I said goodbye to the world.”

When the words came to this pause, some of the audience started to feel that they may cry.

“But someone gave me a miracle so I lived on, so that I am able to stand on this stage and have more time and a longer life to realize all of my dreams.” Ling Yan sobbed yet then said with a firmer tone, “In order to thank that friend who is far away in heaven and who has given me this miracle, I will make a sequel to Dream of a Long Life next year.”

The filmmakers present applauded her again.

Gu Weiwei gave a barely there applause, yet looked rather cold.

She did not give her the miracle. It was Ling Yan who had put the drugs into her badly-injured body, so that she was declared brain dead.

Through these methods she stole her heart, and now she had the arrogance to say that she had to thank her...

Alright then, wait and see how she was going to pay back her so-called gratitude.

Fu Shiyi rolled his eyes as he sat next to her.

“She talks about this matter all the time, as if someone really gave her their heart. Feeling thankful? This is just a show for fans. I believe that the person who gave her their heart, must be feeling horrible after hearing what she said from heaven.”

Gu Weiwei, who had been feeling a bit gloomy, felt like laughing when she heard his complaining.

“Everyone is tearful, be serious!”

“I just can’t stand the fact that someone is even prouder than I am.”

Fu Shiyi crossed his long legs, leaned himself against the chair and yawned.

They were just complaining with each other when the founder said, “Normally, we have a tradition for our program. Two filmmakers are going to have a minor activity and make a donation online with concealed names.”

The founder, Ms. Bai, looked at Ling Yan next to her and said with a smile, “It seems that everyone understands who one of the filmmakers would be this year.”

Obviously, it was going to be Ling Yan who was already on the podium with her.

“One of them is our legendary Movie Queen, Ling Yan.” the Founder said and pointed at the screen where names were rolling by. “And the other participant will be selected by Ms. Ling Yan, randomly, from every present female participant.”

Ling Yan smiled to the audience, as names of all the female stars started to appear on screen rapidly, one after another.

Then she said with a soft voice through the microphone, “Stop!”

The rolling names on the big screen stopped and the remaining name... was Mu Weiwei.

Chapter 344: On the Podium with Ling Yan

Ling Yan was slightly startled when she saw the name on the big-screen but she still smiled and said the name shown on the big-screen through a microphone.

“Please come up to the podium Mu Weiwei.”

Gu Weiwei was also startled at the sight of her name. She had not expected that she would need to share the same podium with Ling Yan.

She truly had no intention of standing next to her and facing that disgusting face.

Fu Shiyi threw a sympathetic look at her. “It seems that today is your unlucky day.”

Having said these words, he suddenly realized something, so he slapped his face.

“My bad.”

Damn, what if she met his brother later on and did something together... then he wasn't he saying that his brother was bringing her bad luck?

In spite of her unwillingness, Gu Weiwei still got up with a smile and walked to the podium as the spotlight shone down on her.

Dressed in a white gown, she walked onto the stage happily and sent greetings to everyone through the microphone.

“Hello everyone, I am Mu Weiwei.”

Ling Yan smiled. “Hello, nice to see you again.”

Ms. Bai, the founder of the event asked in surprise, “You two know each other?”

“We had a brief meeting at the Shengxi Town Film Festival.” Gu Weiwei said briefly.

Ling Yan nodded without explaining anything more.

Honestly speaking, she truly had no intention of seeing this woman again.

After her visit to the Gu Family last time, she had not been feeling very well, she also played a song that Gu Weiwei used to play and she was worried that Gu Siting would see Gu Weiwei in her.

The founder listened to the earpiece and heard someone reading to her the information of this new girl.

“You have played a wonderful role as Tang Shaoqi and now you are filming the Eyes of the Eagle, which is directed by Mo Jiao, right?”

Actually, she had not taken much notice of this young girl but she thought that she was incredible, after she read the information about her.

She was only 19 years old and she had already played a wonderful role as the supporting actress of the Long Wind and now, she was making the new film with Mo Jiao.

How incredible that she had come to this stage, at such a young age but compared to Ling Yan, who was a legendary Movie Queen, she was still a minor role.

Gu Weiwei smiled. “Yes, I am here today on leave.”

“Then how are you feeling, now that you are here to challenge our Movie Queen Ling?” The founder asked with a smile.

Gu Weiwei said inwardly that she was feeling terrible but she had to show a humble smile on the surface.

“Honored and worried.”

“Don’t be nervous, just try your best.” Ling Yan said with a consoling smile.

It looked as if she were already the winner.

Gu Weiwei smiled briefly – it was not necessarily she who was going to be nervous.

“You two are movie actresses, so apart from moves and expressions, lines are also an important part of the performance. Our program is held to help those who can’t speak or hear, so what you two are going to do is related to the voice as well.” Ms. Bai, the founder of the program said as she threw a look at Gu Weiwei and Ling Yan.

“You two are going to dub for one classical section of Dream of a Long Life and you are going to publish the recorded dubbing section anonymously online for voting as a way of donating for the program. The deadline will be 24 hours after the posting.”

This program aimed at gaining popularity and influence through Ling Yan and Mu Weiwei was just a minor role who was not worth mentioning.

Chapter 345: On the Podium with Ling Yan 2

Gu Weiwei and Ling Yan shook hands politely and went back to their provided recording rooms for preparation.

When she arrived, Fu Shiyi and Jolin were already there.

“What are you two doing?”

“Cheering for you!”

Fu Shiyi, who had almost fallen asleep a minute ago, was now more excited than he had ever been before.

“Try your best to slap her right on her face.”

He had been tolerating her pride for way too long.

“No need to tell me anything, that is what I am going to do.”

Having said those words, Gu Weiwei removed her high-heels and went into the recording room for preparations.

Seeing her on the way into the recording booth, Fu Shiyi stopped her nervously.

“Hang on, I will show you the original section and you can try to gain the feeling from that first.”

Gu Weiwei glanced at him – she could remember every line of Dream of a Long Life but if she turned down his offer, it might seem a bit suspicious.

Therefore, she still waited for him to show her the original section.

Then she read the lines carefully for a few minutes and adjusted her own emotions.

“I am ready.”

“You can do more preparation, there is no need to hurry.”

Fu Shiyi consoled her patiently – it was an important battle, why was she ready after ten minutes of preparation?

Gu Weiwei took the phone and showed it to him whilst hiding it from Jolin’s eyes.

The text showed that Fu Hanzheng was on his way to pick her up.

Fu Shiyi sighed helplessly, took a step aside and joined Jolin.

“Then let’s start.”

Although he did want her to try her best to bring down that Movie Queen, it seemed that the date with his brother was even more important.

At first, they thought that she was being casual and would do nothing but the moment she started to speak, they were completely startled... was she really doing the recording or was it just the original track from the movie?

Since the section only lasted three minutes, she finished the work immediately in one hit.

She put down the script, put on her shoes and threw a look at the two people standing next to her in astonishment.

“Are we leaving or not?”

Fu Shiyi and Jolin came back to themselves and sized her up in disbelief.

“Were you... in some strange magic circle just now?”

That section sounded exactly, or possibly even better than that of the original sound track.

“I am gifted.”

Having said that, Gu Weiwei went onto the podium with a smile.

The founder and the hostess were a bit surprised at the sight of her, who had come out onto the stage again, so quickly.

“Finished?”

“Yes, I tried my best.” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

The founder smiled and thought that she was, after all, way too young to be mature enough for such a challenge.

But anyways, she was not the important one, Ling Yan was.

A few minutes later, Ling Yan also came onto the stage after finishing in the recording studio.

“Ling Yan, how does it feel to repeat what you did before?” The founder asked with a friendly smile.

“It feels as if we were back in the old times, it was so full of emotion.” Ling Yan said with a smile.

“Now, the two different sections have been published to our official website anonymously for donation.”

The founder looked at them and said, “Now, let’s also watch the two sections of dubbing done by our Movie Queen Ling Yan and Mu Weiwei.”

The light went dim and the classical section of Dream of a Long Life was shown on the big-screen. It was a scene in which the lead actress Lin Yang was doing a monologue.

Chapter 346: On the Podium with Ling Yan 3

Dream of a Long Life was created with Ling Yan as the original inspiration, so the lead actress was called Lin Yan.

The story was about how a maiden called Lin Yan, who was suffering from serious heart problems, befriended a depressed musician and how they then helped each other.

The musician used to be a genius but due to an unexpected car accident, his parents all passed away, so the musician could not create anything anymore.

Lin Yan, on the other hand, had the intention of killing herself because of her serious heart problems. However, after hearing a song played by the musician, she again felt the hope of living on and chose to cherish the little time she had left.

Out of a miracle, she lived on one year after another, just to look for that musician, only to find that the musician who once gave her the hope to live on, became so depressed that he could not write any more songs.

Therefore, Lin Yan helped the musician to rebuild his dream of music, so that he could write and sing once again.

The musician fell in love with Lin Yan, who had also secretly loved this musician for years but when the man confessed to her, she had to turn him down and leave because she had very little time left.

The section they dubbed for tonight was a monologue Lin Yan said, as she turned around and left the solo concert held by the musician.

On the stage, the musician played the song that Lin Yan loved the most of all, the one that once helped her to give up her suicidal thoughts.

“Because of this song, I started to understand the beauty of life and to realize that the sunshine could be warm and the world could be colorful.”

“I spent three years searching for you, hoping to see you again but now, all I can do is to wave you goodbye.”

“But thankfully, your music lives on with me. Even if my future will be filled with struggling and being on the brink of death for the rest of my life, I will still go through the misery and live on until the very end...”

What was shown on the screen was Lin Yan crying as she watched the musician performing on the stage and how he received so much support from the fans.

Then she said, “I love you,” to the man on the stage, before turning around and leaving the crowd.

When the first recorded dubbing was released, every line sounded so grievous that it gripped people’s hearts.

Life was fading away and she couldn’t hold onto the love she desired. It was such a painful moment that everyone could be driven to tears.

The founder Ms. Bai said, after watching the first recorded dubbing, “Our number one voice is indeed touching, quite close to the original soundtrack. I feel that my heart is scattered into pieces.”

Ling Yan stood next to her with a smile – it was such a classical moment that could make everyone tearful, totally unduplicatable.

The founder glanced at the two women and teased them.

“Who dubbed the first section? Give me a hint maybe?”

Both Gu Weiwei and Ling Yan showed a meaningful smile, refusing to admit that it was their work.

“Alright then, since neither of you are saying anything, let’s listen to the second voice.” The founder suggested.

The section was replayed on the big-screen, yet when the voice arose, the founder was totally surprised.

The picture was the same, so were the lines and even the voice sounded extremely similar.

Yet what they had expressed was totally different.

The former's voice sounded sad and miserable but the second voice expressed the joy of the character who had received the love, as well as the strong desire to live on. The sadness and misery were just one tiny part of the emotions presented...

Every line had been perfectly expressed and the voice sounded gentle yet powerful too. This was the original sound track of Dream of a Long Life.

Dream of a Long Life was never about grief and regret but about warmth and healing, as well as hope and the power of life.

The founder, as well as everyone below the stage, naturally believed that it was Ling Yan's voice because it sounded so much like the original sound track and Dream of a Long Life was her movie.

No one apart from her would have been able to create such a perfect dubbing for Dream of a Long Life.

Ling Yan's smile wavered, as she threw a complicated look at Gu Weiwei next to her.

When everyone else assumed that it was her voice, she herself understood perfectly that it was not hers.

When she was doing Dream of a Long Life, she was having treatment and it was Gu Weiwei who had done the lines and dubbing for her!

But Gu Weiwei was already dead, how could this voice sound so much like hers?

Chapter 347: On the Podium with Ling Yan 4 (Extra)

After the second voice finished playing, everyone present started to clap excitedly as they stood up. The sound was enormous.

The first voice might be full of emotion but compared to the second voice, it was simply way too simple and the emotions expressed were just tedious.

Although it was not publicly known which one was dubbed by Movie Queen and which one was dubbed by Mu Weiwei it seemed obvious.

One was just a newbie who had played a supporting role, whilst the other one was Ling Yan, a Movie Queen who had won numerous prizes and played the lead actress of Dream of a Long Life.

Therefore, everyone would assume that it was Ling Yan who had the second, perfect voice.

So when the second voice was shown, everyone stood up and clapped their hands out of respect.

Ling Yan knew that it was not her own voice but at this moment she had to restrain herself, so she could keep calm.

But as a matter of fact, cold sweat had already appeared on the palm of her hands.

“Now, the donation program for the two voices has already kicked off on the official website and the second voice has attracted an increasingly high amount of donations!” Ms. Bai narrated the news excitedly as she threw a look at Ling Yan and Gu Weiwei. “Now, please go back to your seats and we will reveal the secret in 24 hours.”

Gu Weiwei smiled as she bowed and returned to her own seat gracefully.

Fu Shiyi and Jolin were laughing like two fools, as they were reading the official website.

Everyone on the site and elsewhere online, all assumed that Ling Yan was the woman behind the second voice.

When the donors were putting in money, they also left comments saying that the second voice was Ling Yan’s.

[Movie Queen is so excellent, her charm has never faded away]

[We must vote for the second voice a plus version of the original soundtrack!]

[Compared to the second voice, the first one was just sh*t]

[The first voice was just violating Dream of a Long Life]

....

“Go on and curse as you wish, your Movie Queen is going to be slapped hard on the face.” Fu Shiyi mumbled with a small voice as he read through the phone.

After watching the show, Jolin threw a look at his own girl who looked extremely calm.

“What about asking for some more days off from the set? I think that we are going to have a lot to deal with.”

Fu Shiyi said, “I have asked for leave. I am staying until the show is over.”

Now every one of Ling Yan’s fans online was showing support to the second voice and cursing at the first one but what they did not know was that they were supporting Mu Weiwei and cursing at their Movie Queen Ling Yan.

He felt a bit sorry for this Movie Queen who was slapped by Mu Weiwei and her own fans.

Jolin glared at Fu Shiyi and asked with a worried voice.

“Ling Yan is not going to sit and wait for the answer to be revealed. She will try her best to handle the situation or even refuse to reveal the answer today.”

It would be such a huge humiliation if the Movie Queen could not even be a match against a newbie in the contest of her own work.

Ling Yan went off stage and threw a look at Gu Weiwei. She nervously had a tight grip on her handbag.

Maybe she had watched the original film, so she learnt from Gu Weiwei.

The real Gu Weiwei was already dead, her heart was inside her now.

The matter must be pressed down and the answer could not be revealed; she must not let anyone know that Mu Weiwei was the person behind the second voice.

She turned to Kuroda Shio who was in her company.

“Kuroda, how much longer will it take before Brother Siting arrives?”

She couldn't do it alone, she had to turn to him instead.

Chapter 348: Private Talk with Gu Siting

Kuroda Shio phoned him and then replied to Ling Yan.

“Mr. Gu is here right now.”

Ling Yan nodded and left her seat as the program was still going on.

After she left the room, she went to the VIP lounge and waited for Gu Siting.

However, whenever she thought of the voice dubbed by Mu Weiwei for Dream of a Long Life, she felt the hair standing up on the back of her neck.

It felt as if the deceased Gu Weiwei was hovering over her back.

She was so distracted that she did not even notice Gu Siting's entry.

Gu Siting sat down and crossed his long legs.

“I heard that you are in trouble?”

Ling Yan pursed her lips and said, with a saddened look on her face,

“I was invited to perform with an actress from Hua Land and dubbed a section from Dream of a Long Life and the recorded voices were published online for donations.”

Gu Siting thought for a second and understood the problem.

“She did a better job?”

“I must have been very tired from the plane journey so I kind of lost my touch... I was too distracted to do that well.” Ling Yan glanced at him discreetly and said with excitement, “But Mu Weiwei who dubbed the section imitated the original soundtrack and her voice sounds too much like... Weiwei's.”

It was better for her to tell Gu Siting in person than him finding it out by himself.

Gu Siting's calm eyes rippled and he looked at Ling Yan who was speaking.

“Like hers?”

Ling Yan nodded as tears rose like the waves in her eyes.

“When I heard it, I thought... thought that it was Weiwei who was speaking.”

Gu Siting knew pretty well that it was Gu Weiwei who had dubbed Dream of a Long Life and she had to completely confess everything to him, if she wanted him to press down the matter of tonight.

She had to point out that it was an imitation, so that he would not dwell too much on Mu Weiwei.

Gu Siting glanced at Kuroda Shio next to him. "Is that so?"

"She does indeed sound like Ms. Weiwei." Kuroda Shio said and logged onto the non-profitable website of the program.

Then he clicked on the second voice.

Against the background music of the original film, the girl's voice echoed across the small recording room.

Gu Siting slowly closed his eyes as if he had already gained a picture of how she looked as she performed the section.

The dubbing only lasted for three minutes but after it ended, he asked Kuroda Shio to replay the voice.

Ling Yan looked at Gu Siting who seemed to be calm, fearing that he would be haunted by the imitated voice but she dared not utter a sound to interrupt anything.

After replaying the recording two more times, Gu Siting asked Kuroda Shio to play the section dubbed by Ling Yan.

Ling Yan squeezed some tears from her eyes and said between sobs, "I am sorry that I did not do well with the dubbing. When the result is announced, Weiwei's Dream of a Long Life will be ruined. I am sorry I am unable to defend Dream of a Long Life well."

After a moment of silence, Gu Siting reached out for her hands.

"She won't blame you and I won't let anything hurt you."

"Brother Siting..." Ling Yan looked at and gazed at this man, who had made such a serious promise.

Gu Siting leaned sideways and said to Kuroda Shio, "Tell Ms. Bai and the responsible contact of this event, and... I need to speak with Mu Weiwei alone."

Chapter 349: The Publication

The program was still in progress and the filmmakers were busy making donations.

Fu Shiyi was busy reading through the gossip online whilst Gu Weiwei was chit-chatting with Fu Hanzheng on the sly.

Jolin knew pretty well that his girl was going to face a huge public relations problem.

So he had been paying attention to Ling Yan's moves.

"Ling Yan and Kuroda Shio are leaving together, it seems that they are going to do some work with PR."

Gu Weiwei glanced at the direction where Ling Yan left and said to Jolin.

"Call Director Mo and ask for leave. We won't be able to make it back today."

At this moment, the whole internet was sure that Ling Yan did the second voice, so the mean comments were all aiming at the first voice.

Ling Yan was the domineering Movie Queen, who would try her best to keep her reputation and position under such a crisis.

She was definitely going to make sure that the results would not be announced or changed, before the publication tomorrow.

This would mean that all of the netizens and fans would think that Ling Yan, did the second voice.

Or, she would tell the public that she did the second voice.

If that was the case, then she had to do something to conceal the secret by blocking the program organizer and herself.

“Then, let’s wait and see the show, don’t disappoint me.” Fu Shiyi blinked at her.

Gu Weiwei gave a meaningful smile and said nothing.

The founder Ms. Bai watched the program going on smoothly and saw that the money was coming in constantly.

The online donations kept on rising due to the popularity of Ling Yan and if the situation went on like this, the historical record would be broken within 24 hours.

She said to the assistant next to her as she saw the rising figure.

“Get a present ready to thank Movie Queen Ling after the program.”

She had just said the words when another contact of the program came in with Kuroda Shio.

“Ms. Bai, we need to talk.”

Ms. Bai was certainly aware that Kuroda Shio was Gu Siting’s man, so she led him to the lounge where no one else was.

“What is it, Mr. Kuroda?”

Kuroda Shio placed a very big check on the table and said straightforwardly, “Please announce to the public that Ling Yan did the second voice.”

The founder was startled by the check on the table and then glanced at Kuroda Shio.

“But... Wasn’t it Movie Queen Ling who did the second voice?”

The other contact whispered to her, as he had heard the real result a minute ago, “Mu Weiwei did.”

Since Ling Yan performed Dream of a Long Life, they all believed that Ling Yan did the second voice, which was apparently better.

But the responsible contact had just told her that Mu Weiwei did the second voice, whilst Ling Yan did the first.

“How could that be... possible?”

The founder simply could not believe that Ling Yan would have dubbed her own movie to that degree.

Whilst Mu Weiwei put on a perfect or even a better show of dubbing. It was way too... humiliating for her.

“Ling Yan has been tired from work, so she did not do well today but if the result goes public, she will be deeply affected.” Kuroda Shio threw a look at them and warned seriously.

“Therefore, we expect that you two can tell the public that Ling Yan did the second voice.”

Chapter 350: Deal with Gu Siting

The founder Ms. Bai and the other representative exchanged a look and said embarrassedly, “Even if we say nothing, Miss. Mu Weiwei will tell the public anyway.”

It was very unfair in the filmmakers’ eyes that the lead actress of Dream of a Long Life did such a horrible performance with her own movie and now they had to conceal the secret.

They felt that it was totally unjust... but they could not offend the Gu Family.

Kuroda Shio said, “We will talk with Mu Weiwei and all you need to do is follow our request.”

“If you can successfully persuade Miss. Mu Weiwei, then we will definitely follow your orders.”

Kuroda Shio expressed his thankfulness by lowering his head, turned around and left the lounge.

The moment he came out of the lounge, one of his men reported to him.

“Kuroda, Mu Weiwei and her agent are leaving now.”

Kuroda Shio hung up and dashed towards the exit of the hall and stopped Gu Weiwei and company.

“Miss. Mu, Mr. Gu needs to see you alone.”

Gu Weiwei had thought that Ling Yan would send someone to get her but since it was Kuroda Shio who came to fetch her, then it basically meant that she had successfully talked Gu Siting into helping her.

She said to Jolin and Fu Shiyi, “Wait for me for a few minutes.”

“What for?” Fu Shiyi stopped her.

His brother was on the way, that Gu person could simply meet his brother instead, if he had the guts!

“Just ten minutes, I will be back soon.” Gu Weiwei said the words and left with Kuroda Shio.

Fu Shiyi was annoyed – his brother had warned her not to meet Gu Siting again but now, she was on the way to see Gu Siting and maybe his brother would punish him again!

Gu Weiwei went to the second floor and came to the lounge prepared for Ling Yan.

Kuroda Shio opened the door and asked her to enter the room, whilst waiting for her outside with the door closed.

The moment Gu Weiwei entered the lounge, she noticed Gu Siting and Ling Yan seated on the sofa. She smiled calmly.

“Mr. Gu wanted to see me?”

Gu Siting sized up the girl who had just entered through the door and said, after gazing at her for a few more minutes, “I expect that Miss. Mu will stay silent after the result of today’s dubbing comes out, tomorrow.”

Having said the words, he pointed at the cheque on the table and asked her to sign any figure she desired.

Gu Weiwei glanced at the cheque book and then glanced at Ling Yan next to him.

“So Mr. Gu would like to buy the second voice for Movie Queen Ling?”

“You can fill in a figure you desire and we, the Gu Family, can satisfy your other desires as well.” Gu Siting said.

Gu Weiwei smiled deeply and gloomily said, “But what I would like to see most, is how Movie Queen Ling is humiliated after the results are announced.”

A flash of loathing crossed Ling Yan’s eyes but she had to conceal the hatred in front of Gu Siting.

“Miss. Mu, I did not do my best today but this result would hurt Dream of a Long Life. Agree with us and you will have endless benefits.”

Gu Weiwei smiled coldly. “What if I don’t?”

Gu Siting’s elegant face sank at those words.

“Then you and your agent will be out of Hua Land, indefinitely.”

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a moment and then heard the vibration of the phone. She picked it up and saw the text.

Then, she signed a huge figure on the cheque.

“Anyway, I like Hua Land and also... I love money too.”

Gu Siting seriously sized up this girl, who had accepted the cheque, and asked, “Mu Weiwei, do you really not want to join us in Yaoshi?”

Gu Weiwei waved the cheque. “Can I leave now?”

“Since you have accepted the deal, then please make sure that you and your agent stay silent when the results are announced.” Gu Siting warned as he threw a side glance at her.

“Otherwise, it is very easy for the Gu Family to extract someone from Hua Land.”
