

MY HIDDEN 441

Chapter 441: A Lustful Night

Hearing the voice, Fu Hanzheng turned to the door and saw the girl in a very transparent dressing gown.

“Why are you not sleeping yet?”

“I am waiting for you.” Gu Weiwei approached him, threw herself in his arms and replied with a sexy voice, “Carry me back to the room.”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled helplessly, picked her up and walked back to the master bedroom.

The moment he entered the room, Gu Weiwei started to kiss his neck.

Then she chuckled sinisterly, “I am wearing new pajamas, want to take a look?”

Fu Hanzheng put her on the bed and frowned.

“You want to play the same trick as you did last time?”

That was what she had done – dressed up in a sexy sleeping gown and left after she had flirted with him.

“Well, maybe just forget it.”

Gu Weiwei had worn her see-through sleeping gown, thinking that she should wear the new pajamas, after being so cold to him last month.

Fu Hanzheng raised his lips and swept the girl into his arms.

“Let me do the stripping.”

As he was saying this, he untied the knot around her waist and the silky robe slipped off her body and fell onto the bed.

She was wearing a slinky, lace nightgown, which was so open in the chest that her shoulders and cleavage were exposed, whilst the hem only reached her bum.

Kneeling on the bed, Gu Weiwei became as tall as he was, so she stretched out her hands to undress him.

Then she started to unbutton his shirt one after the other.

Fu Hanzheng gripped her hand and said with a hoarse voice, “Still want to leave home tomorrow?”

She had been gone for a month and she was playing with fire, by flirting with him in this way.

Gu Weiwei took hold of his neck and dragged him onto the bed with her, so that Fu Hanzheng fell onto the sheets. Then she herself climbed on top of him.

“Cherish the lustful hour, stop talking.”

Fu Hanzheng raised his eyebrows. “You want to be on top?”

“I can’t always be the one underneath right?” Gu Weiwei snorted.

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and left her doing whatever she wanted.

But soon Gu Weiwei begged for a rest.

“I better go underneath...”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and switched positions with her.

The fact was that it was not a very smart idea to flirt with a man, who had not had s*x for a month.

Gu Weiwei sweated thoroughly whilst she kept urging him to hurry up and finish.

“Can you be faster...”

She had just said the words, when the strong joy made her cry out in ecstasy.

She was asking him to finish faster, not speed up.

When the man eventually finished, she had become too tired to even move a limb.

The shower she had taken earlier was taken in vain.

Fu Hanzheng kissed her on her face. “Want to take a bath together?”

Gu Weiwei nodded lazily.

Then Fu Hanzheng carried her into the bathroom as she leaned herself against his arms, letting him remove the sweat from her skin but she had totally forgotten how dangerous it was for them to take a bath together.

The stiffness entered her, removing her drowsiness.

“You... Ah!”

The words of objection were scattered as the man violently thrust into her.

She was in the bathroom to have a bath, but he did it again with her in the bathtub.

She had totally forgotten how she got back to bed... when she woke up, it was already noon.

Fu Hanzheng was sitting on the sofa opposite the bed, reading an English file. He looked up at her as he heard some movements from the bed.

“You are awake?”

Gu Weiwei rubbed her eyes. “What time is it now?”

Fu Hanzheng checked the time. “11:45.”

Gu Weiwei thought of the interview taking place in two hours time, she jerked herself up and found that her limbs were very fatigued.

Then she took a look at the cold faced man, sitting not far away on the sofa, picked up a pillow and tossed it at him.

Chapter 442: Flirting Again

Fu Hanzheng dodged the pillow that flew at him and smiled happily.

Then he got up and approached the bed as he said, "Get up and grab some food, I will drive you there."

Gu Weiwei grabbed the sleeping robe and put it on, got off the bed with her hands over her tired waist and went to wash herself, before getting changed.

The moment she entered the bathroom, she thought of the shameful scene that happened the night before. Then she finished brushing her teeth with her eyes tightly closed.

Standing behind her, Fu Hanzheng laughed as he stared at the girl's reflection in the mirror.

She had been bold enough to flirt with him but now she was regretting every single moment of it.

Having brushed her teeth, Gu Weiwei glared back at the man who was standing behind her and chuckling.

"What are you laughing for?"

Fu Hanzheng smiled. "My girlfriend is very lovely."

Gu Weiwei wiped her mouth, checked the time and hurried downstairs to have her meal.

Seeing that she still looked drowsy, Fu Hanzheng made some coffee in the kitchen and gave it to her.

"When will you be done in the afternoon?"

Gu Weiwei took a sip of the coffee. "After the program, I will head straight to the airport."

Her schedule had been very full these days and she almost had no time for a break.

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly. "Isn't Shiyi Culture preparing for a new movie, so you won't take any more work?"

If they were the main controller of the movie preparations, the time schedule would be more flexible and relaxing, so she would not have to travel around every day.

"We have hired a scriptwriter, I will check the script when I am done. Then the pre-production will start." Gu Weiwei replied.

Ling Yan's Dream of a Long Life 2 was in the pre-production process and she should not wait anymore.

Other directors might be very talented but the content and the style did not exactly fall into her own pattern.

In order to exceed Dream of a Long Life, she had to direct the film personally.

If she could create one legend, then she should be able to create another legend, just to exceed that one.

“Don’t need our investment?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “It is a small budget movie, me and Fu Shiyi would be enough.”

She had been supported by him in the form of food, accommodation, clothes and transportation.

So her payments from work had not been used at all. What was more, Fu Shiyi had the plan that if the movie was a hit, the profits would be shared between the two of them... but if she failed the project, he could ask his brother for compensation.

Therefore, they were not going to accept any investment from outside.

Having eaten the food, Gu Weiwei checked the time.

“I have to go now.”

Fu Hanzheng drove her to join Jolin, and took hold of the girl’s hand as she was leaving the car.

“Weiwei!”

“Yeah?” Gu Weiwei turned around and looked at him in astonishment.

Fu Hanzheng released his grip and brushed her hair as he said, “I just want to say that I love you and before you, I never loved anyone and will never love anyone else in the future either.”

Startled, Gu Weiwei took hold of his neck and said, full of teary emotion, “Uncle Fu, you are keeping me from leaving.”

She had never thought of meeting him but that was what destiny was like. She had a short brush with death and came to his side with another identity.

She had objected to him and tried to run away from him but now she found that she had no other way out apart from loving him.

Fu Hanzheng sighed and kissed her forehead.

“You can do whatever you want, but as long as you are here, my arms are open for you.”

Gu Weiwei felt that her heart was soaked with honey and despite the ringing phone, she even had the intention of staying with him and not going.

“Fu Hanzheng, you are flirting with me again!”

What had he eaten a while ago, rice or candy, so that he sounded so sweet at this moment.

Chapter 443: Marriage and Children

Due to Fu Hanzheng’s constant flirting, Gu Weiwei almost missed the program.

But she was good-looking, so only a simple layer of makeup was needed and then she started the filming.

She was distracted several times from her thoughts by the hostess, since her mind was full of Fu Hanzheng’s face and body that echoed with his voice.

But the hostess was experienced enough to help her cover it up, so the program was not affected.

When the program was over, Jolin sighed annoyedly on the way to the airport.

"I know that you and Boss have not met for a month but the work is not finished yet, can't you be a bit more careful?"

The assistant was already at the airport, so Gu Weiwei did not conceal her feelings when facing him.

"He is too good-looking for me to control myself."

Jolin braked just as he started the car and turned to the woman, who was resting with her eyes closed.

"Honestly, you look young but your mind is polluted."

"Drive, we will miss the plane." Gu Weiwei urged.

She looked like someone who was 19 years old but her soul was already in her 20s.

And Yuan Meng used to impart to her some indecent ideas, so she was not that innocent about this part either.

More than a month had passed by and Master should have recovered.

She had to think of a way to contact them.

Jolin was driving as he was telling her the schedule for the following day but Gu Weiwei was distracted, as she kept thinking about Fu Hanzheng.

Oh man, he was too good-looking for her to resist. When she was Mu Weiwei, all she thought about was taking revenge on Ling Yan and finding the person who tried to kill her.

But now, all she wanted was to marry Fu Hanzheng and have children with him.

The two arrived at the airport, checked in and arrived at their destination at midnight.

Gu Weiwei went to the hotel and told Fu Hanzheng about her safe arrival.

After the conversation, she brought out the phone that had been off for a month to see if Yuan Meng had sent her anything.

Only one message came through to the phone.

[Weiwei, call me when you see this message]

Gu Weiwei realized that it was not from Yuan Meng, but her Master, Yuan Shuo.

She made the call yet no one answered on the first attempt, then she made another call.

After a few ringing sounds, someone picked it up.

"Weiwei?"

Gu Weiwei recognized the voice and asked instantly.

“Master, are you alright? Where are you? Has Yuan Meng told you everything?”

Yuan Shuo answered her questions.

“I am much better, and Yuan Meng told me everything. We are planning to meet you.”

Since she had many of Fu Hanzheng’s men around her, and many forces were looking for them, she had to be careful about meeting them.

Gu Weiwei was quite happy after hearing his words.

“What should I do?”

“The day after tomorrow, there is a non-profit program in your schedule and you are supposed to visit the orphanage. We will see you there.” Yuan Shuo replied.

“Okay.” Gu Weiwei replied.

After a long moment of silence, Yuan Shuo asked with a serious tone, “You are really with Fu Hanzheng now?”

“Yes, I am.” Gu Weiwei confessed.

Yuan Shuo sighed. “Weiwei, it is very easy to let the Fu Family realize that you are dead but... are you really sure about it?”

Gu Weiwei asked, “About what?”

“Weiwei, you can’t just fall for him because he is nice to you, Gu Siting was very nice to you before too right?”

Yuan Shuo sighed worriedly and said, “People change. You fell once with Gu Siting and you should not fall again with Fu Hanzheng, alright?”

Chapter 444: Meeting with Yuan Shuo

After a long moment of silence, Gu Weiwei replied determinedly.

“I trust him. He won’t.”

“You once trusted Gu Siting too. He not only gave up on you but also transplanted your heart into Ling Yan.” Yuan Shuo said with a very heavy tone.

He knew the grudge between the Fu Family and the Gu Family very well. It would be impossible for the Fu Family to accept a girl from the Gu Family like her.

She had died once and he did not want her to be emotionally injured again.

“Master, I trust him and if your worry is true, I won’t regret a thing.” Gu Weiwei said resolutely.

She had chosen her own road and her own man. She would not regret a thing, even if she was crushed by Fu Hanzheng.

Yuan Shuo sighed and said, “Let’s talk when we meet.”

She had been smart in other things but in the matter of affection, she was inevitably devoted.

After speaking with Yuan Shuo, Gu Weiwei went into the bathroom, washed herself and decided to take a rest.

As she looked at herself in the mirror, she felt a bit dizzy.

She said that she would trust him but she was worried that when he found out about her connection with the Gu Family, he would suffer miserably, much more than she was suffering now.

For him, it was a matter of the family grudge and a matter of her, a girl raised by the Gu Family.

She did not want him to face such a choice, so she was concealing her past and remaining as Mu Weiwei.

Due to the popularity of the Eyes of the Eagle, she had had a full schedule.

Soon, it was time for her to meet Yuan Shuo.

Jolin had bought a car full of toys and sweets and drove her to the children's orphanage, where he delivered the toys and sweets to the children.

Although she knew that Yuan Shuo and Yuan Meng would both be here, she could not just go straight over to them the moment she arrived.

That would make Fu Hanzheng's bodyguard suspicious

Although Fu Hanzheng had not asked her about what happened with Yuan Meng last time, she was certain that he was still looking into this matter.

It was good that Master was not as immature as Yuan Meng, who always caused her trouble every time they met.

She had just finished delivering the toys when a very pretty girl came towards her and called out to her as she wrapped her arms around her leg.

"Wife!"

Startled, Jolin looked at the girl who looked so cute and said with a smile, "Little girl, you can't call everyone wife, she is not your wife."

"She is my wife!" Yuan Bao said resolutely.

Gu Weiwei looked at Yuan Bao who was still dressed as a girl, thinking that it was ridiculous for his mother to keep on raising him as a girl!

Jolin squatted down. "She is not your wife, call her Sister instead!"

"She is my wife!" Yuan Bao said.

"Damn..." Jolin looked at this stubborn girl and mumbled, "Why does this girl look so familiar?"

Gu Weiwei's lips twitched. When she met Yuan Bao last time, she ran into Jolin with Yuan Bao. No wonder he found him familiar.

“Well, go and play with the kids, I will go in and meet the Dean and teachers, to see if there is anything I can help with.”

Instead of suspecting anything, he and Xu went to look after other children and she held Yuan Bao in her arms.

Then she noticed Yuan Shuo, the fake Dean. He was good at makeup so he was not easily recognized.

Together with him was Yuan Meng, who was dressed up as a teacher of the orphanage. Dressed in a demure costume and flat shoes, she was also wearing a scarf around her neck.

She looked very... conservative.

Chapter 445: Marrying Fu Hanzheng

Yuan Shuo guided her inside and when someone passed by, he would say something about the orphanage and when they were alone, he said, “Yuan Bao, get down.”

“No, I want my wife to hold me.” Yuan Bao did not want to release Gu Weiwei.

Yuan Meng grasped him and Yuan Bao fell into tears and was about to cry.

Before he was able to wail, Yuan Meng stuffed a lollipop into his mouth.

The tears suddenly stopped as he focused on the sweet. He did not want to cling to his wife anymore.

With the lollipop in his mouth, Yuan Meng played with her son in the corridor, whilst watching out for others around them.

Yuan Shuo brought Gu Weiwei to the cafeteria, since it was an empty place where they could talk.

“You can’t go back to the Gu Family, yet the Fu Family can’t protect you either.”

“Master, I am aware of everything you told me and I understand that you worry about me!” Standing by the window, Gu Weiwei looked far into the sky. “I don’t know why Gu Siting was being nice to me all those years? Did he like me or was he scared of my father Cayman Dorrans?”

But she was sure that Fu Hanzheng liked her because she was being herself.

Hearing her speaking of Cayman Dorrans, Yuan Shuo was startled and then he said, after a long silence, “When did you know about this?”

The Gu Family never mentioned anything about Cayman Dorrans to her, neither did he. How did she know about it?

“Through Fu Hanzheng. I heard about it when he got the information.” Gu Weiwei confessed.

Yuan Shuo was startled. That was a piece of confidential information and yet, Fu Hanzheng did not try to hide that from her?

“Sorry, I promised your father that I would not tell you anything about him.”

All of those years when she was looking into her real father, he never told her about what he had known.

“Master, you have helped me enough.” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

No matter what she did, he was always helping her and protecting her.

Although he was under an oath with Cayman Dorrans, still, he had protected her numerous times despite the danger.

“Have you ever thought about returning to the Dorrans Family?” Yuan Shuo asked.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “Mom died because of him and we were attacked because of him too. And now, I am not in a relationship with him either... It won’t make a difference if I am there or not.”

“Weiwei, Cayman loved you and your mother dearly.” Yuan Shuo said.

He did not want her to stay with the Dorrans Family because she would be at risk of being killed, so he did not want to have her suffer as his daughter but sent her to the Gu Family instead.

He had thought that she could grow up safely in this way and spend the rest of her life in peace.

Unexpectedly, however, she passed away at a young age, living in the Gu Family.

“I know.” Gu Weiwei nodded.

Although they had never met before, Cayman Dorrans gave her a very peaceful life in his own way.

But she did not spend the rest of her life in peace like he had hoped.

“The Gu Family did not announce your death, maybe they have not even told Cayman Dorrans.”

Yuan Shuo looked thoughtful. The Gu Family just could not lose the support from the Dorrans Family but they couldn’t keep the secret from them forever.

“Since the Gu Family adopted me because they needed support from the Dorrans Family, I am not alive anymore so I can’t let them take advantage of me.” Gu Weiwei said.

Yuan Shuo asked, as he looked at her worriedly, “Do you really plan to make Fu Hanzheng believe that you are dead, so you can be Mu Weiwei forever?”

Gu Weiwei nodded determinedly. At this moment, she thought of Fu Hanzheng and smiled.

“When this is done, I can marry him at ease.”

Chapter 446: Rest of My Life

“Marrying him?”

Yuan Shuo was surprised. He frowned.

She had been with Fu Hanzheng for only a little while and now they were thinking about getting married?

She looked like a 19-year-old girl, but her soul was already a girl in her 20s. What was she thinking?

“Yes, marrying him.” Gu Weiwei smiled brightly and said with determination, “I plan to marry him.”

“But you’ve only known him for like... how long?” Yuan Shuo said anxiously.

“Not long, but I feel like being with him for a very long time already.” Gu Weiwei said as she smiled brightly.

When she met him, she felt as if she had known him for a long while and it was still exactly how she felt now.

Looking at her, Yuan Shuo felt that she had been possessed by Fu Hanzheng.

“I still feel that you are in a bit too much of a hurry, to decide to marry him.”

Fu Hanzheng did not know whose soul was under the skin and he was spoiling her because she was beautiful and young.

But when he knew who she really was, was he still going to marry her?

She was not a true child of the Gu Family, but she was raised by the family. Also, her real father, Cayman Dorrans, was a supporter behind the Gu Family in the past few years too.

So even if Fu Hanzheng did not mind about these things, would the Fu Family not mind about this too?

As long as the external conflicts arose in the Fu Family, would she have a peaceful time at the Fu Family anyways?

“I feel that I met him too late.” Gu Weiwei said.

She met him too late. She did not want to waste time upon useless matters.

“Can’t you be a bit calmer? Answer my question when you’ve thought it through!” Yuan Shuo got a little furious after seeing her possessed expression.

“I have thought everything through.”

Gu Weiwei said resolutely as she looked at Yuan Shuo who was both her master and friend. “I want to be with him, forever.”

She had left, given up and hesitated, when confronting Gu Siting’s change but she had no other thoughts when it came to Fu Hanzheng.

Even if she was pretty aware that one day, trouble would come when her real identity was revealed, she had no thoughts of giving him up at all.

She had wasted one lifetime not meeting him.

So for this life, she was going to spend the rest of her life with him.

Yuan Shuo sighed and understood that she could not be persuaded.

“Alright, I will do whatever you ask me to do.”

He knew pretty well what she was like.

No one could talk her out of anything that she had decided to do.

Hopefully, Fu Hanzheng would not be like Gu Siting.

Seeing him approving of what she had proposed to do, Gu Weiwei felt relieved.

“What is your plan for your family after this matter is over.”

“We will stay in Hua Land for the time being.” Yuan Shuo confessed.

If the Fu Family did not go looking for them when they were here, Gu Siting’s men would not find them either as long as they were well hidden.

“Not going back to the Dorrans Family?” Gu Weiwei asked.

Cayman Dorrans arranged for him to keep her safe, so he must have trusted him deeply but now he did not need to keep her safe anymore, so he should be able to go back to him.

Yuan Shuo shook his head and sighed.

“Do you think that your father Cayman Dorrans will forgive us when you are dead?”

When Cayman Dorrans assigned him to the Gu Family, he stressed that nothing should happen to her and that he should protect her with his life.

But now she was dead and he was alive, Cayman Dorrans would not allow him to survive either.

It was good that the Gu Family had kept her death from being known to Cayman Dorrans.

Otherwise the Dorrans Family would have ordered a death warrant before he was even recovered.

Chapter 447: Best Wishes

Gu Weiwei was silent for a moment. She had not expected that her death had put him in such a dangerous situation.

“Anything I can do for you?”

Yuan Shuo looked at her sideways and sighed deeply.

“If you decide to live as Mu Weiwei, then... today will be the last time we meet each other.”

“Master...” Gu Weiwei’s heart twitched.

“It would be the safest method for both you and us. You are a public figure, so we can easily see if you are doing well or not.” Yuan Shuo said as he reached out for her head.

If she decided to become Mu Weiwei, then she should not be connected to the past, so even if they met in the future, they did not have to know each other.

“But you...”

Seeing the man in front of her, Gu Weiwei realized that they were in a very awkward position, much more so than she was.

But she could do nothing to help them.

“We will take good care of ourselves. Don’t worry.” Yuan Shuo looked at this young girl who had a stranger’s face yet a friend’s heart. “Weiwei, if God has let you be reborn, just live well.”

“Take care.”

Thinking that it would be the last time they met, Gu Weiwei inwardly felt a little sour.

“As for what you told us to do, I will do it as soon as possible but it would take half a month before the results arrive.” Yuan Shuo checked the time, knowing that it was time to say goodbye. “As for the result, you will learn about it when you are next to Fu Hanzheng.”

After that, they would not be able to see each other again for security’s sake.

Gu Weiwei’s eyes turned red. She was about to say something but she had no idea what to say.

“Master...”

Seeing the girl’s tears, Yuan Shuo said sincerely, “Weiwei, wish that the man that you love most of all, loves you back as equally as much.”

Gu Siting, truthfully, never made her laugh when she was in the Gu Family but when she thought of Fu Hanzheng, she always showed a bright smile.

She had fallen for him and hopefully, Fu Hanzheng felt the same and would never betray her.

With the lollipop in her mouth, Yuan Meng urged them anxiously.

“Hurry up, are you done? I need to smoke!”

Gu Weiwei walked out of the empty cafeteria and Yuan Bao offered her his half-eaten lollipop.

“Wife, please.”

Gu Weiwei chuckled and pinched Yuan Bao’s chubby face.

Yuan Bao blinked and stuffed the candy back into his mouth.

Yuan Meng looked at Gu Weiwei’s red eyes and said to Yuan Shuo, “What did you say that makes it feel like it is our last time meeting.”

Gu Weiwei smiled. “Time to go.”

Yuan Shuo saw her off and nodded his head, expressing his thankfulness to her gifts and presence.

Jolin hurried to them and urged.

“Time to go to the airport.”

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Yuan Shuo and his family and left the orphanage with Jolin, heading towards the airport.

Jolin looked at her sideways. “What is wrong with you? Your eyes look so red.”

“Nothing, just feeling that those kids are so... pitiful.” Gu Weiwei sniffed.

Deep within she felt distraught, when she thought of the meeting that was never going to take place in the future.

“We have done whatever we can for them.” Jolin said as he sat behind the steering wheel.

Gu Weiwei was silent. She had to give up everything else, including Master, when she decided to be with Fu Hanzheng.

Chapter 448: MG New Product Release Conference

In Milan, Italy.

Gu Weiwei, as the spokesperson of MG Globe, was invited to attend the release conference of MG's new products.

She got off the plane at midnight, spent a few hours at the hotel and was driven to the MG Headquarters by Martin Green's assistant early in the morning.

“Finally you are here.”

Martin Green opened his arms, ready to give her a hug but then he thought of her boyfriend.

“What do you want, that you asked me to come here ahead of time?” Gu Weiwei asked.

Since he requested that she should arrive ahead of time, she hurried to finish her work and came during the night.

Martin Green smiled with his hands clasped together and looked at Julia, the spokesperson of MG Asia, as he checked the time.

“I hope that Julia can open the ceremony tonight whilst you deliver the last piece.”

Gu Weiwei felt extremely puzzled after she heard the news.

“I am not a model, but yet you are asking me to walk on the catwalk?”

She could shoot commercials but she simply had no idea of how to be a model. He had given her a very difficult task.

“Julia will teach you and I believe that you will be able to do it.”

Confident, Martin Green believed that she was able to present the beauty of this season's clothes, without any trouble.

Gu Weiwei sighed helplessly. “Let me give it a try.”

Surprised at how easily she agreed, Martin Green said, “I believe that you will be perfect.”

Although the administrative staff of the company were not too satisfied that he signed her as the global spokesperson, as the Eyes of the Eagle became increasingly popular and became the nominee of several film festivals, they no longer had any complaints.

After the release conference today, the commercial will be officially displayed across the globe.

He had personally selected the spokesperson and he also expected that at the conference today, she would be able to beautifully showcase the dress he designed.

“I will try my best.” Gu Weiwei replied.

Although she had been indeed tired with her tight schedule, she still expected that Martin’s show would work out properly.

She signed with MG and it was totally reasonable that she would show herself today, at the conference.

Martin Green told Julia what to do and asked her to teach her to walk the catwalk, before the opening release tonight.

In order to help her concentrate, he even spared the office for her so she could learn.

Gu Weiwei was devoted too. At first, she was walking with flat-sole shoes but soon she could walk in high-heels.

She quickly grasped the skills with Julia’s help.

Julia clapped and spoke highly of her after a few back and forth laps of walking.

Martin Green’s assistant was very satisfied when he saw her practicing.

“I knew that you would never disappoint me.”

Gu Weiwei removed the high-heels and got herself back into the flat-sole shoes.

“When is the show?”

Martin Green checked the time and said to both of them, “You still have time for food. See you girls in two hours at the show’s venue!”

Gu Weiwei asked Jolin to book a restaurant closeby and asked Julia to eat with them, as a way of thanking her for help.

At the dinner table, Julia heard her speaking about the movie, the Eyes of the Eagle, and told her what she liked about it. She had totally become a fan!

She also asked her for an autograph and they took a picture together and did not finish talking until they exchanged their contacts with one another.

They were just talking when Martin Green called and urged them to come over, so they left the restaurant and hurried to the show venue.

Martin led her over to the stylist and said to him, “I want her to become the most breathtaking goddess of tonight.”

Chapter 449: The Gown and The Girl

The stylist looked at Gu Weiwei and said to Martin Green, “She is already a goddess.”

She was 19 years old and her face was full of tenderness, her skin smooth and fresh. Her facial features were outstanding and her eyes shone brightly.

“Thank you for your kind words.” Gu Weiwei smiled at the stylist in the mirror.

The stylist used a light foundation and started to do her makeup as he chatted with her.

Soon her face was done and now, they started doing her hair.

When Martin Green had finished checking around and returned, her makeup was completed.

Martin smiled in satisfaction and patted the stylist’s shoulders.

“Very good.”

“Your spokesperson is pretty enough without makeup, I am just enhancing a little.” He said sincerely.

No wonder Martin insisted on getting her to be the spokesperson of MG Globe.

She was better looking and had more character than that so-called legendary Movie Queen.

Most of the time, it was not the name but the look and nature of the spokesperson that mattered. It was important that those things catered to the designs of the brand.

Martin Green asked the assistant to get the gown for her and said, as he took it out of its protective cover, “This is the gown you are wearing tonight.”

Seeing the gown, Gu Weiwei suddenly felt a bit dizzy.

It was the first gown Martin Green had ever designed for her, when she was at the Gu Family, the one that she wore on the day she turned 18. The only difference was that some tiny changes had been made.

Layers of organza floated down around the hem and the soft V-neckline looked very elegant. Excellently detailed motifs were embroidered across the dress too.

“The show is starting soon, put it on!”

Gu Weiwei took the gown and got changed in the fitting room but she did not immediately leave.

When she was 18 years old, Gu Siting held a grand party for her at the mansion.

As he brought her out into the spotlight, she was dressed in this exact same gown.

It was a very beautiful day and Gu Siting set off many fireworks in the garden after the banquet.

He said that he liked her and he was waiting for her to grow up but two years later, he had no willingness to meet her again.

He even sent her to Yuan Shuo.

Soon there were always very wealthy and beautiful ladies appearing around him, and even Ling Yan became one of his women.

A long time later, Martin came knocking at the door.

“Are you done, Weiwei, it is time for you to walk out!”

Gu Weiwei brought herself back to reality, took a deep breath and walked out.

Everything was in the past.

The Gu Family, Gu Siting and Ling Yan...

All was in the past and she was Mu Weiwei, a brand-new Mu Weiwei.

She went to the wings of the backstage from which she was about to enter from and heard the beautiful music.

As the model in front of her took a turn and returned, Martin said to her, “Weiwei, go.”

Gu Weiwei took a deep breath and walked towards the brightly lit stage, showing a small smile.

The organza hem floated like the clouds as she walked forward.

The soft neckline exposed her beautiful collar and shoulder bones, making her look elegant.

Many people were watching the show on both sides of the stage.

Gu Siting and Ling Yan were among them too. As the last model stepped out, Gu Siting could not help but look spellbound.

This gown and this girl are just....

Chapter 450: Who Are You?

On the stage, Gu Weiwei focused upon the show with Julia’s advice in mind, as she was walking, she suddenly felt a strange gaze from the direction of the crowd.

She rapidly glanced across the audience and caught Gu Siting’s dark and sharp eyes.

Startled for just a second, she slightly tilted away from him.

Then she came to the end of the stage with a smile, posed and then returned backstage.

Gu Siting suddenly felt an emotion rushing into him when he saw the girl approaching him from the stage and he pursed his lips.

“Brother Siting?”

He did not respond as Ling Yan called him twice and tugged on his sleeves, he was still staring at the girl on the stage as if he was stuck in a distant memory, totally oblivious of where he was.

Gu Weiwei joined Martin Green backstage after she finished her walk, thanking the audience.

She accompanied Martin with Julia behind him, as Martin said something briefly.

Then he introduced her and Julia to the public.

Together with the models, she clapped and smiled, congratulating Martin for his achievements.

But Gu Siting's continued intense gaze made her very uncomfortable.

When the show was finished, Gu Weiwei and Julia, together with the other models, walked across the stage again before returning backstage.

What she didn't notice was that when she was returning with the group, Gu Siting also stood up from the audience and rushed towards the backstage against the leaving crowd.

"Brother Siting, where are you going?"

Gu Siting flung off Ling Yan and made his way through the crowd, rushing to the backstage.

In the backstage of the show, the models were getting changed, occupying all the fitting rooms.

Gu Weiwei had no place to get changed, so she was speaking with Martin Green and Julia.

"You performed well just now, I am not disappointed." Martin said with a smile.

"Julia taught me well." Gu Weiwei glanced at the tall and slender woman next to her.

"She learns fast." Julia replied with a smile.

"Can you two not cozy up to each other?" Martin looked at these two girls and said, "You both look very beautiful in the gowns, and as a present, you can both keep them."

"Oh really?" Julia was so surprised that her hands flew over her mouth, almost screaming in delight.

Martin Green nodded. "Sure."

Gu Weiwei looked down at the exquisite and beautiful gown and said to Martin, "Martin, thanks for your present, but I can't accept it."

"Why not?" Martin was confused. She looked dazzling in this dress.

Gu Weiwei did not say anything as she replied with a smile, "I just can't."

If she had decided to forget about the past, she would not keep anything related to the past either.

Seeing her embarrassed expression, Martin thought of her boyfriend Fu Hanzheng and nodded as if he understood everything.

"Alright, as you wish."

It seemed that she did not want her boyfriend to know that she was accepting someone else's gifts.

"Weiwei, the fitting room is available now." Xu told her as one was emptied.

Gu Weiwei bowed to Martin and Julia and was about to get changed in the fitting room, when someone dragged her towards them from behind. She had to turn around to face the man.

As she turned around, she ran into Gu Siting's deep gaze and his voice had a slight tremor.

"Mu Weiwei, who are you?"

"Who on earth are you?"
