

MY HIDDEN 451

Chapter 451: Who Are You 2

If this scene happened a couple of months ago, she would definitely be moved by Gu Siting's interrogation and she would probably even be panicking and crying in tears.

But Gu Weiwei of the present time was not going to feel that way.

Seeing this shaking man in front of her, she looked calm.

"Who do you think I am, Mr. Gu?"

When she was out there dressed in the gown, he must have thought of her 18th birthday.

That was why he had irrationally come back-stage and asked her this question but she was not going to be Gu Weiwei anymore.

With his hand holding onto her arm tightly, Gu Siting looked at this total stranger.

Why did he see a bit of Weiwei in her?

Why was she Fu Hanzheng's girlfriend?

Martin Green came over and grabbed hold of Gu Siting's arm and bellowed, "Leave her alone, Mr. Gu!"

Instead of answering Martin, Gu Siting asked him, "You also think that she looks like her too, right?"

Martin Green was startled and soon realized what he was talking about.

He was asking him if he also thought that Mu Weiwei looked like Gu Weiwei.

When Mu Weiwei was in the dress which used to be Gu Weiwei's, they did look like each other, temperament wise. That was what Gu Siting must also think but even if that was the case, he did not have to react so extremely.

"Mr. Gu, if it is because of the gown, Miss. Weiwei has promised that I could launch it in the company."

Gu Siting looked at Gu Weiwei and said to Martin, "Answer my question."

Martin Green stayed silent for a while. "It is very normal that two people resemble each other, what is the big reaction for?"

Gu Siting gained back some rationality and released Gu Weiwei's arms.

Martin Green also released his hands too. "Mr. Gu, Miss. Weiwei has been out of touch with me for ages, I would like to know the reason."

"You are no longer contracted with the Gu Family, so you don't have to contact her anymore." Gu Siting regained his elegance and said calmly.

Not feeling like being tangled in the middle, Gu Weiwei closed the door as she walked into the fitting room but she was not getting changed.

Jolin had been answering the phone and arranging the schedule when Xu came over and told him that Gu Siting was pestering his girl.

The thought of how he was kidnapped last time, so that Gu Siting could force Mu Weiwei to meet him, entered his mind and so he rushed to backstage.

In the meantime, Ling Yan came over to the backstage too.

“What are you doing, Brother Siting?”

Not seeing his girl, Jolin asked, “Martin, where is my girl?”

“In the fitting room.” Martin pointed at the fitting room.

Relieved, Jolin warned Gu Siting.

“Mr. Gu, don’t pester anyone else, when you yourself already have a fiancée. Otherwise... you will have to answer to the consequences.”

When Boss saved Mu Weiwei last time, Gu Siting should have known who she was.

And if he did know that she is Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend, what was he doing here?

Xu had also said that he took hold of his girl’s arm and asked her who she was.

Was he blind?

His girl was called Mu Weiwei and he was still asking her who she was?

Gu Siting looked at the fitting room and wondered if it was all really just an illusion?

But... she looked so much like her the moment she walked out.

Chapter 452: Not Her

After a long time, Gu Weiwei walked out of the fitting room with a calm face, after she finished getting changed.

Martin Green also asked the staff to drive away the remaining audience, leaving only Gu Siting, him and Jolin behind.

With his eyes on her, Gu Siting seemed to want to completely see through her.

“Mu Weiwei, who on earth are you?”

Gu Weiwei smiled and replied, “I am Mu Weiwei, why do you keep asking me such a question, Mr. Gu?”

He was with Ling Yan now and he had given Ling Yan her heart but he was still pretentiously thinking about her. What on earth was he thinking?

Silent, Gu Siting looked at her, thinking that she looked like her in every single way— when she played the piano, when she walked and when she dubbed.

But why was she not her after all?

Disappointed, he was not feeling that enthusiastic any more.

No, it was not her at all.

No one else would be her anymore.

“Brother Siting, what is wrong?” Ling Yan tugged his arm.

Of course she knew what was wrong with him. He had mistaken Mu Weiwei as Gu Weiwei just now.

That was why he had come to find her backstage, interrogating Mu Weiwei with such a ridiculous question.

He once said that he did not like Gu Weiwei, so why did he always lose himself after Gu Weiwei had passed away?

He would have brought Mu Weiwei back home, if Mu Weiwei had not been Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend.

Feeling no interest in his pestering, Gu Weiwei asked Xu and Jolin to leave the scene.

“Mu Weiwei, please answer my question.”

Gu Siting stretched out his arms to stop her, insisting on getting a positive answer from her.

Gu Weiwei said, “Mr. Gu, I am Mu Weiwei, and if you keep on giving me trouble, we will all have problems.”

She had no intention of touching anything related to the Gu Family, including Gu Siting.

“Miss. Mu, Brother Siting has another purpose. He thinks that you look very much like someone we know, when you were in the dress on stage.” Ling Yan explained with a small voice.

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei snorted.

“Don’t you find yourself disgusting, you are thinking about someone else, whilst you already have a woman for yourself.”

Having said those words, she left with Xu and Jolin.

Jolin complained angrily as they went into the car.

“That Gu man is sick! Why does he keep on pestering you! I hate a man who has a heart for everybody else.”

He had to understand who on earth his girl belonged to.

He could forgive him for pestering her, when he had no idea that Boss was her boyfriend but now, he was still pestering her.

Xu curiously asked, “Isn’t Gu Siting interested in Movie Queen Ling all the time, so why does it seem that he is looking for someone else today.”

Jolin was driving and snorted.

“Ling Yan is probably just one of his girlfriends.”

Gu Weiwei suddenly asked, "When can we go home?"

She missed him now and their meeting was so brief last time.

Backstage of MG.

Standing in the same position, Gu Siting did not come back to his senses until a long time later.

"Let's go."

Having said the words, he left backstage.

Ling Yan discreetly asked, as they got into the car, "Brother Siting, are you thinking about Weiwei?"

Gu Siting closed his eyes, as he leaned against the back-seat and then he mumbled, "She must be hating me right now."

Ling Yan stayed silent for a while with her lips pursed and forced out a smile.

"No, she isn't. She liked you."

Why was she always pestering them, even when she was already a dead woman?

Chapter 453: No One Will Know

At Hotel Kleich in Milan, Italy.

Gu Siting was jerked awake from a nightmare, losing the last desire to sleep, as he was sitting awake in the deadly silent hotel room.

Then he got off the bed, grabbed a cup of unfinished wine, took a sip and made a call.

"Did you get what I needed?"

"I did. You need it now?" Kuroda Shio asked.

Gu Siting replied. "Bring it here now."

Five minutes after the call ended, the doorbell rang.

He went to open the door and saw Kuroda Shio coming in with a computer. Then he turned on the computer in the living room and played the video of the MG show he had just downloaded.

Then they went straight to the scene where Mu Weiwei walked onto the stage.

Standing behind him, Gu Siting said, "Repeat."

Kuroda Shio replayed the scene as he had been asked to.

After repeating it many times, he spoke up.

"Mr. Gu, let's just drop Mu Weiwei, okay?"

Although Fu Hanzheng never revealed their relationship publicly, yet as far as they were concerned, Fu Hanzheng adored his girlfriend dearly.

And that was the first girlfriend Fu Hanzheng had had as well.

If Mr. Gu thought about stealing her away, just because she looked like Gu Weiwei, then it would be a very troublesome matter.

Instead of asking him to repeat the video, Gu Siting asked, "Any more sleeping pills?"

Kuroda Shio frowned. "You took it only two hours ago!"

After Weiwei was gone, Mr. Gu gradually developed the habit of falling asleep with the help of sleeping tablets.

But he had just taken the tablets two hours ago and now he was already awake.

Gu Siting shook the dregs of wine in the cup and said, as if telling himself whilst telling Kuroda Shio too, "I just had a dream about her. She was draped in blood, begging me to save her. I tried, but failed."

"Mr. Gu, if Miss. Weiwei was here, she would not be happy seeing you like this." Kuroda Shio said.

When she was alive, he stayed as far away from her as possible, refusing to see her.

He even stopped loving her.

But now she was gone, he had become so crazy about finding every single trace of her.

If he had known that it would be so difficult to forget her, he should not have forced himself to forget her.

Gu Siting sighed. "Get me another dose of the tablets."

Helpless, Kuroda Shio grabbed the medicine box and placed two pills on the table.

"The doctor says that too much of this will harm you!"

Gu Siting grabbed the pills and swallowed them down with the wine.

"You can go back to rest."

Kuroda Shio got up and bowed to him, leaving the room and closing the door.

Gu Siting put down the cup, and repeatedly watched Mu Weiwei's catwalk, sitting in front of the computer.

He had no idea what he was looking for but he just could not help watching the video again and again.

Even if he knew clearly that she was not the person he was looking for.

....

Just like him, Ling Yan next door was also awake.

Gu Siting kept losing himself because of Gu Weiwei related matters, which was badly scaring her.

She was afraid that one day, he would know exactly how her heart came to be hers.

But Gu Weiwei was dead already.

No one in this world, except for herself and her mother, had any idea of how Gu Weiwei died.

Chapter 454: Gift

After the release conference of MG, the commercials of Gu Weiwei and Julia were distributed all over the globe.

She had been wearing the unreleased new dresses of MG, at several promotional events for the movie before, so some people had already guessed that she had replaced Movie Queen Ling Yan, as the spokesperson of MG.

But MG had not announced to the public that she was the spokesperson before her movie was released.

Martin intended to do the promotion of MG when the Eyes of the Eagle was released in cinemas, so she could gain popularity.

However, the moment the commercial was out, she received mean comments from Ling Yan's fans.

[You are crazy! You want to get whatever our Goddess wants!]

[If you had not been there, Movie Queen Ling would not have dismissed the contract with MG]

[Why must you hate our Goddess so much!]

....

Every hater was blaming Mu Weiwei for stealing Ling Yan's position but her fans soon counteracted them.

[Hehe, our Goddess is able to replace that so-called Movie Queen, how excellent she must have been!]

After Ling Yan was exposed to have paid 50 million yuan to buy the second voice, some people gave the Movie Queen a new title – 50 million Movie Queen.

[Our Weiwei is a newbie, she must have been truly excellent to be able to steal away the position as the spokesperson, from Mrs. President to be of Gu's Enterprise!]

[As far as I am concerned: When Movie Queen signed the contract with MG as the spokesperson of MG Asia, MG chose Wei, the prettiest woman of all time, to be the spokesperson of MG Globe. That made the 50 million Movie Queen so angry that she dismissed the contract with MG]

[Those who say that Wei got the position because she slept with someone, damn you! If Movie Queen Ling is Gu Siting's fiancée, then our Weiwei would have to be Fu Hanzheng's wife, so as to get that position!]

[Hey, I do think that they make a cute couple!]

Jolin laughed when he saw those comments on Weibo.

They did not have to worry about a thing. She had already become that man's girlfriend!

Having read the news, he said to Gu Weiwei, who was taking a short nap in the car, "Do you know that your fans think you and Fu Hanzheng look cute together?"

Gu Weiwei opened her eyes suddenly and whispered, as she threw a look at the sleeping assistant, "We were discovered?"

"No, no. Ling Yan's fans said that you slept with someone and that was why you managed to replace her but your fans say that by that reasoning, unless you slept with Fu Hanzheng, you wouldn't have been able to replace her at all. Then someone suggested that you look cute together." Jolin said and showed her the hot searches.

But they did not need Boss to help them get the spokesperson position at all.

Gu Weiwei patted her chest. She was worried that she and Fu Hanzheng had been discovered.

"Oh okay."

Jolin checked the schedule of the on the iPad and said.

"You can go home and rest for three or four days, you only have a couple of tasks to be completed in the capital these days."

After knowing her relationship with Boss, he had been ordered by Third Master that every now and then, she should be arranged to have a rest in the capital city.

Otherwise Boss would be displeased if his girlfriend was nowhere to be seen.

"Okay." Gu Weiwei answered briefly.

When they arrived at the capital, it was already early in the morning.

She returned to the Landscape Villa and found that Fu Hanzheng was already getting ready for work. Seeing her entering the door, he was a bit surprised.

"Aren't you coming home in the afternoon?"

"Change of a plan." Gu Weiwei said and took hold of his neck.

Seeing her face, Fu Shiqin stopped smiling.

When she was not around, his brother could work hard.

When she was around, he would devote himself to keeping her company and throw the work to him instead.

Chapter 455: Cheap Brother

Sure enough, two minutes later he received his brother's order.

"Go to the company, the meeting will be rescheduled to an hour later."

"I know."

Fu Shiqin pursed his lips and left for work with his briefcase in hand.

He had forbidden them to come to work late but now he was going to be late himself.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and looked at Gu Weiwei, who was so tired, and kissed her gently on the forehead.

“Want to eat something?”

Gu Weiwei nodded and followed him into the dining room, where they ate a bowl of porridge.

“How about I go to work with you?”

She had missed the Lantern Festival and Valentine’s Day with him, due to the movie.

Now, when she was at home for two days, he had to work at the company.

Fu Hanzheng held her shoulders and walked upstairs guiding her into the bedroom.

“You can sleep at home. I will come home early in the afternoon.”

She could not have gotten a good sleep on the overnight flight and he could not possibly ask her to sleep on the sofa at the company.

Gu Weiwei did not want to release him. “Come with me!”

“I will leave when you are asleep.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei compromised, laid down and fell asleep within ten minutes.

Fu Hanzheng called her twice and she gave no response, so he was certain that she was sleeping. He kissed her on her forehead and left for the company.

Three meetings were held in a row and everyone was exhausted.

Finally, they took a ten-minute break and asked Fu Shiqin, “Second Master, what is wrong with President Fu?”

They should not have been punished like this.

They had had several meetings in a row and they were ready to expire!

Fu Shiqin replied, “He is in a very good mood!”

He was hurrying back home to keep his girlfriend company so he did not care if they were the ones working overtime.

After he finished the meeting, he had to deal with a lot of work and he had to attend a banquet on his behalf.

Hopefully, Mu Weiwei would not be at home for too long, otherwise they would be rather mistreated!

During the past two months when she was very busy, his brother had been very hard-working and he himself had a relaxing time.

When he remembered this he called Fu Shiyi, when he was in the bathroom.

“Third Brother, how is our sister-in-law’s schedule?”

Fu Shiyi answered, “She is quite busy!”

“Can’t you give her more work, so she can receive your full support.” Fu Shiqin said implicitly.

Fu Shiyi snorted.

“You, you must not think that just because our sister-in-law is busy, you need not work hard. If I give her too much work, our brother would be annoyed if he doesn’t see her for too long.”

He knew exactly what his twin-brother was thinking.

He called because Mu Weiwei was at home and he had to work overtime.

Knowing that he was seen through, Fu Shiqin replied. “Forget it.”

When his brother was not in a relationship, he was living a very happy life.

He had a very little workload and he had a wonderful life too, he even had time to eat out every week.

“You should work hard as a way to thank our brother for giving you food!” Fu Shiyi said.

“Damn you, if you were still with the company, I would not have to work so hard!” Fu Shiqin bellowed.

He was so busy right now mostly because his brother was in a relationship but also because Fu Shiyi was in the entertainment industry, so he had to work double shifts.

Coming out of the bathroom, he was asked by Xu Qian to see Fu Hanzheng in the office.

“What is it, Brother?”

Without looking up, Fu Hanzheng gave him a lot of work. “These are the issues to be affirmed later on in the meeting, and ask Xu Qian to send those documents to me at home.”

Fu Shiqin checked the time and saw that there were still two hours remaining before work was finished.

“Are you leaving now?”

Fu Hanzheng fetched his coat and keys. “Weiwei has a cold, I need to check up on her.”

“...” Fu Shiqin helplessly watched him leave.

Forget it, he was just a cheap brother.

Chapter 456: Love Filling

Gu Weiwei had not expected that the moment she woke up, she would be suffering from a fever.

She had wanted to find some medicine herself, so she could deal with it later, when Fu Hanzheng was at home.

But she did not find any medicine at home, so she called him.

Hearing the strange sound of her voice, Fu Hanzheng arrived at home within an hour, after he had hung up.

The moment he entered the apartment, he saw her in thin clothing, looking drowsy with a flushed face.

Fu Hanzheng approached her and held his hand over her forehead. He frowned when he felt the heat.

“Get up, we are heading to the hospital.”

Gu Weiwei lazily opened her eyes and opened her arms at the sight of him.

“I am too weak to walk, carry me.”

Fu Hanzheng did as she asked, fastened her seatbelt when they were in the car and called He Chi as he was driving to the hospital.

“Weiwei is having a fever, we are going to your place now.”

He Chi said, “I am off work, I will send Dr. Chen.”

Fu Hanzheng replied, “Then get back on work now.”

He Chi replied, “I am on a date! Can’t you just be a human?! It is just a fever, I am not needed at all!”

He was a Deputy Head of Department, so what – now his work was to check on this guy’s girlfriend because she had a cold?

Fu Hanzheng said, “Then what am I supporting you for?”

He Chi gritted his teeth. “I will go and help you, alright?”

He had supported him when he was abroad and he also funded his lab...

Plus it was his dearest girlfriend who was sick, so he had to go and check on her, otherwise this Boss would not fund his lab anymore.

Hearing He Chi’s reply, Fu Hanzheng hung up in satisfaction.

Surely enough, when they arrived at the hospital, He Chi was already waiting for them.

Seeing him carrying the girl in his arms, who was flushed because of the fever, he gave him the thermometer.

“Do it yourself.”

Having said those words, he turned around and complained.

“It is easy to catch a cold between seasons and she is too busy to be able to get a proper rest. There is no need to be so surprised about such a small cold.”

Damn it, he was just in the middle of wooing that girl, when he called and ruined everything.

Fu Hanzheng placed the thermometer property and said, “Bring me some water.”

He Chi followed the order and poured him a cup of water and then smiled.

“Don’t you think this ward looks very familiar?”

Fu Hanzheng did not answer him but continued to feed Gu Weiwei the water.

He Chi threw himself onto the sofa and reminded them.

“It is where you first brought her, when you almost did that in the car...”

“Hmmm...”

Gu Weiwei almost choked on the water when she heard the words.

Fu Hanzheng patted her back, wiped away the water for her and glared at He Chi.

“Still want to keep your tongue?”

He Chi covered his mouth and shook his head. This man would probably cut off his tongue!

A long time later, he pointed at Gu Weiwei and gestured.

Fu Hanzheng frowned. “Speak.”

He Chi said, “Time to check the temperature!”

Fu Hanzheng gave him the thermometer and said to Gu Weiwei, “Eaten anything after you woke up?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. She did not want to speak because of her hoarse throat.

He Chi checked the thermometer, went to fetch the medication as well as the infusion.

After getting the infusion, he asked with a smile, “Now that everything is done, I can leave now, right?”

“No.” Fu Hanzheng said.

What if the fever did not go away?

“If I am here, you two will be affected.” He Chi said with a flattering smile.

If he returned back now, he could continue where he dropped off with the girl!

“We won’t.”

Having said that, Fu Hanzheng brought out the pills one after another and fed them to Gu Weiwei.

He Chi gritted his teeth as he remained where he was on the sofa. Was he here to check on the patient or to watch them showing off their love?

Chapter 457: Brother and Girlfriend

Totally within his expectations, He Chi was forced to watch the couple showing off their love for the following two hours.

Gu Weiwei was getting the infusion in the bed, whilst Fu Hanzheng was guarding her by the bedside. Every now and then, he checked her forehead to see if the fever had gone away.

During the process, he even asked the servant to deliver porridge and fed her a small bowl.

It was not until Fu Shiqin and Xu Qian arrived with the paperwork to sign, did he feel relieved.

“Look at how your sister-in-law is being treated like by your brother and how you and Fu Shiyi are treated... feeling hurt now?”

He remembered that when Fu Shiqin broke his leg and was hospitalized, all he had done was call him and ask him to get the leg fixed.

When Fu Shiyi was suffering from appendicitis, he was so busy that he only called for him to remove the appendix.

But when his girlfriend was suffering from a general fever, he was totally available for her!

“We are already used to it... we are the cheap brothers, whilst the girlfriend is the real deal.” Fu Shiqin said truthfully.

He Chi patted his shoulders and whispered, “Forgive him, he barely sees women.”

Fu Hanzheng had no interest in any other women apart from Mu Weiwei and when he adored her, he showed off so much love that he didn’t care about anyone else.

Instead of uttering a sound, Fu Shiqin nodded in approval.

His brother had no experience with women, so now he was trapped by Mu Weiwei.

“Do you think I am blind or deaf?”

Gu Weiwei snorted when she heard them whispering. Her throat still did not feel well.

He Chi touched his ears and said guilty, “We are saying that you two look very cute together...”

If they had such a good relationship, they should give birth to a child as soon as possible!

“You are bad-mouthing my boyfriend.” Gu Weiwei said.

Having heard her words, Fu Hanzheng threw a very lethal look at He Chi and Fu Shiqin.

“We didn’t say anything!” He Chi swore.

Fu Shiqin pointed at He Chi, “Brother, he said that you are inexperienced with women, so that you are wrapped around her finger!”

“...!” He Chi turned to Fu Shiqin who had just betrayed him.

Damn you Second Brother, you betrayed me and fuelled the fire, causing so much mess!

“You just approved of what I said and now you are selling me out?”

“When did I ever approve of what you said!” Fu Shiqin countered innocently.

He Chi said, “You nodded!”

Fu Shiqin twisted his neck and said, “My spine is not feeling so good, so now I am not allowed to stretch my neck either?”

“You...” He Chi was stuck for words in his anger.

This man was taking revenge on him for that time, when he and Fu Shiyi were not so nice to him and tied him up.

Fu Hanzheng continued to sign the papers and calmly said, “It seems that your new experiment doesn’t seem that useful either, you may drop it.”

“President Fu, please! You must be fair! I said nothing, Second Brother made it up!”

“I only said that you never saw any women, nothing else!”

“He said something worse than me! He just posted on Weibo that you are a tycoon who is obsessed with a pretty girl and who doesn’t care about business!”

....

Startled, Fu Shiqin stared at He Chi who had just shown Fu Hanzheng the snapshot on Weibo.

Gu Weiwei looked at these two people who kept on betraying each other, took a sip of water and felt happy that she had never joined them before.

They had sworn to bring down Fu Hanzheng but in the critical moments, they brought each other down instead.

Chapter 458: Marrying at 20

After He Chi and Fu Shiqin’s argument in front of Fu Hanzheng, they decided to stop and have a pause in their friendship for a month.

It was not until nighttime that Gu Weiwei’s fever elevated and Fu Hanzheng brought her back to Landscape Villa.

The moment they came through the door, he carried her upstairs to the master bedroom and asked her, after he had given her some hot water, “What would you like to eat?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. Her throat ached so badly that she had totally lost appetite.

Seeing her sickly countenance, Fu Hanzheng sighed guiltily.

He had sensed her hoarse throat, when she came home in the morning but he had thought that it was only because of the lack of sleep from the night before.

But after spending half a day in the company, he found that her cold had gotten more serious.

“I have some cooked porridge, you must eat something.”

Gu Weiwei nodded helplessly and sat up, as she had the pillow in her arms.

“Are you still going to work?”

“I will eat with you first.” Fu Hanzheng said.

There were piles of work he had to do and there was a business trip to Zürich the following day too.

But she had hurriedly finished with her work, so she could come home to meet him. That was how she had gotten sick too... and if he left her for work, he would not be too happy about it either.

They had dinner delivered to the room because she could not leave the bed.

Gu Weiwei stopped eating after a few spoonfuls of porridge, Fu Hanzheng sighed and lifted her bowl after putting down his own chopsticks.

Then he scooped up one spoonful of porridge and fed her.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at it and said, "No, I'm not in the mood for it."

"Just a few bites." Fu Hanzheng tried to persuade her patiently.

Gu Weiwei stared at him for a moment and then obeyed him.

"I need to sleep."

"Okay." Fu Hanzheng helped her lie down and asked the servants to put away the food.

He did not leave to do his work until he saw her closing her eyes.

However, the moment he had walked out, the girl opened her eyes and sighed helplessly too.

She had finished her work early, so that she could spend time with him but she couldn't have him all the time, so she lied to him about feeling sleepy.

She was not in the mood to sleep at all.

She stayed in the bedroom for two hours before going to knock at the study's door, craning her head in she asked, "Uncle Fu, how much longer do you need?"

Fu Hanzheng frowned and asked her to come in.

"Aren't you sleeping?"

Gu Weiwei found a comfortable spot on the sofa and said with a smile, "I miss you too much to sleep."

Fu Hanzheng smiled and continued with his conversation online.

Gu Weiwei could tell from the conversation that he had postponed the business trip to Zürich.

She said after he rang off.

"Take me on a business trip, please!"

"You are sick!" Fu Hanzheng said with a low voice.

"Then you are leaving me alone at home?" Gu Weiwei's face sunk.

Fu Hanzheng replied, "I am leaving in the morning and returning in the evening."

"I promise to get well the day after tomorrow." Gu Weiwei promised.

“If you are, sure.” Fu Hanzheng compromised helplessly and out of habit, he lowered his head and went to kiss her lips.

Gu Weiwei covered his lips. “No kisses. I am contagious.”

Fu Hanzheng moved away from her hand and kissed her softly on her forehead.

Two days later, Gu Weiwei did get better.

Fu Hanzheng had no intentions of bringing her along with him but she insisted, so he had no choice but to bring her along.

Gu Weiwei was ordered to stay at the hotel whilst he was having the meeting with the cooperators.

For some reason, the cold that did not get well in the capital went away after one day in Zürich.

The second day when Fu Hanzheng finished the work, he brought her out on a date after she had insisted on it.

There was a small church close to the hotel and the couple ran into a wedding that was taking place there.

Gu Weiwei watched the wedding for a long time before turning to the man next to her.

“Fu Hanzheng, when I turn 20 years old, let’s get married too.”

Chapter 459: Deep Adoration

Startled, Fu Hanzheng could not gather his thoughts.

“What are you talking about?”

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly and said, “When I am 20 years old, let’s get married.”

Master should have dealt with what she had asked him to do these days.

Soon Fu Hanzheng was going to know that Gu Weiwei was dead and she would start a new life with him, with a secure heart.

Fu Hanzheng smiled brightly. “Okay.”

There were only six months left before she turned 20 but compared to how she dodged their marriage before, she was finally giving him a confirmed date.

Suddenly, he felt that the next six months seemed to have become incredibly long.

With her hands tightly clenched in his, Gu Weiwei felt quite jealous of the lively scene of the wedding.

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at her. “Should we find a church for the wedding too?”

“Anywhere will be fine, as long as I am marrying you.” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

Fu Hanzheng looked gentle. He ceased his footsteps when he heard what she said.

“If you keep saying sweet words to me, we will get married right now.”

Gu Weiwei stood up on her tiptoes and kissed him right on the lips.

“Fu Hanzheng, I adore you so dearly.”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. “How come?”

Gu Weiwei threw herself into his arms and mumbled, “You have given me too much happiness, for me to accept any bitterness.”

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed the top of her head. “You won’t experience any more bitterness.”

He was definitely going to spoil his beloved girl rotten and he was definitely not going to let her experience any bitterness.

The two were walking along the streets of Zürich when Xu Qian called, so they had to, unwillingly, head to the airport and go home.

After the business trip, Gu Weiwei started her work again.

The moment she arrived home, she and Fu Shiyi went to meet Yan Hong, the scriptwriter who was hired to write for their new movie.

Yan Hong was not a very popular writer but he was the best at writing human nature .

When she was studying movie theories for Dream of a Long Life, she understood that movies that could grip people’s hearts, were all talking about humanity.

That was why she needed such a writer to finish such a script for them.

Yan Hong had already given them one draft of the script and she was quite satisfied with what he had intended to express, despite some flaws.

When they met, Fu Shiyi removed his glasses and said, “There are too few characters in the script and the scenes are limited too. How are we going to be able to make a blockbuster out of it...?”

Gu Weiwei looked at him and Fu Shiyi shut up.

“Okay, you can tell him and I will stay silent.”

“I am quite satisfied with your story but there are a few parts that need to be revised.” Gu Weiwei said and passed him the script. “Here are my comments.”

Fu Shiyi looked at her with disbelief.

“But there are way too few characters in the script, same goes for the scenes too.”

He had never seen such a script before. It would not be appealing for the audience.

“Great movies are not about the number of characters or scenes but about how well the script is written and how well the actors can portray it.”

There were way too many blockbusters in the film industry and those movies tended to create a very disconnected and vague idea for the audience.

What she needed, therefore, was a low-budget genre that had never been made before.

Fu Shiyi scratched his ears and found that what she had said was quite reasonable.

Then Gu Weiwei and Yan Hong started to modify the script and Fu Shiyi had no words to counteract her.

Yan Hong had thought that she was just a proud actress, who had gained some fame and who was now trying to direct her own movies.

But he had not expected that she would have read the script so carefully and come up with many ideas that even he had not thought of.

Was she really only a 19 year old actress?

Chapter 460: Uncle Fu and Loving Words

After she finished discussing with Yan Hong and talked about some pre-production work with Fu Shiyi, she returned to Landscape Villa.

It was already nine p.m. and she had to fly to F Land for the film festival the following day.

She was just packing, when Fu Hanzheng came over and stood by her side, looking very displeased.

Having packed up her things, Gu Weiwei cheekily asked, "Mu Weiwei's boyfriend, Mr. Fu Hanzheng, are you in a foul mood now?"

"Should I be happy, when my girlfriend thinks her home is just an overnight hotel?"

Fu Hanzheng swept her into his arms and sighed deeply.

Gu Weiwei laughed dryly. It was true that she ran away after a couple of days at home during the past month and she did not look like a very professional girlfriend.

"When I finish the work this month, I will focus upon the pre-production of the movie. By that point, I will have a lot of time to spend in the capital with you."

The Eyes of the Eagle had been selected for many international film festivals and she needed to show up, so that one day, she would be able to attend the film festivals with her own movie.

"Good, by that time Merlin's design would have been released too." Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei asked, "What design?"

She had not asked Merlin to design anything.

"The wedding gown." Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly after hearing his words.

"Uncle Fu, why are you in such a hurry? I am not running away."

"Where do you want to hold the wedding?" Fu Hanzheng continued speaking.

Although there were still six months to go, it was actually a rather short time, when so many things had to be prepared.

Gu Weiwei chuckled. "Can't we talk about it when I come home again?"

She was leaving the following morning, and all he was talking to her about was something that was happening in six months time.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed her forehead, mumbling, "I just can't wait for you to become Mrs. Fu."

She was standing right in front of him and there was no difference between them and a real married couple, apart from the marriage certificate.

But what he was anticipating the most of all, was that marriage certificate.

Gu Weiwei chuckled and asked, "Fu Hanzheng, what is so good about me?"

She often asked herself what it was about her that made him cherish her so dearly.

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and brushed the girl's soft cheek, looking thoughtful and gentle.

"Everything about you is great."

She was perfect in his eyes, no matter if she was cunning, gentle, sweet or irritating.

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly and asked, with a small voice, "Uncle Fu, have you read some romantic books these past days?"

He was so good at flirting recently!

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. He would never have expected that he would care for a girl like this before, or say such flirtatious words but he was so good at doing these things right now.

Early next morning, Fu Hanzheng got up an hour earlier than usual and drove her to the airport where she joined Jolin.

As they boarded the plane, Jolin sighed with a complaint on his lips.

"The film festival starts the day after tomorrow, why must we go there now?"

"I am thinking about meeting the movie master Murphy. I would like him to participate in our new movie." Gu Weiwei confessed to the true purpose of leaving early.

When the schedule came to an end, she would be getting ready for the pre-production of the new movie.

Unlike before, she had to direct the movie herself and perform herself too. There were many other tasks to complete, like selecting actresses and so on.

Murphy was a very famous, master movie director and with him joining their new movie, she was sure to exceed Ling Yan's Dream of a Long Life 2.
