

MY HIDDEN 491

Chapter 491: I am Here, Fu Hanzheng

Thanks to Yuan Shuo and his men, who distracted Gu Siting, Gu Weiwei and Yuan Shuo came to the port and boarded the ship without any difficulty.

Yuan Meng lit a cigarette the moment she boarded the ship and waited for Yuan Shuo and his men on the deck.

It was not until night fell, when the light from vehicles approached them.

Yuan Shuo and his men rushed onto the ship and said, "Sail away now, they are coming soon!"

As they all came to the cabin, Gu Weiwei noticed that both Yuan Shuo and one of his men were injured.

Seeing the blood dripping out of Yuan Shuo's left arm, Yuan Meng got so annoyed that her face twisted.

"Damn it, next time I will ruin that bastard Gu Siting!"

Gu Weiwei found the medical box and by making use of the blade she stole from the operation room, she helped them to take out the bullet and bandage their wounds.

"How long will it take before we arrive."

"Four hours if we are fast enough." Yuan Shuo said.

After bandaging them up, Gu Weiwei said guiltily, standing in front of Yuan Shuo, "I am sorry, it is my fault that you are wounded."

"You accomplished the most difficult step in the rescue and you already saved us much trouble and danger." Yuan Shuo changed into a new coat and said with a laugh.

They had planned to steal her from under Gu Siting's nose and maybe more than two people would have been injured, some might have even died because of this mission.

But she had escaped Gu Siting's control by herself and joined Yuan Meng smoothly.

So all that was left to do was to distract Gu Siting, so that they could gain enough time to escape.

He had never expected that after staying at the Gu Family for so many days, she had not only failed to be affected by the drugs but also managed to lie to Gu Siting and escape without being injured.

When he saw the video sent by Yuan Meng, he had thought that she truly had been affected mentally and did not remember who she was.

He had thought that even if they managed to bring her home, she would still fail to remember if she was Gu Weiwei or Mu Weiwei.

Then it would be very annoying to explain to Fu Hanzheng later on.

"Anyway, just take a rest. We will guard the door." Yuan Meng said as she leaned against the cabin door.

Yuan Shuo took a sip of water. "They will not catch us now."

"Since when did Gu Siting become so useless?" Yuan Meng mumbled.

It would not be an unlikely thing, if he used the military forces and stopped them before they reached the public sea.

Yuan Shuo sneered. "He is just thinking about how to explain to Cayman Dorrans. He would not have time to catch us."

This plan had turned out to be smoother than he had expected. One, Weiwei managed to lie to Gu Siting and escape from his dominating territory.

Two, Fu Hanzheng was pretending to be looking for the girl in F Land, so Gu Siting was not even suspicious of them but as a matter of fact, he was causing Gu Siting tonnes of trouble on the sly, so that he was totally distracted in every way.

And he had also managed to reveal the whole thing to Cayman Dorrans.

So now, Gu Siting was getting very, very busy.

Hearing the strange and familiar name, Gu Weiwei smiled briefly.

That was her real father, someone she had never met before.

It was a dark and endless sea at night, only the sound of the wind and waves could be heard.

Yuan Shuo and his men were resting with their eyes closed, whilst Gu Weiwei was standing by the window, looking out at the dark sea and waiting to get off the ship, so she could be back in Hua Land and in Fu Hanzheng's arms.

But the waiting hour was very long.

The ship travelled for more than three hours, when the lights of the port were finally spotted.

So she ran onto the deck before the ship reached the port and looked far into the distant lights of the port.

She knew that he must be right there, waiting for her.

Chapter 492: I am Here, Fu Hanzheng 2

Finishing the conversation with her, Fu Hanzheng boarded the plane back home.

After he left the plane, he went straight to the port.

He had been waiting there for more than two hours.

Together with him was Fu Shiyi, Fu Shiqin and He Chi who arrived in the capital...

He Chi poked Fu Shiyi next to him. "There is nothing happening on the sea but your brother has almost turned into a wife-waiting-stone. He can wait in the car."

He had been standing and watching the dark sea in the same spot for a long time.

“He won’t obey me, even if I ask him to.” Fu Shiyi squinted at him.

Now what his brother wanted to do was to catch sight of his girlfriend, as soon as possible and if he tried to stop him, then he would just be blamed.

He Chi said, “Your brother only sleeps for a couple of hours and as a doctor, I am worried that he will die...”

Having said the words, he received punches from Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin.

Fu Shiqin said, “You better worry about yourself first, maybe you will die first!”

Fu Shiyi replied, “Damn you, any more curses and I will toss you into the sea to feed the fish!”

Heavily stricken, He Chi pushed up his glasses and said, “You two brothers, so now you are standing by his side?”

They were arguing when a light appeared on the sea, then came two long sounds of a ship’s horn.

The three men automatically shut their mouths and turned to the sea.

Fu Shiqin said, “That must be our sister-in-law, right?”

He Chi complained. “You said this an hour ago but it turned out to be a fishing boat.”

Soon the ship came into the port and before the people on the ship were spotted, a crisp voice was heard.

“Fu Hanzheng!”

“Fu Hanzheng!”

....

Hearing the voice, Fu Hanzheng scurried to the edge.

The ship had just come into port. Gu Weiwei was already waiting at the stairs and saw the man waiting down below.

As the stairs were lowered down, Fu Hanzheng was just about to go up to her, when the slender figure rushed down the stairs and threw itself into his arms.

He wobbled and almost lost his balance.

In the familiar and warm embrace, Gu Weiwei said, “I am here now...”

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed the top of her head and whispered, “Welcome back!”

With arms gripping his waist tightly, Gu Weiwei said truthfully, as she thought of the worries he must have had during the past few days, “I am well, not sick, not injured, nothing happened to me, don’t worry and don’t be sad...”

With his hands cupping the girl’s small face, Fu Hanzheng placed his lips over hers.

She was the one in danger, but all she had thought of was whether he was worried or sad.

The two were kissing on the stairs, preventing the rest of the people from coming down, so that everyone was watching them kissing in a queue on the stairs.

They had thought that the kiss would have been brief.

But when Fu Hanzheng finished his kiss, Gu Weiwei took hold of his neck and continued with the kisses again. The cycle never ended.

Finally, Yuan Meng could not stand it anymore.

“Honestly, can’t you two get yourself a room? We are supposed to get off the ship.”

Gu Weiwei blinked and turned around slowly, looking at her fellows behind her back. Then she saw three men standing right behind Fu Hanzheng.

Suddenly, her face started to burn with embarrassment.

For one moment, she had forgotten that there were many people on the ship, who were watching them kiss.

Chapter 493: The Refreshed Love

Without changing his expression, Fu Hanzheng unbuttoned his coat and removed it.

Seeing him stripping, Yuan Meng was startled.

“We know that you two badly miss each other but this is not the right place to do that, is it?”

Having said the words, she saw Fu Hanzheng putting the coat over Gu Weiwei’s shoulder.

Yuan Shuo glanced at his woman, who had such an atrocious imagination. “Can’t you think of something pure?”

“So you are pure and innocent? Then don’t climb into my bed, ever!”

Yuan Meng snorted and went straight down the stairs, after seeing Gu Weiwei leaving in Fu Hanzheng’s arms.

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei sighed inwardly.

She should stay away from this indecent woman from this day forward.

Fu Hanzheng asked with a small voice, as he walked into the car with her.

“Why were you standing on the deck, when it was so cold on the sea?”

Gu Weiwei said, “I wanted to see you as soon as possible.”

They walked past Fu Shiqin and the rest of the two men, who waved at her excitedly.

“Sister-in-law, welcome back!”

“Sister-in-law, you...”

Before they could finish their greetings, she was already brought into the car by Fu Hanzheng, who shut the door.

“...”

Standing on the port where the wind blew, the three men suddenly felt depressed.

They rushed all the way here in the middle of the night from the capital city but she did not even greet them because they were not the man she had looked forward to seeing.

They had been worried about her these days too, alright?

Fu Shiyi said, “Hey, Second Brother, why did you ask us to be here anyways?”

He Chi replied, “To get the freshest dose of love from the couple.”

Silent for two seconds, Fu Shiqin said with a smile, “You like this feeling right? You miss it deeply.”

Fu Shiyi and He Chi nodded in agreement, without saying anything more.

After experiencing the depressing atmosphere because of what happened to Mu Weiwei in F Land, they finally saw her coming home and showing off her love with their brother.

Suddenly, they felt that it was a good thing to see the couple’s love after all.

They had missed it terribly during these days, when they had not seen the couple’s love.

Fu Hanzheng opened the car window and said to the three men standing outside.

“Fu Shiqin, come and drive the car.”

“Coming!” Fu Shiqin responded and went into the car, serving as the driver for the couple.

Gu Weiwei also craned out her head through the window and said, “He Chi, Yuan Shuo and one of the men are injured, can you go and check them out?”

“Sure, on my way.” He Chi said obediently as he went to Yuan Meng and the rest of the group.

Fu Shiyi took a few steps and went over to the car.

“Brother, sister-in-law, anything I can do for you guys?”

“Nope.” Having said the words, they rolled up the window.

Fu Shiqin started the car and asked, as he was driving away from the port, “To the airport now?”

With Gu Weiwei’s hands in his, Fu Hanzheng looked at her sideways.

“Need to go to the hospital?”

“No need, let’s go back to the capital.” Gu Weiwei leaned her head against his shoulder and said to Fu Shiqin who was driving the car, “Second Master, can you work in place of your brother these next few days?”

“Ah?” Fu Shiqin responded unwillingly.

When she was away, it was quite reasonable that he worked in his brother's position, since his brother had to focus on looking for her.

But now she was back, why was he still asked to work in his brother's position?

Fu Hanzheng asked with a cold voice, "Any protests?"

Fu Shiqin felt a tinge of coldness attacking his back, as he laughed dryly.

"No, no, brother, you can take a good rest at home."

What ideas would he have anyways?

What protests would he dare to formulate?

Gu Weiwei laughed in satisfaction and said, "If you perform well, I can make you cake when I have time."

Hearing the words, Fu Shiqin suddenly felt like drooling.

"I want everything, Tiramisu, layer cakes, and Mousse and so on..."

Gu Weiwei was in a good mood. "No problem."

Chapter 494: Not An Easy Thing

It was already dawn when they came back to the capital.

Instead of taking her back to Landscape Villa, Fu Hanzheng took her to the hospital first.

Together with them were Yuan Shuo, who was injured, and Yuan Meng.

Concerned, Fu Hanzheng asked He Chi to check her and do a blood test.

After a series of examinations, Gu Weiwei had her blood taken and went into bed in exhaustion.

Then she spared half of the bed and said,

"Come here."

Startled, Fu Hanzheng said, with raised eyebrow, "Just take a brief break and we can do that when we are at home."

"You..." Gu Weiwei understood what he meant and said furiously, "What are you thinking? I am just asking you to lie down next to me."

He had such serious dark rings and bloodshots filled eyes. He must have been awake for ages.

And he was a little bit skinnier than before.

She asked him to lie down next to her yet he was thinking that she was asking him to have s*x with her.

"Hmmm." Fu Hanzheng threw a look at the narrow sickbed.

Gu Weiwei complained. "I would like you to hold me."

Fu Hanzheng compromised and went into the small bed, lying down next to her with her in his arms.

Lying in his arms silently, Gu Weiwei had her arms around his waist, as if she could only fall asleep in this way.

Seeing the girl in his arms, Fu Hanzheng finally felt relieved after experiencing days of worrying.

He knew pretty well how much pain he would suffer from, if he lost her.

But when He Chi gave him the terrible, albeit wrong news, he truly felt devastated.

The whole world had become totally colorless and dead without her.

Luckily, she was here safe and sound, back in his arms.

For one moment, Gu Weiwei had thought that he had fallen asleep but when she looked up, she found him staring at her.

“What are you still doing awake?”

Fu Hanzheng looked gentle. “I just want to look at you.”

Seeing his wary look, Gu Weiwei said with a gentle voice, “Just rest now and look at me tomorrow, alright?”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. “But I haven’t seen enough of you today.”

Gu Weiwei said in a serious tone, when she found him disobeying her persuasion, “Uncle Fu, don’t you know that staying up can age you, just look at you....”

She had to come up with some stimulating words to irritate him, when he refused to sleep.

Fu Hanzheng squinted. “What did you just say?”

They were nine years apart and now she was saying that he was too old for her?

Gu Weiwei leaned herself against his chest and said with a small voice, “You are becoming more and more like a panda! My heart aches for you when you don’t sleep...”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. So that was what she was worried about all this time.

He checked his wristwatch, knowing that it would be several more hours before He Chi’s examination results returned. He had time to keep her company in bed.

If he did not sleep, she would not either.

Fu Hanzheng kissed her right on her forehead and said, “Just sleep.”

Gu Weiwei looked up and kissed his lips softly, “You too.”

The two of them smiled and closed their eyes in satisfaction.

He Chi came into the ward with the results but the sight that greeted him was the couple fast asleep in the sickbed, the moment he opened the door.

Fu Hanzheng finally decided to take a rest, after all of this time, so he softly closed the door and left the ward.

Fu Shiqin happened to be on a lunch break, so he drove by to check on them too.

He Chi stopped him and said, "They are sleeping, don't go in."

He was about to call home to tell them the situation in the ward, when he saw Yuan Meng coming out from the room next door, with a cigarette between her lips.

Seeing the familiar figure, Fu Shiqin thought of how she had shown up with Yuan Shuo the day before, realizing that this must be Yuan Bao's mother.

"Aha, you are that weirdo!"

Chapter 495: That Weirdo

Hearing Fu Shiqin calling her a weirdo, Yuan Meng removed the cigarette from her lips.

"You are the weird one for calling a beauty a weirdo!"

Fu Shiqin bellowed furiously, "You are the woman who got dressed up as a man and met my sister-in-law and later sent my brother that horrible picture!"

Yuan Meng rolled up her sleeves, ready to hit this man in front of her.

"If you call me weirdo one more time, I will let you taste this weirdo's fists!"

Fu Shiqin cringed and changed the way he called her.

"Oh you are Yuan Bao's mother!"

Before he met her in person, he had always regarded her as a weirdo but this woman looked quite beautiful.

Unlike Mu Weiwei's loveliness, she looked sexy and straightforward.

She looked extremely charming on the surface, yet her personality was so... manly!

Honestly, Yuan Shuo did have an unusual taste.

Yuan Meng suddenly thought of how Yuan Shuo told her about their son temporarily living in their home.

"Where is my son?"

Fu Shiqin replied, "My parents borrowed him. They want to experience being grandparents and great-grandparents."

Well, neither he nor Fu Shiyi had the intention of taking care of the child and their parents and grandma were very keen on taking care of a grandson, so they borrowed Yuan Bao and brought him to their mansion.

Yuan Bao had a sweet tongue. He kept calling out grandma, grandpa and great-grandma, so they might not want to return the kid at this point.

Yuan Meng nodded. Her son was always good at adapting to the real world and with Yuan Shuo injured at the moment, they might not have any energy spare to take care of him.

“Alright then, I can leave him there for several more days.”

Hearing these words, He Chi asked, “Is he your real son?”

Yuan Meng squinted. “Is he yours?”

He Chi surrendered and went to the ward to check out Yuan Shuo.

“It’s good that the nerves are not injured. Wait for a few more days and the wounds should heal. But your old wounds...”

Yuan Shuo’s new wounds were okay but the old wounds were not healing well due to the previous limited medical conditions.

Yuan Meng asked. “You have a way to fix them?”

He Chi nodded confidently. “Of course, but he needs surgery and to spend some time at the hospital.”

Yuan Meng sized him up from head to toe and then glanced at the ID card hanging in front of his chest.

“You are the Deputy-Director? But you look just like a vet!”

He Chi straightened up his back and showed the aura of a Deputy-Director.

“Of course, I am the most experienced clinical doctor. I am very good at doing this kind of operation.”

Fu Shiqin complained.

“Not everyone is as weird as you! Not everyone is interested in doing operations and not everyone is good at them. Who always wants to be holding a blade every single day.”

He Chi was indeed accomplished in the medical field but he was obsessed with surgeries.

Yuan Meng squinted at Yuan Shuo who was lying in bed. “What about having a surgery?”

Yuan Shuo thought for a while. “I will see when the wound is healed.”

He decided to talk about this with Weiwei later. If he really decided to stay here for the operation, he might be bringing trouble to her.

It hadn’t been easy for her to gain a life like this and he did not want to interfere with her life with his whole family.

He had been feeling very guilty because he had been unable to keep her safe, when she had run into trouble before.

But seeing her being in such a sweet relationship with Fu Hanzheng, he felt relieved.

Although she had been through such horror and misery, she had also gained happiness that no one else was able to find.

Chapter 496: The Deep Love

Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng slept on the narrow sickbed of the hospital for approximately ten hours, since they were both so tired.

It was not until later on in the evening that Fu Hanzheng woke up.

Unsure about the results of her examination, he carefully got up from the bed and made a call to He Chi.

He Chi arrived with the results and took a look at the sleeping girl in bed.

“There are still some remaining drugs in her blood but the amount is not large enough to affect the brain.”

Fu Hanzheng leafed through the paper and asked, “Anything else?”

He Chi thought for a while. “Maybe some Hypoglycemia because of the lack of sleep.”

Hearing what he said, Fu Hanzheng finally felt assured.

“Then we are heading home, as for Yuan Shuo, please take good care of him.”

The couple helped a great deal in the rescue process and now he was injured so they should definitely be taken great care of.

He Chi took over the result paper and glanced at the sleeping girl in bed.

“I heard from Yuan Shuo’s men that she ran away from Gu Siting’s territory and there is very little of the drugs remaining in her body, so she must have lied to Gu Siting about taking the drugs.”

Fu Hanzheng asked, as he turned to this man who had just delivered a long speech, “So?”

He Chi said, “So, this girlfriend of yours is not... as simple as she looks.”

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Gu Weiwei in bed and said, “Well, that is because I am smart enough to have chosen her.”

“...” He Chi was stuck with words.

When they were apart, they caused them endless worry. When they were together, they kept showing off their deep affection.

He had better stay away from the Fu Family these days.

This couple had been away from each other for so long that they would probably keep showing off their love, these next coming days.

He had better leave it down to the two single men, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin, to taste the love the couple offered.

Fu Hanzheng made a call and asked someone to drive them back home from the hospital.

When the car arrived, he carefully carried the sleeping Gu Weiwei away from the bed and brought her into the car, before driving back to Landscape Villa.

When Gu Weiwei was at the Gu Family's mansion, she never had a sound sleep.

So during the past two days, she had not had a good sleep but now that she was safe and sound, she wasn't going to wake up.

She currently had no idea that when Fu Hanzheng woke up he brought her home from the hospital.

She did not wake up until early the next morning and as she was half awake, she felt that no one was next to her, so she suddenly sat up in astonishment.

Then she spotted Fu Hanzheng, who was reading a file next to her.

"When did you run away?"

Fu Hanzheng paused in his work and came over to the bedside.

"Get up and eat something, you have been sleeping for a whole day."

Gu Weiwei leaned against him.

"Isn't Fu Shiqin supposed to help you with the work, what are you doing right now?"

Fu Hanzheng felt her head and said, "I personally need to sign some papers."

Gu Weiwei did not rise from his arms until a while later and then she got up to take a shower, got changed into a set of pajamas and went downstairs for breakfast.

After two bites, she looked up at the man sitting on the floor and smiled happily.

Fu Hanzheng smiled too. "What are you smiling at?"

Gu Weiwei said with a bright smile, "I am in a good mood because you are here."

The couple ate breakfast and Fu Hanzheng continued to read through the files upstairs, whilst she sat on the sofa next to him.

"Fu Hanzheng, I love you so much, do you know that?"

You are the best thing that has ever happened to me.

Fu Hanzheng looked at her sideways. "I do."

Gu Weiwei said, "Very, very much, you know?"

Fu Hanzheng nodded. "Yes, I do know."

Chapter 497: The Three-Year-Old Wife

Since they were both free from work, they were having a very leisurely time.

After breakfast, Fu Hanzheng finished some files that had been delivered by Fu Shiqin's men.

Then in the afternoon, she baked some cookies and made a small cake for Fu Shiqin, which she put in the fridge.

Then they drank afternoon tea at home and watched the Eyes of the Eagle.

But when Fu Hanzheng saw Huo Xiaoshi trying to seduce a military officer, dressed in a cheongsam at the ball, he got a bit annoyed.

The cheongsam vividly outlined her beautiful curves and the slits on the sides faintly exposed her long legs. Together with the lingering music of old Shanghai, she looked extremely seductive.

Gu Weiwei glanced at his dark face. "There are no kissing or love scenes, just a dance, what are you so displeased about?"

Fu Hanzheng glanced at her sideways. "Who do you plan to do a kissing and love scene with?"

Gu Weiwei approached him and smiled charmingly. "What about with you?"

Fu Hanzheng lifted her chin softly and kissed her.

It was a soft and pitiful kiss, and gradually turned into a rather lingering one.

She wrapped her arms around his neck and responded to his kiss passionately, whilst toying with his tongue freely.

Gradually, the kiss turned hotter and hotter.

With his forehead against her forehead, Fu Hanzheng said with a low voice, "Let's practice some love scenes?"

Gu Weiwei chuckled and then left herself at his mercy, all the way back to the bedroom.

The couple were deeply drunk in the longing that they had been looking forward to for so long.

For the entire afternoon, the air of longing and lust filled the master bedroom.

It was not until the evening fell, when Fu Hanzheng got up, put on some clothes and made a call, whilst Gu Weiwei sneaked into the bathroom where she took a shower.

Then she went downstairs to prepare for dinner.

After the call, Fu Hanzheng helped her out in the kitchen.

Suddenly, he thought of how they had made food together for the first time in Jinxiu Compound the year before.

One year was not a long time but he felt as if they had been living together for a very long time.

Standing behind her back, he wrapped his arms around her from behind and sighed.

"...Weiwei."

Gu Weiwei leaned to the side and threw a strange look at the man behind her.

"What is it?"

Standing behind her back, Fu Hanzheng took hold of her waist with his long arms and whispered softly, "Sometimes I feel that I am in a dream, with you beside me."

He had never realized that his frozen heart would become so deeply affected by just one person.

He had never thought that he would be so scared to not see her around him anymore.

Everything seemed so unrealistic.

It made sense that he would find the whole thing as delusional as a dream.

Gu Weiwei turned around and beckoned to him.

"Lower your head."

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and approached her and then she took a bite of his lips, retreated and then asked, "Hurts?"

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and felt his aching lips.

"Yes."

Gu Weiwei chuckled. "Then be sure that you are not dreaming."

Having said these words, she carried the pasta to the table.

Having finished eating the dinner, the couple received a group of people at their home.

The group consisted of Fu Shiyi, He Chi and Fu Shiqin, who were followed by Fu Shengying, Mrs. Fu and the Old Lady... as well as Yuan Bao.

Seeing her, Yuan Bao went over to her and said, "Wife!"

"Wife?!"

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin stared at Yuan Bao who was taking hold of her legs – damn you, you three-year-old toddler, are you trying to steal my brother's wife?!

Chapter 498: Fu Hanzheng's Position at Home

Fu Hanzheng frowned and looked at Yuan Bao who was approaching them, calling Weiwei his wife.

He had not met him before, yet he understood that it was Yuan Shuo's boy who temporarily lived in their house.

Fu Shiqin approached him and tugged at Yuan Bao's bear-shaped back-pack.

"Yuan Bao, she is not your wife, don't be silly."

His brother would be very displeased to hear this.

Yuan Bao held on even tighter grip and said, "She is my wife!"

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Fu Hanzheng whose face had already sunk, bent down and whispered to Yuan Bao.

“Yuan Bao, call me Sister!”

Yuan Bao looked up at her. “But you promised that you will be my wife!”

Fu Hanzheng frowned when he heard these words and asked her.

“When did you make this promise?”

Gu Weiwei was put into an awkward position. She tried to please him last time, when he was on the verge of shedding tears and she had thought that he would forget about it in the next second.

However, he had unexpectedly remembered it all this time.

But what was this man annoyed about, especially when this boy was just talking child’s talk.

Yuan Bao glanced at Fu Hanzheng, who looked fierce, and almost cried.

Gu Weiwei held Yuan Bao and glared back at him.

“Stop it, you are frightening him!”

With his arms around her neck, Yuan Bao looked at Fu Hanzheng with a pair of tearful eyes. But he did not dare to release those tears at all.

Mrs. Fu, who had been obsessed with being a grandma these last few days, came over to scold Fu Hanzheng.

“What are you angry at this three-year-old child for, you are frightening him!”

“...”

Fu Hanzheng frowned, hardly able to believe that this adorable girlfriend, who had treated him so nicely in the afternoon, had just shown a very different facial expression.

Also, what did his mother mean? He had done nothing wrong!

Standing by Gu Weiwei, Mrs. Fu patted Yuan Bao.

“No crying, Yuan Bao, that Uncle dares not scold you at all.”

Not only Mrs. Fu, but also Fu Shengying were over here, pampering Yuan Bao. Later on, Old Lady also came over and started to pamper Yuan Bao, who had just been frightened by Fu Hanzheng.

They offered him candies and showed him animated films. They even asked Fu Hanzheng to return to the study instead of staying here, as he was frightening the child.

Fu Shiyi looked at his own parents and grandma in astonishment. Honestly, that was someone else’s child! What about them, their sons and grandchildren.

Won’t your hearts ache treating us in this way?

Fu Shiqin threw a very sympathetic look at his brother who was being ignored. Their parents were here visiting them, so why did they behave as if they were not there to see them at all?

Only He Chi looked excited standing next to them.

It was not until Fu Hanzheng went upstairs that he tugged at Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin, as he pointed at the seniors of the family who were surrounding Yuan Bao.

“Do you think that this scene gives some hope to our plan?”

Astonished, Fu Shiqin asked, “What hope is there in our plan?”

He Chi replied, “The plan of raising the young devil!”

Fu Shiyi finally realized what was going. He excitedly rubbed his hands together, thinking of how his brother was demeaned by the elders only a moment ago.

“Yes, yes! This is truly such a wonderful idea!”

His brother had already received this treatment when the young grandson was not even part of the family.

If a real grandson popped up, he would be treated even worse.

Oh man, what an exciting piece of news.

Fu Shiqin threw a look at the parents, grandma and sister-in-law who were playing with Yuan Bao.

“But what are we supposed to do, if they don’t want to have babies?”

Fu Shiqin gave out a very deep laugh. “What do you think our mother is doing here today?”

His mother had fallen into the habit of becoming someone else’s grandma, so when Yuan Bao left, she would definitely urge his brother to have a child as soon as possible.

Chapter 499: Get Married Soon!

After a long time, Gu Weiwei and the elders finally managed to appease Yuan Bao.

The boy did not cry or make any noise anymore. Instead, he quietly ate the cookies, whilst sitting on the sofa and watching cartoons.

But Gu Weiwei felt a bit uneasy sitting next to Fu Hanzheng’s parents.

Mrs. Fu had never liked her and Fu Shengying did not have much contact with her, when she was living at the Fu Family’s mansion.

But since they were all here, they must know about her relationship with Fu Hanzheng, during the time when she was kidnapped.

So were they here to try and break them up?

She twisted her fingers uneasily. Fu Shiqin, Fu Shiyi and He Chi were gone and Fu Hanzheng was now in the study.

“Weiwei, Shiqin has told us about you and Hanzheng.” Mrs. Fu said as she looked at her.

Gu Weiwei had her hands placed on her knees, looking very obedient.

“Aunt, I’m sorry for... causing you so much trouble.”

Grandma Fu, who was sitting next to her, patted her hands, silently telling her not to be worried.

“Hanzheng also told us about his plans to get married...”

Looking at the girl, who looked restrained because of her, Mrs. Fu sighed helplessly. Was she really that scary?

Gu Weiwei blinked – did he really tell his family about it?

She had thought that all they were going to do was to notarize the marriage certificate and then host a small wedding with the twins and He Chi.

But he had actually told the family about it.

Mrs. Fu had never liked her... she could not have approved of this idea.

Seeing the girl getting more and more worried, Mrs. Fu said straightforwardly, “What we mean is that you are young but Hanzheng is not, so it would be better for you two to get married as soon as possible...”

“...”

Gu Weiwei looked at Mrs. Fu in astonishment – so she was not trying to break them up?

After a few moments Mrs. Fu asked her, after seeing her staying silent, “You don’t want to?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “No, I mean... Aunt, are you not against us?”

Judging from what she knew about Mrs. Fu, she would definitely object to the idea and ask Fu Hanzheng to marry Meng Ruya instead.

All this time, Meng Ruya had been the only person whom she had been satisfied with, as their potential daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Fu replied. “It is Hanzheng who is going to marry someone and spend the rest of his life with them, not me. He can marry whomever he wants, who am I to object anyways?”

Shiyi and Shiqin had been sharing their thoughts with her and telling her stories about Hanzheng and Weiwei, so she was no longer against them.

She had been looking forward to seeing him getting married soon and now he had found someone that he wanted to marry. Of course she was not going to break them up.

Gu Weiwei smiled. She felt relieved hearing what she said.

After all, she was his mother. She truly did not want to ruin the relationship between Mrs. Fu and her own son.

Mrs. Fu and Fu Shengying exchanged a look and asked, “When do you plan to get married and where are you getting married, have you decided on these things yet?”

“Well...” Gu Weiwei had no idea how to answer the question.

She had planned to talk about this with Fu Hanzheng when she was back but they had not yet had the time to talk about it yet.

Seeing her staying silent, Mrs. Fu grabbed her bag and brought out a small booklet.

“This is the date that his father thinks is best and this time of year is the best time for marriage and these places are the best places for hosting the wedding and these....”

“....” Gu Weiwei was a little baffled by these unexpected and rapid marriage suggestions.

Chapter 500: Want Children?

Fu Hanzheng came downstairs and happened to see her baffled face.

So his face was displeased, as he sat down next to her.

“If you are going to say something, say it to me instead, don’t trouble her!”

Mrs. Fu took a deep breath out of anger. “I am just asking her about your marriage, I am not giving her trouble!”

It was so true that sons tended to forget about their mother when they found a wife. This girl was not even married to him yet!

Gu Weiwei tugged on his sleeves and whispered, “Aunt is just asking us when we are getting married. She is not giving me trouble!”

Fu Hanzheng looked slightly better. “It depends on us, not you.”

He did not want his parents’ interference to give her too much pressure.

Hearing his words, Fu Shengying was not pleased either.

“You two are always so busy, you don’t even have time to do the arrangements. How much longer do you plan to delay the wedding?”

Mrs. Fu followed. “You did not inform us about your relationship. Are you also trying to be sneaky with your wedding too?”

Gu Weiwei felt her ears guiltily. That had been exactly what she had planned, actually.

Old Lady followed. “You are getting married anyway, so better do it as early as possible, so I can still be there when you get married.”

Fu Hanzheng frowned and stared at the three of them out of curiosity.

“What are you guys in such a hurry for?”

He was not in a hurry, what were they in a hurry for anyways?

Gu Weiwei whispered, “They regard Yuan Bao as their grandson and they have become interested in becoming grandparents, so they are urging us to hurry up...”

Fu Hanzheng thought of what happened just now and got even more annoyed.

He had looked forward to having a child with her before but now he did not want any at all.

That boy was someone else's son, and they were already spoiling him. What if they really got a grandson, what position would he have in the future?

Also, she preferred the boy to him!

It was a good thing that he noticed this terrible issue, otherwise everything would be too late if his own child was born.

Hearing his tone, Mrs. Fu said, "You told us that you were getting married, so are you not getting married now because you have stopped mentioning it?"

Fu Hanzheng said, "That is not the case."

"Then what are you postponing for?" Mrs. Fu asked anxiously.

Fu Hanzheng sighed and said, "Wait until she is 20."

"...."

Mrs. Fu stayed silent for a moment. She had forgotten that Mu Weiwei was only 19 years old, too young for a legal marriage.

Fu Shengying asked. "How much longer before she reaches 20?"

Fu Hanzheng said, "Six months."

Hearing these words, Fu Shengying said decisively.

"Then the wedding will take place in six months."

Mrs. Fu nodded in agreement. She threw a look at the couple and said to Fu Hanzheng, "You promised a child to us last year, don't forget about this okay?"

They had been so busy with work that the three senior members of the family at home were left alone.

Having no intention of continuing on with this topic, Fu Hanzheng said straightforwardly, "It is late, you should go home now."

Seeing the the time really was getting late, Mrs. Fu left home for the old mansion with Yuan Bao.

Sigh, since she herself didn't have a grandson, she had no choice but to raise someone else's, just to have the experience of being a grandma.

Seeing them off, Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of relief as the car drove away.

She was not objecting to marriage, but she suddenly felt that there was a large pressure, when the entire family were here urging them to get married.

And she was also urged to become a mother too.

As they returned to the house, she asked Fu Hanzheng after a moment, "You want a child?"

Fu Hanzheng said, "Not right now."

He was enjoying the life that they were having right now.
