

MY HIDDEN 51

Chapter 51: She Blocked Me

Fu Shengying lifted his glasses and observed the close-up shot of Fu Hanzheng's face on the cell phone. The wound on his lips was indeed clear.

"Are you sure that it is a girlfriend your brother has found?"

"Do you expect that my brother has found a boyfriend instead?" Fu Shiqin was startled by his father's idea. He said seriously, "It is a girlfriend! A very pretty one."

Fu Shengying nodded. "Good, as long as she is not the daughter from the Gu Family, anyone else would be fine."

Mrs. Fu threw a look at her husband and said with a serious expression. "The daughter from the Gu Family would not work, nor would Mu Weiwei."

Fu Shiqin felt his forehead. Mu Weiwei was exactly the girl his brother had eyes upon.

She was just about to say something when his cell phone rang again. He answered the call with full courtesy when he saw the name on the screen.

"Brother, what are your orders?"

"How is her cold?" Fu Hanzheng said in a low voice. He did not sound happy.

"I did not see her, how would I know about it?"

"Go and check on her now." Fu Hanzheng said with a cold voice.

"My dearest brother, it is almost midnight. Why don't you call her if you want to know about her so badly."

On the other side of the phone, Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a minute before saying, "She blocked me."

Fu Shiqin was startled for a few seconds before spilling out his mouthful of rice. He tried very hard to restrain his laughter after swallowing down some water.

"Then call the home phone. She must be at home by now."

Another moment of silence before he said, "The cable was pulled away."

Fu Shiqin had his hands over the cell phone and laughed so hard at what had happened. So this was now the time when his brother would experience suffering.

Why did his brother's helpless tone sound so pleasing?

"Fu Shiqin, be aware of your laughter" Fu Hanzheng warned with a cold voice.

Although he did not hear the voice, he could tell instantly what Fu Shiqin was doing at that moment.

Fu Shiqin cleared his throat and stopped laughing. "Well... it is too late tonight, I will help you check on her tomorrow."

Why had he not noticed that the situation between Mu Weiwei and her brother was so much fun before?

"Okay." Fu Hanzheng answered briefly and hung up the phone.

Fu Shiqin put down the cell phone and said to his parents, "See? See? Brother even calls to see if she is getting better from her cold even when he is abroad! Who else has received such treatment in our family before?"

"...A cold?" Mrs. Fu thought of Mu Weiwei who she had met at the club today. It seemed that when she spoke she sounded like she was suffering from a cold.

But as soon she got this idea, she kicked it out of her head. It couldn't have been her. Hanzheng hated her so much before and her son would definitely have laid eyes upon anyone else apart from that annoying girl.

Fu Shengying folded the newspaper and asked curiously, "Where is the girl from? Didn't your brother tell you when he will bring her home for us to take a look?"

Fu Shiqin threw a look at Mrs. Fu who did not like Mu Weiwei, and realized that if she knew the truth, she might do something about it. So it would be best for his brother to tell them himself.

"Brother has not successfully won her yet. But my brother is very effective, so I am sure that he will bring her home for you to assess her. Maybe you will get a grandson next year."

His brother never hesitated once he made up his mind. As long as he made the decision, he would complete the goal no matter what.

Therefore, no matter how much Mu Weiwei tried to struggle, she would always end up being captured by his brother.

"Come here, Shiqin." Old Lady stood up and left the dining room.

Fu Shiqin followed up obediently, "Grandma, what is it that is so secret that you want me away from the dining room?"

Old Lady took a look around and whispered when she was certain that no one was nearby. "The girl you talked about must be Weiwei, right?"

Fu Shiqin nodded vigorously. "Grandma, you have a pair of eyes that can see truth, you are observant and you are so smart..."

Old Lady smiled, feeling gratified as she said proudly, "I knew that I had spotted the right girl."

Chapter 52: Fu Hanzheng Was Back

In order to move out before Fu Hanzheng came back home on business, Gu Weiwei left Ji Cheng's home and went out to check different apartments. She was so busy that she was never at home.

Therefore, although Fu Shiqin visited the apartment three times, he missed her every single time.

However, all of her hard work paid off.

She finally found a small apartment, which was as small as the bathroom in Jinxiu Compound, yet it was still enough for her to live alone in.

She spoke with the landlord, signed the lease contract, paid the downpayment and was about to go home to move her things when Ji Cheng called her and asked her to meet up with her.

They happened to be in the neighbourhood, so she went over, straight to them.

"I just bought tickets for a musical, Let's all go and watch the show." Ji Cheng showed off the tickets she had bought.

"But I am still busy." Gu Weiwei said in embarrassment.

She had to go and pack up her things before moving. She was not in the mood to watch a musical.

"You have stood us up so many times, just watch one musical with us, alright?" Ji Cheng pursed her lips, looking displeased.

Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of helplessness. "Alright, I..."

Her packing was mostly done anyways and all she had left to pack were a few small things.

Fu Hanzheng would not return until tomorrow night, so even if she moved away the following morning, she would still miss him.

The three of them arrived at the theater half an hour before the show started and the audience members in other seats started to sit down as well.

Ming Ye, who was dressed in a casual outfit, was a bit startled at the sight of them. Then he showed a polite smile to them. "Weiwei, Qianqian, you are here too?"

"Oh Cousin, what a coincidence! You are here for a show too?"

Ji Cheng waved to him with a smile whilst glancing at Gu Weiwei carefully.

Gu Weiwei waved to him with a dry smile. She had sensed that this little girl must have been up to something, but she was still fooled.

And this unlucky brother must have thought that Ji Cheng had asked him to watch the show alone, that was why he had agreed to come.

As a result, however, he was framed and pushed into having a date with someone else.

Half an hour after the show had started, Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian took off.

Gu Weiwei threw a sympathetic look at Ming Ye sitting next to her. "You better tell her the truth as soon as possible, otherwise she is going to keep hooking us up like a fool."

Ming Ye let out a sigh of helplessness. "True. I really need to find an opportunity to tell her the truth."

Otherwise, the silly girl would be constantly engaged in setting him up with a girl.

After Ji Cheng left, Gu Weiwei and Ming Ye decided to leave as well.

"It is difficult to call a taxi at this time. I can drive you home."

She was Ji Cheng's friend after all. If he did not drive her home, that girl would blame him.

Gu Weiwei was just about to wonder if she should get in the car when Fu Shiqin, together with a very sexy girl, passed by and let out a cry of surprise when he saw her.

"Mu Weiwei?"

"What are you doing here?" Gu Weiwei frowned. A terrible feeling hit her.

"I am on a date." Fu Shiqin took ahold of the girl next to him and said, "We are on our way back, what about giving you a lift."

Gu Weiwei had not wanted to trouble Ming Ye, so she agreed to get in his car instantly and waved goodbye to Ming Ye.

Ming Ye did not force her either, so he said with a smile when he saw Fu Shiqin going to fetch the car.

"You are Cheng's friend, and you are mine too. Nice to meet you."

"Me too." Gu Weiwei nodded with a smile and said, "Wish your little angel will understand your heart as soon as possible."

Ming Ye stretched out his hands. "Thank you for your blessing."

Gu Weiwei was about to stretch out her hand to hold his when Fu Shiqin pressed the horn, urging her to hurry up.

She waved goodbye to Ming Ye in a hurry, jogged over to the side of the car and pulled open the door before taking a seat inside.

It was not until that moment did she realize that the person who was sitting next to her in their seat was not Fu Shiqin's date, but Fu Hanzheng who was giving out a horrifying cold air.

Chapter 53: The Affair

Gu Weiwei was startled for two seconds and then immediately tried to open the door to get out of the car when she realized what was happening. But Fu Shiqin had locked the door ahead of time.

"Fu Shiqin, you goddamn bastard!"

If he had appeared alone, she would really have suspected that Fu Hanzheng was back.

But he had a woman with him! That was why she believed that he was on a date and just so happened to run into her.

“That is none of my business! My brother asked me to get you into the car.” Fu Shiqin said innocently as he drove the car.

This man, who had been supposed to return the next day, returned in fury when he knew that she was on a blind date with someone. So the moment he got off the plane, he came to the theater straightaway.

However, what he had run into was Mu Weiwei and Ming Ye talking with each other happily as they walked out of the theater.

In order to get her into the car, he had already tried his best to put on a show.

Not being able to open the door, Gu Weiwei gave up and glanced at the man who had his eyes sunken to the lowest degree.

“Aren’t you supposed to return tomorrow instead?”

Fu Hanzheng subtly tilted his head and stared at her eyebrow for a few seconds.

“Are you satisfied with your blind date?”

“....”

Gu Weiwei puckered her lips in silence.

“Are you having fun on the date?”

Fu Hanzheng sounded even colder.

He was sparing time and space for her so that she could consider the relationship between the two of them.

Yet she took the opportunity of him being away and had a blind date with someone else. They even watched a musical today.

Gu Weiwei shrank her neck into her shoulders, feeling as if she had been caught right in the middle of an affair.

Fu Shiqin, who was driving the car, felt a snow mountain sitting right behind his back.

One that gave out such cold air that he could not even hold the steering wheel steadily.

So when Mu Weiwei was missing for two days and refusing to answer his calls, she was busy going on a blind date with someone else. That was irritating!

No wonder his brother flew home ahead of time... he came to catch her in the act after he got off the plane, even before he visited home.

Fu Hanzheng was waiting for her explanation, but Gu Weiwei turned her head around to watch the night scenery outside the car window, refusing to explain a thing. The air inside the car was full of heavy pressure.

Fu Shiqin drove the car into the parking lot of Jinxiu Compound, got off the car to take a breath.

Then he threw a glance at Gu Weiwei, suggesting that she should explain calmly to his brother at home rather than having a quarrel with him... as that would only bring her more trouble.

Gu Weiwei still did not want to explain anything. She went into her room and started to pack up the remaining luggage.

She said to Fu Hanzheng with luggage as she came into the living room, "Thank you for taking care of me recently. I have found a place to live."

Fu Hanzheng had no expression on his face as he raised his hands to check the Patek Philippe watch around his wrist.

He took a seat on the sofa, exuding complete calmness and showed no movement to stop her from leaving.

Gu Weiwei took off with her luggage when she saw that he didn't stop her.

But before she was able to make it to the door, her cell phone rang.

She scooped out the phone and found that it was her new landlord.

The moment the call went through, the landlord could not wait and instead burst out saying, "Miss. Mu, I am sorry, but my apartment has just been sold. It is said that the compound is going to be demolished so a mall can be built. I am afraid that I can't rent it to you. I will pay you double the downpayment that you gave me."

Fu Shiqin noticed the exact moment when the expression on Gu Weiwei's face changed from the spot where he stood. It seemed that Xu Qian had completed the mission.

It was completely normal that someone would demolish apartments to build a mall when he was in a bad mood.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and hung up the phone. She then returned to the living room. "Did you get someone to stalk me?"

It might have been Mrs. Fu who had told him about her visiting the banquet at the Ming Family and the meeting with Ming Ye.

But the reason behind him knowing that she checked out the apartment and rented the apartment must have been a result of him having her stalked.

So the reason why he checked the time was because he had known that the landlord would call her at this hour.

Chapter 54: You Have Me From Now On

Fu Hanzheng's dark, deep eyes were full of mist. He picked up the water that Fu Shiqin had poured for him and said nonchalantly, "Wang Weidong and his men are trying to catch you."

Gu Weiwei became startled. No wonder Wang Weidong and Zhou Meiqin had not come to her.

Especially after she had set them up the last time.

She had been cautious when going out these days, fearing that the Li Family or Wang Weidong would bring her trouble.

But she had never seen anyone suspicious, nor had she discovered Wang Weidong's men or someone who stalked her.

It seemed that his men had not only removed Wang Weidong's men but also turned out to be too skillful for her to notice them.

She stayed in silence for a long time and threw a look at Fu Shiqin who was trying hard to conceal himself.

"Can you leave us alone?"

Fu Shiqin dashed off without another word. It was too scary at home and he was better off running away quickly so as to keep himself safe.

After the door was closed, deadly silence dominated the room.

Gu Weiwei took a deep breath, came over to the sofa and looked directly into the man's profound eyes.

"Fu Hanzheng, I am sorry that I pestered you before, but I am very tired now. I have got nothing left and what I want is to live a quiet life on my own."

Fu Hanzheng's face softened somehow when he saw the agony below the girl's eyes.

"From now on, you have me. I can give you anything you want, and I can help you get back anything you want to get back."

Had it not been her purpose when she tried to approach him at the beginning?

And now when he wanted to give her whatever she had dreamt about, what made her turn him down?

Gu Weiwei smiled and said with determination.

"But I do not want it. I do not want you or anything from you."

She had been brought back to the Gu Family to live by Mother Gu when her own mother passed away because of sickness when she was one year old.

Gu Siting had been her dearest brother and used to be the man she once loved the deepest.

He dominated her world, yet he scooped out her heart for Ling Yan, showing no condolences to her when she died.

He had given her the most luxurious life for more than two decades, yet he had tossed her into the coldest and most isolated basement.

Fu Hanzheng talked with her in this way, because he did not know that she was actually not Mu Weiwei.

And would he still say the same thing, after he knew that she was Gu Weiwei, the offspring of the worst enemy of the Fu Family?

When that time came, he might kill her too.

She could not irritate him, so she wanted to stay away from him so that she could realize her wish of this second chance life.

“So, you are thinking about leaving after you have irritated me?” Fu Hanzheng looked profound.

Gu Weiwei was in a very awkward position. It had been Mu Weiwei who had irritated him, yet she was the one who had to answer for the consequences.

Alright, she could accept the truth.

Since she lived on in someone else’s body, she had to pay the price.

She took a deep breath, removed her overcoat and the T-shirt underneath.

Then she removed her jeans until she only had her underwear left on.

The girl’s tender skin looked very white and moist under the lights, and her slender and pretty body-shape was exposed to the man.

As Fu Hanzheng watched what she was doing, his eyebrows frowned and lips puckered.

Gu Weiwei approached him, straddled his legs and started to untie his well-made tie.

“What are you doing?” Fu Hanzheng’s voice sounded cold to the deepest degree.

Chapter 55: A Lifetime

Gu Weiwei had already untied his tie and tossed it onto the ground. Then she continued to unbutton his shirt.

“What you want, after all, is to sleep with me, right?”

Fu Hanzheng grabbed ahold of her hand to stop her from doing anything further.

Gu Weiwei looked up at him. “How many times do we have to have s*x before you can let me go? Five times, or maybe ten?”

It must have been because of the night they spent together, so that he, whose virginity had been broken, had started to show interest in her body.

Fu Hanzheng released her hand slowly and lifted her chin gently with his long fingers. He slightly opened his thin lips to meet the lustful lips of the girl’s. Then they were tangled.

In the silent living room, the sound of panting arose, and the air started to become thick with lust

The bossy air of the man invaded all of her senses as if it wanted to be blended with her soul. The kiss was so violent that her tongue become completely numb.

Involuntarily, she had already been pushed onto the sofa and ended up being under his body.

The moist lips released her red lips and covered her eyebrows, eyes, and the tip of her nose in such a gentle way that it felt like he was facing the most precious treasure in the world.

She rebelled by turning herself away as the man took a soft bite of her small earlobe. His soft lips rubbed against her cheek as his low yet clear voice entered her ears.

“You want me to leave after five or ten times?”

Gu Weiwei snorted as she said to Fu Hanzheng who was so close to her at that moment in time, “So what? You want me to be your long-term product?”

The man’s eyes, which were always calm and cold, withdrew all of the chilliness and showcased extreme gentleness, just like a refined wine that made people drunk.

“Mu Weiwei, what I want is... a lifetime.”

“A lifetime is too long. I will be fed up even if you are not.” Gu Weiwei turned away, trying not to meet his eyes.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his eyes, looking a bit annoyed.

“Three years then. You give me a house, a car and money. I can be your mistress.” Gu Weiwei continued, ignoring the fury inside his eyes.

Fu Hanzheng said one word after another as he looked at her.

“That is not what I want.”

“Then what do you want?” Gu Weiwei snorted and asked with a cold smile. “You want me to like you and fall for you?”

Fu Hanzheng said, “You can’t?”

“You drove me out of the Fu Family and now you want me back when I am gone?” Gu Weiwei snorted and said, “Sorry, I am too far away to return.”

Fu Hanzheng had no words to reply to her. It was true that he had driven her out of his home and now he wanted her back again.

It must have been the first time in his life to run into such a conflicting situation.

Gu Weiwei shrank her shoulders impatiently and urged.

“If you want to have s*x with me, hurry up! I feel cold without clothes on.”

Having said those words, Fu Hanzheng picked her up and walked into her room.

Gu Weiwei clenched her teeth. Although she taken off her own clothes and bragged that she was open for the s*x with him, when the time really came, she somehow felt like being a coward.

After all, Mu Weiwei had slept with him, she had not!

Even though she had some feelings for Gu Siting, yet Mother Gu and the Gu Family were always with them.

So what they had done was only kissing and hugging each other, nothing more.

Therefore, she had no experience in s*x.

Fu Hanzheng put her onto the bed and then dragged the blanket up over her to cover her up so that only her head was showing.

“Weiwei, you better not challenge my patience again and again.”

“...”

Gu Weiwei blinked. So he was not going to sleep with her?

“Don’t let me see you being involved with any other men.”

Having said those words, Fu Hanzheng stood up and left.

Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of relief when she heard the door open and then close again.

What was this man thinking?

She had stripped herself down to her underwear and he had also gotten hard, but he chose to leave her alone in bed and left?

Chapter 56: Mu Weiwei’s Trap

In the underground parking lot of the compound, Fu Shiqin was just wondering if he should leave or go up and check what was going on in the apartment.

It was at this moment when he saw Fu Hanzheng coming towards him from the exit of the elevator.

He had no coat on him and his tie was missing. The buttons of his collar were also open.

Instead of being cold and serious as he usually was, he looked sexy and unsatisfied.

Fu Hanzheng sat back in the back of the car and said, “Let’s go back to the villa.”

Fu Shiqin turned around and saw the man sitting in the back seat who had been neatly dressed before he entered the apartment.

Something must have happened inside for him to come out in this way.

But if they had really slept with each other, his brother would not have finished it within half an hour. That was too fast.

“Drive. Now!”

Fu Hanzheng leaned against the back seat, looking a bit tired because of the long trip.

Fu Shiqin took his role as a driver obediently as he, every now and then, surveyed the man behind him through the rear-mirror.

“Brother, are you really... serious about Mu Weiwei?”

He had thought that his brother was just interested in Mu Weiwei physically, but judging from what happened today, it seemed that he had more to offer.

Could it be that his heart was taken away this time.

“Yes.” Fu Hanzheng answered briefly.

At the beginning, he had thought that it was her body that he desired after they slept with each other that night.

But gradually, he realized that he wanted more than her body.

He had not had a single feeling towards her when she lived at the Fu Family during those many months.

But after she left Landscape Villa the other day and he met her again, a crazy thought had appeared in the deepest corner of his heart and a voice seemed to be telling him that the woman he had been waiting for had arrived.

Fu Shiqin threw a look at him through the rear-mirror. “Then.. what are you doing down here?”

What he meant to say was, “Look at how you are dressed now. What is the point of returning to Landscape Villa?”

“She does not like me.” Fu Hanzheng said.

“That is impossible! When she saw you before, she was like a dog that spotted fresh meat!” Fu Shiqin did not believe him.

The reason why she was turning a cold shoulder to his brother was because she was trying to leave him at large so as to catch him easily later on. And so far she had succeeded in doing that.

Fu Hanzheng opened his eyes and looked at the nighttime scenery outside the car window. “That’s true.”

He could tell from the look in her eyes that she really was not into him.

And he even felt that she was... in love with a man he did not know.

Fu Shiqin wanted very much to spill out and say something as he looked at his own brother through the rear mirror.

My brother, you drove her out and now you want her back so she can love you.

Is it really okay for you to behave in this way?

When they returned to Landscape Villa, it was already very late. Fu Hanzheng went to take a rest in the bedroom.

Fu Shiqin showered and laid down in bed when his phone vibrated. He picked it up and saw that it was a message from Fu Shiyi.

Shiyi: Dad said that our brother has got a girlfriend when I called him just now.

Shiyi: Is that true?

Fu Shiqin thought for a second and realized that Fu Shiyi was the most experienced person in the entire family regarding girlfriends. So he asked, "But that girl doesn't like our brother. What do you think he should do?"

Shiyi: Is there any woman who doesn't like a man like our brother? Which planet is she from?

Fu Shiqin: Leave all the useless things out, tell me, how should we help our brother get the girl?

Shiyi: How should I know about it?

Fu Shiqin: You have so many girlfriends, how do you have no idea on how to court a girl?

Shiyi: Those girls court me!

Fu Shiqin: Get out of here!!!

Shiyi: Tell me what is going on?

Fu Shiqin decided to cut the long story short, so he used a voice message to briefly explain what was going on between his brother and Mu Weiwei.

Shiyi: So her mind changed after that night?

Shiyi: (→_→), that is obvious. She is not satisfied with what our brother did that night. You know, our brother had not used his spear for so many years and it has rusted.

Fu Shiqin:... That is what I have suspected too.

Monster: Is that so?

Fu Shiqin was so frightened that he dropped his phone. He picked up the phone again and found that he had been talking with Fu Shiyi on a group chat with three members.

Himself, Fu Shiyi, and Fu Hanzheng who was nicknamed Monster.

Chapter 57: Fu Hanzheng's Present

For some reason, the entire villa was filled with an air of killing intent.

Fu Shiqin instantly made a call to Fu Shiyi and said with a small voice, "What is wrong with you? Why did you start the chat in the group?"

Fu Shiyi said, "My life is very important, so I have decided not to go home after filming. Brother, take care."

“Third Brother! You started it!” Fu Shiqin bellowed furiously.

They were twins, but he was the one that worked day and night in the company whilst his brother was in the entertainment industry being a superstar, living a leisurely life.

“But that was what you thought too, wasn’t it?” Fu Shiyi said when he thought of that pitiful brother of theirs.

“What about you sucking up to our future sister-in-law, if our brother really likes her, she is the only one that can save you.”

“You want me to be the scapegoat again!”

“Second Brother, fighting!”

Having said those words, Fu Shiyi hung up the phone and switched it off.

Fu Shiqin was so annoyed that he almost smashed his phone. The biggest misfortune he had, had in his life was to be born one minute before Fu Shiyi.

This boy had always made him his scapegoat just because he claimed himself as being ‘a little younger.’

Throughout the entire night, he stared at the single sentence Monster wrote in the group.

For some reason, he felt that he would not be able to see the sun the next day.

Therefore, he drove straight to Jinxiu Compound the moment dawn arose.

Gu Weiwei, who had not slept well, opened the door drowsily.

Fu Shiqin placed one bag after another of things onto the table after he entered the apartment.

“Steamed dumplings and seafood porridge from Dingfengyuan, freshly-squeezed fruit and the present my brother has brought back for you. I am delivering it on the behalf of my brother.”

Gu Weiwei lost her desire to sleep. She crossed her arms over her chest and looked at this man who was trying to suck up to her so early in the morning. “What do you want ?”

Fu Shiqin closed his hands and almost went down on the floor to kowtow to her.

“Please, save my life!”

Gu Weiwei frowned. “What on earth is going on?”

Fu Shiqin smiled. “My brother was not very happy when he went home last night. Could you please have a date with him?”

The fundamental thing was that she was found attending a musical with another man.

Gu Weiwei said, “Sorry, I do not have time.”

What relationship did she have with Fu Hanzheng so that she must go on a date with him?

Fu Shiqin put down the exquisitely packed present and said, "See, my brother remembered you and bought you a present. Can you have a conscience?"

"Sorry, I really do not have a conscience." Gu Weiwei snorted.

"If you do not agree with me, don't eat the breakfast."

Fu Shiqin became so annoyed that he took away the breakfast he had brought with him.

"And this thing too." Gu Weiwei pointed at the present on the table.

"My brother gave this to you. If you want to return it to him, you can do it yourself." Fu Shiqin said and left with the breakfast he had brought with him.

Fu Shiqin walked downstairs and banged his head against the steering wheel.

His brother had been annoyed by Mu Weiwei going on a blind date and then he and Third Brother suspected that his spear had rusted, he thought that he might die if he went to work today.

He was just feeling troubled when Old Lady called.

"Shiqin, have you guys been visiting the apartment and causing trouble to Weiwei?"

Fu Shiqin suddenly felt that his brain was clicking. So he spoke to his grandma with a very docile tone.

"Grandma, that is not true. It is just that she and brother are having some trouble, so could you ask her to treat my brother to dinner or go on a stroll or something, so that their relationship can be improved a little bit?"

How could he ever forget about his grandma? He might not be able to persuade Mu Weiwei... but his grandma would be able to. She had always been obedient towards grandma out of everyone in the entire family.

Old Lady thought for a moment. "Sure, I will go and meet her at school this afternoon."

"You have to persuade her, otherwise I will not be able to live for long." Fu Shiqin sounded tearful.

Chapter 58: Everything to You

At Jinxiu Compound, Fu Shiqin had just left when Fu Hanzheng's assistant, Xu Qian, came and knocked on the door with two men carrying two huge paper boxes.

Gu Weiwei had thought that Fu Shiqin had returned, so the moment she pulled the door open, she said, "Honestly..."

"Miss. Mu, Good Morning. Boss asked me to deliver some deals to you." Xu Qian cut straight to the chase.

Gu Weiwei was startled for a second, wondering what deal she had with Fu Hanzheng?

Xu Qian entered the room with his men, put down the boxes on the table and moved out the documents inside, one pile after another.

“Miss. Mu, this part holds boss’ domestic real estate properties and this part contains those of his abroad.”

Gu Weiwei blinked. “What is it going on?”

“Miss. Mu, if you fancy any of them, you can just sign the procedure contract and it will be yours. And, if you like them all, you can sign them all too.”

Gu Weiwei asked with eyes upon the documents on the table.

“Has your boss... gone crazy?”

Xu Qian smiled slightly and continued with his work.

“These are car keys. All the cars are already parked downstairs in the parking lot.”

Gu Weiwei frowned as she looked at the rows of car keys on the table. He did go crazy.

Finally, Xu Qian pulled out a black card, placed it on the table and said. “This is boss’ card. We have spoken to the bank, so you can spend as much as you wish.”

Gu Weiwei laughed dryly. She really had been offered the house, the car and the money.

So, he was really planning to support her as the mistress?

“And... anything else?”

Xu Qian asked, “What else do you need, Miss. Mu?”

“Something like a contract or an agreement, something to sign with your boss?” Gu Weiwei asked.

If he was keeping her as a mistress, there should be a contract or something.

Since Fu Hanzheng did not want to release her, then she could just follow the plan by making use of the Fu Family’s power so as to stand at the same level as Ling Yan and take back everything she owed her.

Xu Qian shook his head. “Boss has said nothing about it.”

Gu Weiwei threw a look at the property documents, car keys and black card, wondering what on earth Fu Hanzheng was up to?

“Miss. Mu, if there is nothing else, I will return to the company.” Xu Qian bowed slightly and left with his men.

Gu Weiwei picked up her phone and called Fu Hanzheng.

“Everything has been delivered?”

“Yes, so when will you be here?” Gu Weiwei asked straightforwardly.

Fu Hanzheng had just arrived at the company and was in the middle of listening to Fu Shiqin reporting his latest work. He sounded a bit distressed and cold.

“Why should I be there?”

“House, car and money are all here. When you will be here to have s*x with me?” Gu Weiwei said in a very standard tone, straightforward and clear.

As if she were in a deal with him.

“I am not going.” Fu Hanzheng sounded even colder.

“Then why did you offer me all of these things if it is not because you want to have s*x with me?” Gu Weiwei snorted.

“Because you want them.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei was startled for a second. “Then give me permission to move out!”

If he could give her whatever she wanted, then why didn't he give her permission to move out and stay far away from him?

“That is not up for discussion.” Fu Hanzheng said, sounding determined.

Gu Weiwei glanced at the stuff on the table. “Since the deal has failed, come and take your stuff back.”

Having said those words, she hung up the phone, washed up and went to school to attend the mock examination.

Fu Shiqin discovered that after his brother hung up the phone, his already ice-cold face turned even colder.

Fu Shiqin felt like crying at that very moment.

What on earth had Mu Weiwei said that stimulated his brother so much? How would he be able to spend the rest of the day alive?

Having reported his work, Fu Shiqin hurried away to call for help.

Chapter 59: Fu Shiqin's Help

In Yingcheng High School, Gu Weiwei had just finished the examination for physics.

Fu Shiqin's text messages surged in the moment she turned on her phone which had been off for the entire day.

‘Mu Weiwei, what did you say to my brother over the phone?’

‘What did you do to my brother?!’

‘Five more minutes, if you fail to comfort my brother, I will publish a post on Weibo that you have slept with my brother so that every woman in the entire country will tear you apart!!!’

....

The more Gu Weiwei read, the deeper her frown became.

Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian came over to her and complained.

“Weiwei, we are having our art examination next week, but you have not taught us piano for a long time.”

Gu Weiwei was just about to go with them when her phone rang again. It was from Old Lady.

“Hello, Grandma Fu, what is it going on?”

“Weiwei, I happen to be around your school, has your school dismissed yet?” Old Lady asked.

“We have just been dismissed, but I am getting ready to visit my classmates...”

Before she finished her words, Old Lady said with heavy breath.

“I... am not feeling very well. Can you come to me right now?”

Hearing her feeble voice, Gu Weiwei said, “I will be right there.”

She hung up the phone, explained to Ji Cheng and Luo Qianqian and then ran out of school with her bag. She quickly found the Fu Family’s car and got in.

“Grandma Fu, how are you?”

Old Lady patted her chest, showing a feeble smile.

“I just took the medicine. I am feeling better now.”

“We really do not need to visit the hospital?” Gu Weiwei asked worriedly.

If it had not been for Old Lady, Mu Weiwei would have ended up being on the street and living an unimaginable life.

Therefore, even if she was no longer Mu Weiwei, she should still show gratitude to her.

Old Lady waved her hands, and asked the driver to keep on driving before she took her hands and said, “I just bought some food and was thinking about visiting you at the apartment. Let’s go home together.”

Gu Weiwei smiled. She had no choice but to go back to the apartment with Old Lady and help her carry the food upstairs.

“There are just two of us, but the food seems a bit too much.”

“It is very close to the company, we can ask Hanzheng and Shiqin to join us. They have not had a proper meal these past few days because of the international collaboration!”

Old Lady said this as she entered the apartment and took off her coat.

Gu Weiwei smiled embarrassedly. Grandma Fu was the help that Fu Shiqin had asked for, right?

But she was in her house and it was her grandson she was dealing with. As an outsider, she just couldn’t do anything about it.

“Grandma Fu, put the things down, let me do the cooking.”

Old Lady, however, was busy searching for something in the kitchen whilst saying, “No need, call Hanzheng and ask him to join us for dinner later.”

Gu Weiwei brought the phone into the kitchen. “Grandma Fu, it would be best if you... make the call.”

Old Lady let out a sigh of relief and pointed at her ears.

“I am too old to hear words clearly. It would be best if you make the call.”

Gu Weiwei forced herself to dial Fu Hanzheng’s number.

A few seconds later, the man’s low and clear voice arose.

“I said that I won’t be there.”

Gu Weiwei cleared her throat and said in embarrassment, “Grandma Fu is here. She has bought your favorite food. She asked me to ask if you wanted to join us for dinner.”

There was no answer from Fu Hanzheng. He was silent.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Old Lady and asked one more time.

“Are you coming or not?”

Fu Hanzheng hesitated for a second and said, “I will be there in half an hour.”

Fu Shiqin watched as his brother’s expression became happy before dismissing the meeting after hanging up the phone.

The phone calls from this morning had tormented all the staff. And now, one more call soothed his temper.

He claimed to never again show up in front of her in the morning and one second after the phone call, he now said that he was going to see her anyways.

Women were fickle, but his brother was even more fickle.

Chapter 60: Like A Granddaughter-in-law

Half an hour later, the doorbell of Jinxiu Compound rang.

Gu Weiwei was busy dealing with the seafood when she heard the doorbell ring, making her jolt in surprise and cut her finger. Her finger that was cut open had blood gushing out of it instantaneously.

With her teeth biting her lips from the sting, she pulled out a napkin and wrapped up the wound in silence.

The moment Fu Hanzheng entered the apartment, he noticed the kitchen first.

Seeing her holding onto her finger, he went directly to the first-aid kit and went over to her.

“Which finger?”

Gu Weiwei hesitated for a second. “I can do it myself.”

However, Fu Hanzheng had already found the bandage. "Show me."

Gu Weiwei had to show him her finger and then allowed her finger to be wrapped with the bandage.

Old Lady, who was resting in the living room, looked in the direction of the kitchen in disbelief.

Since when... did they get so close?

And what was going on with her eldest grandson?

Wasn't he so fed up with Weiwei before? But now he looked so concerned about her wellbeing. Was that really him?

Seeing that the wound was wrapped, Gu Weiwei turned back to the sink and was about to deal with the rest of the ingredients.

Fu Hanzheng took away the knife from her hands as he was standing behind her.

"Do you want to chop your finger off?"

"I was just being careless." Gu Weiwei said.

If he had not come back all of a sudden, she would not have missed the fish.

Fu Hanzheng took off his coat and passed it to her. Then he unbuttoned his shirt and stood by the sink, dealing with the remaining seafood.

Gu Weiwei was startled standing next to him. So this pair of hands, which dealt with business that was worth hundreds of millions of yuan within a few minutes, were dealing with seafood right now? This was really like committing a big sin.

Seeing that some water splashing on to him, she put down the coat and fetched a new apron.

"How about you... put it on?"

But then, she saw the pink rabbit on the apron... and realized that a cold person like him might not suit this cute clothing style.

She was just about to take it away when Fu Hanzheng turned around and lowered his head to her.

"Put it on for me."

Gu Weiwei stood on her tiptoes and hung the apron over his neck, then came around to his back and tied it up for him.

"Done."

So this man, who always had an expression of coldness and seriousness, was wearing a grey apron with a pocket which had a pink rabbit on it.

That scene was very conflicting yet lovely too.

When Fu Hanzheng was busy dealing with the ingredients, she did not think that it was proper to stand around doing nothing beside him.

So what she did instead was stand by his side, and give him some plates to put things on.

She had thought that Fu Hanzheng would not have been good at things like this since he never cooked. But it turned out that he was unexpectedly proficient.

Within no time, he was done with the seafood.

“What is the dish?”

Gu Weiwei said, “The fish is for the soup and the rest of the seafood is for the seafood rice.”

Fu Hanzheng nodded. “Okay, you give the instructions and I will do it.”

“I can do it myself, go and keep Grandma Fu company.” Gu Weiwei said instantly.

“Your finger is injured.”

Fu Hanzheng refused to accept her suggestion and insisted on staying in the kitchen.

Gu Weiwei. “....”

She just had a small cut, not missing fingers! She could cook!

But she could not drive him away either.

So what she did instead was stand by his side and give him instructions on how to make the dishes.

There was something weird about what was going on in the kitchen, but it was difficult to figure out what was weird about it.

Grandma Fu, who was sitting in the living room, had already been totally distracted from the TV. Instead, she was watching the two people in the kitchen in disbelief.

For some reason, she felt grateful that her eldest grandson had found her a granddaughter-in-law
