

MY HIDDEN 891

Chapter 891: Cayman, What Do You Want to Know?

In the private residence of the Dorrans Family in Italy.

Yuan Shuo and Little Yuan Bao followed Watson all the way to Italy. Because Cayman Dorrans was still receiving treatment from a private doctor, he did not see them immediately.

Little Yuan Bao had fallen asleep the moment he got off the plane. He now rubbed his eyes because he had woken up.

“Where are my snacks? Yuan Bao is hungry.”

Yuan Shuo frowned and felt a headache brewing. He had already finished all the snacks that he had brought.

Besides, this wasn't China. He couldn't just ask the Dorrans Family to prepare food.

Matthew came out and raised his eyebrows in surprise when he saw him.

“Yuan Shuo, long time no see.”

“Long time no see, Matthew,” Yuan Shuo greeted with a slight nod.

Matthew was one of Cayman Dorrans' most trusted aides and the two of them were naturally familiar with each other.

Matthew glanced at the child that he was holding. “Your son?”

“Mm.” Yuan Shuo nodded.

Matthew hadn't seen a child in the Dorrans family for years, so he asked the little boy with interest, “How old are you?”

Little Yuan Bao was sleepy-eyed and dazed for a while before answering, “...Three.”

Matthew looked at the clock and asked, “Have you guys eaten?”

Before Yuan Shuo could reply, Little Yuan Bao heard the word 'eat' and immediately became spirited.

“No, Yuan Bao is so hungry.”

The corners of Yuan Shuo's mouth twitched as he sighed helplessly.

This foodie of a son would be cheated and sold away sooner or later because of food.

Matthew was amused, so he said, “Do you mind if I take your son to dinner first?”

Before Yuan Shuo could agree, Little Yuan Bao was already struggling to get out of his arms and follow him.

He could only put him down and say, "You have to wash your hands before you go and you have to be polite."

Since he had already returned, there was no reason for them to harm him.

"Yes, yes." Little Yuan Bao nodded.

Matthew took the little boy downstairs and asked him what he wanted to eat as they walked.

Along the way, Little Yuan Bao unceremoniously asked for a bunch of things that he wanted to eat. He didn't forget to ask for a portion for his father as well.

As soon as Matthew had taken the Yuan Bao away, the door to Cayman Dorrans's room opened. Cayman Dorrans came out, leaning on his cane. He glanced at him.

"Come with me."

Yuan Shuo followed him into the study and asked, after closing the door, "What do you want to know?"

Cayman Dorrans sat down on the sofa and pointed opposite him.

"Sit down and talk."

Yuan Shuo sat down opposite him and looked at Cayman Dorrans, who was obviously much older.

Since the other party did not ask, he did not take the initiative to speak.

Cayman Dorrans held his cane with both hands and looked at Yuan Shuo who had left the family for many years.

"Why did Will send people to China to capture your son?"

"You should be asking him that question," Yuan Shuo said with a smile.

Cayman Dorrans's eyes darkened and his expression was cold.

"Since you're back, stop beating around the bush. I'm not in the mood to listen to nonsense."

Yuan Shuo knew that he would not be able to win against this old fox, so he decided to come clean.

"Because we caught someone who threatened him."

"He Linna?" Cayman Dorrans pressed.

Yuan Shuo nodded. "Yes, she is Will's person."

"Will's person?" Cayman Dorrans chewed on his words and asked directly, "Is it related to Vivi?"

Chapter 892: Cayman, Wei Wei Is Still Here

Yuan Shuo looked at Cayman Dorrans in surprise. How did this old fox think of this?

He didn't say anything yet he'd gone straight to the point.

"Which Weiwei are you talking about, Mu Weiwei or Gu Weiwei?"

Cayman Dorrans tapped the handle of his cane.

“Will asked He Linna to go to Hua Land and bribe Kerry to take Mu Weiwei away. You caught He Linna but did not hand her over to Mu Weiwei’s fiancé, Fu Hanzheng. Will then sent someone to Hua Land to take away your son from you. It is not hard to guess the connection.”

Yuan Shuo laughed. “Since you’ve thought so much, why did you call me here?”

“Until we get confirmation, everything is just speculation,” said Cayman Dorrans.

If He Linna was only involved in the attack on Mu Weiwei, why didn’t he just ask Fu Hanzheng to take care of it?

Besides, Will didn’t have to go to all that trouble to kidnap his son.

Therefore, he could only suspect that it was related to Wei Wei.

“What do you want to confirm?” asked Yuan Shuo.

This old fox’s eyesight and thoughts were as sharp as ever.

Initially, he was worried that he would fall into Will’s trap one day. Now, it seemed like no one could beat him, this sly old fox.

It seemed that it wasn’t that he didn’t have the ability to control the Dorrans Family for so many years but that he chose not to.

Carman Dorrans looked at the man across the table in silence for a few minutes before asking, “Yuan Shuo, how much do you know about Weiwei?”

Yuan Shuo pondered deeply for a moment before he asked, “What do you mean?”

“The truth, the truth of her death.” When Cayman Dorrans said this, there was a hint of loneliness in his cold gaze.

He had a feeling that he knew many things that he wasn’t aware of.

And how she died was exactly what he wanted to know.

Yuan Shuo looked at Cayman Dorrans and spoke after some consideration, “I know. Gu Siting told you that when the owner of the Nine-Eyed Pearl appears, he will know where Weiwei is. Cayman, do you believe... that she’s still here?”

...

Cayman Dorrans seemed to have thought of something and looked at him with trembling eyes.

“I pray she’s still here.”

His daughter, Wei Wei, who had left him at the age of one and who he had never seen again, had died without his knowledge.

If there was really a way to make her stay and let him see her again, he was willing to give up everything, even if it meant sacrificing his life for such an opportunity.

Therefore, although what Gu Siting said was unbelievable, he still believed it and waited.

Yuan Shuo looked at the old man who had lost all his coldness. The person in front of him was no longer the powerful and cunning Cayman Dorrans.

The person in front of him now was an elderly man who had lost his only daughter and was filled with regret.

“Cayman, before I answer all your questions, you need to promise me a few things.”

“What is it?” Cayman Dorrans asked.

Yuan Shuo sighed and said, “Firstly, don’t ask who Yuan Meng is. She didn’t harm Weiwei.”

“Secondly, find the man Gu Siting was talking about and stop him from knowing about Weiwei.”

Kaman Dorrans heard the second request, and his hand shook as he held his cane. His voice was hoarse and shaky as he said, “I promise.”

Yuan Shuo nodded and looked at the old man who was full of anticipation.

“She’s still here, Cayman.”

Chapter 893: Cayman, Weiwei Is Still Here 2

Kaman Dorrans’s pale lips trembled as he looked up at the roof to hide his loss of composure.

He was like a person wandering in the dark abyss, finally seeing light and hope.

“Still here? Still here?”

“Yes, Weiwei is still here,” Yuan Shuo confirmed.

Kaman Dorrans gripped his cane tightly as his usually cold and stern face broke into a smile.

“It’s good that she’s still here. It’s good that she’s still here...” He muttered to himself for a while before asking, “Where is she? You’ve seen her before. Are you sure that’s her?”

“I’m pretty sure that it’s Vivi,” said Yuan Shuo, looking at the agitated Cayman Dorrans. “I’m sorry, Cayman. For now, I can only tell you that she’s still here, but she can’t see you yet.”

Cayman Dorrans flinched. His paranoid nature was starting to make him doubt the truth of his words again.

“Yuan Shuo, you know... I am someone who hates lying.”

Yuan Shuo sighed helplessly and complained.

“See? I really can’t talk to people like you. It’s been so many years and you haven’t changed at all. I’ve already brought my son here. Do I still need to lie to you?”

...

“Why can’t she see me?” Cayman Dorrans asked, unwilling to give up.

He had waited so long for this news. Of course, he wanted to find her immediately. However, he told him that he could not see her yet.

“She has her own business. When she’s done with her business, she’ll come and see you.” Yuan Shuo looked at him and added, “If you don’t believe me, my son and I will stay here as hostages. You can release us when she comes. If she never comes, you can just kill us.”

Kaman Dorrans stared at him for a long moment, a little convinced by his words, but still not entirely convinced.

“Is she doing well?”

“She’s doing pretty good. She just got married recently,” Yuan Shuo said.

He had also heard from Yuan Meng on the way here.

He had thought that her and Fu Hanzheng would have a conflict or a cold war because he knew her secret, but he never expected that he would drag her to get married.

It was good that she did not love the wrong person.

“Married?” Cayman Dorrans did not look pleased. How could she marry without consulting him?

Yuan Shuo glanced at him. “That’s enough. You haven’t shown your face for more than twenty years. You don’t have the right to influence other people’s marriage.”

Cayman Dorrans felt the sting of his words and looked to the side guiltily.

“I never said I was going to object.”

“Is it your turn to object?” Yuan Shuo asked in amusement. He looked at his indignant expression. “If you object, she probably won’t acknowledge you as her father.”

“I...” Cayman Dorrans was speechless with anger.

He hadn’t even met this person yet, but he had already made him so angry. If they really met, how could they get along?

“I won’t be leaving for a day or two so can you let me have a meal first?” asked Yuan Shuo.

He was worried about Little Yuan Bao, mainly because he was worried that the little fellow would get hungry and eat until he was too full.

Cayman Dorrans was in a good mood. He got up with the aid of his cane.

“By the way, where’s your son?”

“Matthew took him to dinner,” said Yuan Shuo.

Cayman Dorrans nodded. “Let’s go and see what kind of son you have.”

Yuan Shuo followed him out and stopped Cayman Dorrans.

"I don't care if you've already guessed who she is, but don't do anything unnecessary before she comes to see you."

Chapter 894: Cayman, Weiwei Is Still Here 3

"You never told me what I couldn't do."

Cayman Dorrans glanced at him and walked past him.

"Old fox, stop it. If you dare to send people to do unnecessary things and ruin her plans, you can just wait for her to hate you forever," Yuan Shuo said.

Even if he didn't say where she was or who she was right now, he thought that Cayman Dorrans must have guessed that she was Mu Weiwei.

Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng had just solved the problem of her secret and she had not confessed to the other members of the Fu family yet.

He believed they had their own way of dealing with it.

But if Cayman Dorrans sent someone to interfere at this moment, wouldn't that cause trouble for her and Fu Hanzheng?

Cayman Dorrans stopped at his words and looked back at him.

Although he did not tell him exactly where she was and what she looked like now, based on the current situation, it was not difficult for him to guess who she was.

It was her, the smart young Chinese girl who had come here before.

At that time, he still felt that the way she looked at him was a little strange. It was as if she already knew him.

At that time, she already knew who he was, but she did not tell him who she was.

He endured for a long time before asking Yuan Shuo, "Is she in trouble?"

"She is indeed in trouble, but if you get involved, it will be even more troublesome."

Yuan Shuo already regretted saying those words earlier. He should have not said anything.

If this sly old fox didn't listen to his advice and secretly sent someone to China, the people in the Fu family mansion would find out that the Dorrans family had their eyes on her. They would start to suspect something.

"Then how long do you want me to wait?" Cayman Dorrans was annoyed.

Yuan Shuo glanced at him and snorted.

"You have already endured for more than twenty years. So what if you endure for another year or so?"

Now that it was the Fu family's matter, any interfering would only add to her troubles.

"Did you come back on purpose to make me unhappy?"

"I am just telling the truth." Yuan Shuo followed him downstairs and said, "If you really want to help him, tell Gu Siting not to disturb her. That is helping her."

Based on his understanding of Fu Hanzheng and the Fu family, he would not tell the truth to the elders of the Fu family after knowing that she was Gu Weiwei.

But even if they kept their mouths shut, Gu Siting would not allow her to stay in the Fu Family, if he knew that she was there.

By then, this secret would be impossible to keep.

Cayman Dorrans said helplessly, "Take your son to rest for two days. Then come to A Land with me."

Initially, he had planned to go there over these two days as well. However, he was delayed by two days because he wanted to bring Yuan Shuo back for questioning.

Since the main point of the Nine-Eyed Pearl was so important, he had to go to Country A himself to stop Gu Siting from learning about Weiwei.

"You were the one who chose the Gu family for her. In the end, she died in the Gu family," Yuan Shuo said as he glanced at Cayman Dorrans. "At least... don't let the Gu family affect her again."

If he could stop Gu Siting from knowing about her, then she and Fu Hanzheng would not be affected in the Fu family.

Kaman Dorrans considered his words and said at last, "If it really doesn't work, then I'll just kill him."

"Kill who?" Yuan Shuo frowned as he pursued an answer.

"Gu Siting," Kaman Dorrans said coldly.

Chapter 895: Cayman, Weiwei Is Still Here 4

Yuan Shuo sighed deeply and spoke in an unpleasant tone, "You were the one who supported the Gu family back then. Now, you want to kill him. Is it fun?"

If he hadn't helped the Gu family back then, given the feud between the Fu family and the Gu family, the Gu family would have been long gone.

At that time, Fu Shengying was in charge of the Fu family and Fu Hanzheng had not started working at Fu's Enterprise. He was about to get his revenge, but because he helped the Gu Family, the Gu Family turned the situation around at the last moment and was now able to compete with the Fu Family.

Therefore, even though the Fu Family hated the Gu Family, he might not have a good impression of them.

"The Gu family has let me down," Cayman Dorrans said coldly.

He had sent his most precious daughter to the Gu family, but they let her die there.

Back then, he could bring the Gu family back to life. So now, he could also destroy them.

“Forget it, now is not the time to disobey you. Those who oppose you will die.” Yuan Shuo glanced at him and said as he walked, “But what about the relationship between the Gu family and the royal family of Country A, if you really kill him, can you suppress the trouble that will follow?”

Gu Siting was a very important person now. If he died for no reason, it would definitely attract the attention of many forces. It was impossible for such a thing to be kept under wraps in this age of information.

At his age, he had already attracted so many enemies. How many more people wanted to take his life?

“What else can we do if we want to eliminate all future troubles?” Cayman Dorrans snorted coldly.

“Cayman, I am not only worried about the trouble after Gu Siting’s death, but also... whether Weiwei’s rebirth is related to him and the Nine-Eyed Pearl. If everything is related, killing him will also affect Weiwei. That is one of the reasons why I came back to see you.” Yuan Shuo said what he was really worried about.

He did not know what exchange Gu Siting made with the owner of the Nine-Eyed Pearl, or whether it was because of them that Weiwei became Mu Weiwei.

He came back to see Cayman because he wanted to find out what had happened using his hands, as it was not convenient for Fu Hanzheng to send someone to investigate, because if Fu Shengying found out something, they would not be able to hide it anymore.

If the owner of the Nine-Eyed Pearl could tell Gu Siting who Weiwei had become, then everything might be related.

Hearing his words, Cayman Dorrans stopped in his tracks and looked at him with a solemn expression.

“Does Weiwei know?”

“She has thought about this question before, but she does not want to have anything to do with Gu Siting anymore, so it is not convenient for her to investigate this matter,” Yuan Shuo said.

He had tried to ask her about this, but she was unwilling to say any more.

That was why he wanted to return to the Dorrans Family and find a way to investigate this matter.

Cayman Dorrans walked along the corridor with a solemn expression and sighed after a long time.

“I hope nothing is as you think.”

Back then, he was the one who sent her to the Gu family, thinking that he could keep her away from the danger of the Dorrans Family.

Unexpectedly, she was murdered in her youth.

Even if it was someone else who killed her, he was also the person who caused all of this.

Yuan Shuo sighed. “I hope so.”

She had died because of Gu Siting, and if she had been reborn into this world because of him, then she would not be able to have a clean break with Gu Siting.

And this was the last thing she wanted to do in the Fu family.

Chapter 896: Cayman, Weiwei Is Still Here 5

When the two of them reached the kitchen, they could hear Matthew's joyful laughter from afar.

Cayman Dorrans frowned in confusion. As he approached, he realized that he was the only one eating with a three-year-old boy.

Matthew saw them coming and said to Yuan Shuo, "Your son can really eat! He eats more than me."

Yuan Shuo walked over with a headache and said with a stern face, "Yuan Bao, you can't eat anymore."

Little Yuan Bao's little face was stained with sauce and he blinked pitifully like a little kitten.

"But I didn't finish it. Didn't you say... we can't waste food?"

"Well, you can't fit all that in your stomach."

Yuan Shuo removed the spoon from his hand, wiped his hands and face, and took away the unfinished food.

Yuan Bao stared at the juice carton on the table... "Yuan Bao can't eat. Can Yuan Bao drink juice?"

"I believe you've already drunk it," Yuan Shuo refused his request.

Sigh, he and Yuan Meng were not greedy people, so who did this child learn from?

But Cayman Dorrans had put the juice in front of the little boy.

"Drink it."

Little Yuan Bao had just picked up the cup, when his father glared at him.

"No drinking."

Little Yuan Bao blinked pitifully. "Then I'll only drink a mouthful."

Yuan Shuo sighed and compromised.

"Just a mouthful."

Little Yuan Bao picked up the cup and took a big gulp before obediently putting it down and pushing it in front of him.

"Drink it."

Cayman Dorrans and Matthew were both amused by the cute little boy. He had been scheming against adults all year round, and now that he suddenly saw a cute and innocent child, his mood was inexplicably much happier.

Little Yuan Bao lay on the table and blinked his round eyes as he watched the three of them eat.

Suddenly, he stared at Cayman Dorrans and said in a childish voice, "Grandpa, you have to eat carrots to grow taller."

Kaman Dorrans laughed. "Grandfather can't grow at his age."

Little Yuan Bao looked at his father in confusion. Didn't he say that if he ate more vegetables, he would grow taller?

Yuan Shuo answered his son's question. "Adults don't grow up. Children grow up."

The three of them were still eating when a group of muscular foreign men came in carrying two boxes each.

"Matthew, where do you want us to put your things?"

Matthew looked around and pointed toward the living room.

"On the balcony. Put it there when you're done."

Cayman Dorrans frowned. "What is it?"

He remembered that Matthew didn't have the habit of storing things in his house.

After the three of them finished their meal, they went onto the living room balcony and saw that it was already filled with toys.

The childish things were very contrasting to the classical and elegant style of the ancient castle.

Matthew waved Yuan Bao over and said, "Go on."

"Wow!"

Little Yuan Bao pounced on the pile of toys excitedly and almost rolled onto the ground.

The corner of Yuan Shuo's mouth twitched. Did he ask someone to rob a toy store?

They had only opened half of the boxes, but there were already so many toys. There were still many boxes that hadn't been opened yet.

"Matthew!"

Matthew saw the look on his face and knew he wasn't happy that he'd bought so much.

"I bought them for myself and I am just lending them to Little Yuan Bao."

There was nothing he could do about it. The little boy was just too cute. As soon as he could, he had someone buy all the toys from the nearby supermarket.

Yuan Shuo picked up a toy gun and raised it in front of him.

"Do you play with things like this?"

Matthew took the toy gun from his hands, and the toy gun immediately began to glow and play music.

"Biubiubiu..."

However, he thought it was fun.

The few people who were helping to dismantle the toys were petrified when they saw this.

Matthew, who had an M9 on his back and had perfect marksmanship, was actually playing happily with a children's toy gun.

Chapter 897: How Did Weiwei Die?

Cayman Dorrans probably didn't want to see his living room as a children's playground because it would damage his image.

So he asked the housekeeper to sort out a large room for Matthew's toys.

After that, the new room became a playground for his old friend Matthew and his little friend Yuan Bao.

Cayman Dorrans saw that the two of them were having a good time inside and glanced sideways at Yuan Shuo.

"Since your son has someone to take care of him, can we continue our conversation?"

Yuan Shuo said something to Yuan Bao before following Cayman Dorrans upstairs.

Their previous conversation had clearly not answered all of Cayman Dorrans's questions, but he knew what he wanted to know the most.

The two of them returned to the study. This time, the atmosphere was very relaxed. The servant even brought tea in.

"You still haven't told me how Vivi died," Cayman Dorrans said.

He had only told him that He Linina was Will's subordinate. He had not told him the rest in detail.

Although he had roughly guessed it, he still needed confirmation.

Yuan Shuo took a sip of tea and said, "Didn't you already guess correctly?"

He knew two people who had the most terrifying thought analysis. One was Fu Hanzheng and the other was the sly old fox in front of him.

It was funny now, because Weiwei and him were going to meet.

"It's just speculation," said Cayman Dorrans.

Yuan Shuo said helplessly, "Your guesses are usually very accurate, right?"

Sometimes, even though no one had a clue, he had already touched upon the key point.

When it came to Weiwei's murder, although all the evidence was against him at the start, he had his own considerations and did not force him to confess.

Even though he suspected him at the time, he had some faith in him. So he left him alone to see what he would know.

Now he had brought him back, wanting to know what he knew.

Cayman Dorrans laughed and gripped the handle of his cane.

"After you left, no one understands me as well as you do now."

Matthew and Watson were good fighters, but they weren't far-sighted enough. And this guy was always the first to guess what he'd come up with.

"Is this a compliment?" Yuan Shuo asked with a smile.

Cayman Dorrans sipped his tea and said casually, "Compared to Gu Siting, I liked you more. If nothing had happened, I might have hoped that Weiwei would choose you."

Even Yuan Shuo, who had always been calm, choked on his tea upon hearing this.

"Don't tell me that's why you wanted me to go to Country A to protect your daughter."

Cayman Dorrans nodded and took a sip of tea.

"It's just that things change. There are many things that we can't predict."

Yuan Shuo put down his teacup and spoke seriously, "That's the end of what you just said. Don't say it again, and I'll pretend I never heard it."

What a joke! He and Yuan Meng had seen how jealous Fu Hanzheng could be. If he knew that Cayman Dorrans had wanted him to be his son-in-law, he would become a thorn in his side.

Besides, his son was already three years old when Weiwei got married. If Yuan Meng knew about it, she would be shocked.

"That's all in the past. Now that you all have your own destinations, why are you still bringing it up?" Cayman Dorrans looked at the person opposite him and said, "Alright, let's get back to the main topic, don't talk about this nonsense anymore."

Chapter 898: How Did Weiwei Die? 2

Yuan Shuo finally heaved a sigh of relief when he heard this.

To him, Weiwei was more like a younger sister. He could protect her, help her, and even do many things for her, but he had never thought about the relationship between a man and a woman with her.

Although his son's biological mother was not only a violent woman but also a smoker who liked to watch men, he still preferred it.

Cayman Dorrans saw his relief and said coldly, "You really have bad taste in women."

He had investigated that woman called Jiang Se. Although she had changed her name to Yuan Meng, in all fairness, other than her looks, her personality and intelligence were not equal to her beauty.

However, he managed to get together with someone in just a few years. His child was already so big.

"If you have something to say, say it. If not, don't slander others. Otherwise, we won't be able to chat anymore."

Yuan Shuo was unhappy when he heard him doubting his taste in women.

Cayman Dorrans sighed and spoke, "How much was Will involved in Vivi's death?"

Yuan Shuo coldly smiled and said word by word, "He's not only involved. He's the leader of everything."

However, he had hidden it very well. If Weiwei had not driven Ling Yan into a corner, they would not have thought that the Dorrans Family was behind everything. They had always trusted Will Dorrans.

“He... coordinated everything?”

Cayman Dorrans did not believe that Will, who had never been smart, would do such a thing right under his nose.

But if he had not failed to kidnap Yuan Shuo’s son in Hua Land and if his men weren’t sent to him by Fu Hanzheng, he would not have noticed him.

“He already knew that Weiwei was your daughter. You thought that you hid it well, but you provided too much favour to the Gu family.” Yuan Shuo played with the well-made teacup casually and said, “Maybe he even suspected that Gu Siting was your illegitimate child.”

“But no one in the Gu family has told anyone about Weiwei except for you and me. How would he know?” Cayman Dorrans frowned, looking murderous.

Yuan Shuo raised the cup in his hand and said, “Now that technology is so advanced, do we still need others to tell him? As long as we compare the DNA of the two of you, it’s easy to find out whether you’re biologically related or not. For example, if you drink water from a cup stained with saliva, even if we have a strand of hair from each of you, we can still find out if you’re father and daughter.”

...

Actually, he had always hidden Weiwei’s existence very well. Although the Dorrans Family and the Gu Family had many business dealings, he had never paid much attention to Weiwei, who lived in the Gu Family.

Before he was arranged to go to Country A, Will had never met him. At that time, he had only used a code name.

Other than Cayman Dorrans, only the Gu family knew that he was sent here by Cayman.

Hence, they had always protected her well, thinking that outsiders would never discover her true identity.

However, the Gu family had participated in too much of Dorrans’ business. This made the sensitive Will Dorrans begin to suspect the true relationship between Cayman Dorrans and the Gu family.

He might not have been able to find out that the key was Weiwei, but as long as he was suspicious, it would eventually be her.

Chapter 899: How Did Weiwei Die?

Cayman Dorrans fell silent after listening to him.

In the end, he laughed coldly.

“Then he’s brilliant. He’s done so much right under my nose, and I’m surprised I didn’t know.”

Yuan Shuo said as he refilled their cups, "He's too obedient in front of you. He's so obedient that you think he's mediocre, so you won't pay attention to what he does in secret."

Perhaps the Dorrans Family was born with cunningness in their bloodline.

Cayman Dorrans had always been in absolute control of the Dorrans Family. After a long time, he believed that no one could escape his control and thus lowered his guard against the people around him.

"If Vivi wasn't here, maybe... we'd never have discovered his movements," Cayman Dorrans said, amused.

At the very least, before Will found Yuan Shuo, he really did not suspect him at all.

If Will Dorrans did not feel that he was about to be exposed, he might have kept his cover perfectly.

"Not necessarily," said Yuan Shuo, looking across at Cayman Dorrans. "After all, his ultimate goal is still you."

The cooperation between the Gu Family and the Dorrans Family had placed everything firmly in the hands of Cayman Dorrans. If Will wanted to deal with him, he would have to destroy their partnership first.

Will found the key to the cooperation between the Gu Family and Dorrans, which was his daughter Weiwei, whom he had secretly placed in the Gu Family.

Vivi's death had terminated the collaboration between the Dorrans Family and the Gu Family, and those within the family who had suffered losses because of the collaboration had started to oppose Cayman Dorrans. If not for the fact that Vivi was actually still around and he was investigating her murder, it would have led to Will Dorrans continuing to stay under the radar.

Perhaps his next step would be to deal with Cayman Dorrans and become the new ruler of the Dorrans Family.

Cayman Dorrans was someone who had been through a lot, so he remained calm after hearing his analysis.

"So you think I'll fall into his hands?"

Yuan Shuo laughed. "Good people don't live long, but a scourge will live for a thousand years. A scourge like you won't die so easily, but if he joins forces with the Anderson Family, you will suffer a little."

Although Will had handled Vivi's matters well, he was still lacking compared to a sly old fox like Cayman Dorrans.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have wanted to catch Yuan Bao and threaten him after what happened to He Linna. In his panic, he would have exposed himself completely.

Cayman Dorrans laughed out loud. "That sounds reasonable."

What Will had done to Vivi had indeed exceeded his expectations, but that did not mean that he could replace him.

He knew that he was ambitious. That was why he had left him behind when he could have killed him.

“Given Weiwei’s vengeful nature, I’m afraid she has no intention of letting Will off. What do you plan to do?” asked Yuan Shuo.

However, because her problem with the Fu family had not been completely resolved, she could not be bothered to find trouble with Will.

When she and Fu Hanzheng solved the problem of the Fu Family, she would come to deal with Will sooner or later.

However, it also depended on Cayman’s decision.

Cayman Dorrans took a sip of his tea and asked in amusement, “What do you mean?”

Yuan Shuo laughed coldly. “Don’t think I don’t know why you left Will behind.”

Chapter 900: How Did Weiwei Die? 4

There was a flash of sharpness in Cayman Dorrans’s gaze, but it quickly disappeared.

Cayman Dorrans stood up with a cup of tea in one hand and a cane in the other. He walked to the window and asked casually while keeping his back to Yuan Shuo.

“What purpose?”

This guy was really annoyingly smart sometimes.

“Back then, you killed Will’s father, but you didn’t kill him. In the end... you wanted to hand the Dorrans Family over to him.” Yuan Shuo sighed and continued speaking, “This position is too dangerous. You won’t hand it over to Weiwei, but you can’t let everything in the Dorrans Family fall into the hands of an outsider. So you left Will behind. But you didn’t expect him to attack Weiwei in the end.”

If Vivi came back to take revenge, was he going to kill Will or leave him behind? It was a tough decision.

Although everything was not what he wanted, his decision back then had cost Weiwei her life.

The Gu family that he had chosen for her had become her burial ground. He had not killed Will, but Will had killed Weiwei first.

Cayman Dorrans sighed with a heavy expression.

“At the end of the day, I was the one who harmed her. If she wasn’t my daughter, she would probably lead a much happier life.”

Although it was Will who attacked her, he was the one who left this hidden danger behind.

“Weiwei has never hated you,” Yuan Shuo said sincerely.

Although she had been looking for him for so many years, he had never shown up to see her, yet she had never hated him.

“But wouldn’t she hate me if she knew Will was the hidden danger I left behind?” Cayman Dorrans asked.

Although he did not know that Will would discover all of this when he left him alive, it was ultimately because he did not eradicate him that she died because of him.

Yuan Shuo put down his teacup, stood up, walked over to the window and said, "The past is the past. If you really want to help her, don't let Gu Siting disturb her again."

The Gu Family and the Fu Family had a deep grudge against each other, and Gu Siting would not stop even if he knew that she was married to Fu Hanzheng.

Once the elders of the Fu Family found out her real identity, she and Fu Hanzheng would be under great pressure.

Fu Hanzheng could ignore her surname because he loved her. She used to be Cayman Dorrans' daughter, so the elders of the Fu Family would not accept her so easily.

Even if they were now married, they could still divorce under the pressure of their elders.

Cayman Dorrans nodded and looked at him.

"You should rest too. We'll head to Country A the day after tomorrow."

"What about Will?" asked Yuan Shuo.

Will Dorrans now realized that he had been exposed, so he would act.

"He's not brave enough to declare war on me yet," said Cayman Dorrans.

Will was afraid that he would pursue the matter, but he definitely did not have the guts to declare war on him first.

Right now, the most important thing was to go to Country A and find the owner of the Nine-Eyed Pearl who was about to appear, as well as stopping Gu Siting from knowing about her.

Yuan Shuo patted Cayman Dorrans' back to comfort him.

All these years, although he had not done his duty as a father by Weiwei's side, he had also given her the protection and care of a father in his own way.

Although she did not live a happy life as he had wished, he was, in all fairness, a father who loved his daughter.
