

MY HIDDEN 961

Chapter 961: I Am the Only One in Your Heart

From the canceling of the wedding to their return to this home, they felt that they had lived for decades.

Neither of them said a word as they hugged each other in silence.

She was not sad because of the divorce, but happy that they finally met.

"I am sorry," Gu Weiwei whispered.

If it had not been for her, maybe the Old Lady would not have run into such a situation and he would not have been in such a hurry.

Fu Hanzheng frowned. "It is not your fault."

He had expected that the Old Lady and his father would not accept this matter so easily, so he decided to hide it from them.

Even if they had to say it, they would wait until they were married and had children, then find a suitable time to tell them.

Maybe they would get angry, but at least they would not react too fiercely.

But no matter how careful they were, they had not expected that Gu Siting would suddenly appear at the wedding and reveal the secret they were hiding.

When Gu Siting revealed the secret, the conflict was exacerbated to the greatest degree.

They could not turn down the Old Lady's request.

"When is grandma's operation?" Gu Weiwei asked.

"Within the week, as soon as possible," Fu Hanzheng said helplessly.

If the Old Lady was doing well or if her condition was not so critical, he would not have compromised and said yes to getting a divorce.

But if they delayed any further, lives would be at risk. There was no time to ease the conflict between them.

Gu Weiwei nodded with pursed lips and turned to the man behind her.

"Then... let's get divorced tomorrow."

That was the only way for Old Lady to have the surgery as soon as possible.

"Weiwei." Fu Hanzheng sighed.

Of course he knew that in order for the Old Lady to have the operation as soon as possible, the divorce had to be done according to her requirements.

But he was not very pleased that she had brought it up herself.

Gu Weiwei turned around and faced this tired man.

“Our relationship did not start because of a marriage certificate, and of course it will not end because of a divorce certificate.”

“I know, but... you will be sad.” Fu Hanzheng had his forehead against hers and he spoke with a gentle voice.

“Fu Hanzheng, the most important thing between us is not the marriage certificate or the divorce certificate.” She placed her hand over his heart and stared at the man’s profound eyes that were so close to her. “The most important thing is that you only have me in your heart.”

That was why she could propose a divorce so that he could make the arrangements.

Instead of answering, Fu Hanzheng kissed the girl’s soft lips.

He had been worried that the divorce would make her sad and even cause her to distance herself from their relationship.

Unexpectedly, she understood everything without his explanation.

After a long while, they finally left each other’s lips unwillingly.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at her packed luggage. “Where do you plan to stay?”

With his father’s personality, even if they got a divorce certificate, he would still ask her to leave the Fu Family.

When he thought of this, she had also thought of it and decided to leave early.

“Jolin has tidied up the Mu Family’s house in Yijing Pavilion. I will move in with Yuan Shuo and the rest.”

Although they were not willing to divorce, she knew that under the current situation, they had to divorce and she had to leave this place.

But that did not mean that they would be separated forever.

Chapter 962: I Am the Only One in Your Heart 2

Hearing her words, Fu Hanzheng did not want her to move out, but he knew that it was a part of the divorce.

However, with Yuan Shuo and his family being with her, he felt a little more relieved.

“Because of Old Lady’s surgery and the company, I may not be able to see you often.”

On one hand, it was because of the Old Lady, and on the other hand, it was because of the company’s work. His father might also be worried that they would still be in contact after they got divorced, so he would definitely be paying special attention to the relationship between him and her.

Even though the Old Lady had undergone surgery, she still needed to rest peacefully, so they could not stimulate her any more.

After the divorce, they could not meet too often and she had to be careful not to be discovered.

“Don’t worry about me, I have dismissed the contract from Shiyi Culture and I need to prepare for the studio and the new movie, so I don’t have time to see you.”

Gu Weiwei raised her eyebrows with a smile. She would never become a bitter woman who cried every day, just because he did not come to see her.

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. He had the feeling that she was going to start a new life after divorcing him.

But that was good too. She could devote herself to doing what she liked and she did not need to be unhappy about their temporary separation.

“Very good.”

“Then can you let go of me so I can continue packing?” Gu Weiwei asked with a smile.

However, Fu Hanzheng did not let go.

“You are leaving soon, won’t you let me hold you for a while longer?”

If she was gone, he wouldn’t be able to see her at home, and he might not be able to fall asleep without her in his arms every night. He might not be able to see her again...

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei did not object but allowed him to hold her.

“Then how should we meet in the future?”

Since they had divorced according to the Old Lady’s wishes, they definitely could not meet openly.

“I will make the arrangements after Old Lady’s operation,” Fu Hanzheng whispered and kissed her hair.

“Okay.” Gu Weiwei nodded in his arms and looked up at him. “Go and take a shower and rest.”

He must not have had a good rest during the past two days at the hospital.

“No.” Fu Hanzheng still did not release her.

Gu Weiwei took hold of his waist and whispered with a smile, “What about going in with me?”

Fu Hanzheng raised his eyebrows in astonishment and chuckled.

“Then let’s go.”

Having said these words, he picked her up and walked into the bathroom.

It must have been because of the imminent departure that the two of them tried their best to claim the other’s warmth and passion.

They went from the bathroom to the bed and did not stop until he was exhausted.

For the first time, Fu Hanzheng, who always got up earlier than Gu Weiwei, had a very deep sleep today instead of getting up early according to his usual biological clock.

But Gu Weiwei got up early and packed her things.

Apart from the ring, she did not take away any precious jewels Fu Hanzheng had bought for her. Even the clothes she had taken away were those she had bought herself.

She had packed all her luggage when Fu Hanzheng got up, took a shower and got changed as usual.

Seeing that she did not take anything he had given her away, he frowned.

“You are not taking these with you?”

Gu Weiwei glanced at it and said straightforwardly, “How are we going to move so many things?”

“Get the servants to pack them up and send it to you,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“No thanks, I won’t starve to death even if I am alone.”[1] Gu Weiwei glanced at the dazzling jewelry in the jewelry cabinet and said, “If I come home again, I will have to move everything back here. Aren’t you tired from just thinking about this?”

Yes, she would come back to him again.

[1] She won’t ever need the jewelry to pawn off, because even if she is alone she won’t be in financial difficulty.

Chapter 963: Divorcing Your Brother

Hearing what she said, Fu Hanzheng did not insist.

Yes, she would come back and one day, she would come back as Mrs. Fu.

“If there is anything you need, I can have it delivered to you.”

Because she was in the entertainment industry, she had to wear jewelry and luxurious goods on many occasions.

“Okay.” Gu Weiwei nodded, checked the time and said, “Breakfast should be ready, let’s go down and eat something.”

Fu Hanzheng took her hand and led her downstairs. Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin, who had come home last night at midnight, were already sitting at the dining table.

They seemed to be worried about their divorce, so they both looked worried and sympathetic.

“Brother, are you going to the company for the meeting later?” Fu Shiqin asked.

Fu Hanzheng checked the time. “I have something to do at lunch, postpone it.”

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Fu Shiyi and said, “Third Master, if you have nothing to do at lunch time, please help me deliver my luggage to Yijing Pavilion.”

Fu Shiyi nodded and asked, “Sister-in-law, why are you...?”

Gu Weiwei ate her breakfast calmly. “I am going to divorce your brother.”

“...”

Fu Shiqin almost choked on his porridge. This woman was so straightforward.

He had been worried that they would be in pain for the two days before getting a divorce, but this morning, she said so simply that she was going to get a divorce.

Not long ago, his brother postponed the meeting at noon and brought her to register their marriage during working hours.

And now, his work was postponed, except that this time he was getting a divorce certificate with her.

Fu Shiyi was startled for a few seconds. "You're moving out right away? Aren't you going to resist?"

Gu Weiwei glanced at him coldly. "Why would I be resisting?"

The Old Lady was waiting for them to get a divorce before she had the operation. Why would they resist when someone's life was on the line?

"Nothing, nothing." Fu Shiyi laughed dryly and said, "How about I come with you? When we are done, I can send sister-in-law back to Yijing Pavilion."

Fu Shiqin was startled. This did not sound like a proper divorce.

"Okay, thanks." Gu Weiwei agreed instantly after hearing Fu Shiyi's suggestion.

The four of them finished their breakfast and Fu Shiqin went to the company first.

Xu Qian made a call. "Boss, I have made the arrangements with the Civil Affairs Office. You can come now."

With their identities, be it marriage or divorce, it would easily cause headline news.

Therefore, he had to inform the Affairs Office in advance so that they would not be noticed.

Fu Hanzheng answered Xu Qian's call and left with Gu Weiwei for the Civil Affairs Office for the divorce.

Fu Shiyi watched his brother and sister-in-law, who were holding hands and talking happily about getting a divorce.

Did that look like a divorce?

Did they think that they were going to get married?

Seeing them entering the Civil Affairs Office and waiting in the car, Fu Shiyi saw them coming out within fifteen minutes.

"Just like that?"

Fu Hanzheng gave him the divorce certificate and said, "I need to go to the company for a meeting. After you take her home, send this to the hospital and ask them to arrange for the operation tomorrow."

Fu Shiyi took the two divorce certificates and opened them.

So they had really divorced.

Gu Weiwei said goodbye to Fu Hanzheng and went straight into Fu Shiyi's car.

"Let's leave now, otherwise we are going to make the headlines again!"

They had appeared in the parking lot of the Civil Affairs Office, if the media found out about it, it would be explosive news.

Chapter 964: Divorcing Your Brother 2

Since they could not linger around the Civil Affairs Office, they left after finishing the procedures.

Fu Hanzheng went to work at the company, and Gu Weiwei went into Fu Shiyi's car and returned to Yijing Pavilion.

Yuan Shuo and Yuan Meng were playing with Yuan Bao on the lawn. When they saw the car park by the villa, they went over to it.

Seeing them coming out with the luggage, Yuan Meng asked in disbelief, "You are moving in already?"

He had thought that it would take at least two or three days before she moved in.

She had moved in this afternoon after only spending a night at home. Why was she moving in so quickly?

"So what do you want? Are you staying or not?" Gu Weiwei teased her.

Yuan Bao helped to push the luggage into the house.

Yuan Meng gossiped with Weiwei. "You are divorced now?"

"Yes, I just finished the procedures." Gu Weiwei confessed.

Yuan Meng touched her chin and asked curiously, "Fu Hanzheng said nothing?"

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. "Nothing, he is at work."

Having said these words, she went upstairs to unpack her luggage.

"Sister-in-law, I am going to the hospital now," Fu Shiyi said to her from downstairs.

"Okay, go ahead," Gu Weiwei answered from upstairs and returned to her own room.

Seeing that she was very busy, Yuan Meng helped her. When she was unpacking, she saw something under her collar.

Out of curiosity, she reached out to check under her clothes.

"What are you doing?!"

Startled, Gu Weiwei took a step backwards and covered her neck.

Yuan Meng smiled sinisterly and winked meaningfully.

"It was very intense last night."

It was obviously a trace left from a love bite when they had s*x.

She was sure that she had more than one of these.

Ignoring her words, Gu Weiwei walked away.

However, Yuan Meng followed her.

“So, you two are getting a divorce on the surface but plan to continue with the relationship in secret?”

“I am not actually separating from Hanzheng,” Gu Weiwei said.

It was only because the Old Lady was seriously ill that the situation forced her to go through the divorce procedures.

Yuan Meng bumped her shoulders. “So you had a huge fight last night before you left?”

She was right. They had just gotten divorced, but yet she looked so charming and sexy.

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth and asked, instead of listening to her anymore, “What work are you and Yuan Shuo looking for?”

“I thought about it and realized that I could dance in a bar and help someone else take out a loan, but Yuan Shuo objected,” Yuan Meng said.

She was good-looking and had a great body shape, so she would definitely be hired if she danced. Also, she was good at fighting, so she might have a bright future if she helped others take out a loan.

However, Yuan Shuo objected immediately.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and realized that apart from being good-looking and having a great body shape, this woman was not very good at anything else other than fighting or killing people.

“So, please let me be your personal assistant and bodyguard,” Yuan Meng asked her for work with a smile and analyzed the situation. “It is not convenient for Fu Hanzheng to arrange for someone to protect you now. If Cayman Dorrans sends someone to protect you, it will only disgust the Fu Family, so... please let me do it.”

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and agreed.

“Then you’ll be on probation first?”

If Will or Gu Siting sent someone to find her again, she would not be able to deal with it alone.

Yuan Meng was a confidant and she did not need to hide anything from her.

Yuan Meng snapped her fingers. “Okay!”

Chapter 965: The Divorce Certificate

After Gu Weiwei moved into Yijing Pavilion, Fu Shiyi drove to the hospital.

Fu Shengying and Mrs. Fu were keeping the Old Lady company at the hospital, so they asked when they saw him, “Where is your brother?”

“My brother and Second Brother went to the company,” Fu Shiyi said as he took out the divorce certificate and gave it to him. “My brother asked me to deliver this to you.”

Fu Shengying took it from him and took a look at it, then said to the Old Lady in bed, “Mom, Hanzheng has divorced her, you can have the surgery now.”

After seeing the divorce certificate, Old Lady weakly nodded and agreed to the operation.

Mrs. Fu took a look at the divorce certificate in Fu Shengying’s hands and found it incredible.

“They did not say anything?”

Fu Shiyi dragged a chair and sat down by the bedside and said, “If you force them to divorce, what else can they say? They will go to the Civil Affairs Office and finish the procedures,” Fu Shiyi said.

Mrs. Fu felt a bit guilty.

Actually, she was quite satisfied with this daughter-in-law, and Hanzheng liked her too. She thought about how cozy the house had been because of her arrival.

But because of Gu Siting, they had to get divorced and leave.

If she had been a bit uncooperative and refused to get a divorce, Hanzheng would not have been able to get it done so quickly, so that the Old Lady could have the operation.

Therefore, this child was very understanding and filial. She understood what Hanzheng was going through and did not make things difficult for him.

Fu Shengying put the divorce certificate aside and sounded much milder.

“Since they are divorced, don’t let her live in Landscape Villa anymore.”

Fu Shiyi glanced at his father. “Of course not, she just moved out and terminated the contract with Shiyi Culture yesterday. She has nothing to do with the Fu Family any more, so you can be at ease now, alright?”

Fu Shengying was left speechless by his words. She had already left.

Mrs. Fu was not quite convinced.

“She really left?”

“She did, but she moved out after she got the divorce certificate,” Fu Shiyi said as he threw a look at his father and the Old Lady. “Don’t worry, she didn’t take anything with her that she received from you or my brother.”

The more Mrs. Fu heard, the more displeased she felt. “It is a divorce, but there is no need to terminate the contract in such a hurry. Where is she going to go if she ends the contract with your company?”

“Mom, don’t worry about that. With our sister-in-law’s position, every company wants to hire her to be their money tree. There is nowhere she can’t go.” Fu Shiyi snorted.

Mrs. Fu thought for a while and agreed. She was a famous Movie Queen in Hua Land and even if she left Shiyi Culture, there would be companies begging her to join them.

But what was Hanzheng thinking when they got divorced.

“What did your brother say?”

“What can I say? He doesn’t want a divorce.” Fu Shiyi snorted.

Fu Shengying interrupted them.

“Alright, so be it, but why talk about her anymore?”

If she was willing to leave, they would not have to worry.

“The divorce certificate is here, ask He Chi to do the surgery as soon as possible.” Fu Shiyi urged them.

If his brother and sister-in-law had not been worried that something would happen to Old Lady, they would not have gotten a divorce so easily.

But it seemed that they were not going to break up after getting married.

However, it would take a long time before the Old Lady and his father could accept it.

Chapter 966: Love

Soon, He Chi came for ward rounds and glanced at Fu Shiyi when he saw the divorce certificate on the table.

Seeing him blinking, Fu Shiyi snapped.

“You are not mute. You want to ask if my brother is divorced yet, right? If he wasn’t, I wouldn’t leave this here.”

He Chi laughed dryly and said to Fu Shengying, “In this case, can we prepare for the operation?”

“Get everything ready, as soon as possible,” Fu Shengying said.

Hearing the words, He Chi said instantly, “Then tomorrow afternoon, I will get everything ready now.”

Fu Shiyi followed He Chi out of the ward. “Will the operation go well tomorrow?”

“Of course it will!” He Chi snorted.

Although it was risky, the chances of success were very high.

Fu Shiyi patted his shoulders and sighed.

“All those years spent raising you were not in vain!”

He Chi was talented and passionate in medicine, so his brother had funded him a lot in his studies and he did not disappoint them.

“How is your brother? He didn’t want a divorce, right?” He Chi squinted at him.

As far as he knew, she was his darling. It was not his style to divorce her.

“It’s just a divorce, let’s talk about love instead,” Fu Shiyi said.

He Chi thought for a while and said, “Then now they can’t show off their love in front of everyone. Congratulations to your second brother, he won’t choke on their love anymore.”

“I believe that Shiqin will soon miss the days that were filled with love.” Fu Shiyi snorted.

When his sister-in-law was around, his brother was much more affable.

But he was right.

After Fu Hanzheng finished the divorce procedures, he had several meetings at the company and even left the Planning Department and Fu Shiqin at the company for overtime.

Seeing that it was getting late, the manager of the Planning Department went to Fu Shiqin for help.

“Second Master, it is so late, when can we get off work?”

“Ask my brother, how would I know?” Fu Shiqin yawned, took a sip of coffee and continued to read the files.

He had only slept for a few hours the night before, ever since the accident at his brother’s wedding.

However, the moment his brother got a divorce, he had them work overtime.

“Boss looks so fierce today, I don’t dare to go and ask.” The manager of the Planning Department put his hands together and said to Fu Shiyi, “Second Master, go and ask around, I’ve only been married to my wife for a month and she has already called me several times to ask when I am coming home.”

“You can go yourself.” Fu Shiyi turned him down.

“What about... asking the lady boss what time he is coming home?” The manager asked with a smile.

Boss had always been obedient to his girlfriend. She could save them with just one phone call.

“No one is going to save us today, just go home and do your work. It is not as if we are not paying you any overtime fees.” Fu Shiyi snorted.

His brother used to rush home every day to see his sister-in-law, so of course he got off work on time.

Now that his sister-in-law had moved away, his brother would be alone when he went home. Of course, he would torment them in the company.

After reading through two more proposals, Fu Shiqin threw himself down on the desk and threw a helpless look at his brother’s office.

It was already midnight and he was still not getting off work. Was he planning to spend the entire night with them?

He thought for a long while and called Gu Weiwei for help.

“Sister-in-law, please, tell my brother to go home.”

Chapter 967: Work

Gu Weiwei was already resting, so she was startled by the call.

“You are still at work?”

“My brother is going to stay here all night, so we can’t leave! I only slept for five hours last night. Since coming back from Slovakia, I have to work so hard.” Fu Shiqin complained with tears in his eyes.

When she was waiting for his brother at home, his brother would always run home after work.

Now that they were divorced and she had moved out, he did not want to go home at all.

Gu Weiwei got up and checked the time. “I will call him.”

“Okay.” Fu Shiqin hung up when he heard that she agreed.

Gu Weiwei turned on the bedside light and made a call to Fu Hanzheng.

Fu Hanzheng had been reading a report on an overseas project when his phone rang. He put down the files in his hands when he saw the caller.

“Still awake?”

“You are still at work?” Gu Weiwei asked straightforwardly, obviously sounding displeased.

Fu Hanzheng checked the time. “I have been busy these past few days and so there is a lot of work at the company.”

Most importantly, she was no longer at home and he did not want to face the empty home that she did not exist in.

“But you still need to leave work.” Gu Weiwei sighed and urged him. “Go home now, now, now!”

He had not had a good rest these past few days, because the wedding had been cancelled and because of the Old Lady.

He shouldn’t be working overtime the first day after the divorce.

“I still have some work to do.” Fu Hanzheng refused to leave.

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth and snorted.

“If you like work so much, don’t come and see me anymore. Stay at the company and spend time with your work every day.”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and stopped working.

“I am going home now.”

Hearing that he was leaving, Gu Weiwei was satisfied.

“Then... is grandma’s operation confirmed?”

“Yes, tomorrow afternoon,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei felt relieved. It was good that the Old Lady was willing to have the operation.

“Then go back and rest early, don’t miss me so much.”

“Okay.” Fu Hanzheng chuckled and said as he was about to leave the office, “It is getting late, take a rest. Good night.”

“Good night to you too.” Gu Weiwei said goodbye to him and hung up.

Fu Shiqin stared at his brother’s office for five minutes and saw him coming out through the doorway.

“It is getting late, let’s all go home.”

The staff of the Planning Department felt so relieved and Fu Shiqin also packed up and went home.

Sure enough, his sister-in-law’s words were more effective.

Fu Hanzheng was about to go downstairs when Fu Shiqin came running over.

“I will drive.”

“Aren’t you staying at Shiyi’s place?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

If he lived with Fu Shiyi and He Chi, why was he driving back with him?

“Third Brother and I have decided to move back home,” Fu Shiqin said with a smile as he took the car keys.

They had moved back to keep him company because they were worried that he would be alone after getting divorced, and also his sister-in-law was not at home.

Fu Hanzheng got into the car and asked with a cold face, “You called her?”

“Called who?” Fu Shiqin played dumb.

“Weiwei.” Fu Hanzheng reminded him.

“I... didn’t. Sister-in-law asked me if you were home, and I just told her the truth.”

Fu Shiqin lied without hesitation. He did not say that he had to ask her for help to get off work.

Fu Hanzheng did not want to pursue the matter any more. He looked at the scenery outside the window and was no longer in a hurry to go home.

There was no one at home that he wanted to see.

Chapter 968: Doesn’t She Feel Remorse?

At the Gu Family’s mansion in A Land.

Gu Siting’s hurried departure from A Land had made Ling Yan very uneasy.

She had called him, but Gu Siting had not answered.

She had called Kuroda Shio, but he had not told her where they were either.

After Ji Fang received her call, she rushed to the Gu Family and tried to persuade her to leave with her. However, Ling Yan still did not believe that Gu Siting would know everything.

So she insisted on staying at the Gu Family and waiting for him to come home.

“Yanyan, he left in a hurry and did not tell us where he was going. He must have found out something. Just to be safe, let’s go.” Ji Fang worriedly tried to persuade her again.

Although Ling Yan was a bit uneasy, the thought of becoming Mrs. Ling overrode her anxiety.

“He is very busy with work, and it is not like he has not rushed out before.”

Especially when he wanted to break off the engagement with her, so it was normal that he did not tell her where he was.

Now if they left A Land, they would look very suspicious.

“But if he really knows something and comes back, it will be too late.” Ji Fang felt that Gu Siting’s departure this time was a bit strange.

Yet these two days, no matter how much she tried to persuade her, Ling Yan still refused to leave with her.

She was not leaving, and as her mother, she would not leave her alone.

“No, that person never showed up,” Ling Yan said firmly.

Although he had received many people at home during those days, she had always asked someone to keep an eye out for him. He only received people who had business dealings with the company.

Also, the Fu Family had been looking for the Chinese person he was talking about.

Because of that, the Nine-Eyed Heavenly Pearl’s master did not appear.

And there was no such person.

Ji Fang looked at her stubborn daughter, not knowing what to do.

Ling Yan cut a small piece of freshly-made cake and gave it to her mother.

“Mom, try it, how well have I made it?”

Gu Siting liked this kind of cake and Gu Weiwei had made one for him before.

She had tried many times before succeeding.

When Gu Siting was back, she should be able to do a better job than Gu Weiwei.

Ji Fang absentmindedly took a bite and nodded.

“Great, just in time for dessert.”

Satisfied, Ling Yan took a bite and wrapped it up in the box.

“Mom, take this cake back with you and dad, I am fine here.”

Ji Fang thought for a while and tried to persuade her.

“Yanyan, what about... spending the day with me? We can come back if there’s nothing else.”

The anxiety she was feeling inside told her that staying in A Land was very dangerous.

“Mom, I told you that it is okay, you are just worrying too much,” Ling Yan whispered as she untied her apron.

The mother and daughter were just talking when the sound of a car came from outside.

Ling Yan and Ji Fang exchanged a look, restrained their emotions and walked towards the living room.

From afar, she saw Gu Siting, who had been away from home for days.

“Brother Siting, where have you been these past few days? You are finally home.” Ling Yan smiled gently.

Gu Siting looked at the woman who was walking towards him. He had been blinded by her gentle and weak look.

He had never expected that it was her, Weiwei’s friend, who had killed her.

Chapter 969: Doesn’t She Feel Remorse? 2

Ling Yan approached him happily, yet she felt uncomfortable under the man’s lethal gaze.

“Brother Siting, what are you looking at? Do I have something on me?”

She adjusted her hair and touched her face, thinking that she had touched something in the kitchen.

Gu Siting looked at her coldly and said self-mockingly, “I just realized that I just got to know the real you for the first time.”

He had no idea that she could be so cunning and cruel.

Ling Yan smiled, thinking that he had finally found happiness.

“Brother Siting, I have practiced baking this so many times and now I am finally able to make the cake you like. Can I make it for you tomorrow?”

Gu Siting brushed past her and said coldly, “Come with me.”

After a few steps, he turned around and looked at Ling Yan’s mother, Ji Fang.

“Mrs. Ling, you too.”

Ling Yan and Ji Fang exchanged a look and followed Gu Siting. After a while, they found that he was walking towards the secret passage door that led to Gu Weiwei’s body.

The two of them could not help but stop in their tracks. They felt that something was wrong and did not dare to enter.

Kuroda Shio urged them from behind.

“Mrs. Ling, Miss Ling Yan, please.”

Ling Yan and Ji Fang followed him into the secret passage. As they walked through the long underground passage, they saw Gu Siting already standing by the crystal coffin where Gu Weiwei’s body was.

“Brother Siting, why did you ask us to come here?” Ling Yan asked discreetly.

Gu Siting looked at the body in the crystal coffin and laughed at himself.

He had agreed to transplant her heart into the murderer who had killed her. No wonder she hated him so much that she pretended not to know him.

If it had not been for the Nine-Eyed Heavenly Pearl, he might have never known how she had died.

Ji Fang looked at the body in the crystal coffin and looked away guiltily.

Actually, she had not seen Gu Weiwei since the Gu Family took away Gu Weiwei’s body after the operation.

But even if she knew that it was here, she had never seen it before.

Today was the first time.

She was the chief surgeon for the heart transplant surgery and she was the one who removed her heart and gave it to Ling Yan.

When she saw her body again, her hands shook.

But what did Gu Siting mean by asking them to come here all of a sudden?

However, Ling Yan was not as anxious as she was. She was still thinking about what Gu Siting had just said.

He said that it was the first time he truly got to know her.

Had he finally noticed that she was trying so hard?

Thinking of this, she felt quite pleased with herself. She was filled with the fantasy of how they would live after they were truly together.

Gu Siting said, as he stared at the body in the crystal coffin, “Ling Yan, don’t you want to say something to Weiwei?”

Startled, Ling Yan approached him and said to the body in the crystal coffin, “Weiwei, thank you for giving me the opportunity to live on. I will live well and take good care of Brother Siting, you don’t have to worry about us.”

Gu Siting could not stand her lies any more. He reached out for her hair and pushed her head against the crystal coffin.

“This is what you are going to tell her?”

Ling Yan suddenly felt that her scalp was about to be ripped off and she cried out in pain.

“Brother Siting, you are hurting me.”

Chapter 970: Untitled

Seeing this, Ji Fang was so anxious that she wanted to go and help her.

“Siting, talk nicely.”

Kuroda Shio stopped Ji Fang from approaching.

Gu Siting gripped Ling Yan’s hair and pressed her harder against the crystal coffin, so that she could see the body inside.

“Didn’t Weiwei feel pain when you killed her? Didn’t her heart ache when you dug it out?”

...

Hearing his words, Ling Yan widened her eyes in fright and suddenly felt desperate.

He knew?!

He finally understood how Gu Weiwei died!

How did he know? He had not seen that person recently, how did he know?

“Brother Siting, what... are you talking about?”

When Ji Fang heard his words, she was so frightened that her legs turned soft. She swayed and almost lost her balance and fell to the ground.

He knew, he finally... knew.

Seeing Ling Yan playing dumb, Gu Siting said with teeth clenched, “She was not dead, but you injected her with drugs and caused her brain death, and then you asked me to give her heart to you. How dare you! How cruel your heart is!”

He had not believed that she had the guts to do that, and his relationship with Weiwei was the reason why he had not suspected her.

But he had never expected that the person who had killed her was Ling Yan, whom she had saved.

Yet he had given Ling Yan her heart and spent all those months protecting her.

When Weiwei saw them together, she must have hated him so much that she would rather stay with Fu Hanzheng than come back to the Gu Family to find him.

Hearing these words, Ling Yan closed her eyes in despair, knowing that it was useless to defend herself.

It turned out that when he said that he had finally recognized her, it was not because he loved her but because... he finally knew that she had killed Gu Weiwei.

Ji Fang could not stand it anymore and knelt down on the cold floor.

“I did it, I did it all, it has nothing to do with Yanyan.”

“I was the one who injected Gu Weiwei with the drugs and I was the chief surgeon too. I really wanted Yanyan to live. I did it! I killed her! Yanyan doesn’t know anything about it!”

...

Hearing Ji Fang’s words, Gu Siting released Ling Yan’s hair.

Ling Yan had just stood up when she staggered and fell on the crystal coffin.

Her mouth was full of blood.

She took a step backwards as she held the crystal coffin. Gu Siting looked lethal. She did not want to die here, she did not want to die.

“Weiwei has saved you so many times and treated you so well, why did you harm her? Why?” Gu Siting said as he reached out for her neck, watching her struggling to breathe.

Seeing that her daughter Ling Yan was in danger, Ji Fang wanted to save her, but was stopped by Kuroda Shio.

“Gu Siting, I did it! I killed Gu Weiwei! If you want revenge, come to me instead of Yanyan! She doesn’t know, she doesn’t know anything...”

Out of protection for her daughter, she chose to take all the blame herself.

However, Gu Siting did not believe a single word she said.

With his hands over Ling Yan’s neck, he said with his teeth clenched, “But Weiwei told me that it was Ling Yan who injected her with the drug, not you, Mrs. Ling. However, you are right. You are also involved.”
