

Chapter 121: A confidential agreement

With the documents in her arms, Wen Yadai tidied her appearance before she stepped out and only walked forward after she had ensured that she looked fine.

She followed the assistant and entered the office.

The moment she lifted her head, she saw Yu Yuehan, who was browsing through documents in front of the desk.

His handsome face drooped down slightly while rays of light shone around him as he concentrated on his work. Although everyone else could only watch him from a distance, they could not open their eyes because of the glaring rays he was emitting.

“Young Master Han.” Wen Yadai hid the admiration in her eyes and walked forward.

Just when she wanted to say something, she realized that there was someone else sitting on the guest sofa.

Xiao Liuli laid flat on the coffee table and was scribbling all over with her marker while Nian Xiaomu sat by her side and read a book.

She looked like the mistress of the family with her relaxed posture.

Wen Yadai’s gaze tightened as a ray of light flashed past her eyes.

“Have a seat.” Yu Yuehan placed the documents down when he saw her. He shifted his gaze toward the chair before him and motioned for her to sit down.

Wen Yadai was an expert in public relations; she could control her mood very well in both her work and personal matters.

She came back to her senses immediately the moment she heard his voice.

She pulled out the chair and sat down.

“The collaboration with Sheng Da Science and Technology has officially been established. President Chen is very satisfied with our proposal that was drafted by the public relations department, especially the suggestions given for the packaging and publicity of the new project. They will send someone over today to discuss the specific details...”

Wen Yadai was very professional when she talked about work.

Her tone was neither servile nor overbearing. At the same time, her confident and unhurried body language emitted the charms of a career woman.

Furthermore, her pretty looks and concise manner of presentation made those talking to her feel very comfortable as well.

Nian Xiaomu lifted her head up slightly. It was unclear if she was attracted by the contents that they were discussing or if it was for other reasons, but she subconsciously put down the book on nursing knowledge that she had been reading and listened to their conversation.

Her gaze turned increasingly focused when she heard Wen Yadai talk about keywords such as “public relations tactics,” “execution and publicity,” and “packaging.”

She herself wasn’t sure why was she so interested in this.

“The public relations department will follow up comprehensively regarding the execution at the later stage of the project. I have also listed all the other departments that we would need help from in addition to the core of the project...” Wen Yadai stopped abruptly in the middle of her speech.

She twisted her head and looked in Nian Xiaomu’s direction. Her expression became cautious.

“Young Master Han, this collaboration is extremely important. I have already signed a confidentiality agreement with Sheng Da Science and Technology.”

Even though she did not finish her piece, the meaning behind her words was very clear.

Nian Xiaomu was the only outsider in the office.

Naturally, they could not allow her to listen in on the contents of their continued discussion.

Even if she was Xiao Liuliu’s nurse and had Xiao Liuliu there to shield her, Yu Yuehan was scrupulous in separating public from private interests when it came to matters that were related to work.

Sometimes, it was very easy to get someone to recognize their own identity.

You just had to let her know that she still would not be deserving even if she wore a pair of glass slippers on her feet!

Nian Xiaomu had been listening intently and was waiting for Wen Yadai to continue. Suddenly, she met their gazes and came back to her senses with a jolt.

She instantly understood what Wen Yadai meant.

“I’ll bring Xiao Liuliu out to play for a while?” asked Nian Xiaomu. As she spoke, she had already reached out to carry Xiao Liuliu and was preparing to coax her into going for a stroll outside.

When Wen Yadai saw this, the corner of her mouth lifted into a calm smile; one that masked its contempt.

She waited for Yu Yuehan to speak up and chase Nian Xiaomu out of the office.

However, as if a cello was slowly being played, what she heard the next second was his magnetic voice say, “No need for that. Stay if you want to listen.”

Wen Yadai: “...!!”

Chapter 122: Taking the initiative to invite

She looked up in shock, turned toward Yu Yuehan, and said, “Master Han, but...”

“We are only discussing some routine proposals today. There won’t be any confidential details in our discussion, so it’s fine. Continue,” Yu Yuehan prompted her to go on with her report and narrowed his eyes as a tinge of impatience trickled into his tone.

Hearing this, Wen Yadaï clenched her fists in irritation.

She had originally planned to use this chance to embarrass Nian Xiaomu, but failed to succeed in doing so.

However, when she thought about how Yu Yuehan had only allowed Nian Xiaomu to listen in because there was no confidential information to be shared in the discussion, she felt a bit better.

It was a complicated proposal regarding public relations; surely Nian Xiaomu would not be able to make sense of it even if she were to listen in.

Wen Yadaï batted her eyelashes and squeezed a smile onto her face before she carried on with her report.

Nian Xiaomu was about to leave, but stopped in her tracks when she heard what he said.

She looked up in surprise and met with his eyes.

His face was cold, aloof, and did not reveal any emotions.

He only took a glance at her before shifting his gaze back to his work.

The way he acted seemed to suggest that the contents were really not of any importance.

Nian Xiaomu sat down again.

Since he said that she could listen in, she was not going to act awkward over it. Nian Xiaomu put away the book about nursing that she had been reading and listened carefully to what Wen Yadaï was reporting.

By the end of the report, she suddenly understood why Yu Yuehan appreciated Wen Yadaï’s ability more than others’.

Wen Yadaï was really very professional.

She was meticulous in the planning of every big and small detail; from the design of the proposal to the various executive segments...

She had even come up with back-up plans for any emergency circumstances that could arise from several situations.

Listening to her discuss a report would certainly boost the confidence that collaborating partners had in the Yu Corporation.

If it were Nian Xiaomu, she would also hold this kind of competent subordinate in high regard.

“Miss Nian seems very interested in the work of the public relations department. I wonder if you have any thoughts regarding my proposal?” Wen Yadaï closed the document shut and suddenly turned to look at Nian Xiaomu, casually throwing a question at her.

Her tone was gentle and sounded like she was only making small talk without saying anything too abruptly.

Hearing this, even Yu Yuehan raised his eyebrows and looked toward Nian Xiaomu.

It appeared that he was anticipating for her to say something that might surprise him.

Nian Xiaomu was lost in her thoughts and was startled when she suddenly realized that everyone’s attention was on her.

Very quickly, she shook her head.

“I was only curious, so I listened in.”

Hearing her words, Wen Yadaï broke into a smile.

She knew it. How could a nurse possibly understand such a professional proposal?

It was a great honor for her to join them in the same meeting.

The disdain in Wen Yadaï’s heart did not show on her face. Instead, she asked very courteously, “I heard that you have visited a few departments. Would you be interested in taking a look at the public relations department?”

She had been too rash to put Nian Xiaomu down just now. It lacked graciousness on her part.

Since Nian Xiaomu demonstrated an interest in the public relations department, she should use this chance to take her there. It could also ease the awkwardness of what had happened earlier.

When Wen Yadaï was done speaking, she turned and saw that Yu Yuehan had a warm expression on his face. It gave her confirmation that her decision was right.

“...” Nian Xiaomu did not reply immediately, but looked toward Yu Yuehan.

Seeing that he had no objections, she turned toward Wen Yadaï.

“Thank you Manager Wen. I hope that I won’t disturb the work of your department.”

“It’s okay to just take a look.” Wen Yadaï gracefully got up from her seat and took her leave from the office after checking that Yu Yuehan did not have any further instructions.

Chapter 123: Being alive is already a blessing

With Yu Yuehan around as well as Xiao Liuliu being so devoted in her drawing, Nian Xiaomu did not bring her along and followed Wen Yadaï out of the president’s office by herself.

“Miss Nian, you are really pretty. Looking at you from such a distance makes me somewhat jealous of you,” Wen Yadaï said jokingly as they walked to the corridor.

Her blunt way of speaking made it very easy for others to let down their guard.

Nian Xiaomu was stumped for words when she heard this; she reached out and touched her own face.

After which, she laughed softly and said, “Manager Wen, you are flattering me. You are very pretty as well. I have also heard that you are the best public relations manager in the Yu Corporation and that Young Master Han has personally appointed you to be in charge of many big projects.”

These words of Nian Xiaomu’s were facts, not words of flattery.

She had always assumed that it was easier for women to be in a more vulnerable position in the business industry.

However, Wen Yadai caught her by surprise.

She had graceful and calm manners, plus she was always confident in herself. In addition, she also possessed a top quality working ability.

Even if she had not come from her Wen Family background, Wen Yadai herself still had the ability to set off many men into rushing like ducks as they scrambled for something unattainable.

“I don’t think Young Master Han thinks that I am that awesome. It is only because we grew up together that he has more trust in me. As a result, he got me here to do the tough work.” Wen Yadai flashed a gentle smile; it looked like she had recalled the memories of their time as childhood sweethearts.

After which, she looked at Nian Xiaomu.

“Oh yes, I heard that being a nurse is tough work. Actually, you could have tons of job choices since you are so pretty—why did you choose to go into nursing?”

“...” Nian Xiaomu was startled.

Tan Bengbeng’s grave face flashed across her mind and said, “I was the one who saved your life. Yes, you can go to work, but you must at least have the capability of taking care of yourself.”

In order to achieve this request, Nian Xiaomu had spent quite a bit of time just to specially learn about nursing knowledge.

After that, she had naturally put her education to good use and became a nurse.

“Being a nurse is pretty good. I feel a great sense of achievement when I see my patients recovering bit by bit.” Nian Xiaomu came back to her senses and smiled in reply.

“What if the patient doesn’t recover?” Wen Yadai paused in her tracks.

Not everyone could be so lucky.

There should be a lot of patients in the hospital who died unexpectedly.

It was heart wrenching for her just to imagine those scenarios.

Nian Xiaomu's gaze darkened, and she seemed to have thought of something. Her smile disappeared as she said, "It is a law of natural behavior for humans to get sick and die. No one can avoid this. It serves as a reminder for me to treasure everything that I currently possess when I observe them."

Sometimes, being alive was already a blessing.

"What you say is right. I had a great time chatting with you, and I hope that there will be more opportunities like this next time," Wen Yadaï said as she got out of the elevator. She lifted her head and glanced at the public relations department.

These simple sentences seemed to contain other meanings within them.

"..."

Just when Nian Xiaomu thought of a reply, Wen Yadaï interjected and said, "We are here."

Nian Xiaomu followed her gaze and looked over; numerous employees had already noticed them and were peering at them curiously.

She did not reply further, but followed Wen Yadaï and went forward.

"I still have work to do, so I will let some other colleagues bring you around for a tour. That should be okay, right?" Wen Yadaï turned around and asked the moment she reached the entrance of the public relations department.

There was a friendly vibe behind her courteous tone.

Nian Xiaomu had been lost in thought ever since she reached the entrance of the public relations department. As she stared at the door plate of the public relations department, a complex ray of light appeared in her eyes.

When she heard Wen Yadaï speak, she nodded her head and responded, "Yes."

After Wen Yadaï instructed the secretary to show Nian Xiaomu around, she turned and entered the office.

The next second, Xie Jingjing followed her in and closed the door.

"Sister Yadaï, why is that woman here?"

Chapter 124: New, original, special, and full of challenges

She did not reveal a single hint of surprise when she saw Xie Jingjing. Instead, she threw the documents onto the desk and sat down in the chair, seemingly exhausted.

"Don't ask about it."

"She just caused Tianli to be transferred out of the president's office, and now, she is here in the public relations department. What is she up to exactly? Trying to show off her power?" Xie Jingjing grumbled indignantly when she saw Wen Yadaï's face.

“Calm down. Do you think that I love her presence? You are very clear about what has happened over the past two days. She mentioned that she wanted to tour the public relations department in Young Master Han’s presence—how could I, the manager, reject that?” Wen Yadaï reached out and massaged her forehead.

Her voice sounded hoarse.

“Don’t probe any further, receive her properly, and don’t leave behind any pretext for gossip. Give me a moment of peace.”

“... Alright, I got it!” Xie Jingjing gritted her teeth; flames nearly poured out of her eyes.

The next second, she turned around and exited the manager’s office of the public relations department.

The moment that Xie Jingjing’s wrathful back disappeared out of sight, Wen Yadaï lifted her downcast eyes slowly—a sneer crept up from the corner of her mouth.

She leaned against the back of her chair. Lifting up her cup of coffee leisurely, she took a small sip.

The look that had been filled with exhaustion and grievance from earlier had completely disappeared without a trace.

“Miss Nian, let me introduce the staff that work in the public relations department...” As the secretary finished her sentence, numerous people raised their heads and greeted her; it was a harmonious atmosphere.

It could be observed that the employees in the public relations department were more lively and extroverted.

So much so that someone took the initiative and poured a cup of water for Nian Xiaomu.

“The work of the public relations department seems very easy from an outsider’s point of view, but in fact, there are a lot of matters we need to pay particular attention to. Look at this, there is a display wall over there—that wall records all the major projects that our department has completed over the last few years...” said the secretary as Nian Xiaomu was led toward the exhibition wall.

Suddenly, a voice sounded from behind them, “What can you observe from the exhibition wall? Those were past cases; the public relations department did not perform at their best on those.” With a cup of coffee in hand, Xie Jingjing walked forward from the back.

She handed the cup over to Nian Xiaomu and said, “Freshly ground mocha. Do you want to taste it?”

Nian Xiaomu’s gaze crossed over the cup of coffee in Xie Jingjing’s hand and focused on her.

“Xie Jingjing, our supervisor in the public relations department,” the secretary softly explained to Nian Xiaomu at the side.

When she heard this, a ray of light flashed across Nian Xiaomu’s eyes and she asked, “What did you say just now? Which area is the public relations department most proficient in?”

“Every case is just any other ordinary case when it is completed. If you want to talk about the things that are the most interesting of all, that would be the projects that are currently in progress. They are new, original, special, and full of challenges,” Xie Jingjing placed the coffee in her hand and continued explaining.

“The public relations department is executing one of the Yu Corporation’s most important projects of the year. Do you want to take a look?”

“The collaboration project with Sheng Da Science and Technology?” Nian Xiaomu asked subconsciously. She remembered that Wen Yadao had mentioned Sheng Da Science and Technology just now when presenting the report.

Xie Jingjing had not expected for Nian Xiaomu to even know about this. Her eyes darkened and she replied swiftly, “Yes, that is the project I am referring to. I am the one who handled the latest executive report that was just published not long ago. There aren’t many confidential details in the proposal for the previous stage—I can allow you to take a look if you’re interested.”

As Xie Jingjing finished speaking, she turned around, faced the secretary, and ordered, “Leave her to me. You may go and work on your own assignments.”

Once the secretary left, Xie Jingjing took the lead and walked toward her desk. After which, she opened up her laptop.

She sat Nian Xiaomu down in her desk chair, clicked open a document, and said, “This is the one. You can take your time and read it slowly.”

Nian Xiaomu felt that something was wrong—Xie Jingjing was being too enthusiastic. After taking a glance, Nian Xiaomu wanted to get up from the seat when a hand suddenly pressed down onto her shoulders!

Chapter 125: She is a bane

Astonished, Nian Xiaomu turned around and looked at Xie Jingjing, who was beside her. She brushed Xie Jingjing’s arm away subconsciously and stood up from the chair.

Just in the split second when Nian Xiaomu got up, Xie Jingjing suddenly stretched her hand out and flipped the laptop off the desk!

Bam!

The laptop landed on the ground with a loud bang, and the screen shattered in an instant; it flickered twice before it sunk into complete darkness.

Nian Xiaomu was completely startled at that moment and stared at the person before her in disbelief.

Just when she wanted to say something, Xie Jingjing went ahead of her and cried out in alarm, “Aiya! Nian Xiaomu, why are you so careless? This laptop contains the latest executive report!”

Xie Jingjing walked across from her. She picked up the laptop from the ground and pressed the power button again.

An anxious look filled her face...

Nian Xiaomu stared at her blankly. If she had not personally witnessed Xie Jingjing reach out to flip the laptop off the desk, perhaps she might have been deceived as well.

The colleagues around them turned toward them uniformly and stared at them when they heard the sounds of the commotion.

Even Wen Yadai, who was in her office, came out.

“What happened? Why is it so noisy?” Dressed in a professional suit, Wen Yadai walked up swiftly. She knitted her eyebrows after she scanned the scene in front of her.

“Sister Yadai...” Hugging the laptop that could no longer be switched on, Xie Jingjing instantly burst into tears.

“I don’t know either. I saw that Nian Xiaomu was very interested in the job scope of our department, so I allowed her to read the executive report which I had just written out of good intention. I certainly didn’t expect her to drop and break my laptop.”

“The executive report for Sheng Da Science and Technology?” Wen Yadai’s expression changed slightly.

A moment later, the look on her face sunk when she saw Xie Jingjing nodding her head.

“Where’s the spare copy? Don’t all the important reports have a spare copy?”

Xie Jingjing sobbed even more pitifully when she heard this. “I just finished writing it and didn’t have time to prepare a spare copy. I did not expect that something like this would happen...”

Wen Yadai: “...”

Yu Yuehan got wind of the news and proceeded to the public relations department.

Wen Yadai had already edited out the incriminating frames of the CCTV footage by then.

From the angle of the CCTV recording, Xie Jingjing had her back to the camera and could only be seen standing behind Nian Xiaomu in the footage. As both of them chatted on, Nian Xiaomu suddenly stood up from the chair. Then, the laptop crashed to the ground...

The incident happened within both a very short and very sudden frame of time.

It was currently unclear if the footage had been tampered with. However, it could be observed from the CCTV footage that everyone had received Nian Xiaomu with warm hospitality from the moment she entered the public relations department.

This also applied to Xie Jingjing; the cup of mocha coffee that she had made for Nian Xiaomu was still on the desk.

After the incident occurred, Xie Jingjing did not imply that Nian Xiaomu had done it on purpose either. Instead, she only mentioned that Nian Xiaomu knocked over the laptop because she had been careless.

“I have already scheduled an appointment with President Chen from Sheng Da Science and Technology at noon today. They are currently on their way here and will arrive at the Yu Corporation in less than an hour’s time!” exclaimed Wen Yadai, who stood up immediately when she saw Yu Yuehan.

When he heard this, the look on Yu Yuehan’s face darkened slightly.

The client was already on their way here, but a slip-up had occurred at this point in time. What explanation should they provide when the client arrived?

The entire company’s reputation could be affected just because of this incident!

“Young Master Han, Manager Wen has nothing to do with this report. I am responsible for it, but I did not expect for something like this to happen...” As Xie Jingjing spoke, she twisted her head and glanced at Nian Xiaomu; there were words at the tip of her tongue.

The way she behaved instantly caused the others to think that there was something else that she wanted to hide and did not want to tell.

However, it was also a known fact that wherever Nian Xiaomu had been these two days, there was bound to be trouble!

Chapter 126: So crazy!

“Even if it wasn’t intentional, she should have at least apologized when she damaged the laptop...”

“Jingjing is so down on her luck. She was so kind to speak up for that person, but that person did not even say a word of thanks...”

“All of us worked hard to rush out this report. What are we going to do now when the people from Sheng Da will be here soon?”

“...”

There was a hushed discussion among the surrounding people.

When she saw that everyone’s attention was on Nian Xiaomu, a flash of light flickered across Xie Jingjing’s eyes!

This was the result that she wanted.

Nian Xiaomu had only been around in the company for two days, yet she had already landed people from the planning and secretarial departments in trouble. Now, it was the public relations department...

What would people think?

She did not say that Nian Xiaomu had done it intentionally, but everyone would probably harbor suspicions toward her.

Even if it could eventually be proven that Nian Xiaomu had not done it on purpose, it was a fact that the report had been ruined by her hand.

Even if she were not a scheming b*tch, she would at least be a jinx in everyone's eyes!

Even if he did not fire her, Master Han would surely keep her at a distance and not allow her to enter the company again. What else would Nian Xiaomu use to show off then?

When she thought of this, Xie Jingjing's lips curled into a sinister smile.

In contrast to Xie Jingjing, who had been hugging the laptop and acting pitiful, Nian Xiaomu was a picture of calm even when all the fingers were pointing at her as the real culprit.

In fact, she had not even spoken a word to defend herself from the start until now.

She only stood in front of Xie Jingjing's seat, deep in thought with her eyebrows knitted.

Yu Yuehan followed her line of vision and noticed that she was looking at the documents on the table. From the headings, they appeared to be a summary of proposals from the various teams.

Xie Jingjing's report must have been written using these original materials.

Why was she looking at that instead of explaining herself?

With a glint of mischief in her eyes, Wen Yadai walked toward Yu Yuehan and said, "Master Han, all we can do is explain the situation to Sheng Da Science and Technology and request that they allow us to postpone the meeting for a day..."

"Could you lend me a laptop?" Nian Xiaomu suddenly spoke up.

She turned and looked toward Yu Yuehan.

Her animated eyes were sparkling with a glow that no one could figure out.

She just looked fixedly at him, her gaze filled with sincerity.

"What are you trying to do, Nian Xiaomu?" Startled, Wen Yadai felt a surge of uneasiness within her.

However, when she thought about it further, she felt that it was not possible.

Nian Xiaomu was a nurse. She did not even understand the contents of the project. How would she be able to come up with an executive report at the very last minute?

Wen Yadai steadied her nerves and ignored Nian Xiaomu's request. She turned toward Yu Yuehan again and repeated, "Director Chen and I are on good terms. He has faith in my ability, so I am certain that he would understand our predicament."

Nian Xiaomu had caused disruption to the work of the public relations department, but it was Wen Yadai who would help to resolve the issue.

This way, it would be even more obvious that Nian Xiaomu could not even match up to Wen Yadai's little finger!

Wen Yadai stood in front of Yu Yuehan with confidence and awaited his response.

"Give her a laptop," Yu Yuehan said. His gaze was not on her, but directed at Nian Xiaomu.

The surrounding people's faces were frozen in shock at his words.

Especially Wen Yadai.

No matter how composed she was, she almost lost control at this moment.

"Master Han..."

"Giving an explanation is our last resort. Since the people from Sheng Da have not arrived yet, that means there is still time to make amends." Yu Yuehan gestured for the person next to him to hand a laptop to Nian Xiaomu.

She had not said what she was going to do, but strangely, he could read her thoughts.

"Do you intend to depend on Nian Xiaomu?" Wen Yadai finally grasped what he was saying, and her jaw dropped in shock.

Chapter 127: 39 minutes

"I was on the phone with President Chen from Sheng Da Science and Technology just now. He was already leading his team from his company and is on his way—he will surely be here within an hour. That's a really short period of time..."

Wen Yadai did not know how to continue elaborating.

Even if the task was passed on to her, she also would have no confidence in churning out an executive report in such a short period of time.

As such, her first reaction was to explain the situation to the other party and to try to push back the meeting time.

But now...

Wen Yadai was not the only person who did not trust Nian Xiaomu—all the employees from the public relations department who were present had bizarre expressions.

They stared blankly for a long time, but none of them spoke.

When they came back to their senses, all of them stared straight at Nian Xiaomu!

Nian Xiaomu took the computer from an employee. Ignoring the negative thoughts of the onlookers, she pulled out the chair and collected all the documents on the table before her.

As she browsed and read the documents, she simultaneously typed on the laptop at lightning speed.

The scenario of Wen Yadai reporting her work to Yu Yuehan floated in Nian Xiaomu's mind.

She wouldn't have been able to churn out an executive report without any background since she did not have any understanding of Sheng Da Science and Technology.

It was coincidental, however, that Yu Yuehan had just allowed her to listen to a report that no one else had the chance to hear.

Wen Yadaï was the manager of the public relations department and everyone was aware of her capability—no one would know more than her regarding this project.

Previously, she had already explained the main outline of the project when she reported her work at the president's office.

In addition, there was a bunch of information on Xie Jingjing's desk.

Also, Nian Xiaomu had taken a glance at the executive report just now...

A grid seemed to have unfolded in Nian Xiaomu's mind—one by one, she arranged all the requests and data from the clients onto the grid. Along with the movements of her fingers on the keyboard, she recorded these details bit by bit into the open document on the laptop.

Time ticked by.

As the contents of the report continuously appeared on the laptop screen, the public relations department, which had just been bustling with activity, gradually quieted down.

Yu Yuehan sat behind her. With deep and soulful eyes, his royal figure leaned against the back of his chair.

The person sitting before the laptop seemed to have changed into a completely different person.

Serious, concentrated, and with an aura that was all spread out...

She stared at the information in front of her with a very high browsing speed and multi-tasked as she continued to type.

If he had not remembered incorrectly, this mode of reading was a habit cultivated by people who had been reviewing documents for a long time. How was she able to do this?

He was not only astonished by this.

39 minutes.

From the start of when she received the laptop to the completion of the entire executive report—all of this only took her a grand total of 39 minutes.

Not even 40 minutes.

Almost everyone held their breaths when Nian Xiaomu stopped working.

They watched on as she connected the laptop to the printer, printed the entire report, and then handed it over to Yu Yuehan.

Even Wen Yadaï couldn't help but to stretch her neck out; she wanted to read the report that Nian Xiaomu had written.

When she realized her actions, she was startled and withdrew in a hurry.

She comforted herself internally.

No way. She might believe in Nian Xiaomu for other matters, but how could Nian Xiaomu, as a nurse, have the ability to do something that even Wen Yadaï herself did not have the confidence to do?

She had to be deliberately deceiving herself.

Everything would be unmasked and the whole truth would be revealed by the time Young Master Han finished reading Nian Xiaomu's report!

However, Yu Yuehan still had no reaction even after a minute had passed.

At the two minute mark, there were finally some changes in his gaze. Just when she felt secretly delighted that Nian Xiaomu was going to run out of luck, she discovered that the gleam from his eyes was actually full of praise and shock...

Before Wen Yadaï understood what was going on, Yu Yuehan had already handed the report to her.

"You are the person in charge of the project. Take a look at this."

Chapter 128: He only had eyes for her

"..." Wen Yadaï stared at the report that Yu Yuehan had passed to her. She hesitated for a few seconds before taking it from him.

Xie Jingjing, who was standing next to her, subconsciously moved forward.

Like Wen Yadaï, she had not thought that Nian Xiaomu would have been able to rewrite an executive report in such a short time.

When she clearly read the contents of the report in front of her, the color drained from her face.

She could not wait for Wen Yadaï to finish going through it and impatiently snatched it over from her hands. She quickly flipped through to the end of the report and stood shell-shocked, clutching the report in her hands.

This report was very similar to her own.

There were a few changes made in the details, but Xie Jingjing could not find any fault in the content of these changes.

No one else had seen her report, but she knew it the best in her heart.

Nian Xiaomu's report was even better than the one that she had written!

"This is impossible..." Xie Jingjing mumbled to herself as she clutched the report in her hands. She appeared to be shocked out of her wits.

A look of concern furrowed Wen Yadaï's brow. She took the report from Xie Jingjing's hands.

The look in her eyes changed slightly.

"How is it Manager Wen?"

“You don’t think we can use a report that was written in such a short time right?”

“I recall that Nian Xiaomu is merely a nurse. What would she know about public relations...”

“...”

The surrounding colleagues looked toward Wen Yadai, waiting for her to speak.

Wen Yadai gripped the document tightly and wished that she could say that the report was useless. However, Yu Yuehan was sitting right there. She could fool everyone else, but she could not deceive him.

She could only tell the truth!

“Although there are areas for improvement, it is a pretty good proposal,” Wen Yadai replied professionally as she turned toward Yu Yuehan and tried to maintain her composure.

“...” Yu Yuehan’s eyes flickered, but there was no way to see through the look in his eyes or guess what he was thinking.

His gaze was on Nian Xiaomu the whole time.

Wen Yadai watched in chagrin and frustration.

“Master Han, Director Chen and his team from Sheng Da Science and Technology have arrived,” reported a secretary who hurried in from outside.

Hearing this, Yu Yuehan turned his chair around and raised his eyebrow at Wen Yadai as he said with an air of indifference, “Take Nian Xiaomu to meet with the people from Sheng Da and get her to go through the executive report.”

Wen Yadai: “...”

When she met with his cold gaze, she did not even dare to say “no” to him.

In addition to her outstanding competency at work, Yu Yuehan admired her ability to keep her work and personal feelings separate.

She should not ruin her image in his heart just because of Nian Xiaomu.

Through gritted teeth, she said to Nian Xiaomu, “You follow me.”

“...” Nian Xiaomu’s mind had been blank ever since she completed the report. When she heard Wen Yadai’s words, she instinctively looked toward Yu Yuehan.

She was about to say that she lacked experience when she saw him mouth the words: “Triple salary bonus at the end of the month.”

At once, Nian Xiaomu held her tongue and stopped herself from saying what she had wanted to say!

She followed Wen Yadai to the meeting room in the public relations departments.

Yu Yuehan got up nonchalantly and walked to Wen Yadai's office. In her office, there was a surveillance system that showed what was going in the entire public relations department, including the meeting room!

When Yu Yuehan sat down, the secretary hurriedly served him a cup of coffee and placed it next to him.

"Master Han, do you have any other instructions?"

"..."

Yu Yuehan pursed his lips and did not reply. He gestured for the secretary to take his leave and then propped his head on his hand as he waited for Nian Xiaomu to appear on the screen of the surveillance system...

Chapter 129: A bane turned lucky star

Wen Yadai found Nian Xiaomu a set of professional clothing at the very last minute. With her hair coiled up, she looked neat and experienced.

At first, her delicate face revealed a hint of nervousness when she stepped foot into the guest room, but she soon acclimated into situation.

With her slim figure facing the front of the projector, she explained the highlights of the proposal in a calm and composed manner.

She looked like a crafty little fox during normal times due to her pair of quick-witted eyes and her bent eyebrows. However, at this moment, she revealed a strong and formidable aura; so much so that her gaze conveyed some of that power.

She became the focus of everyone present as she stood there.

She was very confident and was glowing with health and vigor.

Yu Yuehan sat in front of the computer and watched Nian Xiaomu through the screen—she was glowing from the inside. Her pretty and flirtatious eyes squinted as a complex look flashed past her eyes.

Tapping her tender and slender fingers softly on the tabletop, she sunk into deep thoughts.

The meeting would end very shortly.

With Nian Xiaomu at her side, Wen Yadai personally sent off the representatives from Sheng Da Science and Technology and returned back to the public relations department.

Everyone gathered at the public relations department and looked around in anticipation.

They gathered in front of the two ladies immediately after they appeared and asked, "Manager Wen, what is the situation like? "Was President Chen satisfied with the proposal that we put together?"

Xie Jingjing's mood was the most restless out of all the people present.

She had bet on the fact that Nian Xiaomu did not know about the tactics of public relations and would not know what to do when problems arose with the executive report. Hence, she set Nian Xiaomu up to directly target this specific weakness of hers.

She had wanted everyone to think that Nian Xiaomu was a bane and wanted to incite hateful feelings toward her.

However, she had never expected that Nian Xiaomu would churn out a report at the very last minute—even doing it in front of the whole public relations department!

If President Chen was truly satisfied with the executive report, then everything she had planned would not end up being a slap to Nian Xiaomu's face. Instead, it would turn out that Xie Jingjing had paved a bright path for her.

Not only had she not made Nian Xiaomu a bane in everyone's eyes, she had even made her the lucky star of the public relations department!

When she thought about this, she could not calm down no matter what.

However, a trace of hope ignited within her when she lifted her head and saw Wen Yadaï's awful look.

Could it be that Nian Xiaomu had screwed up the report and that President Chen was unsatisfied with it?

Could he also have showered words of abuse and scolded her out of anger?

As these thoughts ran through her mind, she became very agitated. Squeezing to the front, she stretched out her hand and grabbed onto Wen Yadaï's hand.

"Manager, how was it exactly? You can just speak the truth—there's no need to preserve anyone's reputation!"

"..." Wen Yadaï's expression turned even uglier when she heard Xie Jingjing.

She pushed Xie Jingjing's hand away and walked to Yu Yuehan.

"President Chen was very satisfied with our executive report. It was just confirmed that we will execute the project according to the proposal."

When they heard this, voices of celebration immediately rang out in the public relations department.

Xie Jingjing was the only one who stood there blankly; she did not come back to her senses even after a long while.

She wanted to follow the example of the colleagues around her and laugh along, but her smiling turned out to be uglier than her crying...

Nian Xiaomu stood at the door and was calculating her tripled salary gleefully.

When she lifted her head and saw Xie Jingjing, she finally remembered that she had forgotten about something very important!

With narrowed eyes, she walked up to Yu Yuehan and said, "I was not the one who broke the laptop."

It was bustling with noise and excitement in the public relations department.

Everyone was celebrating, so many of them did not notice what she said.

She repeated it again. When she saw that Yu Yuehan did not react to her, she thought that he had not heard what she said.

She raised her voice and repeated it yet again, "Xie Jingjing was the one who pushed the laptop off the table right before my eyes."

The public relations department, which had just been bustling with noise, suddenly quieted down the moment she finished her sentence.

Everyone's gaze changed, and all of them stared at her uniformly!

Chapter 130: Evidence! How awkward!

Nian Xiaomu had only intended to tell Yu Yuehan that she was not the one who had caused any trouble for the public relations department. She was taken aback when she realized that everyone had heard what she said.

When she regained her composure, she straightened herself up.

Since she had said it out loud, she might as well explain it clearly.

"At that moment, I thought something wasn't right, so I wanted to get up. Then, Xie Jingjing suddenly reached out and pushed the laptop to the floor..." said Nian Xiaomu with a crisp voice as she recounted the earlier situation in a calm tone.

If she had said all of this earlier when the incident had just happened, everyone would have accused her of trying to shirk responsibility and pushing the blame onto Xie Jingjing.

Right now, however, she was the one who had solved the problem for the public relations department.

Even if the laptop had really been damaged by her, she had made amends by rewriting the report.

There was absolutely no need to frame someone else.

This was why everyone spontaneously looked toward Xie Jingjing after Nian Xiaomu spoke out.

Xie Jingjing turned pale in panic. "Nian Xiaomu, what nonsense are you talking about? The laptop was obviously knocked over by you! I was being nice and explained the situation for you, yet you want to frame me for it? Where is your conscience?"

Xie Jingjing clenched her fists as her eyes burned with anger and indignation.

Wen Yadaï had already checked the surveillance footage, and no one could tell who had knocked over the laptop. As long as she did not admit to it, there was no proof to back Nian Xiaomu's words!

Xie Jingjing knew that victimizing herself would put her in a sympathetic light, so she turned to look at Yu Yuehan.

“Master Han, I’ve already been in the company for many years. I’ve always been very careful in my work, and my colleagues in the public relations department can vouch for me. I’m the one in charge of the executive report, so why would I jeopardize my own job?”

Xie Jingjing turned to face Nian Xiaomu as she talked.

“You claim that I was the one who damaged the laptop, yet let me ask you this. We bear no grudges against each other, so what good would this do for me?”

“...”

The look on everyone’s faces changed when she spoke.

Nian Xiaomu knitted her brows.

This was the issue that she could not figure out either.

They had had no interaction prior to this. Why would Xie Jingjing do this?

However, it was a fact that Nian Xiaomu had seen with her own eyes that Xie Jingjing had reached out to flip the laptop off the table!

Nian Xiaomu pursed her lips and turned toward Yu Yuehan.

She could not read what the emotions were beneath that aloof expression on his face.

His penetrative gaze swept across the people in the room. Then, he pulled a chair out and sat down as he said, “Check the footage from the surveillance camera at the door.”

Hearing this, everyone was stunned.

They did not understand what he was saying.

Hadn’t they already checked the surveillance cameras without finding anything?

What was the point of checking again?

Quickly, someone realized that the surveillance camera that he was talking about was different from the one that Wen Yadaï had checked!

The surveillance camera in the office only captured the rear view of the two of them.

The surveillance camera at the door, however, could capture footage of their side profiles!

When this revelation struck Wen Yadaï, she clenched her fists even more tightly.

She wanted to say something, but the secretary had already retrieved the footage from the surveillance camera right after Yu Yuehan gave the order.

As expected, the surveillance camera at the door distinctly recorded the scene of Nian Xiaomu getting up and Xie Jingjing suddenly raising her arm in the direction of where the laptop was...

Unfortunately, at the most critical moment, the two of them blocked what really happened to the laptop.

It was hard to say if Xie Jingjing had accidentally or purposely pushed the laptop off the desk.

However, this proved that Nian Xiaomu was not lying.

The culprit who had caused the laptop to crash to the floor was Xie Jingjing!

“No, it wasn’t me... It must be the angle of the surveillance camera. Master Han, I’ve always been very serious about my work. I would never risk my job like this...”
