

My Life 1301

Chapter 1301: An Agreement Between Father and Daughter

City H.

Nian Xiaomu, who had just gotten off the phone, turned around and saw Yu Yuehan holding onto Xiao Liuliu's hands as they walked out of the prize redemption area.

"Mommi!"

Xiao Liuliu was carrying a plushie so huge that her tiny palm-sized face was on the verge of getting completely blocked by it.

She ran toward Nian Xiaomu anxiously despite not having a clear view of her path ahead. However, before she could reach Nian Xiaomu, she tripped over her own feet and lurched forward.

With her sharp eyes and agile hands at work, Nian Xiaomu caught the collar of her shirt at the very last second.

She hoisted her soft and squishy body up.

Just as she was about to get worried about her being injured, the tiny ball of cuteness before her chuckled and jumped into her embrace. With her tiny arms wrapped around her neck, she proceeded to nestle snugly in her embrace.

She was so happy that it was as if she had done something bad on the sly.

Nian Xiaomu lifted her head and looked at Yu Yuehan. She noticed that he, too, had the same "sly smile" hanging on his face. As her nerves instinctively tightened, she pulled Xiao Liuliu out from her embrace.

Lowering her gaze, she stared at her tender and delicate face and asked in a serious tone, "Did Daddy say bad things about Mummy just now when he took you over to redeem the prize?"

"Nooo!" Xiao Liuliu shook her head with a smiley face. Then, she hooked her neck with her tiny arms again and jumped into her embrace.

All of a sudden, she thought of something and reached out to touch her tummy.

She let out a wicked laugh.

"Daddi said that if Xiao Liuliu allowed him to have Mommi tonight, Xiao Liuliu will have a younger brother to play with on Children's Day next year!"

"..."

As Xiao Liuliu's hair bun tilted sideways along with her crooked head, she asked expectantly, "Is there already a little brother in Mommi's tummy?"

"..."

Yu Yuehan, you're a hooligan!

The injury on Nian Xiaomu's left shoulder still hadn't healed and she could only use her strength in her right arm. However, she had not felt any pain when she had grabbed Xiao Liuliu in a hurry earlier on.

Xiao Liuliu was fine now, but her shoulder was starting to hurt.

In addition, it was inevitable for Xiao Liuliu to rub against her shoulder since she was in her embrace.

It had been a long time since Nian Xiaomu had seen the tiny ball of cuteness, and she had originally wanted to endure the pain and hug her a little longer. The next second, however, Yu Yuehan had already walked forward and lifted Xiao Liuliu up from her embrace.

He placed her atop his shoulders.

As he held onto her right hand with his other hand, he cast her a sideways glance.

"I see admiration and adoration in your eyes. Did you suddenly realize that your man looks a little handsome?"

"I am sorry, I only see a look of shamelessness on your face!" Nian Xiaomu stuck her tongue out at him before turning around and headed toward the next games booth.

This was the first time they had spent Children's Day with Xiao Liuliu together.

Xiao Liuliu appeared to be very excited with her Daddy and Mummy around.

The moment they entered the amusement park, she wanted to touch and see everything.

Yu Yuehan was unstoppable when he started to pamper his daughter. Just like a team, the father and daughter duo played all of the available games.

For the games that Xiao Liuliu could not participate in, she would stand aside and watch Yu Yuehan play them.

By the time the sky had darkened and they were about to leave the amusement park, the boot of their car was loaded with prizes of all sizes.

Xiao Liuliu dived into Nian Xiaomu's embrace the moment she got in the car.

Just like a furry hamster, she carefully avoided Nian Xiaomu's injured left shoulder and rested her squishy body on Nian Xiaomu's lap.

Then, she stuck her tiny head against her tummy and grinned.

She started to greet his non-existent younger brother in a childish voice.

"Mommi, can younger brother hear me?"

Chapter 1302: Objection Dismissed!

"..."

Because of the father and daughter, she was starting to doubt herself and wondered if she was really pregnant...

There was nothing in her stomach, so where had the younger brother come from?

As Nian Xiaomu's animated eyes flickered, she thought of something and lifted the expectant looking Xiao Liuliu up. "Do you want a younger brother badly?"

"I want! Xiaoli has a younger brother, and Xiaoming has a younger brother. And ..." Xiao Liuliu stretched her fingers and started to list her kindergarten classmates with younger siblings.

Her tiny lips sunk as she counted.

"But Xiao Liuliu does not have a younger brother."

A crafty look flashed past Nian Xiaomu's eyes as she said, "Who said you don't have one? Xiao Liuliu has a younger brother as well! Mummy will take you to your younger brother now, alright?"

Xiao Liuliu agreed readily.

Instead, Yu Yuehan, who had just got in the car after organizing all of the toys, lifted his eyebrows in doubt when he heard what she had said.

Where is she going to get a younger brother for Xiao Liuliu?

The earliest they could get a baby would be at least eight to nine months from now provided they returned home right now and worked on it.

Nian Xiaomu still remembered how he had plotted against her earlier on. As she hugged onto Xiao Liuliu tightly, she instructed Executive Assistant Yang to drive to the hospital.

She was not pregnant, but there was a pregnant lady in the hospital.

They had not had the time to visit Tang Yuansi after he had undergone an operation the previous time, so this was the perfect timing to head over and get updated on his condition.

She was not even sure if Shangxin could manage everything on her own since she was pregnant right now...

"You want to take my daughter to the hospital on Children's Day? No way!"

The moment Yu Yuehan heard the instructions that Nian Xiaomu had given, he instantly understood what she was plotting and rejected it without hesitation.

Nian Xiaomu said, "Objection dismissed!"

Xiao Liuliu blurted, "Objection dismissed!"

Just like a machine, Xiao Liuliu mimicked Nian Xiaomu and repeated what she said.

The way she shook and tilted her head was extremely adorable.

Yu Yuehan's face darkened and he became speechless after being "betrayed" by the mother and daughter duo at the same time.

As Xiao Liuliu blinked her huge eyes, she crawled across Nian Xiaomu's embrace and touched his face with her plump hands to comfort him.

"Daddi, don't cry. I'll let you have Mommi once I have a younger brother in the future!

"..."

Xiao Liuliu, your mother is still around; she will cry if you say this in front of her!

The car came to a stop at the hospital.

Xiao Liuliu, who was still excitedly talking about meeting her younger brother, had already fallen into a deep sleep in Yu Yuehan's embrace.

She rested her tiny face on his neck and even wrapped her tiny arms around him.

Both father and daughter were dressed in matching outfits and it was a beautiful sight whenever they were around.

"Xiao Liuliu has fallen asleep. Why don't both of you remain here, I'll take go up to take a quick look at Shangxin and come back after that." Nian Xiaomu inquired.

The injuries on her body were not healed yet.

Even though they were at City H, which was the Yu Family's territory, it could not be guaranteed that she would be safe.

"Let's go up together, I can see if Tang Yuansi is dead." Yu Yuehan replied indifferently and carried Xiao Liuliu out of the car.

"..."

Look at the way he cursed his friend when he was actually the most worried one back when Tang Yuansi was gravely ill.

She would definitely be filled with jealousy if not for the fact that his life was at stake.

While Executive Assistant Yang parked the car, the family of three bought a bouquet of flowers at the entrance of the hospital and headed over to the VIP ward.

Just as they reached Tang Yuansi's ward, they heard voices sounding from inside.

"Ouch, be more gentle, Brother Xiaosi, I am pregnant with your child..."

"I am not experienced in this, you can let me practice more often in the future..."

Chapter 1303: Xiao Liuliu Has a Younger Brother Now!

Nian Xiaomu, who was standing outside the ward, seemed to have frozen to the ground in an instant.

As she cast a glance at Yu Yuehan with a blushing face, she let out an awkward cough.

"Perhaps today is not a good time to pay them a visit. Shall we come again another day?"

After Nian Xiaomu finished speaking, she cursed silently in her heart.

“How could I not have seen through Tang Yuansi’s perverted character in the past? He wanted to practice his skills when they were in the hospital with a pregnant Shangxin. Oh my god, I feel ashamed to hear this sentence...”

Before the thoughts in Nian Xiaomu’s mind could stop forming, the nurse on patrol reached the ward and stopped right in front of them.

“Are the two of you here for a visitation? Please make way if you are not entering the ward.”

“... I don’t think this is good, perhaps it is not convenient for them now.” Just as Nian Xiaomu was wondering how she should explain to the nurse that someone in the ward was acting like a hooligan, the nurse had already bypassed them and knocked on the door.”

Then, she twisted open the doorknob and entered the ward before Nian Xiaomu could be sure if she had heard any replies.

“Tss—”

Nian Xiaomu inhaled in shock; she could not stop the nurse in time and could only follow her in.

She thought that she could help to soothe the “terrified” nurse if any issues popped up.

When she walked to the bed and saw Tang Yuansi, who was helping Shangxin to comb her hair while sporting a clean-cut look himself, she stood rooted to the ground!

“Were the two of you practicing hair-tying skills the entire time?”

“...”

As Tang Yuansi and Shangxin looked at her with confused expressions, they seemed to be asking her what else could they be doing with their gazes.

“...”

This was awkward.

If she were to tell them now that she had misunderstood them earlier on and thought that they were doing something shameful, wouldn’t she appear to have a dirty mind?...

Since the nurse is around too, she shall not embarrass herself, yeah?

“Cough! Cough!”

As Nian Xiaomu let out two fake coughs, she walked toward the nurse and tried to divert the topic.

“Is his condition alright now?”

“President Tang’s operation was very successful and his body is also steadily decreasing its resistance toward drugs. He should be able to get discharged very soon, just that he still has to take care of his health and come back to the hospital for regular checkups.”

Nian Xiaomu quietly listened to the nurse’s lengthy explanation.

She only turned around and rushed into Shangxin's embrace after the nurse left.

"Baby, I miss you so much!"

"I miss you too, the baby in my tummy misses you too!" Shangxin hugged her excitedly.

"..."

Those who were not aware of what was going on might think that both of them were a couple instead.

And so, the two men were abandoned by their women at the same time.

Shangxin rolled her eyes at Tang Yuansi just as he reminded them that he was the baby's father. After she complained that he was being too noisy, she dragged Nian Xiaomu toward the sofa.

"I was very worried about your condition after I heard that you met with danger in City N, and I was so afraid. How's the wound on your arm..."

Shangxin examined Nian Xiaomu.

Nian Xiaomu examined Shangxin too. When she spotted the slight bulge on her tummy, she could not resist herself and touched it.

"We especially came back today to celebrate Children's Day with Xiao Liuliu. However, she kept on asking for a younger brother, and I had no other choice but to bring her here..."

Before Nian Xiaomu could finish speaking, Xiao Liuliu, who was sleeping soundly in Yu Yuehan's embrace, suddenly woke up when she heard the two words "younger brother".

As she stood up on her tiny legs, she slipped her equally tiny body down from Yu Yuehan's body and headed toward the sofa while rubbing her big, muddled eyes.

She seemed to have detected the scent of a "younger brother", as she walked toward Shangxin directly instead of approaching Nian Xiaomu first.

She lifted her little head obediently and asked, "Can Xiao Liuliu sleep with younger brother?"

Chapter 1304: Reserve A Spot First

Shangxin was stumped by the abrupt question.

A pregnant lady's heart would usually soften whenever they saw children, especially when they met such an obedient and adorable kid as Xiao Liuliu.

Because she had rested on Yu Yuehan's shoulder for a nap earlier on, her hair that was tied up in two buns looked a little loose and messy, and this made her palm-sized face seem even smaller than before.

A dazed and sleepy look accompanied her huge eyes as she lifted her head slightly. However, at the mention of a younger brother, her pretty eyes shimmered.

Shangxin squatted down and carried her to the sofa. As she ruffled her thin and soft hair, she asked gently, "Does Xiao Liuliu like her younger brother?"

Xiao Liuliu nodded her head and replied, "Yes!"

After going through some thinking, she added, "I will like him if he is good looking!"

"..."

Taken aback, Shangxin asked again, "Will you still like your younger brother if he isn't good looking?"

As Xiao Liuliu tilted her little head, she smiled until her eyebrows arched and happily replied, "Since Auntie is good looking, younger brother will be good looking too! As good looking as Xiao Liuliu!"

"..."

Shangxin lifted her head and took a glance at Nian Xiaomu. With her gaze, she asked if she had taught her daughter this.

When Nian Xiaomu spotted Yu Yuehan, who was pulling a long face from the corner of her eyes, she denied it without a second thought.

"Not me, it has absolutely nothing to do with me!"

She was really innocent!

She liked to look at older, handsome men when she was young; unlike Xiao Liuliu, who did not even let go of the chance to get her hands on good looking younger brothers.

Furthermore, she only took action when she saw good looking young men, whereas Xiao Liuliu had already started to reserve a little baby who was still in his mother's womb...

Is this a situation whereby the student surpassed the master?

Wow Xiao Liuliu, nobody can afford to offend you!

Even Nian Xiaomu conceded defeat when she heard her reasoning for having a handsome younger brother since he would have inherited Shangxin's good genes.

She was undoubtedly her biological daughter with that IQ!

"Auntie, can Xiao Liuliu sleep with younger brother?" Xiao Liuliu seemed to be very persistent on this question, as she repeated her question when she realized that Shangxin had not answered her.

"Can I touch younger brother?"

"Of course!"

As Shangxin snapped back to her senses, she immediately held her hand and placed it on top of her tummy.

Xiao Liuliu felt around her slightly bulging tummy very seriously even though the fetal movement could not be distinctly detected yet.

She kept her smile and the nerves on her face tightened.

She seemed elated yet nervous.

As she stroked Shangxin's tummy, she pursed her tiny lips and gently called out "younger brother".

Then, she lifted her head and looked at Shangxin.

"Can younger brother hear what I am saying?"

"..."

Could she say that she didn't know the answer? This aside, Xiao Liuliu's adorable look made Shangxin have a strong urge to take her home!

"Younger brother is too young now and he might not be able to hear you. However, he will be able to hear you when he is born; after he is delivered, he could even address you as 'older sister' when he grows a little older."

Shangxin lifted Xiao Liuliu up and kissed her little face.

The next second, however, Xiao Liuliu stopped smiling.

She tilted her head and pondered seriously for a long time.

"Alright then, I'll take young brother home and raise him after he is born!"

"..."

Both Tang Yuansi and Shangxin were speechless. Had their baby been reserved when it was still in her tummy, even before it was born?

"Mommi, you can follow Daddi home. I am not leaving." Xiao Liuliu disregarded Tang Yuansi and Shangxin's astonishment and simply turned around to look at Nian Xiaomu.

Nian Xiaomu asked, "What about you?"

Xiao Liuliu replied, "I want to stay here and accompany younger brother while he is sleeping. I want to reserve a spot first so that the good looking younger brother will be mine the moment he is born!"

"...!!"

Can things be done this way?!

Chapter 1305: I Can Raise Him in the Future

She refused to leave now she had met her younger brother and even thought of abandoning her parents. Xiao Liuliu, you are only three years old!

If you behave like this, your Daddy would cry even if your Mummy is fine.

As Nian Xiaomu silently shook her head, she noticed that Yu Yuehan's face had indeed turned so dark that black ink was about to drip down from it.

It must have crossed his mind that the little princess—whom he had pampered for so many years—was about to heartlessly abandon him, just because of a younger brother that was still in his mother's tummy!

"No way!"

As Yu Yuehan met Nian Xiaomu's gaze, he walked forward without a second word and lifted the tiny cuddly ball up from the sofa.

He seemed to be afraid that she would be snatched away by others as he locked her tightly in her embrace.

"Why not? I will be good and I will not disturb younger brother's sleep." Xiao Liulu lifted her tiny head up from Yu Yuehan's embrace and guaranteed with an obedient look.

"..."

Yu Yuehan's heart stifled further!

He gritted his teeth and said, "Daddy will not be able to sleep if you are not by my side!"

When Xiao Liulu heard this, she frowned and lectured him with a scrunched up face, "Daddy, it is not right for you to lie!"

"..."

Xiao Liulu continued to say, "You just said earlier that you did not wish to see Xiao Liulu when you sleep tonight because you wanted to sleep with Mommi. You told Xiao Liulu to be obedient and sleep alone."

"..."

Where did his innocent and cute little princess go?

Why did she turn into a little fox the moment she got a younger brother?

Yu Yuehan lifted his head to look at Nian Xiaomu and gestured her with his gaze.

He wanted her to hurry and coax Xiao Liulu.

However, Nian Xiaomu cut their ties in a hurry and said, "This has nothing to do with me, I have never taught Xiao Liulu this!"

"We shall settle the scores another day for the times when you added handsome young men to your collection. Since you know Xiao Liulu's thoughts the best, you can coax her into returning home now!" Yu Yuehan took in a deep breath and willed himself to remain calm.

He was a gentle father, and he must reason things out.

He could not cause his little princess to feel irritated toward him just because of a jerk who was not even born yet.

The more he could not allow his little princess to start adding good looking younger brothers to her collection at such a young age!

Yes!

He shall coax Xiao Liuliu into going home first, and they shall sit together and have a long talk about it then.

“...”

Nian Xiaomu cast a glance at Yu Yuehan after she was suddenly assigned the mission. She could not help but laugh when she saw how determined he was to coax Xiao Liuliu home, that it seemed as though he was even willing to sleep in the hospital tonight just to protect his little princess.

As she tugged his handsome face, she leaned forward and planted a kiss on it.

“Yu Yuehan, how could you look so adorably foolish?”

Nian Xiaomu turned around and waved at Xiao Liuliu, who was tucked in his embrace. “It will be a long time before younger brother comes out, let’s go home to have a sleep first. Mummy promises to bring you over to visit younger brother once he can make some movements.”

“Really? Younger brother can move in the tummy?” Indeed, Xiao Liuliu’s eyes enlarged with curiosity and she slid down excitedly from Yu Yuehan’s embrace.

She moved her short legs and darted toward Nian Xiaomu’s thighs.

Nian Xiaomu conveniently scooped her up and told her to look at Shangxin’s tummy.

“Auntie’s tummy will grow bigger and bigger, and we will be able to feel younger brother’s movements when he grows a little bigger. Xiao Liuliu was also like this when you were in Mummy’s tummy!”

“...” Xiao Liuliu was so astonished that her tiny mouth had already turned O shaped.

Nian Xiaomu struck while the iron was still hot and continued to say, “And so, Xiao Liuliu still cannot accompany younger brother as he sleeps, otherwise you would disturb him. Let’s go back now and prepare a present for him. We shall come and visit younger brother when he is a little bigger, alright?”

Xiao Liuliu nodded her head with a pensive look and replied, “Alright, I will go and tell younger brother that I can raise him in the future when he is able to move!”

“...”

Chapter 1306: It’s Impossible for Him to Stay Calm!

Xiao Liuliu, stop speaking, your daddy is about to cry!

As Nian Xiaomu lifted her up, she hurriedly bade farewell to Shangxin and pulled Yu Yuehan out of the hospital.

Just as the family of three reached the hospital's main entrance, Yu Yuehan said coldly, "Unless Shangxin is having a daughter, Xiao Liuliu is not allowed to come next time!"

"..."

Nian Xiaomu replied, "Yu Yuehan, Xiao Liuliu only likes younger brothers, you don't have to be so anxious about it..."

Yu Yuehan scoffed and said, "She thought of keeping younger brothers even before they were born. Can I not be nervous about it?"

His little princess was only three years old!

What is the concept of being a three year old? It should be the age whereby her daddy should be the one whom she loves the most, and she should be sticking around him every day, requesting kisses and hugs.

If by any chance Shangxin really gave birth to a son, and if the inauspicious words that Tang Yuansi said about him being here to kidnap his little princess came true, he would definitely be so p*ssed that he would end up directly in the coffin!

Yu Yuehan turned around and took a glance. Without the younger brother, Xiao Liuliu had again fallen into a deep sleep in his embrace.

Her huge eyes were half opened and she could no longer hear their conversation.

She wanted him to remain calm when this happened?

It's impossible for him to stay calm!

After they got Xiao Liuliu back to the Yu Family villa, they took her back to her room and placed her down on her bed. Then, Yu Yuehan pulled Nian Xiaomu back to their room and he instructed the butler to bring the medical kit.

"It's time to change the dressing on your wound." As Yu Yuehan spoke, he opened the medical kit and retrieved a tube of ointment and some clean gauze.

Nian Xiaomu sat down obediently on the sofa. As she could not move her left arm, she held her cell phone with her right hand and scrolled down the notification bar.

After she had hung up her call with Tan Bengbeng earlier on, she had been busy spending time with Xiao Liuliu and had not had the time to check her cell phone.

The notifications were now full of photos and videos by Tan Bengbeng.

"My grandpa has regained consciousness!"

The moment Nian Xiaomu saw Mo Chengxian with his eyes open in the photos, she turned around agitatedly and looked at Yu Yuehan.

"He has really regained consciousness, there is even a video..."

Nian Xiaomu played the video on her cell phone. Even though the video was not muted, no sound could be heard and only images could be seen.

From the screen, her grandpa could be seen lying on the bed and his pillow was slightly propped up.

Mo Yongheng was wiping his hands and legs with a wet towel.

His sharp eyes were looking in the direction of the camera the entire time as if he was aware that Tan Bengbeng was taking a video.

He even moved his lips slightly.

One could subtly tell that he had called out the name “Xinxin”.

“Grandfather...”

As Nian Xiaomu stared at the old man with fine lines scattered across his aged face in the video, tears filled her eyes instantly.

She subconsciously lifted her arm to wipe her tears away. The moment she moved her left shoulder, however, she felt such great pain that she inhaled deeply.

“Don’t move!”

Yu Yuehan held her down immediately and followed her gaze. When he saw the old man in the video, his gaze became gentle.

“Your grandfather loves you dearly, and I know that you really want to meet him. Even if you are not able to stay by his side to take care of him, you could at the very least personally confirm that he is fine. Then, you could tell him that you are now living a blissful life, right?”

As Yu Yuehan changed her dressing, he opened his thin lips and spoke.

With tears in her eyes, Nian Xiaomu nodded her head forcefully and sobbed uncontrollably.

The next second, after Yu Yuehan was done with wrapping the gauze, he reached out and gently pulled her into his embrace.

“Listen to me, don’t be anxious now. Your grandpa suffered a stroke; he still hasn’t recovered fully, and he could not afford to receive another blow. If you met, he would definitely be unable to control his emotions and that would be harmful to his health. Furthermore, you are still injured; aren’t you afraid that his condition would be affected if he knew that something really bad nearly happened to you?”

Chapter 1307: An Empty Background

Nian Xiaomu rubbed against his chest and muttered in an aggrieved manner, “Can’t I just sneak in and see my grandpa without him knowing? I can work together with Qi Yan and secretly take a glance at my grandpa when he is sleeping. I will just take a glance!”

“Then what?”

“After you take a glance at him, wouldn’t you want to have closer contact with him and talk to him?”

Reaching out, Yu Yuehan gently squeezed Nian Xiaomu’s chin and told her to look up at him.

“Nian Xiaomu, visiting your grandpa would not let you feel more assured, but you would instead miss him more. During times like this, you need to place your entire attention in dealing with Mo Kun, as you can only legitimately reunite with your grandpa after you defeat him!”

Nian Xiaomu said, “... Yu Yuehan, didn’t anyone tell you that when your wife is behaving spoiled, all you need to do is to soothe her, not go into some bombastic talk?”

“???”

Nian Xiaomu added, “It will be very easy for you to lose me if you do this.”

“...”!!!

Nian Xiaomu only noticed that Tan Bengbeng also mentioned another matter in her message after she had calmed down.

“Bengbeng said that the accident that grandpa was involved in three years ago has got something to do with a man named Du Li. She told us to hurry and investigate this person!”

“Du Li?”

Yu Yuehan’s eyes narrowed and he lowered his gaze. Soon after, he knitted his eyebrows slightly.

“Why do I find this name so familiar? I seem to have heard it before.”

“Do you know him?” Nian Xiaomu turned around and looked at him in surprise.

This man had caused her grandpa to suffer a stroke and poisoning; even though he knew that Mo Kun wasn’t a good person, he chose to be an accessory to that tyrant. How could Yu Yuehan know such a person?

“It has been quite some time and I am not very sure of it. Wait a moment, I’ll send my men to investigate him.”

Yu Yuehan put the gauze on the table back into the medical kit. Then, he stood up from the sofa and headed toward the study.

Nian Xiaomu could not sit still and followed him.

She watched as Yu Yuehan made a few phone calls and read through a few documents on the computer. Noticing that he had remained silent the entire time, she could not help it and leaned forward to rest her face beside his hand.

She seemed like a puppy that was about to wag its tail.

She stared at him anxiously.

“Have you found it? Do you know who is he? In what way was he related to Mo Kun? Based on what Bengbeng said, this Du Li seems to be someone whom Mo Kun trusts dearly, and he has participated in all of Mo Kun’s evil deeds. If we could lay our hands on him, that would mean getting rid of Mo Kun’s right-hand man.”

Nian Xiaomu noticed that Yu Yuehan still remained silent after she finished speaking. Curious, she pulled a chair over and sat down on it.

She popped her head around and took a look at the data on his computer.

When she realized that he was actually looking at the information of an important internationally wanted criminal, she was so shocked that she nearly fell off the chair.

“Are you suspecting that this Du Li is an international fugitive?”

“Yes.” As Yu Yuehan replied indifferently, he handed her the rest of the printed data beside him.

“I can’t find any information on Du Li, but I found one thing: his previous place of residence was the same place overseas that Mo Kun recuperated from his illness. If I am not wrong, Mo Kun must have known this person when he was overseas. As for how he had subdued Du Li and made him work for him, that would be something we have to ask him personally.”

Nian Xiaomu asked, “What has it got to do with an international fugitive?”

The corner of Yu Yuehan’s lips curved into an arc—it was a smile, yet at the same time, it wasn’t a smile.

“If we can’t find the background and identity of a person, he must have either used a fake name or intentionally hidden his past. No matter what, this only proves one thing: He cannot be seen in public!”

Chapter 1308: Settle the Old Stores and Establish Her Authority!

A normal person could definitely be seen in public.

The greatest possibility would be that Du Li had once done something bad and was hunted by the police!

Judging from how he was staying by Mo Kun’s side and helping him with his evil deeds, this speculation by Yu Yuehan might just be correct.

If Du Li was really a fugitive, it would be much easier to get rid of him...

“On the day Bengbeng met with the accident, I remember very clearly that I was the first to be there. When I rushed forward to save her, someone was giving orders to get rid of her as soon as possible. That voice sounded very sinister; even though I did not see what the person looked like, the voice has been stuck in my head ever since. However, this person was not part of the group that was sent to the police station afterward. I have asked Qi Yan about it, and he said that one of them got away. Do you think that the person that got away was Du Li?”

Du Li was really evil if that was the case!

“Judging from the current situation, he might just be the one.”

As Yu Yuehan shut down his computer, he cast a glance at Nian Xiaomu and pulled her back to the room to rest.

No one knew that they were back in City H, and they still had to rush back to City N the next morning.

Mo Kun had placed all of his focus on Nian Xiaomu and did not take any notice of Xiao Liuliu at the moment. As such, it would be very safe for Xiao Liuliu to remain in the Yu Family villa.

However, if they remained here for too long, Mo Kun might just guess that his daughter was the child who had been born prematurely after Nian Xiaomu escaped from the fire during that fateful year.

Xiao Liuliu would be in danger once Mo Kun knew that his daughter was Nian Xiaomu’s biological daughter and also a direct descendant of the Mo Family with a right of inheritance!

Many things had piled up and happened together during this period of time.

Mo Kun had nearly killed Tan Bengbeng and caused her to suffer a miscarriage. In addition, the trap which caused Nian Xiaomu to be stabbed and injured was still vivid in her mind.

As Nian Xiaomu lay on the bed, she was unable to fall asleep even though she was exhausted.

In the end, she only sunk into dreamland after Yu Yuehan hugged her and sang her a few songs with the same methods he would use to soothe Xiao Liuliu.

Nian Xiaomu was still feeling groggy when she woke up, and she had already been hoisted onto the airplane by Yu Yuehan.

They did not even have the time to bid farewell to Xiao Liuliu and flew to City N directly.

They reported to the Mo Corporation punctually before the official time for work.

“Vice-President Nian!”

“Hello, Vice-President Nian!”

“Good morning, Vice-President Nian!”

Sounds of greeting rang incessantly beside Nian Xiaomu’s ears the moment she stepped into the Mo Corporation.

Even though she had suddenly been appointed as Vice-President, the employees were all very polite to her on the outside as her position held a high status in the company.

“Good morning, everyone!”

After Nian Xiaomu greeted her colleagues, she instructed the assistant to make her a cup of coffee just before she entered her office.

As she sat in front of the office desk alone, she reached out and rubbed the tired temples of her forehead.

Yu Yuehan had originally disallowed her to report to work since her arm had not healed yet.

However, the moment she was not around, Mo Kun started to use all kinds of methods to pressurize Mo Chengliang; he said that as a girl, she was not able to withstand any exhaustion in the first place. Then, he made up other seemingly dignified reasons such as a need for her to get enough rest, hoping that she would leave the Mo Corporation on her own accord.

How could Nian Xiaomu do as he wished?

She canceled her leave without a second word and sat inside her office.

She had only injured her left arm.

Qi Yan's medicine was extremely effective, and her wound healed at a much faster rate than she had originally expected after she had taken his medicine and applied it externally on her wound.

Furthermore, her right arm was fine, it was just occasionally inconvenient when she was settling the documents in the office.

However, there was one old score that she had previously forgotten to settle. It was time for her to do it today!

Nian Xiaomu printed out an important contract document and placed it on the table.

Chapter 1309: Someone Is Looking for You!"

"Vice-President Nian, your coffee." Just as the assistant brought the coffee in and was about to place it on the table, Nian Xiaomu suddenly reached out to take it.

However, she released her grip at the same time as he let go of the coffee cup.

Bam!

The coffee cup dropped to the ground and the coffee that spilled out immediately spread across the desk.

It wet the contract document that Nian Xiaomu had just printed out.

Not just the contract, but even the USB drive that was placed on top of the document was wet too.

"Oh my! What's with you?"

Nian Xiaomu shrieked out loud. As she picked up the contract document and USB drive, she shook them in the air despite knowing that it would not help.

"This is an important document that will be used later to sign the contract with our client. Why are you so clumsy in your work? Can you be responsible for the contract document that is damaged?"

The boiling hot coffee has quite a high wounding power.

It seemed like both the contract document and USB drive could no longer be used.

"Vice-President Nian, I did not. I wanted to pass the coffee to you, you were the one who suddenly released your grip..."

Just as the young assistant was about to explain himself, Nian Xiaomu had already raised her hand and interrupted his words.

“Are you trying to say that I purposely released my grip so that you could spill the coffee on the document? In that case, did I purposely cause you to spill coffee on my cell phone the last time too?”

Nian Xiaomu threw the contract document and USB drive onto the table.

She stood up from her seat in an overbearing manner.

The aura of a Queen instantly exuded from within her body, and it made one unable to take her lightly.

Just as the assistant still wanted to explain himself and apologize, Nian Xiaomu had already spoken.

“It is not the first time you have been so clumsy. This time around, you even damaged an important contract of the company, as well as a copy of the USB drive. Do you know that your colleagues might have to work overtime for a few more hours, just because of your carelessness?”

“Alright, you don’t have to say anything else. I will take your usually satisfactory performance into account, and I will not pursue the matter further.” The assistant heaved a sigh of relief after Nian Xiaomu finished her sentence.

Just as he was about to thank her, Nian Xiaomu added on slowly.

“However, judging from your ability, I think that you are not capable enough of doing this job well. You can tender your resignation at the human resources department yourself!”

“...”

The young assistant’s face changed when he heard that he had to tender his resignation. “I was personally recruited by President Mo, you cannot fire me...”

Nian Xiaomu did not even look at him. Seeing that he was unwilling to tender his resignation, she called the office and informed the human resources department to send someone up.

Following this, she picked up the contract document and USB drive that had been damaged by coffee.

“Since you are not willing to leave on your own accord, you can leave after our colleagues from the human resources department determine how you will need to compensate the company after they watched the surveillance camera footage. I remember that this contract is worth more than a billion yuan in the market. Alongside the important files in the USB drive... How much do you think you will have to compensate if the company really pursues the matter?”

“...”

The assistant’s face turned ghastly pale as he stared fixedly at the contract document in her hands.

Nian Xiaomu slammed the document onto the table and raised her eyebrows. “I shall give you one last chance; do you want to leave on your own accord, or do you want me to...”

“I’ll leave on my own accord! I’ll go tender my resignation now!”

The assistant ran out without turning back.

The employee from the human resources department just happened to reach Nian Xiaomu's office just as his figure disappeared from view.

"Vice-President Nian, you wanted me up to..."

Nian Xiaomu acted as if nothing had happened and replied, "Oh, nothing much, just that my assistant suddenly realized that he was not capable enough to take up the role and quit the job on his own accord. I will need you guys to hire me another assistant."

She easily got rid of the spy that Mo Kun had planted near her.

"Yes." The employee from the human resources department bowed respectfully. Then, she thought of something and looked toward Nian Xiaomu again.

"Oh yes, Vice-President Nian, there seems to be someone looking for you outside!"

Chapter 1310: A Man's Sense of Alarm

Who could be looking for her at this time?

Stunned, Nian Xiaomu followed the gaze of the human resources employee and looked outside. When she spotted a familiar figure standing outside the guest area, her eyes lit up.

She gestured to the human resources employee by nodding her head and said, "I got it, you can go back to work."

Then, she walked out hurriedly.

Just as she reached the guest area, the person who was waiting for her seemed to have detected something as he suddenly turned around.

His handsome face, gentle gaze, as well as his usual graceful and elegant actions...

"Fan Yu, why are you here? Where have you been all this time? I called you but no one answered the phone..."

Before Nian Xiaomu could finish speaking, Fan Yu had already walked forward and gently drew her into his embrace.

He seemed to be a little travel-worn.

His actions were very light and gentle as if he was afraid of hurting her with his hugs.

A few seconds later, he lowered his gaze and looked at her.

"Mo Kun had been sent abroad right after he was born. As such, almost zero information about him could be retrieved locally. I had gone abroad to investigate his past but I rushed back after receiving news that you were injured. How are you feeling? Apart from the injuries on your shoulder, are you injured anywhere else? What did the doctor say?"

As his gaze landed on her shoulder that was wrapped in gauze, and he frowned in displeasure.

“Why are you in the office when your wound is still not fully healed? How did Yu Yuehan take care of you?”

“It has nothing to do with him, I was the one who insisted on coming over. Furthermore, I am fine. Apart from the injury on my shoulder, I am not feeling unwell anywhere else!” Afraid that he would not believe what she said, Nian Xiaomu retreated two steps backward and spun her body around in front of him.

“Look, I am perfectly fine.”

Even though they had been apart for ten years, she could still subtly remember her childhood memories.

To her, Fan Yu was just like an elder brother.

She answered his question truthfully because she really did not want him to worry.

Fan Yu’s expression relaxed a little after he saw that she was indeed fine. However, he still took a step forward and gave her a hug.

This time around, he hugged her quite tightly.

He seemed to be afraid of something, as he pressed Nian Xiaomu’s head with one of his hands and shifted it toward his shoulder.

Just as Nian Xiaomu was about to lift her head up, she heard his magnetic voice sounding beside her ears.

“Don’t move, let me hug you for a little while more. This is just a normal hug, alright?”

A strong sense of wariness could be detected in his voice.

When Nian Xiaomu recalled that he had especially rushed back from overseas, she lifted her head up to look at him and flashed him a wide smile.

She consoled him.

“Don’t be like this, I really am fine. The accident this time around wasn’t targeted at me, but Bengbeng. I merely protected her and got hurt in the shoulder during the process. Qi Yan, the highly skilled doctor, has guaranteed me that my arm will be able to recover and return to its original working state before the accident. There would not be any sequelae!”

As Nian Xiaomu paused in her words, she stood on tiptoe and whispered into his ear.

“Yu Yuehan still does not know that you have already let go of your feelings toward me, and that you are only regarding me as your younger sister. If he saw the way you are hugging me right now, I bet he would be so p*ssed that he would stomp forward and give you a good beating. You should release your grip when it is about time ok?”

“...” Fan Yu raised his eyebrows and cast a glance at her; he seemed to be asking why did she had not told Yu Yuehan about it.

Nian Xiaomu pouted her lips and replied, “Oh well, it is always good for men to have a sense of alarm. In that case, he will treat me even better, or else he will only bully me every day!”

“Ding!”

As the time of them spoke, the elevator in front of the guest area suddenly stopped at their level.

The elevator doors opened and a familiar figure stepped out!
