

My Life 1761

Chapter 1761: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (39)

Is there a curse that I don't know if I should say?

Yu Yuehan's face was dark as he glared at Qi Yan, who was eyeing his daughter. In his heart, he was already thinking of how to dismember him into pieces.

On the contrary, Nian Xiaomu stuck her head out from behind Yu Yuehan in high spirits.

"Xiao Liuliu is already taken. Shangxin said that if she gives birth to a son, she will definitely marry Xiao Liuliu as a baby! "However, don't be disappointed. I still have another child in my belly. Why don't I give birth to a son this time? If you give birth to a daughter, we will also arrange a child marriage!"

Tan Bengbeng:"..."

Qi Yan:"..."

If he had a daughter, who would want to arrange a child marriage with them? !

This topic could not be continued.

Now that Qi Yan saw Nian Xiaomu's belly, he felt that a brat who wanted to snatch his daughter would jump out of it. He pulled Tan Bengbeng along with him and walked in quickly.

"Sigh!"

Nian Xiaomu looked at their hurried backs and rubbed her head against Yu Yuehan's arm with an innocent look on her face as she muttered unhappily.

"We were talking about a baby kiss, why didn't you pay attention to us..."

Yu Yuehan was laughing like crazy.

He hugged Nian Xiaomu, who had helped him win back the favor, and gave her a big kiss.

Nian Xiaomu did not understand why he was so happy. She kept thinking that her idea just now was really good.

She wanted to have a good chat with Bengbeng and ask her to give birth to a daughter as soon as possible so that they could kiss and be closer!

The plane arrived at City H.

Nian Xiaomu was pregnant and could not be too tired. Xiao Liuliu yawned when she got off the plane and was forced by Yu Yuehan to bring her back to the Yu family Villa to rest.

Qi Yan and Tan Bengbeng were fine. They went to the hospital to check on Tang Yuansi and Shangxin's condition first.

Tang Yuansi's heart surgery was very successful. Ever since he found out that Shangxin was pregnant, his desire to survive had become very strong.

Therefore, the recovery of his body was more optimistic than expected.

“It’s nothing serious. Although it can’t be compared to a normal person and we can’t do excessive or extreme sports, it shouldn’t affect our normal life too much. We can just go to the hospital for regular check-ups.”

Qi Yan took off his stethoscope and took the test report that he had just finished.

Tang Yuansi was stunned.

Shangxin was stunned.

There was a hint of disbelief in his eyes as he asked carefully, “Are you saying that brother Xiaosi’s heart disease... is cured?”

“It’s very difficult to completely cure a congenital heart disease. However, given his current condition, as long as he takes good care of himself, I can guarantee that he will be able to live for at least a few decades.” Qi Yan passed the test report to Tan Bengbeng.

Tan Bengbeng also took a look at it and nodded in agreement.

“Tang Yuansi’s recovery is indeed very good. He might have felt uncomfortable previously. It should be because his body’s resistance to the drugs has not been fully adjusted. If Qi Yan were to give him a new prescription to improve this problem, he should be fine.”

Before Tan Bengbeng could finish her sentence, Shangxin’s eyes could not help but turn red.

Ever since she had found out about Tang Yuansi’s condition, she had not slept well.

The fear of losing her loved one at any time was not something that could be overcome by being strong. She was afraid every single day that she would not be able to see him again the moment she opened her eyes..

“It’s good that you are fine. Why Are You Crying?” Tan Bengbeng passed Shangxin a piece of paper and wiped her tears away.

Shangxin nodded her head vigorously. She wanted to thank her but was choked with sobs and could not utter a single word.

Tang Yuansi reached out and hugged her tightly.

In the end, Shangxin could not help but cry..

“I’ve already said that I’m fine. I will always be by your side and watch the birth of the baby.”

Chapter 1762: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (40)

“I was hoping that you would give birth to a daughter for me to bring back to the Shang family. I begged Uncle Shang to agree to marry you to me on account of my granddaughter.”

As Tang Yuansi spoke, he reached out and caressed her already round belly.

His eyes were filled with anticipation.

Shangxin quickly pulled his hand away and frowned in disagreement.

"I have arranged a child-to-child marriage with Xiao Mumu. I want to give birth to a son for her and marry Xiao Liulu in the future."

"..."

Tang Yuansi's expression darkened slightly when he heard that he was going to give birth to a son.

On second thought, it seemed like it was not bad to be able to trick Xiao Liulu back.

Yu Yuehan, who was far away in the Yu family villa, did not know that another person had set his eyes on the little princess, who was only three and a half years old..

Qi Yan had taken a look at Tang Yuansi's condition and was going to prescribe medicine for him.

Tan Bengbeng accompanied him.

Tang Yuansi still needed to be hospitalized for observation and waited for the results of Qi Yan's prescription.

Shangxin was currently pregnant and could not stand for too long. As soon as Qi Yan and Tan Bengbeng left, she walked to the side of the bed and lay down.

"Are You Sleepy?"

Tang Yuansi supported her with his hands, feeling sorry for her. He brought her a pillow and placed it by her waist, so that she could lie down more comfortably.

After she fell asleep, he went to the nurse to get two more pillows. He placed them beside her waist and supported her stomach so that she would not have to work too hard.

It was very tiring during the later stages of pregnancy. Shangxin had been worried about Tang Yuansi's body all this while. His originally skinny body did not seem to have gained any weight. Instead, he seemed to have become even skinnier than before.

If one did not look at her stomach, one would not be able to imagine that she was a pregnant woman.

"I will always be by your side and sleep peacefully." Tang Yuansi held her hand and whispered gently.

"Okay."

Shangxin was a little drowsy from her sleep. She answered subconsciously and fell asleep.

She did not know how long she had slept for.

She only felt that the little fellow in her stomach was making a lot of noise.

She did not know what she was excited about. She kept rolling over and kicking her little feet, causing Shangxin to be unable to fall asleep.

In a trance, she felt as though something was moving on her stomach..

Shangxin thought that she was dreaming. When she regained her senses, she was so shocked that she opened her eyes.

Just as she was about to sit up, she realized that there was a small white hand on her stomach.

The bed in the hospital was rather tall, and there were many pillows beside her. The owner of the small hand had his face covered, and only his head was exposed.

“Aunt Shangxin...”

Shangxin removed the pillow, and a cute little head appeared from behind.

She happily pounced in front of her.

A pair of big black eyes stared at her swollen belly and asked excitedly.

“Did Little Brother Move Just Now? Has he ever thought of Little Liuliu?”

“...”

Shangxin was stunned. She reached out and touched the little fellow who had suddenly become lively, and could not help but laugh.

“Yes, little brother must know that Little Liuliu is here and is greeting you. He likes you very much.”

“I like Little Brother Too! I brought a lot of presents for little brother...”

As Little Liuliu said this, she quickly placed her small backpack on the bed and started to take things out.

After taking out something, she waved it in front of Shangxin’s stomach and introduced it to little brother..

Before Shangxin could say that her younger brother did not need this now, the little guy in her stomach had already kicked her, as if in response to Xiao Liuliu’s gift.

It was an obvious kick.

Shangxin was in so much pain that she almost could not speak.

Just when she thought that it was a coincidence and Xiao Liuliu was about to call her younger brother, she was kicked again..

Chapter 1763: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (41)

Although it was not as heavy as the first kick, Shangxin could still feel the excitement of the little guy in her stomach.

She reached out and touched her stomach. If she could feel a small foot, it would touch her stomach.

As long as Xiao Liuliu spoke, it would kick happily.

Xiao Liuliu seemed to have noticed as well and giggled happily.

Shangxin was kicked a few times consecutively, and she gasped in pain. She quickly reached out and covered her little mouth.

“Shh –”

“Little six-six, little brother likes you too much. He will make a scene whenever you speak.”

“...”

Little six-six stopped laughing and stared at her stomach, seeming to understand something.

After a few seconds, she reached out and gently touched her stomach.

“Little brother must be obedient and not move around. If you kick aunt Shangxin, aunt will feel uncomfortable. I have brought you many gifts, and I can give them to you. If you are obedient, I will save up money to buy milk powder for you in the future!”

Little Liuliu’s little face was stern, but her actions were very gentle.

When she said that she wanted to keep her little brother, her eyes were curved.

Perhaps it was because her words were too gentle, or perhaps it was because the action of touching Shangxin’s stomach made the little guy feel very comfortable. After she said that, the little guy really became quiet.

He stopped turning over and kicking.

He would occasionally lift his thumb and bump Shangxin’s stomach..

He did not have much strength either.

Xiao Liuliu stared at that spot and touched it again and again.

She raised her head excitedly and asked Shangxin.

“Auntie, do you think Little Brother Can Hear Me?”

Shangxin wanted to say that little brother was still young and that even if he could hear the voices outside, he would not be able to understand her.

However, when she thought about the scene just now, she suddenly felt that there might be some form of communication between children and adults that they did not understand.

“Little brother likes you very much.”Shangxin thought about it and gave a conclusion.

She was not trying to coax Xiao Liuliu. Instead, she could really feel that the little fellow in her stomach was very sensitive to Xiao Liuliu’s voice.

Usually, Tang yuansi would hold her stomach and call out “Baby” all the time, wanting to feel the baby’s movements. However, the little fellow was lazy and would not move even for a single day.

Because of this, Shangxin specially went to the hospital for a checkup and was worried that there was something wrong with the baby.

In the end, the doctor told her that the baby was very healthy and lazy.

She was a lazy little thing.

However, she was such a lazy little thing. As long as Xiao Liuliu came, she would be extremely lively.

She was curious. The doctor only said that some fetuses would be more sensitive to certain audio frequencies. Perhaps it was due to the stimulation of external sounds.

To put it simply, the little fellow in her stomach liked Xiao Liuliu's voice very much.

Shangxin also liked Xiao Liuliu.

She helped her put away all the presents and did not say that her younger brother did not need them now. Instead, she led her to the sofa and brought her some snacks to eat.

Then, she turned around and scanned the room.

Tang Yuansi was not around.

Yu Yuehan and Nian xiaomu were not around either.

Then, who had brought Xiao Liuliu here?

"Daddi and mummy went to the pharmacy. It was the nurse who brought me up," Xiao Liuliu explained vaguely as she ate her snacks.

Shangxin was slightly taken aback. When she thought that Tang Yuansi might have gone to the pharmacy as well, she was about to stand up when her stomach suddenly started to hurt.

Her face instantly turned pale.

She could not tell what was wrong, but her stomach hurt..

Shangxin reached out and held onto the armrest of the sofa. She almost lost her balance and forced herself to turn her head to look.

"Xiao Liuliu, Auntie May... may be giving birth... can you..."

Chapter 1764: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (42)

Before Shangxin could finish her sentence, Xiao Liuliu's adorable little face had already been lifted up. She raised the snack in her hand and looked at Shangxin.

The next second, she seemed to have come back to her senses.

Her small body slid down from the sofa with a whoosh and she ran out of the ward.

When Shangxin saw her run out, she thought that she was frightened by her appearance and subconsciously wanted to stop her.

However, Xiao Liuliu ran too fast and she did not have the strength to chase after her.

Just as she was about to grit her teeth and walk to the bedside to ring the bell, she suddenly heard Xiao Liuliu's voice coming from the corridor.

"Uncle Doctor, Auntie Nurse, my auntie is going to give birth to my baby brother, come quickly!"

The little glutinous rice ball's voice was very loud and she shouted anxiously as she ran.

Shangxin was in so much pain that she did not have any strength left and collapsed on the sofa.

Her amniotic fluid had already broken.

Waves of pain assaulted her continuously. She could only bite her lips tightly and not let herself shout out loud.

Fortunately, Xiao Liuliu called the doctor and nurse over very quickly.

With just a glance, the doctor's expression changed.

"It's a premature birth. Quickly arrange the delivery room and inform the family members!"

When Shangxin was sent into the delivery room, Tang Yuansi, Yu Yuehan, and Nian Xiaomu arrived at the same time.

Xiao Liuliu stood at the door with a small face that was slightly pale. She pursed her lips and did not speak.

The medical staff were busy taking care of Shangxin, so no one was able to take care of her.

When she saw Yu Yuehan and Nian xiaomu, the little glutinous rice ball's calm face collapsed instantly. With a cry, she ran toward Yu Yuehan.

"Little brother is not obedient. Auntie has lost a lot of blood..."

"It's alright, it's Alright!"

Yu Yuehan bent down and picked her up. His heart ached as he wiped away her tears.

The medicine that Qi Yan had prepared for Tang Yuansi was almost done. Initially, they had wanted Xiao Liuliu to come up and accompany Shangxin to give her a surprise later on. However, they had not expected shangxin to suddenly give birth prematurely.

Yu Yuehan turned around and looked at Tang Yuansi. There was no trace of blood on Tang Yuansi's face.

When he heard Xiao Liuliu's words, he was anxious to follow her into the delivery room.

"Let me go in and accompany her. I promise that I will cooperate as long as I am by her side!"

"The pregnant woman gave birth suddenly and prematurely. We are not sure if it is suitable for the family members to accompany her to give birth. Mr. Tang, please wait for a moment..."

Before the nurse could finish her sentence, a hoarse scream came from the delivery room.

It was Shangxin's voice.

Tang Yuansi's face, which had just calmed down, turned as pale as snow in an instant. He pushed the nurse aside and was about to walk in.

Yu Yuehan carried Xiao Liuliu forward and reached out to pull him.

His voice was deep.

“Didn’t you hear what the nurse said? You Won’t be of any help now that you’re going in. You’ll only cause more trouble. Calm down, Shangxin will be fine!”

Yu Yuehan’s reprimand caused Tang yuansi to calm down slightly.

Only after he was certain that Tang yuansi would not barge into the delivery room did he release his grip.

No one noticed that his lowered arm was also trembling slightly.

When he turned to look at Nian Xiaomu while hugging Xiao Liuliu in his arms, his eyes were a little teary.

This was also the first time that he realized that giving birth was such a dangerous thing.

Back then, when Nian Xiaomu gave birth to Xiao Liuliu, he had not participated in it. He could not imagine how dangerous it was for her to give birth to Xiao Liuliu..

Now, she was pregnant with their second child.

Yu Yuehan suddenly walked forward and reached out to hold Nian Xiaomu in his arms.

As if he was afraid of something, he hugged her tightly.

“Yu Yuehan, are you crazy? I just got pregnant and I can’t give birth yet. What are you afraid of? Let Go of me!”

Chapter 1765: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (43)

Nian Xiaomu wanted to struggle, but Yu Yuehan was still hugging Xiao Liuliu with his other arm. She was afraid that if she used too much force, she would bump into Xiao Liuliu.

However, he was hugging her too tightly.

He was suffocating her.

Nian Xiaomu was extremely glad that he was hugging both of them at the same time. If he were to hug her alone, he would probably strangle her to death right now..

“Ah!”

As soon as Nian Xiaomu’s voice fell, another wave of screams came from the delivery room.

Tang yuansi, who was at the door, was burning with anxiety. Yu Yuehan’s expression was also inexplicably extremely ugly.

When he heard the commotion coming from the delivery room, he refused to let go of Nian Xiaomu’s hand no matter what.

Xiao Liuliu was sandwiched between them. Her soft and squishy little body was about to be squeezed into a sandwich, and she moved uncomfortably.

Her little face was ghastly pale as she stared nervously at the door of the delivery room.

Shangxin was the one who had given birth, and Tang Yuansi was the one who should be nervous. Yet, the reaction of the father and daughter pair was as if the person who was lying in the delivery room was Nian Xiaomu.

Nian xiaomu could not help but gasp along with them.

After a long while, she suddenly heard Yu Yuehan's thin lips open slightly.

"Nian Xiaomu, we are not going to have another child after giving birth to this one."

If he did not know that she would definitely not agree to it, Yu Yuehan would not even want a second child.

When he saw Shangxin lying in the delivery room with her fate uncertain, all Yu Yuehan could think of was Nian xiaomu, who would be facing the same danger in another half a year.

This was the first time in more than twenty years that he had experienced what it meant to be afraid.

It was a fear that seeped out from his bones.

He did not even dare to imagine whether he could be as calm as Tang yuansi if the person who was lying inside giving birth to the child had turned into Nian Xiaomu..

No, he definitely could not do it.

Compared to the child, he only wanted her to be safe!

Yu Yuehan's expression was unprecedentedly serious and solemn.

Nian Xiaomu looked at him with a dumbfounded expression and blinked her eyes blankly. She reached out and touched his forehead and sighed.

"When did you catch a fever? I didn't even realize that my brain was fried."

Yu Yuehan:"..."

"Shangxin will definitely be fine. I will be fine too!"Nian xiaomu cupped his face with both hands, stood on her tiptoes, and kissed him as she said contentedly.

When she had given birth to Xiao Liuliu, she had also given birth prematurely. Furthermore, her body was covered in injuries, and it was indeed very dangerous.

However, when she recalled it now, she was not afraid at all.

On the other hand, Yu Yuehan's nervousness made her feel elated.

The three of them hugged each other warmly, making Tang yuansi, who was standing at the door of the delivery room, look exceptionally miserable.

His handsome and refined face was as pale as a withered corpse whose blood had been drained dry. He stared blankly at the door of the delivery room, looking as if he was about to fall ill.

Just as Yu Yuehan and Nian Xiaomu were hesitating whether to call a doctor for him in advance, Qi Yan and Tan Bengbeng had already rushed to the door of the delivery room when they received the news that Shangxin had given birth prematurely.

The moment Tang Yuansi saw Qi Yan, it was as if he had seen the last straw to save his life.

“Wait, don’t say anything. Listen to Me First!” Qi Yan hurriedly raised his hand and separated himself from Tang Yuansi who was pouncing on him, “I have never delivered a baby before. Furthermore, that is your wife. It is not good for a man like me to go in and deliver a baby for her, right?”

“Tang Yuansi, calm down. Shangxin will definitely be fine,” Tan Bengbeng comforted him.

As soon as she finished speaking, Tang Yuansi looked at her.

That gaze made Tan Bengbeng’s hair stand on end.

She looked around blankly.

After confirming that Tang Yuansi was looking at her, she lifted her head in confusion.

Chapter 1766: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (44)

Did she say something wrong just now?

“Beng Beng, I think what Tang Yuansi meant was that it’s not convenient for Qi Yan to go in. I hope that you can go in and take a look. With you inside, he might feel more at ease,” Nian Xiaomu helped to explain from the side.

Tang Yuansi did not say anything and only nodded his head vigorously.

Tan Beng was slightly taken aback when she heard this.

She wanted to say that she was not proficient in the obstetrics and gynecology department either, but when she met Tang Yuansi’s worried gaze, she did not say anything. Instead, she nodded her head and asked the nurse to arrange for her to enter the delivery room.

Everyone was waiting outside.

Shangxin had given birth prematurely.

When she had just gotten pregnant, because Tang Yuansi’s condition had worsened and his life was on the brink of death, she had not had a good night’s sleep.

The long-term excessive worry of a pregnant woman had a great impact on her body and the fetus.

Although Qi Yan had specially left some medicine for her to recuperate, it seemed that she had not done so.

If she could not overcome this hurdle, Tang Yuansi would probably go crazy.

Although Qi Yan did not go in to help, he had been guarding outside the delivery room.

Just in case, his personal medicine box was brought over by his assistant.

Time ticked by..

Xiao Liulu was so sleepy that she fell asleep on Yu Yuehan's shoulder.

She pouted her little mouth and mumbled from time to time, "Aunty... little brother..."

In the quiet corridor, there were only occasional murmurs.

The rest of the time, it was so quiet that it was suffocating.

That was until the clear sound of a baby crying could be heard from the ward.

Before everyone could react, a nurse had already come out to report the good news.

"It's born! It's a son, five kilograms! However, because it's a premature birth, the child still needs to be observed for a period of time..."

1

Before the nurse could finish her sentence, Tang Yuansi had already rushed forward to ask excitedly.

"Where's my wife? How's My Wife?"

Tan Bengbeng had just come out of the ward. When she heard Tang Yuansi's words, she took off her mask and answered.

"Both mother and son are safe! Shangxin is too tired and has already fallen asleep. She will be transferred to the ward in a while."

"Can I go in and see her now?" Tang Yuansi did not want to wait for even a second.

Tan Bengbeng initially thought that Shangxin would not want Tang Yuansi to see her miserable and haggard appearance. However, when she thought about how hard Shangxin was working to bear his child, she felt that she should let Tang Yuansi know about it. Hence, she hesitated for a second, she nodded her head.

She instructed.

"She is asleep. You can go in and accompany her. However, don't wake her up and let her sleep for a while."

Tang Yuansi disappeared from the entrance of the delivery room like a gust of wind..

In the VIP Ward.

Shangxin had already changed into clean clothes and was lying on the bed.

Although she had given birth prematurely, she recovered faster after giving birth because it was a natural birth.

She woke up after sleeping for a few hours.

Her complexion also gradually recovered.

Qi Yan and Tan Bengbeng were examining her body and were planning to prescribe some medicine to help her recover after giving birth.

Tang Yuansi sat by the bed and held her hand tightly, unwilling to let go.

A small crib was placed beside the hospital bed.

At this moment, Little Tang Bao, who had just been born, was sleeping soundly. He clenched his small fists tightly and raised them high on both sides of his face, as if he was surrendering..

His small face, which had yet to fully develop, could already vaguely tell which parts of his face resembled Tang Yuansi and which parts resembled Shangxin.

Looking at his handsome little appearance, whether he would be more like his father or his mother when he grew up, he would definitely be a little evildoer who would bring disaster to the country and the people!

Xiao Liulu stuck herself to the railing of the crib excitedly. However, she was not tall enough to see her younger brother's appearance clearly. She was anxiously circling the crib.

Chapter 1767: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (45)

After racking his brains, he still could not see his little brother. He pursed his lips in grievance and hugged Yu Yuehan's thigh, begging for a hug.

Yu Yuehan rejected her in his heart.

He had a feeling that Xiao Liulu had a little brother and that he, as a father, would soon fall out of favor.

However, he could not reject his own little princess. With a dark expression, he could only bend down and carry Xiao Liulu.

He wanted her to see the little guy in the crib.

There were very few babies like Xiao Tangbao who were fair, clean, and handsome at birth. However, relatively speaking, babies who had just been born were not yet fully grown, and they were usually not very beautiful.

Yu Yuehan stared at Xiao Liulu with a vigilant look and was mentally prepared. If Xiao Liulu dared to say that she liked little brothers and wanted to take them back for adoption, he would immediately send Xiao Tangbao thousands of miles away, she wouldn't even be able to see him!

However, he waited for a long while, and Xiao Liulu only stared at the little guy in the crib.

The little guy, who had been sleeping soundly just now, seemed to have sensed that someone was looking at him as he slowly opened his eyes.

His pitch-black eyes were filled with spiritual energy.

Compared to when he was asleep, he looked even cuter.

Yu Yuehan's alertness soared to the highest point.

Especially when he realized that Xiao Liuliu was staring fixedly at the scene, he almost couldn't help but carry Xiao Liuliu away from the scene. However, in the next second, he suddenly saw Xiao Liuliu's small mouth twitch.

"My little brother is so ugly!"

These simple words caused the entire ward to fall into a mysterious silence.

After a brief pause, Little Tang Bao, who was in the crib, suddenly opened his small mouth and cried out loud as if he knew that he had been despised —

He cried until he was hoarse and tears started to fall from his eyes.

He stomped on his calves as if he wanted to tear the crib apart.

"Baby..."

Shangxin was anxious to get out of the bed. The moment she moved, she pulled on her wound and took a deep breath.

Tang yuansi quickly held her down and said, "Don't move, I will carry him!"

Tang yuansi turned around and walked to the crib. He was slightly stunned when he looked at the small and wrinkled baby in the crib.

He had been so busy taking care of Shangxin that he had forgotten to take a look at the baby.

Now that he saw it, he was stunned.

This was the baby that he and Shangxin had given birth to.

The son that she had given birth to for him with all her might..

Tang yuansi reached out his hand a few times and wanted to hug him. However, he withdrew his hand in the end.

Yu Yuehan mocked him from the side, "Are you nervous because it's your first time being a father? Don't Shake Your Hand."

Tang Yuansi:"..."

"I'm not nervous."Tang yuansi opened his mouth calmly. After thinking for a moment, he added, "I just feel that he is really ugly."

As Tang Yuansi said this, the entire ward was dumbfounded.

Little Tang Bao, who was lying on the crib, sobbed. Before he could even get a hug from his biological father, he received a heart-wrenching blow. With a loud cry, he cried even more miserably!

He was still young.

He was not ugly!

Shua

“Shua!” Outside the hospital, a luxurious sports car stopped by the roadside.

The car’s engine stopped and the door opened.

Fan Yu’s gentle and handsome figure stepped out from the driver’s seat.

He reached out to take off the sunglasses on the bridge of his nose and placed them in the car. He raised his hand to look at the wristwatch on his wrist. After confirming that it was the hospital visiting time, he strolled into the hospital.

He had just alighted from the plane and was initially prepared to visit Xiao Liuliu at the Yu family villa. However, he had heard the news of Shangxin giving birth.

Nian Xiaomu and her family of three were all in the hospital. He could only come here if he wanted to visit Xiao Liuliu.

He thought that he would also drop by to visit Shangxin and their newborn child.

Fan Yu gave Nian Xiaomu a call in advance and asked about the ward.

Chapter 1768: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (46)

When he got on the elevator, he was the only one in the elevator.

However, when he got off the elevator, he felt that someone was following him.

Fan Yu was a very vigilant person. He could feel that something was wrong at the slightest movement.

However, when he turned his head a few times, there was no one in the empty corridor behind him.

Was he overthinking things?

Why did he feel that someone was following him..

Buzz Buzz —

His cell phone rang.

Fan Yu lowered his head and took a glance. It was a call from Nian Xiaomu, and he picked it up very quickly.

“Are you here? We are all in the ward. Do you want me to get Xiao Liuliu to pick you up?” Nian Xiaomu’s playful voice sounded from the phone.

The corners of fan Yu’s mouth twitched slightly.”...”

Was she really not worried about Xiao Liuliu when she asked Xiao Liuliu, who was only three and a half years old, to come out to pick him up? Or was she mocking him for being worse than a three-year-old child.

Fan Yu could roughly tell that she was joking. He smiled and said, “No need. I will be there very soon.”

The call ended.

Just as Fan Yu was about to continue walking forward, he realized that someone was peeping at him from behind.

It wasn't his misconception. Someone was really following him!

Was it a gossip reporter or someone with ulterior motives?

He had only just arrived in City H and was already being targeted..

The warmth in fan Yu's eyes disappeared, and his gaze gradually turned cold as he walked forward as if nothing had happened.

However, when he passed by the VIP ward number that Nian Xiaomu had given him, he pretended not to recognize it and continued walking forward until he reached the next corner. Then, he swiftly leaned against the wall and waited quietly for the person behind him to catch up..

As expected, in less than five seconds, the sound of faint footsteps could be heard from the corridor.

It was very light. Judging from the sound of footsteps and breathing, it sounded like a woman.

Fan Yu was not in a hurry to show himself. Instead, he leaned against the wall and stood there. After waiting for a while, he realized that the sound of footsteps had stopped.

Had he left?

That was impossible.

The other party had been following him meticulously all the way to the hospital. Why would he give up now.

However, after waiting for nearly a minute, he really did not hear any more footsteps.

Just as he was about to walk out to take a look, he suddenly heard a woman's voice mumbling, "Didn't you say that this is the ward? Why did you leave without entering... could it be that I made a mistake..."

Judging from the location of the voice, the position that the woman was standing at should be Shangxin's ward.

She had indeed followed him here.

Fan Yu's face darkened. He took a step back and just as he turned the corner, he bumped into someone.

"Ouch -"

The other party did not expect that someone would suddenly appear. Without stopping in time, the person directly bumped into fan Yu's chest.

Fan Yu had met many women who "Threw themselves at"him. His figure nimbly dodged to the side. The woman missed him but could not stabilize her body. She staggered a few steps forward and directly bumped into the wall opposite her.

A huge bump appeared on her forehead.

She fell to the ground against the wall with dizziness in her eyes.

Before she could regain her senses, Fan Yu had already taken a step forward and grabbed her collar. He opened his mouth coldly.

“Who are you? Why are you following me?”

“I didn’t...”the woman covered her forehead with her hand and fell. Her hair was all over her face and her collar was grabbed by him. She was almost killed by him.

Her desire to survive made her push fan Yu’s hand away and she stood up from the ground anxiously.

“I don’t know what you’re talking about. I don’t know you at all. I came to the hospital just... to look for someone!”

Her words successfully made fan yu stop.

He did not go forward. He just stood where he was and looked at the woman in front of him who was in a sorry state.

Although her actions were a little reckless, she did not look like an uneducated person. Her clothes were well-matched and gave off a refreshing and clean feeling... except for her messy long hair.

Qiao Yuanfei’s fall just now was a real one. She was dizzy and had been mistaken for a stalker.

Just as she snapped back to her senses, she realized that her hair was all drooping down on her face. Judging from her current appearance, she looked like a female ghost. She quickly reached out and brushed her hair away.

The moment their eyes met, the two of them were slightly stunned.

As a wealthy young master in the business world who was on par with Yu Yuehan, Fan Yu did not only rely on his outstanding business skills, but also his face that matched the first love of all the women in the world.

Gentle, refined, elegant, and elegant..

Any word that one could think of that could be used to describe a prince charming could be used on him.

Even if his gaze was a little cold at this moment, it still did not affect the aura that made people subconsciously want to get close to him.

For a moment, Qiao Yuanfei was really stunned by what she saw.

Realizing that she was in a daze, she quickly shifted her gaze from his face and spoke sincerely.

“I’m sorry, I accidentally bumped into you just now, but I really didn’t mean it.”

Furthermore, he was not injured, and she was the one who was injured now.

Qiao yuanfei reached out and touched her forehead, grimacing in pain.

Seeing that fan yu did not speak, as if he did not believe what she said at all, she thought for a moment and took out a business card from her small bag.

“This is my business card. My name is Qiao yuanfei. If you have any further questions, you can contact me.”

She stuffed the business card into fan Yu’s hand, turned around and prepared to leave.

Her footsteps were very hurried, as if she was in a hurry to go somewhere.

After walking for a while, just when she thought that fan Yu would not pay any attention to her, fan Yu had already walked in front of her and reached out to stop her.

He opened his mouth coldly.

“This is a high-class VIP ward. Ordinary people can’t even come up here. Who are you here to see?”

“...”

Qiao Yuanfei’s hands that were hanging by her side tightened, and a trace of guilt flashed across her eyes.

Then, she suppressed the guilt in her eyes and timidly raised her head to meet his gaze. Her eyes instantly turned red.

“Stop pretending to be pitiful. If you don’t explain clearly, I’ll inform the security.”

Fan Yu took out his phone from his pocket and unlocked it in front of her.

Before he could make the call, the person in front of him was already crying in fright.

She was crying very quietly, without making a single sound. Her tears kept flowing down, as if she was being bullied.

Fan Yu frowned.

He didn’t do anything to her, so why was she crying?

Scamming?

The person in front of him had a very clean face and wasn’t very stunning. However, she didn’t put on any makeup and looked a little otherworldly.

Her eyes were wet, like an innocent and harmless little white rabbit.

If it were any other person, they wouldn’t have the heart to look at her like this.

Unfortunately, Fan Yu didn’t fall for it.

The corner of his mouth curled slightly, and he leaned down to approach her.

“I heard what you said at the door of the ward just now. Do you need me to remind you?”

Qiao Yuanfei:”...”

“It seems that you want to wait for the security guard to come up and pull up the surveillance footage of you sneaking into the VIP floor before you explain your actions.” After fan Yu finished speaking, he raised his hand and was about to make a call.

The calmness on Qiao Yuanfei’s face instantly disappeared.

Chapter 1770: The Rest Of My Life Is For You (48)

“I’m not a bad person, I’m really here to look for someone!” She stretched out her hand and grabbed fan Yu’s arm tightly, preventing him from calling anyone.

Fan Yu looked down at her.

His gaze, which seemed to be able to see through people’s hearts, made Qiao Yuanfei’s heart tremble slightly and she lowered her head.

She answered softly.

“I admit that I sneaked up here, but I’m really not a bad person. I didn’t follow you either. I only heard that... I heard that the medicine king is here, so I wanted to try my luck...”

“...”

Did she mean Qi Yan?

It seemed that she didn’t even know what Qi Yan looked like. When she saw him go up to this floor, she thought he was Qi Yan, which was why she had been following him.

No wonder she said that when she saw that he didn’t enter the ward.

Seeing that he didn’t speak, Qiao Yuanfei thought he didn’t believe her.

“I can swear that what I said is true. My Uncle is sick. I really have no other way to do such a thing. The medicine king is too mysterious. I used many connections to find out that he came to this hospital. If I miss this opportunity, my uncle might die.”

As Qiao Yuanfei spoke, her eyes reddened again.

Tears filled her eyes almost in a second.

Was she made of water?

She could cry so much.

Fan Yu’s gentle eyes narrowed and he retracted his hand, indicating that she could leave.

He could not pursue her responsibility, but he would not help her either.

Once Qi Yan’s identity was exposed, there would be endless trouble.

Fan Yu turned around and was ready to leave.

Just as he took a step forward, a pair of slender arms wrapped around his arm and grabbed him forcefully.

He turned around and met her pleading gaze.

“You know the Medicine King, right? Can You...”

“I don’t know him.”

Fan Yu opened his thin lips slightly and spoke with an unusually cold attitude.

Those who were familiar with fan Yu knew that he only looked gentle and polite on the outside, like a modest gentleman.

In fact, he was very distant from everyone except Nian Xiaomu.

He would not show kindness to a stranger for no reason at all.

Qiao Yuanfei was stunned for a moment, as if she did not expect him to reply in this way.

Before she could regain her senses, Fan Yu had already pushed her hand away in disgust and walked forward.

Kacha

The door of a certain ward in front suddenly opened.

A furry little head popped out first, followed by her small body.

“Uncle Fan Yu!”

When Xiao Liuliu saw fan yu, her big eyes lit up and she ran towards him.

Caught off guard, she hugged fan Yu’s thigh and raised her little face in excitement.

“Xiao Liuliu missed you so much! Mummy missed you too and wanted to come out to pick you up, but Daddy wouldn’t let her, he only let Xiao Liuliu come out to pick you up.”

“Aunt Shangxin gave birth to a little brother for Little Liuliu, but the little brother was so ugly. Uncle Tang also said that the little brother was ugly, so Aunt Shangxin is angry and won’t talk to him anymore.”

“And aunt Bengbeng and uncle Yama...”

Little Liuliu mumbled like a little monk. Just as Qi Yan was mentioned, Fan Yu reached out to cover her mouth and bent down to carry her.

“Let’s go in first. Let uncle take a look at your little brother, Okay?”

“Okay!”

Xiao Liuliu pulled his hand down, tilted her little head, and answered obediently.

Even Qiao Yuanfei was a little absent-minded when she saw her adorable appearance.

By the time she reacted, Fan Yu had already carried Xiao Liuliu to the door of the ward.

He stopped in his tracks and glanced sideways at her.

For some reason, Qiao Yuanfei felt that his gaze carried a warning.

Soon, she was the only one left standing in the huge corridor
