

My Life 861

Chapter 861: The few vagrants...

Nian Xiaomu could not help but shiver all over when he swept the tip of his tongue past her cherry lips.

Suddenly, Yu Yuehan stopped what he was doing and lifted his head to look behind her.

“...”

Nian Xiaomu was dizzy from his kisses and was initially worried that he would eat her up on the spot. As such, she could not react in time when he suddenly released his grip on her.

Her face fell when she turned around in confusion and saw the empty seats behind her.

“Yu Yuehan, have I lost my charm and now you are hesitant to even kiss me?”

“Eh?” As Yu Yuehan collected his gaze, he met her aggrieved looking face and intentionally did not reply to her.

His silence was akin to some sort of consent.

Nian Xiaomu could no longer stay calm.

She wanted to rush into his embrace so badly and gnaw a piece of meat off his chest.

In the end, she chose to stand by her pride and silently retreated to the corner of the two-seater sofa.

“Fine if you don’t want to kiss me. I’ll find Xiao Liulu for kisses later on when I get home.”

Yu Yuehan said, “Nian Xiaomu, if you want to know if you still have charms, move back to the Yu Family villa and I’ll tell you the answer with my actions.”

“...”

Time passed by quickly when they were chatting with each other, and soon it was time for them to board the plane.

This time, they boarded the plane smoothly without any obstructions.

For some reason, Nian Xiaomu heaved a sigh of relief when the plane departed City N and rose into the air; it seemed as though the gloomy feeling that had been stifling her, had suddenly disappeared.

She no longer felt tired, she felt relaxed. Excited, she was just about to talk to her chatting buddy, Yu Yuehan.

However, when she turned her head around, she realized that he seemed to be pondering over something. With his gaze slightly lowered, he revealed a stern expression on his chilly looking face.

She was stunned when a dangerous ray of light flashed past his eyes.

“Yu Yuehan, what’s the matter?”

Yu Yuehan kept the chilliness beneath his eyes the moment she spoke.

As he looked at her, he lifted his hand to pat her head and was about to tell her that he was fine.

However, Nian Xiaomu went ahead of him and spoke first, "You have a weird feeling about the Tan family's ancestral residence as well, don't you?"

"..."

"I felt that the Tan family residence was very eerie the moment I walked in. The eeriness had nothing to do with the vacancy of the house, but it felt more like a mystery that a family is hiding. Furthermore, the lock at the entrance was broken by a professional locksmith. Since that person dared to bring a team over to break open the Tan family's door, they must either have a deep relationship with the Tan family or they were backed up by powerful forces."

Yu Yuehan's gaze deepened. He was surprised that she had such sharp observance skills.

Yu Yuehan replied, "Continue speaking."

"Are you saying that those few men in the courtyard were pretending to be vagrants and that they had, in fact, stayed in the Tan family's courtyard intending to spy on the Tan family?" Nian Xiaomu asked casually.

Yu Yuehan's eyes narrowed when he heard what she said!

He stared at her with amazement. He had not expected her to have thought of this aspect.

The corner of his mouth curved into an arc and he reached out to gently rub her head.

His gaze was filled with surprise.

He did not care about her past nor her family background. However, right now, he was suddenly very curious about her family and her parents. How did they manage to nurture her into such a cheeky person with a queen-like aura all around her?

"Yu Yuehan? Yu Yuehan?" After Nian Xiaomu called out his name a few times but received no reaction from him, she reached her hand out and dangled it before her face. The next second, he grabbed a hold of it and replied, "What do you think? Could you tell if those few men were indeed vagrants, or were they pretending?"

Chapter 862: Someone Is Spying on Them

"I don't know." Nian Xiaomu bit her lips and replied.

She really could not tell.

Judging from the appearance of the few vagrants, as well as the quilt covers in the courtyard, they seemed to have stayed in the Tan family residence for a considerably long period of time.

However, staying there for a long period could not entirely prove that they were indeed vagrants.

“They really are vagrants.” Yu Yuehan spoke as he fumbled with her pale and tender fingers.

“We cannot judge people solely based on the evidence of their surrounding, we must judge them on a whole as well, for example, their looks as well as the way they speak. Did you notice that a tin was placed beside their covers and that a few of them attempted to protect the box when we approached them?”

“Yes, I noticed it. Is that wrong? There are merely a few biscuits in the tin...” Nian Xiaomu suddenly realized halfway through her sentence...

That’s right!

If they were pretending to be vagrants, they would not protect those few pieces of biscuit, even if they knew that they could not run away from them.

Such an instinctive action could only be performed by people who had led a tough life for a long time.

“In that case, they were not spying on the Tan family...”

“They were not spying on the Tan family. However, I am guessing that others were spying on the family.” Yu Yuehan finished her sentence.

The vagrants had mentioned that there would be people passing by the entrance of the Tan family every day.

The assistant had also mentioned that the road outside the Tan family residence leads to the city. Hence, the road must have a high human traffic flow.

As such, everyone would think that it was normal to have people passing by now and then; no one would take notice of the people who had smuggled into the crowd to spy on the Tan family’s ancestral residence.

Compared to residing in the Tan family’s ancestral residence for a prolonged period of time, this method of spying was less noticeable.

The other party could detect anyone who appeared at the Tan family’s residence easily as well...

Whatever they had done today was one such example.

A complex ray of light appeared within Yu Yuehan’s dark eyes.

Nian Xiaomu had not been hallucinating at the boarding area of the airport just now.

He too had a feeling of being spied on.

The other party had got superior skills since he could follow silently behind them and even enter the VIP boarding area.

However, what was his/her motive?

Were the two accidents that they have encountered exactly accidents?

Yu Yuehan’s brows knitted tightly together at the thought of this.

He tightened his grip on Nian Xiaomu's hand; he seemed to be worried that she would meet with some sort of accident if he released his grip on her.

It was already night time when the plane landed in City H.

Nian Xiaomu remembered that the documents of the collaboration with the Zheng Corporation were placed in Tan Bengbeng's place and wanted to head back there for the night. However, Yu Yuehan allowed no explanations and simply pulled her into the car.

He ended her protests with a single sentence. "I'll take you back to retrieve it tomorrow when you wake up."

The next day.

Nian Xiaomu headed to the office with an aching body. Holding onto the documents, she entered his office intending to discuss the proposal. However, she realized that Yu Yuehan was staring at a video.

She walked up curiously. However, the smile on her face froze the moment she took a glance at it.

He was looking at the surveillance camera footage from the airport.

The computer was playing the footage of Tan Bengbeng passing the boarding gate...

As Nian Xiaomu stared at Tan Bengbeng, who appeared fine in the footage, she suddenly felt a little down when she thought of her current missing status.

She muttered, "Haven't you seen this footage before?"

"Yeah, I discovered something else so I am watching it again." Yu Yuehan noticed her gaze and paused the footage. Turning around, he looked at the documents in her hand and said, "Work-related?"

"Zheng Yan has arranged to meet me in an hour for a negotiation on the proposal. You have to give me the lowest standard that we can allow for a profit cut, otherwise, I am afraid that I will suffer a loss."

Nian Xiaomu paused before adding, "What I meant was, so that Zheng Yan will not suffer too great a loss."

Chapter 863: It's the Same Person!

As she was working, her high spirits were akin to a glowing object—it made one unable to take their eyes off her.

Knitting his eyebrows, Yu Yuehan said in a petty manner, "I am not afraid, I like to see Zheng Yan disadvantaged. I'll lecture her on your behalf if you suffer a loss because of her."

He shielded and protective her readily.

Boldly and confidently, no less.

The moment he finished his sentence, the door of the president's office was suddenly pushed open.

Zheng Yan stood at the door with an ugly expression—she must have heard their earlier conversation.

The secretary behind her revealed a panicky look and he hurriedly tried to explain.

“President, I have explained to Vice-President Zheng that you are busy and that you have got no time to meet her. But...”

“You may take your leave.” Yu Yuehan replied calmly.

Not a single hint of guilt could be seen on his face.

It was as if he hadn’t said that he wanted to give Zheng Yan a lecture just now.

After the secretary left, he scanned the gloomy-faced Zheng Yan with his dark eyes. Raising his eyebrows, he asked, “Is anything the matter, Vice-President Zheng?”

“Ah, I know that you guys have just returned from City N. So, I came over to ask if Tan Bengbeng has been found, and also to kindly offer my help if you need it. In the end... This is disappointing!”

Zheng Yan steadily walked over to Yu Yuehan with her 10mm high heels.

She pressed both her hands onto his office desk and changed the topic.

“In a bid to heal my broken heart, shouldn’t you let me have my way for the proposal? In that case, I can get to bring home a satisfactory result and smack it right into the face of my useless, traitor of a younger brother!”

The moment Zheng Yan mentioned her only brother, a look of anger that could not be concealed, showed up on her face.

Yu Yuehan had always been uninterested in the family affairs of the Zheng Family. When he heard what Zheng Yan said, he opened his mouth and replied in an aloof tone, “Okay.”

Both Zheng Yan and Nian Xiaomu were stunned at the one simple word.

Zheng Yan thought to herself, Yu Yuehan had mentioned just yesterday that he must be scrupulous in separating public from private interests. Was that a fake Yu Yuehan?

Nian Xiaomu thought to herself as well, What happened to giving Zheng Yan a lecture?

As Yu Yuehan faced the two women, who revealed surprised expressions at the same time, he shifted the computer toward Zheng Yan calmly. Then, he pointed at someone on the monitor and spoke, “Help me to look for this person in City N and I’ll let you have your way in the proposal.”

“Who is that?”

Both Zheng Yan and Nian Xiaomu stretched their necks and took a glance at the same time.

Zheng Yan did not recognize the person, but Nian Xiaomu did.

“This is the father of the little boy who knocked into me at the airport yesterday. You have retrieved the surveillance camera footage... No, this is the airport surveillance camera footage on the day Tan Bengbeng went missing. Why is that person here?”

Nian Xiaomu leaned forward on the table and took a serious look at it.

This middle-aged man was standing nearby Tan Bengbeng on the day she went missing.

Judging from the image captured on the surveillance camera, he should be facing Tan Bengbeng then and had all the while been staring in her direction!

“It’s normal to see the same person at a different airport, perhaps he was there for a business trip. Could it be that you guys are being too sensitive?” Zheng Yan asked in a confused manner after she heard what they said.

“It wasn’t a coincidence.”

With a chilly gaze, Yu Yuehan proceeded to retrieve a few images from the folder.

It was the surveillance footage from the exits before Tan Bengbeng disappeared at the airport.

It could very clearly be seen that the middle-aged man hovered somewhere near Tan Bengbeng whenever she appeared in front of the camera.

If he hadn’t got it wrong, this person was tailing Tan Bengbeng!

He might know Tan Bengbeng’s whereabouts. Or perhaps, he has got something to do with Tan Bengbeng’s disappearance.

Yu Yuehan narrowed his eyes and said, “We might be able to find Tan Bengbeng if we find him!”

Chapter 864: Everything Is Fine, with You by My Side

Zheng Yan’s expression turned serious when she heard what he said.

She leaned toward the computer and took a closer look at the face of the man that was on freeze-frame.

“I don’t have any recollections. It’s true that the Zheng Family has got some connections in City N, but don’t forget, my family is only friends with people in the business industry and this person looks like someone with a gangster background. I reckon that even if I am willing to help you guys, I would not be able to find him quickly.”

Zheng Yan spoke in a deadly sincere manner.

She would not hide nor conceal anything since she had already agreed to lend them a helping hand.

Furthermore, Yu Yuehan had offered such good conditions—as long as she could find the person in the footage, the Zheng Family would be able to acquire the upper hand in their collaboration with the Yu Corporation.

She would definitely not reject the offer if she could find the person.

“Tan Bengbeng has been missing for quite a while now. I am afraid that she might meet with an accident if we don’t find her soon.” Nian Xiaomu said worriedly.

Until now, they were still unsure of the reasons behind Tan Bengbeng’s disappearance.

The surveillance cameras in the airport had captured footage of her leaving the airport herself.

They had always assumed that Tan Bengbeng had intentionally hidden herself away. However, they now realized that this might not be the exact situation.

If Tan Bengbeng had sensed that someone was tailing her and hence changed her mind about boarding the plane, it would be highly possible that something had happened to her since she had not yet returned!

Nian Xiaomu felt a little restless when she thought of this.

“The Mo Family is the legitimate top family in City N. If this happened a few years ago, I might have been able to ask them for a favor on your behalf. However, the relationship between the Zheng Family and the Mo Family is a little complicated right now...”

Zheng Yan seemed to have recalled an unhappy memory as a tinge of sadness flashed past her charming face.

Very quickly, she lifted her head and asked again, “Speaking of people with gangster backgrounds, I have thought of a formidable person. I am not sure if you guys have heard of Shang Lingsi? The Shang Family was once in control of the dark underworld, but Shang Lingsi decided to turn over a new leaf for the love of his life. The Shang Family is the legit top family right now, hence it is not difficult for them to find someone in the gangster world. However, I don’t know how we should convince the Shang Family to help us!”

Both Yu Yuehan and Nian Xiaomu thought of one person the moment Zheng Yan finished her sentence.

Shangxin!

Others might not be aware of Shangxin’s real identity, but Yu Yuehan and Nian Xiaomu knew about it.

She is Shang Lingsi, the Elder Miss of the Shang Family, as well as Shang Lingsi’s only daughter!

Other than Shangxin, no one could be a better candidate to do the job of convincing Shang Lingsi to help find a person.

The Tang Family’s villa.

The butler was standing in the kitchen and he was busy instructing the crew for the preparation of meals.

“Miss Shangxin does not have a good appetite at the moment. Don’t prepare too many oily vegetables and try to have more of the lightly flavored ones.”

“Place the steamed grouper in front, Miss Shangxin likes this dish.”

“Is the bird’s nest ready? Serve it quickly...”

Tang Yuansi held Shangxin’s hand and walked into the kitchen.

Tang Yuansi paused when he heard his cell phone ringing.

He realized that it wasn’t his cell phone after he had taken it out his out and taken a glance at it.

Knitting his eyebrows, he turned around and looked at the person beside him.

He said in a deepened voice.

“Hand me your cell phone.”

“I am only carrying my cell phone with me, I am not using it.”

As Shangxin struggled free from his grip, she held onto her cell phone and retreated to the corner, all the while staring at him with enlarged eyes.

She tried to reason with him.

“Brother Xiaosi, I am merely pregnant and it’s not as if I have contracted some terminal illness. Nothing would happen if I used my cell phone for a short while. Look, I am still fine even if I have my cell phone with me, right?”

A little bit of radiation would not result in something bad so easily.

He was too keyed up...

Chapter 865: You Are My Life!

To others who didn’t know what was going on, they would have thought that she had contracted a terminal disease.

He brought her tonics and supplements every day.

He also kept staring at her tummy.

Even Shangxin started to wonder if her baby was a healthy one.

“Brother Xiaosi, tell me honestly, is the baby really alright?” Shangxin grabbed onto his hand and asked as she ignored the incoming phone call.

She had a feeling that he was hiding something from her.

Since she had come back from the hospital, he kept staring into space. He would also stare at her belly for ages and not say a word.

There was a time where she asked him about the recurrence of his heart disease. He looked fine, but after that, he spent even longer staring at her tummy every day.

He seemed to be apprehensive of something.

“Yeah?” Tang Yuansi stunned a little and his lips curled up into a loving smile. “The baby is very healthy, it’s just that you are too skinny, the doctor asked you to eat more.”

“I am eating a lot already. I’m eating meat every day and I also finish all the tonics you bought. I drink so much that I have started to doubt if I have traveled back in time. Why am I taking such supplements...”

Shangxin was mumbling as she walked into the restaurant.

She pulled the chair herself and sat down.

She did not notice that Tang Yuansi's face fell.

When he heard her asking if she could stop drinking the Chinese medicines, he squinted his eyes.

He walked up.

"Drink it for a few more days. When you stop having nightmares, you can stop drinking them."

"..."

"Who called you?" Tang Yuansi asked suddenly.

Then, Shangxin remembered the phone call and hurriedly looked at her phone. She did not notice that he had changed the topic.

"It was from Xiao Mumu."

Shangxin took the soup from Tang Yuansi and called back immediately.

Nian Xiaomu had been waiting for her phone call.

"I can help you look for her, but I have no idea how long it will take. I will ask them to hurry up. Yeah, I will call my dad now..." Shangxin talked to Nian Xiaomu for a while and hung up.

Before Tang Yuansi could ask her what was going on, she looked at him nervously.

"I want to call my dad. But, if he asks me where am I now, how do I answer?"

Tang Yuansi replied, "Say the truth."

"You sure? If he knows that you abducted his little princess, made her pregnant and we are living together. I am afraid that he may appear at your front door tomorrow and it would be your death day."

Tang Yuansi asked, 'Xin'er, are you afraid of our baby not having a father?'"

Shangxin pressed her lips together and answered, "Yeah, I am very afraid. I shall not speak the truth then." She held her phone and over walked to the side to call her father.

Tang Yuansi was left stunned on the table when he heard, "Very afraid."

Under the table, his hands were clenched into fists.

The assistant held onto the medicine and walked out.

He walked over to Tang Yuansi and reminded softly. "President Tang, this is the last medicine prescribed by the doctor. The abortion medicine has already been mixed in."

Shangxin walked over just as the assistant finished his sentence.

She saw the medicine on the table and thought it was the medicine that she normally took. She took the spoon and went to drink it.

Tang Yuansi's face changed.

“Xin’er, wait!”

Chapter 866: As Long as the Child Is Your Kid, I Will Love It

Tang Yuansi said instinctively.

His voice startled Shangxin as she looked at him in confusion.

She didn’t understand what was happening.

Normally when she didn’t want to drink the medicine, he would always convince her and tell her that it was good for the baby.

It was rare for her to be so cooperative, however, he stopped her.

Shangxin blinked her eyes which were filled with a questioning look.

“No, nothing. The medicine is too hot. Eat something else first then come back to drink it.” Tang Yuansi took the spoon from her and passed her chopsticks instead.

Shangxin did not suspect anything and she sat down to eat.

Her trust in him made him feel guilty.

It was a very uncomfortable feeling...

He could not imagine her reaction if she knew that the medicine was for her to abort the baby.

Tang Yuansi clenched the spoon in his fist. He clenched onto it so tightly that he almost shattered it.

When the assistant saw that he had stopped Shangxin from drinking the medicine, he did not dare to say anything and walked off silently...

Tang Yuansi looked at the sumptuous dinner on the dining table but had no appetite

He kept staring at Shangxin and her flat tummy.

As he was looking at it, he couldn’t help but touch her tummy.

He looked at her and asked. “Will the baby kick you?”

“The baby is too young, it can’t move yet. I have asked the doctor, he said that the baby will have to be at least 4 months old before movements can be felt.” Shangxin reached for her tummy and felt his hand on her tummy. She smiled sweetly.

Her eyes were filled with anticipation.

Upon seeing this, Tang Yuansi trembled.

When he was about to pull his hand away, Shangxin came over and sat on his lap. She cuddled against his chest and asked, “Brother Xiaosi, would you like a son or a daughter?”

Tang Yuansi’s eyes narrowed. Answering such questions was like torture for him.

He hugged her tightly around her waist.

He said slowly, "As long as the child is your kid, I will love it."

When he was speaking, a picture of a baby flashed through his mind.

The baby would look at him and call him "Daddy" in a childish voice.

Tang Yuansi's eyes fell.

He wanted her and the baby to be healthy more than anything else. But now, he was going to...

"I am full. I can take the medicine now."

Shangxin looked up, reached out for the medicine and took off the lid,

The thick scent spread into the air.

Shangxin smelled it and started to whine. "The medicine smells really bad. Can I leave it?"

Tang Yuansi looked at her in hesitation.

He knew that if she kept the baby, it would not be good for her.

The amount of hardship she would have to go through in the future would be too much.

But... he really couldn't bear to do this!

It was his flesh and blood. It was a baby that he had never dared to dream about...

The moment he remembered that he was going to abort the baby, his heart hurt. It was as if he was stuck under a heavy rock and could hardly breathe.

He could not answer her question.

If he could, he wanted more than anyone else for her not to drink the medicine.

"Xin'er..."

"Okay, okay. I know that it is all for the baby. I will drink it."

Chapter 867: Aftermath

Shangxin took the spoon and stirred the medicine and was going to gulp the medicine down.

She held her nose and opened her mouth.

When her lips touched the side of the bowl, a hand hit the medicine she was holding.

BAM!

The bowl of medicine fell onto the floor and shattered.

The black medicine spilled everywhere...

Shangxin looked up in shock. She turned back and realized that Tang Yuansi was pale.

The expression on his face was worse than hers.

“Brother Xiaosi!”

“I didn’t do it on purpose. I will tell the butler to get you another bowl of medicine. I’ve just remembered that I have to work. I am going to the study.” Tang Yuansi stood up from the chair and left the room in a hurry.

He left in such a hurry that Shangxin didn’t even have the time to talk.

She blinked her eyes in confusion as she stared at the medicine on the floor.

She felt that his reaction was weird today.

Tang Yuansi walked to the door; the pain in his chest made it hard for him to walk.

He was worried that Shangxin would be able to see him and he dragged himself up the stairs.

He entered the study room and slammed the door.

He leaned on the door and covered his face as he knelt down.

The previous scene kept replaying in his mind...

She had almost drunk the medicine.

He thought that he would be relieved.

However, when he saw that she was about to drink the medicine, his heart felt as though it had been emptied. The hollowness consumed him and spread throughout his body.

He hit the medicine out of her hand without any hesitation. He didn’t even realize what he had done.

When he saw her shocked look, he could only flee...

Tang Yuansi lifted his hand off his face and his eyes were red.

His handsome face was as pale as a piece of white paper.

It was terrifying.

How much he loved her was how much he loved their baby.

However, if she kept the baby, the baby would only be a burden. He didn’t know how to face her and her trust in him.

Knock, knock!

The study room door sounded.

The assistant said, “President Tang, it’s me.”

Tang Yuansi stood up from behind the door, sat down in front of the table and hid his emotions.

“Come in.”

The assistant pushed the door open and entered.

“The medicine has been cleaned. Miss Shangxin has also left the dining room. When she was leaving she asked me, if you didn’t want the baby...”

The assistant was taken aback completely.

He didn’t know how to answer her.

He felt that Miss Shangxin felt something.

He cleaned up the mess and came to inform Tang Yuansi immediately.

Upon hearing the assistant, Tang Yuansi’s felt confused.

She knew him as well as he knew her.

Xin’er had been very sensitive since she was young.

She did not grow up with her mum, hence she was very cautious about other’s feelings. She would always hide her troubles.

Since she asked, she must have realized that something was wrong. She just didn’t want to ask him directly...

“Where is she?” Tang Yuansi asked in a panic.

The assistant answered, “Miss Shangxin returned to her room after asking me.”

Chapter 868: Return Empty-Handed

Tang Yuansi did not hesitate to stand up from the table, he wanted to look for her.

“President Tang, you look unwell. Do you want to rest first?” The assistant reminded.

Tang Yuansi’s mind was filled with Shangxin.

He couldn’t calm down.

He pushed the assistant away and walked out of the study room.

When he reached the door, his entire body jerked and there was a tremendous pain from his chest. He couldn’t stand straight and had to lean against the door frame.

There was a layer of sweat on his forehead.

“Medicine...” Tang Yuansi said with difficulty.

The assistant realized and immediately went to the table to get a bottle of medicine for him. It was in the depths of the drawer, he fished it out and poured one dose for Tang Yuansi.

Normally Tang Yuansi would feel a lot better after taking the medication, but today, his body did not get better.

He could normally hold onto the door frame, but now, he could only squat down in agony.

The veins were showing on his forehead and he looked as if he was in tremendous pain...

“President Tang, President Tang are you okay? I will help you call the ambulance!” The assistant took out his phone and went to call.

Before he could dial the number, Tang Yuansi held onto his phone.

“You can’t call the ambulance. Take me to the hospital, do... do not let her find out...”

As he finished his sentence, Tang Yuansi spat a mouthful of blood out.

His face turned purple and he looked as though he was suffocating.

The assistant looked at him worrying about Miss Shangxin at times like this, but could only clench his teeth, help him up and take him to the hospital.

In the room.

Shangxin was sat on the balcony, wearing a white sleeping gown.

She hugged her knees and stared into space blankly.

Her mind was replaying Tang Yuansi’s reaction after he had found out that she was pregnant.

The scenes flashed pass one by one...

She had always thought that he was elated.

Ever since he knew that he was going to be a dad, his attitude towards her changed completely.

At first, she was upset that all his changes were for the baby.

However, after seeing that he treasured the baby so much, she didn’t mind anymore.

However, in the dining room just now...

Knocking over the medicine sent chills down her spine.

She had a feeling that he had done it on purpose.

He looked guilty and annoyed when he did it...

She was supposed to drink that medicine. What made him change his mind?

Was the medicine in the bowl really safe for the baby?

The moment she thought of that, her face fell.

No!

It couldn’t be!

He wouldn't be so cruel, he wouldn't do this to their baby.

There must be some misunderstanding. She couldn't scare herself.

Pregnant women tired out particularly easily.

Shangxin sat on the balcony for a while and soon fell asleep.

She fell into a deep sleep.

She even dreamt of Tang Yuansi.

He wasn't President of the company. He was just the Brother Xiaosi that would wear white leisure clothes and read books with her in school.

He was young and handsome.

In school, there would always be a few girls running behind him with a textbook and pretending to meet him coincidentally...

Then, they would stuff him their love letter and run away shyly.

Chapter 869: Can't Hide It Anymore...

His reaction was always very calm. He would look at the love letter and put it in the books he lent her.

She would always get angry and yell at him that he could not fall in love with others, or else she will stop hanging out with him... Then, he would always grin and softly agree.

Then she would take the love letter and satisfyingly throw everything into the dustbin.

There was once when she heard someone ask him why he kept the letters for her to see if he didn't like them.

She remembered that he smiled.

He looked at the friend who asked him the question and said, "So, I can ask for the same thing from her."

Then, she realized that Brother Xiaosi was a cunning guy.

However, although he was cunning, she still liked him a lot!

She liked him so much that, even if she knew that he kept the letters to annoy her, she would still go up to him angrily with the letters when she saw them.

They did that for their entire youth...

The scene in the dream changed.

It became the scene in the dining room today.

He held the medicine and coldly told her, "Shang Muxin, this baby was an accident. There is no need for the baby to be born, abort it!"

The cruel words came out of his mouth without mercy.

No matter how hard she begged, he was not moved.

He pinched her by the chin and forced the abortion medicine down her throat. He watched her lie on the floor in pain and told her that he wanted to break up...

"Brother Xiaosi, do not harm our baby... do not make me hate you..."

Tears rolled out from Shangxin's eyes.

She woke up from the nightmare and stayed curled up until she realized it was a dream.

The sky had turned dark.

Shangxin sat up and wiped away the tears from her face.

She turned around to look and realize that the room was empty.

He wasn't done with his work?

It was already 7 p.m. the butler had not woken her to eat either. Normally, by this time, even if the butler didn't come, he would be here to ensure that she ate her dinner.

The Tang Family villa was strangely quiet today...

Shangxin wore her slippers and walked towards the study room.

She couldn't find Tang Yuansi in the study room so she went downstairs.

When she was turning the corner, she met the butler who was rushing up.

"Miss Shangxin, dinner is ready. I just coming to get you." The butler was sweating profusely.

He looked as though he had rushed back from outside.

However, the butler did not leave normally...

When Shangxin didn't see anyone in the living room, she asked the butler, "Where is Brother Xiaosi? I went to the study room, but he isn't inside."

"There are some urgent matters in the company and President Tang went back to the office. He said that he wasn't going to come home for dinner so, Miss Shangxin, you don't have to wait for him!" The butler answered quickly.

It was like a prepared answer.

Upon hearing his answer, Shangxin was taken aback.

"Then, pack up the dinner. I'm taking it to the office to eat with him."

The butler panicked when she said that.

“Miss Shangxin...”

Shangxin’s heart fell when she saw the butler’s reaction.

“I want to find him now!”

The butler stopped her. “Miss Shangxin, President Tang... he isn’t in the office!”

Chapter 870: A Woman’s Sixth Sense

The butler bit his tongue. When he met Shangxin’s gaze, he hesitated for a few seconds before explaining, “Actually, at the last minute, President Tang went out for a work trip. He was concerned that you would be worried, as such... As such, he forbade me from informing you.”

Shangxin’s eyes grew solemn when she heard this.

Since he was merely out for a work trip, why did he keep it from her?

Furthermore, judging from the butler’s expression, she could tell that he was hiding something from her.

What exactly has happened?

The atmosphere in the entire Tang Family villa suddenly turned extremely strange and she could feel the pressure inside, even if she did not continue pursuing the matter. It was obvious that something had happened.

Something major!

Shangxin felt an unspeakable feeling of panic swim up to her throat.

She had a feeling that something of great importance to her was about to disappear...

A woman’s sixth sense was always scarily accurate.

She could not simply wait in the Tang Family villa like a fool for his return.

“Where did he go on his work trip? Did he mention how many days he would be away for? Give me the address, I will go and look for him.” Shangxin spoke in a persistent tone.

After the questions were continuously shot toward him, the butler appeared to be muddled.

“Miss Shangxin, you are pregnant now and it will be inconvenient for you to leave the house...”

Shangxin replied, “The baby is very obedient and I have had no signs of morning sickness during my pregnancy. Furthermore, my tummy isn’t big so it’s definitely convenient for me to head out of the house.”

The butler was rebutted to the extent that he did not know how to reply to her. A while later, he finally forced a sentence out.

“President Tang only mentioned that he was going for a work trip and he did not tell us where he was going.”

“What about the assistant? His assistant should know, right?” Shangxin stumped the butler with her question yet again. When she saw that the butler could not reply to her questions, she was certain that something must have happened.

If Tang Yuansi had indeed forbidden the butler from telling her, she would not be able to get an answer even if she continued asking.

Shangxin’s eyes flickered and she pursed her lips lightly.

“Forget it, I am a little tired anyway. I shall not disturb him if he is busy now. I’ll go and have my meal first.”

After she had finished speaking, Shangxin entered the dining room pretending nothing had happened.

She sat down at the dining table alone. As she stared at the wholesome spread of food on the table, she picked up her chopsticks and started to eat.

Even though her face revealed no abnormalities, she was already wondering where he might have gone.

All of a sudden, she remembered the time when Nian Xiaomu told her that she had once seen Tang Yuansi in the hospital.

Could it be that this time...

Shangxin’s heart tightened in an instant!

“Miss Shangxin, this is the soup that President Tang had specially ordered to be boiled for you. Drink more of it, it’s good for you and the baby.” The considerate butler scooped a bowl of soup for her.

“...”

As Shangxin bit her lip, she felt awful with all the hidden emotions in her heart.

If something had happened to Tang Yuansi and yet he chose to hide it from her, then he would definitely have someone who would report whatever she did in the Tang Family villa to him.

She could not impose any worries on him...

Reaching out, Shangxin took the bowl of soup from the butler and sipped on it mouthful by mouthful.

She still forced herself to have a filling meal even though she did not have much of an appetite.

“I am tired, I’ll return to my room to rest now.”

Shangxin placed her chopsticks down. Then, she exited the dining room and headed up the stairs.

The butler watched as her figure disappeared by the staircase landing before he hurried to the corded phone in the living room and gave someone a call.

Shangxin, who was supposed to be upstairs, was standing on the staircase landing behind him.

The staircase landing was some distance away from the corded phone and she could not hear what the butler was saying. However, this was enough to prove that the butler was indeed hiding something from her.

She collected her thoughts and went upstairs.

She called Tang Yuansi as she sat on the tatami in the room.

Both his and the assistant's cell phones were switched off.

Shangxin was not at all surprised.

Biting her lip, she dialed Nian Xiaomu's phone...
