

My Mates 338

Chapter 338 My Sweet And Crazy Mate

“Wait, we didn’t know you were busy researching too,” I told Thiago, who shrugged his shoulders, looking all confident. At least he was nice enough to tell the others to back off and not judge me.

“Now we have even more troubles,” Lazlo commented and gestured at Maynard, who was sitting in his bed with his face in his hands.

“What happened?” Thiago asked Maynard this time, who steadily raised his face from his hands and sighed before he even answered Thiago.

“It seems like the bad guys we had been killing were Christina and Zander’s guardians.” Maynard sounded so defeated that he didn’t even want to explain his statement. Thiago was even more confused now.

“Mr. Tripper?” I know Thiago didn’t overthink of it. Something definitely seemed to have changed in him now.

“Argo and Mr. Kay!” It was Lazlo who corrected him. Maynard was too down and probably worried about how Christina would react to the truth. They were at a point where he just wanted to be with her all the time. Even the thought of losing her was a stab to his chest.

“Hm, what about them?” The way Thiago asked about them made me question whether he even remembered who we were talking about. He was not making eye contact with us, confirmed he had forgotten

Argo was their uncle.” Maynard sighed as he 1

288 Vouchers

Thiago rubbed his hands while he walked back and forth in the room.

us. The moment I questioned his memory, both Maynard and Lazlo looked at much am I supposed to remember?” Thiago seemed offended that I questioned him. He is happening to you. We learned it all in the library,” Lazlo said after

was once

visited her mansion and that’s where we find out that Argo and Kay, the two crazy people we killed, were their guardians,”

We were so occupied by way. Her eyes showed how upset she was. There were tears already escaping her eyes as me first, what were

know he was your—”