Elsa's thoughts

Without thinking I ran out of school to look for my sister... How did I forgot... What if she's hurt omg... This is all my fault I need to find her faster... I was running for hours all I was thinking was that this is my fault... when I stopped for a second 2 guys approached me.. I could tell they wanted to rape me they started touching me I tried pushing away but couldn't then they both were o me and when I opened my eyes I saw Jack the last thing he said was - I got you princess - then I fainted.... The next morning I had a nightmare and jumped up screaming Jack instantly came and hugged me of course I hugged him back I felt safe... The thought of my sister came back and I went to run and search for her but he stopped me and told me that his men will find her... Jack is amazing... he's My savior.....

few hours later
