Chapter 1011 the darkness before the Dawn

Lan Ruoshui, a woman who hid herself so deeply and schemed so deeply, she actually foolishly made friends with her and treated her as her best friend.

Jin Zhengnan just had to fall in love with such a woman. Thinking about it, the two of them really were like Wolves, tigers, and leopards. One was cold-blooded and heartless, while the other hid a knife in her smile. They were a match made in heaven.

Ru Yu walked through the crowd with her head lowered and arrived at Pu Zhihui's VIP seat to sit down. The charity gala had already begun. Pu Zhihui had donated an 18th century european-style Noble Lady, the Golden Bell seat, which was very expensive.

She had come here to help Auntie Zhihui introduce the origins of this golden clock seat and its cultural value. Of course, her goal was to bid for a higher price so that she could collect more money for the charity.

However, ru Yu was not in the mood for the charity gala. Until the end of the charity gala, she did not know what she had said on stage. She did not even remember what price the Noble Lady's Golden Clock seat had been auctioned off and who had taken it in the end.

She did not remember. She really did not remember anything. She only knew that she had gone on stage, watched the Golden Bell seat be auctioned off, and then returned to her seat. After that, she foolishly waited until the end of the charity gala like a fool.

How she had returned home, and how she had entered the house, she had been muddle-headed all this time. Her mind was as muddled as a pulp until she shut the door with a bang, until she was the only one in the entire space.

Finally, she did not have any strength left to support her body. She leaned against the door and slowly slid down. She sat on the floor, pulled out her sunglasses, and threw them aside. She buried her head in her knees, her eyes red and swollen Tears that had long been unable to be suppressed gushed out like a spring.

She did not know how long she had cried, but the room was pitch black. She did not have the strength or thought to turn on the lights. At the same time, she felt that it was not necessary because this was her own home Even if she closed her eyes, she would be able to accurately know where and what was placed.

Because it was night and there was no light, the entire room was pitch-black. However, she did not have the slightest sense of fear.

She remembered that when she was very young, she had once said, "the darkness before dawn. " At that time, she did not understand the meaning of this sentence, so she asked her father, Dongfang Mo..

Her father had explained it to her like this. He said that the darkness before dawn referred to a person walking on the road before the Sun rose and would be attacked by the darkness. People with weak wills would be frightened by the darkness, and some might even be scared to death. However, people with strong wills would not be frightened by the darkness. On the contrary, they would not be afraid of the darkness. Hence, not long after, the dawn came.

At that time, she always felt that her father's words were very profound. She could not help but refute him: Why do people walk on the road before the Sun rose? Why don't they wait for the sun to rise before they walk? Then wouldn't they be unable to meet the darkness?

At that time, her father would always smile. He would rub her head with his hand and say in a low voice, "little feather, you are still young. When you grow up, you will know that there are many helplessness in life. Many times, it is not something that you can avoid just because you want to avoid the darkness."

Tonight, she finally understood the deep meaning of her father's words. She finally understood that some darkness was not something that you could avoid just because you wanted to.

Chapter 1012 only shed tears when she saw the coffin

However, she did not know if she would be able to meet the dawn that belonged to her after she gritted her teeth and used it up.

She leaned against the door and sat on the cold floor for an unknown amount of time. She had always thought that South Korea was not cold in August. However, today, she suddenly realized that South Korea was actually an extremely cold country, while Seoul was an extremely cold city. Even though it was August in the middle of summer, it still made people feel a bone-chilling coldness.

She curled up like a stray kitten. On this cold summer day, in this dark night, there was only loneliness and loneliness accompanying her.

She remembered that when she was very young, she always loved to make some mistakes when she laughed. Every time her mother warned her, she always said, "little feather, you are a person who won't shed tears until you see the coffin."

When she thought of this, she couldn't help but feel sad. She was indeed a person who wouldn't turn back until she saw the coffin and wouldn't shed tears until she saw the south wall.

But now, she had bumped into the South Wall and knew that she had turned back. Now, when she saw the coffin, she finally shed tears.

Of course, there was an old saying during the Han Dynasty when Emperor Wu of the Han Dynasty said, "there is only the laughter of the new. Who will cry when they see the old?"

And this sentence, which had been passed down for more than two thousand years, was now fully experienced by her, Jin Zhengnan, and Lan Ruoshui. At tonight's charity gala, everyone saw Lan Ruoshui's charming smile. Who would see her cry?

She did not know how long she had sat there because she had thrown away her phone. In the pitch-black space, even the clock on the wall could not be seen.

There was a rustling sound coming from the room. She was slightly stunned, and then she heard a rustling sound. She quickly realized that there was a wet tongue licking the instep of her foot.

She finally woke up slowly. She knew that it was tow who was getting close to her. She bent down slightly and held tow in her arms. Then, she fumbled to turn on the light on the wall. The pitch-black space instantly became as bright as day.

Everything in the room was still the same as when she left. Even the half a cucumber that she had left on the coffee table was still there, but it had long dried up and no longer had any moisture.

She had gone to Taiwan to participate in the oil painting tour. It had taken her half a month to travel from Taipei to Tainan, and everything that had remained intact fully explained that he had never returned home during this half a month. There was not a single trace of him in this house There was not a single trace of him.

Tow was twisting in her arms, tugging at her sleeve and barking non-stop. She finally understood that tow was hungry. She had prepared food for tow before she left, but it had probably eaten all of it, right?

Indeed, in the small house on the balcony of tow, the pile of dog food that she had put before she left was long gone, and the tank of water that she went down was also completely drunk by it.

Touching the already thin tow, her tears could not help but roll down again. Fortunately, she had only been gone for half a month. If she came back in another half a month, maybe tow would starve to death.

After putting tow down, she quickly went to look for the dog food. Only then did she realize that there was nothing left. She had no choice but to look in the refrigerator. Fortunately, there were still two packets of instant noodles, so she immediately went to the kitchen to cook them.

She and mop, one person and one dog, each ate a packet of instant noodles. Perhaps mop was as hungry as she was, but he did not know how to be picky. It was clearly instant noodles, but he wolfed it down quickly.

Chapter 1013 destroying his things

However, she was not in the mood to eat them. She only picked a few and put them into her mouth, but she could not taste any of them. In the end, she could not swallow them, so she gave them all to mop.

The moment she raised her head after feeding mop, she found that the clock on the wall was already past one o'clock in the morning, and her husband, Jin Zhengnan, had never returned.

Presumably, he would never come back again, right?

Thinking of this, she smiled bitterly and rushed into the room. She opened the closet door as fast as she could, then threw out all the neatly folded clothes and stepped on them with her feet.

His Crystal Ashtray, the cigarette box made of ivory bones, the Cologne, and the Crystal Cup with ice on it... ..

She destroyed everything related to him and threw them all away as garbage. However, the moment she broke the Cologne, the fragrance in the room almost drowned her.

The pipe rolled down when she threw his close-fitting clothes at the end. At that time, it rolled out of the closet with a crash and hit the instep of her foot. It hurt so much that she almost cried again.

After a moment of hesitation, she bent down to pick up the pipe that had hit her foot. The first thing that attracted her was the ivory pipe. She remembered the first time she met him. He was using his slender fingers to pick up a thin yellow stem and elegantly stroke it along the edge of a small box. In his mouth was an antique pipe. On top of the pipe was a Cuban cigar.

Daddy Che Qi Xuan had once said that the men who could still use a pipe to smoke in this world and the men who still used matches to smoke were all extremely elegant and reserved men. Some things were worth collecting for a lifetime, such as a pipe and matches!

When she thought of this, she could not help but feel uncomfortable again. Her father had only said that the pipe and matches were worth collecting, but he had never said that the men who smoked with matches and pipes were also worth collecting.

It was she who had misunderstood. It was she who had paid the wrong person, which was why she foolishly collected both the pipe and matches. In the end, the pipe and the neatly arranged matches witnessed her foolishness and her stupidity.

She threw all of Jin Zhengnan's things into the trash can outside the door. Only then did she feel that the entire room was not as oppressive as before. She dragged out her suitcase and put the things that belonged to her. Things that had nothing to do with him were gradually put into the suitcase.

She pulled open the drawer of the dressing table and was shocked to find the ridiculous brown marriage certificate. After a moment of hesitation, she opened it. A photo of two young men with their heads together appeared in her sight.

In the photo, she was smiling foolishly, but his face was stiff as if he was experiencing a very painful thing. At that time, she had laughed at him for being too nervous. Now that she thought about it, he was not nervous at all. He was clearly unwilling.

Looking at the book that symbolized marriage, she did not cry this time. Instead, she smiled completely. However, that smile was not much better than crying.

How could she be so stupid? She actually did not know what was wrong with her. Why did she make him not like her so much? The Brown book in front of her was so eye-catching that it hurt her eyes. She almost instinctively grabbed the book and used a little strength to tear the thing that symbolized marriage apart.

Looking at the book that was shattered into countless pieces, her heart seemed to have been torn into pieces by herself. She casually threw it into the air, and the pieces flew like snowflakes. Her heart and soul also floated in the air.

Chapter 1014 an affair

She once thought that if she fell in love with someone, she would be stuck with him for the rest of her life. Just like her parents, no matter how many ups and downs they went through, they would eventually come together and still love each other deeply.

Therefore, when she fell in love with Jin Zhengnan, she was also certain that this was the man of her life, the one who would be with her for the rest of her life.

Unfortunately, Jin Zhengnan was not as perfect as she imagined. In fact, he was not an ordinary man. He was just a dirty man that she looked down on. He and his distant cousin, her best friend.. They even got together.

She could not help but think of the message Lan Ruoshui sent to her: pregnant!

Was there anything more cruel and unacceptable than this When she was already defeated by the two of them, she was actually stabbed to death.

No, it was to kill the last trace of her feelings for Jin Zhengnan, completely killing her heart. At the same time, she finally made up her mind to end this marriage.

So tired, so sleepy, so tired. Finally, after throwing away all the things about Jin Zhengnan, she did not have any strength to support her thin body. She just lay straight on the bed and did not even have the strength to go to the bathroom to take a shower.

Her heart was so painful that it was mercilessly shattered into dust by reality. Her eyes, which were swollen from crying, finally could not support it anymore. They slowly closed, and in the end, she fell into a deep sleep. Perhaps, she fainted.

She did not know how long she slept for. Perhaps it was a very, very long time. Perhaps it was only a few minutes. Perhaps it was because she was extremely tired to the extreme. In short, during the time she slept, she actually slept exceptionally peacefully She did not even have a dream.

“beep beep beep... beep beep beep...” the ear-piercing sound was not the familiar alarm clock sound, because the ancient clock on the wall of her house did not have the function to pick the alarm clock.

Similarly, it was not the alarm clock sound of her mobile phone, because her mobile phone’s alarm clock was a classic “Jingle Jingle Jingle” , and this deadly “beep beep beep” was obviously far away from “Jingle Jingle Jingle Jingle Jingle Jingle” .

She instinctively rubbed her eyes and looked around the room, but she did not find the culprit who woke her up. Just as she was puzzled, the sound came again. This time, she finally figured out that it was the home phone ringtone in the living room.

She got up a little impatiently. She did not like to be woken up, especially by a landline. That landline was also one of her antiques collection, so other than the monotonous ‘beep beep beep’ , it would not make any other sound.

She picked up the microphone and was about to speak impatiently, but unfortunately, the other party did not give her the chance to speak first. The moment she picked up the microphone, he roared loudly.

“Dongfang Yu, you’ve slept like a dead person, right? Why haven’t you answered the phone after so long?” A childish voice came from the phone It was an extremely domineering voice, and before Ru Yu could reply.. She continued to ask, “also, who was the man who picked up your phone just now? Hurry up and tell me the truth. I heard that his voice wasn’t your husband, Jin Zhengnan. Are You F * Cking having an affair? ”

“An affair, my ass! ” Ru Yu shouted into the microphone, “Dongfang Mu Yao, you didn’t study hard in the early morning. When you got up, you called me to harass me. You must be so full that you’re thinking that no one has beaten you up for a long time, right? ”

Chapter 1015 divorce

After she finished yelling, she immediately hung up the phone. She was afraid that she would call again without knowing what was good for her. In a fit of anger, she pulled out the phone line. Then, she suddenly fell on the Sofa and rubbed her head that still had a splitting headache.

What did Mu Yao say on the phone just now She called her cell phone, but it was answered by a man. Then what about her cell phone How could it be in the hands of a man?

Thinking of this, she remembered her cell phone. Yesterday, she saw a text message from Lan Ruoshui outside the bathroom of the charity gala. Then, she threw the cell phone away fiercely.

Well, the person who picked up her phone was probably a man, and a man who loved to gossip. It was not her phone, but he still answered it. Did he want to ask about her privacy?

She was a little annoyed, but she was not in the mood to pursue the matter of the phone. After calming herself down, she stood up and plugged in the landline. Then, she quickly dialed the number that was in her heart.

The phone rang twice before it was picked up. However, the other party did not speak first. She took a deep breath and made a final decision. Then, she spoke into the phone in an extremely calm and clear voice, “Jin Zhengnan, we are getting a divorce! ”

The other party was silent for nearly ten seconds before he softly spat out a word, “okay! ”

“where are you? I’m coming over to sign the divorce agreement right now! ” She quickly pressed on. At this moment, she had an urge to wait impatiently.

“Can’t you delay it for a few days? ” The voice from the other side was gentle and carried a tone of discussion.

“No, ” she decisively rejected his discussion, “I can’t even delay it for half a day. I’m going to divorce you immediately. ”

There was a long silence from the receiver. Just when ru Yu thought that the other party had already put the receiver aside and ignored her, Jin Zhengnan’s clear voice finally reached her ears. He calmly told her his address Then, he hung up the phone with a snap.

Ru Yu’s hands tightly gripped the receiver. Her entire body was trembling, but she gritted her teeth. She was so strong that she did not let any more tears fall.

Since she had made up her mind, since she had already made up her mind, she did not allow herself to hesitate anymore.

She got up and went to the bedroom to drag out the suitcase that she had packed the night before. She opened the door and walked out. Then, she took the elevator downstairs and went straight to the underground parking lot.

She usually drove an SUV. This was not to say that she was not environmentally friendly and did not know how to drive a car with small exhaust emissions. It was because she often drove to the suburbs to sketch, so the SUV was more suitable for her.

She drove to the law firm that he had appointed. She had just arrived when he arrived. He stood in the VIP reception room of the cold and impersonal law firm. The two of them stood face to face. However, there was no trace of the relationship between husband and wife in it.

"Let's draw up a divorce agreement," she said first. Her voice was indifferent and distant, as if she was talking to a passerby.

He hesitated for a moment, then took out a divorce agreement from his bag and pushed it in front of her. He looked at her calmly.

She looked at the divorce agreement almost at a glance. She did not look at the previous reasons but only looked at the situation of the division of property. It was really a change of opinion after three days of separation. She did not expect that the usually petty Jin Zhengnan.. This time, he was more generous in divorcing her. He actually split his property in two, half for each person.

Chapter 1016 divorce 1

Jin Zhengnan's company had only been established a few years ago. When she met him, he had only established the company for a little more than a year, and she had only married him for three years. In these three years, although her identity as a painter had more or less brought him some connections, but.. It was undeniable that the entire company was also built by his own hard work.

She looked at the divorce agreement and thought of how hard he had worked for the company all these years. Her heart could not help but ache, so she pushed the divorce agreement in front of him. Just as she was about to open her mouth and say, "I don't need so much property..." I just want to dissolve this marriage.

Unfortunately, before she could say anything, Lan Ruoshui's voice hurriedly sounded at the door.

"Zhengnan, the company was built by you alone, so all the property was earned by you alone. How are you going to give her half of it? She has never made any contribution to this company."

Lan Ruoshui's voice was full of heartache over Jin Zhengnan's generous parting. She could not help but remind him, "Zhengnan, you earn quite a lot of money from her paintings a year. She won't be unable to feed herself if she leaves you, much less starve to death. There's no need for you to share so much wealth with her."

Ru Yu originally did not want Jin Zhengnan's wealth because money had always been a worldly possession to her, and she had always looked down on it.

However, at this moment, with Lan Ruoshui's meddling, she looked at the couple standing in front of her and instantly decided that she wanted half of the wealth.

"whether I can afford to eat or not has nothing to do with Miss Lan, right?" Ru Yu's cold gaze landed on Lan Ruoshui's face. She said sarcastically, "besides, Miss Lan, what identity are you using to stop this matter? Before Jin Zhengnan and I got the divorce certificate, it seems that you are just a third son. I have never heard that third son has the right to interfere in how the husband and wife divide the property."

Jin Zhengnan's face sank when he heard Ru Yu's words. He was obviously dissatisfied with her calling Lan Ruoshui a third son, but he did not flare up. He said in a low voice, "alright, che Ru Yu, I have given you everything that I should give you, so you don't have to say anything else. Hurry up and sign your name."

Ru Yu's pen, which was in her hand to sign her name, stopped in the air again. She looked up at the couple in front of her and her heart skipped a beat. Hurry up. Why should they hurry up? Did they really want to be together openly?

She would not let them get what they wanted, so.. She sneered at this man, who she used to be familiar with but was now so unfamiliar with. "Hurry up, what's the rush? Didn't you say you wanted to take a few days off? I don't think it's a big deal to take a few years off. Anyway, in two or three years, the child might not be able to do anything."

Ru Yu had never thought that one day, she would say such harsh and vicious words because she had always felt that she had nothing to do with being harsh and vicious.

Now it seemed that people were actually forced out many times. When you were bullied to a certain extent, you couldn't care so much and would instinctively resist the person who bullied you.

With just one sentence, Jin Zhengnan and Lan Ruoshui's faces turned red with embarrassment. They didn't expect Ru Yu to say this.

Chapter 1017 turned out to be just a show

Lan Ruoshui was really afraid that Ru Yu wouldn't sign her name, so she quickly walked up to her. She said in a low voice, "Ru Yu, don't deceive yourself, okay? What's the point of this marriage even if you reluctantly drag it out? The man doesn't love you. Don't you know how the two of you have been living these two years? Every time you and the man have a quarrel, isn't it me who helps you persuade him?"

"Hehehe, are you trying to persuade him?" Ru Yu couldn't help but sneer, "Lan Ruoshui, if everyone tries to persuade others like you, and everyone tries to persuade others to go to their husbands' bed, and even the children are persuaded, wouldn't the world be in chaos? A mistress still has the right to flaunt her love here."

Ru Yu looked coldly at Lan Ruoshui in front of her. This face was once the face she was most familiar with. It was the face that she used to treat as her best friend, but now, it was the most fake face.

“Ru Yu, how can you say such things? “? “Lan Ruoshui was obviously very angry at ru Yu’s words, so she could not help but raise her voice and say, “Zhengnan doesn’t have any feelings for you. You can’t deny that. Over the past three years, he has also tried hard to live a good life with you, trying to make himself fall in love with you. However, it’s a pity that after three years of marriage, he still can’t fall in love with you. The person he truly loves is always me. ”

The person he truly loved was always me! ? ? ?

When ru Yu heard this, she was almost completely stunned on the spot. She had never thought that Jin Zhengnan and Lan Ruoshui were actually a couple in the past. Weren’t they distant cousins?

Her ice-cold gaze landed on the man and woman in front of her. Finally, it fixed on Jin Zhengnan. Ru Yu’s hands were clenched into fists under her sleeves She asked in an uncertain tone, “Jin Zhengnan, does this mean that before you and I met, the two of you were very in love? ”

Jin Zhengnan’s lips twitched, but he did not answer However, Lan Ruoshui answered on his behalf, “Haha, true love, what’s the big deal about sacrificing this little bit? As long as Zhengnan can succeed in his career, we don’t care about postponing our wedding date for a few years. ”

When Lan Ruoshui said this, her face was full of willingness and deep affection for the man she loved. This almost made ru Yu spit blood on the spot.

She remembered that her relationship with Lan Ruoshui was originally not that great in university until the last year of university. One day, she went to attend a business event and coincidentally brought Lan Ruoshui along. After that, Lan Ruoshui and she got along well, and then.. Not long after, Lan Ruoshui celebrated her birthday and invited her to go. Then, she met Jin Zhengnan there.

Hehe, so it turned out that everything was just a pre-arranged scene. It turned out that Jin Zhengnan and Lan Ruoshui were both acting. Only she, a simple and stupid woman, actually got lost in the act and foolishly threw herself into the relationship.

In the past three years, her relationship with Jin Zhengnan had always been at odds, and she always went to Lan Ruoshui to talk to her. Then, Lan Ruoshui no longer had the identity of Jin Zhengnan’s cousin and went to persuade Jin Zhengnan.

Presumably, every time Jin Zhengnan was at odds with her, he was thinking about Lan Ruoshui, right And every time Lan Ruoshui went to persuade Jin Zhengnan, she was also going on a date with him, right Then, the two of them would plan out how to continue acting in the next paragraph?

Chapter 1018 did not mistreat her

She finally understood that she was just a chess piece between them. Now that Jin Zhengnan’s career was stable, her chess piece had lost its meaning. Therefore, they decided to abandon her.

Such a cruel fact was placed in front of ru Yu. It was no longer sad and sad, but incomparably angry and hateful. Looking at this smug woman in front of her, she even had the urge to rush forward and slap her twice.

Of course, in the end, she did not do so because this was not suitable for her identity. Moreover, this was not her home but a law firm. Therefore, she used all her willpower to suppress the anger in her heart. She said coldly, "Miss Lan, does this mean that you now feel that your efforts have been rewarded? So, you want to take back the man that you once gave away?"

The extreme anger in her heart only revealed a trace of a mocking smile. The upbringing that she had received since she was young made it impossible for her to act like a shrew, even if she was extremely angry.

"Hehe, this is not a matter of whether I want to or not, but because Zhengnan only loves me alone." Lan Ruoshui's expression was completely like she had gotten a bargain, but she still pretended to be obedient. Then, she laughed softly. She said sarcastically, "Ru Yu, admit your failure. Zhengnan, he doesn't even want to touch you!"

"Enough! Ru Shui!" Jin Zhengnan could not help but growl. His thick eyebrows were knitted tightly in an instant. Then, he took a step forward, looked at Ru Yu who was standing across the table, and stretched out his hand. She pushed the divorce agreement toward Ru Yu. "Sign it. It's a three-year marriage. I may not be a good husband, but I didn't mistreat you."

Ru Yu's body instinctively trembled uncontrollably. Her body, which was still warm, seemed to have been thrown into a world of ice and snow in an instant. At this moment, a cold wind came from all directions. It was so cold that her limbs and bones were frozen in an instant.

Was there any more cruel blade pointing at her chest, which was already riddled with holes? Was there anything more murderous and bloodless than this?

Lan Ruoshui had just flaunted her love for him and even mercilessly pointed out the fact that Jin Zhengnan was unwilling to touch her. She had yet to recover from the pain, but Jin Zhengnan then ruthlessly said that he did not mistreat her after three years of marriage?

What did he mean by mistreating her? What did he mean by not mistreating her?

Could it be that in Jin Zhengnan's eyes, he gave her a supplementary card for family use after they got married? Did he not know that she had never used that card once? She, Ru Yu, still needed that money?

In this world, was there anything more cruel than putting the private matters between husband and wife under the Sun? What could be more shameful than this for a woman?

She had been a widow for three years of marriage. This secret was only known to her and Jin Zhengnan, but now, it was revealed by Lan Ruoshui, the mistress. Wasn't this an obvious insult to her?

Che Ru Yu, you're a woman without any charm. Look, you've been married to Jin Zhengnan for three years. Even if you're married to him, even if he sleeps in the same bed with you, he still has no interest in you at all.

If looks could kill, Ru Yu felt that she had already killed Jin Zhengnan and Lan Ruoshui countless times. However, in reality, this pair of b * stars still stood so arrogantly in front of her.

Chapter 1019 the most vicious woman in the world

She raised her head slightly and made the gesture of looking at the stars. Of course, there were no stars to look at here because the ceiling of the law firm was cold. She did this because she did not want her warm liquid to rush to her eyes.

She calmed her mood slightly. Then, she said coldly, "Jin Zhengnan, since you feel that this marriage is not mistreating me, then there's no need to divorce this marriage. Anyway, marriage is the same as whether I have it or not. You can continue to treat me well."

After saying that, she turned around elegantly and immediately walked towards the door of the VIP room. However, just as she reached the staircase outside the door, she was pulled back by Lan Ruoshui who was chasing after her from behind.

"Ru Yu, your marriage with Zhengnan has already reached this stage. What use is it to you if you continue to keep it?" Lan Ruoshui's voice was obviously less arrogant than before. Instead, it carried a rare pleading tone, "moreover, since Zhengnan has so generously given you half of the assets, you should sign it."

These words were clearly begging words, but at this moment, when they came out of Lan Ruoshui's mouth, they carried a 30% pleading and 70% threat, as if she was showing off how strong her love was.

When Ru Yu heard these words, the anger that had been suppressed in her heart was almost ignited in an instant. She looked coldly at Lan Ruoshui who was grabbing her wrist. She snorted coldly and said, "Lan Xiao San, I think you're too full to worry about other people's business. What does it have to do with you whether or not my marriage is useful?"

After saying this, Ru Yu used her hand to pry open each finger of the slender hand that was grabbing her wrist. Then, she said sarcastically, "although I'm stupid, I've also watched a few melodramatic dramas. If you think that I'm going to fiercely shake off your hand and then you take the opportunity to roll down the stairs and pretend to have a miscarriage, then your plot is too boring. Please think of a better plot next time."

After saying this, Ru Yu immediately pushed Lan Ruoshui into the arms of Jin Zhengnan who had just caught up from behind. With a cold snort, she said, "keep an eye on your Xiao San. Don't let her bite people like a mad dog."

"Zhengnan... Ru Yu... framed me..." Lan Ruoshui leaned into Jin Zhengnan's arms, looking like she had been wronged. Her crystal clear tears were clearly trembling on her eyelashes, but she pretended to be strong and did not let them roll down.

"Ruoshui, it's okay." Jin Zhengnan gently patted Lan Ruoshui's shoulder, then looked at Ru Yu in front of him. He could not help but ask in a deep voice, "Che Ru Yu, have you had enough? You asked for a divorce, and I agreed without saying anything. Now that you're in the law firm, you're pestering me again. Tell me, what do I have to do to get the divorce signed?"

"Hehe, since you're so generous to give up half of your company's assets for the woman you love, why can't you be a little more generous?" Ru Yu looked coldly at the man and woman in front of her who were leaning against each other. She said sarcastically, "If you want me to sign it, then give me all your assets. Then, take this woman who has worked for you for three years and live a loving life together. Go and give birth to a child that you don't have..."

“PA!” A clear and loud slap resounded at the stairwell of the building. At the same time, it interrupted Ru Yu’s unfinished words.

Ru Yu was slightly stunned. Before she could react, Jin Zhengnan’s angry voice had already sounded. “Che Ru Yu, you are the most vicious woman I have ever seen. You actually didn’t even let go of a child that was less than two months old.”

Chapter 1020 the style of the Dongfang family

Ru Yu almost took two steps back in a row. It was not until she was about to fall that she managed to hold on to the railing with much difficulty. She gritted her teeth and persevered, not letting herself show the slightest sign of weakness.

She turned her head and saw that Jin Zhengnan was already hugging the woman who had an extremely aggrieved look on her face and was pretending to be strong. Tears were clearly rolling in her eyes and she refused to stay.

Lan Ruoshui’s face was originally thin. Now, because of her anger, her face was even paler. She acted like a doormat and a cabbage. When she passed by Ru Yu, her gaze suddenly swept towards Ru Yu’s face. It was clearly the smile of a victor.

“Ru Yu, I’ve changed my mind now. Towards a vicious and extremely greedy woman like you, I don’t intend to give you a single cent of your assets,” Jin Zhengnan coldly said. Following that, he and Lan Ruoshui walked out of the law firm without even turning their heads.

Ru Yu gritted her teeth, her ice-cold gaze fiercely staring at the man and woman who had disappeared. It seemed that she had indeed been too weak for the past three years. No wonder even Yun Zai said, “sister, you have lost the demeanor of the Dongfang family.”

The demeanor of the Dongfang family. In the past few years, she had been disdainful of such words because she had wholeheartedly wanted to be an ordinary and ordinary woman. She only wanted to live an ordinary and ordinary life.

When she walked out of the law firm, the sun was already shining brightly outside. She could not help but let out a long sigh. It was said that good weather could make one’s mood better. However, it seemed that her mood would not be good for a while.

What did Jin Zhengnan say just now? Not giving her a single cent of her assets. She originally wanted to part on good terms. Since he could say such words, then don’t blame her for being impolite. She could totally make him go bankrupt.

Thinking of this, she almost instinctively took out her phone from her bag. She was about to call Pu Zhihui’s personal lawyer, Li Jiajun, but after searching through her bag, she actually couldn’t find her own phone.

“Oh, damn it,” she couldn’t help but growl. She finally remembered that Mu Yao called her in the morning and said that her phone was picked up by a man.

She pushed open the car door and got out of the car, feeling a little annoyed. She went to the public phone booth outside the building to call her own phone. Fortunately, it only rang three times before it was picked up.

"I am the owner of this phone," ru Yu did not wait for the other party to speak before she spoke first. "No matter who you are, please send the phone to the entrance of the Golden City building. I will wait here now. I will give you a certain amount, which is equivalent to the original price of this phone."

The reason why she chose to take this phone was not because of how much the phone was worth, but because this card was very final. Because there were a lot of final information stored in it. If she changed the phone card, those information would not come back.

The other party could not help but laugh, and then said softly on the phone, "it's okay, I'm near the Golden City building. Wait for me there for five minutes, I'll send it to you soon."

After hanging up the phone, ru Yu came to the gate of the Golden City building. When she stood still, she remembered that she had forgotten to tell that person what she was wearing, and that person did not ask. She was a little worried that he would not know who to look for when he waited?

So, after standing for three minutes, she quickly walked to the phone booth, thinking of calling him again to tell him, but someone was using the phone booth, so she had to stand behind and wait for a while.
