Chapter 341 Awkward Identity 8

It had only been a short month since she last saw him in the room on the third floor with his face covered in bandages. However, she had never expected that Dongfang Mo would recover so well in such a short period of time?

“Yingying and I will be engaged next month.”

Dongfang Mo’s voice was still a little old and hoarse. Perhaps it was because his throat was not that easy to treat. His face was expressionless as he said indifferently,

“Just now, I was talking to Yingying about her moving to one inch ink city after the engagement. You know my situation quite well, so Yingying hopes that you can go and buy her a CPU. She said that she needs to get used to it first, otherwise, she’s afraid of being scared by me in the future.”

Dongfang Mo said these words very fluently, without even hitting a joke. It was as if this kind of thing was the most natural thing. He felt that there was nothing shameful about him using that kind of thing.

Mu Ru felt the world spin when she heard these words. Her heart, which was slightly warm just now, instantly dropped to the freezing point. Looking at Kuang Yingying, who was leaning in Dongfang Mo’s arms with a bright smile on her face, she really wanted to rush up and give her two slaps.

But she didn’t do it in the end, because she knew the consequences of doing that. Moreover, Kuang Yingying’s father was the mayor. Not to mention that Mayor Kuang wouldn’t let her go, even Dongfang Mo wouldn’t let her go.

Her cold gaze swept across the faces of the two people in front of her. Dongfang Mo was expressionless, while Kuang Yingying’s eyes were filled with mockery. It was obvious that she was very satisfied with her current expression.

She secretly heaved a sigh of relief, then nodded and said indifferently,

“Yes, I’ll go buy it now. Miss Kuang, do you want it to be automatic or manual? Do you want to...”

“Are you done?”

Dongfang Mo interrupted her coldly, then with a dark face, he waved his hand and threw a stack of banknotes over

“Hurry up and get lost. Just buy one of the ones that you used before.”

“Yes,” Mu ru answered quickly. Then, she quickly picked up the stack of banknotes on the ground and left. She did not look back at the two men and women in the room.

A MIN watched her walk out of one inch ink city and could not help but chase after her. She asked carefully, “Miss Xi, are you going out now?”

“Miss Xi, are you going out now? It’s almost dinner. Can’t you wait until dinner before going out?”

Mu Ru shook her head. She could not. Moreover, she was not in the mood to eat dinner right now.

Seeing her shake her head, Amin quickly said,

“Alright, wait for me. I’ll change my clothes and come over. I’m still wearing my work clothes.”

Mu Ru quickly stopped a min and added,

“I’m buying a small thing. I’ll be back soon. I don’t need you to follow me.”

After saying that, she didn’t wait for a min to speak and immediately walked out of the door. She was going to buy that disgusting thing. How could she have the nerve to let a MIN accompany her?

Actually, Mu Ru didn’t know where to buy those things. She took a taxi to the bustling commercial street and walked along the roadside in a daze. Her two eyes looked at the shops by the roadside, but she didn’t know which shop would have such things?

Actually, this kind of thing should be bought online, but she didn’t have a bank card, so of course, she couldn’t buy it online. Cheng feier definitely had it, but how could she have the nerve to ask Cheng Feier to help her buy this kind of thing online?

Poor Mu Ru. She grew up with the servants and didn’t have many opportunities to watch TV. Usually, she only went to school and did things, so she really lacked knowledge in this aspect.

She wanted to ask the passers-by, but she could not open her mouth. Finally, she found an Internet cafe. She gritted her teeth and finally decided to go online to ask Du Niang. Otherwise, she probably would not be able to buy that thing back tonight.

Chapter 342: A little struggle

In one inch ink city, in a secret room on the second floor of the Plum Garden, it was pitch-black. There was no one there. Only a low male voice could be heard

“Let her out today. Aren’t you afraid...”

“If we don’t let her out now, it’ll be more troublesome later.”

The low and hoarse male voice could be heard. Then, he asked,

“Are Ahao and the others ready?”

“They’re ready. The key now is... I don’t know if the other party will make a move.”

The respectful middle-aged man’s voice was heard, and then he added,

“What If... what if something happens to her...”

The Room was silent for a long time before a low and hoarse voice was heard

“It’s fine as long as you’re ready. Do everything according to the plan. Don’t say anything else!”

“Yes!” The respectful middle-aged man’s voice was followed by the sound of footsteps as he turned around and left.

At the same time, in the same one inch ink city, but in the southeast direction, which was also a secret place, a man and a woman were squeezed together.

“What time is it? Are you still in the mood?”

The woman was a little impatient as she took her hand away from her chest. Then, she quickly asked,

“Do you really plan to make a move tonight?”

“It’s not easy to wait for this girl to walk out of one inch ink city alone. Of course, I can’t miss such a good opportunity. I’ve already made the arrangements.”

The man’s unruly hands finally stopped. His eyes seemed to be burning with some kind of flame

“As long as we capture this girl and act according to the plan, I don’t care whether it’s Dongfang Mo or Dongfang Yu. In short...”

“No!”

The woman quickly cut off the man’s words. Then, she furrowed her brows and pondered for a moment before clenching her fists and saying,

“I’ve observed that the girl isn’t that attractive. What if we capture the girl and he doesn’t come? Wouldn’t that mean that we would have shed all pretense of cordiality in advance? That would also expose our identity...”

The man was silent for a moment before he nodded and said,

“Alright, let’s not touch that girl first so as to avoid alerting the enemy. However... that piece of meat in her stomach...”

“Doesn’t she like to be raped? Then find someone...”

The woman could not help but laugh when she said this. Then, she whispered something into the man’s ear in a voice so low that it could not be heard.

“Alright, let’s do it this way.”

The man immediately gave the woman a thumbs up. Just as he was about to praise her, he suddenly remembered that they were in a dark place, so he reached out to hug the woman again and said ambiguously,

“In order to praise your good idea, I’d better rape you first...”

“You’re so annoying...”

The woman made a coquettish sound and used her hand to push the man. She even shouted without mercy,

“Did you go out and look for a young girl behind my back...”

The man was shocked, but he quickly calmed down. As he skillfully took off the woman's clothes, he assured her,

"No, absolutely not. How would I dare? Besides, our Jun' Er is already over twenty years old. I wouldn't dare to do so in order not to be looked down upon by Jun' er..."

"That's good..."

The woman had already obediently laid down on the side, but at that moment, she thought of something and could not help but remind him again

"Oh right, did you call to cancel tonight's operation? Did you arrange for someone to rape that girl?"

The man was reminded by the woman and only then did he curse at this more important matter. Then, he picked up his phone to make a call in annoyance.

Chapter 343: A Little Struggle 2

Mu Ru looked for du Niang in the Internet cafe and finally figured out that those things were only sold in adult stores. Moreover, adult stores were usually not opened on the main street, but in some small alleys.

After she figured this out, she immediately walked out of the Internet cafe. Therefore, she no longer looked for those things on this bustling commercial street, but wanted to look for those remote alleys.

There didn't seem to be any remote alleys on this side, so she instinctively raised her head and looked around. Only then did she realize that there was a residential area not far from the overpass, and residential areas usually had small alleys.

The other side of the overpass was a little far, but in order to complete tonight's mission, she couldn't care less about her aching feet. She still went up the overpass and walked towards the large residential area opposite.

At night, on the pedestrian overpass in the Commercial Street, the hawkers who were chased around by the city enforcement officers during the day were filled with all kinds of things, constantly attracting the passing tourists.

There were people selling cosmetics, cell phones, rings, fake gold and silver jewelry, and all kinds of things. There were even people selling branded sports shoes. There were all kinds of strange things, and it was very lively.

Mu Ru came to a stall that sold all kinds of knives. She picked up one and looked at it. In the end, she took a fancy to a Swiss switchblade. The force of the spring was still very strong. As long as she held the handle and pressed the trigger.. The force of the spring alone was enough to cause harm to people.

Just now, when she was searching on Du Niang, the people on the Internet said that there were many bad people in remote alleys. They suggested that it was best for everyone to travel in groups of three at night to avoid meeting bad people or something.

Of course, she did not have any companions, so for the sake of safety, she decided to buy a sharp weapon for self-defense. It was better to be safe than sorry. Besides, it was not a bad thing to buy a sharp weapon. Dongfang Mo gave her a stack of money.. She definitely wouldn't be able to finish buying such a disgusting thing.

The price wasn't expensive. It seemed that no matter how good the item was, it wouldn't be worth much if it was sold on the carpet. Mu Ru didn't bargain with the vendor and directly took out 300 yuan to buy the Swiss army knife that she had her eyes on.

The vendor saw that she was so straightforward, so he was very sincere. He took out a similar-looking army knife from his bag and handed it to her. He said cheerfully,

“Miss, since you're a forthright person, I can't lie to you with a defective one. The one just now only looked good, but now this is the real powerful army knife. It's very lethal. ”

Mu Ru used her hand to press down on the force of the ejection. It was indeed better than the one just now. So she thanked the peddler, put the small but lethal military knife into her bag, and then walked to the opposite side Her heart instantly calmed down a lot.

After walking down the overpass, she finally saw the large residential area, but it was still nearly 500 meters away. Her feet were very painful, but she had no choice. She sighed softly, and finally walked slowly in that direction.

There were many small streets and alleys in the residential area. The lights were dim at night, so walking on the small streets felt a little bustling. This was because many workers would buy cheap roadside stalls to eat on these small streets at night.

However, she did not seem to find any adult stores on the small streets. She could not help but feel melancholic. Just as she was thinking about whether she should ask the passers-by, she turned her head and saw a signboard with a purple light in one of the small alleys. On the signboard was written:

“adult stores” .

Chapter 344: A little struggle 3

Mu Ru hesitated for a moment at the entrance of the alley. In the end, she mustered up the courage to walk into the alley that was only about two meters wide and came to the entrance of this adult products store.

After hesitating for a moment, although she had never seen such a store before, she more or less knew what this place was and who usually patronized it after her mother's inquiry.

The salesperson inside saw that there was such a beautiful girl who had stopped at the entrance for a long time. She could not help but walk out and ask politely,

“Miss, do you need anything? Come in. ”

Mu Ru's face turned slightly red, but she still followed the salesperson, who looked to be in her thirties, in with a smile and a friendly face.

The adult store's viewing room had an avant-garde design. It was divided into different areas with translucent glass, and various samples were displayed in different categories. According to the different areas, different colors of lights were used to create an ambiguous atmosphere.

Mu Ru lowered her head and almost did not dare to look at the samples displayed on the shelves. At this moment, she actually had the feeling that she wanted to run three thousand miles away and never come back.

However, she knew that if she ran out now, she would not be able to buy back the things that Dongfang Mo wanted. Therefore, she used her willpower to control her feelings of disgust. She raised her head slightly and began to look for the things that she wanted to buy in the display of samples.

Just when Mu Ru had not found the disgusting things that she wanted to buy, a middle-aged man in his forties walked in from outside the door. This person seemed to be very familiar with this kind of place. The moment he entered, he asked the salesperson to bring him the small props that he liked to use, the whips that he whipped, the ropes that he used to bind him, and some other random things that mu ru did not know what they were.

As the man picked out the items, he turned to look at mu ru from the side. Then, he looked at mu ru with a pair of lustful eyes, sizing her up with great interest.

This simple outfit that looked like a work uniform could not conceal her purpose for coming here. And those who were used to the romantic scene knew that there was a type of chicken.. That was specially dressed as an idiot employee who did not move at all to tempt men to spend money.

And now, Mu Ru was dressed in grass-green clothes. In fact, she was dressed as an employee of one inch ink city. Because she was weeding Lilac flowers with Amin in the afternoon, aunt Liu called her to meet Dongfang Mo, so she did not have time to change her clothes.

Because of this, this man treated mu ru as a woman in a romantic scene. Therefore, this man walked over, stood behind Mu Ru, and pressed his body forward... ..

Mu Ru's face couldn't help but turn red. She quickly moved her body forward, trying her best to suppress the anger that had already risen in her heart. She controlled her temper and said faintly,

"Sir, please have some self-respect!"

Of course, if this was in another place, in another environment, once mu Ru said this, she would definitely be treated as a serious woman and give up on her improper thoughts.

However, this was an adult store. How could a woman who could patronize such a place be a proper woman?

The salesperson was naturally used to this kind of situation, so she pretended not to see it. She turned her face away and continued to study the display cabinet of her samples.

When the man heard Mu Ru's words, he could not help but chuckle and say,

"little girl, it seems that you are indeed a stunner. You look so pure and you even pretend to be shy. I want to destroy you right now and make you cry and beg for Mercy."

Chapter 345: A Little Struggle 4

Mu Ru could not help but feel a little regretful when she heard this. If she had known earlier, she would have let a min accompany her. If a min was by her side, the two of them would at least have someone to take care of them. It would be better than her alone.

Now that a min was not by her side, what should she do Where would she go to find help?

Without help, Mu ru could not help but smile bitterly. In her life, from small to large, there had never been any help. She had long been used to being alone, and few people cared about her.

However, she was no longer alone. Thinking of this, she could not help but place her hand on her lower abdomen. Instinctively, she felt that there was still a life inside.

It was funny, wasn't it? Actually, she knew that she was already six weeks pregnant, but in these six weeks, she always tried her best to forget that she was a pregnant woman. She tried her best not to think about whether there was a child in her belly, because this child... ..

This was not the child she wanted, because she had never had any expectations. She had once promised to marry Zheng Yifan. When she was lying on the same bed with Zheng Yifan, she had hoped that one day, she would be pregnant again.

However, at that time, she had hoped that Zheng Yifan's child would be the product of her and Zheng Yifan, not... ..

Dongfang Yu placed his hand on his stomach. Thinking about the child in his stomach, he could not help but think of the father of the child

Dongfang Yu.

The man who had rushed to her side to save her at the most dangerous time was also the man who had humiliated her in the car. The man who had left a child in her stomach.

Was it because after having a child, she would no longer be alone. When the child was born, she would not be alone anymore?

However, Dongfang Yu had already passed away forever. Tonight, she and his child faced danger together, but Dongfang Yu would never rush over again.

She did not find what she wanted in the display cabinet, so she picked up a pen and wrote on the notebook on the counter: Male simulator. Then, she handed it to the salesperson and said,

"Miss, I want to buy this one. Do you have it here? "

The salesperson looked at the words written on her paper, then raised her head in slight surprise. She looked at her meaningfully, then nodded and said,

"Yes, do you want silicone or hard glue? "

“The one closest to the real one will do.” Mu Ru did not know what glue was, so she followed Dongfang Mo’s instructions and told the salesgirl.

The salesgirl chuckled and did not ask any more questions. She immediately bent down and took out a beautifully wrapped box from the bottom drawer of the display cabinet. She smiled and said,

“This is imported, the most authentic... absolutely authentic feeling...”

“How much is it?”

Mu Ru quickly interrupted the salesgirl. She took out the money from her pocket and quickly asked.

“999.”

The salesgirl immediately said a number and then added,

“This is the best. Of course, the price is a little higher. If you think it’s too expensive, there are cheaper ones here, but the cheaper ones aren’t the authentic ones...”

Mu Ru quickly threw a thousand yuan to the salesgirl and then quickly said,

“quickly put it in a black bag for me. There’s no need to change it.”

The salesgirl was quite tactful. She immediately found a black plastic bag and put it on her. Then, she generously gave her a shopping bag and kindly said,

“This way, no one will know what you’re referring to.”

Chapter 346: A little struggle

The salesperson was quite tactful. She immediately found a black tape and put it on her. Then, she generously gave her a shopping bag and said in a considerate manner,

“This way, no one will know what you’re talking about. You can be at ease and carry this bag and swagger on the road.”

“thank you!” Mu Ru took the shopping bag and thanked her softly. She immediately turned around and was about to leave when the salesperson hurriedly asked again,

“I still have some lubricant and some TT. Do you want to take some back?”

“There’s no need.” Mu Ru shook her head and quickly walked out of the adult products store. She only wanted to leave as soon as possible. She wanted to leave this damned place as soon as possible.

Because she had already sensed the danger.

The middle-aged man in his forties followed closely behind her. He was just a step behind her. Under the dim light, his shadow was like a dream demon, tightly surrounding her from behind. It gave people a suffocating sense of oppression.

Therefore, Mu Ru could not help but turn around and look at the man in front of her. She reminded him lightly,

“Sir, I’m not the kind of woman you think I am. Please don’t follow me?”

The man only found her words funny. His panting voice sounded like a bloodthirsty tide in the dark night

“No? Then what are you? Why are you buying a CPU? “?”

Mu Ru forcefully suppressed the burning anger in her heart. She continued to use a calm and indifferent tone to emphasize her point of view

“Sir, I’ll say it one more time. Please let go of me. I’m really not the kind of person you think I am. Moreover, I’M NOT WILLING TO!”

“hehe.”

The man laughed again when he heard Mu Ru’s words. However, this time, his laughter was filled with ridicule. His body moved closer to Mu ru as he said in a low and ambiguous voice,

“could it be that you like to play a little more exciting?”

After he finished speaking, he pressed Mu ru against the wall and used one hand to caress mu Ru’s chest skillfully. With a slight force, with a ‘Chi’ sound, he tore apart mu Ru’s clothes in an instant... ..

Mu Ru’s body stiffened instinctively for a moment. Before she could react, she was pulled into the middle-aged man’s embrace. His smelly mouth pressed down on her, and Mu ru swiftly turned her face to the side and avoided his lips. However, she was still sucked to the side of her face by the man’s mouth.

The feeling of the smooth and tender skin on Mu Ru’s face made the forty-something-year-old man completely excited, so he pressed down on mu ru even more tightly... ..

Disgusting... .. What a disgusting feeling ! !

It was a hundred times more disgusting than when Dongfang Mo approached her before he had plastic surgery. She could not help but feel like vomiting... ..

But she did not throw up in the end because she knew that at this moment, she could not show any fear or fear because if she showed any fear, she might really be killed by this man.

So, she turned her face around and looked at the middle-aged man who was smiling proudly. Almost instantly, her hand touched the Swiss army knife that she had bought for 300 yuan.

Fortunately, she had bought a wolf-proof device before, otherwise, she would not have been able to escape tonight.

Thinking of this, she let a sincere smile appear on her face and said softly,

“Then, I’ll just struggle a little.”

The man was only concerned about the excitement that was surging up from his body. He did not pay attention to what Mu Ru was saying at all. His big hand pulled forcefully at Xi Muru’s pants

Chapter 347: A Little Struggle 6

Mu Ru continued to wear that sincere smile on her face, but it did not reach her eyes.

Just as the man's hand touched the edge of her pants, when the man's body was close to her lower abdomen, her hand was already in the pocket of her clothes.

She found the button in the darkness and pressed it without hesitation. The Swiss army knife came out with a 'Chi' sound and went straight to the man's lower abdomen that was tightly pressed, and then stabbed deeply into it... ..

The smug smile on the man's face changed almost instantly. The hand that was originally going to take off Mu Ru's pants also stopped abruptly. He looked at Mu ru with an incredulous gaze, and then... ..

He stood there motionless ...

After half a minute, the man began to slowly step back and lower his head. With the help of the weak light here, he saw that his abdomen was continuously gushing out a black-colored liquid... ..

Sticky, with a fishy smell... .. This is... .. His blood ? ?

The man's dark red eyes, which were filled with some kind of filthy excitement, were instantly filled with fear and disbelief.

He looked at the clothes that were slowly stained with blood, as well as the blood that was slowly dripping down the hilt of the knife... ..

Xi Muru took her hand out of her pocket and forcefully pushed the man in front of her. Then, she swiftly pulled out the Swiss army knife that was praised by the peddler as very sharp from the man's abdomen.

Their bodies were finally completely separated, but blood continued to drip from the blade... ..

Xi Muru's fingers moved slightly. She wiped the blood-stained blade on the man's clothes before lowering the blade to put it away. She looked at the man who was already sweating from the pain and squatting on the ground She frowned and asked plainly,

"Do you have a cell phone? Do you want me to call 110 or 120?"

Mu Ru had no intention of escaping. Moreover, there was no need to escape in this situation. Moreover, she was very rational and calm, giving the man two choices.

Of course, her intention was very obvious. When 110 arrived, she would explain the situation to the police clearly. She believed that her actions were self-defense.

However, if the man did not want to alert the police and chose to call 120, then there was nothing for her to do. She could just leave.

When the man heard Mu Ru's words, he stared at Mu Ru's calm face with a pair of shocked eyes.

He could not believe that he would lose to such a seemingly weak little girl in one move.

Mu Ru's cold gaze swept across the disgusting middle-aged man in front of her. She was very sorry. Although she was a little gray rabbit that was often bullied, even a little rabbit would bite people when it was provoked. But today, she had bitten someone.

In the past, she was indeed forced by her family to go to school. In order to have a place to shelter herself from the wind and rain, she had been living the life of a little rabbit that was at the mercy of others.

However, as long as she was given a chance, she could prove to the world that she had never been a real little rabbit. She could also become a cat with sharp claws.

She could not help but think of Dongfang Mo, and a bitter smile appeared on the corner of her mouth.

In front of that man, she could only be a gentle little gray rabbit because she did not want to put Zheng Yifan in a disadvantageous position. Zheng Yifan was the only man in the world who loved her.

Chapter 348: A little struggle

The middle-aged man looked at his abdomen, which was bleeding non-stop, and then at the woman who still had a calm but sincere smile on her face. Finally, he gritted his teeth, took out his phone, and dialed 120.

"Then, tonight's competition will be over," Mu Ru said indifferently and distantly. She looked at the middle-aged man, who was sweating in pain and looking regretful. She said coldly, "I won't wait for 120 with you. Remember to be more bright when you find a woman in the future."

After saying that, she tidied up her clothes that were stained with blood. Then, she picked up the shopping bag that contained the CPU and walked steadily toward the street outside.

It was already late at night. She went to the side of the main road and hailed a cold taxi. Then, she brought her exhausted body and mind back to the place where she could not escape and could not escape at the same time.

It was already late at night. One inch ink city seemed particularly deserted. She walked into Mo Park naturally and then walked toward the familiar second floor.

The door to Dongfang Mo's room on the second floor was tightly shut. She turned the door lock with her hands but could not move it. Hence, she knocked on the door again, but there was still no response. She was probably not in her room or asleep or something.

Mu Ru shook her head. She carried the shopping bag and walked towards her third floor. She pushed the door open and walked into her room naturally. She casually threw the shopping bag onto the SOFA, turned around, and quickly walked into the bathroom, preparing to take a shower first. She washed away the stench of blood all over her body.

Dongfang Mo was originally lying on Mu Ru's bed, but when he saw that she did not even look at him when she came in, he went straight to the bathroom. This was simply ignoring his existence.

Seriously, he asked her to go buy such a thing, yet she only came back after wandering around for a few hours?

Could it be that she had encountered some trouble Just like when she met Leng Leiting at the end of last year?

That's not right. According to Ahao's news, they didn't make a move tonight. They also waited until the people there were done with their work before they were done with their work. Leng Leiting was no longer looking for Xi muxue now, and Nangong Xun was still in Singapore. He didn't come to Binhai at all.

Where did Xi Muru go that night Could it be that she met another man who treated her well while she was painting Just like how she met Zheng Yifan last year Thinking of this, he immediately jumped up from the bed and growled at the bathroom door, "Xi Muru, get out here! "

In the bathroom, Mu Ru's hand, which was taking off her clothes, couldn't help but stop. She stood there in a daze. What happened today Did he think that she hadn't been bullied enough yet Could it be that he wanted to kick her again?

The man's blood was still on her clothes, and she felt extremely disgusted just by smelling it. Right now, she only wanted to wash herself clean and then lay on the bed to have a good sleep.

Therefore, she quickly turned around and walked to the door in two steps. As if she had not heard Dongfang Mo's words, she pressed the lock with her hand, and then she did not even bother to take off her clothes. She turned on the hot and cold water switch in a few seconds, adjusted the temperature, and directly sat in the bathtub Then, she slowly closed her eyes.

Her hand reached into the pocket of her clothes and twisted the cold Swiss army knife tightly once again. As the warm water continued to rise, the cold army knife gradually became warm.

The blood on her clothes was quickly dyed by the hot water. The color of the water in the bathtub gradually changed, just like the watermelon juice sold in the small town. It was light red, but it carried the smell of blood.

Chapter 349: A little struggle

Dongfang Mo waited by the bed for a while. When he saw that mu ru still hadn't walked out, he instinctively felt displeased. He couldn't help but walk towards the bathroom.

Xi Muru, this usually docile and obedient little woman, had always been very obedient when he was as ugly as a devil. Today, he had come to see her with such a handsome face, yet she didn't like him?

When he arrived at the bathroom door, he reached out to turn the door lock, but it didn't budge. He frowned, turned around, and walked to the drawer on the bedside table. He immediately took out a brand-new key.

He pushed the bathroom door open and stepped in. Immediately, he felt a hot mist lingering around him. He immediately turned on the light on the wall. Only then did he see that the bathtub was also full of steam, and his woman..

Xi Muru was currently sitting in the bathtub like a woman who had lost her soul. She was wearing clothes and soaking in the hot water.

It was as if her ears did not hear the sound of him pushing the door open. Her eyes also seemed to not know that the lights in the bathroom were already on, and he was standing right in front of her.

The woman sitting in the bathtub was looking up slightly, as if it was a 45-degree angle. However, she was not looking at the sky, but the ceiling. There was only numbness, coldness, and emptiness in her eyes.

In just a moment, Dongfang Mo's heart seemed to have been hit hard by something. His heart inexplicably tugged at it, and for the first time, he began to struggle.

How pitiful. Xi Muru, this woman, had indeed been tormented by him until she was pitiful.

However, he immediately came back to his senses as if it was a conditioned reflex. What was there to be pitiful about Who asked her to be Xi Yuancheng's daughter Who asked her to marry him instead of Xi Muxue?

It was not that he had not given her the chance to be free. She was the one who wanted to provoke Yifan. It was not his fault, and she did not have the right or right to gain his sympathy.

When he thought of this, the little bit of pity that had just risen in his heart was instantly extinguished. He had once loved a woman deeply. Her name was Xi Muxue. He had loved her for six whole years, but only in the end did he realize that the person he loved was just a facade. That woman.. So it turned out to be a woman of extreme power and extreme reality.

As for Xi Muru She was born ugly. She was born to be despised by her father, bullied by her younger sister, and trampled on by others. Of course, he had also trampled on her before, but..

Recently, his mood had changed. After dating Xi Muru for so long, he felt that after removing Xi Muru's obedient and docile mask, this woman was actually getting more and more interesting.

He walked to the bathtub in two steps and reached out to grab Mu Ru's shoulder. He pulled her out of the bathtub and his cold eyes landed on her pale face. "where exactly did you go tonight? "

Mu Ru stood still in the bathtub and looked straight at him. She did not know if she did not understand or did not care about his question, but she did not answer.

This kind of blank look made Dongfang Mo very unhappy. Damn it, she used to look like this when he used to make funny faces, but now that his handsome and handsome face was in front of her.. She still had the same silly look.

Therefore, he could not help but shake her body twice and growl coldly, "Xi Muru, are you trying to test whether my appearance and temper will change? "

Mu Ru finally had a slight reaction when she heard this. The corners of her mouth curled into a faint smile. She looked up slightly and lowered her head slightly, looking at Dongfang Mo's face that was similar to Dongfang Yu's She said softly, "MMM, I really want to know if a person's appearance and personality will change with it. "

Chapter 350, please allow me to struggle a little

Dongfang Mo stood beside the bathtub instinctively. At this moment, he was even more confused. Ever since Xi Muru had become his mistress, she had been obediently like a lamb, allowing him to slaughter and torture her. Why did she suddenly become like a cat with sharp claws tonight?

Could it be that his current appearance was like Dongfang Yu's, so she was instinctively not afraid to see him? Because she had never been afraid of Dongfang Yu?

Mu Ru's face had always had this faint, faintly discernible smile as she looked calmly at Dongfang Yu. No, it was the Dongfang Mo who had undergone plastic surgery. There was not a hint of fear in her expression, but she was forcing him to make a move.

Her expression was so honest and clean. There was not a hint of conspiracy at all. It was just a little gray. It was because she was tired of life, tired of life, and all this tiredness, all this tiredness.. Unknowingly, it crept up between her brows.

Why did he have to force him to make a move?

Dongfang Mo suddenly could not understand Xi Muru.

"Do you really want to know?" Dongfang Mo's voice sounded calm and indifferent, but there was a huge rage hidden in it. Every word was filled with anger that could not be suppressed.

Mu Ru's crescent-shaped brows furrowed instinctively, but there was still a faint smile on her face. Her eyes were curved in an extremely seductive way as she said softly, "I really do."

She swallowed her anger and asked for forgiveness. She gave in and gave in. She tolerated and tolerated. Her life seemed to be forever in the midst of gray and there was never a glimmer of light. However, there would be a time when it would break through her threshold. It was just like the incident that happened outside the adult sex toy store tonight.

After tonight's battle with that dirty man in his forties, she finally knew that sometimes, blindly tolerating and compromising could not truly exchange for a safe and uneventful life. However, if she were to struggle and resist occasionally, perhaps.. She would obtain another kind of life.

She was really tired. Since life had already pressured her to this extent, she did not care anymore. Moreover, Dongfang Mo was a b * Tch. Regardless of whether it was before or after plastic surgery, he had never treated her as a human being.

And when she had just married him, she had even dug out her entire heart and gave it to him. She even had the determination to follow him for the rest of her life.

What a childish and laughable thought, what a lowly life!

Why did everyone in this world treat her like this?

Father, mother, sister, Dongfang Mo, Nangong Xun, and even that strange man... ..

Why did they have to treat her like this?

She was also a human, okay Even though she was a little ugly, it wasn't her fault, was it She was a living person, someone who would cry, be sad, and be sad, right?

Whatever Dongfang Mo wanted, it was up to him, right At worst, they could just die together?

Since they were being tortured by him, they might as well drag him to death together. They could live as his mistress, and at worst, they could die as her mistress in the Netherworld.

Since there was no joy in living in the human world, they might as well drag him to the Netherworld and see if Dongfang Mo was still as bad as before after he truly became a ghost?

Faced with Xi Muru's provocation, Dongfang Mo finally could not hold it in anymore. He reached out his long and slender hand and grabbed her shoulders again. He pulled her into his embrace with a little force.
