Chapter 391, Grey Despair 3

“What do you mean I’m willing to let you go? You’re the one who refused to fulfill our engagement, okay?” Nangong Xun revealed a smile that didn’t know whether to laugh or cry when he heard Mu Ru. Then, he said helplessly, “Xi Muru, I’m just a very responsible person. I want to be responsible for my previous promise. I want to be responsible for our engagement...”

“I don’t want you to be responsible, okay?” Mu Ru quickly cut him off. Then, she looked at him pitifully and said, “Nangong Xun, I beg you. For the sake of saving you that year, will you let me go?”

“There’s no need to say that anymore. Besides, you already told me that last time on the cruise ship,” Nangong Xun said. As if he had thought of something, he said, “Oh right, you and I were already married on the cruise ship last time. The only thing that’s missing is the bridal chamber. Look, actually, we’re already husband and wife, right?”

“What exactly do you want to do to be willing to break off the engagement with me?” Mu Ru didn’t want to continue entangling with him, so she stood up straight and looked at him. With a face that looked like she was ready to face death, she said, “in any case, the Xi family has completely collapsed, and I don’t have any money, so of course I don’t have any money. Moreover, Miss Kuang Yingying just said that that Bastard Dongfang Mo doesn’t want your money. Moreover, even if he wants your money, I’m not willing to marry you because you might not be any better than Dongfang Mo. “after leaving the wolf’s lair and entering the Tiger’s den, what difference does that make to me “Then I might as well stay in the wolf’s lair.”

“Good, you’re knowledgeable and courageous.” Nangong Xun could not help but give her a thumbs up. Then, he looked at her and sighed softly. “Xi Muru, do you know why I’ve always been reluctant to break off the engagement with you? Actually, I admire your courage. Nowadays, it’s really hard to find a woman with your courage.”

Mu Ru glared at him angrily and then said snappily, “Mr. Nangong, there’s no need to say any more flattery. Besides, I’m not worthy of your flattery. Hurry up and tell me what you want to do to me.”

“You know that the Xi family used to run an underground casino, right?” Nangong Xun saw that she was focused on the matter of breaking off the engagement and did not wait for Dongfang Mo to arrive, so he had no choice but to talk to her about ‘serious matters’.

“I heard that it seems like it.” Mu Ru nodded. Actually, she was not very clear about what the Xi family actually did because she was a servant in the Xi family.

“Alright, the two of us are at a stalemate now. I want to continue the engagement, and you want to break off the engagement. Since we can’t agree, then...” Nangong Xun paused at this point and looked meaningfully at Xi Muru. Then, he said, “then, let’s play a gambling game. Whoever wins will have the final say.”

“GAMBLING GAME?” Mu Ru was obviously stunned. She looked at Nangong Xun and said, “I don’t know how to gamble, I don’t even know how to play poker.”

“You don’t play poker, you play spin the wheel, guess the size of the game, or play rock, paper, scissors, or something, right?”

Mu Ru thought for a moment and nodded. Then, she looked at Nangong Xun and said, “I do know how to play these. I didn’t expect that this could also be used for gambling. Alright, if I win and you lose, does that mean that I don’t have to pay any loss fees to cancel our engagement?”

“Of course.” Nangong Xun immediately gave a positive answer. Then, he added, “didn’t I say it just now? I’m a person who keeps my promises. A promise is a promise.”

Chapter 392, Grey Despair 4

Nangong Xun paused for a moment before he smiled and said, “of course, if you lose, you have to fulfill our engagement. Don’t be so shameless and say that you’re unwilling.”

“this...” Mu ru started to hesitate again. Gambling was such an unfamiliar verb to her. She had never heard of it before, so she naturally didn’t have the slightest bit of confidence.

Of course, it was good to win. She had finally broken off the engagement with Nangong Xun. However, if she lost, she would have to fulfill the engagement with Nangong Xun, and she wasn’t willing... ..

“I’d better ask Dongfang Mo.” Mu ru finally didn’t dare to go forward. She didn’t dare to take the risk when she wasn’t confident at all.

Nangong Xun saw that she had retreated again, and he said a little irritably, “alright, since you’re afraid of losing, and you’re unwilling to fulfill the engagement with me, then let Dongfang Mo take two billion, and I’ll break off the engagement with you.”

Mu Ru was completely stunned when she heard this. She looked at Nangong Xun and asked after a long while, “Mr. Nangong, do you think I’m worth two billion?”

“Yes, very much so.” Nangong Xun nodded seriously and looked at her belly meaningfully. “In my eyes, you’re very valuable. If you were my wife, I would give you five billion, let alone two billion.”

“But the point is, I’m not Dongfang Mo’s wife,” Mu ru quickly reminded Nangong Xun. She felt that Nangong Xun’s brain was a little abnormal today.

“I know you’re not Dongfang Mo’s wife, but you’re more valuable than Dongfang Mo’s wife,” Nangong Xun shrugged and said. Then, he looked at Mu Ru’s belly and said, “don’t forget, you’re pregnant with the only heir of the Dongfang family.”

Mu Ru was stunned when she heard this. Then, she frowned and said, “I never knew that the child in my stomach was so valuable. Since you’re sure that the child in my stomach is worth two billion, then let Dongfang Mo use two billion to redeem me.”

“Xi Muru, are you dreaming?” Kuang Yingying heard the conversation between Mu ru and Nangong Xun and immediately shouted. She could not help but raise her voice by two decibels. “Two billion? Do you really think that you’re worth it?”

“It’s not like I want two billion.” Mu Ru frowned and said, “isn’t Mr. Nangong asking for two billion? Why would I need money for myself?”

“Then I’ll call Dongfang Mo now and ask him to give me two billion?” Nangong Xun glanced at Kuang Yingying and then signaled the man in black beside him to call Dongfang Mo.

The man in black nodded and quickly dialed the number with the microphone. Then, he frowned and said, “Dongfang Mo’s phone can not be connected. What should we do?”

“Then Call Dongfang Group.” Nangong Xun frowned and quickly instructed.

“Yes.” The man in black immediately picked up his phone and called Dongfang Group. He quickly picked up the call and handed it to Nangong Xun. Nangong Xun then took it to the side to talk on the phone.

Mu Ru stared at Nangong Xun nervously. She was worried and afraid. She had never placed her hopes on Dongfang Mo. This was the first time she had begged him without any conditions because she was already his woman.

About two minutes later, Nangong Xun walked over with the phone in his hand. Mu Ru looked at him as he walked in step by step and asked nervously, “did Dongfang Mo promise to give you two billion?”

Chapter 393, Grey Despair 5

“HMPH,” Nangong Xun snorted coldly and handed the phone to the man in black beside him. Then, he looked at Mu Ru with a mocking gaze and said, “Xi Muru, you really flatter yourself too much. Do you think that every man in this world is as loyal and loyal as me, Nangong Xun? Have you been waiting for you for so many years?”

When Mu Ru heard this, her heart began to turn cold. Her body involuntarily took a step back and looked at Nangong Xun, but she did not dare to say a word, only waiting for him to continue.

As expected, Nangong Xun continued, “Dongfang Mo said that your matter has nothing to do with him. You are no longer his wife. Don’t look for him for everything.”

“But, how is that possible?” Mu Ru shook her head. Then, she pointed at Kuang Yingying and said, “that’s not right. Just now, she said... she also said...”

“She also said that Dongfang Mo said that even if I gave him three hundred million, he would not let you go, right?” Nangong Xun took over Mu Ru’s words and the mockery on the corner of his mouth grew. He snorted coldly and said, “Xi Muru, Dongfang Mo said that he didn’t want my money because he couldn’t afford to lose face. He felt that he even wanted to sell his mistress. Now that he’s not using money to redeem you, this isn’t a matter of losing face because you’re just his mistress. It’s not worth it for him to fork out so much money for you. Do you understand?”

He understood. Nangong Xun had made it so clear that it was impossible for him not to understand.

“Come over, Xi Muru.” Nangong Xun looked at the woman who looked like a clay sculpture. The corners of his mouth curled into a smile as he lifted her chin with his hand. He said softly, “now, do you choose to be my husband and wife? Or do you choose to win by gambling and break off the engagement with me?

Mu Ru closed her eyes slightly. Her thoughts had already spun a thousand times. In fact, she was already forced into a dead end. There was no difference between having a choice and not having a choice, but —

Go and gamble with him. Even if you know that you will definitely not win, you can at least buy some time, right Dongfang Mo could ignore her, but he would not ignore Kuang Yingying, right Kuang Yingying was still here, right?

If she was still gambling with Nangong Xun when he arrived to save Kuang Yingying, she didn't know if he would save her as well?

Although the hope was extremely slim, it was still better than directly becoming Nangong Xun's wife, right?

Therefore, she looked at Nangong Xun and nodded. “Alright, since I can't rely on anyone and you gave me another chance, then I'll seize this opportunity to gamble with you. ”

Dongfang Mo not only wanted to torture and humiliate her, but he also wanted to abandon her at a critical moment.

In fact, in this situation, she could choose to die. Moreover, if she died in this situation, Dongfang Mo would have nothing to say. It could be considered a natural or man-made disaster.

If she were alone, she would definitely choose to die without hesitation. However, she still had a three-month-old child in her belly. This was her second child.

She couldn't bear to part with it... ..

“Alright then. ” Nangong Xun's patience had probably run out, so he looked at Mu ru and said indifferently, “Then what shall we bet? Guess the size, spin the wheel, or play Rock, paper, scissors? ”

“this... ” Mu ru hesitated for a moment, then thought for a moment and said, “then guess the size. This is a gamble that depends on luck. It's relatively simple. ”

“Then, what do you use as a bargaining chip? ” Nangong Xun's meaningful gaze swept over mu ru one by one, and there was already an ambiguous smile in his eyes.

Chapter 394 could only rely on herself

“chips? ” Mu Ru was stunned and couldn't react in time.

Poor Mu Ru. She grew up by the servants' side and the food she came into contact with was extremely simple and ordinary. Therefore, yellow, poison, and poison were still very far away from her.

“It's also capital. ” Nangong Xun saw mu Ru's expression and immediately understood that she was so stupid that she didn't even know about chips. Thus, he hurriedly explained to her, “gambling requires a corresponding capital to be calculated for every gamble. ”

“Oh. ” Mu Ru seemed to understand, but she didn’t understand. She replied to Nangong Xun sincerely, “I’m very sorry. I’ve never entered a casino in my entire life. Of course, I’ve never gambled with anyone before, so I don’t know anything. ”

“Yes, yes, I can see that. ” Nangong Xun nodded He said indifferently, “it doesn’t matter. What I like the most is to gamble with inexperienced people. Besides, a blank piece of paper won’t cheat. This way, gambling will make people feel real. There’s no need to use any tricks, right? ”

Mu Ru frowned when she heard his words. She was about to speak again when the man in black who had just left came up with something that looked like a cup. He was holding a die in his other hand.

Mu Ru stared at the cup and the die. In fact, she still didn’t understand what it was used for. Didn’t she say she wanted to guess the size She thought she should take a big thing and a small thing to guess.

“You see, this is a cup. Then, I put this die in it and shake the cup. Then, when the Cup stops, you tell me the number in it. There are six sides of the die, which is one, two, three, four, five, six. When the time comes, you just need to say the number on the side facing up. ”

Nangong Xun paused for a moment. He looked at Mu Ru and asked, “let’s do it once each. I’ll shake and you’ll guess. You’ll shake and I’ll guess. Isn’t this fair? ”

Fair. Although Mu ru didn’t know much about gambling, Nangong Xun had made it quite clear just now. She felt that the setting of the gambling system was fairly fair.

“Then how many rounds will determine the winner or loser? ” Mu Ru quickly asked. Then, she added, “it’s not to the extent of deciding the winner or loser in one round, right? ”

Nangong Xun couldn’t help but laugh when he saw her nervous look He quickly said, “of course it can’t be a one-round bet. How about this? I just said that if Dongfang Mo gives me two billion, then I will break off the engagement with you. Since he won’t give it to me, you can only win it back yourself. Our BET is one billion per round. If you win two billion in a row, of course, it’s equivalent to winning back yourself. If you want to break off the engagement, I have nothing to say. ”

“What if I lose a round? How do I pay for it? ” Mu Ru quickly asked. She didn’t want to be tricked for no reason. Nangong Xun spoke in an open and aboveboard manner, but he did things that couldn’t be seen by others.

Nangong Xun looked at her meaningfully and said indifferently, “how about this? If you don’t have any chips, then all the parts of your body are considered chips. The clothes and shoes on your body are also considered chips. I’ll let you take advantage of me. ”

The clothes, shoes, and parts of your body Count as chips?

Mu Ru instinctively shivered. Was Nangong Xun being kind or heartless?

Speaking of being heartless, he had at least given her a way out. At least, he had let her see a little hope.

Speaking of being kind. But he was actually able to say that he used all the parts of his body as chips. How cruel was that?

Chapter 395 could only rely on herself

“So, you went through so much trouble today just to find me to break off the engagement?” Mu Ru’s lips curled into a bitter smile as she looked at Nangong Xun. “perhaps, just like last time, you came to find me to fulfill the engagement?”

Nangong Xun couldn’t help but laugh when he heard her He looked at her and said, “Xi Muru, you saw how this car crashed today. Originally, my goal was to capture Dongfang Mo’s fiancée, the daughter of Binhai city’s mayor. I wanted to use her to exchange for something that originally belonged to me, but...”

Dongfang Mo paused for a moment He looked at Kuang Yingying who was not far away and then at Mu Ru. “But you gave me a surprise because I didn’t expect you to still be in this car. So, after seeing you, I immediately remembered our engagement, so I decided to discuss the engagement with you first. As for Dongfang Mo’s fiancée, she’s the mayor’s daughter. I don’t know if Dongfang Mo cares about his fiancée, but he definitely wouldn’t dare to offend Mayor Kuang, so he would naturally use the Dongfang Group’s shares to exchange for Miss Kuang Yingying. As for you, you’d better rely on yourself.” Mu Ru was slightly shocked when she heard this Then, he understood how treacherous Nangong Xun was. No wonder he didn’t touch Kuang Yingying, because he was already confident.

As for her, this mistress, she didn’t have any background. Moreover, she was the woman who cheated on him when she was his mistress. Of course, he wasn’t willing to use two billion to help her break off the engagement with Nangong Xun.

Relying on herself, she could only rely on herself forever. She never had any help in her life, just like the night a week ago when she met the middle-aged man in his forties at the sex toy store.

“okay, I got it.” Mu Ru nodded. Then she looked at Nangong Xun and said, “if I win a round, it will be 100 million. If I lose, a piece of clothing will also be worth 100 million, right?”

“Yes, if you win, I will pay you a chip. If I win, you will pay me clothes, pants, shoes, or parts of your body.” Nangong Xun nodded and gave her an appreciative look Then he added, “of course, if you take off all your clothes, you can also use parts of your body, including your fingers, toes, teeth, and other small parts.”

Mu Ru smiled bitterly when she heard this. Although Nangong Xun said it very naturally, she still felt that it was a fantasy.

“Um, can I make a condition?” Mu Ru looked at the cup and the dice as if she saw a great opportunity. Gambling depended on luck. Perhaps her luck today would be as good as a week ago She could save herself.

“condition?” Nangong Xun frowned instinctively. “If you win, you already broke off the engagement with me. Isn’t that enough? What other conditions do you need?”

“Well, if I really won, can you not tell Dongfang Mo that my engagement with you has already been broken off?” “Then, after he rescues his fiancée, you can secretly place me in an unknown place. That way, he won’t look for me anymore.” Mu Ru’s voice trembled as she said this Her voice was trembling.

Dongfang Mo, that despicable and shameless man, the man who set her and Zheng Yifan up. She had once fantasized that he did it on purpose because he cared about her. After all, she was once his wife. The goal was just to get her back to his side.

Chapter 396 could only rely on herself

However, now she finally understood how far the distance between fantasy and reality was. When she was really in danger, when he really needed to sacrifice a lot of money in exchange for her, he chose to abandon her.

Nangong Xun was slightly stunned when he heard Mu Ru's words, and he immediately laughed out loud. Of course, he wasn't laughing at Mu Ru's helplessness, but at her naivety and naivety.

It was indeed a blank piece of paper. She thought that she could escape from his hands. He was just playing with her. Anyway, it would be boring waiting for Dongfang Mo to come, right?

Moreover, Kuang Yingying was a woman that no one was interested in. On the other hand, Xi Muru, his former fiancée and the woman with the birthmark on her forehead, was still very interested in her.

"Okay." Nangong Xun nodded. He agreed very readily because Xi Muru's condition did not need to be fulfilled. He had never thought that Xi Muru would win. It was completely impossible.

"Alright then, let's begin." Mu Ru finally gritted her teeth and decided to rely on herself again.

She had never dreamed that one day she would become a gambler. Moreover, it was a high-stakes gamble because a single round was worth hundreds of millions of dollars. Such a high-stakes gamble could be seen a few times even on a high-seas cruise ship, not to mention an ordinary casino.

Nangong Xun saw that she said it was time, so he took the Cup with his hand. Then, he threw the dice in and covered the cup. Then, he used his hand to take the cup and shook it up, down, left, and right. Only the sound of the dice hitting the cup could be heard.

About a minute later, Nangong Xun put the Cup on the coffee table, then pointed at the cup that was still closed, smiled, and said, "this is how it's played. You just need to tell me what time the dice face up."

Mu Ru looked nervously at the cup on Nangong Xun's coffee table. The number of points kept jumping in her mind, but she really didn't know which side was facing up.

She originally thought that guessing the size was the most fun, but who knew that it wasn't fun at all. Because she wasn't sure, because there were too many choices, and there was only one correct number, but she still didn't know which number.

"Um, can I shake it to feel it?" Mu Ru didn't dare to rashly guess, so she asked carefully.

"Of course," Nangong Xun appeared to be particularly generous. He pointed at the Cup and said, "I was just showing you. If we really gamble, of course, the ladies first. You feel it and then start. I'll guess first. The first chance is in your hands."

Mu Ru nodded. She carefully held the Cup with both hands and opened the lid. Only then did she realize that the dice inside was pointing upwards. She was frightened and secretly rejoiced that she did not guess because her guess was three.

She picked up the cup and used her hands to take out the dice to carefully observe it. It was indeed an ordinary dice, and the cup was also an ordinary cup. It was the kind of cup that drank water. She could not see any mechanism.

Therefore, she imitated Nangong Xun's action just now and threw the dice in. Then, she pressed her hands on the Cup lid and began to shake it up and down. After about two minutes, she placed the cup on the coffee table.

She raised her head and nervously looked at Nangong Xun. She carefully said, "that, you can guess."

Chapter 397 could only rely on himself

Dongfang Mo walked out of the elevator and went straight to the car that A Hao had already prepared. He looked at him from the side and quickly asked, "have you found out where Nangong Xun is?"

"I have found out. He should be on a cruise ship at sea." A Hao quickly drove the car out. He quickly reported, "according to the first call from Miss Kuang, he is in Donghai. He called the landline later and used an internet phone to call. It is difficult to trace him, but he should still be in that place. Nangong Xun is obviously looking for you. I don't think he will change his location."

Dongfang Mo nodded and frowned. Then, he snorted, "okay, contact the yacht. I'll rush over now. If he dares to..."

At this point, his hands were clenched into fists. During the meeting in the afternoon, Nangong Xun called again, but it was aunt Gu who received it.

Aunt Gu was such a smart smiling tiger. She actually asked him directly in front of the shareholders, "Ah Mo, Nangong Xun said that Xi Muru is in his hands. That's his fiancée. He wants you to take two billion to help Xi Muru break off the engagement with him. Otherwise, he'll marry Xi Muru."

Two billion?

When the Dongfang Group was in financial crisis, this was a huge sum. Not to mention that he would not be able to take it out in a short period of time, even if he could.. He could not agree to Nangong Xun's demand to kidnap a hostage in front of so many shareholders, right?

Hence, he said very coldly, "Tell Nangong Xun that Xi Muru is no longer my wife. Her matters have nothing to do with me. Don't use her to blackmail me. I only care about the people and matters that have something to do with me."

At that time, his words were extremely cold and ruthless. However, in the ears of the shareholders, they were extremely pleased. They felt that he was an extremely wise person. Those who did great things must not break the rules because of a woman. Mistresses were even more so.

Even though he knew that she had fallen into Nangong Xun's hands, he was anxious. However, he could not show it on the surface. He continued to hold the meeting with everyone as steady as Mount Tai. He did not change his expression as he analyzed the current situation and future prospects of the Dongfang Group with everyone.

The meeting lasted for more than an hour, so after the meeting ended, he did not even bother to return to his office. He went straight to the VIP elevator, went downstairs, got into Ahaos car, asked about Nangong Xun's current location, and then went straight to the beach.

"Um, are the yachts ready?" Dongfang MO quickly took out the map of the sea area and asked Ahaos, who was driving. His low voice revealed a sense of anxiety.

"Yes, I have already called Uncle Liu." The moment Ahaos spoke, he stepped on the gas pedal, and soon the car was speeding on the beach highway.

Uncle Liu had already prepared a yacht by the seaside. Seeing that he had arrived, he hurriedly said to him, "Mayor Kuang just called. He said that Kuang Yingying's cell phone can not be connected. He asked if she is in one inch ink city. When will she be back at night?"

Dongfang Mo pondered for a moment. As he jumped onto the yacht, he instructed Uncle Liu, "Tell Mayor Kuang that I will bring Kuang Yingying to the sea to participate in sea fishing tonight. While fishing, I will admire the moon. I reckon that I will only be able to send Miss Kuang back tomorrow morning."

"Sea Fishing? Admiring the moon?" Uncle Liu could not help but look up into the sky. Then, he secretly wiped his sweat. Was there a moon to admire tonight? He should tell Mayor Kuang that Kuang Yingying and Dongfang Mo would go out to sea to watch the stars together.

Chapter 398 could only rely on herself for five

On the other hand, Mu Ru and Nangong Xun had already gambled to the fourth round. She had lost the first four rounds because she couldn't guess the points correctly. And that damned Nangong Xun actually guessed the points correctly every time.

In the first round, she took off one of her shoes. In the second round, she took off the second shoe. In the third round, she took off her pants. Fortunately, her clothes were long and could be worn as a slightly shorter dress, so it could barely cover her ugliness.

Now, in the fourth round, it was Nangong Xun's turn to play dice again. Mu Ru stared at the cup and kept looking at it. She kept thinking that there was a mechanism in the cup, so when Nangong Xun shook it.. She quickly shouted, "I'm not playing guess the size anymore. Let's change to another type of bet."

Nangong Xun, who was shaking vigorously, immediately stopped when she shouted. Then, he glared at her and growled impatiently, "Xi Muru, if you want to change to another type of bet, why didn't you shout earlier? It's very uncomfortable to brake suddenly."

"I'm sorry. I just feel that I can't see or touch the size of this guess. It always makes people feel... uneasy," Mu ru said carefully ...

Actually, she wanted to say that it always made people feel like there was a trap because every time she shook the number, Nangong Xun guessed correctly, but she never guessed correctly. Everyone would be suspicious.

When Nangong Xun heard her words, he frowned. He wanted to defend himself, but looking at her expression.. Then, he nodded. "Alright then. Let's play spin the wheel. You can watch this. Use your hand to pull the wheel, and then the pointer will point to the person who loses, right?"

Mu Ru thought about it and felt that this could be seen as the truth. It should be more reliable, so she nodded and said, "alright, then let's play spin the wheel."

Nangong Xun immediately instructed the black-clothed person to take down the cup and dice. With a wave of his hand, a large round plate beside him was pushed forward. Mu Ru had seen this before at the shopping mall's lottery, so she wasn't unfamiliar with it.

There were many different-sized squares around the round plate. Nangong Xun wrote his and Mu Ru's names on the same-sized squares at the two ends of the 180. When the pointer pointed to the person's name, the person would lose.

According to the order just now, it was Nangong Xun's turn. His hand touched the edge of the large circular plate. With a slight force, the large circular plate immediately began to spin rapidly.

Mu Ru's eyes were wide open as she stared unblinkingly at the long needle. This was because she knew that the outcome was no longer in her own hands. Instead, it was in the hands of the large circular plate. To be precise.. It was in the hands of the long needle.

After the high-speed rotation, the circular plate gradually slowed down. Mu Ru almost did not dare to look at it anymore. She could not help but put her hands together as she kept muttering in her heart, "don't point the needle at me, don't point the needle at me!"

However, by the time she opened her eyes, the disc had gradually stopped, and the long needle was actually mercilessly pointing at her.

Nangong Xun helplessly shrugged his shoulders to express his innocence. This was because the disc had stopped by itself, and the needle was pointing at her name. There was nothing he could do.

Mu Ru's eyes were wide open as she stared at the damned disc. When she saw the long but accurate finger pointing at her name, she was so angry that she could not say a word. She could only use her hand to unbutton her clothes.

Her hands were placed on the buttons, but she could not undo them for a long time. The hand that was touching the buttons kept trembling. It was shaking uncontrollably, just like her.

Chapter 399 could only rely on herself

Although she had always been relatively calm, because she had never had much hope for anything since she was young, she had never been afraid of disappointment. There were many things that she could accept calmly, just like Dongfang Mo's torture of her.

But now, at this moment, she really could not allow herself to do this calmly.

Facing death, she could accept it calmly, because living was not necessarily better than dying.

In the face of danger, she could be fearless, because she knew that difficulties were like springs. If you were weak, it would be strong.

In the face of injustice, she could silently bear it. Ever since she was young, she had taken the blame for Xi Muxue, but she had never tried to explain herself.

In the face of contempt, she could not care less, because she had been abandoned by her parents since birth, and she was already used to being looked down upon.

But now, in the face of humiliation, naked humiliation, not only was Nangong Xun standing there, but there was also a group of men in black standing beside him. No matter how indifferent she was, she could not face it calmly.

However, since it was a gamble, she had to admit defeat. This was the rule of gambling. Therefore, no matter how difficult it was for her, no matter how hard she suffered, she had to admit defeat. If she lost, she had to give up her chips, and the clothes on her body were her chips.

Gritting her teeth, she put her other hand on top of it. With both hands working together, she finally untied one of the buttons and landed on the second button.

Nangong Xun looked at her calmly and did not rush her. Just now, when she took off her two shoes, she was quite straightforward. Later, in the third round, she hesitated for a long time between taking off her clothes and taking off her pants. In the end, she still took off her pants.

At this moment, she was already taking off her clothes. He wanted to see what else she could take off after she took off her clothes?

In any case, he had plenty of time and opportunity to let her take off her clothes completely. Anyway, he was quite patient today. He would give her enough time to accept him and then obediently climb onto his bed to wait on him.

Mu Ru finally untied the last button. Then, she closed her eyes and clenched her teeth. Finally, she took off her clothes. Then, she stood there in her Apricot White Cutie and light purple pants.

Nangong Xun gestured for her to turn the large disc. She was so nervous that her hands were trembling. Her hands trembled as she grabbed the edge of the disc. She pulled hard, and the disc began to spin rapidly.

Mu Ru stood a step away from the disc. As the disc spun, her heart tensed up. Her fingers were curled into fists, and her palms were covered with dense beads of sweat.

After the large disc spun rapidly for dozens of seconds, its speed gradually decreased. Then, it slowly moved bit by bit. Gradually, the needle pointed at her name, but it did not stop. It continued to spin slowly. It did not completely stop.

She prayed in her heart. She spun a little more, and then a little more. She looked at the disc that was slowing down and almost stopping. Finally, it stopped. It was about to stop. It swayed forward a little more. Finally, the needle stuck to Nangong Xun's name stopped moving.

Mu Ru was slightly stunned. Then, a smile appeared on her face. That devil-like needle was indeed stuck to Nangong Xun's name accurately. She had finally won a round. It seemed that playing this wheel was better than playing guessing.

Chapter 400 gambling, do you dare to cheat

Nangong Xun stared at the large round plate with a somewhat defeated expression. His gaze was fixed on the long and thin needle. He couldn't believe his eyes. He had lost, and the needle really stuck to his name and didn't move.

The eyes of the black-clothed men behind Nangong Xun were also focused on the large round plate. When they saw Nangong Xun's defeated expression, everyone actually wanted to laugh. However, no one dared to laugh, and they could only tense their faces.

Nangong Xun helplessly spread his hands. Then, he looked at Mu Ru and shrugged. "Alright, since you've won, then I've lost 100 million this round. Do you want me to pay you the chips or do you want to wear a piece of clothing or something? It doesn't matter anyway."

Of course, Mu Ru wouldn't be foolish enough to ask for his chips. She used her fastest speed to put on her slightly long shirt. In this way, at least the ugliness on the top and bottom would be covered.

As Nangong Xun pulled the edge of the round plate, the large round plate began to spin rapidly once again. Mu Ru's eyes were fixed on the needle. She seemed to have completely forgotten about the people and things around her.

This was a habit that she had developed since she was young. In fact, as long as you were focused and put your heart into doing anything, success would be closer to you and even closer.

Soon, the spinning disc slowed down again, and then slowly turned again. However, her eyes were still fixed on the needle, wanting to see where it would stop. Of course, she silently chanted in her heart not to stop at her own name.

However, the disc spun like a devil, but when the needle was close to her name, it did not move too much. There was only a little bit of inertia and it moved again, and then strangely stopped on her name.

Mu Ru stared at the needle. She stared at the needle with her name stuck to it. She knew that she had lost this round. Now, losing was not important. What was important was why she had lost. She had to find out the reason.

Mu Ru had good grades in school. She had good grades in Liberal Arts, and she was not bad at math, physics, and chemistry, especially physics. She was almost number one in the class because she liked physics teachers to teach.

The big wheel had already rotated three times. Nangong Xun had done it twice, and she had done it once. Although she had actually won that time, she knew that it was all because of luck. Nangong Xun, on the other hand, was definitely not relying on luck She had already seen this through her three observations.

Gambling was a skill, and she had just understood this point. For example, she couldn't guess the number of points on the dice because she couldn't hear the sound of the points inside, but Nangong Xun could.

It was the same for the spinning wheel now. In fact, it was very important to use one's hand to pull the edge of the wheel. Nangong Xun was an expert, and he knew how much force to pull the wheel. Then, he would make the wheel spin a few times before slowly shaking it, and how far it would stick to her name.

Since that was the case, then she could not blindly pull the disc. She had to think about how much strength was needed for the disc to spin once, and how much strength was needed for it to slow down and spin a few times after it spun rapidly.

Nangong Xun saw that she had been staring at the large disc, so he could not help but remind her by the side, "Xi Muru, a bet must be a bet. Do you want to take off your clothes or..."

Before Nangong Xun could finish his words, Mu Ru had already started to take off the clothes that she had just put on and threw them onto the SOFA. Then, she came to the side of the disc. Her Index Finger and thumb pinched the edge of the disc. Her hand weighed it for a moment before she pulled hard The disc began to spin rapidly once again.
