

Now And Forever 101

Chapter 101 The Man on the Bed

“Where’s Emily? I thought I caught a glimpse of her going upstairs just now!”

‘Is she in one of these rooms? She must still be around!’

“We can’t let her escape! Let’s go check the guest information of the rooms. We’ll search all the empty rooms too!”

“But, is this... illegal?”

“That bitch has been cheating on Hunter. Whoever manages to catch her and send her to Hunter will be the one getting all the credit!”

“Yes! Hurry up!”

Some of them actually planned to go through the computer in the hotel’s reception desk in order to skim through the information of the quests occupying the rooms.

Some of them shouted suddenly, “This door is not locked!”

In an instant, a dozen people rushed towards that room with a few more tailing them. With a loud bang, the door was being forced to open and these people poured into the room!

“Emily, get the hell out!”

They could probably escape the crime of intruding into a room illegally if all of them were in this together. They would not be afraid of punishment with this sheer numbers on their side.

If Emily was really hiding here, then it would be extremely beneficial for them!

They had vowed to hammer down some punishment on this ugly bitch who wanted to take Hunter for her own!

On the bed, there were two bodies entangled with each other.

They froze their movements when so many people had barged into their room. The man sat up on the bed while getting a look of these intruders.

He was so handsome! He was so handsome to the point that it even felt suffocating for the onlookers! The girls were sucking in an audible breath as they were beginning to shriek in astonishment.

The girl closest to this man was pressing her hand over her chest while staring wide-eyed at this man who was barely wearing anything. She had forgotten to show any response on her face.

But why was there a woman lying next to him on the bed? Which despicable woman had the guts to climb onto a bed with such a dazzling guy? Was she courting death?

The woman finally sat up too as she tried to fix the robe that man was wearing which was being pulled apart slightly just now.

Her face was revealed in the process when she was fixing his robe.

It was Emily! It was that ugly bastard they were looking for all over the place!

“You bitch! You are actually fooling around with a man in a hotel room!”

Even if this man was not Terry, he would still fit their agenda as long as he’s a male!

The girl in front immediately took out her phone as she wanted to capture this moment.

They had finally got a hold of concrete evidence. This time, they wanted to see how Emily planned to wash away her sin while facing with overwhelming evidence.

She was actually having an affair with an unknown guy in a hotel. This piece of breaking news would blow up all over the internet!

“Wait, wait a minute’ A girl next to her pulled her arm lightly while whispering to her, “Isn’t he... Hunter himself?”

In Bentson City, everybody had heard of Hunter. He was such a prominent figure that his name had spread far and wide. tt was rare for anyone not to hear of his name.

Despite that, Hunter didn’t like his face getting exposed to the public via the mass media such as magazines. Therefore, not many people had actually laid eyes on him personally. But there were still people who would be able to recognize him immediately.

“He’s really... Hunter!” The girl who was preparing to take photos of them suddenly let go of her phone and watched it smashed onto the floor. She had quivered after hearing his name.

“How is this... possible? Why is Hunter here? Why?”

Emily was actually having sex with Hunter in this hotel? Why would Hunter settle down in such a mediocre hotel like this one?

How could this be possible?

“Could it be that... He just resembles Hunter somehow?”

There was no way he was actually here! Hunter would never even allow himself to enter such a low-class place. This hotel itself would be an insult to his status!

“Master!” A group of bodyguards suddenly barged into the room. They were all dressed in black suits from head to toe and they gave the impression of being highly trained.

They were calling him master! So he was really Hunter! They were not mistaking this fact.

Oh, God! Why did things turn out this way? What was actually happening now?

The thirty students here were all mystified by the sight in front of their eyes!

Hunter’s frosty gaze slowly swept over every member of this band of intruders.

He bit his lips lightly and allowed for some indifferent words while saying them in an icy tone, “I’m just resting here with my fiancée, what is your meaning of doing this?”

Everybody was shaken by his simple words, and two people even stumbled to the floor after he had finished his words.

“Hu- Hunter, they have been saying that... Emily is having an affair... with another guy here..”

But right in front of their eyes, the person Emily was together with was none other than Hunter himself.

They were officially engaged and this was public knowledge. What’s wrong with them coming to a hotel as a couple?

Hunter looked like his patience was running out fast as his cold gaze pierced through everyone here and directed on a space outside the room.

Luke, who was heading the army of bodyguards, reported in a low voice, "The police have arrived, and I will cooperate with them to bring in everyone here"

They were going to be brought in? What did that mean? Were they going to be brought back to the police station? But, it was still a fact that they were just following the development of things here, nothing more. Were they committing a crime by doing that?

"It, it has nothing to do with us.."

Two people who were not in the room looked set to flee from the scene.

But, with a loud sound, Luke immediately brought them into the room with each of them being grabbed by him with one hand, essentially vanquishing their only chance of escaping.

The two of them flopped to the ground and started to wail, "We are just students! How can you use violence against us? I'm going to sue you!"

"Alright, go ahead and do that"

The man got off the bed and his impressive and noble aura had frozen everybody here on the spot.

"But, that is if you can bail yourself out after you guys are arrested at the police station"

“We haven’t done anything yet, we..”

“You’re trespassing private space; this sentence alone would give you enough time to reflect on your actions in the jail”

Hunter squinted at them sideways while his face was devoid of any emotion, “As for the details of your crime, you don’t have to worry about it. I will make sure someone will write down every last bit of details on it no matter how long it takes. I will make sure you guys have a file being set up!”

“No!” Some girls immediately broke into a cry.

If they had a criminal record because of such an ordeal, how would they be able to secure any jobs in the future? A medium or small company wouldn’t hire someone with a criminal record, let alone a good company.

Luke inched forward while saying in a low voice, “Have you ever consider the other part’s feelings when you’re doing what you’re doing?” Everything would come back to you, good or bad.

They were having fun enjoying the fiasco and chasing after the miss just now.

If the bodyguards had arrived a second late, would the miss be forced by them to jump off the building or would she forced to get her photos taken while being nude? They never thought about the consequences of their actions. They could destroy her life forever.

These students were all almost twenty years old. They should be adults by now. How could adults act with such stupidity?

If they're not setting a precedence here, scarier things would happen in the future. They couldn't escape the consequences just because they were students!

Today, Luke wanted to let these "innocent" students learnt a lesson the hard way. Their titles as students were not an excuse they could use to do whatever they wanted!

"Mrr. Cooke, I have received your report.." A group of men were approaching them.

Luke replied, "Yes, these students are the culprits here, they have trespassed into private space."

"No, we're just passing by!"

"I'm just here to watch things unfold"

"I haven't done anything at all, please let me go this time!"

"This is all their fault, they're the ones leading us.."

This group of students was being led away while whimpering and squirming around. When the door was finally closed again, a resolute silence descended on the room. Emily closed her eyes while exhaling in relief.

She was literally on the verge of despair just now.

Why was Hunter here at this moment?

Chapter 102 Don't Simply Move Around

Hunter removed his robe with his back facing the bed.

He was actually changing his clothes smoothly in front of a girl on the bed.

Emily realized that she was witnessing someone changing clothes with such elegant movements for the first time in her life!

His every move was effortless and perfect.

He was not putting anything on display, yet he was able to transform a mundane action such as wearing shirt and his pants into a noble act on its own!

His back was accentuated by his muscular back muscles which were throbbing every now and then with perfection. There weren't even an ounce of fat beneath his skin!

He was really attractive and mesmerizing.

At the moment when Hunter turned around, Emily immediately dipped her head to avoid getting caught staring at him.

If she had continued to stare, he would definitely taunt and tease her again.

"How does it feel like to cheat on me?" Hunter was done changing his clothes as he asked a simple question.

Emily jerked her head up and met his depthless eyes head on. She wanted to refute him but to her amazement, she couldn't find any words to throw at him.

After a while, she came up with a reply, "I'm not guilty in any way"

Furthermore, didn't he meet Terry personally earlier today? That would mean he should know the reason Terry and Joe were staying in the hotel.

The four of them always stuck close to each other no matter what they were doing. It was nothing strange for her and Sally to visit Terry at the hotel.

He knew for a fact that Terry had injured himself while trying to save her last night...

Wait a minute, what about Sally?

Emily's expression changed drastically as she fumbled to remove the blanket to get down from the bed.

"I can't know how many of them are still lurking around here, are you sure you want to go out right now?"

Only a fraction of these crazy students had been brought away by the police. The numbers amounted to around thirty. They wouldn't know how many were still lurking around in the lower floors or near the front and back entrances of the hotel.

Although this fiasco had practically come to an end, but nothing could guarantee that nobody would stir up any trouble after this.

"But, Sally has been.."

“Why did she think that she can buy you some time just now?” Hunter snorted coldly.

Sally always looked feeble so it was a surprise to him that she had volunteered to buy Emily some time by positioning herself at a spot in the corridor. It seemed like she really valued Emily.

In fact, if Hunter wanted to go all the way, he had to admit that Sally Joe and even Terry were all sincere friends of Emily.

These four people could die for each other without any deliberation.

But of course, Hunter, as prideful as he was, never wanted to admit such a thing openly!

Emily tried to calm down while remembering that there weren't any commotion out there just now.

So, where was Sally now?

“Did one of your men save her?” She looked at Hunter.

Hunter remained silent. He was a guy who would never speak a word if he decided that there was no need for speech.

She fixed her clothes slightly as she was about to leave the room.

Hunter suddenly grabbed her wrist with a solemn expression on his face, “I have told you, you can't go out now.”

“I want to look for Sally” Seeing that he was still clamming up, she tried to answer him.

Hunter squinted at the girl in front of her. She was definitely challenging his limits.

If this was any other person, he would have thrown him into the river if he had deemed this person a nuisance and an eyesore, let alone wasting energy and time on that person.

But when it came to this girl, he couldn't stop himself from rushing here the moment he knew that a lot of people were finding trouble with her. He had wanted to ignore her initially but he had failed.

And she didn't even show any signs of gratitude at this moment!

"Liam is still out there. What could happen to your friend?" He snorted while flinging away her hand.

Emily froze as she looked up at him.

Hunter slowly paced to a study desk while shrouded in an indifferent aura as he uncorked a bottle of wine.

"You shouldn't drink any alcohol considering it is daytime now. You might need to drive later."

"Are you concerned about me?" He was holding the bottle while it was on the table, locking like he had no intention of letting go.

He was just staring at her with an ambiguous look in his eyes.

Emily pouted while replying, "I just don't want to see news of you drunk driving on newspapers:

Now that she knew Sally was with Liam, she could finally let go of her worries.

Although Liam looked like the part of the victim of bullying all the time, in reality only Hunter could play the part of a bully, He was still a very reliable person when he was handling things.

Hunter was always surrounded by capable people.

At this time, she wasn't allowed to leave the room and there were only the two of them here...

Suddenly, the atmosphere was a little weird. Emily looked a little restless as she contemplated for a while before heading towards the sofa area.

The air-conditioning was on full blast but somehow she was sensing that the temperature in the room was getting higher and higher.

What were Sally and Liam doing now?

Sally was dragged into a room by Liam, but what were they doing at the moment?

Actually, they didn't do anything out of the ordinary. They were just standing behind the door directly with bated breath while monitoring the commotion out there.

Sally who was in Liam's embracing was struggling ceaselessly, but Liam could only seal her mouth with his hand while pinning her underneath him.

When the commotion escalated outside the room, Sally's struggles also escalated in response.

Liam said unhappily in a low voice, "Stop moving around, the master is here with the miss. Nobody would be able to touch her in that situation”

The master... and the miss?

Sally widened her eyes in amazement. Had Hunter arrived to Emily’s rescue?

This man behind her had a familiar voice too. Was he the guy called Liam who had saved her from the sea back when they were on that island?

The noise out there was getting louder, so Sally didn’t dare to make any sound anymore. She was focusing her attention on the noise, afraid that something bad would happen to Emily.

The two of them stood motionless and silently until the commotion died down gradually.

Sally heaved a sigh of relief as she could make out that these students were somehow being taken away.

They were all crying for forgiveness but they were still being forcefully taken away by someone!

Sally felt relieved after learning this. What were they crying about anyway? If it were not for the fact that Hunter had arrived, Emily would have ended up in their grasp and who knew what terrible fate would befall her!

Despite that, they had the guts to cry! They deserved this punishment. They were just receiving their appropriate treatment for what they had done.

She was finally at peace as she tried to fumble around. Somehow, she felt that the sensation of her skin was slightly different at the moment.

As her mouth was still cupped by Liam, she couldn't utter a word. But when she lowered her gaze, she was so shocked that she almost fainted.

"Uh..7 She started to fumble around again and she accidentally rubbed against Liam's body. Liam frowned and complained in his heart about her disobedience.

He issued a warning in a low voice again, "Stop moving around, not everybody has left the place" In order to prevent any further escalations, he wanted to be sure that every single one of those students was being taken away before they did anything else.

After all, there were still many students who wanted to get a scoop hiding in every corner of this hotel. Who knew what would happen if they had acted rashly?

To his surprise, Sally didn't heed his advice as she kept twisting around restlessly. Liam was a little worked up right now as he slowly registered the fact that a girl was rubbing against his body while being in his embrace.

Didn't she know that this was a form of seduction for men?

"Uh.." Sally grasped Liam's wrists while trying her best to pry them off her body.

Liam was reaching his limit as he complained, "Stop moving around, otherwise I'll." He then lowered his gaze and saw where his hand was positioned on Sally's body. A weird sensation crept up within him.

What was he grabbing at the moment?

He really didn't do this on purpose. He never realized it until now!

Despite that, it felt soft and bouncy... This touch was amazing.

Almost subconsciously, it was as if he was shrouded in an ambiguous light, and he couldn't stop himself from squeezing his palm as he grabbed her breast...

Chapter 103 Break His Legs Next Time

"Hmm..." Sally widened her big eyes which were puffy with a trace of wetness around the lids.

Although she was desperately trying to push Liam's hand away, their strength difference was so obvious.

No matter how hard she pushed, she could not make any difference.

The sound coming from outside had finally vanished. Liam lowered his head and looked at the spot where he put his palm.

Apparently, he was a little reluctant to remove it.

However, in the end, he still let go of her.

As soon as Sally was freed, she quickly ran away from him.

She stood in the corner of the room and pointed at Liam. She was so angry that her face turned red, "You..you.."

"What?" Liam shrugged and did not feel it was a serious thing.

'It's just a man's nature to touch the soft part. I am not intentional to do so'

Sally was hopping mad when she saw his attitude. He had used his hand to grab it just now...how could he say that he was not intentional!

She wanted to go out but Liam calmly said, "If you go out now, you may be noticed by the students who lurk somewhere, and they may spread this news later"

"I don't care" What else could that garbled news say about her?

"You don't care but I can't let you cause the young mistress into trouble.' Liam put his hands inside the pockets and stared at her.

No matter what, it was impossible to let her leave now.

Sally was stunned and immediately stopped.

If this would implicate Emily, she would never go out and would not even dare to make a grunting sound.

However, she felt uncomfortable being alone in this room with Liam who was being rude to her just now.

Nonetheless, Liam did not think it was a serious matter. He felt that the girl whose cheeks were red now was surprisingly quite pretty without the makeup.

“Isn’t this good? Why did you always make your face messed up before”

Sally was quite lucky as she could be considered pretty after her true face was revealed.

The young mistress, however, was not so lucky.

Without makeup, people could see the freckles on her face.

That was really much...Indeed, it was not pleasant-looking.

He could not figure out how Young Master Hunter could accept such a face. If it were him who faced the young mistress’s face for a long time, he worried that he might lose the basic ability of a man.

Of course, all these could not be told to anyone because she was still Young Master Hunter’s wife-to-be. She could only be respected but not be humiliated even if it was only done in the mind!

Remember!

Sally did not want to talk to him at all. Being an adult, it was the first time a man took advantage of her like this.

Although he had saved her twice, she did not know how to get along with him whenever she thought of the scene just now.

He even said that it was a man's nature! Yuck! He was just indulging in sophistry!

"Is it that there is nobody outside already?" She stood behind the door and carefully listened if there was any sound outside.

She bent her waist, leaned against the door and carefully opened it. She observed outside through the small gap and she did not know how cute her action looked like.

Liam unknowingly approached her and looked towards the outside together with her, "How is it? Are they all gone?"

"It looks like they're gone but I wonder if there's anyone else hiding in the corner and waiting to take pictures"

Sally already had a bad impression of these people. She could not ensure whether they would be hiding and waiting to take some weird pictures to smear two of em through the Internet.

"Is it? Then we should keep observing to find out."

Liam lowered his head and looked at their bodies which were pressed together.

The girl bent her waist even more to continue observing and quietly stretched out half of her head.

Liam only felt that her body which was pressing and also rubbing against him made him slightly unable to resist himself...

His hands were subconsciously placed on her waist, holding it gently.

Their standing postures right now was particularly easy to be misunderstood by someone.

He never knew that he was surprisingly so evil but he actually felt good.

“I think no one is there” Sally let out a sigh of relief and was about to open the door.

But after thinking, she felt that something was not right. Her body was experiencing an unusual touch.

Like, being pressed by something...

When Sally turned her head back, she squealed and hastily tried to escape from Liam’s arms.

However, her waist was tightly held by his hands and when she tried to escape, she slipped and her entire body fell towards the ground.

Liam’s hands which were holding her waist became the only support for Sally.

Thus, the unlucky girl’s feet left the ground and her head was facing down. She then fell and her upper body was lying on the ground. This was indeed an indescribable scene.

“What are you guys doing” Emily stared at them, dumbstruck.

Just now, she was actually also paying attention to the sound outside and when she heard Sally’s scream, she immediately rushed out.

But she never expected to see Sally with her head facing down, buttocks facing up and her body even lie in front of Liam..?

Whereas, Liam's hands were even holding her waist. This posture...

Goodness! That was really an eyesore!

Hunter leisurely walked towards her and when he saw Liam and Sally being in that manner, he did not really care about it.

However, this posture...

Hunter sharply stared at Emily's back, and his eyes gradually moved down.

This posture had never been tried before, perhaps...

Emily felt a chill went down her spine and when she turned back, she saw Hunter staring at her. His eyes were like the eyes of a cheetah.

She felt that she had become a prey and would be entirely eaten by this ferocious cheetah at any moment!

The hostility to conquer her was sparkling in Hunter's eyes and this sent shudders down her spine.

It was really scary! Terrifying!

Sally got herself up and Liam let go of her.

Liam did not seem to be concerned about the matter that he had just displayed an indecent posture with her.

When he walked towards Hunter, he had a serious face again.

The evil that he had just now had disappeared.

With face burning in embarrassment, Sally quickly hid behind Emily. She was so ashamed that she just wanted the earth to open up and swallow her whole so that she did not need to face people anymore.

“Young Master Hunter, those people should have left, does Young Master Hunter want to go back now?” Liam asked.

“You guys...why are you guys here?” Emily stared at him.

As Hunter did not want to answer the question, she could only ask Liam to answer her.

Liam smiled faintly at her and said, “Young Master Hunter was having lunch nearby and in halfway he received news that someone went to the hotel to block your way, ma’am. So, Young Master Hunter rushed over”

This kind of heroic rescue was enough to make the young mistress feel touched for a long time, right?

“You...specifically came to save me?” Emily quietly gazed at Hunter.

She should have guessed that this must be the case, otherwise, with Hunter’s status, how could he stay in such a second-class hotel.

However, Hunter was not willing to utter anything so she felt that she could not take it for granted.

Hunter just snorted coldly and walked past her.

He also left a few chilly words behind, "If you still go to a hotel with a man next time, I'll just break his legs."

"I.." Emily bit her lip, glared at his physique and felt his aloofness.

He already knew that she was innocent to go to the hotel with Terry, but he still chose to say these words? What was he thinking? Did he say these on purpose?

Chapter 104 Enemies Are Bound to Meet...

"Young Master Hunter came to meet Terry for something else and he had no offense. But this time he rushed over was all because of you, ma'am"

Liam smiled politely at Emily, "At that moment, Young Master Hunter didn't even finish his meal and just left immediately"

Liam secretly took a glance at Hunter. When he knew that Hunter was already slightly far away, he went closer to Emily and lowered his voice.

'I've been following Young Master Hunter for so many years and I've never seen Young Master Hunter react so anxiously due to a certain thing, it's all because of you, ma'am"

"Hence, you should know that Young Master Hunter really cares much about you, so don't be mad at and quarrel with him when you go home, ma'am"

In fact, Young Master Hunter was truly full of patience towards the young mistress, and his temper was good enough.

The young mistress did not know what would happen to a normal person who infuriated Young Master Hunter.

She...was very lucky.

"I'm leaving, little girl!" Liam lowered his head to look at Sally who was standing behind Emily and curled his lips into a smile.

Sally was instantly trembling with fear. She hid behind Emily, not even dare to poke her head out to look at him.

Seeing Liam catch up with Hunter and walk into the elevator together, Sally heaved a big sigh of relief.

"You two.." Emily turned and looked at her, bewildered.

"Nothing happened between him and I. Emily, don't misunderstand!" Sally denied it instantaneously.

"Did I say something happened between you and him?" Looking at Sally's anxious and shy behavior, Emily knew that something must have happened.

Sally bit her lip and lowered her head. She did not utter a word and her cheeks looked red.

Nothing actually happened, but that guy grabbed her breast and just now...two of them had displayed such an indecent posture when Emily and Hunter found them...

God, even she felt there was nothing she could do to remove the stigma off her name!

“Just tell me honestly, did both of you..” When they went downstairs, Emily was still looking at her incredulously.

Sally stared at her fiercely, “No! I said no! Don’t bring up this matter again!”

Sally felt that everything would be fine if she did not meet the man called Liam again.

Couldn’t everyone just ignore this matter?

“But your face was blushing obviously, Joe and Terry will definitely ask about it later”

.. am just worried about you. I ran in a rush just now so my breath is unsteady and thus my face is blushing”

Sally was really going to cry because of Emily’s teasing. She pulled Emily’s arm and shook it, “Emily, I know you treat me very well. Don’t say anything about this anymore and don’t say it in front of Joe and Terry”

Today was simply a disaster day!

Emily nodded her head and did not tease Sally anymore when she saw that Sally was so anxious until her eyes turned red.

“Well, I won’t say this again”

Sally was relieved but then she heard Emily say, “But actually, Liam is not bad too. He is handsome and rich..”

Could the special assistant of Hunter be poor?

“Emily”

“Okay, okay, now I won’t say it again” Oh, what a person that could simply be teased by others. “But you could really consider

“Emi..”

“We have arrived, you still want to discuss it now?” Emily smiled triumphantly and Sally was feeling helpless as she could not do anything.

It was because they had indeed arrived at Joe’s and Terry’s room.

After Joe knew that the person with Emily was Hunter just now, he instantly returned to his room.

At this moment, he was still cleaning up the room that looked messy.

When Emily and Sally entered the room, they saw that there was a mess everywhere.

“They did all this?” How could they rummage suitcases of Joe and Terry, making the clothes to scatter all over the floor!

This was ridiculous! There was apparently no law at all!

“They’ll get the punishment, it’s okay” Terry looked at Emily, “Are you okay?”

In fact, he knew that with Hunter accompanying Emily, she would definitely be fine.

He was very certain about Hunter’s ability.

“They are truly amoral. All the clothes became dirty” Joe tried to tidy up for a while but finally gave up.

A pile of clothes was carried and put on the chair to be washed and tidied up later on.

“But, what now?”

Sally swiped her phone for a while and looked aggrieved, “How come a person like Amy can still have a good impression by others!”

On the other hand, they became bad girls who easily went to hotel rooms with men!

Although no pictures were showing exactly Emily was in the hotel with a man, many people were still saying that they saw Emily walk into the hotel with a man.

The worst thing was that people had a good impression of Amy as she was gorgeous.

And they, as Amy's counterparts, naturally became the villains.

Internet public comments were too effective. Even if there was no proof showing that Emily went to a hotel with a man, people would still make things sound nasty.

The most ridiculous comments were that people smeared the backer behind Emily had used his power to bully the students.

However, none of them was willing to tell the truth. They were also not unwilling to admit that the backer was Hunter.

Of course, in those people's minds, how could an ugly person like Emily deserve Hunter's love?

They preferred to believe that the backer was a wretched old man rather than accepting the truth that Hunter was the backer.

"They always do nonsensical things!" But sad to say, this kind of nonsensical thing would really affect Emily's life at school.

"Do none of these people really know what kind of woman Amy is?"

Sally stamped her foot in anger as she swiped through the comments, "She's the bad girl who has been with countless men.

These people's eyes are apparently blinded by greed as they can't determine which is true or fake!"

Terry, however just stared at Emily, showing a strange expression.

"Terry, do you have something to say?" Emily could quickly find out that something was wrong with him.

Terry was silent for a few seconds before he said, "Those people last night are related to Amy."

As Emily did not know what troubles would she face after returning to school, she straight away went back to Hunter's villa.

Coincidentally there were some problems at Hunter's branch so he had left Bentson City overnight.

Emily heaved a sigh of relief as she did not need to face him in the villa.

However, looking at the empty lobby it was inevitable for her to feel a bit lonely occasionally.

Although the villa was still full of servants and bodyguards, she basically had no interaction and communication with them.

After having a shower and lying on the bed, Emily looked at the curtains of the floor-to-ceiling windows that were fluttering in the air, She was in a very complicated state.

The words said by Liam today were still lingering in her mind.

He said that he had never seen Hunter so anxious even after being his assistant for so many years; it was all because of her.

He also said that Hunter really cared for her a lot...

For five years of being with Hunter in her previous life, Emily felt that he only had an antipathy to be with her.

Cared her a lot? Impossible!

But why in this life, Hunter's mind became so unreadable?

Emily was tossing and turning.

Hence, the next day, other than a freckled face, Emily also had two dark circles below her eyes.

She looked at herself and felt that her face was even uglier than before.

Sally had been waiting for Emily at the stated venue early in the morning. When they just entered, they could immediately feel the countless gazes of disgust and hatred.

Over thirty troublemaking students had been caught yesterday, so even if they detested this ugly girl, they would not dare to do anything.

It was really a coincidence today that the top students from Bentson University and Skyler University would be having an academic exchange, and Amy was in the list of participants.

The world was indeed small and it seemed like enemies were bound to meet on a narrow road, Amy had met Emily and Sally in the school courtyard.

Chapter 105 Beast and Beauty

This was the first time Amy appeared in the public after being "framed" and involved in the "self-deprecating" live broadcast.

She was dressed in a plain dress and her long, straight and black hair was like the waterfall. She did not have much makeup on her face.

Although she was not yet eligible to be ranked as the campus belle, she could still claim the title of the goddess with plain makeup.

Standing with a group of top students and holding a book in her hand, she was truly beautiful.

Her beauty was displayed through her serenity, elegance and gentleness.

She completely matched the conditions of a goddess imagined by boys. She also matched the conditions that girls wanted themselves to have.

Being such a gorgeous and top student, Amy was indeed not on the same level as Emily who was a weak and ugly student.

The fact that Skyler University specifically “produced” beautiful girls was indeed true.

Even the boys from Bentson University lost their appetite at once when they looked at Emily after staring at Amy.

Although the girls from Bentson University were a little unconvinced, when they saw Emily’s face that only a mother could love, they could do nothing but give in.

How could a goddess be compared side by side with a dinosaur?

“Emily, let’s go to the class.” Sally grabbed Emily’s hand and quickly walked towards the teaching building.

The Winston family indeed specialized in producing vixens. The daughters were so charming and attractive!

Amy was Katy's niece and Wendy was Katy's daughter. Both of them were the daughters of the Winston family.

Amy was already so good looking. It was hard to imagine how beautiful Wendy was as she was several times better looking than

Amy.

Sally did not think that Emily was ugly. In fact, Emily's features were extremely decent.

Unfortunately, a face full of freckles had somehow affected her beauty.

She was not ugly but she could not be described as beautiful at all.

"What? You're upset to see her being so beautiful?"

With a pleasant smile, Emily tapped on Sally's forehead and it seemed like Emily did not feel anything upset.

"Those people are comparing you to that bad woman, what to compare? They don't know how disgusting that woman is.

Sally was so indignant as Emily's face shape and features were very decent, just that no one had noticed it.

"Since you know she's disgusting, then what for you are still mad? Emily calmly said.

"You really aren't indignant at all? That bad woman is pretending!" Sally stomped her foot in anger.

Emily just smiled and ignored it. They steadily walked to the teaching building together.

“Isn’t this Emily, the ugly monster?” Behind them, someone screamed in a sharp voice.

“Amy, is this bitch the one forcing you?”

It was so unfair. How could such an ugly person find such a wealthy backer?

“I don’t know what the wretched old man backing up her wants from her. She does not have an attractive body shape and a pleasant-looking face!”

“Don’t say that” Amy’s voice was very soft, but everyone around her could hear it.

She took a glance at Emily’s back, bit her lips and lowered her head, “Stop saying that, she does not bully me.’

She showed a face that one could not help to love her upon seeing her and this caused the boys to feel sorry for her.

Not only the group of top students from Skyler University but even the boys from Bentson University also looked righteously indignant.

So, before Emily and Sally entered the teaching building, they went to block two of them.

“Ugly monster, you’re trying to leave after bullying someone?”

The group of students was caught yesterday because of trespassing on someone else's property.

Now, they were in a place where they could go anywhere they liked. This was not illegal so they did not need to be afraid at all.

"May I ask how did I bully her?"

Emily stared at the few boys from Skyler University in front of her with a calm and indifferent face.

"You don't know what have you done?"

"That's right. With such an ugly face, you should hide in a corner not to dirty others' eyes but you are still swaggering around ostentatiously. Ugh, an ugly person always makes trouble!"

"What nonsense are you guys talking about? When does Emily swagger around ostentatiously'

Sally was as angry as a bull that saw red, "We obediently go to school for classes, did we cause disturbance to someone?"

"Of course, an eyesore to everyone" The girls chimed in.

When it came to quarreling, women were bound to be better than men.

A few girls joined the fray at once, "I really can't figure out which eye of the backer behind you is blind, can't he see how ugly you are'

"Any girl that can be found in Bentson University is ten times prettier than you!"

"Maybe she has good skills in bed?"

"That sounds true too. Perhaps, there is more than one backer behind her, probably a group of backers?"

"That's awesome, three parts at once is it? Hahaha.."

"You guys are disgusting!" Sally clenched his fist in anger and almost swung a punch at the fat girl who spoke the most nastily.

Even though it was true that these girls spoke nastily, the boys did not feel bad as long as the words were said to Emily.

"Emily, you used all your means to bully a weak girl, shouldn't you apologize to her"

After a round of malicious scolding from the girls, now, it was the boys' turn to "fight for justice".

"I want you to apologize to Amy; otherwise you are not allowed to leave here!"

Indeed, a group of boys around twenty years old could easily be impulsive.

Especially that just now, Amy's low voice and humble attitude had aroused people's strong desire to protect her.

The first few boys who acted as the leaders took a step forward. Sally was frightened but she still let Emily stand behind her without hesitation, "You guys..don't find troubles!"

"We are not looking for you, fuck off!" One of the boys grabbed Sally's shoulder and pushed her away.

Sally who was pushed lost balance and crashed into the girls standing at the side.

None of those girls were willing to give her help at all. There were even two girls who pushed her hard and caused her to fall onto the ground.

"Sally!" Emily tried to approach Sally but her way was blocked by a few boys.

They were constantly closing in, acting as if they would hit her at any moment.

Emily definitely knew that boys at this age were sometimes quite impulsive.

They would really go berserk if she made them angry and refused to obey them.

She pursed her lips and stood upright, facing everyone's malicious gazes.

"Who told you guys that Amy is a weak and kind girl?"

"Do we need anyone to tell us this?" The boys were sick to their stomachs.

This woman was not only ugly but she was also trying to insult others?

Emily just quietly looked at them and her lips gently curled, "Sure? How much do you guys know about the things that she has done privately?"

“Ugly monster, stop smearing others! You forced her to do all the things during the live broadcast and until now you still don’t even repent!”

“What’s the point of talking so much to her? We submit a joint report with our names to request the school authorities to expel her!”

“True, she must be expelled! This kind of vicious and ugly person is not fit to stay in Bentson University!”

Suddenly, they shouted together, “Expel Emily! Expel ugly monster Emily!”

But in the middle of the shouting, someone suddenly spoke, “What is this...? Why is this happening?”

“Look at Weibo, you guys! Quickly have a look! See whether this is photoshopped or not?”

‘It’s impossible, how can this happen? It’s impossible!’

The group of people was completely in shock and disbelief...

Chapter 106 A Shocking and Unbelievab...

More and more people took out their phones and swiped through something.

While for Emily and Sally, as everyone’s attention was on their phones, no one cared about them.

Sally got up and quickly walked to Emily, tugging Emily's sleeve, "Emily."

'It's fine. Joe is very capable of doing things, don't worry' Emily whispered.

"Alright" Sally nodded and her confidence in Joe's ability was boosted.

Amy who was standing not far from them watched the group of boys accusing Emily, and she felt a jolt of excitement and triumph although she was still portraying a weak and kind expression.

But why everyone was suddenly looking at their phones and nobody continued to accuse that ugly monster?

What were all of them doing?

Seeing Emily and Sally leaving the crowd, Amy was anxious and immediately followed her in small steps.

Not daring to speak loudly for fear of affecting her perfect lady image, she could only speak softly.

"Emily, I will not talk nonsense in the future, you..you asked them to let me go please"

She looked so aggrieved and this would definitely arouse the boys' desire to protect her.

Amy was waiting for others to come over and accuse Emily.

But for some reason, those men were all looking at their phones and their expressions looked somehow complicated...

Was it because her acting skill was not good enough?

“Emily” Amy calmed herself and carefully walked towards Emily.

“Emily, if you’re still unsatisfactory, it’s fine for you to beat me and scold me. But in the future, can you please don’t let me film that kind of live video, I..”

“So you mean I forced you to film such video? Am I really that powerful to order you doing that?”

Emily smiled indifferently and was not angry at the slander that was purposely done by Amy.

It seemed that she even had a feeling of watching a joke.

What Amy hated the most was such an indifferent smile from Emily.

As if, everything was under her control!

This woman was going to have big trouble but she was still not afraid! Later, her escorts were going to make her regret!

“Emily, I didn’t say you forced me to do something, I really didn’t, please believe me”

She was trembling as if she was facing a big threat.

Her actions of biting her lip and showing a pitiful face could make all men feel sorry for her.

She looked around and bit her lip. Her eyes also turned watery and red.

“That live broadcast, it wasn’t...it wasn’t Emily who forced me to film it. Not her, not her.”

Uncontrollably, tears started streaming down her face.

Even though her throat was too raw with pain for her to speak, she still explained, "You guys don't get me wrong, it's really..really because of me...none of her business"

Finally, she had choked up and sobbed her heart out.

So aggrieved, so pitiful, so helpless and yet she had to clarify for Emily.

Clarifying in such a way, how many people could fail to understand that she was forced to clarify for Emily?

Emily kept watching her with a shallow smile.

Even Emily could not help but give her a thumbs-up for such acting skills.

With a gorgeous face and beautiful body and most importantly, the acting skills, if Amy entered the showbiz, she could definitely become famous with her talent.

It was really a wrong decision for her not to become an actress.

Amy was also waiting to see others' reactions.

However, she really did not understand why the boys' expressions looked so strange although her acting skills were indeed nearly perfect.

“A. Amy...”

One of the girls, who came together with her, uttered in a small voice.

The girl wanted to go and remind Amy of something but she did not dare to approach Amy at all.

The steps that were reached out were immediately pulled back and she lowered her head, not even daring to grunt again.

She was afraid that she might have troubles if she got too close with Amy.

Amy when was slightly obtuse could finally realize something was wrong.

She was already so aggrieved in a way that she could not utter a word anymore but she still needed to “clarify” for Emily. So, there was no reason that everyone still did not do anything after seeing her pitiful appearance.

Indeed, it was unreasonable.

Cold fear gripped her but she still could not figure it out.

However, no one responded. Apparently her performance was not effective.

She wiped her tears, looked at Emily and whispered, “Don’t force me anymore, I will do whatever you want me to do. Please let me go.”

Emily still just slightly curled her lips. She showed an expression that was like watching a monkey show.

Amy seethed with hatred so much that she clenched her fist and bit her lip. She finally lowered her head and walked towards her team.

The reactions of the people around her were completely out of her expectation.

This was not how things should have gone! Which part was wrong?

But right now, she really could not continue her one-person show as even she felt that she was like a clown.

She could only return to the team first and slowly thought of other methods.

However, an unexpected thing happened when she walked towards the group of top students. When they saw Amy approaching them, they dodge her in fear as if they had seen a ghost.

What did it mean?

Amy's tears stopped trickling down. She looked at them and looked at herself.

There was nothing on her clothes, what the hell was going on?

Why did all these girls dodge her like seeing a snake? She was not dirty at all!

Unable to figure it out, Amy took two more steps forward and this time, the group of girls all ran away!

Nobody wanted to be with her. it was like staying near her would cause them to be tainted.

Amy felt down in the dumps. What the hell did they mean?

All of them, one by one, were they bullying her?

Was it because she was too beautiful and they were afraid of being compared to her by others?

They were so narrow-minded and disgusting! They were being ugly but still rejected to be with a pretty girl!

A group of clowns!

Amy decided not to bother them anymore as most of the female top students looked ugly, except for her, who looked charming and was talented!

She clenched her fist and paced back to the boys' team.

Everyone would have to attend the academic exchange later and since the girls refused to be with her, she chose to be with the boys.

Anyway, the boys would try their best to please her.

But this time, Amy was completely dumbfounded!

Although the boys' reactions were not as obvious as the girls', the boys actually took a step backward one by one when she approached them!

They were dodging her too!

“Are you guys...also afraid of being implicated by me?”

This was the only reason that Amy could think of, of it could be that they were all afraid of Emily's backer.

She had been asking people to mislead everyone that Emily had another backer who was an ugly and wretched old man.

This group of youthful and passionate students could not really be that coward!

Bays, especially, could sometimes be extremely daring because they were so hot-blooded.

But now, why?

And why was everyone looking at their phones...

Sally held Emily's hand and enjoyed looking at the phone too.

Sally never expected that what Amy did could be this appalling although she knew that Amy was not an obedient girl.

Such shocking news was really a big surprise!

Panic started to engulf Amy and she immediately took out her phone.

The most popular search was, “The Shocking and Unbelievable History of a Young Lady Surnamed Winston”!

When she looked at it, she screamed in shock. Paralyzed with fear, she slumped onto the ground...

Chapter 107 Everything Is because of...

Amy could not believe her eyes.

How could this be, why these photos... This was impossible, impossible!

“These photos are fake!” she suddenly shrieked and looked at the people around, frantic and panicked.

“These are fake; all are photoshopped! You guys don’t believe it, I’m not that kind of person, I’m definitely not!”

“The girl mentioned is really not me, I...I have been a good student since I was a kid, I..have done so well in every exam, how can I be that kind of person?”

“Your score in national college entrance examination didn’t even reach the minimum score required for pursuing the undergraduate course, I really wonder how you can enroll into Skyler University!” Someone replied in a low voice.

“What, how is that possible? I’m a top student, I’m a top student!”

Amy was panic-stricken and anxious. She dared to look at her phone again only after telling herself to be courageous.

The Weibo post mentioning about her had brought up the scoring system of the national college entrance examination.

Her score was more than three hundred lower than the specific score announced by Skyler University!

With such a low score, how did she enroll in Skyler University?

“However, she is a top student... of Skyler University” a boy said softly.

“She can enter with such a low score; it is definitely not hard for her to claim the title of being a top student after entering the university”

“Guys, look at her grades of every test in high school!”

“My God, that’s an awful report card, isn’t it? This kind of person..with this kind of grade can surprisingly be in the same school as us!”

Skyler University was the best in Bentson City, how could it have such a problematic student?

“No, these are all photoshopped, all these are photoshopped!”

Amy finally managed to get up and she saw that everyone was discussing and pointing at her.

The girls snickered while the boys had complicated feelings about her.

Some were incredulous, some felt sorry for her.

However, the majority of the others were like watching a show, disdainful, sneering, and even some of them looked distinctly evil.

They stared at her face and their gazes gradually shifted to her body.

In those pictures, she did not wear anything in front of several men.

With eighteen styles, with almost every new postures!

This was when she was a young and reckless girl. She was punished severely after being found out by her father. After this case, she returned to being the daughter of a wealthy family and she rarely involved that kind of absurdity anymore.

Why had it been exposed? Why were there photos as well as videos? Why?

She was scared, extremely scared! Her future was going to be ruined!

Out of the blue, the phone rang.

With hands trembling uncontrollably, Amy picked up the phone, "Dad.."

"The Winston family can't afford to lose face; I'll publish a piece of news in the newspaper to inform everyone that you're not my daughter anymore. From now on, you don't need to come back anymore!"

"Dad! The matter is not like that! Not like that.."

But the phone beeped. Her dad had hung up!

“Don’t do that, don’t!”

Amy slumped down and became hysterical.

Suddenly, Emily’s indifferent face appeared in her view. Amy’s heart thrabbed and she pointed at Emily fiercely.

“It’s yout! It must be you, bitch!” You’re the one who exposes those pictures. You!”

‘It’s you, isn’t it? You publish the pictures and videos, it must be you!’

Once again, Amy got herself up from the ground and frantically rushed towards Emily.

‘It’s all because of you, it’s all because of you, bitch. It’s all because of you!’

Nobody expected that Amy was so fast. Emily could not dodge Amy and her lapel was grabbed by Amy.

“Let go! What are you doing? What’s it got to do with me?” Emily frowned and pulled Amy’s hand away.

“If you did not involve in those things, the pictures would never exist”

“Emily, ifs you! You and your backer planned all this together!”

“I don’t have any backer behind me. Even if I have, could he have done all this since you were young?”

Emily sneered, “Don’t you see how old you are in the videos?”

No matter how old she was, it was certain that she was younger than now. Amy was currently almost twenty.

And the one in the video, although the face was clear enough to show that it was Amy.

However, it was easy to determine that the video was taken when she was only sixteen or seventeen years old.

“No! It must be you! You asked someone to Photoshop and publish the video!”

Amy wanted to rush towards her again, but this time, she was pushed away by a boy.

“Forced to do a live broadcast, framed, being a top student? Amy, you’re so fake!”

The boy stood in front of Emily and stared at Amy with righteous indignation.

“You’re totally fake. Just now you were even pretending to be pitiful and trying to frame Emily”

“Emily is indeed not as good looking as you, but you can’t simply frame someone! In fact, you’ve been doing bad things all along!”

“Sally almost jumped off the building because of you. Everyone saw the live broadcast clearly that day and Emily also almost fell off”

“You’re saying that Emily planned all this? She planned to make herself almost fall off from a building with more than a dozen stories?”

“She planned such a thrilling and risky live broadcast just to frame you? You said she risked her life to frame you? Don’t you feel that you have overvalued yourself?”

In fact, everyone was actually somehow thinking and suspecting all the matters that happened. It was just that no one dared to speak it out rationally, except for the boy.

Now, there was one guy who was brave to speak out. Everyone was now clear about all the things that happened.

It seemed like this was really the fact. It was simply Amy’s problem from the very beginning.

Why did everyone feel that it was Emily’s problem later? Was it just because of a fake Weibo account implying that Amy was forced by someone to do the live broadcast?

It was since when that their judgments could be easily swayed by a single Weibo post?

The post about Amy’s live broadcast had shown that Amy was behaving so naturally. She did not look like being forced at all.

In the live broadcast, she had absolutely displayed her evil side and greed!

She had discussed with her friend about how to secretly obtain the big gift by Emily in the live broadcast. The scene was really obnoxious.

She went crazy when she found out that there was nothing inside the gift.

Also, didn't she say that she committed suicide? However, she looked normal during the live broadcast and was able to move around freely!

Were they stupid or were their eyes blinded by lust, how could they not realize it before this?

There were too many proofs showing that Amy was simply impossible to be forced to do a live broadcast.

But they became foolish after seeing Amy dress up so nicely and she looked so pitiful.

They were so foolish!

And when they thought of Emily, although her skin was not in a good condition, her facial features were still quite decent.

The most important thing was that Emily currently did not have massive makeup and also did not have any extraordinary actions.

She was quiet but there was an indescribable and tranquil beauty all over her body.

Under the sun, this girl, suddenly...seemed to look beautiful.

"Emily, it's time for the class, let's go-" Sally held and pulled Emily's hand.

Emily nodded and two of them headed to the teaching building together.

"Emily, you bitch, don't leave!"

Amy wanted to chase after her but was blocked by a few boys of Bentson University.

“Students of Bentson University can’t be simply smeared and humiliated by you! Go back to Skyler University!”

“Right! Go back to Skyler University!”

“Skyler University always produces beauty? Bah, you’re simply a bitch! It’s really disgusting as you had fancy sex with a few men when you were so young!”

“That’s right, quickly get out of here! Don’t tarnish the campus of Bentson University!”

“Bitch, get out!”

Chapter 108 Then Let Them Die Too

“Dad, listen to me, that’s not..”

Beep...The call was cut off again.

Amy did not give up and continued to dial but this time, what she heard was that her father’s phone was power off.

Why could Dad be so cruel?

When she and Zack started dating, Dad was so nice to her.

But then, for some reason, that bastard, Zack did not like her anymore and Dad’s attitude started to become cold.

Today, such a horrible thing had happened. Dad did not come to comfort her in the first place but instead, he was going to end the father-daughter relationship with her!

Why was he doing this to her? Why?

Amy walked on the street and always felt that people were looking at her with strange expressions.

She kept her head low and did not even dare to raise her head as she was afraid that others would recognize her.

The initial Weibo post that was sent out had already been deleted. However, those photos and videos were still being widely shared and forwarded.

This matter was so popular that almost all the people in Bentson City knew it.

Although the Winston family wasn't considered a very powerful family, they were still quite famous and respectable in the business world of Bentson City.

It was not surprising that her dad felt seriously humiliated and did not want her due to that matter.

She knew it early that her father was a snob.

In his eyes, daughters were the chips that can be used for a deal. That was why Dad was so happy after knowing that she dated with Zack.

Now, after that kind of matter happened, it was impossible for all the dudes in the business world of Bentson City to date her.

Dad felt that she was no longer valuable so he instantly wanted to publicly announce the end of the father-daughter relationship with her.

In the future, not only that her reputation would be ruined, but she would also lead a very difficult life.

Without the money from the Winston family, how could she survive?

“Eh, isn’t that the daughter of the Winston family?”

“Yes, she’s the one called Amy Winston. I heard that her father has already published in the newspaper to end the father-daughter relationship with her”

“Oh dear, at such a young age, together with several men...Tsk, I feel ashamed to say that kind of thing. She’s indeed daring!”

“What a pity that I cannot watch it clearly as the original video is gone, now all the videos left are pixelated”

“You want to watch? I already saved the original video, I’ll send it to you later. That’s a thrilling scene, using three parts..”

“No! It’s not me! Not me!”

There were more and more obscenities. Amy lowered her head and fled away frantically.

Stop discussing her again, stop looking at her like that, no!

Without a break, she ran for quite a distance unknowingly and managed to hide in an alleyway.

Finally, she remembered someone and called her. The person was perhaps the only one in the world who could save her.

“Wendy Sis, I...I’m Amy. What should... do now? Ooo..”

In the phone call, Wendy’s voice sounded a bit impatient.

‘Things have come to this, what else can you do? Your future is ruined!’

“Wendy Sis, don’t hang up the phone, I’ve... There’s nothing more I can do, Dad ends the family relationship with me, they..”

“Stop crying, if you continue crying, I’m really going to hang up” Wendy warned.

Amy immediately bit her lip and did not dare to continue crying.

“Wendy Sis, I really can’t think of any solution right now, you have to help me’

“How can I help you?” Wendy flicked her nails and snorted.

“But Wendy Sis, you...aren’t you always the one who loves me the most? I... oppose Emily for you!”

Amy was truly aggrieved. Had her cousin forgotten everything she had done for her?

Amy said hoarsely, “You’re the one who reminded me to harm Emily’s friend, and Emily almost fell from the building last time, it was all my effort.”

Wendy twitched her mouth, “Come on, don’t say such nonsense, I didn’t ask you to harm anyone. Your life is ruined by Emily; don’t try to drag me with you”

“Wendy Sis..”

“There’s no use doing anything now. Your life is completely ruined, which men in Bentson City are still willing to accept you?”

‘Also, the Internet is so well-developed. Not only Bentson City, perhaps everyone in the world knows it and will treat you like a piece of rubbish”

‘It’s useless to think of any solution, there’s no way you can turn over a new leaf”

“Wendy Sis...” Wendy’s words were so cruel that Amy did not even have the courage to live anymore.

“Since you’re already like this, why don’t you think of a way to make yourself feel better? You should at least find a way to avenge those who have harmed and bullied you.”

Wendy looked at her newly manicured nails and smiled.

“Anyway, being like this, you will be pointed and commented by others wherever you go. Not long after the Winston family abandons you, you will not even have the money to buy food, you..”

She curled her lips and smiled cruelly, “You probably can’t live anymore, so why don’t you let the person who harmed you die either.”

The meal tonight was considered a feast for celebration.

Although they were in the start-up stage and were really poor, they still had to treat themselves nicely; otherwise, wouldn’t life be too boring?

“You guys don’t know how disgusting Amy was in the beginning. She kept pretending to be weak and tried to incite those boys to harm Emily”

Sally was still a little bit scared now when she recalled it.

“They were really going to hit Emily, I could feel my hair standing on end when I saw it”

Amy looked at Emily who was sitting next to her and dealing with the crayfish. She mumbled, “Why weren’t you panicking at all, I was so petrified!”

“who says I’m not panicking?” Emily glanced at her.

At that moment, the boys were indeed going to hit her, how was that possible for her to feel not panicked with so many people surrounding her?

It was just that she knew it was to no avail for her to feel panicked.

Also, did not panicking mean that she was guilt-ridden?

She did not do anything bad, why should she feel guilty?

“So, you still can feel panicked, I almost think that you aren’t afraid of anything!”

At that time, Emily acted so calmly that even Sally was fooled.

Unexpectedly, this person also knew how to spell the word, fear.

Terry looked at Emily but before he uttered anything, Emily smiled, “It’s all over”

But he was still quite worried because if the photos and videos were not being seen by those students on time, something bad would happen to Emily.

Sally looked at Terry and felt excited, “You’re so capable. Your timing is indeed just nice, right?”

If it was slightly slower, Emily might have been hit by that group of hot-blooded and stupid boys.

Joe, however, put his finger on his lips and showed a motion that asked someone to be silent.

Sally covered her mouth and nodded her head, deciding not to mention this matter again.

However, there was one thing that she was still curious about.

She stared at Terry with her beautiful, crystal grapes-like eyes, "What is going on? How do you get all the photos and videos?"

"From Liam?"

"The bad guy working for Hunter?" Sally showed an unpleasant face when she heard Liam's name.

"What's wrong? What did Liam do to you?" Emily wiped her hands and stared at her.

"No, nothing." Sally was very uncomfortable to be stared and her face turned red gradually.

To stop that conversation, she quickly asked Terry, "So what's going on? You didn't make it clear yesterday about those who tried to kill Emily the night before yesterday, what did they have to do with Amy?"

Chapter 109 Guess What I Want to Do Now

Those people at the night before yesterday all fell into Hunter's hands. None of them were spared.

Those people were later handed over to the police. However, before the policemen arrived, Hunter's subordinate also did something else.

An investigation was necessary.

And so, the backer behind those people was exposed.

"Amy's ex-boyfriend?" Sally looked surprised, "Someone was really so infatuated to take revenge on us for that woman"

“To say infatuated, it’s a bit too much. He just wanted to please his woman and incidentally coax her to find him again”

Joe shrugged his shoulders as he knew countless similar things had happened before.

No matter what, Amy was indeed a standard beauty.

Besides, it was normal for the backer to find her again since he had an extremely fun time with Amy before.

“So, in order to beg for forgiveness, he handed all those videos and photos with Amy before to Hunter’s subordinate?”

Emily spat out a sigh, as the saying went, it was not that bad people would never receive punishment, just that the time had not come yet.

Before doing anything, we really had to think twice. There was no impermeable wall and as long as you had done certain things, it was bound to be known by someone.

“But now, Amy’s future is really devastated”

She was not feeling sympathetic to that woman, there was nothing for her to be sympathetic about someone who had been trying to harm and kill her.

She was just sighing with emotion that what went around came around. Who had God ever spared?

“When she harmed us, did she ever wonder if our futures would be ruined forever?”

Sally had less sympathy for Amy. She had become the victim who was nearly killed for no reason!

If Emily had not saved her life, how could she still be here now having a barbecue and eating the delicious crawfish?

For someone who had almost died, there was not much compassion left.

She did not tend to purposely harm someone. If it was not Amy who forced them to do something back for defending themselves, they would not have made the thing so serious!

Amy was the one that had to be blamed.

‘T’ll go to get more crawfishes” Terry stood up and walked to the stall.

When he just left, Emily’s phone rang.

She took it out and saw a message from an unfamiliar number. It was from Vincent!

Vincent told her to walk to the black car parking at the roadside as he wanted to give her something?

Emily turned to look at the road. There was indeed a black car parked on the roadside.

The car was not luxurious and looked normal. It was Vincent’s favor.

Vincent did not like driving luxurious cars so he just drove ordinary cars most of the time.

She did not know what Vincent would give her.

However, Hunter was away these two days. It was possible for Hunter to ask Vincent to deliver something to her.

She stood up, "I'll go to get something, I'll be right back"

'll go with you" Sally put the crayfish that she was holding on the plate.

Emily looked at Sally's oily hand and smiled, "It's okay, just by the road"

Sally looked at the road and saw that people were going to and fro. So, she was relieved and picked the crawfish again.

After a while, Terry returned with a large plate of crawfishes and he realized Emily was not there.

"Where's Emily?" For the past two days, for some unknown reasons, unless Emily was accompanied by Hunter, Terry would feel uneasy and worried when she wasn't in his sight at night.

"Emily went to get something" Sally and Joe who were dealing with the crabs casually pointed at the direction of the road.

The road was not far. But after observing for a while, he still could not find Emily.

Terry felt his heart was tightening. He put down the plate and headed to the roadside.

"What's wrong?" Sally also turned and looked at the road.

She also could not find Emily!

“Where’s Emily?” Sally was also shocked and panicked. She quickly caught up with Terry.

“Just now she was heading this way. She said that someone wanted to give her something and would be right back after taking it”

Joe also caught up with them, “But it’s been a few minutes”

They kept eating and did not even notice that Emily had gone for so long.

Terry’s heart was getting tighter. By right, Emily could not go very far with just a few minutes but there was no sign of Emily there at all.

Emily was missing, what happened?

“Terry, it’s Emily’s bracelet!” Sally spotted something and hastily ran to it.

Right at the side of the road, a silver bracelet was found on the ground and it almost fell into the sewer through the cracks.

She picked it up and recognized that it was indeed Emily’s bracelet.

Thinking again, she remembered that just now when she hurriedly looked at here, there seemed to have a car parked here.

But now, the car was not here and Emily was gone!

Terry strode over and grabbed the chain from her hand.

It was really Emily's chain. Something definitely happened to Emily!

"Joe, find a way to get the surveillance video in this area, quick!"

Joe became sober-minded and quickly said, "Okay, I'll go back to take my computer immediately!"

Before Emily opened her eyes, she heard the sound of wind whistling.

It sounded like there was the sound of waves also.

The salty smell of seawater seemed to be lingering around the tip of her nose.

She frowned and subconsciously wanted to stretch her limbs that were exhausted but when she tried to move them, she found out that her hands and feet were tightly tied.

What was going on?

Emily opened her eyes and what she seen was only the night sky.

Beneath the night sky, there was an ocean!

Why was she on the sea?

"Are you finally awake?" The hoarse voice sounded not far from her.

Emily who managed to get up saw Amy sitting at one end of the speedboat and staring at her.

And she had a sharp knife in her hand...!

The blade reflected with a horrifyingly cold light under the illumination of moonlight.

Amy's eyes were red and swollen. She had clearly cried for a long time. But now, her eyes flashed with hatred and resentment.

"What're you going to do?" Emily subconsciously retreated.

But they were now on a speedboat and there was no way for her to retreat!

Her head was still feeling slightly painful and she finally remembered that she was standing on the side of the road when she had been suddenly hit by someone from the back.

She fainted after being hit and when she woke up, it was now.

Amy had kidnapped her!

"You're crazy! You're committing a crime!" Emily struggled hard.

However, the ropes tied around her limbs were too tight and she could not even make any difference!

"Crime? Do you think I'll care?"

Out of the blue, Amy leaned back and laughed sardonically. Apparently, she was a little out of control as her tears rolled down her eyes.

'I'm already like this, I have no hope in my life anymore. Crime... don't care!'"

"Emily, I have burnt all my bridges. Haha, I suddenly feel so good now that you're in my hand. I'm so jubilant, hahaha.."

She really went crazy. In the middle of late-night, her laughter was enough to make Emily's hairs stand on end.

Especially the knife she was holding in her hand that could reflect the light, it looked really scary!

Emily secretly struggled hard but the rope did not loosen at all!

"What? Trying to escape is it?"

Amy had finally stopped laughing. Looking at Emily's face, Amy curled her lips into a cruel smile.

She held the knife and walked towards Emily step by step, "I'm no longer afraid of being punished, so guess what I want to do now, Emily?"

Chapter 110 She Is Dead

Amy was indeed crazy!

Perhaps, whoever that had gone through such a serious matter would become crazy.

But, Emily did not sympathize with her at all.

If others did not offend her, she would not offend others. Whereas, if others offend her and if she did not fight back, she would end up like in her last life in which she died miserably on the street.

Looking at the knife in Amy's hand, Emily's face still looked calm although her heart had leapt to her throat.

"Why did you make use of Vincent's name to lure me to the street?"

This was something that she still could not figure out until now.

She and Vincent did not have much interaction in this life, so why did not Amy pretend to be on behalf of other people, but

Vincent?"

"Well, it's because you like Vincent" Amy laughed wantonly.

She squatted down in front of Emily and held the knife, swinging the knife in front of Emily.

"You're so greedy. You already have Hunter as your fiancé who is already so outstanding and brilliant but you're still craving for Vincent?"

The knife was patted on Emily's face.

"Ha, greedy people have always died a horrible death, you know?"

Although the knife was only lightly patted on her face and did not cause a cut, Emily was still overcome with fright.

She was afraid that later the sharp blade would just cut her face.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath, trying to make her voice sound calm.

“Is it? How come I don’t know that I have any special feelings for Vincent? I think I haven’t spoken to him for more than three sentences”

She stared at Amy and did not miss a single expression on her face.

“Amy, your ability to inquire the matter of others is a bit too poor”

“Is it?” Amy sneered and the knife was heavily patted on Emily’s face.

“Mmm...” Emily felt a sense of panic now even if she tried pretending not to be afraid.

“So, you will feel frightened too? I thought you aren’t afraid of anything!”

Amy’s eyes sparkled with excitement!

“You’re very scared, right? Tell me, are you afraid of me? Emily, beg me now, quickly beg me! If not, I’ll slowly cut your face, beg me now!”

Emily secretly clenched her fist. She felt that the person in front of her was insane!

“Yes, I’m scared, I’m panic-stricken, please don’t hurt me.”

Facing such a situation, if she did not obey Amy, Amy might really cut her face slowly with the knife.

“Then can you tell me who told you that I like Vincent?”

“You were so flirtatious and always threw yourself at Vincent. You were caught red-handed by Hunter, you think I don’t know this matter?”

Amy was very triumphant as if she had caught Emily’s mistake and was bound to win.

“You’re a wanton woman of loose moral who likes to flirt with men and since you’re so cheap, you don’t deserve anything!”

Emily did not utter a word but was pondering in her mind.

The Jackson family had a spy. Wendy was perhaps the one who told this to Amy.

Amy was just an unimportant person. At first, to be frank, she also felt that Wendy was not that threatening.

Being alone, Wendy was not able to carry out many things, including Vincent’s death.

But even until before she died in her last life, she still did not know what kind of person was behind Wendy and had been planning it all along.

Was that person now already cooperating with Wendy?

Was it Manson? No, Manson was not that thoughtful and tactful.

Who the hell was it?

Suddenly, a wave hit the speedboat. Amy lost her balance and slipped. The knife in her hand which flashed under the moonlight had unintentionally cut Emily's face slightly.

If Emily hadn't reacted quickly enough and leaned back to dodge it, now, her face would have been cut into a deep bloodstain.

The blade was sharp. The person holding the knife was crazy but Emily was on the ocean...

If she did not try to save herself, she would not have another chance.

Before Amy was able to stand still properly, Emily gritted teeth and slammed headlong into Amy.

Amy's stomach was hit and her hand trembled, causing the knife to fall into the sea and disappear in the blink of an eye.

Amy who was knocked shrank back for a few steps. She lost her balance and her entire body fell straight backward.

With a thud and not knowing that what did her head hit, she fainted.

Emily was about to go over to see how was the situation as she did not know what Amy's head had hit. She did not want Amy to die because of her otherwise she would become a murderer.

But when she took a step, out of the blue, a wave hit the speedboat again.

The speedboat rocked violently and Emily was unable to stand still. The third huge wave hit the boat again.

This time, her entire body was thrown up. This made her legs leaned against the edge of the speedboat and due to the loss of balance, she accidentally plunged into the sea.

She immediately struggled hard but her hands and feet were still being tied!

Her situation now was even more dangerous than on the speedboat!

No, now, she was between life and death!

The seawater poured into her nose and badly choked her. She could even feel her eyes stung for a moment when she tried to open her eyes.

Damn! How could she make herself into such a helpless and despairing state?

The ropes were still tightly restraining her limbs even after she had struggled so hard. Her body was gradually sinking and drifting according to the wave movement...

Unable to breathe, her limbs became weak and her consciousness was gradually decreasing.

She had just come back to this world only for a short time but she could meet danger anywhere. Was it really that hard to lead an ordinary life?

This time, there would not be any miracle, would there?

Her last bit of consciousness was completely gone due to a wave.

The moment she fainted, a question suddenly popped up in her mind.

If she died, would Hunter..shed a tear for her?

Emily was missing.

When Amy was found, she was still unconscious on the speedboat.

She was sent to the hospital to be examined. The back of her head was injured and now she seemed blurred as if her head was seriously injured.

She looked lunatic as she said Emily wanted to kill her but later said she had killed Emily. Soon, she also said that the immortal had brought Emily away.

She still did not give an exact and clear statement even after the doctors and nurses had been involved in the interrogation.

According to the traffic surveillance video obtained by Joe, Emily was indeed hit by Amy from the back. She was then dragged into the car and the car sped off not long after.

But now, Amy seemed to have gone crazy and Emily was totally missing without any trace!

The speedboat was found at sea. How and where could they find a girl at the boundless sea?

It had been two days and two nights. If Emily was still alive, she would have gone back to find them.

In such a situation now, the only possibility was that Emily had lost her life at the sea.

Hunter's subordinates were still searching everywhere. Apparently, Hunter was unwilling to accept this fact.

However, some people were secretly happy for a long time after hearing the news.

That bitch was dead. In the future, she did not have to worry again that Emily would suddenly revert to her true face to let Hunter see her beauty.

What other news could make Wendy feel happier than this?

That was why she had a date with Manson tonight. She wanted to know more news about the matter.

"Are they really still looking for her? Even until now, they still can't find Emily?"
