

Now And Forever 341

Chapter 341 Go to Hell Together

Break up, at this moment when the love relationship was confirmed less than 24 hours.

“No... I won't accept it!” Henry pulled her back.

Staring at her tearful face, he looked determined, “If you complain about me not protecting you well, then I swear, I swear that I will definitely...”

“I don't need you to swear. Henry, I don't like you and I don't want to be your girlfriend, which is so simple!”

Emily struggled hard, trying to get out of his embrace.

But he hugged so tightly and so hard that no matter how she tried, she couldn't break away from his arms.

“No, we have agreed. Even though you don't like me now, you will like me in the future. We have agreed!”

If he didn't know what love was several hours ago, maybe he knew it now.

Loving someone means that you would feel painful and would prefer the pains to increase tenfold on yourself when she is hurt.

Loving someone means that your heart would ache as if it was torn open and you couldn't take breath normally when she wants you to leave.

Loving someone means that you are unwilling to let go of her absolutely even if you know the one she loves is not you.

“Please give me another chance. Emi, please give me another opportunity to protect you!”

“Sorry, sorry for being heartless!”

He thought he was just accustomed to like staying together with her.

But actually it was not so!

He was almost hopeless to death when he ran out of the karaoke bar tonight and couldn't find neither her nor Hunter.

He was not just accustomed, but fell in love completely without noticing.

“Henry, let go of me. We are not suitable for each other. There... there are all his traces all over my body! Do you understand?”

She couldn't break away his hands, with her red eyes full of tears again.

Emily calmed down and looked at him, smiling bitterly, “Are you silly? Do you want something that have been played with by others?”

“You aren't a thing!” He wouldn't allow her to hurt herself like this!

“Look! Look clearly!”

She unfastened the buttons of her blouse one by one, with ten fingers trembling.

There were traces left by Hunter on her neck, shoulders and chest.

“Have you seen it? Dare you imagine how terrifying and crazy he was when he pressed down on me?”

She laughed as if the whole world fell into desperation together with her.

“Are you still willing to accept? Face the reality! I am not your woman, but his toy!”

She unfastened the third button and more traces came into his sight clearly.

“Want to see more?” Emily smiled miserably and continued to unfasten the next button.

If she continued, her skin would be totally exposed in front of him.

Henry grabbed her hands, clenching her hands between his palms.

“Enough... enough!”

That gentleman who would be optimistic whatever he experienced put his face on her chest at this moment, with his tall figure trembling silently.

“Don’t hurt me or yourself in such a way anymore! I don’t mind. Whatever happens, I don’t mind!”

He closed his arms and hugged her tightly.

“I don’t mind because I love you. Emily, I love you. I don’t mind anything but I am afraid you abandon me!”

Emily heart was trembling and she looked down at the man who was elegant and graceful with pleasing personality.

Unexpectedly, he said while trembling that he was afraid she would abandon him!

But now she had become other's toy, who had no qualification.

"Don't push me away, Emily, because I can't bear the pain without you! You can't abandon me unless you kill me!"

"Don't... say that..."

She put her hands on his head, wanting to push him away, but unable to get any force.

She was really at loss with him acting like this.

She didn't deserve it as a woman who had lost her chastity, really didn't!

"Let's get along with each other like before, OK?"

Henry raised his head from her embrace and looked down at the discomfiture all over her body.

He raised his hands and helped her to fasten the buttons one by one.

His fingers were still trembling but he just tried to keep calm.

Whatever the difficulty was, he could face it together with her, but he couldn't hear any words to abandon him.

Henry helped her to fasten the buttons, took her by the arm and put her lightly back to the bed.

Afterwards, he lay beside her, one hand under her head, hugged lightly between his arms.

The strength was obviously soft but didn't give her any opportunity to escape.

Emily wanted to speak but was stopped by him, with his long finger covering her lips.

'If you are going to say you don't deserve me and want to leave me, don't say anything because I won't accept it.'

He lowered his head and kissed lightly on her sweating forehead.

"I have never liked a girl like this. I even don't know when I fell in love with you."

He didn't when the love started but he loved her so deeply.

Unless she was happy, he would never let go of her in the whole life.

"If one day you are really reconciled and decide to go back to him, I will let go of you."

Her thin and weak body trembled but was embraced more tightly by him between his arms.

Henry's chin was against the top of her head softly and gently, not giving her any pressure but meshing with her tightly all the time.

"But if it is just because of fear or those groundless reasons, I won't accept. Whatever the reason is, I won't accept."

"Emily, you have provoked me. It's not so easy to escape! I won't absolutely let you abandon me!"

"Even if we have to go to hell, I will always stay with you! Don't be afraid. It's nothing serious. Let's go to hell together."

She closed her eyes and grabbed his collar.

The tears that slipped down disappeared quickly in the deep corner of her eyes.

Go to hell together?

But what had she done to deserve having his accompany?

At this moment Emily was not refusing or flinching, but just uneasy.

“He said...” She bit her lips and said hoarsely, “He would find me again.”

“I will guard you. Don’t be afraid.”

Finally, Emily nodded, choked and moved herself close to his embrace.

“...Well.”

That night, the wind was very soft, but was just a bit cold.

The blowing wind made the sleeping girl tremble from time to time. No one knew whether she was shocked in the dream or was chilled by the cold wind.

The man who originally fell asleep with her opened his eyes and looked at her pale little face after she fell asleep during the whole night.

Her uneasiness and her horror showed clearly when she was sleeping.

Her hoarse crying for help and her trembling body made him very worried.

Go to hell?

If they really had to go to hell, then went together!

No one knew how long after, Henry's cellphone rang but was switched off by him immediately.

The girl between his arms didn't wake up yet. He moved slowly and gently, putting the cellphone to his ear, "What's up?"

No one knew what the person said on the other end of the line. Henry's face darkened and his voice became very cold, "If he doesn't cooperate, let him disappear forever!"

Chapter 342 It Must Be Her or Not

Wendy was extremely happy tonight.

That "sir" was really capable of taking actions without any flaw in front of the Gale family!

Although until now, she didn't know who the "sir" behind with full control of everything was.

But only if he could help her get the Gale family overwhelmed, no matter who he was, he was a great benefactor to her!

Now, she was Miss Gale in the Gale family!

Wendy waited at the hall of the WongRiver Pavilion all night.

She couldn't tell Hunter about this news yet temporarily, but she would leave the Bentson City for City L very soon.

Before she left, she needed to have "closer" contact with Master Hunter.

Otherwise, she would feel uneasy while she was away.

Because the bitch Emily did dare to appear in front of Master Hunter.

In the wee hours, Hunter came back with strong coldness all over.

When he parked the car outside the door of the hall, Wendy who dressed herself up delicately almost fell asleep on the sofa.

Hearing the sound of engine, she got up immediately and walked out with quick steps.

Hunter got out of the car, high above everyone, cold and distant.

He was more difficult to get close to, but was more seductive fatally than before.

Wendy stood at the door, staring at him blankly without noticing.

Until Hunter walked to her, she suddenly came to her sense and walked over, "Hunter, is it you?"

"Yes." Hunter replied faintly, his eyes sweeping across her without any pause.

Wendy was a little discouraged because she wore a dress with wide V neck line specially to wait for him.

In the season of early winter, she was almost freezing and trembling standing at the door.

But for him, she would like to if he asked her to be naked.

But he never cared about her all the time.

She followed Hunter into the door and accompanied him upstairs all the way.

“Hunter, I have to go to City L tomorrow.” Wendy walked behind Hunter. This time, she finally summoned up the courage to follow him into his room.

Hunter frowned invisibly. He didn’t like someone to break into his private space.

“Well.” He nodded again as if he cared little about her leaving for City L.

Wendy felt a grievance, but there was no use in front of Master Hunter.

“Maybe I will be away for a long time...”

“Ask Liam to book the airline ticket for you.” Hunter pulled his collar.

Back to his room, he would always unfasten the buttons of his shirt habitually.

But he was aware that there was someone else in the room, especially woman, so he stopped his actions of intending to unfasten the buttons.

Hunter’s words made Wendy feel a mouthful of blood stuck in her throat, which was almost streaming out.

She wanted to hear Master Hunter’s persuasion of her staying.

If Master Hunter urged her to stay, she could tell the Gale family to delay the journey.

Although the “sir” meant to ask her to leave as soon as possible in order to gain a firm foothold in the Gale family.

She was really unwilling to leave Hunter, but unexpectedly, Master Hunter asked Liam to book the ticket for her!

“Is there anything else?” Hunter found the woman didn’t want to leave. He looked back at her and frowned.

“Hunter, I am a little... unwilling to go.” Wendy pouted and looked at him blinking.

But Hunter said with some asperity, “Then call off the journey.”

“...” She almost fainted with anger, “Hunter, Don’t you ask me why I leave for City L?”

“You are an adult.” He meant it was her own thing to decide whether to go or why to go.

Hunter walked to the desk and made a phone call to Liam, “Book an airline ticket for Miss Gale. She will go to City L tomorrow.”

His eyes fell on his own fingers. Unconsciously he thought of which part of Emily’s body his fingers had touched.

The tall figure tightened slightly. Damn! Once he thought of the girl who lay down under him, and was bullied with tears, the blood all over would be excited!

He thought he would be tired soon only if he played more times, but he was more interested with more contact with her!

He seemed to be poisoned!

He was obviously absent-minded. Wendy had already walked close to him in a twinkling.

Since he had already come back tonight, she couldn’t allow herself to flinch.

Several days already!

He disappeared for almost one month. During these days after he came back, she racked her brains every day to attract his attention.

However, Hunter never paid attention to her.

Wendy was very uneasy. If it continued like this, maybe there would be another woman appearing beside him even if Emily left.

She needed to let Hunter like her body first.

“Hunter, I will stay if you tell me to stay.”

She came close to Hunter quietly. Summoning up the courage, she held his sleeve, took his hand and pulled him close to herself.

“Hunter, I have been liking you for so long. You know it, don’t you?”

The man didn’t speak, his eyes falling on her open collar, thinking of the fair and smooth skin of another girl.

His breath was in disorder!

Wendy found surprisingly that his breath became different because of her coming close!

It was obviously erotogenic behavior of men.

In fact, Master Hunter didn’t care little about her, but was just too reserved and never revealed himself. Now she finally saw it through that Master Hunter was interested in her.

“Hunter...” Her heartbeat quickened like drum beating. She pulled Hunter’s sleeve, looking at his hands which were going to be put on her perfect figure.

Once he touched her, Wendy had 100 percent confidence that he would love her body.

Now the man's fingertip was only one finger away from her body!

Wendy was so nervous that she breathed heavily.

But she didn't dare to act openly because she was afraid he would be disgusted if she was too bold.

Therefore, she acted carefully and swung her long hair, facing him from the most beautiful angle.

Finally, when his hand was about to touch her body, Wendy closed her eyes and waited for his next action.

She would be Master Hunter's woman tonight!

Once she took this step, it was none of Emily's business in Hunter's heart in the future.

But Hunter stared at her open collar, with his eyes cooling down.

Wendy was still pulling his sleeve and made his hand close to herself.

In fact, Hunter was also hesitating whether he could have a try with other women.

Why couldn't he quit Emily's body all the time? He had made love with her so many times, but why would it wake up his desire when it came to her?

Did he really want her only or was it just because he hadn't make love with other women?

If he did, would the excitement towards Emily be weakened?

Hunter hated most the feeling of his emotions being dragged down by others, but Emily was always controlling his sentiments.

That woman didn't deserve it!

He closed his lips and looked at Wendy's body with chilly eyes.

His fingertips went close to her slowly.

These fingers had touched every part of Emily's body tonight...

Chapter 343 Was It Revenge or Enjoyment

The room was so quiet that Wendy could only hear her own heartbeat.

She was waiting excitedly, waiting for herself to finally become Hunter's woman!

She even kept adding more strength, trying to put Hunter's hand on her body.

But why did he stop? Why couldn't she pull him closer?

Wendy opened her eyes slightly and looked at the man with a little doubt, "Hunter..."

His hand stopped. He hadn't touched her yet. It was so close!

But she just couldn't pull his hand closer!

He was refusing!

Why?

Hunter's face was expressionless, and he put his hand back.

Wendy's fingertips could touch nothing but the air.

She stared at him in a daze. Her eyes were filled with tears suddenly.

"Hunter, you promised grandma, in the future..."

"What do you want?" Hunter turned around and walked to the wine shelf, taking down a bottle of red wine for himself, "If you need anything, go to Liam."

He had made a promise, so he would never be stingy to give her whatever she wanted as long as he had the ability to get it and it was not contradictory to his principles.

Wendy had actually enjoyed a very good life with him during this period of time. She could easily get everything she wanted.

But what she always wanted most was what he refused to give her, his heart.

"Hunter..."

"It's late, please go back." Hunter's tone was emotionless and firm.

He took his robe and walked into the bathroom.

Seeing that the bathroom door was closed mercilessly by him, Wendy bit her lip and felt aggrieved.

She could clearly feel his breath had changed just now, and she knew that he had feelings for her, too.

But why didn't he want her?

Was it because they were not engaged yet, and he didn't want to take advantage of her?

But he never talked about the engagement, so how long would she have to wait?

Outside, Liam happened to come and knock on the door.

Wendy walked over and opened the door.

Seeing that it was so late, but Wendy was still in Hunter's room, Liam was slightly taken aback, and he said, "Miss Wendy, the ticket is booked."

The young master was not in the room. There was a splash of water in the bathroom. It was obvious that Young Master was taking a shower.

This woman, who stayed up late in the middle of the night, wanted to seduce Young Master! She was so shameless!

Liam's face was stern, and he said solemnly, "Miss Wendy, it's so late, the young master needs a rest. Please go back to your own room, don't disturb Master!"

He stood at the door of the room, staring at her, which meant that he would not leave if she didn't leave.

Wendy really wanted to tear him to pieces!

Liam was really annoying! Emily had been away for so long, but he was still on her side. Was he crazy?

He thought Emily still had a chance to come back!

No, not at all! He was not yet willing to accept the reality!

“This room will become mine sooner or later!” Wendy snorted coldly and walked out of Hunter’s room. She raised her chin with her head held high, and she was as proud as a peacock.

Liam was not angry at all, his thin lips twitched, smiling at her back.

“Since Miss Wendy likes Master’s room so much, I’ll mention it to him and propose to give you the room.”

“You...” Wendy suddenly turned to glare at him.

Looking at that smile on his face, she wanted to tear it apart!

But it was not the time!

This bastard was Hunter’s private assistant, and his position was too important. Even if she used small tricks to frame him,

Hunter wouldn’t have any doubts toward him.

But how could she allow such a person to stay by Hunter’s side, who always acted against her?

She squinted and glared at Liam.

One day, she would make him disappear completely just like Emily, to whom he showed so much loyalty!

They would wait and see!

Liam actually didn’t want to act against her. After all, it would be a very boring thing to do.

However, she dressed so revealingly at night and wanted to stay in the master’s room, he just didn’t like it!

He didn’t like the young master to be with such a scheming bitch!

She had a vicious mind, who was an evil hypocrite!

Had it not been for the young master to promise Matriarch h to take care of her for a lifetime, she would never have had a chance to stay with the master.

She was too shameless!

Seeing Wendy returning to her room and closing the door, Liam looked back.

Master still did not come out of the bathroom.

Liam let out a sign, feeling a bit melancholy. Master had really had a hard time during this period. And recently...

If this continued, he didn't know what would happen.

But he could not stop it, and he didn't know whether he should stop it.

At least, there was still an intersection between them, right?

Although, such an intersection was making it too cruel and too...horrible!

In the end, Liam closed the door of Hunter's room and left silently.

When Hunter came out, it was finally quiet.

It was almost three in the morning.

Lying on the bed, he was not sleepy at all.

It was Emily's tears that kept lingering in his mind over and over again.

Her fragile body was constantly trembling under his pressure.

She was clearly scared to death, but still biting her lips tightly, trying to pretend to be calm.

But in the end, she finally burst into tears.

Hunter closed his eyes and couldn't tell whether he was retaliating or enjoying himself.

However, his poor child has no chance to come into this world again...

When he opened his eyes again, there was no more nostalgia in Hunter's eyes.

There were only the thirst for blood and deep hatred...

When Emily woke up again, it was already the next morning.

Sunlight poured in from outside the window, shining on a crystal vase not far away, and the reflected light made her eyes hurt a little.

She frowned and slowly opened her eyes.

There seemed to be someone beside her. The warm feeling and delicate touch made her sober up suddenly.

Looking up, Henry's flawless eyes instantly came into view.

This was the first time Emily woke up in the same bed with him.

At such a close distance, she accidentally saw the shadow casted by his long eyelashes. At that moment, her heart couldn't help but stopped for a second.

What made her blush even more was that his shirt was unbuttoned, and his sexy chest appeared unreservedly in her sight.

After a long sleep, the sadness of last night was suppressed. The handsome half-naked man early in the morning took her breath away.

Emily took a slight breath, and was about to find a way to get out of his arms.

No, the handsome guy who was still asleep suddenly moved his arms and pulled her back without warning.

He turned over and pressed on her body, his breath instantly became messy, "You want to seduce me early in the morning?"

Chapter 344 I Just Couldn't Help It

Seduce him?

Emily was dumbfounded, and hurriedly shook her head, "No, no..."

Henry squinted and said, "So why did you stare at my body like that?"

"I didn't." Emily was not used to the current posture of them, and gave him a light push.

“You get up first.” He kept pressing on her!

Although they were all wearing clothes, the posture was too awkward!

“Why do you want to get up?” Henry did not get up, but even pressed harder on her.

“Don’t!” Emily was startled and blushing.

Their figures were sticking together, even though they were fully clothed, she could clearly feel his curve and figure.

And... How could the buttons on his clothe be unbuttoned like this? As he got down, his chest was completely exposed.

He usually looked gentle and elegant, but she didn’t expect that the muscles on his chest were so strong.

It was so sexy!

When Emily saw it accidentally, she was so frightened that she couldn’t even breathe.

“Don’t... Go away...”She wanted to push him, but his clothes were unbuttoned. She would definitely touch his hot body.

It was hot... it was real! His body temperature was rising rapidly!

Henry actually just wanted to play a joke on her and tease her.

But he did not expect that after pressing on her, his brain went blank shortly.

The blank in his brain turned into heat, and his blood surged, making him feel like he had drunk ten bottles of red wine!

“Henry...”

“Don’t move.” He had never had a girl under him early in the morning.

He wanted to get down, but his body clearly didn’t listen to the command of his head, and even his hands wanted to go against his own consciousness.

His big palm rested on Emily’s shoulder and rubbed it gently.

The girl under him suddenly became tense and stiffened, not daring to move.

“Go away... Don’t...” She couldn’t talk clearly.

It was the second time that she found he was turned on by her.

Emily blushed and sweated from her forehead with nervousness.

Henry’s voice was low and hoarse, his eyebrows were knitted, and big beads of sweat slipped off his handsome face.

“So are you telling me to go away or you don’t want me to go away?”

“Stop making jokes...” She thought her voice must be very cold and calm, but she found that it seemed like she was inviting when she heard her own voice.

Henry couldn’t bear it, the blood shooting to his brain!

As soon as he loosened his hands, his heavy body pressed closer to her.

“You...”

“I ... can’t control myself.” He lowered his head and buried his head on her neck.

There were only a few centimeters between his thin lips and her neck.

Just a step forward and he could kiss her...

The unique fragrance on the girl's body made him even more excited.

The big palm that held her shoulder, also seemed unable to bear loneliness, moved to her neckline, and gently pulled her collar apart.

Her pale skin irritated him and made his eyes become scarlet!

He tried to take a deep breath, but it was impossible to calm him down!

Finally, after catching up in an inner war with himself for a while, Henry was breathing heavily, his arms were tightened for a while, and he hugged the slender girl tightly.

He bowed his head and kissed her hard.

That beast-like aura made Emily who was slightly fascinated sober up instantly.

He was breathing like that again, as if he wanted to swallow her!

A scene that made her desperate suddenly flashed across her mind. The man pressed her on her, ignoring her crying and begging for mercy, moving frantically...

"No!" Emily's blushing face turned pale in an instance.

She turned her face away, Henry failed to kiss her lips, and his kiss fell on her neck along the way.

"No! Don't do this!" The scenes last night reminded her of all her fears of men.

She slapped him on the chest frantically, pushed hard, and even bit his arm.

'Don't do that! Don't do this to me! No!'

The man in confusion only felt a tingling in his arm. He looked up from her neck and saw the girl biting his arm. The horrified tears slipped from her eyes and she was trembling.

His heart stopped beating, and finally he was completely sober.

Emily's vision was blurred as her eyes were filled with tears.

She was biting his arm and struggling hard, those frightened little hands kept beating on him.

She was afraid! She was so afraid that she lost her mind! She almost forgot who the person around her was!

Her mind was occupied by the man.

He was tying her, pressing on her, and moving crazily...

"Hmm..."

"Emily, it's me! It's me! Don't be afraid!" Henry got off her and held her up.

His arm was still bitten by her, and the scarlet blood slid down her lips, and the smell of his blood gradually became heavy.

He wasn't bothered by the pain in his arm, but his heart was painful because of her panic and despair.

She must be thinking of the unpleasant experience with Hunter. She must be so panicked and desperate back then.

“Emily, it’s me, wake up, it’s me, I’m Henry!”

He hugged her hard in his arms and said softly, “Don’t be afraid, it’s me. I won’t hurt you, I never will. Don’t be afraid.”

Emily’s blurry eyes gradually became clear again.

She stopped biting Henry with her teeth.

She raised her head and glanced at him, and in the blurred vision, his gentle face became clear bit by bit.

“Henry...”

“It’s me, don’t be afraid.” Henry was a little bit guilty. He didn’t expect that he would scare her so much.

After one night, she finally managed to pretend that she had forgotten those things. But those memories became clear again

“Sorry...”

Sorry? Sorry for what?

Emily was still a little confused. Just now, she was clearly still in the car, and she was also caught by Hunter...

Thinking of that man, her slender body still couldn’t help shaking.

But she had already seen clearly that she was not in any car. She was in Henry’s apartment, lying on his bed.

What was the taste?

She raised her hand and wiped on her lips. She didn’t expect that the back of her hand was smeared with blood!

She was startled, and finally remembered something, and when she looked down, she was completely frightened!

“Your hand...” God! Was that her tooth marks on his arm?

She bit so hard! He was bleeding!

“It’s okay.” Henry didn’t care about anything. A little injury was nothing.

“Don’t move!” Emily prevented him from retracting his arm.

She got off the bed, took the medicine box, and sat back next to him.

Emily took out the medicine and gauze and treated the wound.

He was bitten so hard. It seemed that he needed to go to the hospital for an injection.

She actually hurt him like this with a bite! She was too violent!

“Sorry...”

“It’s me who should say sorry.”

When she bandaged the wound, Henry held up her hand and smiled softly with his lips rolled up.

“Don’t be angry with me, I just couldn’t help it for a while.”

Chapter 345 Feeling More and More Dis...

He blamed it all on himself, but in fact, what did he do wrong?

When two people had feelings for each other, it was really natural for that kind of things to happen. Henry didn't do anything wrong, she was the one who was wrong.

"I... I'm going to school; I'm going to get up."

Emily lowered her head, packed the medicine box, and walked into the bathroom.

After cleaning herself, looking at her pale face in the mirror, she clenched her fists tightly.

'Emily, you cannot continue to be so vulnerable!'

It not only hurt herself, but also affected the people around her.

'Hunter was just a demon, overcome him, defeat him! Stand up!'

She couldn't continue to be depressed!

She patted her stiff face, tried to squeeze a small smile at herself in the mirror.

She had to continue to live her life.

When coming out of the bathroom, Emily had already put on a relaxed face, "Let's go, I'm going to have class in the morning.

It was really rare for this beauty to come back to class.

Seeing Emily, the boys were eagerly rushing to see her, like bees seeing sugar.

“Look, they all bullied you when you were ugly. What about now?”

Sally snorted, with a look of disdain, “These superficial boys.”

Emily didn’t comment on this. She was used to this kind of thing.

When class was about to begin, Lois hurried over from outside.

“Emily, after class is over, let’s go to Skyler University.” She gasped.

“What for?” Emily was packing up books and preparing materials for class.

Lois took a sigh of relief before saying, “Skyler University is holding a bazaar. There are so many good and cheap things!”

“Wow! The girls at Skyler University are wealthy, and there are so many famous brands in the auction every year.”

When Sally heard this, she immediately got excited, “I heard that many of them are completely brand new!”

“Yes, it’s all for the class’s charity sales. Many people bought new ones directly and bought them back for low-price charity sales.”

They only reached their freshman year this year, and this was the first time they had the opportunity to see the legendary extraordinary bazaar after entering the college.

Lois had been looking forward to this bazaar for a long time. Anyway, the wealthy girls didn’t care about losing money at all; they just needed good selling results.

All of them were rich, so they didn't have to worry about money.

"But, isn't the bazaar only open next week?" Sally pulled her down.

Seeing the teacher coming in, Sally said in a low voice, "I clearly heard that it will be held next week."

"The news I just heard is that a super-rich man came to Skyler University and said he wanted to donate a laboratory building."

Lois also lowered her voice, not daring to let the teacher on the stage find that they were whispering.

"For the super-rich man, they had decided to hold the charity sale today."

"Who is the man?"

"Who knows? Anyway, there are lots of rich people in Bentson City."

Seeing that Emily was completely unmoved, Sally gently tugged at the corner of her clothes, "Let's go together!"

"But I am not in lack of anything." Emily didn't have any interests for those luxury.

Sally stared at her, "You are being very hateful. Don't you know?"

"I didn't mean that." Emily was a little helpless, "I just said, I don't lack luxury..."

"This is even more hateful!" Lois also stared at her.

This was unacceptable!

Emily rubbed her eyebrows, "I didn't mean that..."

"We understand it!" Sally rolled her eyes, "You just don't like luxury."

"But we like it!" As she had such a rich boyfriend, she could get anything she wanted.

But they did! They were so in lack of luxury!

"Anyway, you can accompany us for a walk. It will only be ten o'clock when the class is over. There are still two hours before lunch."

"That's right, after working for so long, you must be tired. Can't you relax?"

The two of them were pulling on the corner of Emily's clothes.

"Emily, let's go!"

Emily was really troubled by them. If they continued, she wouldn't be able to have her class.

"Okay, I'll go with you." She rubbed her temples, "Now, be quiet, I want to attend class."

Lois and Sally smiled at each other, and immediately calmed down.

In fact, they didn't really want luxury.

But it was obvious that Emily was in a bad mood.

If she went for a walk, she might feel better.

She must be tired of being alone.

Wendy really didn't understand why Grandpa came here to donate a laboratory building.

This was a shabby school. It was an honor for the school that she should come here!

Now it seemed that they had owed the school a lot!

"Didn't you say that we are going back to City L today?" Wendy held Patriarch Gale's arm and muttered.

The most important thing was that this matter must end as soon as possible.

She hoped that they would go back to City L and announce to the public that she was the young lady of the Cole family, and her net worth would rise immediately.

Delaying would only ruin her plans.

"The matter in City L has been resolved, and it's okay to go back later. Grandpa hasn't showed gratitude to your adoptive parents."

Patriarch Gale patted the back of her hand with a smile on his face.

"Uncle Cole and Auntie Winston said that they will come to City L to see me, so grandpa can have a good chat with them then."

Anyway, Wendy just didn't want them to stay in this place.

She could come back on her own in the future, but grandpa and cousin had better go back to City L as soon as possible, and never come to Bentson City again.

The longer they stayed in Bentson City, the more disturbed she was.

“Grandpa, why don’t we go back to City L now, I also want to see all my family members.”

She tugged at Patriarch Gale’s sleeves, looking at the gate of Skyler University that was getting closer and closer in front of the car.

In short, she was a little disturbed.

However, the bitch was in Bentson University, and she was in Skyler University.

Although the two universities were very close, they were not the same university after all.

That slut shouldn’t come over here.

“Well, since my dear granddaughter misses home so much, we will go back after meeting your adoptive parents for a meal.”

Patriarch Gale smiled, and said, “Um, do you have a younger sister named Emily?”

“Grandpa! You...why did you mention this? “Wendy’s fingers tightened, and the smile on her face suddenly stiffened.

“I thought that Emily was my granddaughter before, so I investigated her and fantasized for a while.”

“Grandpa...”

“My dear granddaughter, don’t be angry. Grandpa now knows that he made a mistake, but grandpa also wants to see her.”

After all, she was the granddaughter whom he had imagined, although the DNA identification results now showed that Wendy was his real granddaughter.

But after dreaming for so long, he still wanted to meet her.

“She... She is a bit rebellious and doesn’t look good. I’m afraid she... will make Grandpa angry.”

Wendy frowned, why did that damn bitch always ruin her plan?

Patriarch Gale smiled and said, “Grandpa doesn’t think she’s ugly. She just has a few more freckles. It is okay. The little girl is ignorant, and it’s normal to be a bit rebellious at this age.”

Joseph sitting in front suddenly said, “Grandpa, We have arrived at Skyler University.”

Chapter 346 She Must Not Let Emily Ap...

Since they had arrived , Wendy must go in there with them although she was unwilling to.

She was a little helpless, so she could only let go of Patriarch Gale and adjust her clothes.

Then she took out the mirror and put some makeup on.

“Our Wendy is so beautiful; there is no need to put on makeup.”

The Gale family was a family of refining medicine, and generations of them had been in the pharmaceutical business.

Not only medicine, but also various skin care products.

They didn't really like cosmetics, which could damage the skin.

It was just their habits for many years.

Wendy pouted, "Grandpa, which girl does not wear makeup when going out now? It's just etiquette."

Patriarch Gale didn't say anything, and nodded, still smiling.

Although he didn't like cosmetics, and he even felt uncomfortable when he smelled cosmetics, if his baby granddaughter liked it, he could only accept it.

A group of people came out of the school and greeted them personally.

Wendy really didn't want to come here, but seeing the school greet her with such a big posture, and seeing so many people looking at her with envy, her vanity made her excited again.

They drove all the way in, and when she got out of the car, Wendy was like a princess, noble and beautiful.

No one knew who she was now, but it was obvious that she was a noble one among these people.

"What's going on? Could it be that Wendy became this old man's woman?"

"Didn't they say that she was with Hunter? Why did she find another man in a blink of an eye? And she found an old man!"

"Oh, have you ever seen Hunter making their relationship public? It's only her wish, and Hunter never responds."

“Yes, maybe because Hunter didn’t want her, she had no choice but to be with an old man.”

“Look at her. She’s as proud as a peacock, she is proud to be with an old man!”

Wendy didn’t know what everyone is talking about, but she just liked the feeling of receiving attention.

No matter what they say, anyway, she knew they were being envious.

“What’s going on today? There are so many people in the square.” the old butler couldn’t help asking.

A school director smiled and said, “Today is the school’s bazaar day. If Master Gale is interested, you can also visit it.”

“Oh? Your school has a lot of activities.”

Patriarch Gale loved Wendy so much that when he saw the students engaging in activities, he would imagine that Wendy had also participated in it.

“Let’s go over and take a look.”

Wendy had no interest in such a bazaar.

She looked down on the so-called luxury bags and clothes and cosmetics that the students brought out.

With her current position, she could have anything she wanted.

Grandpa didn’t know what he was thinking, and he was not interested in these things at all. Why did he want to come?

“Grandpa, it was too hot today.” Wendy couldn’t help reminding.

There were too many people, the sun was big, and she wore a lot of clothes when she went out.

In such weather, people sweat a lot.

There were cosmetics on her face. Although they were all waterproof, if they were washed away, she would look ugly.

“It’s okay; sunlight is good for your health.” Patriarch Gale didn’t understand what young girls were thinking.

The old butler, Milo, was also particularly interested in these gadgets in front of him. Seeing some old gadgets brought out by some boys, the two old people even picked them out.

He was like an old naughty boy! He had no demeanor of the wealthy family.

Wendy was a little disgusted. She said lightly, “Grandpa, I’ll go there for a rest.”

The sun was so big that she would even show her spots.

Also, it seemed that the old man really wanted to have meal with her family, to say thanks or something.

She had to tell Charles and Kate first, and she should not let Emily know about the meal.

Of course, Emily would not be allowed to attend.

The old man and the old housekeeper looked all the way; Wendy turned and walked to the rest area in the distance, and disappeared in a blink of an eye.

Anyway, it was her own school, and the elderly did not worry about something might go wrong.

When they saw something interesting, they just bought it without asking the price.

Joseph had been following them all the time, and there was really no way to deal with the two old naughty men.

They asked someone for two big bags, filled them all the way, and soon the bags were full.

“It’s her!” Suddenly, the old Master’s eyes lit up and pointed at the girl not far in front.

“Milo, look, did you see that little girl?”

Milo looked up and recognized the girl all at once.

“It’s her!” Milo looked surprised, “Oh, that girl, sir, I didn’t expect that she was also a student of this school.”

He looked over and immediately saw the girl.

She was with two other girls and was bargaining with the female students who set up the stall.

Joseph’s eyes were stained with a smile, and he knew what the two old guys were going to do.

Sure enough, in a blink of an eye, the two had gone over there.

Joseph smiled to the school leader behind him, “For donation, just talk to my assistant. Let my grandpa have some fun here, there is no need for everyone to accompany him.”

The leaders knew what he meant, and it was not good to follow them all the time.

However, Patriarch Gale was so interested in their charity fair, which was beyond everyone’s expectations.

Several leaders nodded, "We have prepared a meal at noon. Please tell Patriarch Gale that we are waiting for him!"

Joseph did not respond positively, just nodded.

After letting them go, he quickly followed them.

"Little girl, little girl! Do you remember me?"

Patriarch Gale walked up to Emily and took her hand, "Remember me?"

Emily blinked and was a little caught off guard by him.

However, this old man seemed to be kind, not annoying.

She was a little puzzled.

Milo immediately said, "Peanuts, peanuts!"

After Emily was taken aback, she suddenly remembered.

Browsing her eyebrows, she smiled, "Grandpa, it's you! How are you? Are you feeling better now?"

"No, I am very strong, and I can even kill two tigers at a time."

Emily knew he was alright by looking at his face.

But she really liked the personality of this old man.

“It’s okay.” Looking at Joseph behind them, with the two big bags in his hand, Emily smiled and asked, “Are your children also students of this school?”

They came here to show support as parents, right?

“Yes! Our Wendy is also a student of the University.” The old man looked proud.

Skyler University was the best school in Bentson City.

Wendy?

Emily was taken aback, this name...

“Emily, who are you talking to?” Sally waved to her, “Come on; help me with these two bags, which color is better?”

Sally couldn’t wait for Emily’s response, and she was so anxious that she shouted at her in her full name, “Emily Gale! Hurry up!”

Chapter 347 You Are Not Allowed to Ca...

Emily? Was it the Emily he knew?

“Your name is... Emily Gale?”

With a surprised look on his face, Patriarch Gale immediately took out his mobile phone and found out the pictures of Emily that his assistant had retrieved for him.

However, although the girl in the photo was not ugly, she had freckles on her face, which was quite different from the beautiful girl in front of him.

Were they the same person?

"I am Emily, grandpa, do you know me?"

Emily followed his gaze and looked down.

When she saw the photos on the phone screen, her mood became a little bit complicated, "You..."
Why did this old man have her previous photos?

Patriarch Gale looked at the photos and the girl in front of him, only to realize that she really seemed to look more and more alike the girl in the photo.

Joseph had already seen it, "Miss Emily, your father's name is Charles Gale, isn't it?"

The girl in the photo was indeed ugly, but the girl in front of him was definitely one of the most beautiful girls he had ever seen.

There was no trace of cosmetics on such a fair and delicate face, this was her true face.

Why were the pictures taken by the detective so ugly?

Could it be that she happened to take a photo of her returning from a masquerade?

If it weren't because the photo didn't match the person, he would have recognized her the last time they met.

“Charles was indeed my father.” Emily looked at Joseph, with a trace of defense in her eyes.

“Don’t panic, we are not malicious. Besides, look at these two guys...”

Joseph looked at his grandpa and Milo, who had a personality similar to his grandfather, and asked helplessly, “Do they look like bad guys?”

Emily was a little bit dumbfounded. How could a younger generation say this to the elderly’s face?

However, these two elderly people didn’t seem to be malicious in any way.

In the distance, Wendy was walking quickly, with a frosty expression, “Grandpa, what’s the matter? I’m not feeling well, let’s go back first!”

She glared at Emily, and immediately took Emily to leave.

Patriarch Gale said hurriedly, “Didn’t I tell you before that I met a nice little girl after coming to Betson City? Unexpectedly, it was your sister!”

Patriarch Gale pulled Emily, and Emily subconsciously wanted to withdraw her hand, but she was grabbed by him.

“Oh! I feel like having two granddaughters at once, I’m so happy!”

Grandfather? Granddaughter?

Emily looked at Wendy and then at the old man.

It was about Wendy, she subconsciously resisted: "Who are you... who? She... called you grandpa?"

"It has nothing to do with you!" Wendy interrupted immediately, not knowing whether it was too hot or it was because she was nervous, sweating on her forehead.

"Grandpa, she has a bad temper. I'm afraid she will hurt you. Let's go back first!"

"No, Wendy, of course she has a good temper. Grandpa likes her very much."

But, she didn't like her!

Wendy's face was dark, how could this dying old man do that?

But Emily looked at Wendy's anxious appearance, and suddenly got excited.

She also held Old Master Gale's hand, smiling, "My sister calls you Grandpa, then, I will also call you Grandpa!"

She smiled sweetly, looking indescribably cute, "Grandpa!"

Her voice sounded really sweet.

He had been fantasizing about Emily being his granddaughter for a long time before, but he made a mistake, making him feel like he had lost a granddaughter.

Now, Emily also called him grandfather, as if his granddaughter was back again.

Patriarch was excited, and he nodded repeatedly, "Of course you are also my granddaughter. From now on, you and Wendy will be my granddaughters!”

“Okay!” Although Emily didn’t know why Wendy wanted to please him, she didn’t hate this old man.

A bad woman like Wendy must have a purpose in calling him her grandfather, and she didn’t know if she was trying to deceive him.

She wanted to remind the old man. She didn’t want to see him deceived by Wendy.

“Grandpa, how can you just call someone you don’t know your granddaughter?”

Wendy wasn’t happy anymore; she definitely couldn’t let Emily call him grandpa.

When Emily called him Grandpa, she felt guilty.

Patriarch Gale looked at her with a bit of blame on his face.

“Wendy, how can you say that? She is your sister, and she’s my good granddaughter.”

If it hadn’t been for Emily’s family to raise his Wendy, now, he would have no chance to see his granddaughter return to his side intact.

Emily’s families were all benefactors to him.

What’s more, he really liked Emily.

Wendy was being a little too rude.

“Anyway...I just don’t like others calling you grandpa!”

Wendy could not find a reason to refute, so she could only pretend to be jealous.

People who watched it all thought that Wendy had made a fuss.

Patriarch Gale and Milo looked at each other, and Milo smiled and said, “My lady, Master, because he likes you too much, he will...”

They all thought Wendy was jealousy.

Of course, she had been through a lot to find her grandfather, and she didn’t want to hear other people call him grandpa. It was normal for a little girl to have this mentality.

However, no matter what Wendy said, she was already eighteen or nineteen years old, and she was acting as tempestuous as a little girl.

It seemed... a little bit awkward.

Emily shrugged, she didn’t want to continue to be with Wendy and make a scene.

She looked at Patriarch Gale and smiled softly: “My sister is just a little...be careful, Grandpa, be careful.”

The discord between the two sisters was nothing new to other people, and Emily was not afraid of being made fun of.

Wendy blushed immediately and said angri

“Emily, what do you mean?”

“You can see through a person’s heart after being with him for a long time. I don’t need to explain it to you.”

Emily didn’t look at the old man, but looked at Joseph, “This gentleman, please take care of your family and don’t let him be fooled.”

She still had things to do, so she didn’t want to waste time on Wendy.

When she was about to leave, Joseph said, “Your sister is a child of the Gale’s family, so she called him grandpa.”

Of course Joseph knew Emily was reminding him.

He still had a good impression of the girl in front of him.

As for Wendy, it was probably because she was too young. She was so spoiled and coquettish outside, like a child, she was a bit...receptive and incompetent.

“A child of the Gale’s family?” What did he mean?

Were they also family caretakers? Why didn’t she know that their family had such relatives?

“You are...”

“We are from City L.” Joseph said softly, “the Gale family from City L.”

The Gale Family from City L!

There were many people in L City with the surname Gale, but those who dare to call themselves the Gale family in City L, at present, there was only one family!

That pharmaceutical family! The Gale family!

Although their surnames were Gale, they had nothing to do with the Gale Family from City L at all! In her past life, Emily learned a lot of pharmaceutical techniques in order to please Hunter.

And the pharmaceutical family she admired most in her previous life was the Gale family from L City. They turned out to be members of the Gale family.

“You said...” She glanced at Wendy, and then at Joseph, with a shocked expression on her face, “Wendy belongs to your family?”

Chapter 348 She Would Definitely Not...

“Yes, Wendy is my granddaughter, back then...”

“Grandpa!” Before Patriarch Gale could speak, he was interrupted by Wendy.

Wendy took his arm and said anxiously, “Grandpa, I am very uncomfortable, I have to go back. I will go back soon.”

“Wendy...”

“Grandpa, I...I’m going to throw up! Grandpa, take me to the doctor, my stomach hurts!”

Wendy was sweating profusely!

Damn it, how could they bump into Emily here and let Emily know that she was a member of the Gale family?

If this dying old man told Emily about Talia, it would be even worse!

Although Emily was not so easy to fool, she had to use the excuse.

“Grandpa, my stomach really hurts, I’m so uncomfortable, and I’m going to see a doctor!”

Was this nausea or a stomachache?

However, seeing his granddaughter look so uncomfortable, Patriarch Gale couldn’t think about anything else.

“Emily, I will take Wendy to the doctor first, and then I will contact you to have a meal with your parents, you...”

“Grandpa!” Wendy whispered!

“Okay, I’ll take you to the doctor right away.” Patriarch Gale was also anxious and he helped Wendy walk out of the crowd.

As he walked, he didn’t forget to make orders, “Hurry up, get the car here! Hurry up!”

Seeing them walking away, Emily squinted and looked at their distant figures.

Wendy was clearly faking a stomachache or nausea, she could see through it at a glance.

It was also because Patriarch Gale was too kind to see clearly.

Or, he was just too nervous about his “granddaughter”?

Granddaughter... how could Wendy be his granddaughter?

“Emily, who were those just now? Why were you with Wendy?”

Sally and Lois had not dared to come over just now, and they had been watching for a long time.

“They were from the Gale family of City L.” Emily said lightly.

“City L...the Gale family? They have the same surname as you.” Sally didn’t react for a while, “Are they your relatives?”

Lois suddenly widened her eyes and looked shocked, “The Gale family of City L? Is it that Gale family? The one that runs pharmaceutical business?”

Emily nodded, still looking at the figures outside the crowd.

After they got in the car, they couldn’t see anyone anymore.

A security guard from the school cleared the road for them in front of their car. They drove out quickly and soon disappeared.

Wendy was the granddaughter of Patriarch Gale from City L...Was it a joke?

Could it be that she wasn’t Charles’s daughter?

“Why is Wendy with them? It seemed that they were family.”

Lois also felt weird. Although Wendy and Emily had always been at odds with each other, they were still sisters.

If they were relatives, how come they didn’t seem to know Emily?

“I have no idea.” Emily didn’t intend to tell them what Joseph said just now.

It was a bit complicated; she couldn’t explain it to them clearly.

The phone in her bag vibrated, and Emily picked it up in a slightly quieter place, “Henry?”

“I’m at your school. Should I take you to the company or to the apartment?” She heard Henry’s deep magnetic voice.

“What are you doing in my school?”

Emily was a little surprised. At this point, he should be at work.

“You have no class in the afternoon; don’t you want to go back to your company or apartment?”

“I can go back by myself...”

“I’m worried about you. Where are you? I’m coming to you.” He insisted.

Emily felt a little warm, knowing what he was worried about.

However, it was in broad daylight in school. There was nothing to worry about.

“I am in Skyler University, with Sally and Lois.”

“What are you doing at Skyler University?” He seemed to be turning the car around, and Emily heard the sound of the engine.

She said, “There is a bazaar at Skyler University. It is said that there are many luxury things that will be sold at low prices. They want to come and see if they can find any good products.”

“You are my woman, why do you need to buy luxury at that kind of place? You’ll humiliate me.”

..” Emily murmured, “That’s your money, not mine.”

“Are you blaming me for not marrying you right away, so that you can share half of my wealth?”

Henry smiled and took the special road to Skyler University.

“Okay, I will take you to City L this weekend. The marriageable age in City L is eighteen years old. If we get married directly, my money will become yours, just spend it.”

“If this is a marital fraud, won’t you lose half of your wealth?”

The corners of Emily’s lips rose unconsciously, and a slight smile occurred.

It was a bit sweet and heart-warming. It seemed that as long as she was with him, she would always be smiling inadvertently.

“I am willing to marry you. I don’t care whether you are lying to me.”

Henry’s car went directly to the door of Skyler University.

As soon as the security came to inquire, he immediately opened the school gate and let Henry in.

“You are too good at talking; I won’t talk to you anymore. You should go back to work. I will go shopping with Sally and Lois.”

“It won’t make any difference if I accompany you.”

Henry stopped the car and checked the time, “I’m at the gate of Skyler University. Just come out, I have three hours to accompany you.”

“No, you should go back to work quickly, I...”

“You just wasted a few seconds by saying that.”

He was serious, “I made an appointment with a friend in the afternoon. It is very important. I must go.”

“Then you should...”

“You wasted a few more seconds.”

“Henry!” Emily really wanted to slap him on the forehead.

But she knew his character and if he said he was waiting for her, it was definitely true.

“Well, we will come out right away.”

After hanging up, Emily walked towards Sally and Lois, who were still standing in front of the stall.

“Henry wants us to go to the gate of Skyler University now, immediately! He wants to take us out.”

When the two heard that Henry was coming, they didn’t dare to delay.

Although she liked this bag very much, Sally quickly put it down, holding Lois’s hand and left.

Henry’s time couldn’t be wasted by them. What if their salary got deducted?

However, there were really many good things here, and she wanted to buy a lot of them!

Henry’s car was indeed at the door, and he was sitting in the driving seat, waiting for them.

“Henry, in fact, you can go out with Emily. We...we can go back to the company by ourselves.”

Sally was still hesitating, and she just got a discount on the bag she wanted to buy just now.

The bag was worth ten thousand and she could get it at that prize of three thousand. That would save a lot of money!

However, when the boss made a phone call, her dream completely vanished, which was miserable.

“Emily wants to buy something and I know I’m not a good companion. You should stay with her.”

Henry didn’t explain anymore, and stepped on the accelerator.

The car left from Skyler University and went towards the big shopping mall in the center of the city.

Sally and Lois stared at Emily with resentment.

She had a rich boyfriend and she could buy anything, but they didn’t have such a rich boyfriend.

There were many things at the high-end shopping districts in the center of the city. Unfortunately, they didn’t have enough money.

When they go to the counters at the center of the city, they felt frustrated.

A bag was worth at least dozens of grams. How could they afford it?

Henry sat down at the rest area to read the newspaper. Sally was looking for Emily to complain, but when she looked up, she saw a somewhat familiar figure walking by.

As she walked, she was talking on the phone with others.

Not knowing what the other party said, the person said unhappily, “It’s the bitch Emily again! Don’t worry; I will definitely not let her succeed!”

Chapter 349 Emily Was the Real Child...

Before Henry sat down to read the newspaper, he gave Emily a card.

“Spend one million, and if you can’t, their bonus will be deducted at the end of the year.” Henry said.

Emily’s eyes were wide open. Spending one million in about an hour?

Later he would have lunch with his friends, that is to say, there was only about an hour left for them to shop.

Spending one million in about an hour? It was a waste of money!

“Is that not enough for you? Then three million or their bonus will be deducted.” Henry said expressionlessly.

Emily wanted to refute, but Lois grabbed her.

“Don’t, don’t say any more!” If this continued, it would become five million, how could they spend it?

If she didn’t spend it all, their bonus at the end of this year will really be deducted.

Although Henry seemed to be gentle, he was always a big boss.

The big boss never changed his mind.

He spoiled Emily, but that didn’t mean he would spoil Lois and Sally.

It was Lois and Sally’s bonus!

“Yes, it’s your bonus anyway, so you should do it yourself.” Emily put the card into Lois’s hands.

Lois was almost crying, she had never been so extravagant in her life.

Three million, my god! Was she dreaming?

“Where is Sally? Hurry up and let her go shopping.”

Sally would be surprised when she heard it.

But where did she go?

“Wasn’t she with us just now?” Emily looked around, but didn’t see Sally.

“Did she go to the bathroom?”

“I’ll take a look.” Time was running out, and Lois had to quickly bring her friend back.

“Emily, you should wait for me here, I will get her back.”

As Lois ran to the bathroom, she said, “By the way, you can choose what you want to buy first, and we can buy it directly when I come back, hurry up!”

... Sally was not in the bathroom.

When she heard the woman in front of her talking on the phone, she unconsciously followed her.

That woman was scolding Emily!

Getting closer, Sally finally saw clearly that it turned out to be Kate.

Who was Kate’s ally? Did they want to kill Emily?

For so many years, Kate and Wendy had always bullied Emily together, and she saw it all.

“Don’t worry. I won’t let the bitch have a chance to meet Patriarch Gale, definitely not.”

Kate quickly walked into the stairwell, afraid of being heard by others.

Sally couldn’t hear it anymore and quickly walked over, carefully following her into the stairwell.

Kate walked to the corner of the upper stairs, Sally was downstairs, and her ears were against the wall, she was listening carefully.

“My daughter, don’t worry, how can Emily know about her relationship with the Gale family? No, no, don’t worry.”

The relationship with the Gale family? What did she mean?

Sally frowned and moved a half step forward.

Kate stopped, Sally didn’t dare to go there, and so she leaned against the wall and listened.

Kate had been comforting Wendy, “Don’t be afraid. She may think your mother had a lover and gave birth to you with a man from the Gale family. How could she think that the matter is related to her dead mother?”

“...No, my daughter, don’t be afraid. If Emily really knows that she is the child of the Gale family, then we...”

Kate smiled evilly and lowered her voice, “Mom will find someone to kill that girl!”

Was her a child of the Gale family?

Didn't they say that Wendy was the child of the Gale family in the morning? Could it be that Wendy stole Emily's identity?

Things were a bit complicated, and Sally didn't react for a while.

She only continued to lie on the wall and listen carefully.

Kate obviously didn't know that someone was eavesdropping, and continued, "Don't worry, didn't we use her blood to do a DNA test with the old man? He would not doubt it."

With the results of the test as evidence, who else would be suspected?

They took the test themselves.

Kate softened her voice and said comfortingly, "Don't worry about this. If the old man wants to eat with us, then I will have a meal with him. When it's time, I will say that Emily is unwilling to come."

"Yes, yes, don't be afraid, mother will help you, everyone will help you... Emily, that girl wants to be a member of the Gale family?"

Not a chance! Not in this life, her next life or ever!"

Sally clenched her fists.

These people were really too shameless!

It turned out that the matter was related to Emily's mother who had died. It seemed that Emily's mother and a man from the Gale family gave birth to Emily.

But now, because the Gale family was too rich, they wanted to deceive them and take advantage.

They even took Emily's blood and went to do a DNA test with Mr. Gale!

How could there be such a shameless person in this world?

She must quickly tell Emily.

She was the missing child of the Gale family, Wendy was nothing!

Sally made up her mind and turned around and walked towards the stairs.

Unexpectedly, the phone rang at that time.

Sally was taken aback and hurriedly wanted to go downstairs.

Unexpectedly, after a short while, two men in black came up.

A man asked coldly, "What are you doing here?"

Sally was nowhere to be found.

They called her but she wouldn't answer.

"What's wrong? She didn't answer my calls."

Lois looked at the dark screen, "I don't know where she went."

Emily looked around. She was clearly with them just now, and in a blink of an eye, she was really missing.

How could she not even answer the phone? Was the phone lost?

But they had been here all the time and had never left. Even if Sally lost her phone, she should come back here to find them.

“What’s the matter?” Henry finally found that there was something wrong with these two guys.

He gave them the card, but why were they still wandering around here?

He put down the newspaper and walked over from the rest area, looking at Emily.

“Why?” The girl’s little face was filled with panic, “What happened?”

“Sally is gone.” In fact, it didn’t make sense for a person to vanish in such a crowded place.

Maybe there were too many people and it was too noisy, and she didn’t hear the phone ringing.

Maybe she saw something she liked and lingered in some store.

But those were not what Sally would do.

But Emily just felt flustered inexplicably, and she didn’t know why.

“What do you mean?” Henry frowned.

She was not a kid, how could she be gone?

“Anyway, I just can’t find her, she...”

Suddenly, there was a loud noise from nowhere, and then a bunch of people screamed.

“What.....”

“Abhhhh...”

Everyone didn't know what they saw, they were all surrounding something.

Emily's heart tightened, she and Lois looked at each other.

The two people's complexion changed, and they ran towards the crowd at the fastest speed...

Chapter 350 Someone Must Have Taken H...

"Ah..." Lois, who was the first to squeeze into the crowd, fell to the ground with a thud after screaming.

Emily squeezed in behind her.

The scene before her made her feel cold, her eyes turned black, and she almost fainted!

The mall was hollow, and where they were now was the guardrail on the sixth floor of the mall.

And ... In the open space in front of the counter on the first floor below, a girl fell in a pool of blood, it was clear that she had fallen downstairs!

Sally! It turned out to be Sally!

"Sally, Sally..." Emily couldn't stand still.

Henry held her in his arms and looked at Sally, who had fallen down from the building, with a gloomy expression on his face.

"Don't panic, don't panic..."

"Ambulance, call an ambulance!"

Emily pushed him away and ran to the escalator madly.

Lois got up and ran to the escalator.

Sally fell to the ground on the first floor; her blood was dripping all over the floor.

She fell down from the seventh floor. Some fence on the seventh floor was loose.

She just fell off the loose fence, but why did she go to the seventh floor, and why should she lean against the fence?

“Sally!” Emily finally rushed to the first floor and knelt down beside Sally.

But there was blood all over her body. When she fell, she hit the top of the foam at one of the counters.

However, she was still bleeding from s Emily was in a hurry to get the phone, but her hands were shaking so badly that there was no way to take the phone out.

“Don’t panic. The call has already been made and the ambulance will be here soon.”

Henry gave her a hand, “Don’t disturb her, it will aggravate her injury.”

“How could this happen, how could this happen...” Emily stretched out her hand, trying to hug Sally, but she didn’t dare to.

She was badly injured, she didn’t even know if Sally was still alive.

The sound of ambulances and police cars came from outside, and soon doctors and nurses broke in.

“Doctor, please save her, doctor. Save her!”

Lois almost knelt down to the doctor, “Doctor, save her!”

The doctors and nurses hurriedly checked Sally, and after a simple check, they immediately gave her oxygen and prepared a stretcher!

Emily breathed a sigh of relief, it seemed that Sally was still alive, she was still alive!

“The situation is not optimistic; the injured will be in danger at any time.”

The doctor asked the nurse to treat the patient’s injury and prepare to carry her on a stretcher, while asking, “Where are the patient’s family?”

“I am! I am her friend!” Emily immediately got up, “I will go with you.”

“So am I!” Lois also said with a trembling voice.

“Only one family member can accompany, and the others go to the hospital by themselves.”

The situation was too critical, and the doctor couldn’t tell them too much. Now, saving her life was the most important.

“I’m going!” Emily immediately followed.

I...” Lois’s tears rolled down. She wanted to go, to stay with Sally!

“I’ll take you.” After watching Emily following the ambulance, Henry immediately grabbed Lois by the back collar, “Go!”

Lois was like a little chicken, being carried by Henry to the parking garage.

Henry’s expression was cold and he stepped on the accelerator.

The guardrail on the seventh floor was notched. If someone accidentally walked there, it was not impossible to fall off.

However, Sally had no reason to go there.

What's more, she was with Emily and Lois, and there was no reason to go to the seventh floor alone.

Many shops were not open at all today because of they had to prepare for the event on the seventh floor.

The most expensive luxury stores were also on the sixth floor. Sally was here to buy things. What did Sally go up there?

Sally didn't go up by herself. It must be someone who took her up!

After arriving at the hospital, seeing Lois stumbled out of the car and ran to the emergency room, Henry took out his cell phone and dialed a number.

"I need the surveillance on the sixth and seventh floors of Gene Mall immediately."

"Yes, Master!"

After more than an hour, Terry and Joe arrived in a hurry after receiving the news.

After more than half an hour, Aryan and Rufus also came.

After that, two people from the Cox family came, Sally's father and his current wife.

Mrs. Cox had originally looked impatient, and she cursed when she came, "Your daughter is a troublemaker, and makes trouble all day long!"

"Sally slipped and injured this time, and she didn't mean it."

Mr. Cox wanted to explain for his daughter, but in front of this wife, he did not dare to raise his voice.

Mrs. Cox angrily said sternly, "If she didn't run around on her own, how could she stumble and fall? I don't know how much medical expenses will be spent in such a trouble now!"

"Blair Cox, let me tell you, our family doesn't have much money. If she is going to be hospitalized in the ICU for more than a month, you will have to pay the money yourself!"

"Rosalie, all our money is in your hands, how can I pay it?"

When Emily came out of the bathroom, she happened to hear the conversation between the two walking in the corridor ahead.

Her heart suddenly became cold.

No wonder Sally didn't like to go home. It turned out that this home was really not warm at all.

She leaned on the wall, her legs were still weak, she could only lean against the wall and walk back slowly.

Blair and Rosalie did not expect that they would meet Henry outside the door of the operating room.

They just met Henry at an important banquet, and Henry didn't even know them.

But knowing that Henry was also waiting for Sally, they immediately got excited.

"Mr. Henry, I didn't expect to see it here, I'm so lucky to be here!"

Blair went over immediately, with a smile on his face, and reached out to Henry.

Henry frowned lightly, feeling a little impatient.

Blair hurriedly introduced, "I am Sally's father. This is my wife, Rosalie. We met at the charity banquet last month."

Henry was not in the mood to reply. Blair's daughter was still in the emergency room now, and her condition was uncertain, while the father fawned upon someone else.

Such parents were really cold-blood.

"Uh, Mr. Henry..." Blair's hand stretched out in the air, but Henry ignored it.

For a while, the atmosphere was a bit awkward.

Seeing this, Rosalie knocked his hand off and looked at Henry with a smile, "Henry, did you bring our Sally here? Thank you very much."

"Mr. Henry, have you eaten yet? Or, let's have a meal together..."

Suddenly Henry moved forward, he walked passed them, and walked in front of Emily.

"Are you OK? I'll help you go to rest."

Emily did not refuse, she was not uncomfortable, but after Sally's accident, her body seemed to be completely drained of energy.

Now, even walking felt difficult.

She could only let Henry support her and walked to the rest area to sit down.

Rosalie quietly pushed Blair, "This girl...is that Sally's classmate Emily? Isn't she the fiancée of Hunter? Why is she with Henry?"
