

Nothing To Give But My Heart Chapter 113

“Assistant Shen, is President Ye’s bed comfy?”

One of them who was well-dressed with thick makeup tucked her hair behind her ear as she looked at Shen Qi contemptuously.

When Shen Qi heard this, her face instantly turned pale.

“What do you mean by this?”

“Well, my meaning is quite literal. Did you rely on this aspect to be his assistant?” The woman snorted coldly. “I thought you were just taking the back door, but I didn’t expect that you have such a big back door.”

“Oh, Qiang Wei, this is no longer taking the backdoor. Those who walk through the back door at least have a prominent background. Just look at her—she has neither the figure nor the looks. This is not taking the backdoor. Look, she still needs to come to the cafeteria for a meal. She merely got out from President Ye’s car, yet she really thought she had hooked up with him. How shameless!”

Shen Qi’s lips turned pale, and her hand that was holding the chopsticks tightened silently.

“Tell us some of the tricks you used to seduce President Ye, who has erectile dysfunction. How did you lure him?”

Shen Qi asked, “What did you just say?”

“We’re asking you for some tips. We also want to be his assistant, so we’re asking you for some tips.”

Shen Qi only felt angry when they insulted her. But now that they insulted Ye Moxuan by saying he was disabled and had erectile dysfunction, she was so angry that her facial features were distorted, and she put down her chopsticks with a loud bang.

“Who did you say is disabled and has erectile dysfunction?”

Shen Qi’s sudden fierceness had scared them. They looked at her in a daze for a long while before returning to their senses and sneered, “Don’t you know who is disabled and has erectile dysfunction? Why do you have to ask knowingly?”

“Oh, look at her. She’s now a famous person next to President Ye. You have to be polite.”

“Who am I afraid of? Isn’t she just a mistress?”

Disabled, erectile dysfunction, mistress—after hearing these unbearable words, Shen Qi couldn’t tolerate it anymore and glared at the people in front of her coldly.

“I didn’t expect you guys to stoop so low.”

“What? If you dare to do things like this, why are you afraid of us talking about it?” One of the women thought that Shen Qi was an eyesore, so she directly grabbed a cup of hot soup and splashed it at her.

The woman was initially seated, and her speed was too fast. When Shen Qi stood up, she didn't expect that the woman would suddenly make such a move, but she unconsciously tilted her shoulder when she saw her splashing the soup at her.

But the hot soup still splashed directly on Shen Qi's shoulders and back.

Arghh!

The soup was served not long ago. After splashing down on Shen Qi's shoulders, it instantly scalded her fair skin. In addition, it made her clothes wet and stick to her skin, which made it more serious.

"Hmph! Who do you think you are?"

"Do you even know who we are?"

Shen Qi clutched her shoulders while biting her lower lip in anger.

The wound that hadn't recovered had been opened again. She glared at the woman who splashed the soup on her.

Do you think that I'm an easy target?

Without even thinking about it, Shen Qi picked up her plate and threw it toward the three people, who were opposite her.

"Ahhhh!"

"What are you doing?"

The three women screamed out loud in the canteen, making everyone in the cafeteria look at the source of the sound.

Shen Qi had just got her food and soup. When she threw the plate over, all the oily food and soup spilled on the three of them without any exception.

It was heading toward the woman in the middle, who splashed the soup on Shen Qi.

The food landed on her head and dripped down from her hair onto her face.

"Ah! You bitch!"

Screaming, they rushed toward Shen Qi and grabbed her hair. Shen Qi also grabbed onto the hair of one of them with great strength without backing off, making her wail and howl in pain.

"It hurts. Get her hands off me now!"

"Let go of Qiang Wei, you bitch!"

Someone came and grabbed Shen Qi's hand, making her feel a tinge of pain, but she couldn't let go. Once she let them go, she knew that the three people opposite would rush toward her like crazy. When that happened, it would not be her hand that was being attacked.

This scene created a commotion in the cafeteria. Though many wanted to solve the dispute, after looking at how fierce the four women fought, they did not manage to break them up.

Some of them merely stood by and watched the show.

“What are you doing?”

A loud voice rang, questioning them anxiously.

Shen Qi was pulled away, followed by the other three women.

The three of them looked disheveled, and they obviously looked much worse than Shen Qi.

The person who arrived was Ye Linhan. Though he was always kind and gentlemanly, he couldn't help frowning when he saw Shen Qi's appearance. He asked angrily, “What the hell is going on? Why are you fighting?”

Shen Qi stretched out her hand and wiped the blood from the corner of her lips, but she did not speak.

Su, who was supporting Qiang Wei, suddenly stepped forward and pointed at Shen Qi.

“Vice President Ye, Assistant Shen suddenly spilled her food on us. We were so angry that we had a fight with her!”

Hearing that, Ye Linhan glanced at her. “Is that so?”

Su was shocked by his look and took two steps back. Ye Linhan, who was always polite and had never been angry, had a piercing look at this time. There was a chill emanating from him, making him look completely different from his usual gentle self.

“V-Vice President Ye, that's right. The others can also testify for us!” Su had been with the company for a long time, so she dared to lie through her teeth.

However, when Ye Linhan looked at Shen Qi, his tone softened. “What is going on? Did they bully you?”

How could Shen Qi tell Ye Linhan what they had said?

Facing despicable and shameless people like them, she pursed her lips and did not answer, looking very stubborn yet with a firm and cold expression as she glared at the three of them, who were opposite her.

Ye Linhan felt helpless, but he quickly took off his coat and put it on her. “If you don't want to tell me, so be it. I will take you to clean up first.”

Shen Qi didn't speak, but she was supported by Ye Linhan to walk out.

“Vice President Ye, she was the one who attacked us first. Why are you siding with her?”

“Vice President Ye!”

Ye Linhan took Shen Qi to his lounge. “There is a bathroom here, so go ahead and clean yourself up. I will ask my assistant to prepare some clothes for you.”

Shen Qi stood there stonily, making Ye Linhan frown when he saw her this way. “What's the matter? Are you hurt?”

With that, he reached out to touch her.

Shen Qi lowered her head. Seeing the filth on her body, she was startled and took two steps back.

“Don’t touch me. My clothes are filthy.”

Although she was only splashed with soup initially, when she was fighting with them later, many other things also stuck onto her clothes, making her look like she had come out of a garbage dump.

Ye Linhan was such a clean and tidy man, who looked so gentlemanly and warm. How could he touch her?

Ye Linhan was stunned for a moment, but he then moved his hand forward firmly and held her shoulder. “Don’t be silly. I don’t think you are filthy. Tell me first—do you have any injuries? Should I take you to the hospital?”

Going to the hospital, looking like this?

Shen Qi replied, “I’m fine. I’ll just go in and clean up first.”
