

Nothing To Give But My Heart Chapter 119

Ye Moxuan became silent.

Is this woman a fool?

Probably yes.

Otherwise, she wouldn't be so stupid as to ask such a question at this time.

"Isn't it obvious enough?" Ye Moxuan narrowed his eyes as his thin lips moved. "Or are you too dull?"

Shen Qi's mouth fell open. What isn't obvious enough?

"Miss Second-marriage, I will only say some things once. Don't expect that I will tell you a second time," Ye Moxuan uttered coldly with a clear tone of arrogance.

Shen Qi's eyes widened in surprise. "What?"

Damn it!

Looking at her curious expression at this time, Ye Moxuan wanted to grab her to his front and spank her hard. He had already told her what he would never say, yet she didn't listen to a word he said.

Thinking of this, Ye Moxuan's lips twitched slightly, and his voice became a little cold.

"It seems that you have never regarded me as your husband."

Shen Qi said, "Please make it clear. What do you mean? I was sleeping just fine in the small bed before this, so why do you suddenly want to share a bed with me? Is it because we had—"

Before she could finish her sentence, Ye Moxuan interrupted her quite rudely, "Enough!"

His sudden anger had frightened her, and Ye Moxuan's expression was laden with hostility now.

"Don't ask if you don't know anything, you stupid woman! If you want to sleep in your tiny bed, go ask a servant to help you move it back. Do you think I want to sleep with a remarried woman like you? How humiliating! A disgrace"

Shen Qi was speechless upon hearing that.

Ye Moxuan then rolled his wheelchair away and turned around to leave the room.

After he left, the room had calmed down. Shen Qi was angered by his words, so her chest heaved furiously. It was impossible to ask a maid to help her move the small bed back, but since he thought that sleeping with her was humiliation, she would not throw away her pride to stick around him.

Fine. I'll just sleep on the floor.

Shen Qi went out to ask the maid for two more blankets. As the floor was already very clean, she directly spread the blankets on the ground and moved her pillows and other stuff back.

All of a sudden, two of the four-piece bedding on the bed went missing, leaving only the blue sheets and a blue pillow; it looked empty and strangely deserted.

Shen Qi went to take a shower after she had settled herself down. After that, she fell asleep immediately.

Halfway through her sleep, she suddenly felt as if someone was pulling her blanket.

Still very sleepy, she unconsciously hugged the blanket close to her, but it was still taken away by someone else.

Shen Qi opened her eyes swiftly and found herself staring into a pair of cold and deep eyes.

Ye Moxuan!

"What are you doing?" Shen Qi asked aloud.

Ye Moxuan stared at her coldly. "What do you think?"

Shen Qi calmed down for a while before sitting up and tightening the blanket in her hand. "I'm sleeping just fine here. You've taken my blanket away from me, yet you asked me about that?"

Ye Moxuan snorted lightly. "Oh, is the blanket yours now?"

Shen Qi was speechless at his interrogation.

Fine, I admit I took it from Ye Moxuan's bed.

"Why don't you use your old blanket?" Shen Qi asked. "You asked the maids to clean up my previous stuff, so this blanket should be mine anyway."

She was too tired at this moment. She had become increasingly lethargic since she became pregnant. After telling Ye Moxuan that, Shen Qi didn't bother to reason with him anymore. She then pulled the blanket to her and said, "Your previous blanket is in the cabinet. Please take it yourself. I'm going to sleep now."

After speaking, Shen Qi lay back onto the floor and put the blanket back on herself.

Shen Qi didn't pay attention to what Ye Moxuan's expression was. She only knew that she fell asleep again not long after lying down.

In the middle of the night, Shen Qi suddenly felt quite warm, as if there was something warm on her back that was emitting a steady stream of heat, continuously transferring heat to her skin through her thin pajamas.

Shen Qi's body temperature gradually rose. Hence, she frowned and couldn't help kicking the blanket.

Finally, she felt more comfortable.

A minute later, the blanket returned to her body.

Shen Qi continued to kick it away. However, within a few seconds, the blanket covered her again.

It was simply too warm for her. When she was asleep, she was like a wilful child, so she tossed around and felt the heat in her back disappear, but the temperature in front of her rose.

Shen Qi opened her eyes in a daze and met a pair of icy, lazy eyes—just like that, she looked into Ye Moxuan's dark eyes without warning.

His eyes were captivating and beautiful, as if there were brilliant stars in them.

Shen Qi stared blankly at him for a long time. She blinked and couldn't help stretching out her hand to touch Ye Moxuan's face. When her fingertips were about to touch him, sleepiness swept through her again as she closed her eyes, and she almost fell back to sleep.

Along with the sleepiness, there was also a warm breath in front of her before she felt something soft touching her lips.

Reflexively, Shen Qi retreated, trying to avoid it. However, the soft sensation was dissatisfied and moved forward to her, pressing hard against her soft lips.

Since Shen Qi couldn't escape from it, she didn't bother to take note of it anymore and continued to sleep.

After sleeping for around two seconds, the softness on her lips started moving. It licked her lips, as if it was savoring her like a dessert.

It was licking her, biting her, prying her lips open.

Shen Qi let out a slight moan. Under the offensive 'attack', she loosened her teeth, allowing the tongue to penetrate her, as if the enemy had broken through the barriers, then it attacked every spot in her mouth.

"Hmm." Shen Qi's sleepy moan penetrated Ye Moxuan's ears like a magic spell. The sound made a warm feeling rise in his abdomen, and his big hands slowly touched her back.

As the kiss gradually deepened, Ye Moxuan could almost hear his heartbeat in the silent night.

Thump!

Thump!

Each heartbeat was like fireworks blooming in the silent night.

Although it was far apart, the sound seemed to hit his soul with every single beat.

"Hmm..." His need was overbearing, making Shen Qi unable to sleep well. Her brows were knitted together into a tight frown, and her little hand tried to push him away unconsciously.

Ye Moxuan grabbed her wrist, and his tall body simply turned over and pressed directly onto her.

At this moment, Shen Qi really realized that something was wrong as she slowly woke up from her dream.

The moment she opened her eyes, everything was pitch black in front of her, but she could clearly feel a strong man pressing against her, and the man's lips were on hers.

For nearly ten seconds, Shen Qi was stunned before she suddenly reacted to what was happening. Her beautiful eyes widened in the dark, and her petite body struggled vigorously in Ye Moxuan's arms.

"Let go of me... Uhh..."

Ye Moxuan sucked her lips and smiled. "Heh, it's too late to realize it now."

With Ye Moxuan's voice, Shen Qi's body froze. Unexpectedly, she bit Ye Moxuan's lip forcefully.

Hiss!

Ye Moxuan's sharp inhalation could be heard coming from the darkness. Shen Qi secretly cursed in her mind that he deserved it, and then she pushed his tall body away.
