

Nothing To Give But My Heart Chapter 149

With that, Ye Moxuan's hand rudely tore off the pajamas she had just put on.

"Ah!" Shen Qi exclaimed, and her petite body trembled with fear, being in his arms. Seeing Ye Moxuan's hands start to roam over her body again, she thought of the incident she had experienced this morning. Right now, certain body parts of hers were still aching.

If he does the same thing like he did this morning...

"N-No!" Shen Qi grabbed his wandering hand, almost on the verge of tears. "Don't do this to me!"

If he wanted to do the same thing as he did this morning, Shen Qi couldn't guarantee that her baby would be safe.

Her intense reaction had left Ye Moxuan stunned for a while. Then, he increased the strength in his hand as he groped her. His eyes suddenly turned cold. "What's wrong? Are you afraid to let me check because you've done something bad?"

Shen Qi choked up and screamed, "Ye Moxuan, I went to the hospital for an examination this morning!"

Hearing that, Ye Moxuan raised his eyebrows.

"I can't sleep with you anymore, or else I might lose my baby."

In the end, Shen Qi came clean, hoping that Ye Moxuan would show her mercy..

When Ye Moxuan, who already had a cold expression, heard the word 'baby,' he suddenly glared at her scathingly and tightened his grip on her as he gritted his teeth. "How dare you mention the baby in front of me? It's just an illegitimate child. I'm even thinking about asking you to have an abortion. Do you think I will save it?"

Slash!

Shen Qi's pajamas were torn off by him.

A trace of despair flashed across Shen Qi's eyes, and she tugged at Ye Moxuan's sleeves. "No, you've promised me that I can keep the baby before this."

Her eyes were already brimming with tears. At that moment, she looked up at Ye Moxuan with eyes resembling a peaceful, misty lake, but they were rimmed with red.

Ye Moxuan froze for a moment, and his heart softened a little.

Suddenly, he smirked. "Okay. Then, beg me."

Shen Qi didn't speak.

Ye Moxuan coaxed, "If you beg me, I will let you and your illegitimate child go."

Shen Qi looked at him blankly with tears still rolling down from the corners of her eyes.

"If I beg you, will you let me go?"

She didn't completely believe his words because he was quite unpredictable. She was worried that he would suddenly turn against her after she had begged him.

But if she didn't do it, she wouldn't have any chances at all. The doctor had already made it clear—if Ye Moxuan did the same thing to her again tonight, she would definitely lose her baby.

"Beg me first and we'll talk."

As expected, his orders have become different again.

Shen Qi's face became even paler under the lighting. She held Ye Moxuan's hand tightly and whispered, "Fine, I'll beg you. Spare me this time, along with the baby. Please let us go! I beg you!"

Ye Moxuan's pupils suddenly shrank.

She has actually begged me because she wanted to keep that illegitimate bastard. She didn't complain when I asked her to sort out so many documents this morning. Even though she was humiliated in front of everyone in the conference room that day, she also did not retaliate at all. However, because of that bastard she is carrying, she is willing to beg me.

Ye Moxuan sneered, "Miss Second-marriage, should I say that you are an idiot or that you are too affectionate? You're already divorced, yet you still want to keep the child of that man? Do you wish to go back to him one day?"

When he said the last sentence, Ye Moxuan's tone suddenly became stern with a touch of anger that ignited the atmosphere around them.

He is mentioning Lin Jiang again.

Shen Qi wanted to yell at Ye Moxuan that the child in her belly had nothing to do with Lin Jiang.

However, at that moment, she remembered Han Xueyou's words again.

The suit belongs to Ye Linhan, Ye Moxuan's eldest brother.

Perhaps the baby in my belly is also Ye Linhan's child?

Shen Qi lowered her eyes to think this through, but Ye Moxuan thought that she didn't reply because his assumptions were right. The humiliated expression on her face made him even angrier.

"For a man like that, you can actually do such a thing. Pfft!"

Ye Moxuan let go of her quickly with an disgusted expression on his face. His tone became even colder as he said, "Your face disgusts me. Go away."

Although those words pierced her heart, Shen Qi was relieved.

After all, he decided to let her go. The baby in her belly was safe for now.

Hence, Shen Qi staggered backward and pressed her hands on the corner of the table to support herself. Then, she steadily walked back to her spot.

Ye Moxuan's gaze was staring at her back fiercely like a falcon. His gaze was as sharp as a knife, and he looked away after a while.

Shen Qi hid in her own blanket with her body and lips still shaking.

It took a long time for her to calm down, and she found that her hands and feet were cold.

Fortunately, she had escaped this round.

Shen Qi closed her eyes, hoping that she would fall asleep soon, but the entire night felt so muddled to her. Even in her dreams, she heard the words that Han Xueyou had just told her, and Ye Linhan's face appeared.

Furthermore, she also dreamed about the heavy gasps of that man that she had heard that rainy night.

Suddenly, Shen Qi jolted out of her sleep and opened her eyes; she saw that the room was bright.

She took a look at her phone and found that it was already morning.

It turned out that the night had passed.

Shen Qi made her bed and got up. After realizing that Ye Moxuan was still sleeping, she quickly packed up her stuff and went downstairs. After all, she couldn't sleep anymore, so it was better for her to go to the company first.

However, Shen Qi didn't expect that she would encounter Ye Linhan when she went out early.

"Shen Qi, why are you up so early?"

When Ye Linhan saw her, he still greeted her warmly like a gentleman.

When Shen Qi saw Ye Linhan this time, she had different emotions and feelings surging inside her.

Before this, when she saw him, she was only thinking about keeping her distance from him so that she would not cause him trouble; however, seeing him now, Shen Qi recalled what Han Xueyou had told her. She looked at the gentle man who was smiling at her, but she still felt that he and the man that night did not match up at all.

How is it possible that they are the same person?

Could it be that Xueyou's brother has made a mistake? Perhaps I have even misheard what Xueyou said yesterday night.

When Ye Linhan saw that she didn't look too good and dazedly stared at him while standing still, he asked, "Shen Qi, what's the matter? What are you thinking about?"

Hearing that, Shen Qi finally came to her senses and quickly lowered her head to recollect herself.

"I'm sorry, Linhan. I didn't sleep well last night, so my brain is still a little hazy."

When he heard her explanation, he nodded. "I see. No wonder you don't look good, and your dark circles look quite severe."

Shen Qi smiled awkwardly.

"So, have you had breakfast?" Ye Linhan glanced to the kitchen and smiled gently. "It's still early now, so perhaps the maids haven't prepared breakfast."

Shen Qi shook her head. "No, but I am not hungry either."

"I'll take you to a breakfast spot."

Shen Qi didn't reply to him.

"Let's go. It's near our company, and they serve good breakfast."

Shen Qi wanted to refuse him in the beginning, but after thinking about her own affairs, she decided to accept Ye Linhan's invitation.

After all, Han Xueyou had told her that. She had to find out whether that was the truth.

"Sure."

Shen Qi nodded, completely forgetting what Ye Moxuan had told her.