

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 301-306

Chapter 301

“He hasn’t come yet. Sit down first. The restaurant is just now. Let’s order food first.”

Jessica greeted her to sit down by her side. Ana had to sit down and glanced at the time at 6:30. There is still an hour and a half before 8 o’clock. Should this be enough time?

Seeing her appearance, Jessica couldn’t help but ask: “Are you in a hurry? Anything else?”

Ana told Jessica what happened in the future.

“Why don’t you tell me? If you know, just let you go first. Just have me here.”

“Why is it useless? Or you go change your skirt now and go straight back? Or it will affect the relationship between your husband and wife.”

“It’s okay. I told him that I will rush over. The banquet will officially start at 8 o’clock. I will accompany you here until 7 o’clock. I have time to go back.”

Hearing what she said, Jessica was relieved, “Well, let’s order first. The night veteran said he will be there in ten minutes. Let’s order anything.”

“Okay.” Ana nodded and ordered two dishes with Jessica. In fact, she didn’t have any thoughts anymore. She was a little anxious at first, but now all her thoughts are on Walter’s body. Things are not so concerned anymore.

What Walter said before she left the house impressed her very much.

Ten minutes later, Curtis finally came. He seemed to have dressed up specially. He actually wore a white suit with an exceptionally neat bow tie. Once he appeared in the restaurant, he attracted the attention of many women.

Then Ana and Jessica heard the discussion from the women at the next table.

“Who is this man? So handsome.”

“Don’t look at it, this kind of high-quality man has a girlfriend at first sight, and it won’t be ours no matter how much it looks.

“Hey, which of the two next to him is his girlfriend?”

“It should be that looks younger, looks youthful and beautiful.”

“Stupid, it must be the one in the blue dress. The two have the same temperament. Are you right?”

Ana: “...”

These gossips can even hate this, if she can, she would like to say something, none of them is Curtis’s girlfriend.

Jessica whispered to her ear: “Are those people talking about others who don’t know how to keep quiet? This is all coming to us.”

Yes, they have all been heard here, Curtis Ye must have heard it too.

Curtis was sitting opposite them, his gaze quickly passed Jessica and fell on Ana's face: "Sorry, there is a traffic jam on the road, so I'm late."

"It's okay." Jessica hurriedly waved her hand with a smile, and Ana was still calm.

The next table began to discuss again.

"Look, the little girl beckoned to the boy, I just said she is his girlfriend?"

"Are you an idiot? The guy is obviously looking at the girl in the blue dress, and what kind of relationship is he actually beckoning. If it's a boyfriend or girlfriend, you don't need to be like that? There is a tacit understanding."

Ana can only assume that he has not heard it. After all, her mouth is on someone else and she can't control it.

The two were silent for a while, and Ana suddenly said: "Brother, what's the result of the investigation? Has it come out?"

Curtis looked at her, his eyes focused and gentle, and his voice was soft and authentic: "It's all here. Let's talk about it after dinner."

"But..." Ana was a little worried. As soon as she said the words, she felt Jessica's hand tugged her under the table. She glanced at Jessica and realized that she was a little anxious. The other party was here to help her. It's not because she owes her. Since she still has time, she can wait a little longer. After all, someone came here in a traffic jam, and she must have not eaten yet.

Let's talk about it after eating with him.

Ana didn't say anything, and accompanied the two of them to dinner quietly, and the neighboring table occasionally talked about it.

Curtis Ye suddenly reached out and put a piece of meat into her bowl. Ana was taken aback. Before she could react, she heard an exclamation from the neighboring table: "I said I didn't guess wrong, right? The boy gave that Lan The girl in the skirt pick up food, they are really boy and girl friends."

Another voice said with dissatisfaction: "Who said that picking vegetables is a boyfriend and girlfriend? Maybe it is a way of hospitality."

"You really know how to use it!"

Ana looked at the fleshy flesh in front of her, and the thoughts in her heart were a bit evil. She always felt that Curtis Ye was deliberately trying to verify what they were saying. He also clearly heard the conversation at the neighboring table. on purpose.

Although Ana knew that she was thinking too much in this way, she subconsciously felt that... he did this deliberately to make people misunderstand.

So Ana didn't move the chopsticks anymore and only ate the meat in front of her.

Curtis didn't feel embarrassed either, he was still calm, and Ana ignored what the neighboring table was talking about.

After a few people had eaten quietly, Jessica checked the time, got up in a hurry for her, and then asked, "Vice President, how is the matter I asked you to investigate?"

Curtis raised his hand and glanced at Time, and his eyes fell on Ana's face. She seemed to be very anxious. She has been anxious since she came in.

The reason, she can probably guess.

Thinking of this, Curtis smiled slightly and whispered: "Don't worry, the survey results have already come out, but before I came, my secretary was doing the sorting for me, so you might have to wait a while, why? You still have things to do at night? "

Hearing, Jessica's expression changed, she looked at Ana embarrassedly, before she opened her mouth, Ana said: "It's nothing urgent, but it's not too early, we don't want to trouble Big Brother so late."

"It's okay, I'm off work, and the evening is my free time." Curtis Ye said again. After he said something, he said, "By the way, if it's too late and it's not safe, I'll send you back." "

Jessica: "...Vice President Ye, Ana is far away from here. If you know the result, let us know first?"

"This matter is very complicated, and it is probably a bit difficult to relay it verbally, anyway... I'll wait until my secretary arrives."

"Then... let Ana leave, and I will wait here for her?"

Having said that, Curtis probably understood. He looked at Ana: "Are you going to have something tonight

He asked so, and Ana didn't deny it anymore, and nodded directly: "Well, I have something to do at eight o'clock, so... I'm sorry."

"Eight o'clock?" Curtis Ye thoughtfully, suddenly thought of something: "Did you mean to attend a banquet?"

Ana was a little surprised: "Big brother knows?"

“It’s a coincidence. I was invited to the party too. If you don’t tell me, I forgot...”

“Wow! Then can you stay together for a while?”

Speaking of this, Jessica was also excited. If this is the case, then I am not afraid of delaying time, because the two of them have to rush over to attend the banquet at the same time, and that night Curtis should not delay time.

Chapter 302

Jessica was excited, but Ana was still worried.

She didn’t want to go with Curtis Ye. Walter had already misunderstood her and Curtis Ye. If she went to the banquet with Curtis Ye again, it would be nice if she hadn’t been seen, but if she was caught. Then Walter guessed... he would misunderstand her again.

Thinking of this, Ana was even more unhappy.

Curtis said: “I know what you are worried about. We will leave as soon as we get the information. I will send you there by the way. You can also see the information my secretary has compiled for you on the way. And I will be there. Find a safe place to put you down before you arrive, and you will never let others misunderstand you.”

Ana: “...”

She looked up at Curtis Ye in surprise, feeling extremely guilty for a moment.

What she was thinking here was that Walter was afraid of misunderstanding her, so she wanted to refuse to go with Curtis.

But I didn't expect Curtis to think about everything for her, and also guessed her thoughts, she really...

For a moment, Ana blushed, but she was ashamed.

In front of Curtis, there were many times when she felt that she was particularly guilty.

"So, are you at ease?" Curtis Ye asked aloud.

Ana suddenly couldn't speak, she bit her lower lip and lowered her eyes, and did not answer Curtis Ye's words.

Jessica probably sensed her emotions and hurriedly spoke for Ana: "Then I will thank the vice president for the night for Ana. The night vice president is really nice and considers the family very much."

Curtis glanced at her and took it back indifferently.

That family member made him feel unhappy.

He didn't want to be Ana's family, if he was a family... it would also be another kind of "family", not the one in front of him.

He pursed his thin lips, then glanced at the time on his watch: "It should be very soon, there is still time, don't worry."

"Hmm."

After waiting for about half an hour, Curtis's secretary finally came. When she walked in front of Curtis, she smiled at Ana. Ana met her, and she ran to her own when she was transferred. Always persuade herself at work.

When we meet now, she just feels embarrassed.

“I’m really sorry, I have kept you waiting for a long time. There is a lot of information, so it takes a long time to organize. You two won’t mind?”

“No, thank you.” Ana got up and smiled to her.

The secretary’s gaze fell on her face. Don’t take a few more deliberate glances, and then wink mischievously: “Since the information has been sent, I won’t bother a few of you, night veteran, I’ll go back, My mother is still waiting for me to eat.”

“Well, be careful on the way, go.”

After the secretary left, Ana couldn’t help but said: “This time the matter has troubled the eldest brother and the secretary, thank you very much.”

“If you are thankful, don’t say more. The box on the table is your dress, right? If you want to go to the banquet, you will have to dress up. Get the information first, and then let’s set off now.”

After that, Curtis Ye got the car key and stood up first. When Ana saw it, she couldn’t look at the materials anymore, so she could only stand up with the box with the materials.

Curtis asked them to wait at the door after he went to check out the bill. He went to pick up the car, so Ana and Jessica waited at the door.

“It’s only about seven o’clock. You still have a lot of time to get to the scene, Ana, after you get on the bus, you should remember to read the information first to see how the result is, but after you know the result, don’t act rashly. Think about things clearly before deciding what to do, you know?”

“You... won’t you come with me?” Ana asked Jessica hesitantly.

Jessica shrugged and smiled: "Of course I won't go with you. It was a banquet, and no one invited me. Wouldn't I make people laugh when I went?"

Hearing, Ana frowned her eyebrows solemnly. In the past two days, she seemed to be used to Jessica's company, if she didn't accompany her.

"Don't worry, you just need to remember my words anyway, don't be impulsive about everything, do it after you think it out clearly, can you?"

Ana could only nod her head, and then she stepped forward and hugged Jessica: "Thank you for your hard work these past two days."

"I'm actually... I've misunderstood you before and I'm sorry. After getting along with you, I found that you are a stupid person, someone stupid than me. Even if you are stupid... It's naive, but it's a bit hard to say you. It's stupid. But forget it, who told me to recognize you as a friend. So between friends, there is no need to say thanks."

"Ok."

For some reason, Ana's throat was choked.

Friend...

Sisters...

She suddenly thought of Karla Han again.

Perhaps, before the two of them fell in love with the same man, the friendship between them was real.

Only later...when they fell in love with the same man and started to compete, they couldn't be friends anymore.

“In the future...we won't turn our heads into enemies?”

Hearing, Jessica was taken aback, “Why? We will never be like you and Karla Han. Although Jessica has no abilities, she is a principled person. She will never like her. The same person, as long as I know that man is related to you, I will tell you to stay away from her, and I will never be tempted.”

What about Karla Han? Did she warn herself that way? Did she control herself at first but couldn't control it later, or said she had never warned her like this before, just followed her heart and liked her casually, and then...

“Okay, don't think too much about it. I will leave here after you get in the car. If you have anything, you can send me a text message and we will discuss it.”

After speaking, Jessica gently pushed her away, then pulled her to the side and waited for the car together.

Soon, Curtis's car drove out and stopped in front of the two of them. He was still a gentleman getting out of the car and opened the door for them. After Ana got in the car, Curtis signaled Jessica to go in.

Jessica waved her hand and said, “No, I won't get in the car. Don't you still want to rush to the banquet scene? You go quickly.”

“Send you on the way.” Curtis Ye smiled.

Jessica smiled awkwardly: “Vice President, really don't need it! My house is nearby. I'll take a taxi and will be there soon! Go ahead.”

After speaking, she stretched out her hand to push Curtis Ye, pushed him to the front of the car, then turned and ran away.

Seeing her trotting back, a frustration flashed in Curtis Ye's eyes, and then he got in the car again. He glanced at Ana in the back seat: "She doesn't want to get in the car."

Ana Shen: "It doesn't matter, let her go."

After speaking, she lowered her eyes and looked at her toes calmly.

In fact, Ana could feel it, Jessica had been deliberately avoiding Curtis Ye and Walter, she was probably afraid of that day.

Chapter 303

Or maybe it was taking care of her feelings, because after Karla Han had something like that.

Ana Shen pursed her red lips and didn't speak any more.

Moreover, she forgot to read the information.

Curtis looked at her through the rearview mirror, and asked quietly while driving the car: "You and Jessica are in a good relationship, right?"

Hearing, Ana recovered and nodded subconsciously: "Of course."

"No wonder this girl can do so much for you, she is indeed a person worthy of deep friendship."

Ana couldn't help smiling, "Yes, she is more loyal than I thought, and I didn't expect her to be so good to me."

"If you go to the banquet, you have your dress ready, right?"

“Ok.”

“But I haven’t yet. When I go to pick a suit, you will stop by and put on makeup, and then we will leave on time. I have already calculated the time. You don’t have to worry about being late.”

It was arranged again, and Ana didn’t seem to have any other reaction besides nodding obediently.

In her hand was the dress box and the thick pile of materials, which contained investigations about Karla Han.

She should have opened it when she got in the car, but she didn’t know why, she didn’t even have the thought of opening the document.

After walking quietly like this for a long time, Curtis Ye seemed to be aware of something, and suddenly asked: “Will you not open it?”

Hearing that, Ana was taken aback, then smiled lightly: “Don’t worry.”

Curtis’s eyes were slightly drunk: “I thought you were in a hurry when I saw you eating. It turns out...that’s not what you care about?”

Why don’t you care?

Ana squeezed the information in her hand. She was originally concerned about it, but the look in Walter’s eyes when she went out made her worry about it until now...

It seems that it is the feeling that two things are in front of you and you must choose one of them, and you will know which one is more important to you at a glance.

Whether the news that Walter and Karla Han are pregnant is true, to her...her heart has already chosen the former by default.

Jessica kept saying that she was not brave, because she had been hurt before, so she had a shadow on her marriage, for fear of being betrayed again. If she was willing to believe in Walter wholeheartedly, such a thing would not happen.

Then if she...want to believe it now, is there still time?

Thinking of this, Ana quickly took out her mobile phone to text Jessica.

Jessica should have gotten in the car too, and the news came back quickly.

When reading the content of the message clearly, Ana Shen's nose sore, and she almost cried.

She had to hurriedly stretch out her hand to cover her mouth, there were faint tears in her lonely eyes, but she was also full of smiles.

"Just follow your heart. If you are willing to choose to believe it, that means you have bravely faced your feelings. I am very happy for you. And Ana, no matter which choice you make, I will always stand. You're here, so go ahead!"

Well, she has to face her feelings and face it bravely.

There are two consequences of desperate betting. The worst is just returning to the original place. There is nothing she can't afford to lose.

Ana smiled and wiped away the tears from the corners of her eyes, then put the heavy data into the bag, and destroyed it when she returned.

Curtis also noticed her movements. At that moment he was a little disappointed, and his heart was empty. After a while, he smiled bitterly: "It seems that you really like him."

Here, as soon as Ana Shen put the information in, she paused when she heard his words. After a while, she nodded, "Well, it is true."

There is nothing bad to admit.

Curtis said nothing, the car fell into a weird silence, until reaching the destination, and Curtis took her to make-up, and then went to choose his clothes.

Ana told Makeup Niang that she was in a hurry, so she asked her to put on make-up quickly. Makeup Niang said that she would wrap it all on her body, so she changed her dress and put on makeup.

During the makeup process, she could feel that the makeup girl was very skilled and fast, but she still felt it took a long time.

Until Curtis's voice rang outside, the makeup girl's hand was also retracted at the same time.

"Well, miss, you are so beautiful~"

Ana recovered and looked at herself in the mirror. It turned out that the makeup had been applied.

But she didn't have the mind to take a closer look, and after hurriedly thanking her, she got up and walked out.

Curtis Ye waited outside, and when she saw her coming out, a flash of surprise flashed in her eyes.

The dress Walter prepared for her was pale silver, which was completely different from the style she had worn in the past. The silver light set off her originally white skin to be particularly dazzling, plus the makeup, the whole person Like a princess walking out of the painting.

At that moment, Curtis Ye had an illusion when the light hit Ana's body.

This person is like a natural princess. She should have been born and lived among the nobles, loved and flattered by everyone.

However, her family did not expect her to have such a temperament, which is really rare.

After walking two steps, Ana Shen's steps suddenly staggered and almost fell forward.

Curtis's expression changed, and he quickly stepped forward to support her: "Are you okay?"

Ana was shocked and shook her head: "I'm fine."

The few people on the side were also pale with fright, but they were relieved to see her being held back. Fortunately.

"It's okay." Curtis Ye let go of her hand and let her stand firmly again: "Since everything is done, let's go."

"Ok."

Ana walked out with Curtis Ye and got in the car again.

When he walked to the car, Curtis suddenly thought of something, unbuttoned his suit and took off his suit: "Put it on, it's windy at night, your dress is too thin."

Seeing the dress, Ana subconsciously rejected it: "Thank you, brother, but it won't be cold in the car later."

After she finished speaking, she opened the door and bent over and sat in.

Curtis's suit hand stopped in mid-air like this, and after a while he put the suit back on his body without a word.

He laughed in pain, Curtis Ye, she likes Walter so much, what are you still thinking about?

Time is getting closer and the banquet is about to begin.

At this moment, the banquet hall was extremely lively. The employees were preparing for the banquet, but there was a wheelchair standing on the second floor. Walter sat on it blankly, staring at the door downstairs with cold eyes.

That woman...hasn't appeared yet, and she hasn't called him yet.

Oh, how cruel.

Phillip, who was guarding his side, probably felt the fall of his emotions and couldn't help but say: "Mr. Walter, are you waiting for the young lady? She will definitely come, I have already sent her the address. ."

Hearing, Walter came back to his senses, his thin lips curled slightly, and sneered: "What does it matter to me whether she will come?"

Phillip: "Don't Mr. Walter expect her to come?"

Chapter 304

Walter: "Which one of your eyes saw me expecting her to come?"

Phillip: "That Mr. Walter kept looking at the gate, wasn't he waiting for the young lady?"

Originally he wanted to say that he saw it with both eyes, but thinking about it, it seemed impolite to say that, so he changed the word.

"I looked at the gate, just waiting for her? Phillip, when did you change your career to see people's hearts?"

Phillip: "...Well then, when I didn't say it."

Really, he was waiting for the young lady, but he still refused to admit it.

He really don't understand why these two people are awkward.

But... thinking of what he had investigated, Phillip's eyes became worried.

Young lady, you must come, if you don't come... I'm afraid...

Phillip didn't dare to think about it anymore.

After all, on such an important day today, Walter wanted to invite her to the banquet, and wanted to introduce her identity to everyone, so that everyone knew that Ana was his Walter's wife.

Before leaving the house, Walter asked her, but she refused.

Woman, you better come over at the beginning of the party...

Otherwise, I won't forgive you.

Walter said silently in his heart, then snorted coldly, turning the wheelchair to leave.

On Xingfu Road, Ana glanced at the time and found that it was eight o'clock in ten minutes, but they were still on the way.

"Brother, are we almost there?"

Curtis nodded: "Well, after crossing the bridge in front, you'll be there after another two hundred meters."

Great!

Ana smiled, the bridge was near, and she could see Walter immediately!

She didn't break her promise, and she could rush to the scene on time.

Seeing her anxiously, Curtis speeded up a bit, but no one thought that an accident would happen at this time.

When approaching the bridge, a small truck on the road swayed and drove over here quickly.

Ana felt something was wrong. When she looked up, the small truck was already very close to them. She was so frightened that she suddenly lost her voice, staring wide-eyed and watching the small truck hit them.

When Curtis Ye, who was driving in front, realized, he hurriedly turned the steering wheel. He was also panicked. He didn't expect this to happen. While turning the steering wheel, Curtis Ye turned his head and screamed at Ana behind him: "Ana, get down!"

Boom!! !..

Boom!

The banquet opened on time, and the opening music happened to be the sound of fireworks exploding. The guests had already begun to enter, but Walter did not see the familiar shadow from the door.

Phillip glanced at the time, "It just started right now, and it may take more than ten minutes for the guests to enter the venue."

Hearing this, Walter frowned: "Did you send her a post?"

Phillip was taken aback for a moment, and shook his head: "It doesn't seem to be there."

"Damn it, then how did she come in?"

Phillip reacted abruptly, "I see, then I'll go downstairs to pick up the young grandma." After saying that, Phillip quickly turned and went downstairs. He walked to the gate, where several welcomers were checking the please post. , Sure enough...If the young lady is here, please post it, she will definitely not get in.

Many people know Phillip, so say hello to him.

"Assistant Xiao, you came down to help."

Phillip smiled and replied: "Yes, I will come down to pick someone up by the way."

"Wow, the person who can bother Assistant Xiao to pick her up in person must be some important person, I don't know if I can disclose it, hehe..."

“Hurry in, the banquet has already begun.” Phillip wouldn’t tell him, after all, the young lady wanted Mr. Walter to introduce her personally. What is he saying now?

Phillip’s gaze searched in the crowd behind him. There were a lot of jewels dressed today, but he had not seen Ana’s figure. Phillip was very anxious and didn’t know whether the young lady would come?

Will she stop coming?

With this idea, Phillip quickly took out his mobile phone and called the young grandma.

So Phillip called Ana directly.

“Hello, the number you dialed is temporarily out of service area.”

The official cold female voice repeated this sentence over and over again, and Phillip’s expression immediately changed. What’s the matter? Is it possible that the young lady won’t be here tonight?

It’s really anxious! Thinking of Walter’s poker face that almost freezes to death, Phillip feels that life is extremely desperate. If the young lady does not come, then Mr. Walter’s mood today... and the future! That’s it!

Phillip was too anxious, or he would look for it by himself, even if she didn’t want to come, he would have to find the young lady.

Thinking of this, Phillip put away his phone and walked outside, but was stopped by someone: “Assistant Xiao, are you going to go out? It’s not okay to go out at this time.”

Phillip was annoying in his heart, and couldn’t help but frown, “What do you mean?”

“Then there was a car accident on the bridge. The driver of a small truck drunk driving and smashed the guardrails of the bridge. It’s a crime. What kind of car was driving after drinking? Now the car can’t go there. The police controlled the scene. “

“Is that so?” Phillip’s frowning brows became more serious. If the guardrail is broken, the scene will be controlled and can’t be passed. Will the young lady be blocked at that end?

With this thought, I returned to the second floor, and just walked to Walter’s side, Phillip was about to tell Walter about this, but he heard his cold voice: “Isn’t you coming?”

“Mr. Walter, something is out...”

“If you don’t come, let her go.”

When the words fell, Walter turned and left the second floor. Phillip’s expression changed and he hurried to catch up: “Mr. Walter, maybe the second grandma is still on the way, she told me that she will come before leaving the villa. Young grandma is not like the kind of person who breaks her promise.”

“Really? Where is she now? Why don’t people who can’t break their promises see people?”

Phillip: “This...”

He couldn’t say a word. In fact, he could understand Walter’s feelings. After all, after knowing those things, he still gave him a choice, but the young lady actually chose another path.

It has been ten minutes since the banquet, the young lady still did not show up, no wonder Young Master Ye was angry.

No way, he is still busy right now, Phillip had to follow Walter first, as for the young lady...If she really will come, then he will take her when she appears later!

“The guardrail of the bridge at the scene was damaged. The truck ran into several cars along the way, and several injured. The investigation is still ongoing.”

When Curtis was rescued, he was already in a semi-comatose mode. He was stabbed by broken glass in many places, and his brain was probably hit, and he was still bleeding.

After he was rescued and laid flat on the ground, he still grabbed the man’s hand: “Behind...save people!”

The man froze for a moment: “You mean there are people in the back seat?”

“Correct!”

“I know, we will rescue people right away.”

Chapter 305

Ana was not badly injured, because when the truck hit him, Curtis Ye quickly turned the steering wheel to avoid the truck, but slowed down a little bit. The truck wiped the front half of the body and then directly hit the next one. The car rushed to the guardrail again, and the car fell directly into the lake. The sailor had been contacted to save people, but it was still unknown whether the people in the car were alive or dead.

But Ana got down after hearing what Curtis said, but the impact at that moment was too violent. She could not withstand the heavy impact, and she passed out suddenly, and her body was also stabbed by some glass fragments. Yes, but there are not many injuries.

When she was carried out, she was lying beside Curtis, pale.

Ye Rin had a severe fever, but she was sober. When she saw her lying next to her, she got up anxiously and wanted to check her condition. The person next to her said: "Mr., for the sake of safety. You still don't want to move, this lady seems to be fine, she just suffered a little bit of injury."

"How can you be sure that she was only slightly injured? I am so injured that I can still speak and move? Why is she unconscious if she is not injured?"

"This..." The man was speechless and choked when Curtis Ye said. He glanced at Ana. There was indeed no harm to his body, just a slight wound. It didn't seem to be a major problem, but why was he in a coma? Are you awake?

"Ana?" Curtis Ye endured the pain in his body and called Ana Shen's name.

But Ana lay on his side and didn't move, his quiet look as if this person was not breathing.

He was anxious, so he had to ask those people: "Excuse me, can you call an ambulance for me?"

The man froze for a moment, and nodded after a moment: "Sir, the ambulance is already on the way, and it will be here soon. Don't worry."

Is it already on the way? Curtis was finally relieved.

Ana, don't have any trouble!

If something happens to you, then I will be ashamed to death in my life!

The scene was very chaotic. Except for the controlled area, there were a lot of crowds watching the excitement. The police had no choice but to evacuate those crowds first. After the evacuation was over, the ambulance arrived at the scene quickly.

Curtis lasted until Ana was put on a stretcher and then carried into an ambulance. When he got inside, he held up her body and asked the doctor: “Doctor, how is she doing? Is she in danger?”

The doctor quickly checked Ana, and then threw Curtis Ye a sentence: “At present, it seems that there should be no major problem, but you yourself are so badly injured.”

After finishing speaking, he scanned the two nurses next to him: “First give him an emergency treatment.”

Hearing that Ana was in no danger, Curtis’s hanging heart finally let go, and the will that had been holding on it slowly dissipated at this time. Gradually... Curtis really couldn’t bear it. Fell asleep.

“Doctor, she passed out in a coma.”

“Don’t worry, continue to give her emergency treatment, all the wounds must be disinfected again.”

“it is good.”

The doctor turned around and looked at Ana again, thinking that these two should be a pair, or else the man would not be so worried and the woman would be so injured, but they still held a sigh of relief. Now she probably knew that she was not life-threatening, so she left her body unable to hold her back and passed out into a coma.

On the other side, the banquet was in full swing.

“Still not here?” Even though Walter said such heavy words to Phillip, his heart still hopes that the woman can suddenly appear at the gate, or in the corner, or in front of him. Tell him she is coming.

But he waited left and right, no matter where it was.

When Phillip heard his questioning, his ears were so startled, he hesitated, “I have sent someone out to wait. As long as the young lady arrives, I will report immediately.”

“What time is it?” Walter asked coldly.

Phillip glanced at the time, his face changed a little, and then whispered back: “It’s almost nine o’clock.”

“Heh.” Walter sneered: “It’s true.”

“Mr. Walter, I don’t know if I should say something.”

“Since you know it shouldn’t be said, then don’t ask.” Walter reprimanded coldly, Phillip shivered with fright, and when he reached his lips, he had to swallow again.

Hey, let’s not talk about it.

What can I say? It’s not the first time that Mr. Walter is so arrogant and awkward!

When the young lady arrives in front of him, won’t she be able to come back then? He still doesn’t worry about this.

Let nature take its course, according to Mr. Walter's arrogant temperament, as long as the young lady is willing to say a few good things to him, it will be easy to behave.

It's just that Phillip didn't expect that this time things were completely different from before.

Hospital

The injured people at the scene were sent to the doctor. Ye Rin was sent to the critically ill area because of the serious injury. Ana didn't seem to be in any serious trouble, so she was sent to the general ward. When the doctor found out that she was pregnant when he was working, the doctor immediately changed his face: "You said she was pregnant?"

"Yes,"

The doctor glanced at Ana: "Then she is still in a coma until now. It may be where she was injured. Move to the critically ill area to check the situation."

The nurse nodded, just as she was about to transfer for Ana, Ana suddenly screamed and then slowly woke up.

"Are you awake?" The nurse exclaimed and leaned over: "How are you feeling? Is there anything uncomfortable?"

"Uh." Ana only felt that her head was very heavy and a little painful, and it took a while before her eyes to regain her clarity, and then she saw the scene in front of her clearly. The doctors and nurses surrounded her with worried eyes.

"You guys..."

“Don’t talk, take a deep breath and feel it, and then tell me if you feel uncomfortable?” The doctor walked over and stood in front of the nurse and said in a low voice.

Her voice was calm and powerful, causing Ana to obey what she said and take a deep breath. After a while, she shook her head: “It seems that there is nothing uncomfortable, but...”

“Just what?”

The doctor asked nervously.

“Does it hurt?”

“It seems...the back of my head hurts a little.”

After speaking, Ana thought of the scene at the time. At that time, Curtis Ye asked her to get down, and she didn’t know what to do. In anxious situation, she could only obey his words and get down, but because of too much momentum, her body moved backward. She leaned in, and then her head probably hit the door. At that time, she was slammed with gold stars, and then she didn’t know anything.

“Oh, it should be that the impact was too great and you passed out. I will give you a check-up and deal with the skin trauma. If nothing happens, you can be discharged.”

“Okay, thank you doctor. By the way, the one with me...”

Chapter 306

“Don’t worry, he is already in the intensive care unit.”

Hearing the words in the intensive care unit, Ana’s pale face suddenly became more difficult to look like, “What did you say? The intensive care unit? Then he...”

“He has serious trauma, so he must be dealt with in time.”

Serious trauma? Ana recalled that when the car wiped the front half of the body, all the broken glass should have splashed on Curtis Ye’s body. Thinking of this scene, Ana’s face instantly turned pale with fright.

“Then he is okay? Is his life in danger? Can I go and see him?” After speaking, Ana suddenly sat up from the bed, lifted the quilt and got out of bed barefoot.

The nurse hurriedly stopped her: “Are you all right? You got out of bed so soon, you should lie down and observe it again, and do you know that you are pregnant, and you have fainted for so long, it is very dangerous.”

Ana shook her head, “I’m fine.”

The nurse still wants to persuade her, but Ana has already stepped on the floor steadily, she is still wearing that dress, her hair is messy and she looks very embarrassed, there are a little glass cut on her arm and face, don’t look at it. It’s not serious. Only one point stuck to the corner of her mouth, leaving a blood-red wound on the corner of her white lips.

“Let me treat the wound here for you.”

The nurse just wanted to deal with her, but Ana insisted: “I’m really fine, can I go and see how he is?”

After all, the two came out together, and he was so badly injured. If he hadn't let himself get down in time, he probably didn't know what the injury was going to be.

The doctor took a look at her, and finally said to the nurse: "Then you can take her over and have a look."

"Well, you come with me."

The nurse had to take Ana out of the ward, and then turned to the left. Ana walked quietly behind her, she suddenly thought of something: "By the way, where was my bag when I was injured? What about things?"

"The scene has been controlled by the police. Everything should be there. Don't worry, you will be fine later. You can go to the police station to get it."

Hearing this, Ana nodded comfortably.

"Thank you."

Soon she arrived at the place where Curtis Ye was treated. Ana saw Curtis Ye lying on the hospital bed inside through the glass window, because he was seriously injured, and the appearance of lying there with a lot of blood was shocking.

Ana was frightened and short of breath.

"Don't look at it. There is nothing good about treating wounds. If you are a pregnant woman, don't see blood often." The nurse probably felt her breathlessness and walked directly to her to block her vision, and then explained Said: "At present, there should be no major problems with that gentleman's situation. He was still sober when we arrived, and he kept telling us to check your condition first. It is true, Miss, you and that gentleman are Lover, right? He really cares about you. He was so injured and still gritted his teeth and breathed a sigh of relief. He fainted when our doctor said you were all right.”

Hearing that, Ana was a little shocked in her heart, and her white lips opened weakly, but she couldn't say a word.

What did she do...

Ana suddenly regretted it very much. If...if it weren't for her anxiety, Curtis Ye might not have driven the car so fast. There was still time, but why did she always feel that there was not enough time? It's here... but she actually asked him if it's coming soon.

She must have caused Curtis Ye to be distracted. If Curtis Ye were not distracted, she would definitely be able to see the wrong truck in advance. If she saw it in advance, it would not cause the current tragedy.

“He He...”

“It's okay, don't worry.” The nurse probably felt her sadness and comforted her with a soft voice.

Ana sniffed and whispered, “Can I wait for him to wake up here?”

“Of course you can, but... he's still treating the wound. You can go in after he finishes treating the wound.”

“Okay.” Ana nodded, and then sat down in the chair outside with the support of the nurse. She is now full of images of the truck hitting it. At that moment... it flashed before her eyes. Walter's face.

Do you think that people are about to die, so what you see is the most important thing in this life?

It's a pity...now she probably missed the banquet.

Thinking of this, Ana lowered her eyes, closing her eyes silently.

Walter probably hated her to death, and he clearly agreed, but he didn't show up.

I don't know how long I waited, the nurse suddenly ran out and said to her: "Miss, your boyfriend woke up and said he wanted to see you."

Hearing, Ana raised her head suddenly, and ignored the boyfriend the nurse said. After all, the situation is very special now, so she just got up and said, "He is awake?"

"Yes, you come with me."

Ana went into the ward with the nurse, and saw Curtis who was in a coma just now, and he was awake now.

"Big Brother!" Ana walked up to him, bit her lower lip, and couldn't help crying.

Hearing that eldest brother, Curtis's expression and movements were slightly startled. After a while, he pulled a smile away reluctantly: "It's okay if you are fine."

Ana almost bit her lower lip to bleed. He was so badly injured that he still thought of her...

In an instant, the guilt in Ana Shen's heart became stronger.

"I'm fine, but you..."

“Come here.” Curtis called her to the bed and sat down, his eyes faintly fell on the corner of her lips, he saw a red wound there, and noticed that there was a wound on her arm for a while. Distressed: “Sorry, I didn’t protect you.”

Ana Shen shook her head: “No, my eldest brother has protected me very well. I was the one who caused you burden. If my eldest brother didn’t take me into the car, things like today would definitely not happen!”

“No, all this is destined. Big brother does everything he wants. No wonder others, but you are different, you still have a chance.”

“What?” Ana was stunned and looked at him at a loss.

She didn’t understand, what he meant by chance...

Curtis’s face was terribly pale, especially when the light was shining, but he still said to her, “Ana, the banquet is not over yet, you still have time, I will clean up Click, and then send you there.”

After saying that Curtis was about to get out of bed, Ana was so scared that her soul almost flew away, she quickly got up and said: “No! Brother, you are seriously injured, you can’t move anymore.”

The little nurse on the side was also frightened: “Yes, gentleman, you are a bit badly injured and you are not suitable for getting out of bed. You have to raise it for two days!”

“It’s okay.” Curtis stood up stubbornly and reached out to wipe the blood stains on the corners of her lips: “It’s all skin injuries, I can hold it.”
