

Nothing To Give But My Heart Chapter 31

When Ye Moxuan looked up and saw her exposed chest, his eyes turned cold.

Is this woman doing this on purpose?

But seeing her innocent expression as she held the perfume bottle and leaned in front of him, it seemed like it was unintentional.

Unintentional?

Ye Moxuan snapped back to his senses abruptly. How could an unscrupulous woman who would go all lengths to marry into the Ye Family like her be doing it unintentionally? Ye Moxuan's eyes became icy cold as he asked, "Are you trying to seduce me?"

Shen Qi looked up, dumbfounded.

"What?"

Then, Ye Moxuan's gaze shifted and fell on her chest.

00:00/00:00

Shen Qi looked along his gaze and finally realized that her collar had slipped downward as she leaned forward, revealing her fair chest.

She covered her chest with the back of her hand and leaned back, her fair cheeks suddenly flushing red. Her moist lips trembled as she tried to explain herself, but she couldn't say a word in the end.

Ye Moxuan's obsidian eyes made her feel embarrassed.

When she realized what she had done just now, she just wanted to curl up in a ball and hide somewhere...

She really didn't mean to do it!

She just wanted to show him the bottle of perfume. After all, he asked her...

However, she didn't know that the collar of this dress would be so wide to the point that her chest would be revealed when she just leaned forward a bit.

Ye Moxuan's impression of her must have become even worse now.

Thinking of this, her blushing cheeks paled as she looked out the window with the bottle of perfume in her hand.

I didn't mean to do it! It wasn't intentional!!!

I wasn't trying to seduce him!

The atmosphere in the car became awkward. Through the rearview mirror, Ye Moxuan could see her face turning pale as well as the grievances in her eyes.

Grievances?

What is she sad about?

Did I wrong her?

But wasn't she trying to seduce me by showing her chest to me?

Before long, the car quickly arrived at the banquet. After getting off the car, Shen Qi moved to go forward and push his wheelchair, but he coldly refused, "I have something to do now. You go look for President Lu first."

Before leaving, Ye Moxuan glanced back at her. "Remember, don't look down or bend over, or else..."

Needless to say, his latter sentence was a threat. After what happened previously, Shen Qi certainly knew what he was referring to. Thus, she nodded embarrassedly. "I understand. Don't worry, I am not as embarrassing as you think."

As soon as she said this, Ye Moxuan's lips twitched. There was a touch of mockery in his eyes; obviously he did not believe what she said.

Shen Qi bit her lower lip and clenched her fist as she said furiously, "You have my word."

However, Ye Moxuan still looked suspicious of her as he asked Xiao Su to push him away. Thus, Shen Qi had to enter the banquet alone.

Those who came to the banquet were all important figures. When Shen Qi passed by several women, she could smell the strong perfume on their bodies and see the diamond necklaces on their necks. They were also wearing exclusive designer dresses.

She was outshone by everyone with her current appearance.

Shen Qi had never attended banquets before, so she didn't know where to find President Lu. Thus, she had no other choice but to find a place to sit down before taking out her mobile phone to search for more information about President Lu.

Just because she didn't find him now didn't mean that she won't have a chance to meet him later. Thus, it was better for her to take this opportunity to find out more about him first. Then, she would be able to cater to his fancy when she met him later on.

Sitting there and looking at her phone, Shen Qi didn't pay attention to what was happening around her.

After the music sounded, Shen Qi suddenly snapped back to her senses and realized that the banquet was already halfway through after taking another glance at his mobile phone.

Then, Shen Qi picked up the cocktail in front of her and took a few sips before getting up and searching for Ye Moxuan. However, she still didn't see him after searching for a long time.

How strange. Where did he go? Why hasn't he come back after so long?

Deep in thought, Shen Qi suddenly saw another familiar figure—it was President Lu from the Lu Group whom she had been repeatedly researching about just now.

Lu Xunchang.

One of the most well-known self-made men.

He started from nothing and now, he owned Lu Group.

Although the Lu Group was no better than Ye Group, it was still quite famous in North City.

President Luchang was a single and promiscuous man who had just turned 30. He liked to mess around with the ladies in his social circle. After they accepted him, he would dump them instantly. He also liked to compete in drinking alcohol with others; he also enjoyed playing golf and chess. The most important thing was that he liked to listen to music.

This was awkward.

Shen Qi wanted to cater to his fancy, but she found that she didn't fit in any of his interests at all.

Will it pique his interest if I go greet him as the assistant of President Ye?

Thinking of this, Shen Qi picked up the glass in front of her and decided to toast him a glass of wine first.

Avoiding the passersby, Shen Qi walked slowly to the place where President Lu was just now, only to find that he was walking outside with a woman in a blue dress.

Seeing this, Shen Qi had no choice but to quickly catch up.

Then, she followed them to the outside of the banquet hall and into a small garden where she finally saw Lu Xunchang again.

She was just about to come forward to talk to him when President Luchang suddenly held the woman in his arms and lowered down his head to kiss her.

"Mm... President Lu, what if someone sees us..."

Hearing the woman whispering coquettishly in his arms, President Luchang let out a chuckle as his big hand went straight to her back to open the zipper of her dress, making the woman moan even more coquettishly.

It had never crossed Shen Qi's mind that she would witness such a scene. She sighed inwardly, He's truly as promiscuous as rumoured. Then, she blushed and looked away.

She was afraid that they would see her, but it was not a suitable time for her to go out yet. Thus, she could only hide behind the big tree and wait. She waited until she felt bored and took a few sips of the wine.

After a long while, they were still not done although Shen Qi had already finished drinking the wine in the glass.

Shen Qi's face looked calm, but the blush on her face exposed the embarrassment in her heart. After waiting for a while, they ended hastily.

"President Lu, you must come find me tomorrow night. I will leave first."

"Don't worry, baby. You are so charming. I will definitely go to see you again tomorrow night."

The woman pestered him for a while before reluctantly leaving.

After the woman left, the smile on his face disappeared as he smoked a cigarette and slowly tidied his clothes.

After a while, he whispered, "Come out."

Hearing that, Shen Qi was taken aback as she clenched the cup tightly in her hand.

Was... I caught peeking at them?

No! I wasn't peeking! Obviously I came over and saw them accidentally before being found out. Should I go out?

"She is gone, so you can stop hiding. Or perhaps you want me to drag you out here myself?"

Lu Xunchang gave a soft chuckle, then turned around.

When Shen Qi saw that he was coming toward her, she took a step back in shock.

At this time, a cold voice sounded from another direction.

"President Lu is truly a casanova. I didn't know you like to have sex in an open area."

Xiao Su pushed Ye Moxuan out from the other side.

When Shen Qi saw him, her eyes widened subconsciously.

Why is he here? Could it be that Ye Moxuan also witnessed the live erotica just now?

Thinking of this, Shen Qi was even more embarrassed. I hope Ye Moxuan doesn't know that I'm here, otherwise...
