

Obsessed CEO Throws Himself at Me Chapter 1814

Chapter 1814 A Treat

“Vinson, I—”

“You will be dismissed from your position just like Mr. Waysea. You are free to sell your shares or keep them for yourself. There is no need for you to join the subsequent annual general meetings.”

The man knew that his fate was sealed. After Vinson disappeared, he sold the company information in secret, causing the price of the shares to drop drastically.

“I understand.” With that said, he slumped his shoulders in dejection and trudged out of the room.

After that, Vinson decisively dealt with the remaining directors before adjourning the meeting.

After Vinson returned, Nightshire Group’s share price increased bit by bit. The minority shareholders were delighted. Previously, they refused to sell their shares despite Oswald’s constant persuasion. Right now, their shares would be worth more.

Arielle stayed in Moore Group for a while and was informed about the company’s current situation. She then headed to Maureen’s Kitchen.

was packed

restaurant were all excited when they saw her secretly and photos of her. As they were her fans, come back? Why did no one

We last met her over a year ago.

receiving praises, including Arielle. After hearing their praises, food and drinks will be on the house. You are free to order anything you want. However, remember not to waste

They couldn't believe that they were getting

Arielle made the announcement, she went to the kitchen to help out. It was ten at night when she finally got off work and returned to Nightshire asleep by the time she came home. The former wasn't feeling well and slept earlier than usual. Vinson exhausted after working the whole night, and her shoulders were stiff. After taking a hot shower, she lay in bed and unlocked her phone. Aaron had sent her a text to inform her that he had returned home safely. Arielle sent him a curt acknowledgment and clicked into her social media. She wanted to stay that she was trending the moment she checked the