

Obsessed CEO Throws Himself at Me Chapter 1817

Chapter 1817 Did You Have A Fight

“Vinson, you...” Arielle huffed angrily at the sight of Vinson walking into the bathroom and tossed a pillow in his direction.

Vinson understood why Arielle wanted a child, but he dared not bear the consequences that might come with her childbirth. Without a word, he picked up the pillow and placed it aside before heading into the bathroom.

Right after he walked away, Arielle put on her clothes and went downstairs furiously. He doesn't want to have sex with me, huh? Let's see how long he can persist. I don't believe he can hold back his desire or vent it out using alternative ways!

In the living room, Susanne was reading the newspapers as she had woken up a while ago. She spotted Arielle stomping down the stairs angrily and arched a brow. Did they get into a fight?

With that thought in mind, she waved for Arielle to come over to her.

immediately composed her emotions when she saw Susanne. Joining her in the living room, she asked, “Mom, why did you wake up this that much now.” She gazed at Arielle and asked in concern, cast a surprised look in Susanne's direction. When she shook her seemed to be in a foul mood, so I thought both of you had a fight.” Susanne was relieved to learn that they were fine. However,

Arielle realized that Susanne assumed they had fought when she showed up looking all angry a while ago. Nevertheless, she wasn’t about to tell Susanne about their disagreement. After all, Susanne yearned for a grandchild and would fly know if he bullies me,” Arielle promised with her lips curled up as not been a filial daughter-in-law to her. This time, I must take good hands should be used to treat patients instead