

Obsessed CEO Throws Himself at Me Chapter 1828

Chapter 1828 Brain Tumor

"I'm listening," Susanne replied casually as she stared at Arielle's belly. I wonder when I can hold my grandchild. When she imagined a couple of children calling her Grandma in the future, her lips couldn't help but curve upward slightly.

"After you went through a checkup at the hospital yesterday, the doctor sent us a report saying that there's a tumor in your brain, Mom." Knowing that he couldn't hide the matter at all, Vinson went straight to the point.

"Oh, okay. Got it." Seeing how calm his mother appeared to be, he quickly added, "Don't worry. With Sannie around, you'll be fine."

"Worry? Why would I need to worry?" A confused expression was visible on Susanne's face as she turned to Vinson.

of relief inwardly when he saw how composed his mother was. While he was pretty certain his mother would take the news well, he was still

and do another CT or MRI scan. This way, we'll know

What's benign or malignant?" The older woman stared at the younger woman, stunned. "Are you response, Arielle spoke hesitantly. "Didn't Vinson just tell you that you got a brain tumor! Will I be able to live long enough to see my grandchild?

in a serious tone, "Don't you trust my medical skills, Mom? With me around, you'll definitely be fine. Right now, we just need to relax and focus yet. If I die before I meet them, I'll have regrets, and I won't know how to face Vinson's Susanne's head, I must make Vinson cooperate with me and conceive a child. It's not just my idea. It's Susanne's too. She's getting pretty old now, so I don't want