Chapter 56 The Most Beautiful Woman

After she applied the potion, she noticed that her face had not changed at all!

She closed her eyes painfully, and waited for so long!

She thought to herself "If this potion is useless, then she will be ugly all her life."

In the study, Henry pushed Johny to the window. He suddenly pushed him really hard causing him and the wheelchair to slam into the wall and bounce back, while Johny crashed into the wall and collapsed to the ground.

Henry frowned. "It seems that he is not pretending, but he really can't walk with his legs." He thought. Which made him prouder.

"Henry, don't be so cruel!" Johny, who collapsed to the ground, looked at his Johny resentfully.

He came over and crouched down to him saying, "So what? Do you have the ability to fight back?"

He felt great when he saw him on the ground, knowing that his Johny always looked at people like he was superior.

"In fact, it is not bad to give you to an ugly woman and also the fact that you cannot complain about what was given to you. How uncomfortable, you married an ugly woman, are you not interested in her?"

Johny glanced at Henry and tried to stand up, but he could not. He coughed twice.

He saw how he struggled to stand up but could not and that made him prouder of what he did.

"Johny, Johny, I cannot believe that you used to be all-powerful! It was always you who trample on others, and now it is your turn to be trampled."

Henry raised his feet and was about to step on Johny's head when a voice came from the door.

"Stop it!"

He dropped his feet immediately after looking at the beautiful woman who was at the door.

Henry suddenly froze.

He described the girl in his thoughts like, "her eyes are a pair of clear eyes, slightly flowing, like the stars in the sky, with red lips and white teeth, a small nose, a beautiful chin, and a white neck like velvet."

Such a delicate and beautiful little face, with a heroic spirit between her eyebrows, had inspired men's desire to conquer.

He had to admit that the girl was several times more beautiful than Mary, not only beautiful but also attractive from the inside out.

Even Johnny froze. What about the scar on her face? No!

"Who are you?"

She stared at Henry bitterly and walked to Johnny, helped him back to the wheelchair, tidied his clothes, and then looked at Henry.

"Do you want to see me? You did not even call me sister-in-law."

Henry realized that in front of him was the bride they called ugly because of the scar on her face, the bride!

"No, it's impossible! It is said that ..."

Everyone said that she was ugly, even Mary, but in reality, she looked like a fairy! She walked up to him.

He watched the beautiful woman walk in his direction. His heartbeat increased.

When she was in front of him, she slapped him in the face without any remorse.

The slap was full of strength!

Henry was embarrassed. When he looked back at her, he immediately raised his arm and said, "Bitch, you dare to hit me!"

"Don't you dare!" She shouted angrily, "There is a camera here. Everything you did to your Johnny was recorded. Go on. Run!"

His hands that were supposed to be used to slap her lost their strength and hung midair, and out of the corner of his eye, he immediately looked at the place where the camera might be installed. But he did not find any camera. "Bitch, you dare lie to me!"

Ceres immediately took a step back. "Your Johny is smart, will he put the camera in a visible place? Fool!"

He was enraged by the thought that he was slapped and humiliated.

But he could not do anything, because if they have really installed a camera there, what he did was recorded. There was a chance that they would give the recorded video to their father. And it would give him a bad impression! That was the only thing that was running through his mind.

In the past, Jack had regarded him as the only son. So, he was free to do anything that he wanted, and his father would turn a blind eye. But since Johny was awake, his father became stricter with him.

He was once again slapped by her.

"You bitch, are you not finished?" He glared at her.

She snorted coldly. "The first slap is for the way you bully your Johny. This slap is for calling me a bitch."

"It is not your responsibility to teach me a lesson!"

Henry was absolutely mad, but he did not dare do anything.

"Your eldest Johny is like a father and his wife is like a mother. Since no one teaches you at home, it is perfect for me to teach you here about the truth of being a man!"

Henry was so angry that he lost his temper. "You bitch, you wait for me! There will come a day that you will beg me."

Henry was about to leave, when she spoke, "That's what you do best. Leaving, right? "

Henry shouted angrily at her, "I have been beaten and scolded. What else do you want?"

"You should apologize first for doing something wrong. If your mother did not teach you, then I will teach you today." She squinted her eyes at him.

Johny's eyes reflected his admiration for his wife. He knew she was not so easy to bully.

"You-" Henry's eyes were like daggers. But he still walked up to Johny and apologized.

"I'm sorry."

He said, "I'm sorry", but really, he wanted to pounce on his Johnny.

He was clueless when she suddenly smacked his head. "Are you apologizing or scaring people? Speak louder and be sincere, otherwise, this video will be sent to your father. Let's see what he can do to you!"

Henry hated this woman. When this woman fell into his hands, he would definitely make her suffer. He thought to himself.

"Sorry." Henry's voice was obviously louder.

She was dissatisfied. When he was about to say something, he heard his husband say, "Forget it, let him go."

"Well, since he forgave you, then you can go!" She said dismissively.

Henry gave them both a look of scrutiny. But she was not afraid of him and stared back directly.

Henry left.

She immediately grinned and thought to herself. "There was no camera in this study. I am so witty."

"It was really fun!" As soon as she turned to see her husband's face, she saw that his face was gloomy and terrible, so she immediately took back her smile.

"I thought he would be happy, but I did not think he would give out such a horrible mood." She taunted to herself.

Ceres brought the juice he had made and gave it to him. "Mr. Smith said you had a little cough and so, I made this for you."

But he just dropped the bowl on the floor!

Chapter 57 Do You Know Where You Are Wrong?

Ceres got a fright. The juice was splashed on her leg. Fortunately, it was not boiling.

"Get out." Johnny turned his wheelchair back to his desk.

She did not know what she had done wrong. She figured that seeing her suddenly become beautiful, any man would be happy, but her husband.

She had to leave the room slowly.

Henry drove away from Evian Town. Mary just waited for him in the villa. Because it was inconvenient for her to go to the hotel. He simply gave Mary the key, and Mary often came over when she was free.

Mary greeted him at the door. "Why did you suddenly come back? Did ..."

Before the word "you" was uttered, he slapped Mary to the ground.

Mary was lying on the ground and looked at him in an incredible way. Her face swelled immediately, and her tears suddenly burst.

The servants in the villa could not even breathe.

"What happened to you? Why did you suddenly hit me?" She burst into tears.

"You still have the face to cry! I thought you said that woman was extremely ugly. She is even prettier than you. And the girl was eloquent."

Henry has lost his face!

Not only did he get slapped twice, but he also apologized to Johny and worried that they would show Jack the videotape. He made a mistake!

"What?" Mary got up from the ground. "It is impossible, it is impossible!"

Mary covered her face and ran to Henry, who was still furious. She leaned against him, but he pushed her aside.

After serving a cup of coffee, the servant quietly stepped down.

"You mean that Ceres was very beautiful?"

"Yes! Very beautiful!" Henry had to admit that the woman was really beautiful. When he first saw her, he was even hopelessly fascinated by her.

But when he remembered that he had been slapped, he really could eat that girl alive.

He calmed down and told her what happened in the study.

Mary could not believe what she heard. "Have you been cheated? My sister looks a bit like me, but she accidentally burned her face in chemistry class when she was at school. It took several months to recover, and then when it all healed it left a big red scar on her face. My mother also took her to the hospital, but I heard with my own ears that the erythema could not be removed even by cosmetic surgery. ”

Henry recalled carefully that the woman was similar to Mary, but her skin was so smooth and flawless. There was no scar at all.

“She does look like you, but she does not have the scar as you said.”

“Did your Johnny find a woman to play as his wife? This year’s cosmetic surgery is so good, it is easy for him to make a flawless copy of his wife’s face.”

She seemed to make some sense. He soon found himself cheated by that sharp-tongued girl!

If there was a camera in that room, they did not have to say it at all. The more he went too far, the better it will be for them. Would it not be better if they secretly handed the video to Jack? Why threatened him with the video? If he did whatever it takes to get the videotape, wouldn’t they be finished? He suddenly realized.

“She is a dead girl, let me catch her next time, she must be skinned alive!”

She became his enemy.

He went upstairs with her in his arms. He was so angry that he had to vent his anger.

“I hate it. Why did you scold me at the door?”

“I must repay you.” Henry pressed Mary under his body, but she suddenly resisted him. She pushed his chest “You told Johnny about the switching of the bride, he will not marry me, will he?”

“He dares! If he dares to covet my woman, I will kill him!”

She put her arms around his neck. “I was born to be your woman, and death is your only chance to let go. You should treat me well.”

“Well, I will treat you and make you want to die right now!”

Ceres had not seen Johnny since the confrontation happened. She cooked many delicious dishes for dinner but he did not eat them, which made her very sad.

She went back to her room without eating a few mouthfuls of rice.

Somehow, she seemed to feel the seriousness of the incident, so it was probably not easy to complain.

Ceres thought hard. "How can it be so difficult to coax a man?"

She never thought that she would have a hard time pursuing a man in her whole life. She was just thinking about it when suddenly the door opened, she saw her husband came back.

She suddenly burst into tears. It was a shocking cry.

He had already forgotten how to cry, so he could tell at a glance that she was pretending.

"Come on, do not pretend." He glanced at her with a frown.

She immediately stopped pretending. "Did I make it obvious?"

He ignored her. She immediately got up and came to him. "Are you still angry with me?"

"Do you know where you went wrong?"

"I know."

"Say it!"

"I should have not done that to your Johnny. After all, he is your Johnny. I should have not hit him. I should have not made things so ugly and made enemies with him. It will only intensify his revenge."

She thought about it carefully and came up with those conclusions, but she could not guess the other reason as to why he was angry.

"Wrong!" Johnny became angrier. She shivered.

"Am I wrong?"

"No!"

Johnny stretched out his hand and pulled her. She did not expect his strength to be so great.

He immediately pulled her into his lap.

"He is my Johnny but since he wanted me to die, I already do not care about him! You are right, if you marry him, he will only want revenge, but I do not care."

She looked at her husband with a shocked face. "What do you care about? What exactly did I do wrong? "

“The fault lies in your concealment!”

Johny’s deep eyes seemed to devour her. “He told me about the bride switching today. You are not Mary, and here.”

While talking, his husband pointed to the scar on her face.

She looked at him in surprise. She did not expect Henry to say anything about the bride switching!

Johny already knew about the switching, but unfortunately, she never said it. That time, he just settled with her appearance.

“How many things do you have to hide from me?”

Chapter 58 Open Your Heart

She stared at her husband’s eyes, it was a deep and charming vortex as if she could fall into it carelessly.

He pulled her up so she could sit comfortably on his lap. “Tell me everything. If you hide anything, I will break your leg!”

Ceres lowered her eyes. “I am really not Mary. My name is Ceres. Mary is my half-sister. Mike could not bear his daughter to married to you, so he married me to you.”

“Why did you not say it when I woke up?”

Although Johny realized that he was too hard on this little woman, he just could not hold his anger.

Is he not frank enough? Why did she just keep everything from him? Was it better to be with a bodyguard? Did she not trust him? He thought about it carefully.

“I dare not say it because I was afraid that you would drive me away.”

“What about this one?” He pointed to the red spot on her face. “Why did you not say anything about your scar?”

She did not know how to answer. She never wanted to restore her appearance before.

"Do you still want to leave me? I'm sure you thought that I will not keep you for long because you are ugly, so you keep it from me!" He finally said what she actually had in her mind.

She realized that. She did have this idea at the beginning. She thought that she was so ugly that he would make her go away. And she was expecting that to happen.

"Am I right? Why did you not tell me?"

"Because I do not want to embarrass you. Your friends came that day. Although they did not say anything, I know I was embarrassing you. I also heard what your Johny had said. He laughed at you because of my face. I do not want you to be embarrassed just because of me. Mr. Smith said that you used to be a favored child, and you suddenly became like this. You cannot bear it psychologically, and you will inevitably lose your temper. I do not want to let you have any psychological burden because of me, so..."

Hearing these words, Johny wasn't angry now. It seemed that she still had him in her heart.

"What happened to your face?"

"When I came to the Morris, Mary always disliked me and bullied me. Mary and I both looked like our mother. She heard the servants say that I looked good, so she was always jealous. When I was fifteen years old, Mary prepared sulfuric acid to destroy my face. Fortunately, I knew about it in advance. An old servant told me that I could hide from the first day, but I could not hide forever, so she gave me the potion and let me ruin my face. Mary will not think about destroying me again in the future, so I have been like this all the time. Until today, there is another bottle of potion that can neutralize the color on my face."

He listened to her wife and caressed her long hair lovingly.

Mary was only one year younger than Ceres. She always wanted to destroy her face with sulfuric acid at an early age, which showed how she usually bullied Ceres.

She was good at cooking at a young age. She also worked hard during those years. God knows how she survived in the Morris.

"From now on, you are my woman, and no one will bully you again."

She smiled brightly at her husband. "Are you not angry?"

"This is two different things!" He immediately said. He wanted to know all her secrets, otherwise, she would not tell him anything in the future. "Do you have anything else to hide from me, tell me now, otherwise I will find out and let you taste my punishment!"

Her smile suddenly disappeared. She suddenly panicked.

Did he want to talk about dad?

She had never panicked like that. She felt scared. She was never afraid of others saying that her father was a murderer, and she could even fight against those people. But facing her husband, she was really scared.

She realized that Johnny was the first person to accept her ugly face. He was such a high-ranking man but he did not abandon her because of her humble status. He was so kind to her and he also loved her so much. If he knew that her father was a murderer, although she always believed that her father was not a murderer, would he still accept her?

"No more." She smiled.

"Are you sure?" Johnny reconfirmed.

She nodded her head.

He held her face with tenderness. He was relieved to know that she was not keeping any secret from him anymore. "It is good to know."

He studied her face carefully. He thought that she was a beauty the first time he saw her. Indeed, she had an angelic face, charming eyes, and a fascinating heroic spirit.

She was a little shy when she saw him looking at her.

When he looked at her wife's shy appearance, he realized that she was even more beautiful.

"You will retain your looks, like before."

"Why?" She asked, feeling a little bit estranged. Didn't he like the way she looks?

He thought that he was not willing to let others see the beauty of her wife. He will only be the one to appreciate the true beauty of.

"Henry is a cruel man. You slapped him twice, he will definitely find a way to get back at you. If you go back to your former appearance, he will not recognize you, and I am not ready to share you yet. I do not want to show my edge so quickly."

They were one since then. Husband and wife.

She thought about what her husband had said and it was reasonable. For so long, she had become accustomed to her ugly face, and her ugly face was more like her shield. She could easily tell whether a person was good or bad.

"All right, but you really want to compete for the Winsor Group's inheritance, right? You have been building up your strength." She asked hesitantly.

Johny suddenly put a straight face. "Are you still asking for information for Mike?"

"No, no, no, no, how can I do that for him? I am just curious. He came over that day to ask me for your information, but I did not say a word."

Johny certainly would not doubt her.

"Yes, I pretend to read books in my study every day. In fact, I am reading some documents of the company and mastering the latest trends of the company."

Ceres nodded. "I knew that my man must be of indomitable spirit!"

He heard the word "my man" and narrowed his eyes slightly.

She immediately realized that she had said something wrong, and immediately covered her mouth.

"Well said, your man has an indomitable spirit!"

Ceres never thought that a man like him could be her own man.

They both smiled at each other.

In the Morrises.

Mike slapped Mary in the face, and the crisp sound made everyone shocked.

Chapter 59 Why Is the Smart Egg in His Hand?

"You fool! I, Mike, have been smart all my life. How did I give birth to a stupid daughter like you?"

He was really mad.

He was enraged when he learned that Henry had gone to Evian Town and told Johny about the bride's switch. And when Mary kept on telling him to take Henry's side.

Mary was beaten for the first time. She was the only daughter, and Mike treated her like a princess since childhood.

Her tears welled up and she threw herself into Sally's arms.

"Look at the good daughter you raised!"

Sally hurried and appeased her daughter. "Mike, why are you so angry? She is still young. She is not sensible. You can teach her. Okay, okay, my baby daughter, just stop crying."

Mike paced back and forth in the room. "It was all your fault! You ruined my good plan. What you said provoked Henry! Who do you think he is?"

"I forbid you to say that to him! Anyway, I have been with him for a long time. I gave him my innocent body, and I will marry him!" Mary covered her face and shouted.

Mike and Sally were shocked when they heard what their daughter had said. Mary was just twenty years old!

"You shameless thing!" Mike held his daughter in his hand. He never even allowed her to attend any banquet, for fear that she would be taken by some bad boy. He did not expect her to be so imprudent. She only knew Henry for a while yet she gave him her body.

"Baby, how can you be so casual? How long have you known him?"

Mary lifted her chin up as if she had done something great. "He is handsome and the future royal heir. I gave my body to the most powerful man. You should be proud of me! Mom, did you not give your body to my father when you first met him?"

Her mother was shocked by what she said and could not speak.

His father stamped his foot hard. "Ungrateful child!"

"This is a fact anyway, and no one can change it!" Mary ran back to her room in fury.

He sat down on the sofa.

"Mike, what should I do now?"

"What can I do? I will follow Henry, of course. I hope he can take the position of heir, and I hope he will not mistreat our daughter. "

Now he has no other way to go.

"I hope this is right," Mike said silently.

At Evian Town

Ever since two people opened their hearts, Johny always allowed Ceres to be around him. Whether he was reading documents in his study or going to the rehabilitation center, she was always with him. They also began to make rehabilitation plans for him, and his good wife kept on going with him at the rehabilitation.

They were getting closer every day.

Ceres made a meal and called her husband to eat in the study. When she found out that there was no one in the study, she thought that he was just in the bathroom, so she sat in the chair and waited for him for a while.

She looked down and saw an egg in the drawer that was half opened!

She immediately took out the egg. It turned out to be the smart egg she made. After careful consideration, the bodyguard never appeared again after that night.

But how can the smart egg she gave to the bodyguard be in her husband's hand?

"What are you looking at?" He came out of the bathroom and saw her sitting in the chair and looking at something, only to find that she was holding a smart egg in her hand.

She was always at his side recently, and he was worried that the smart egg will be found by her. So, he turned it off, but he accidentally dropped it on the floor. But luckily the egg did not make any sound.

"How come you have this?"

He looked guilty. "It was given to me by the bodyguard."

"It turned out that he gave it to you." She gave a wry smile. The bodyguard gave others what she gave him so easily.

"Yes, but it was broken."

"I have not seen the bodyguard for a long time. Where did he go?" she asked carefully.

In fact, her heart had always been very complicated for the bodyguard. Of course, she was furious that he almost harassed her with his drunkenness that day. It was the first time that she was stripped naked by a man, and she could not forget the humiliation until that moment.

But the bodyguard saved her life and helped her when she was the loneliest and helpless.

"Oh." She grinned and resigned, so as not to embarrass everyone.

Johny looked at her unnatural smile and wondered what kind of emotion she had for the bodyguard.

"When I was still in a coma, did you have a good relationship with him?"

"I was assassinated on the first day when I came here. He saved me. All the servants bullied me here, but he was always watching over me, so I think he is a good man, so I talked to him. I often cook for him. Anyway, it is boring to be idle. I was familiar with him after a while, but!"

She was very frank. "I never had that kind of feeling for him. Do not get me wrong."

She said so frankly that Johny understood her heart. "Well, lets us go eat."

"Hmm."

They went downstairs together.

"If you like that smart egg, I can fix it for you."

He shook his head. "Make another one for me. I want the best one."

She smiled and spoke, "In my case, there is no better, only best!"

She had always pursued higher goals and never stopped.

"Ok, then you can keep doing it until you feel the best."

"Hey, hey."

They were very sweet to each other when they were eating. But when they finished eating, someone coughed. They turned their heads only to see Adam.

When she heard Jack was coming, her face turned pale.

She only met Jack once. Only once, but she was afraid of him. In addition, her face was ugly again, so she was even more afraid.

"Are you scared?" Her husband asked. He then grabbed Ceres by the hand.

"Can I not see him?"

"Yes, you can go upstairs. I have to deal with him here."

"Really? He is your father. I do not think it is appropriate." She knew in her heart that Jack was his father-in-law, and it was rude for her to hide from him.

"I will call you, then you can greet him."

She then ran upstairs.

Jack sat in the living room. Adam then pushed him to the living room, and he had to say that this father and son had the same expression.

"Johny, where is your wife?"

Chapter 60 Heavenly Huge Shares

"She does not want to see us." Johny was expressionless.

Jack had seen Ceres. Although he only looked at her once, he was impressed. Others are beautiful and impressive. She was ugly.

Such a woman was absolutely not allowed to set foot in the Winsors. If it is not for the sake of the stupid bride curse, he would not let her in. He thought.

Jack took a sip on his coffee and frowned, then he put it down. "This coffee is cold, make me a cup of hot coffee."

Johny immediately said, "Go and call my wife down and let her make your coffee."

Hearing what his son had said, he snorted coldly. "Is she the hostess here now?"

"If she is not then what do you call her?" Johny asked.

There was nothing wrong with that. Although she was used to dispelling the back luck, now that he was awake and the ceremony was held, she was naturally his son's wife.

He also heard that his son was very kind to his wife. He treated her as an equal and he also loved her very much. That was not a good sign. He always thought that women are Helen of Troy. How could his son be infatuated with a woman? Especially a woman who looked so ugly.

"Johny, men should aim in all directions and should not waste time on a woman."

Johny recognized what his father meant, and from the first few words that he said, he knew what his father was here for.

His father was very strict with him from childhood, and the four words he used most often were "playing with things and losing his mind". Therefore, since childhood, he had no favorite toys and no personal hobbies, so he could only study according to his wishes.

Women were his father's biggest taboo, and he knew that his father would never allow him to fall in love with any woman.

His future wife must also be his choice.

Ceres was very timid when she was suddenly called to brew coffee. However, thinking that her husband was there she felt relieved.

"Miss, the coffee was hot, please be careful."

"I see." Ceres went to the living room with the coffee tray on her both hands and she carefully placed the coffee in front of them. When she saw her father-in-law's majestic expression, her heart trembled.

Johny first picked up the cup of coffee and took a sip on it. He spat out the coffee. He slammed the cup of coffee in front of her. The coffee splashed on her leg, causing burning pain.

"Do you want to burn me to death? How come you cannot even pour a coffee! Get out of here!"

She does not know why he was furious with her for a cup of coffee.

Jack saw this picture of his son. It seemed that the rumors are not true. He personally saw how his son treated the woman.

"Get out of here. Now!"

Ceres' eyes were filled with tears, and he was very troubled when he looked at her. He had no choice but to do this to her for the time being, otherwise, his father would definitely dispose of her.

"Well, son, it was just a cup of coffee. Why are you so angry?"

"She has not done anything good!" Johny cursed.

"Come here." Jack signaled to her.

She looked at her husband and did not know what to do.

"Don't stand there like a log, did you not hear my father calling you?" Johnny shouted angrily.

Ceres held her chest, she felt much wronged, but she still went to sit as his father-in-law said.

"Sit down."

Ceres sat down timidly.

Jack gave his secretary behind him a wink, and the secretary quickly took a document.

"Although you are just an offered bride, I spent 500 million to invest in the Morris Group. Which was equivalent to what I bought, but my son has awakened. I will not treat you badly, here is 5% of the Winsor Group shares, you sign on it, and this share is yours."

Ceres looked at her father-in-law in dismay.

The Winsor Group 5% shares, that's a huge amount of property!

Jack would give her such a large share so easily? She pondered.

Johnny immediately yelled, "If you are asked to sign, sign it. What are you doing? Are you a fool?"

Seeing that she did not move, he directly pulled her over, grabbed her hand, and signed the document, but she was still stunned.

"But you are a woman, you do not know anything about business, and you are still so young, so this share is temporarily attached to my son."

It was not until Jack finished talking that Ceres realized that the shares were apparently not for her, but actually for his son.

She realized that Johnny had been in a coma for three years, during which the Winsor Group could not stay still, and for three years anything could change. In order to stabilize the whole board of directors, Henry's shares were second only to Jack's. That was to say, if her father-in-law abdicated, Henry would naturally become the master of the Winsor Group even if no heir was announced.

In order to help Johnny enter the core of the Winsor Group as soon as possible, Jack had to help his son in that way.

"Don't get in the way here, go back upstairs!" her husband shouted.

She squinted at him and quickly left the living room.

She just did not go back upstairs immediately but went to the bathroom first.

Jack looked at his son. "This one is disobedient and unacceptable. Why not look for another wife? "

He picked up coffee and took a sip of it. "Johny, I know that your heart is higher than the sky, and you do not like this woman. If it were not for her birthdate, she could not get into the door of the Winsors with her appearance. Why do you not drive her away? "

Jack thought that if his son woke up, the first thing he would do was to drive away from the ugly woman.

Johny was still as cold as ice. "As you said, she is just an offered bride. I just woke up and you wanted me to drive her out? What will people say about me? Or about our family?"

"It is true. That was so thoughtful of you."

"Besides, is she not still useful?" He picked up the document on the desk and looked at it.

It said in black and white that the shares were owned by his wife, but all the disposal rights were in his hands.

Jack nodded his head, and he was happy to see his son who he taught.

"Well, since you know everything, I will go back first."

Jack left. While Ceres, who was hiding in the bathroom, was eavesdropping, her heart slowly sank deep.
