One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President Chapter 61 Something Happened!

Everything was fake.

Ceres felt cold all over, and every cell in her body was as cold as ice. It turned out that Johny was lying to her.

She's his woman, his wife, is it all because she was useful? Otherwise, he wouldn't do that to her.

Ceres suddenly felt like a joke, a big joke! She would not expect a man like Johny to really like her. She always had bad luck in her life. How could she have such good luck and have such an excellent man?

Ceres's tears finally fell unwillingly. She could not remember the last time she cried. She cried and cried, then laughed.

In the past, when watching TV dramas, she would always laugh at the heroines, who were as stupid as pigs. When the heroines were a little good to them, they usually take advantage of her. Now it seemed that heroines were not as stupid as pigs anymore.

As soon as Jack went out, Johny's face suddenly became anxious.

"Where is Mrs. Winsor? Go, get the ointment for burns." Adam hurriedly ordered the servant to get it.

Just then, Bob rushed in. "Johny, no! There is something wrong with our new product, something is wrong with the base!"

Johny frowned. "What happened?"

"I cannot tell you clearly in a word or two. There are some things to deal with our company. I have no time to go with the details. I am afraid that you need to go to the base in person."

Eagle Group was founded by Johny with the help of Bob and Bill Jayden. Because Johny was not able to attend to the business because of his condition, Bob did many things. But Bob was the eldest son of his family, and something came up. There were many things that he needed to do with his own family business. Everything was usually working fine, and Bob had plenty of time. But things rushed together, and they were all urgent. Bob had no choice but to go home and ask Johny to go to the base.

"Okay, I will go to the base right away. You should go home first."

Bob nodded. "I will fix this and meet you right away."

Johny looked upstairs. Bob had always been safe in his work. He could solve it by himself, and it would never bother him. So, Bob must be in such a hurry.

Eagle Group was John's biggest chip, and there must be no mistakes.

"Give Ceres a treatment. If there is anything wrong with her injury, call me right away!"

"Yes!"

Johny led people out of the door directly. He could only wait until he came back and explain, but he believed that Ceres was a smart girl. Even if he didn't explain, she could guess something, so Johny didn't worry too much.

The servant went to Ceres's room with the ointment, but there was no one, so he looked around, but he couldn't find her anywhere. Adam also knew that what happened in the living room probably provoked Ceres, so he took people around looking for Ceres.

When the servants in the villa were all panicking, Ceres dried her tears and decided to come out of the bathroom.

Adam saw Ceres, and he was relieved. "Mrs. Winsor, you are here, we have been looking all over to find you."

"What can I do for you?" Ceres lost her former vitality.

Adam also saw that Ceres seemed to be in a bad mood and hurriedly gave the ointment. "This is the ointment specially ordered by Mr. Henry. Is your burn alright?"

"It is nothing." Ceres took the ointment, and there was no stir in her heart.

"Mrs. Winsor, Mr. Johny must have his reasons for doing such things. Don't ..."

"Of course, I know that there is a reason."

When Adam heard Ceres, he did not expect Ceres to be so understanding. No wonder Johny loved her so much. "That is good to hear."

Ceres took the ointment and went upstairs. The scalded part of her leg became bloody and red. She patiently applied the medicine while her heart was feeling numb.

She would not be stupid again, never again.

...

Jack returned to the old house with satisfaction. The servant came forward. "Sir, I heard you went to Johnny's place. How is Johnny's leg recovering?"

"Rehabilitation training is being done."

"Oh, did the doctor say when Johnny will be able to stand up?" Zara asked continuously.

"He did not say, but it depends on Johnny if he will help himself to recover fast?" Jack gave a long sigh. But for him, as long as Johnny woke up, he did not need to step up and take care of some things in the company.

"Johnny is also pitiful, it is not easy for him to be in that situation." Jack turned to look at Zara. "How's the job I gave you?"

"It's all done." Then Zara turned to the housekeeper and said. "Let them come in"

Four women stood in front of Jack uniformly, one by one, young and beautiful. They were beautifully dressed, sexy, lovely, and mature ladies.

They stood in front of Jack, and Jack's eyes swept from them one by one. Finally, his eyes were fixed on the girl with the small figure and gentle type.

Zara looked at Jack's eyes and pointed to the girl. "You stay, and the other three will go."

Jack could only say one thing. "Send her to Johnny today."

"Yes, I will tell someone to do it right away. I have carefully selected all these girls, and I think Johnny will be satisfied eventually." Zara said while sipping her coffee.

"I just want to know if Johnny is still fertile."

Jack picked up the coffee cup and drank it. Zara glanced at him with a strange smile on her lips.

Ceres didn't eat dinner either. She just sat on the bed and held the rooster in a daze. The rooster seemed to know that Ceres was in a bad mood. The servant called her several times, but she said she had no appetite.

"Husband, you are my husband, right? You are a big liar." The rooster crowed a few times as if answering Ceres's words.

"You think so, too. It's my stupidity," Ceres muttered to herself, "but why should I punish myself with other people's mistakes, right? I should go to eat. I don't want to starve myself."

Ceres was ready to go downstairs, then there was a knock on the door again. She opened the door impatiently. "Come, go downstairs to eat right away!"

It turned out to be Adam. "Mr. Smith?"

"Mrs. Winsor, go and have a look. Something has happened!"

"What happened?"

"You will know when you see it!"

Chapter 62 A Woman Delivered to Your Door

Ceres went downstairs and saw three strange women in the living room. These women are observing the villa with wide eyes.

"This gentleman is living here? This villa is a bit too shabby!" A woman with big wavy hair was named Rose, who wore the sexiest clothes and has the sexiest figure. She is holding her arms and wandering around the living room and seemed to be very dissatisfied with it.

"It is useless for patients to live in luxury, but I think the environment here is very elegant." The woman sitting on the sofa drinking coffee, with black waterfall-like hair and a plump figure in black and white business attire, was very tempting. Her name was Peony.

Another girl with braided hair was dressed in a student outfit, which was cute, but the outfit was obviously more exposed than the student outfit, and the pleated skirt was just short enough to cover her ass.

"Pretty good, anyway I am not picky." Her name was Cherry.

"You said Mr. Johnny will choose a woman for this evening? Don't fight with me. You two can't beat me." Rose stood tall and shoulders high.

"Mr. Johnny does not necessarily value you." Peony was not to be outdone.

"Why don't we do it together so that we can have fun?" Cherry sipped her cherry mouth and said.

Ceres looked at them and listened to them and probably understood that those women were there to serve John.

"Mrs. Winsor, these people claim to be sent by Mr. Johny, saying that they are supposed to serve Mr. Johny. I do not think they meant it that way. Don't get me wrong. Now that they are here, I can't contact the young Mr. Johny. I don't know what to do. Please give me instructions." Adam looked anxiously at Ceres.

This had never happened before, and Adam did not know what to do, but it happened that John was on the plane and the phone could not get through.

"I'm not the hostess here. It's not up to me to say what to do, Mr. Smith. It's up to you." Ceres turned and prepared to go upstairs.

"Do not leave. What shall I do if you leave?" Adam's cries were heard by the three women downstairs.

Rose first discovered Ceres. "Hey, is this his wife? What happened? You just saw us then you will leave us at once, are we not welcome?"

"Ah, come and talk to us, after all, we are all women here." Peony also greeted Ceres.

"You are lucky! Please tell us something about the young master. We have never served Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! echoed the sentence.

Ceres clenched her fist angrily and turned to shout, "Get out of here!" Three women were startled by her, Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! seconds and burst into arrogant laughter.

Ceres certainly understood what this laughter means. They are just laughing at the erythema on her face.

Rose laughed the most exaggeratedly, she opened her mouth while clutching her stomach, and smiled back and forth. "She turned out to be ugly!"

"Oh my, I thought for a second that I mistook this hostess as ugly. It turned out to be true! I thought someone else made it up." Peony was almost lost in laughter.

Cherry smiled Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! laughed assiduously.

Ceres was too lazy to argue with them and just wanted to go back. As a result, Rose ran up and pulled her down the stairs directly. "Come on, let us enjoy the beauty of the great hostess."

The three women surrounded Ceres in the middle and looked at her carefully.

"How dare you, you are just living together, don't be presumptuous." Said Peony.

Adam naturally needed to protect Ceres, which Johny ordered. But he could not speak.

"She is just with him. And now she is calling herself a hostess, with this kind of look?" Rose sneered at her. "People like us can serve Mr. Johnny of the Winsors family and earn a little money. We are more beautiful than you, yet you still want to be called a housewife?"

"That is it. Stop dreaming!" C picked up an orange from the fruit bowl and began to eat it. "I heard that this great housewife is happy!"

"I will ask you, you think you belong to a wealthy family? Have you and Mr. Johnny obtained a marriage certificate?"

Ceres was speechless. She and Johnny didn't have a marriage certificate, because it was originally a destined bride. They were just married under the influence of the Winsor family, and even if she did not get a certificate, she could not escape.

"Did you have a wedding with Mr. Johnny?"

There was no such thing. Johnny was a vegetable at the beginning, and it was a rooster who met with her.

"There is neither a certificate nor a wedding. Why do you say that you are a member of this wealthy family?"

Ceres also asked herself why Johnny said that she was his wife even without a license or wedding.

She was nothing!

"I tell you, Mr. Johnny cares for Mrs. Winsor. If Mr. Johnny knew that you treat Mrs. Winsor like this, you would not be spared!" Adam said.

"That is because Mr. Johnny has always been in a vegetative state and has never seen another woman. He has not seen us since today, and he will definitely like us. He needs a new flavor, not just the ordinary."

Ceres bit her teeth. "Have you said enough?"

"Hey, are you ill-tempered?"

As soon as the words sound just fell, Ceres hit Rose's bridge nose with a fist. Rose retreated several steps, and nosebleeds spewed out. "Ah? My nose, is my nose crooked? I spent tens of thousands for this, you crazy woman. I will fight with you!"

Rose rushed up, Peony was not to be outdone, Cherry was naturally not idle, and the three of them rushed forward together.

But Ceres was not afraid either. She could handle three women.

She knocked three women to the ground. Ceres sneered and went straight upstairs.

Adam hurriedly said, "Mrs. Winsor, how many of them ..."

"I said, I can do it myself!" Ceres didn't care. She did not beat those women because they had something to do with Johny, but because they were rude to her!

Because they were sent by Jack, Adam did not dare to make a decision without authorization, so he had to keep those three women, but they were arranged in other villas so that Ceres would not see them and there would not be any conflict.

Ceres went back to her room, but her heart became sadder.

What exactly is she? Those women are right. She is nothing. They don't have a marriage certificate and there was no wedding ceremony. She asked herself.

She and Johny were really nothing. At the same time, she knew clearly what men in the big houses were like.

Chapter 63 The Taste of Missing

Things at the base basically stabilized after Johny arrived, new products began to be upgraded free of charge, and customers were stabilized. Bob immediately came to the base after handling his own family affairs clearly.

It was late at night when he explained to Bob what happened.

"Johny, go back and rest. There should be no problem with this new product."

"Artificial intelligence products are prone to more failures. People in the technical department should pay more attention and should not be taken lightly." Johny said.

"You can rest assured that I will keep an eye on it." Johny immediately called his secretary Ben, "Book me the latest flight back to Imperial City immediately."

Bob looked at Johny inexplicably. "Why are you in such a hurry? Have a good sleep and leave tomorrow."

"No." John did not explain either. He must go back at once because he really missed Mrs. Winsor at home. Somehow, he had never felt that kind of feeling before, the taste of longing.

When he was not doing anything, Ceres's face would automatically appear in his mind, thinking about what she was doing, whether she was studying delicious food again, or was she was pedaling the quilt again when she slept at night, and whether her stomach would hurt.

If he thought about it carefully, she had been in her period for a week, so she should be done with her period. In that case...

Ben immediately went to book a plane ticket, and as a result, the earliest flight was to leave at seven o'clock the next day.

Johny could not sleep while tossing and turning. When he closed his eyes, he remembered Ceres and was anxious to return. After a sleepless night, he arrived at the airport. It was already noon when he arrived in Imperial City.

As a result, because of the traffic jam on the road, the airport was far away from Evian Town, and it was already four o'clock in the afternoon when he arrived at Evian Town.

Ceres was still taking a nap when Johny came back.

Johny went to the bedroom in a wheelchair, and when he saw the little bump on the bed, his heart was so pleased and satisfied. He went to bed and gently lay beside her and wrapped her little body in his arms. He never felt his heart filled like that, and the feeling was indescribable.

Ceres woke up, saw Johny's face, and tried to move, but Johny closed his eyes and said,

"Do not move. Let me hold you for a while."

Ceres had to endure not moving, but she found herself wanting to go to the bathroom.

"Johny, I want to go to the bathroom." Johny frowned, opened his eyes, pecked Ceres on the lips, and then he let her go.

Ceres quickly got out of bed and went to the bathroom. When she came out, she found Johny in a wheelchair.

"It's been days. You are done with your period, right?"

Ceres's face was red. Of course, she understood what Johny meant, but she could not lie about this kind of thing. "Hmm."

Johny pulled the corners of his lips and said nothing. When the two of them had dinner in the evening, Ceres kept silent. Even if he gave her food, she would eat it without refusing or talking.

Johny suddenly felt that Ceres was strange and seemed to be much nicer when he left, and that kind of attitude was not like her.

"Are you feeling sick?"

"No," Ceres replied with her head down, then put down her chopsticks. "I'm full. Take your time."

Adam was also anxious to watch those two people. Probably Ceres was still angry with Johny for those women.

When Johny heard Ceres was full, he lost his appetite. He could not wait to share a bed with her, so he turned his wheelchair and followed her out.

Ceres sat in the bedroom and took out the ointment on the bedside. When she took a bath, she did not pay attention to the place where there was a burn, and it got wet. As a result, she became inflamed in the past two days, and she had to pay more attention to it.

When Johny came in, he saw Ceres putting medicine on her leg. When he saw such a big wound, he immediately screwed up his brow. "How did you get it?"

Ceres paused. It was all thanks to him.

"The coffee was hot that day." Ceres did not shy away from answering.

Johny was shocked. It turned out that he burned her with the coffee, but he knew that the temperature of the coffee was not so high. He also asked the servant to bring her ointment at that time. After three days, it was time to scab, but this wound was...

"It has been several days. Why is it still bad?"

"I did not pay attention when I took a bath." Ceres's answer was always so easy as if she were talking about something irrelevant.

Johny snatched the sterile cotton swab from Ceres's hand. "How old are you? Do you need others to teach you this? And you need to pay attention when you take a bath!" Johny threw the cotton swab into the trash can.

Ceres just sat there and did not speak. He could scold her whenever he wanted. Anyway, she had been scolded since they first met.

Johny asked Adam to call the doctor at once.

The doctor carefully debrided, cleaned all the pus in the wound, disinfected and drugged it, and then bandaged it well.

“This wound is a little inflamed. You shouldn’t let this get wet again. Just change the bandage once a day.” The doctor left after handling it.

Adam saw that Johny was so keen on Ceres, and thought he could handle the situation, so he also withdrew.

There were only two of them left in the room. “Come here.” Johny’s words are always dignified, which made Ceres afraid to resist him.

Ceres looked at Johny and walked towards him. John held Ceres in his arms and let her sit on his lap. “You need to be more careful. You hear that?”

“Yeah.” Ceres agreed.

She no longer had hope for Johny. She just let him do whatever he wanted. She just wanted to wait for Johny to use her, then let her go.

Johny looked at her little face. He did not see her for 3 days, so he could not help but kiss her cherry lips.

Ceres did not expect Johny to be so impatient. When he asked her if her period was done, she knew what he wanted to do that night.

She had no reason to refuse him.

They kissed, and Johny’s breath suddenly became bold and rapid. He could not wait to untie Ceres’s clothes.

He’d been single for a long time, he had never touched any woman and had never been tempted by any woman, so he could not stop.

Ceres was still, and quiet inside. She could not do anything.

Johny was so powerful that she couldn’t refuse, she couldn’t afford to provoke him.

That was it.

Chapter 64 Vent on His Little Woman

Johny untied Ceres' clothes, and her delicate skin stimulated his desire.

Ceres suddenly put her hand on his chest.

"Johny, what do you think is the most important thing for two people when they are together?"

When suddenly hearing Ceres' voice, Johny was not completely carried away by desire.

"What?" He asked.

He gasped and looked at Ceres's calm face.

"Respect. I think it is respect. Two people should respect each other when they are together. Don't you think so, too?" She coldly said.

Johny was speechless. He didn't know why Ceres was acting like this.

What the hell happened to the smart-ass lady?

Why was she always expressionless?

Ceres lowered her eyes. "I hope you can respect me a little. I do not want to do such a thing."

There was no trace of emotion in her words. She was making a final struggle. Although she knew that the struggle may be meaningless, after all, Johny had always been a high-ranking person. How could he take what she said to heart?

"Okay, then I will wait until you want to do it." Johny did not want to stand up to others. After all, two people should be happy doing that kind of thing. If he forced her, what was the difference between him and a criminal?

Ceres looked at Johny in consternation but didn't expect Johny to actually stop.

He listened to what she said.

Johny picked up Ceres' clothes and put them back on her, then gently touched and patted her head. "Go to sleep."

That evening, Ceres turned her back on Johny the whole time and she couldn't figure it out.

Johny's overbearing personality respected her and didn't really touch her!

For her, wasn't it useful to stay there?

Why would he respect her wishes and not touch her?

Ceres fell asleep with her head in such a mess.

Johny leaned in and gently caressed her little face, then got out of bed.

Late at night, Adam was called to the study.

“What happened at home after I left?” He asked.

When he came back to see Ceres’s calm face, he felt that something might have happened. When Ceres refused to share a room that night, he was even more sure of it.

Adam had no choice but to tell Johny all about the three women sent by Jack.

“What did you do? Why didn’t you fight back when they were disrespecting Ceres?!” John shouted angrily.

He didn’t expect someone to bully his little woman during his absence.

Adam looked embarrassed. “Mr. Johny, I couldn’t get through your phone at that time. I couldn’t help it. They were sent by the master Jack. I can’t fight him back, can I?”

Johny knew that it was really difficult for Adam.

“However, master, I think it is also possible that Mrs. Winsor is unhappy because of what happened on the day you left. You were so cruel to her and burned her with coffee. She must be unhappy. Do you think you need to explain?”

Adam spoke carefully, but Johny did not agree.

He believed Ceres was so smart that he could tell at a glance if he was playing games.

So, he ignored Adam’s words. “You shall find time to bring those women here tomorrow.”

“Yes, master”

Ceres acted, as usual, the next day. She ate breakfast with Johny as usual, and because Johny was usually going to the study to read documents after breakfast, she could do whatever she wanted as well.

Johny stopped her when she was about to leave.

“Ceres, wait.”

"Hmm?" Ceres was surprised to hear this strange and kind way of calling her name.

The last time someone called her Ceres. It was the time when she parted from her father at the age of twelve, and only her father in the world would call her so kindly.

John came to the living room, and Ceres followed him.

"Bring them up."

Three women came dressed beautifully one by one. They were so happy that they knew John was back and kept their mouths shut happily.

"This gentleman actually called us in the morning, but is it really his hobby?"

"Maybe he came back yesterday, rested for one night, and prepared to fight all day!"

"Girls, let's work hard!"

A few women came in talking and laughing, only to see Johnny's fierce face as soon as they reached the living room.

Although his face was so handsome that they were all moved by it, it was too indifferent to keep people away, as if it was saying, "Don't come near strangers, or die near them."

He was standing next to Ceres, but in their eyes, Ceres was just like a transparent person, with her contrast, wasn't it obvious that they were more charming?

Rose was brave enough to come forward.

"Mr. Johnny, why did you come back just now? It really made us wait. I heard that your legs are not in good shape. How about I help you pinch your legs?"

Johnny hated being touched by others. This reckless woman touched his legs when she came up. He lifted his legs and kicked her on her chest and she flew several meters away.

Ceres looked at Johnny's legs at that moment.

Didn't he say that his legs had problems left by the car accident and muscle atrophy? Why did he have so much strength to kick a person out so far away?

It took a long time for her to recover.

"Mr. Johnny you ..."

Peony and Cherry did not dare to move. They probably guessed that they might be called at the villa for other purposes.

“You think you have a good figure, huh?” Johnny’s eyes seemed to devour people.

Adam ordered the servant to take up a tray with several needles on it. Johnny picked up a needle and threw it back. “Mr. Smith, introduce these things to them.”

Adam nodded and pointed to the needle inside, “This needle can dissolve the prosthesis in the body. This needle can neutralize the face-lifting needle and produce toxins. And this needle reacts chemically with the weight-loss drugs, and the chemicals produced accumulate in the body. Leading to edema all over the body.”

The three women were frightened to disgrace!

Rose had a prosthesis in her chest, which she spent a lot of money to make, even her nose.

Peony had been given a lot of thin face needles, while Cherry had tried her best to lose weight, and she had taken countless weight-reducing drugs to maintain her petite appearance.

Those three needles are for them!

“Mr. Johnny, we dare not, please, give us a break!” Rose was the first to kneel on the ground.

Peony and cherry followed her and knelt on the ground. “Mr. Johnny, we didn’t do anything. Please, let us go. We’ll leave here immediately and promise not to provoke you again, okay?”

Johnny was expressionless. “You made my woman unhappy, so you shouldn’t ask me, you should ask her.”

Chapter 65 Troubles for Three Days and Three Nights

The three women stared at him for a few seconds and all looked at Ceres. Afterward, they all climbed to Ceres on their knees.

"We're sorry, Mrs. Winsor! It's all our fault that we are blind to Mount Tai. Please forgive us!"

"Miss, everyone makes mistakes. We are ready to repent of it. Give us a break."

"Mrs. Winsor, we shouldn't say those disrespectful words to you. We are really helpless!"

"Mistress, please, let us live!"

These three women put all their pride behind them at the moment. They just wanted to live, and they could only pin all their hopes on Ceres.

Ceres looked at these three women, and she knew very well that these women were poor and could only live by selling their bodies.

Hence, poor people also had hateful things, and they were pampering and domineering, and they were really exasperating.

However, they didn't finish the task assigned by Jack, and it was hard to get their life back. It was estimated that Jack won't let them go, so why should she dirty her hands?

"Throw them out, I don't want to see them!" Ceres said to finish the conversation and went straight upstairs.

"Mrs. Winsor has spared you. Aren't you going to thank her? She is a kind person!" Adam shouted angrily.

The three women began to kowtow uniformly. "Thank you so much!"

Adam came to John's side, "Mr. Johnny, you see ..."

"Since Mrs. Winsor doesn't care about your rudeness to her, I won't pursue it."

Three women breathe a sigh of relief.

"But you have installed a bug on my body and want to inquire about the news from me. What should I do with you?" John picked his eyebrows.

Three women were scared to death!

They were carefully selected by Zara. Apart from testing whether John still had fertility, which Jack said, they also took Zara's task and that is, asking for some information from John.

"Inject these needles into their bodies."

Several bodyguards immediately grabbed the three women, and each of them was injected with a Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! not stop.

“These needles will really be injected into you, but if you learn how to go back to life, I can Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! speak?”

Three women seemed to see the hope of life. He knew what they cared most about was their body and appearance, because that was the only bargaining chip for their survival, so in order to survive, they must know!

“We know!”

John turned his wheelchair and went away. He really didn’t want to look at these women again.

Zara had been waiting for news at home all this time, but there had been no news for Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! people she selected were wonderful objects, and every man will be tempted after reading them.

Besides, John had been a disabled person for three years. If he still had the ability in that respect, he would have been irrepressible. It was impossible to have no news until now.

At that time, she finally received a phone call. “What did you say?”

Her lip angle hooked up. “Is it true?”

“Madam, it’s true that the people we sent out were miserable because of Visit <https://swnovels.com> to read the newest content, everyone! one. However, they also said that Mr. Johny had no problem in that respect, that is, his legs were disabled and he could not stand up.”

“Good, very good.”

“What should these three people do?”

“Get rid of them, so as to avoid future troubles.”

After hanging up the phone, Zara’s heart finally settled down. As long as John was disabled, it would be just around the corner for her son to take the position of heir.

"This son of a bitch is really as good as his father!" Zara couldn't help laughing. She didn't expect John to play with those three women for three days and three nights with his disabled legs.

Those three women had been badly played!

Zara couldn't wait to tell Jack the news as soon as Jack came back at night.

"Really?" Jack still didn't believe it.

"I am not joking. All the three women I have chosen are stunners. Sir, you should know that John hasn't been out of the room for three days and three nights, and all the three women can't stay up." Zara chuckled and smiled.

"John really has your glory."

Jack smiled, too. "That's good. He's my son."

"Like father, like son, this is John's leg injury. If he is a normal person, that's ..."
Zara covered her mouth and laughed.

"Well, since he has nothing to do with it, let's start looking for someone to marry. You bring and choose from several alternatives, and I will choose the right one myself."

Jack must choose the best woman for John, and then let their best genes combine to produce the best offspring so that the Winsor family would have successors.

Zara suddenly turned stiff. "Sir, are you so anxious to have grandchildren?"

"I told you what you need to do! There's no need for so much nonsense."

"Yes!" Zara did not dare to talk much. Who told her that her family was powerless?

Zara was 15 years younger than Jack. When she married Jack, she was only 20 years old. She spent the same age and gave birth to a pair of twins for Jack.

She was born in a bad way and met Jack in a nightclub. She was only eighteen years old that year. From the first night she slept with Jack, she knew that her fate in this life depended on this man.

During that time, Jack's wife just died, and she also seized every opportunity. To know how many means she used at an early age, she almost died several times, and finally, she let Jack have compassion and let her into the door, but she was born too humble.

She gave birth to a pair of twins to Jack, but Jack didn't look at them equally. For so many years, how did Zara and his sons carry the favor with Jack?

In order to satisfy Jack, Zara did not hesitate to choose a woman for Jack to serve, and she tried her best to satisfy this man.

But Jack's mind was all on John, just because John had a mother of noble birth!

She refused to accept this fact!

Why was her child inferior at birth?

Therefore, she must let her sons become the heir of the Winsor family, and must let her sons trampled John under their feet!

But until now, even if John became a disabled person, even if his legs were disabled, Jack's heart only belonged to the son of him and his ex-wife.

Good, very good.

Zara gritted her teeth. Didn't he only have his son? Then she'll show him how painful it was to lose him!

Chapter 66 Kidnapping

They went back to where they were before. She still helped her husband to do rehabilitation training and watched over him while he was busy in his study.

But, after all, they went through those days, he felt that his wife was unhappy. Even after he helped her in driving out the three women his father sent in the villa. He still felt that his wife was still unhappy.

They both went to the rehabilitation center for his training with the occupational therapist.

She remembered that on that day, she clearly saw his husband kicked the woman out a few meters away.

After the rehabilitation training, she was already tired and panting, but he was still fine. Maybe his legs have healed, but she clearly heard the therapist said that it would take a few days to heal after such training. What is going on?

When the two of them returned to the study, John was still reading the documents, while she was busy looking for a book to read.

John looked at her from time to time. The room was quiet, and her dark aura was still there, which made him very uncomfortable!

"Ceres, didn't you say you will make me a smart egg? How is it?" John asked while reading the file. He just wanted to find a topic to talk to her about.

"Not yet, I'm still looking for an inspiration." She replied lightly.

"Then you have to hurry."

"These things should not be in a hurry." She was still emotionless, it was making him more depressed.

The atmosphere became quiet again.

He wanted to make a conversation that is why he told her, "The pizza you made last time was good."

"Is it? I'll cook it for you today." She was still poker-faced.

John didn't know what to say anymore. She suddenly stood up and spoke, "It takes a long time to cook the beef. I'll go to the kitchen first."

She walked out of the study.

John threw his pen on the table angrily!

What kind of temper does this woman have?! He thought.

He knew that she was just looking for an excuse to leave the room, but he happened to have no idea how to question her. The two of them were getting along for the past two days. She was driving him crazy.

He didn't know what the problem is, let alone how to make her happy. The feeling was terrible! He also asked himself, "Why do you care so much about her feelings?" He suddenly remembered that she wanted to go back to school. Maybe if he allowed her to go back to school, she would be happier.

Ceres really made him a pizza. It still had the original taste, but he felt that something was missing when he ate it. And the thought that she was still as cold as ice made him even sadder.

It was nighttime. She went to bed directly while he was still reading a book. When he realized that she was just laying down quietly he slowly put the book on the table and spoke, "My wife, you always wanted to go back to school, right? I've already sent someone to handle your papers. "

She suddenly sat up, "Really? You will allow me to go back to school? "

He was very happy when he saw his wife so thrilled. He also felt joyful because finally, she was genuinely happy. He thought that his wife was also happy because she could finally leave him at the villa.

"Hmm."

She was contented to the point that she could not say or do anything. She looked at him gratefully and thanked him again and again. "Do you really agree to let me go back to school? Will it make any difference if I go back to school? "

"No, you are still my wife. Anyway, it is no secret that you married me."

She nodded her head.

"This villa is too far from your school. But I still have a villa near your school. Unfortunately, it was not yet renovated. When the renovation is done, we will live there."

"It doesn't matter, I can live in the dormitory!" She couldn't wait to go back to school.

"Are you going to leave me?!"

John suddenly burst. The happier Ceres was, the more unhappy he was. Because it only meant that she wanted to leave him.

Ceres was frightened by his outburst. She didn't want to provoke him. She bit her lips and lay down again. "Okay. I will go to school when the renovation is over."

She reached out and turned off her bedside lamp.

Listening to her submissive voice, he suddenly felt a little guilty.

Although she didn't go to school for a long time, she feels extremely happy because she will finally be back at her school. The course of the semester had passed almost half, so, she needed to catch up quickly. In addition, there would be a robot contest happening soon, so she needed to practice so she could participate in the competition. The competition was sponsored by Eagle Group. It was the company she was dreaming of.

She had been paying close attention to the school's WeChat official account, and she hadn't missed anything about the school.

When she woke up in the morning, her husband was not by her side anymore. Adam told her that John had gone to the Winsor Group early in the morning, and it was said that there was an important meeting that day.

When her husband was away, she felt that she needed to give him something. Thinking that it's not easy for him to agree on her, being able to go back to school, she should do something, so she made a hamburger for him.

She spent the morning making hamburgers. When the afternoon came, she couldn't find anything to do anymore.

She decided to have a stroll so she said, "Mr. Smith, I want to go out for a walk."

Adam's face was embarrassed when he said, "The master was at the company, maybe you should wait for him."

"I know, I'll just walk around the town."

Adam thought John loved her so much that if she wanted to go out, he would agree. The whole town was bought by the Winsor family, which was his private property and it is very safe.

"Well, madam, I'll send someone to follow and protect you. It's for your safety."

She hurriedly waved her hand. "No, it's inconvenient. I will buy girls' stuff. I'll go to the nearest store and come back after buying what I need."

"Then I'll ask a maid to follow you." He said.

She had to compromise for her to be allowed to go out.

The Winsor family is also very strict with maids, and they can't go out casually, so the maids are very happy to assist her. The maid she was with was named coco, she was two years older than her.

At the store, Ceres bought some snacks and some sanitary napkins, but there was nothing else to buy.

Coco went to the bathroom so she decided to wait for her in front of the store. At that time, a car suddenly appeared, and before she could react, several men dragged her into the car!

Chapter 67 Selection of President

At the Winsor Group.

The meeting room was in a mess, and the board members looked solemn. Everyone didn't know why Chairman Jack suddenly held an emergency meeting.

The last time such a formal board meeting was held, it was the time to announce the new president.

"You said that the chairman suddenly summoned us to come to the meeting today. What is the purpose?"

"I don't know, I still feel inexplicable when I received the call, but I think it is probably related to the position of president."

"Apart from announcing the new president, it is estimated that there is nothing else important. This president should still be the second young Mr. Johnny. I heard that the young Mr. Johnny can't still walk, and the chairman should not appoint him."

"That's not necessarily true. Mr. Johnny must still be in charge of the company. His experience and talents are unmatched by Mr. Henry. His situation won't affect him run the company."

"I see that you have your bets."

While everyone was discussing, John and Henry appeared in the conference room. Henry was always respectful and filial in front of other people. When he saw his brother, he immediately pushed Johnny into the wheelchair.

"Johnny, how's your recovery recently?"

"Thanks to you, it went smoothly." He replied. He never liked Henry's style.

"You should cultivate well Johnny for you to walk again. Be extra careful from today onwards."

Henry was spiting words that were full of meaning while John's eyebrows were frowning. He didn't understand what he meant.

Everyone is seated, and Jack was sitting in the position of chairman.

"I believe that everyone is very curious about what the emergency meeting is for today. I will make the long story short. Because of the last emergency meeting, the presidential candidate was not announced. Therefore, the emergency meeting today is to announce the candidate for the position of president of the Winsor Group."

Henry immediately sat up straight. If Jack announced after John had recovered, he had no other advantages besides his shares. But seeing that he was still in a wheelchair. He was so concerned for the Winsor Group and for the face of the Winsors that he couldn't choose a disabled person to sit in the president's office.

John was expressionless. To be honest, he didn't know what his father was trying to do, so he could only let it go.

He took things as they come.

Everyone held their breath.

"I announce that the next president of the Winsor Group is ——John."

When Jack said John's name, everyone was taken aback. Henry was also shocked by the revelation!

He chose a disabled person instead of him who could perfectly do the job!

John was still motionless.

"Why? Do you have any objection to my decision?" Jack said with a cold voice. When he saw how shocked the board members are.

Everyone looked at each other. Someone raised his hands. "Chairman, I don't think this is appropriate. Although the young Mr. Johnny has made great contributions to the Winsor Group before, he has been lying in bed for three years. In the past three years, many changes have taken place in the company. He just woke up and suddenly he will take over the company. Is that appropriate?"

Henry's heart finally had some expectations. He had been wooing people for three years. That was the moment he would want to witness.

"The second young master worked hard for three years. He should have some credit for his works. He should be the next president."

"I agree. The first master was still recovering and was still in the wheelchair. It will affect the company's reputation. I also hope that the chairman will think twice."

.....

The other board member also started to protest.

Henry kept quiet, and neither did John.

Jack glanced at John and suddenly coughed, and everyone immediately quieted down.

"This is my decision. If there is any problem, I will bear the consequences. That's settled!"

Jack was going his own way.

Henry thought about it and looked at his father, and even if everyone opposed it, he still supported John. What a deep affection between father and son!

Jack was the chairman of the board. No matter how much they opposed it, it was still just a proposal, which could not play a decisive role.

Henry had to applaud the other board members. He even turned to smile and said, "Johny, congratulations!"

John squinted at him and said nothing.

"Henry has worked hard as acting president during the past three years, so he will continue to be your vice president. The specific business and department in charge are the same as before. You two go back and make a handover."

Finally, Jack's eyes fell on him. "Johny, don't let me down."

John just nodded slightly.

"Okay, that's it. The meeting is over."

Jack finished the meeting with a few short words.

They all congratulated him and wished him well. When things had become a foregone conclusion, they could only let it go.

Henry went back to his office where he had been sitting for three years, looked at the chair, and dropped his fist on the table.

How could he calm down!

He couldn't believe that he would put him in that position!

At that time, Ben and John appeared at the door of the president's office, Henry didn't need to disguise. He snorted coldly, and his words were full of disdain.

"You are really lucky, a person with disabled legs can easily sit in this position!" Henry greeted his teeth because he couldn't do anything to protest.

"Pack your things and go back to your own office." John was expressionless as if he was giving orders.

He did have the right to give orders. After all, he was the president, and Henry was only his vice president. He had to obey his dispatch in the future.

Henry didn't make any work handover but sent someone to pick up his things. When he passed by John, he suddenly stopped.

"You'd better live longer, or you won't see the Winsor Group's prosperous life." Henry quickly left the president's office.

John sent someone to renovate the president's office and went back to Evian Town. On the way, he kept thinking about what Henry said in the conference room.

"You should cultivate well Johny for you to walk again. Be extra careful from today onwards."

He wouldn't say such a thing for no reason.

So, he asked the driver to drive faster and returned to Evian Town. As soon as he entered the house, Adam came in a hurry. "Mr. Johny, your wife is missing!"

Chapter 68 Reward Her to You

"What happened?"

Coco, the servant, had been crying. She was young and new. She knew that it was not so simple to work for Ceres. Now, she went out with her, but she was gone, so she was naturally afraid.

"Don't cry, say it well! It's important to find her now!"

Adam shouted at her.

Coco sobbed and said, "Mrs. Winsor and I went to the convenience store to buy things. I said I will just go to the bathroom and let her help me with things. Who knew that when I came out, she disappeared!"

Coco began to cry again, and she didn't know what to do.

"Did anyone follow you when you went to the convenience store?"

Coco shook her head.

John thought to forget it and didn't ask anything from her anymore. The servant was too young to be frightened.

"Mr. Johny, I have sent someone out to look for her, but there is no news at the moment. Do you think she escaped?"

Adam noticed Ceres was unhappy recently.

Maybe she got tired of her present life and ran away.

John shook his head. "No."

Ceres was a smart person. She naturally knew that she couldn't escape from the palm of the Winsors family, so she wouldn't do such a senseless thing.

So, there was only one possibility, and that was kidnapping.

"Check the monitoring and find something for me!"

John's mind remembered Henry's words. This was probably what he said. In fact, he also had some precautions. Knowing that Ceres annoyed Henry last time, Henry would not give up. If Ceres really fell into Henry's hands, the consequences would be unimaginable!

Ceres was tied up and lying in the corner of the warehouse. When she got in the car, she was drugged and fainted, and she didn't know where she was currently.

She sat up with difficulty, and there was something she bought with Coco. She only bought some snacks and sanitary napkins, which were definitely useless. She didn't know what was in Coco's bag.

She moved her body, and finally hooked Coco's bag with her fingers. Fortunately, Coco's bag was hand-sewn, with only one rope, which could be opened with a finger.

There was a bottle of lotion for women in it. It was probably Coco or any servant at home who had inflammation, so she asked Coco to help her and bring it for her. There was also an ointment, some sanitary napkins, and something like that, but others were gone.

The sweat on Ceres's forehead dripped down, she found nothing. There was no blade or anything like that. How could she untie the rope?

At that time, she suddenly heard someone talking outside.

"Where's that bitch?"

Ceres immediately recognized that it was Henry's voice, and he seemed to be still angry. Too bad for her, Henry was the one who kidnapped her. She had already made trouble with Henry before, and she could not escape.

"Second young master, she's inside."

The door was suddenly kicked in.

"Today, I wanted to play with his woman! She disrespected me so much, and so, I will play his woman to death! "

Henry came in and saw a woman curled up in the corner. To be honest, the last time he saw Ceres, it was amazing. How many men didn't like beautiful women, especially John's?

He touched his chin and approached Ceres step by step. "Little sister-in-law, we met again!"

Ceres lowered her head and suddenly sobbed.

"Please let me go, let me go. I don't know anything, I am a happy bride, and I really don't know anything else!"

At the sight of this side of her, Henry couldn't say how excited he was.

"Oh, this is it. You gave me two slaps with sharp teeth and mouth that day! Hmm? "

Henry went over and grabbed Ceres's hair. When he saw her face, he let her go instantly.

That big red spot really startled him!

"Who are you?"

Ceres quickly lowered her head. "My name is Ceres."

"No!"

Henry was frightened by the red spot. He was used to seeing so many beautiful women, so she really scared him.

He remembered Mary told him that her half-sister did have a large red spot on her face, so the woman he saw last time was really a facade?

"Sorry, I didn't mean to scare you. I look like this. I really don't know anything. Let me go."

Ceres deliberately spoke with a tiny voice, which made her voice sound delicate and made people feel distressed.

"Fuck! This John actually played me! "

Henry looked at the servile appearance of the woman in front of him and decided that this was not the woman from that day. There was a great strength between the eyebrows of the woman that day, unlike this woman now who was only fragile.

"I was the one who gave John joy at the beginning. He woke up and thought I was ugly and ignored me. I really don't know anything. Please let me go."

Henry was really getting annoyed. He thought he could sleep with John's woman, but he didn't expect to get an ugly one!

But Henry didn't want to let it go.

"I'll give her to you for fun!"

"Don't! Please don't! I'm on my red day, and the reason why I went out today is to buy medicine! Look inside my bag."

A man picked up her bag quickly, opened it, a bottle of lotion and a tube of ointment were there.

"Second young master, look, this woman ... is really dirty."

"Disgusting!" The man dropped her bag directly on the ground.

"Second young master, let's send her back to John and let this woman pass it on to John!"

"Do you think John will touch her?"

Henry looked at her with disgust. "It's just a small creature. Let's go, I'm getting sick of her! Roll, roll!"

He really didn't want to look at her, and he felt sick.

The men untied Ceres, and she started running.

Henry kicked over a stool. How could he be so angry?

"You losers, why can't you do a job so simple?" Henry slapped his men.

His men were also very helpless. "We just heard the servant always calling her Mrs. Winsor. We thought it was her."

At that time, people were still thinking, why did Henry suddenly have such a heavy taste!

Suddenly, Henry's phone rang, and when he saw the number, it was John.

It was really strange.

"Hello."

"Give her to me!"

John roared over the phone.

Henry smiled. "Who are you talking about, my good Johnny? Why can't I understand what you mean?"

Chapter 69 Escape from Johnny

"Don't play dumb with me! Henry, I'll tell you, if you lay a finger on her, I'll make your life a living hell!"

John finished the sentence savagely and hung up the phone.

Henry hesitated for a moment still holding his phone, then his eyes suddenly enlarged.

Damn, that woman!

"Get that woman back for me!"

His men looked puzzled then asked, "Second young master, that ugly woman, do you still want her?"

"Don't you dare ask me if I'm sure, hurry up and chase her!" Henry roared.

When he received the call, he realized that the woman was probably just pretending.

Anyway, that woman must've had a very important role in John's heart, otherwise, he would never call him personally to find someone.

He and John grew up together, and it was his first time to see John lose his temper.

It seemed that the ugly woman's position in John's heart was not simple.

Although his minions didn't understand, they immediately obliged and started chasing Ceres.

John released the call, frowning. He looked out of the window. It was already dark outside. All he could think about was that what his fucking Johnny would do to Ceres.

He was helpless, otherwise, he would never call Henry, because, in that way, all would be exposed.

Ceres ran on the road. She didn't know when she had lost her shoes. She was barefoot and couldn't care if it hurt. She only felt the wind whistling in her ears.

She must run because her little tricks couldn't fool Henry for long. Once Henry got bored, she would definitely die!

She suddenly stopped, she was confused and didn't know where she was.

Suddenly she heard the sound of a car behind her. It was too bad for her that they caught up so quickly.

She quickly turned to a corner and found a haystack, then she quickly hid behind it. She couldn't outrun a car with two legs, so she simply hid and looked at the situation first.

She gasped and tried to calm herself down.

She could only hope that those fools wouldn't find her.

The car stopped beside the haystack, and several people got off.

"I just saw a figure here, but it disappeared immediately!"

"That woman runs faster than a rabbit!"

Ceres muttered in her heart, 'I wish I could run faster than rabbits!'

"Look at both sides, she shouldn't be far."

The gang began to search the small area.

The light of the flashlight shot up towards her then someone said, "Oh damn, that woman couldn't hide here. This is a graveyard! In the middle of the night, if she's here, that woman must be scared to death."

Ceres suddenly widened her eyes and reached out to touch what's in front of her. 'This was not a haystack, this is a tomb!' She exclaimed in her heart.

"I am afraid here, let's hurry."

The gang probably felt that this large burial site was strange to people, and all of them felt afraid, not to mention Ceres, a little girl.

The sound of cars went away.

Ceres quickly fled, and did not forget to bow.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm trying to escape and didn't want to disturb you. I'll come here to burn paper for you later!"

After she finished speaking, she ran.

Ceres was really fearless when she was a child, but she was afraid of thunder, ghosts, and water.

She ran so fast that she felt like she was going to fly.

Halfway through, she suddenly remembered, why did the gang chase in that direction?

They must have suspected that she ran away to Evian Town, so they chased her here to Evian Town.

That's why Evian Town should be in that direction.

As the saying goes, the most dangerous place was the safest place, and she should not be too far away from Evian Town.

It was precisely because it was in John's sight that they would think John never thought of it.

Ceres didn't go that way immediately, and an idea suddenly flashed through her mind.

Did she want to escape?

Maybe this was her only chance to escape, escape from here, escape from John.

At that moment, she did hesitate, but she turned her head to think, where would she go?

When the time came, if she ran away by herself, Mike didn't have any threat, and things on her dad's side would definitely be put on hold.

Anyway, she was of value to John, and he would definitely shelter her.

With this in mind, Ceres decided to return to Evian Town.

It's just that she copied a path and ran away.

The gang drove, and it didn't take much time to turn around immediately after chasing the wrong road. She only had two legs, so she had to run fast!

At that time, the atmosphere in the villa was depressing and people were tired.

John clenched his fists with both hands, which made his veins stand out.

Adam realized he shouldn't have let Ceres out.

He poured John a glass of water. "Please drink some water first, young master. You see, your mouth is too dry."

At that time, he went down and reported, "Mr. Johnny, I still haven't found Mrs. Winsor. We followed the surveillance video and chased in that direction, always looking for her, but there was nothing."

John dropped the cup in his hand angrily, because the investigation was taking so long.

If he couldn't find her now, it meant that Henry had hidden her already or smuggled her somewhere, and Evian Town was sparsely populated, which was really hard if they were to look for her there.

One more second and Ceres would be in more danger.

With Henry's hate for him, with Ceres's slaps on Henry, and with Henry's personality, it was enough for him to bring Ceres down!

No, he couldn't wait!

"Arrange some people, I want to go to him and talk to him personally!"

John finally made up his mind. Although he knew what he would show by going to Henry himself, he couldn't care less.

At that time, someone suddenly shouted outside, "Mrs. Winsor is back!"

Everyone looked outside and saw a thin figure stumbling in.

It's really Ceres!

Her hair was messy, and she was soaked with sweat. She was out of breath, and her whole body seemed to collapse.

John was relieved that his woman came back, but he suddenly frowned.

"Where did you go?!"

That roar scared everyone into a tingle. Everyone just looked at John in such a hurry. They thought he would be happy if Ceres came back. They didn't expect him to be furious again.

Ceres looked at him, and at that moment he was full of despair.

In this period of time, she escaped from danger several times. Experienced almost being ruined, experienced the fright in the graveyard, and experienced almost vomiting blood. She thought that someone would comfort her when she came back, but she was scolded again!

If she only knew, she should have just run away!

Why did she come back?

Ceres suddenly sat on the ground and burst into tears!
