

The Oracle Paths

Volume 3: The Oracle Cities

Chapter 288 - Playful Sarah

‘Did you follow me?’ Jake asked with a disapproving twinge of his lip. After the previous sleepless night, he didn’t think she would have the energy to leave the clearing.

‘Yes, I did,’ She admitted without flinching. ‘After the last two nights, I was suffocating in that clearing. I want to train with you today.’

‘What? I don’t think there’s enough prey for both of us if we stay this close to each other. Wait! Are you listening to me?!’

Regardless of whether or not he truly agreed, Sarah nonchalantly began to undress beside him, throwing her clothes on top of each other to form a disharmonious heap. In a few casual movements, repeated over and over again, she had gotten rid of her last clothes and unlike Jake she was completely nàkèd.

Seeing this nude scene, Jake swallowed his saliva with difficulty. Pineapple Pizza, Pineapple Pizza... He hurried to invoke the traumatic image he had constructed to control his urges. Faced with this reaction, Sarah scoffed, then plunged into the water shouting ‘You can watch as much as you want’, not forgetting to give him one last teasing wink.

Even the way she swam was enticing...

She thought Jake would follow her and that she would be able to tease him all day, but he just vanished underground and never resurfaced. After a few minutes, she realized that Jake was really gone, and she punched the water angrily, scaring away the only shark she had managed to attract.

About two hours later, Jake reappeared on the beach with a newfound calmness and Sarah noticed that he was soaking wet too. Sarah understood that he too had been in the water since the beginning. As she swam to shore, she couldn't help but ask the question that had been bugging her.

'Don't tell me you've been underwater all this time?'

'That's right. Specifically, I was exploring the abyss.' He said with a smug face.

Sarah's eyes widened when she heard that this was the truth, but her désiré to tease him was stronger.

'Too bad... I thought you were looking at me from underneath for a better view.'

'Cough, cough. It's just your imagination.' Jake looked away and decisively chose to avoid this femme fatale's trap by going back into the water.

'Wait, wait, wait, wait! I promise I'll stop!' Sarah panicked when she saw that he wasn't taking the bait. She hated men playing hard to get. 'Can you at least take me with you so I can unlock the abyss exploration feat?'

Jake, who was about to disappear again, remained motionless for a few seconds, seeming to inspect something in the cloudless sky. She didn't know if he had heard her.

As unlikely as it may seem, at this moment he was thinking the sky had gotten darker. The sun's brightness seemed dimmer, as if it shone less, or rather as if it was more distant. He hadn't noticed this the day before, but the drop in temperature of the last few days was certainly not accidental.

Sarah followed his gaze, but saw nothing special except a slightly darker sky than usual. This was worth noting, but it was still early and it could also be considered as a normal climatic phenomenon linked to a change of season. Unless Jake could see signs of a future storm of the same magnitude as the previous one, there was nothing to worry about.

In the end, Jake abandoned the idea of inferring anything from this anomaly and he remembered the young woman's request. Deep down, he was pretty sure he would regret it, but he still agreed, feeling that he couldn't always push others away.

'I can try. But in order for me not to exhaust myself, we're going to have to get as close to each other physically as possible, so please control yourself.'

Seeing his judgmental look as if he was dealing with a degenerate, depraved woman, Sarah felt deeply stifled inside. Did he really think she was a slut? But for the greater good, she just smiled and promised she would behave herself.

In fact, even she thought she was going too far. Usually it was men who came to her, not the other way around. She had no recollection in her past life where she had been so sèx-starved. On the other hand, it had been almost six months since she had slept with anyone. Fucking apocalypse!

Jake still had doubts, but he decided to trust her. She walked up to him and wrapped her arms around his chest with no ulterior motive. She stared into his eyes, keeping her face as indifferent as possible, then she whispered,

'I'm ready.'

‘Okay, here we go...’ Jake muttered in a dry voice. The young woman was still nàkèd and the sight on her cleavage was a feast for the eyes.

Before he could fully appreciate how soft and enthralling the two spongy masses against his Chèst were, he dived underground with Sarah and proceeded to split the surface of the ocean floor as fast as he could so as not to be distracted.

Jake didn’t know what Sarah could endure in terms of pressure, but human apnea champions could easily reach 100 meters deep, so 1000m had to be child’s play for an Evolver like her.

‘What the fuçk are you doing?’ Jake asked telepathically, pinching her buççòçks to call her to order.

‘I feel claustrophobic underground like this...’ Sarah justified herself hastily before regaining her stillness.

Then a few seconds later, she began to wiggle again. Naturally, it didn’t take long for little Jake to stand up to attention. And Sarah, being the enticing woman that she was, didn’t miss this opportunity.

‘What’s that I feel poking against my belly buççon?’ She asked in a deceptively bashful manner.

‘I don’t know. Probably my big machete.’ Jake lied without hesitation.

Spurt!

When Sarah grabbed his manhood, Jake lost control of the earth around him and spat all the air into his lungs. Because of this, he accidentally swallowed salt water and the earth around them almost engulfed them. At the brink of drowning, Jake made his way back as fast as he could and threw the young woman back onto the beach.

Watching him spit out liter after liter of water, Sarah realized that she may have been messing around, but her smirk and laughing eyes revealed that she was b̄ar̄ely holding back from laughing. After a while, she couldn't help it and she burst out laughing.

If he stayed next to this suĀĀubus, the next time would be the last. Just then, he had nearly drowned. He had seen his life flash before his eyes and if his last memory was to remain that of the young blonde's mocking puppy face, his mind would never be at peace.

He was dying for revenge, but one look at the young woman staring at him while biting her lower lip made him understand that this was exactly what she was waiting for.

On the verge of exploding inside, he could only do what he did best. Keeping his distance.

For a long time, the young woman remained alone on the beach with a flushed face in the hope that Jake would come back, but it was a lost cause. As aroused as she was, she foolishly waited for him for almost half an hour, and then sadly realized that she had scared him off.

In the end, she had to resign herself to masturbate all alone in order to appease her burning body, but not without an intense sense of frustration. When had she been pussyblocked in her life? Never...

Seeing that he was serious and that she had missed her chance, she finally calmed down and started hunting seriously.

The day went by without any new twists and in the middle of the afternoon she decided to return to the clearing without him. After all, he was a big boy. He could take care of himself.
