Jennifer's POV:

My room was near Linda's.

I heard a strange noise, so I went out to check what was happening, only to find out that Linda had only just come back.

What had she been doing out so late at night? Moreover, why did it look like she was sneaking in? My intuition told me that something was wrong, so I secretly followed her.

Standing outside Linda's room, I eavesdropped on the conversation between her and her son.

I heard Andy ask Linda how many fathers he had.

What did he mean? But what surprised me the most was not his question, but Linda's response.

She immediately shushed Andy, as if she was afraid that someone would hear.

Was she trying to hide something? Werewolves had a heightened sense of smell.

I knew Linda would find out that I was outside her bedroom if I lingered here too long, so I hurried back to my room.

After returning to my room, I couldn't get the conversation I'd just heard out of my head.

Did it mean that my brother was not Andy's biological father? But in that case, how could Linda dare to go ahead with the paternity test? Or was I just jumping to wrong conclusions? Whatever it was, I had a strong feeling that things were not as simple as they seemed.

After all, Linda had disappeared for many years.

Who knew what had happened during those years? For the time being, there was nothing I could do except wait for the paternity test result to come out.

It was already two o'clock in the morning.

Anthony was still taking a shower in the bathroom.

Through the transparent glass door of the bathroom, I could see the water running over his naked body, sending a jolt of electricity through me.

“Anthony, I want to join you.”

Stripping off my clothes, I walked into the bathroom and hugged him.

“How about we take a bath together?”

Looking at me with a smile of pleasant surprise, Anthony nodded.

After filling the bathtub with water, the two of us sank inside comfortably, facing each other.

I ran my hands through the warm water, and then leaned against his chest and twisted in his arms.

“Look how enthusiastic you are,”

Anthony teased, cupping my breasts and gently rubbing them.

“Jennifer, do you want to make love in the bathtub?”

The thought alone made heat rise within my body, and I couldn't help but swing my waist, rubbing my butt against his cock.

As I kept shifting on his lap, his cock stiffened, stabbing my thigh and evoking an involuntary moan from my lips.

I gripped the edges of the bathtub with my hands and lifted my crotch slightly, letting it hover right over his erect cock before sitting down.

His long and thick cock entered my pussy in one swift motion, making me scream and collapse in his arms, gasping for breath.

In this position, his cock was able to reach the deepest part of me.

The strong sense of pleasure that coursed through my nerves made me tremble all over.

“Babe, move.” Anthony patted me on the butt.

“I want to Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! head and looked at him in confusion with blurred eyes.

“You're a good girl, aren't you? Move by yourself.” Anthony snickered and bit my lip. I Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! and bit my lower lip shyly.

Under his encouraging gaze, I moved up and down slowly, as if I was riding a horse.

Every time I moved up, the tip of his cock would slide over my labia and poke my sensitive clit, making me wetter and wetter.

And every time I moved back down, his thick burning cock would fill me up completely.

“Argh, it’s so big. Anthony, your cock is so hard. I like it so much.”

Fluttering my eyelashes, I let out a seductive moan.

Then, I Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! them and letting my fingertips slowly massage my nipples.

The whole time, I maintained eye contact with Anthony.

The evident pleasure on his face excited me even more.

“Babe, you’re so hot. That’s it. It feels so good. Yes, move faster.”

Anthony squeezed my buttocks with his hands and thrust forward in rhythm with my movements.

His cock kept pushing me higher and higher, making me feel as if I was about to fly to the clouds.

The warmth of the water we were immersed in made the sex feel pleasant.

Anthony Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! forth inside me while kissing and biting me everywhere, before we both reached the climax at the same time.

“Oh, my God! Anthony, I’m coming...”

I could barely form a coherent sentence as hot cum poured into my pussy.

I shut my eyes tight and screamed loudly, letting the waves of pleasure ride over me.

Once we both caught our breaths, we took a proper bath together before reluctantly going back to bed.

“Jennifer, are you tired?”

Anthony asked, wrapping his arm around my waist and kissing my ear.

"Not really." I nestled in his arms.

"I have something to tell you. I saw that Linda only came back about half an hour ago. She was acting weird, so I followed her. I heard her say something strange to Andy. The boy asked her how many fathers he had, but she shushed him and told him to not talk nonsense. What do you think it means?"

"Honey, do you suspect that Andy is not Jerome's child? I don't blame you, but let's see the result of the paternity test first. Anyway, be careful of Linda. Don't trust her blindly,"

Anthony advised with a frown.

"Yeah, you're right. I'm a little worried about my brother. I want to stay here at the Rainbow House for a while longer. I'll go back with you after the matter with Linda is settled, okay?"

I acted like a spoiled child in front of Anthony.

"Of course, honey. Whatever you say."

Anthony planted a kiss on my forehead.

"Go to sleep. It's getting late."

"Anthony, you are so good to me."

With a content smile, I drifted off to a peaceful sleep in his arms.

Skylar's POV:

I had been waiting anxiously for three days.

Finally, the moment I was dreading arrived; the result of the paternity test was out.

Everyone gathered in the hall, waiting for Jerome to announce the result.

The expression on his face was unreadable as he put his hand inside the folder and took out the report.

"The paternity test report came out. It turns out that Andy really is my son,"

Jerome said slowly, staring down at the report.

The words from his mouth left me thunderstruck.

Up till this moment, I had still been clutching on to a last sliver of hope.

But now that Andy really was Jerome's biological son.

I suddenly felt like the villain who destroyed a happy family.

God, what was I supposed to do? At this time, under everyone's stunned gaze, Linda walked up to me and knelt down in front of me, holding Andy's hand.

"Skylar, I know that our existence has caused you a lot of trouble. I'm sorry. But I beg you, please give us a place to stay. If not for me, then at least for this child. I know my place. I won't ever compete with you for Jerome's love. Can you please just take me and Andy in? Andy needs a father," she cried pitifully, begging me on her knees.

Why did I feel like I was a sinner?

"I'm sorry. I need to go and clear my head first. Please get up. You don't have to do this."

My mind was in a mess.

After helping Linda up to her feet, I ran out to the garden without looking back.

My legs were so weak that after I left the house, I staggered the rest of the way.

I collapsed onto a stone bench in the garden, with tears streaming down uncontrollably from my eyes.

Tears were for the weak.

I knew I shouldn't cry.

And yet... why did it hurt so much? I felt like my heart had been stabbed with a thousand knives.

My shoulders shook with sobs, and I clutched my chest.

"Skylar!"

Jerome called out to me just moments later.

It seemed that he had chased after me.

Letting out an exasperated sigh, he said, "Please don't be like this. Come on, cheer up. I didn't know that Linda was pregnant when she left. I had no idea that I had a child until now. You know I would never willingly hurt you. Can you accept my past?"

"Even if I'm willing to do that, how can I stay by your side, Jerome? Linda won't let you go. She has come back with your child. I should give you back to her."

I shook my head and smiled bitterly.

“Skylar, don’t you still love me?”

Jerome asked softly, staring at me with affection in his eyes.

“Of course I do. But I don’t want to be a monster who destroys a family! You know what? I feel like a third party in my own relationship. You’ve no idea how much I hate myself right now!”

I reached up and tugged my hair with a groan.

“No, you didn’t do anything wrong. Don’t blame yourself.”

Jerome held me in his arms and tried his best to comfort me.

But no matter what he said, I couldn’t stop the self-deprecating thoughts that flooded my mind.

The result of the paternity test had crushed my one last remaining hope.

How could I stay calm after this? Even if I married Jerome, I would never be able to live with a clear conscience.

My heart would always be heavy with regret.

“Skylar, listen to me. We will be fine. Trust me, okay?”

Jerome said desperately, still trying to persuade me.

I wiped my tears away and took a deep breath to compose myself.

“That’s it. Take good care of Linda and Andy. Don’t let them suffer. I’m going back to my room. Don’t follow me. I need some time alone. I have to carefully think about our relationship.”

I pushed him away, not daring to even look into his eyes in case I changed my mind.

Holding back my tears, I turned around and ran away.

Jennifer’s POV:

When Jerome announced the result of the paternity test, I secretly observed Linda's reaction.

I had always found her somewhat suspicious, but part of me hoped that I was thinking too much.

However, I saw the flicker of a complacent smile on her face after Skylar left.

I was sure about it.

Was she trying to get Skylar to leave willingly and have Jerome all to herself? If my guess was right, then I'd never let Linda go for deceiving two of the most important people in my life.

Moreover, Skylar was simple and innocent, but she was loyal and a great friend.

She was a perfect match for my brother.

I couldn't allow any scheming woman to come between them.

"Jennifer, I don't know what to do. Skylar locked herself in her room, refusing to talk to me. Ever since she found out the result of the paternity test, she shut me out. No matter what I say to persuade her, she doesn't care,"

Jerome told me, letting out a groan of frustration.

"Jerome, you should understand Skylar's feelings. It's hard enough for a woman to accept her mate's ex entering their lives. After finding out that Andy is indeed your child, she must feel like a third party."

I sighed and patted Jerome on the shoulder.

"But don't worry. I know how much she loves you. I firmly believe that you two will be able to cross this bridge. How about this? I'll visit Skylar later and talk to her."

"Jennifer, please. If things go on like this, I will be really worried about her."

Jerome massaged the space between his eyebrows, and there was a tired look in his eyes.

"Jerome, did I do something wrong? Is Skylar angry with me?"

Linda asked guiltily, walking over to us.

"I knew I shouldn't have appeared. It's my mistake for coming here. You and Skylar were a perfect couple. It's all my fault that your relationship is a mess."

"Linda, don't say that. Skylar is not angry with you. Don't get her wrong. I already feel bad that you and Andy had to suffer for so long. Don't worry. I'll take care of Andy. After all, he is my child,"

Jerome said, comforting Linda.

"I'm the one who left back then. You don't owe me or Andy anything, and you don't have to feel sorry for us. I'm fine. You should go after Skylar. Don't neglect her because of me. After all, you two are mates. I hope you can be happy together."

I could tell that beneath Linda's kind and broad-minded words lay a calculative intent.

"Linda, you're so considerate. The more understanding you are, the more ashamed I feel,"

Jerome said.

Sure enough, he felt guilty towards Linda.

"Linda, do you want to be my sister-in-law?" I asked.

I couldn't stand seeing her manipulate my brother like this.

"No, no, not at all. Jennifer, you must be kidding. I wouldn't dare to have such an inappropriate idea!"

Linda shook her head fervently and waved her hands, with a slightly flustered expression.

But I had a feeling Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! think it's an inappropriate idea? Tell me, where were you all these years after you disappeared? How was your life? Did you Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! lot of questions. I hope you don't mind."

As I spoke, I maintained a gentle and friendly smile on my face, but my questions were sharp.

"I...I lived a hard life after leaving Jerome. It was only for the sake of the baby that I held on. I wanted to give birth to him and raise him up,"

Linda stammered after a moment of stunned silence.

Her face had gone pale.

"Jennifer, I swear on my life that the only man I've been with is Jerome. He's the only one I've Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! anyone else."

"Linda, I was just casually asking you. There's no need to be so nervous. By the way, I like Andy a lot. He's so cute! Can I take him out for a while?"

I turned to Andy with a bright smile.

Linda's response didn't convince me at all.

If I could get a chance to talk to Andy alone, I might be able to learn more about Linda's past through him.

"Of course."

Linda agreed to my request, but there was a note of reluctance in her voice.

With her Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! a walk.

Before leaving, I specially reminded Jerome to handle the situation with Linda and Skylar carefully.

Anthony's POV:

Jennifer dragged me out of the house to go for a walk with the three-year-old Andy.

I knew that my mate was up to something, but I couldn't figure out what was on her mind.

"Honey, why did you suddenly want to take Andy out?"

I grabbed Jennifer's arm and asked her in a low voice when we passed by a candy shop and the little boy was distracted enough.

"I find Linda really suspicious. Since I can't get any information from her, maybe I can find out something from Andy."

Jennifer shot me a playful wink.

My mate was really clever and creative.

I would never dare to get on her bad side.

No matter what she wanted to do, I would try my best to cooperate with her.

Even now, I went shopping with them and carried all their shopping bags without uttering a single complaint.

In fact, I enjoyed watching Jennifer and Andy interacting with each other.

Jennifer spoke to Andy in a sweet and caring way.

At first, the little boy seemed to feel a little awkward and uneasy, but gradually, he warmed up to her.

Along the way, Jennifer bought him a lot of things, including lollipops, toys, and cakes.

I was only responsible for paying the bills and carrying the shopping bags for them.

As I watched the two of them getting along well, a thought popped up into my mind.

What would my children with Jennifer be like? It would be wonderful for us to live with our children in the future, right?

“What, are you interested in becoming a father? Thinking about it is meaningless. You should just take action. Jennifer is beautiful, so your children will be beautiful too. Have a child with her as soon as possible,”

Zane, my wolf, said to me in my mind.

“We’re not even married yet. I have to be a responsible mate. I can’t get her pregnant before marriage,”

I replied, rejecting Zane’s idea.

“Wow, you’re so uptight. What’s wrong with getting pregnant before marriage? The earlier you get Jennifer pregnant, the earlier your mother will have a grandchild. Who knows, she might recover,”

Zane continued to urge me.

I couldn’t deny that I was tempted by his words.

I was indeed eager to have a lovely baby with Jennifer, but that only made me want to marry her as soon as possible.

After a while of wandering around shopping, we took Andy to an amusement park.

On the merry-go-round, Jennifer sat holding the child, while I sat next to them.

This was a good chance.

Smart as she was, Jennifer finally began to put her plan into action.

“Andy, do you like playing with me?”

Jennifer asked, shaking a lollipop in front of the boy.

“Yes! Jennifer, you’re so sweet.”

Andy nodded and looked at the lollipop with eager eyes.

Jennifer handed him the lollipop and chatted with him a while more before suddenly changing the topic.

“Andy, how did you and your mother live before this? It must have been difficult for her to raise you alone, right?”

Jennifer’s tone was casual, with a trace of concern.

“Nah, it wasn’t that bad. We lived quite a good life. Mom took me to the Lavender Pack. The Alpha and the werewolves there were very good to us. But after a while, Mom started crying a lot. I don’t know why. Then one day, she suddenly left and brought me here to the Rainbow Pack.”

As if realizing what he had said, Andy widened his eyes and covered his mouth with regret.

“I can’t say anything more. Please don’t tell anyone about what I said.”

“Why?”

Jennifer asked with a frown.

“Mom asked me not to tell anyone. I don’t know why.”

Andy scratched his head and began to focus on sucking the lollipop.

Then, he fell into silence.

No matter what Jennifer asked after that, Andy refused to answer her. It seemed that Jennifer was right.

Linda was indeed not simple. What secret was she hiding?

Jennifer's POV:

We hung out with Andy until the sun went down.

Although he had grown comfortable with me, I still couldn't glean any useful information from him.

I didn't expect a three-year-old child would be so careful with what he talked about.

Linda must've told him not to say anything.

Nevertheless, I still firmly believed she was hiding something.

But what could be so damning that she had to hide it from everyone? When we got back to the Rainbow Pack, we took Andy to Linda's room.

"We're back, Linda! Andy's so cute. Anthony and I have both grown very fond of him. We had a great time."

I smiled and ruffled Andy's hair.

"It must've been hard for you to raise Andy alone, Linda. By the way, which pack did you live in?"

"We went to the Red Sun Pack first, where we found a doctor who helped cure my disease. Then, I took Andy to the Rainbow Pack and we've been wandering around here ever since."

Linda's tone was calm and her face betrayed nothing.

If Andy hadn't mentioned the Lavender Pack today, I would have believed what she said.

She was a good actress.

I needed to be wary of any tricks she might play.

Out loud, I said with a smile, "You're a good mother and you've raised Andy well. You're strong-willed, too. It's no wonder my brother fell for you in the past."

"Thank you, Jennifer. I'm sure I'm nowhere near as strong as you, though,"

Linda said, feigning modesty.

We chatted for a little while longer before bidding each other goodnight.

Anthony and I headed back to our room.

The second we closed the door behind us, I began to talk about Linda with Anthony.

"Anthony, Linda's lying. Andy mentioned that they used to live in the Lavender Pack, but Linda didn't mention it and said they had been staying in the Rainbow Pack for a while now."

I frowned and scratched my chin.

"Plus, I can tell that he's keeping a secret for Linda. No matter how I asked, Andy wouldn't mention anything about their past. I think Linda's hiding something."

"I agree. There is something fishy about Linda. Don't worry. I'll try to help. I'll send my attendants over to the Lavender Pack to investigate a she-wolf named Linda. And if Linda did live there, I'll have them find out everything they can about her stay there. But the Lavender Pack is far. The investigation may take some time."

Anthony gave my hand a reassuring squeeze.

Whenever I faced difficulties, he would stand by my side without hesitation.

I could always count on him to support me.

"Thank you, Anthony. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have known what to do. I just want my brother and Skylar to be happy. If Linda didn't show up out of nowhere, they would've gotten married. Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! are one. Your business is mine. You don't have to think too much about it. I'm here for you."

Anthony wrapped his arms around me and Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! are bound to get married. Jerome and Skylar love each other, and so do we."

"Anthony, I'm so lucky to have you."

Moved by his words, I hugged him back tightly.

His familiar scent was inexplicably comforting, which made me sigh in relief.

All my worries seemed to melt away with him by my side.

He was the brightest light in my life.

Jerome's POV:

Skylar was in a depressed state lately.

She worried me.

So I rushed to her room, only to find that she still locked herself inside.

Worse still, I Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! she hadn't eaten a thing all day.

Was she planning to torture herself? I would rather she beat me up than hurt herself.

I couldn't bear the thought of her going hungry, so I headed to the kitchen to whip her up something to eat—her favorite, a mango cake.

A little while later, I pulled the cake out of the oven, applied the buttercream, then meticulously added mango on top.

I took the plate of cake up to her room and knocked.

"Skylar, open the door. I brought Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! you're not hungry, please eat—for my sake. I know you're in a bad mood, but the cake will make you feel better."

Soon, Skylar opened the door, looking disheveled.

When her eyes landed on the plate of cake in my hand, they welled up with tears.

"You are the future Alpha. Why would you go through the trouble of making a cake for me? Jerome, you are too good to me."

She gratefully took the plate and pulled me into the room.

"The truth is, I'm not angry at you. I locked myself in because I needed to calm down. Linda and Andy's sudden appearance just shocked me too much." sudden appearance just shocked me too much."

"I understand,"

I said, reaching out to stroke her hair.

"But no matter what, you have to eat. When you go hungry, I'm the first one who feels sorry for you, okay? Promise me that you will take good care of yourself from now on. How can I rest easy when you act like this?"

"Got it."

Skylar gnawed her lower lip bashfully.

"I'll listen to you from now on."

"Good girl."

I leaned over and pecked her on the forehead.

"Isn't mango cake your favorite? Let me feed you."

I cut small piece and fed it to her.

Skylar seemed shocked that I would offer to feed her, but she obediently opened her mouth and ate the cake.

As she chewed, her tears started streaming down her cheeks, landing on the plate.

"What's wrong, Skylar? Don't cry."

I put down the fork and hugged her tightly.

"Did I do something wrong? Honey, I hope you can give me a chance. I really don't want to lose you."

"Jerome, you didn't do anything wrong,"

Skylar said in between sobs, throwing herself into my arms.

"I don't want to lose you either. I don't want to leave you. But what about Linda?"

"Baby, do you trust me? I promise you that I will solve that issue soon. In fact, I'll talk to her later."

Seeing her like this broke my heart.

I wiped her tears and sighed heavily.

"I've been making you cry a lot lately. I'm a bad mate. I don't like seeing you cry."

"You must think I'm a crybaby."

Skylar stopped crying and stuck out her tongue at me.

"I'm not that narrow-minded. I'm fine with Andy—he's yours, after all. I don't want to make trouble for you. However, no matter how open-minded I am, I can't share your love with Linda. You're supposed to be mine and mine alone!"

"Skylar, you are getting more and more sensible. I need to make things up to you and set things right."

Hearing what she said, I felt sorry for her.

After everything we had been through together, I could see that she had matured a lot.

"How are you going to make it up to me?"

Skylar whined, acting like a spoiled child.

"Through a kiss, of course."

When I saw her face blush, my heart rate quickened.

I leaned over and kissed her on the lips, licking the cream at the corner of her mouth gently.

"Hmm...Jerome, you're naughty."

Skylar shyly slapped me on the arm and grumbled.

"Who said you could kiss me? You're so annoying!"

"Annoying? Why do I feel that you like my kiss very much?"

I picked up a piece of mango with my lips, pinched her chin and put it in her mouth.

"Baby, your body tells me that you like it very much."

I had never thought that I, who had always been indifferent towards she-wolves, would flirt like this.

Skylar was the one who changed me.

I slipped my arm around her slender waste and kissed her passionately.

The taste of mango lingered in my mouth.

When we pulled away from each other, I finally saw a smile on her face.

Caroline's POV:

I thought about Anthony from time to time while I stayed at Austin's residence to take care of myself during my early pregnancy.

Whenever I thought of the past, my hate towards Jennifer flared anew.

Anthony would have fallen in love with me if it weren't for her.

But no matter what I did, I could not win his heart because he was so obsessed with that bitch.

I hated Jennifer and Anthony.

But because I had loved Anthony all these years, I couldn't bring myself to hurt him.

Austin had asked me many times to team up with him so that we could get rid of Anthony and Jennifer, but I had yet to make up my mind.

I sat in front of the window and pressed a hand over my stomach.

My eyes squinted in happiness as sunlight shone into the room through the window.

At that moment, Austin appeared and handed me a stack of photos.

"Look, Caroline. Here's the latest update."

He wrapped an arm around me and then handed me a random photo.

When I looked down at it, my face paled in fear.

It was a photo of Arthur's bloody corpse after getting shot to death.

His body was on the ground, and his blood was splattered all over.

Anthony and Jennifer stood on one side, holding hands as they watched the execution.

I picked up another photo angrily.

This photo showed Anthony and Jennifer hugging each other in public without any shame.

Were they officially together? Did they make their relationship public? Did Anthony finally decide to believe that Jennifer was his mate? It made me insanely jealous just to think of it.

"Anthony and Jennifer are really something. They worked together to dig up the past and managed to prove that it was Arthur who killed Alpha Lewis, Jennifer's father. Arthur was sentenced to die, and I lost a useful partner. But you know what? They finally made their relationship public. Now all the werewolves in Rainbow Pack know that Jennifer is Anthony's mate."

Austin wrapped his arms around my waist and kissed my earlobe.

"They will probably return to the royal palace to get married. What are you going to do, Caroline? Are you still going to wait for Anthony?"

"He's not coming back to me!"

I tore up the photos in a fit of rage.

"Jennifer, that cheap bitch! I guess she finally succeeded in seducing Anthony! It took so much effort to make him lose his memories, and yet... He would rather believe that bitch than me! I won't let them have their happy ending so easily!"

"If that's the case, why are you still hesitating, Caroline? If we don't take action as soon as possible, they will get married. And when that happens, they will team up and rise up against me. Do you think you're getting away with what you've done? When Anthony finds out that you lied to him, set him up, and made him Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! will do to you? Wake up! He doesn't love you. He merely sees you like trash that nobody wants."

Austin shook his head as Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! can't sit around and wait for them to deal with me. I'm going to kill that shameless couple! If I can't have him, neither can Jennifer!"

I roared out in irritation.

"Calm down, honey. Think of the baby. I can help you fulfill your wish so you don't need to be sad anymore."

Austin patted my chest in an effort to slow down my breathing.

"Just let me know if you need any help. I'll back you up. Both Jennifer and Anthony deserve to die. I'm going to make them die a Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! succeeded in persuading Caroline to team up with me. She was a good partner.

Anthony was surely going to lose against the two of us.

"Caroline, do you know where Elizabeth was transferred? We need to find her and kill her. That will be a heavy blow to Anthony."

I started teasing Caroline's breasts by stroking her nipples over her clothes.

"Unfortunately, I don't. Anthony has been acting guarded around me. He has left Elizabeth to his trusted subordinates. I don't know where she is right now."

Caroline shook her head as Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! feeling her slutty pussy was aching again.

"Never mind. Before they return, I will send my men to keep an eye on them and find an opportunity to kill them while they are at the Rainbow Pack. Even if they are lucky enough to escape death and come home, there will still be chances to kill them."

I took off her shirt, unhooked her bra, and caressed her bountiful breasts.

"Austin, I will help you defeat Anthony on one condition you need to make me your queen."

Caroline Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! legs.

"I've got it all worked out. I'd rather be your queen than be disliked by Anthony. Besides, you are so good in bed. You always make me feel like I've gone to heaven."

"Now you're talking, baby."

I slipped my hand up her dress and caressed her pussy through her underwear.

"But if you want to be my queen, you need to serve me well. Look at your pussy, you slut. You're so wet. Do you want me to fuck you that badly?"

"But I'm pregnant. Isn't that inconvenient?"

Caroline lowered her head shyly.

"I can't fuck you the usual way, but we can still use the back, right?"

My hand slipped around to cup her ass, and my fingers teased her hole.

"I've wanted to fuck you here, but I haven't trained you for it yet."

"Anal... Is it possible?"

Caroline was taken aback.

After some hesitation, she reluctantly agreed.

I took her to the bathroom and prepared her.

At first, she was embarrassed and felt awkward.

But once she got used to it, her eyes flashed in excitement.

“Raise that ass for me, bitch.”

After cleaning her up, I carried Caroline to the bed.

She went on all fours, making sure to present her buttocks to me.

I patted one cheek, held onto her waist with my other hand, and applied some lubricant on my cock.

After that, I lined up the head of my cock against the tight ring of muscle.

Her asshole was light pink in color, and it gaped as if inviting me to play with it.

“Is it going to hurt?”

Caroline instinctively shied away from my cock.

She was probably still wary of what we were about to do.

“It’s going to be great!”

With a smirk, I slipped one hand around her to stroke her pussy.

She trembled immediately, and her pussy became soaked.

As she enjoyed my ministrations, I slipped my cock into her asshole.

“Argh...” Caroline groaned.

“I can’t! It’s too big.”

“You want this, you slut.”

I adjusted my hold on her body and pushed my cock further in.

With the help of the lubricant, I was able to fill her ass in one go.

“Damn! That was easier than I thought.”

I was so pleased that my scalp tingled and my cock swelled even more.

Her ass was even tighter than her pussy.

When she clenched around my cock, I nearly came right there and then.

“Austin, your cock is too big.I can’t take it.It hurts!” Caroline started to sob.

Her whimpering only strengthened my desire.

“Just hold out a little longer, babe.It won’t hurt anymore.You’re going to be very happy soon.”

I toyed with her clit to bring her some pleasure.

What a good slut.

Her pussy was practically gushing, and her ass gradually adapted to my large cock.

Once she relaxed, I grabbed her waist and began to thrust.

My cock slid in and out of her with ease, and every time I pushed in, it was as if I sent her to the heavens.

Caroline groaned over and over as I fucked her from behind.

Her breasts bounced with every thrust until I grabbed them and toyed with her nipples.

“Oh, no...Austin, you’re going to be the death of me...”

Caroline climaxed with a loud cry.

The bed sheet became wet from how much she ejaculated.

Seeing this made me even more excited.

I thrust into her once more and came in her ass.

I did not misjudge this slut.

She was able to come from anal.

It was so wonderful to have sex with her.

“Caroline, I can never have enough of your body.Whether we’re going to heaven or to hell, we’re going together.”

Linda's POV:

Jennifer's tests were tiring to deal with recently, so I took a warm bath with the intention of sleeping early.

After my bath, I received an unwanted message from Nick.

"How have you been doing recently? Remember when we had sex last time? I've never felt so good before. I want to do it with you again. Why don't we set a date and meet up?"

This sleazy werewolf was really disgusting.

How could he actually think that I wanted to be with him again? When I had sex with him, he turned out to be so perverted.

He thought that I liked having sex with him? Where did he get the confidence to assume that?

"No, we had a deal. We shouldn't see each other again because we might get caught."

I replied to Nick's message, hoping that he would stop harassing me.

But I was naive in believing that could happen.

Nick texted back immediately.

"Oh, I see how it is. When I treat you nicely, you don't appreciate it. Bitch, I'm going to fuck you. If you don't let me fuck you, I'll tell Jerome that the child is not his. Even if you come and beg me not to do that, I'm not going to be so kind."

I felt like I was on the verge of breaking down when Nick actually threatened me.

Why couldn't I get rid of this jerk? I really didn't want to have anything to do with Nick anymore because he was disgusting.

If Jerome ever learned about our connection, it wouldn't end well for me.

After weighing the pros and cons, I decided to accept Nick's request.

"I'm sorry. I was too hasty with my reply, but I don't think now is a good time for us to meet. I can spare some time to meet with you. When should we get together? Which hotel?"

I quickly apologized and set a date to meet with him.

"This Sunday at Hilton Hotel."

"Got it."

As soon as I sent the message, someone knocked on the door to my room.

"Linda, are you in? I have something to tell you,"

Jerome asked from the other side of the door.

When I heard Jerome's voice, I dropped my phone in surprise and it clattered on the floor.

Jerome must have heard the noise because he opened the door, Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! me.

I quickly put my phone away and wondered if Jerome had seen my messages. I was doomed if he had.

"What's wrong? Are you Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! that's okay. I'm getting used to things." I dodged his gaze.

"You should see a doctor when you don't feel well. I came today to talk about matters between us," Jerome said.

"Have a seat."

While I calmed myself down, I prayed that Jerome had not seen my text exchange with Nick.

"Linda, since our reunion, I haven't asked how you have been all this time," Jerome said with a smile.

I had not expected him to ask me about my past, and I felt a little moved.

If only Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! few years.

I couldn't help but hug Jerome as I told him about the pains I went through.

Finally, here was someone who could take some of my emotional burden.

"I've missed you all this time, Jerome. To be honest, I have not been doing so well. Had I known any better, I would never have left you," I sobbed.

Jerome gently pushed me away and stiffly patted me on the shoulder.

"Why didn't you return earlier?"

"Because I hadn't been cured yet, I didn't want to be a burden to you. I wanted to come back to you after my recovery. But now, you have Skylar. I can no longer stand by your side."

"I didn't expect this to happen either. Maybe God is playing a trick on us. I'm sorry for what happened to you, but I can't give Skylar up. I hope you can let go of the past. Even if we get together back together, I won't be able to make you happy. I hope you can understand and find happiness with a new lover," Jerome replied persuasively.

I looked up at Jerome as if my world had just collapsed.

I had just thrown myself at him, and yet, he was trying to convince me to give up.

Did he really love that she-wolf named Skylar?

Jerome's POV:

I wanted to persuade Linda to give up on me and seek her own happiness, but I did not expect her to break down.

I was at a loss for a moment.

"Jerome, have you forgotten how happy we used to be? Have you forgotten that you asked me to marry you and that you promised to make me the happiest she-wolf in the world?"

Linda hiccupped as she sobbed.

"Of course not. You know what? After you left, I was depressed for a long time, but now, I am no longer in pain. You might find it tragic, but Skylar is the one I truly love. We can probably find a way to make things work among the three of us."

I sighed, hinting at my real intention.

"What do you mean? What are you going to do with me?"

Linda asked with tear-filled eyes.

"Skylar and I have already talked about this. We will take good care of Andy and bring him up for you. You will receive a large amount of money as compensation. It should be enough for you to start over. If you run into any trouble, you can come to us any time, and we will do our best to help you. What do you think?"

I asked tentatively.

"I don't agree to this. I don't mind sharing you with Skylar. I don't even have to be your Luna. I just want to be with you because I still love you."

Linda's eyes shimmered with unshed tears as she spoke.

"Please consider letting me stay."

"Well, you can stay, but it won't be like it was in the past because I don't love you anymore. You trying to regain my affections will just hurt both you and Skylar. This is all I can offer you. Stop for a second and think about my offer."

I tried my best to persuade her in hopes that she would stop trying to form a love triangle.

Linda's POV:

How ridiculous! I did not even challenge Skylar for the position of Luna stooping so low and offering myself as a mistress and yet, Jerome had the audacity to reject me.

All I wanted was to be by his side, but he still would not have me.

Didn't our shared past mean anything to him? My heart ached, and I broke down completely.

I hugged Jerome and started to kiss him like crazy.

He tried to push me away but I managed to cling to him.

"Linda, stop. We can't go back to how we were."

Jerome forcefully pushed me away.

"Do you remember the first time we kissed and made love? That was the happiest day of my life."

As I spoke, I took off my clothes, hoping to attract Jerome's attention with my figure.

I wanted to seduce him and go back to how we used to be.

An idea formed in my mind.

“You still remember it, don’t you? How about I refresh your memory?”

I pushed Jerome down on the bed and approached him with a charming smile.

He looked at me with wide eyes.

Skylar’s POV:

Jerome told me that he wanted to talk to Linda and clear things up with her, and I agreed.

I was a little curious about how their conversation would go, so I went over to Linda’s room to check up on them.

I stood outside the door but didn’t hear any sound coming from inside.

It was as if no one was in the room.

When I noticed that the curtains in Linda’s room were not completely drawn, I took a few steps forward.

Through the gap in the curtains, I saw Linda take her clothes off before kissing Jerome.

It was shockingly intimate.

Was I seeing things? Were they really kissing right now? Weren’t they clearing things up? Did Jerome lie to me? Was he planning on cheating on me with Linda? He knew Linda first, and it seemed as if I was the third party in their relationship.

It all felt so ridiculous.

I couldn’t accept the scene before me and no longer wanted to watch, so I quickly turned around and left.

I made it back to my room somehow, but my mind was in a mess.

I leaned against the wall and slowly slid down to the floor.

My hands rose to my head as I tried to keep calm.

However, what I had seen continued to play in my mind.

I told myself that I should trust Jerome and our love, but the scene just now was so real.

I couldn't look past it.

He must have gotten back together with Linda recently.

I should have considered this possibility earlier.

Jerome and Linda used to love each other so much that her disappearance led him to be depressed for years.

On top of that, she had given birth to his child.

How could he remain indifferent to her? If Andy was the fruit of their love, how could he give her up so easily? It became difficult to breathe even though I tried to keep control over my emotions.

It was difficult enough to love someone and maintain a relationship with them.

It was even harder to give up on that person.

At the moment, my mind was in a mess, and I didn't know what to do.

Someone knocked on the door of my room.

After taking a few calming breaths, I opened the door and acted as if nothing was wrong.

Daniel and Helen had come to see me.

They were holding hands and clearly getting along well with each other.

Helen even brought me a gift.

"This is for you, Skylar."

"Thank you, Helen. Please come in."

I accepted the gift bag and welcomed the two of them inside my room.

My eyes locked with Helen, and her expression shifted into one of concern.

"Skylar, I heard about Jerome and Linda. Are you all right?"

My Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! into tears, but I managed to keep myself in check.

"Yes, I'm fine. Thank you for your concern."

"Don't worry, Skylar. Everything will be fine,"

Helen reassured Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! right, Skylar. We're here for you. Don't try to take on everything on your own,"

Daniel added comfortingly.

I nodded, but deep down, I knew that Jerome and I would never be able to go back to normal.

After all, I had just seen him kissing Linda.

They were most likely back together again so I needed to give up on him.

"It's good to hear that you are fine. Helen and I worry about you every day."

Daniel's eyes lit up as he looked at Helen.

It seemed as if their Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! could ever break them up.

I was happy to see that Daniel and Helen loved each other so much.

At the same time, I envied them.

No one was interfering with their relationship.

It was just the two of them.

How lucky of them! I was sad about my own situation.

How did Jerome and I come to this point? "What about you, Daniel? When are you going to marry Helen?"

I asked with a forced smile. "Soon,"

Daniel replied pleasantly.

"I plan to take Helen with me to the Black Stone Pack to meet my parents. Then we'll decide on a date and make wedding plans together."

"I'm really happy for you, and I wish you happiness," I told them sincerely. I wished that my good friends could be happy and stay with their loved ones forever. But I was not going to experience those things for myself. I had planned on marrying Jerome, but things had taken a turn for the worse. It was awful.]

Daniel must have noticed my mood because he held my hand and said, "Don't worry, Skylar. It won't be long before Jerome marries you and you become his Luna. After all, you two love each other."

"I hope so."

I nodded with a smile. I didn't want them to worry about me so I did my best to look calm in front of them.

"We shall take our leave for now. You must tell us if you need any help."

"Of course. You two are my friends. I will call you if I run into any problems. Don't worry."

I escorted them out of my room.

Once they were gone, I looked once more at the dress that I was supposed to wear for the Luna ceremony.

I remembered trying it on with great joy.

The Skylar from that time would never believe how quickly things would go downhill.

I reluctantly placed the dress at the very back of my wardrobe.

If Jerome and Linda were rekindling their relationship, I was nothing more than an intruder.

I didn't want to be that person.

After all, I used to despise third parties in loving relationships.

I should back off and let them be together.

Jerome's POV:

I just wanted to clear things up with Linda so Skylar, would stop being so sad.

I didn't want the three of us to be in a love triangle, but I had not expected Linda to take her clothes off and try to seduce me.

She even had the audacity to bring up our past.

I never wanted to do anything that could hurt Skylar, so I tried pushing Linda away, but she was persistent.

“Jerome, you love me, right? Don’t you still have feelings for me? We used to love each other.I still remember how wonderful it was to make love with you.”

Linda reached out to touch my lower body, but I managed to keep her away from me.

“Linda, quit it and put your clothes back on.We are never getting back together.”

After saying that, I turned and left Linda’s room without looking back.

Linda had changed so much.

She used to be so innocent and kind-hearted in my memories.

What happened for her to change this much? Perhaps I had not known her well after all.

Although our past had been sweet, I no longer felt any sexual desire towards Linda.

The fact that she tried to make me lust over her only made me feel bad for Skylar.

I was done reminiscing about the past.

After leaving Linda’s room, I went to find Skylar.

She was in her room, sitting on the bed.

Even though she heard me come in, she didn’t look up to meet my gaze.

“Didn’t you go to talk to Linda? Why are you back so soon?” Skylar asked calmly.

I suddenly had a feeling that something was off about Skylar, but I didn’t think about it too much.I walked over until I was standing in front of her.

“I told her about our offer, but Linda wanted none of it.She didn’t want any money, nor did she want to find another man.Maybe she felt insulted that I was technically offering her money in exchange for her child, but I just wanted to help her start a new life.I hate being stuck between you two.It feels awful, and I don’t know what to do.”

I confessed everything to Skylar.I never had any intention of keeping secrets from her.

However, Skylar burst into laughter as if what I had said was funny.

“Actually, there’s one way to end your pain.Have you ever considered getting back together with Linda? It’s not too late for me to bow out of our relationship. If you two get back together, you can stop worrying about all these things.”

At that moment, I realized that Skylar was really upset.

I was shocked that she just volunteered to give up our relationship.

What should I do? I hugged her in my panic.

My voice rose a little as I replied, “What are you saying, Skylar? Are you giving up on me? On our relationship? I could never do that because I can’t lose you.”

“Then what about Linda? What are you going to do about her and Andy?”

Skylar’s voice sounded strange like she was torn between laughing and crying.

“I will talk to Linda again and try to change her mind. Just give me a little more time. Everything will be fine. I’ll do my best to persuade her.”

I crouched down next to Skylar and held her hand.

I didn’t even want to imagine what it would be like to lose her.

Skylar pulled her hand away, looked down at me, and asked, “Tell me, Jerome. Was your relationship with Linda that good? Did you enjoy having sex with her?”

I had never expected such questions to come from Skylar, and I didn’t know how to answer her.

No one could deny what they had done in the past.

I was no exception to that, but Skylar was the one I truly loved now. What could I say that would satisfy her?

Skylar’s POV:

I pressed my fingers against my temple and winced.

I couldn’t erase from my mind the scene of Linda and Jerome being intimate, and remembering it made me go crazy.

Blind with jealousy, I couldn’t help but ask Jerome those pointed questions.

But as soon as the words left my mouth, I regretted it.

The truth was, I didn't want to know about their past.

I knew it would only hurt me even more.

If I found out just how close they were before, my jealousy would grow uncontrollable.

Jerome stared at me, stunned at my questions.

After what seemed like an eternity, he said, "I have to admit what Linda and I had was wonderful. But that's all in the past now. You are my present and my future. I promise you, there's nothing romantic going on between me and Linda, and nothing will ever happen. I'm loyal to you and you alone. Please, you have to trust me."

I frowned.

He did sound sincere, but I was still unsure whether to believe him or not. He had never lied to me ever since we became mates, and I could tell that he wasn't a liar, either.

Jerome had morals.

So, should I believe him? But I couldn't deny what I saw.

I caught him kissing a half-naked Linda.

"Jerome, you said you were loyal to me, but I'm not so sure about that. I don't want to hide anything from you. I saw Linda taking off her clothes and being intimate with you just now. How do you explain that? Where was your so-called 'loyalty' then?"

"It was nothing like that! This is a misunderstanding. Nothing was going to happen. It was just... Linda... she was so emotional that she took off her clothes in front of me, wanting to get a taste of the past. But I didn't touch her, I swear. Skylar, I'm not lying to you. I would never betray you!"

No matter how I played it out in my head, the only solution to this situation was for me to leave.

Without me, Linda, Jerome, and Andy could become a happy family. Yet I couldn't bring myself to give him up.

I loved him too deeply to simply let go. I clutched my chest as despair crept up on my heart.

Jennifer's POV:

Just as I was about to go to bed, I heard a knock picture. What am I supposed to do?

My heart sank.

The thing I feared most happened Linda's sudden appearance was destroying Skylar's relationship with my brother.

"Jerome, I already warned you to be careful of Linda. How could you let this happen?"

I was always suspicious of her.

Now, she was slowly revealing her true color.

"I'm sorry. You were right. I let my guard down and I'm suffering the consequences. It's strange, but I can't help but feel that she has changed. She seems to be a completely different person from the innocent girl I used to know."

Jerome hung his head dejectedly.

"This is all my fault."

Tony's POV:

Over the past few days, I had been inquiring all over about the whereabouts of my two friends.

Simon and I were led back to the mountain where Jennifer had first found me.

Not long after, we finally stumbled upon the small village there and found the log cabin where Dana and Gary lived.

"Dana, Gary!"

I cried excitedly, waving at the two familiar figures in the distance.

"I'm so glad I found you!"

They were carrying hoes on their shoulders.

It looked like they were about to head out to work.

But the second they saw me, they stopped dead in their tracks.

Practically dropping their hoes to the ground, they hurried over, astonishment written all over their faces.

“Kim, is that you? I almost couldn’t recognize you.”

They circled around me and studied me carefully.

“You look...different.You’re glowing and energetic a far cry from when we last saw you!”

My two friends were practically gawking at how much I had changed.

I smiled gently, remembering the first time our paths had crossed.

I was being hunted down, and they were the ones who had taken me in and saved me.

But Arthur was relentless in his chase.

I gradually went insane from the anxiety, even going so far as to forget my two old friends.

It wasn’t until Jeff treated me that I remembered everything.

“Yes, it’s me, my old friends.I’ve been treated and I’m now sane.Actually, my real name is Tony.I’m an elder of the Rainbow Pack.”

I threw my arms around the two of them, happy to be reunited.

Previously, I had changed my name to Kim in order elude Arthur’s grasp.

Now that Arthur was dead, I could use my real name without fear.

“By the way, this is an old friend of mine, Simon.”

I turned around and introduced Simon to them.

“I was delirious before and caused you a lot of trouble.But I’m fine now.I’m here to say thank you and hopefully repay your kindness.How have you two been?”

“Things are still the same,” Gary replied with a smile.

“Life here in the mountain isn’t Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! wild vegetables every day.It gets tough sometimes, but at least we’re free and comfortable.By the way, where have you been these days? Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! when we came back, you were nowhere to be found. We looked everywhere for you. We thought you were finally caught, and we were really sad for a long time.”

The two looked at me, filled with remorse.

I was moved by how much they cared about me.

If it weren't for them, I would have been killed a long time ago.

I felt a little guilty, thinking about the lengths they went through to look for me.

They invited us into their home and we sat down to Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! someone came to find me and took me back to the Rainbow Pack. There, a doctor treated me. With my mind cleared, we were able to take down the people who were hunting me and brought them to justice. Now, I don't have to hide anymore.”

“Tony, we're so happy to hear that. Your mental state was in tatters last time we saw you. Dana and I always wanted to have you treated, but we couldn't risk going down the mountain to look for a doctor. We were afraid Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! had to give up. We're really sorry about that, Tony. Fortunately, your friend was able to find you and get you the help you needed.”

Gary sighed.

“No, please don't apologize. You have done more than enough for me. Without you, I never would've survived on this mountain alone. Not only did you save me, you also befriended me.”

Tears welled up in my eyes.

Dana invited us to stay for dinner, and we happily accepted her invitation.

As we ate, I told Simon, “You might not be used to the taste Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! lived on them and wild animals alone, but I actually quite liked them. The way of life here is simple and quiet.”

“They taste good. They have a unique flavor about them,”

Simon commented in between mouthfuls. After dinner, I proposed that Gary and Dana come down the mountain with us.

“Friends, please come with me to the Rainbow House. I want to properly thank you for taking care of me.”

To my surprise, they exchanged hesitant glances.

“Tony, we both know you mean well, but we just can’t risk exposing our identities.”

Dana and Gary declined my invitation politely.

They had always been elusive about their true identities.

I didn’t ask any further questions, but I still hoped they would reconsider my proposal.

Although the life on the mountain was free and unrestrained, it was still difficult.

They needed to hunt and gather for food every day.

Comfort was not a guarantee, but strife was.

I said in an effort to change their minds.

“The previous Alpha has been impeached and the current one is our friend. He will keep you safe.”

“Okay, Tony, you win,” Gary said with a smile.

“We’ll go with you. After all, it’s been a while since we left this mountain. It was beginning to get a little boring up here.”

I beamed at them. Together, we headed back to the Rainbow House.

Anthony’s POV:

Jennifer urgently dragged me towards the hall, announcing that Tony and Simon had come back.

I could feel her excitement.

She always truly cared about those around her, which made me smile.

I liked this about her.

Everyone gathered in the hall and awaited Tony’s arrival.

When they strode in, my gaze landed on his two friends behind him.

I was stunned when I recognized who they were.

Oh, my God! I could barely believe what I was seeing.

If I wasn't mistaken, it was Dana and Gary – two of my father's old subordinates.

But hadn't they died a long time ago? When they saw me, they were also shocked.

The two rushed forward and bowed before me.

"Mr. Jones, we didn't think we'd see you here. What a surprise! How have you been?"

I helped the two to their feet and looked into their eyes in a daze.

After a while, I came back to my senses and asked, "What're you doing here? If my memory serves me right, you were soldiers from the Osman Kingdom who supposedly died alongside my father years ago."

Was there something I didn't know? "We're honored that you remember us, Mr. Jones. It's true. We did march alongside your father and Austin. Alas, our troops suffered immense casualties and were almost completely wiped out. Even Gary and I were seriously injured, laying among a heap of corpses. Austin must've thought we were already dead, because he killed your father before our very eyes and left the scene without even looking back. When he was gone, Gary and I struggled to our feet and somehow managed to run away to the Rainbow Pack. This whole time, we've been hiding on the mountain."

Tears welled up in his eyes as Dana spoke.

When I heard this, my heart practically stopped in my chest.

I had always suspected that Austin was behind my father's death.

It turned out that I was right.

I clenched my fists tightly.

All these years, I had been looking for evidence to support my claim, but to no avail.

Now that Dana and Gary had confirmed my suspicion, I could finally fulfill my long cherished wish: to make Austin pay.

However, a question had been bugging me.

"Why didn't you go back to the royal palace together to testify against Austin?"

"We had no choice. Austin has been trying to hunt us down to eliminate all eye witnesses. We figured he must've found two missing bodies when they cleared up the battlefield and realized we had escaped. To be honest, hiding from him was really difficult, which is why we settled in the desolate mountain."

Dana sighed heavily.

“But we decided to keep on living, if it meant we could expose Austin’s crime one day.Maybe it’s fate that we ran into you today, Mr.Jones.We are willing to confront Austin.Please forgive us for running away before.”

“We need to think this over carefully.You can stay in Rainbow House for the time being.Don’t go out unless necessary.It’s safer here.”

I patted them on the shoulder.

“Okay, Mr.Jones.”

They breathed a sigh of relief.

“Thank you for your understanding.We are loyal to you and will do anything to help you overthrow Austin’s rule.” I smiled with gratitude.

Who knew that Tony’s friends were the soldiers from the Osman Kingdom? Now that they were with me, it was a great opportunity to defeat Austin.

I must bring the bad guy who killed my father to justice.

Dana’s POV:

For as long as I could remember, the former king had always favored Anthony.

We all had thought that he would be the one to inherit the throne.

We were shocked when we heard the news that Austin had become king.

How did this happen? It was known to all that the former king was partial to Anthony.

This matter always felt strange to us.

Later, Gary and I exchanged thoughts and found that we felt the same way.

It seemed only plausible that the reason why Austin killed the former king on the battlefield was to seize the throne.

It was precisely because the former king had favored Anthony that Austin must’ve felt that he needed to do something drastic.

If our theory was correct, then everything made sense.

Ever since then, Gary and I had been living our lives in hiding.

Austin ordered his men to hunt us down, probably because he feared his crime would be exposed.

But luck was on our side as we happened to meet Anthony today.

I couldn't help but feel a rush of excitement the moment we saw him.

I was a soldier of the Osman Kingdom, after all.

I had sworn loyalty only to the former king, and had witnessed his murder by Austin.

This angered me, yet I was completely helpless.

Years had passed, yet I never stopped hoping for a chance to avenge the former king.

Now, the opportunity was finally here.

I had faith in Anthony.

I had a gut feeling that, as long as we followed his lead, everything would eventually fall into place.

"Mr. Jones, we will do everything in our power to reveal the truth about your father's death. I hope that Austin will get what he deserves," I offered.

We had been fugitives for too long.

If we wanted to put an end to this, we needed to help Anthony and end Austin's reign.

"Thank you. How have you been all these years?"

It was a simple question, but I couldn't help but feel moved that Anthony was concerned about us.

"We've been living in shame for the past couple of years, but Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! we would take Austin down someday. Just as my hope was beginning to waver, we ran into you!" I cried with joy.

"Mr. Jones, may Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! Osman Kingdom?" Gary asked anxiously.

We were both agitated to usurp Austin's throne.

"There are still some things I need to take care of here at the Rainbow Pack. I'll go back as soon as they're dealt with. You two will come with me then. Together, let's hit Austin where it counts. I always suspected that Austin was behind our father's death. I had spent years collecting evidence against him, but I didn't find anything concrete enough to tie him to the murder. Despite this, I've gathered enough about his Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! evidence I have collected, I will be able to impeach him," Anthony said.

Gary and I exchanged glances and nodded resolutely.

"Mr. Jones, please be careful. Austin is a sly fox. His spies are everywhere. We can't afford to make any mistakes."

Austin was ambitious, and he was willing to kill to reach his goals.

I didn't want Anthony to get hurt.

After all, he was our only hope now.

"Don't worry. My men are stationed right by the Rainbow House. It's safe here, at least for now. Again, don't go out unless necessary, lest Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! in unison.

Jennifer's POV:

I couldn't believe it. Tony's two friends from the mountain were the soldiers who had witnessed the murder of the former king, Anthony's deceased father.

My heart beat excitedly.

Justice was in the horizon!

Elder Tony, thank you. You managed to bring back the soldiers of the Osman Kingdom who survived the battlefield. You are doing Anthony a huge favor. I felt happy for Anthony.

"I propose we have a dinner party to celebrate. On the one hand, I want to thank Dana and Gary for saving Tony's Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! the reunion of Mr. Jones, Dana, and Gary. I hope Mr. Jones' plan will be a success," Jerome offered.

Everyone agreed cheerily.

Things seemed to be moving in our favor.

Amidst the merry talking, Anthony and I exchanged glances and smiled.

We could tangibly feel each other's happiness.

While preparations for the party were being made, Anthony picked out a dress for me and asked me to try it on.

After changing into the dress, I walked over to Anthony as elegantly as I could.

He was obviously stunned for a moment.

When he came to his senses, he met me halfway and slipped his arms around my waist.

Leaning over, he whispered in my ear, "My mate is truly the most beautiful girl in the world. You look especially dazzling in that dress, Jennifer."

Anthony's praise made me chuckle with delight.

I kissed him on the lips.

Under the moonlight, we kissed passionately.

We had been very busy these days and hadn't gotten a chance to be alone in a while now, so I cherished this moment.

"Jennifer, let's stay here for a little bit longer."

Anthony put his hand behind my head and kissed me again.

"Okay,"

I said in between breaths.

When we finally pulled away, I said breathlessly, "Congratulations! You've finally found witnesses who can back up your claim against Austin. I hope things go well from here on out."

"Thank you, babe,"

he said softly, running his fingers through my hair.

"But I'm afraid it's not that simple. Austin has also accumulated a lot of power over the years. If I really want to defeat him, there's still a lot of work to be done."

Anthony was right.

After all, Austin was still the king of the Osman Kingdom.

If Anthony launched his plan prematurely, he might fail against Austin.

Moreover, he still hadn't regained his memories and his mother, Elizabeth, was still in a coma.

As if these setbacks weren't enough, Jerome wasn't the Alpha of the Rainbow Pack yet.

In a word, it still wasn't the right time to attack Austin.

"By the way, were you able to contact a wizard?" I asked suddenly.

"The sooner we find one, the sooner we can bring back your memories."

"My men are still looking for one," he replied with a sigh.

"Okay." I pouted a little disappointedly.

"I'll ask Jerome to see if there's any news from Jeff. Jeff once said that his friend knew a wizard. They might be able to help us."

"Jennifer, you are really my better half. With you, everything's so much easier,"

Anthony praised me and pinched my cheek.

I buried my head in his arms shyly and took in his scent.

Anthony smoothed my hair over and over again.

I purred like a kitten in his arms.

I was only ever like this in front of Anthony.

It was nice to know that I had someone I could rely on.

I stood on tiptoe and pecked Anthony on the lips.

It was just a simple peck, but he didn't let me go.

Anthony kissed me back affectionately, his tongue dancing with mine. I hugged his waist and felt that I had the whole world in my arms.

It wasn't until the dinner party was about to begin when we finally pulled away. We held each other's hands and walked towards the venue.
