

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 158

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved
Jennifer's POV:

Days had passed since Skylar left.

It was as though a dark cloud had befallen the pack and was affecting everyone's mood especially Jerome's.

He seemed to have aged tremendously in a few days' time.

Worried for my brother, I kept texting Skylar, hoping for a reply.

"Skylar, where are you? Can you text me back when you see this?"

"Don't be let Linda fool you. She's a scheming she-wolf. Whatever happened was obviously part of her plan to drive you away. Please come back soon! We're all worried about you."

"Skylar, are you okay?"

"Has anything bad happened to you?"

I scrolled through our thread, re-reading all the messages I had sent Skylar.

Alas, she didn't respond to any of them, which made me worried sick. Had something happened to Skylar? She had been away for days.

Plus, she was a girl.

So far, there had still been no news from Daniel.

Agitated and restless, I decided to talk to Jerome to see if there was anything more we could do.

I stopped at the door of his study and knocked.

"Come in."

Jerome's voice came from inside.

I pushed the door open and strode in to find him frowning deeply over some matters of the pack.

Ever since Skylar left, Jerome had locked himself in his study day in and day out.

I could see from the dark circles around his eyes that he hadn't slept in a long time, burying himself in work.

We all knew that he was doing this to himself on purpose to keep his sadness at bay.

"Jerome, has Skylar reached out to you yet?" I asked Jerome with a sigh.

Maybe she replied to his message after she was less angry.

"No. I can't stand it anymore. I haven't heard anything from her in days. I need to go look for her myself. Jennifer, can you help me out here? I need to leave the Rainbow Pack. I don't give a damn about becoming the Alpha. Money and power are nowhere near as important as finding Skylar."

Jerome raised his head to look at me.

His eyes were dim, his cheeks were sunken, and his hair was disheveled.

My heart couldn't help but break, seeing him like this.

"If you want to look for Skylar, I won't stop you. But you have to solve the issue with Linda first so that you can explain everything to Skylar once you find her." I relented.

If he wanted to look for Skylar in person, he could go.

After all, his heart had left with her.

Besides, I was also worried about my friend and wanted to make sure she was okay.

"Don't worry. I will put this issue to rest as soon as I can. I've just been so worried about Skylar, wondering if she's safe and sound."

"Don't worry, Jerome. Everything will be fine. I'll go to find Anthony later and see Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! help us." I tried to comfort Jerome.

Jerome nodded slowly, and a tiny flicker of hope shone through his eyes.

"Alas!"

I sighed and walked
Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! of the corridor, I saw Anthony standing in the garden, waiting for me.

"Honey, what're you doing here?"

I rushed over and threw my arms around him.

"Have you heard any news from Lavender Pack?"

"Yes, I do, actually. My attendants found out that Linda indeed stayed in Lavender Pack before. She seemed to be close to the Alpha there. I also got some photos of them together."

As he spoke, Anthony pulled out some photos and showed them to me.

In one of the photos, Linda was cradling Andy in Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! -aged werewolf.

They looked quite close almost like a family of three.

'Maybe Andy is not Jerome's son, but the son of Lavender Pack's Alpha?' I thought.

"Honey, please keep these photos safe. I have a feeling that whatever Linda is hiding may have something to do with these."

"I'll take good care of them, don't worry."

Also, I've sent someone to summon the Alpha of the Lavender Pack here.

He should reach the Rainbow Pack soon.

By then, he can confront Linda face to face.

Maybe we will find out Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! the photos back into a folder neatly.

"Honey, you're a genius!" I pecked him on the cheek as a thank you.

"Don't get your hopes up. We still don't know if anything will come out of this. I just don't want to disappoint you, okay?" Anthony replied.

I nodded in agreement.

Anthony's POV: After giving it some thought, I decided to bring another topic up.

"Honey, there's something else I wanted to talk about. Jerome has told me that he wants you to become the Alpha instead of him. He doesn't Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! wants to live an ordinary life with her, so he's giving the position to you. What do you think?"

It was true that Jerome had told me that he didn't want to be the Alpha.

I figured he valued Skylar above all else, even if it meant giving up such an esteemed position.

But it was a matter of great importance, so I definitely couldn't make the decision alone.

I still had to ask Jennifer what she wanted.

"I don't agree. This isn't just about the two of us, it's about the future of the Rainbow Pack. My brother is a good leader and the elders trust him. If he suddenly gives up the role and hands it over to me, I doubt the elders will be happy. Plus, the Rainbow Pack has never had a female ruler before,"

Jennifer said seriously after thinking for a while.

"I think he's just worried sick about Skylar. I'm sure that he'll be able to think straight once he finds her."

"But I think it'd be good for you to become the Alpha. And who cares if you're a girl? You're just as good as Jerome, if not even better."

I always thought highly of Jennifer's ability, so when Jerome brought the idea up to me, I wasn't surprised in the slightest.

My mate was capable.

I had faith in her capabilities.

"Forget it."

She waved her hand dismissively.

"I'll think about it later. The most important thing now is to find Skylar. I'm worried about her. We haven't heard a thing from her in a while. Let's go out and look for her right now."

As Jennifer spoke, she intertwined her fingers and mine and practically dragged me out.

Together, we headed to the Rainbow Pack's boundary to check the surveillance videos again but more carefully this time around.

Later, we inquired everyone we encountered, hoping to find any clues towards Skylar's whereabouts.

But it was futile.

No one had seen Skylar on the day she disappeared.

"Can we draft a notice offering a reward for anyone who can help us find Skylar? We can attach her photos to it. Then, we can post them in every corner of the Rainbow Pack so that those who have seen Skylar will come to us voluntarily," I suggested.

"That's a good idea," Jennifer agreed with a nod.

We went straight to work.

The notice was posted everywhere in the entire territory of the pack, covering every place that Skylar might pass by.

Everything was going smoothly until we passed through a dense forest on our way back to the Rainbow Pack.

I felt something was not right with this place.

"Jennifer, be careful. There might be an ambush."

I took Jennifer's hand and pulled her to my side.

Sure enough, a group of werewolves emerged from the shadows.

They were all armed and obviously had been hiding here in the forest for a while now.

In the blink of an eye, Jennifer and I were surrounded.

Jennifer and I were forced to fight against them, despite being tremendously outnumbered.

But with our combined strength, we defeated the entire group of werewolves just as we were getting exhausted.

We left but one of them alive, who was struggling to escape.

I rushed over and violently picked him up by the collar.

"Who sent you?" I demanded.

He was choking under my grasp and couldn't say anything.

He tried to break free from my hands, but to no avail.

"He is trying to kill himself! Stop him!"

Jennifer suddenly shouted when she saw that he was trying to poison himself before giving up any secrets.

I grabbed his jaw, forcing him to spit out the poison in his mouth.

"You'd better not play tricks with me. If you want to suffer less, just answer my question or else, I'll make your life a living hell."

As I spoke, I threw him to the ground and pressed my foot against his chest.

He was the last werewolf alive among this group of killers.

I wasn't going to let him die so easily.

"Tell me!"

I roared, stepping hard on the wound on his chest.

Blood gushed out.

I could feel his life force ebbing away from underneath the sole of my foot.

"Please spare my life. We were just following your brother's orders! He ordered us to assassinate you by any means possible. We had no choice!"

Finally, he caved.

Now I understood why they had dared to attack us this was all Austin's doing.

Damn that bastard! First, he killed our father, and now, he even tried to kill me.

How crazy was he? I knocked the werewolf out cold and walked up to Jennifer.

"Are you okay? Did you get hurt?"

As soon as I finished speaking, I noticed the gash on Jennifer's arm.

Fortunately, it was nothing too serious.

"Let's head back and put him in the dungeon. Then, we can have him testify against Austin," Jennifer told me.

"Okay." We also need to deal with that nasty wound.

"I led Jennifer out of the forest. I decided to let this werewolf live a few more days. After all, Jennifer was right. I could use him in my quest to overthrow Austin once and for all." Austin had done so many unspeakable crimes. He needed to pay the price.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 159

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Linda's POV:

After such a long time of trying my best to force Skylar to leave, I finally succeeded.

I was so happy! I was about to get everything that I wanted.

The only thing that dampened my mood a little was the fact that everyone in the Rainbow Pack was searching far and wide to find Skylar, especially Jerome and Jennifer.

I really didn't know what was so good about that bitch that they were so worried about her.

Although I wasn't really familiar with Jennifer, I could tell that she wasn't easy to deal with, especially after the way she had warned me last time.

Jennifer was miles ahead of Skylar, who was gullible and simple-minded.

Moreover, she was not only Jerome's sister, but also Anthony's sweetheart.

With Anthony protecting her all the time, it was impossible for me to defeat her.

Therefore, the only thing I could do was to try to win her over and make her recognize me as her future sister-in-law.

But at the same time, I was afraid that Jennifer had already found some dirt on me.

Otherwise, how could she accuse me with so much confidence? If my guess was right, then the situation was harder for me to deal with.

When I was worrying about this, my phone buzzed.

I picked it up and found that I got a new message from Nick.

"Bitch, don't forget that today is the day you promised to meet me. If you want me to keep your whoring around a secret, come to Hilton Hotel right now. Don't try to play any tricks. Otherwise, you'll regret it!"

It was this greasy werewolf again.

I had enough of him! I couldn't let him blackmail me like this forever.

I had to find a way to get rid of him once and for all, or my secret would be exposed sooner or later.

I wanted to put an end to his torture today, but on second thought, I realized that it was not the right time yet.

I was still not Jerome's wife, and I didn't hold much power.

For now, the only thing I could do was to continue having sex with him like he demanded.

No matter what, I had to appease him first.

Taking a deep breath, I put away my phone and walked out of the Rainbow House.

Then, I hailed a taxi straight to Hilton Hotel.

As per Nick's instructions, I took the key card from the front desk and went to the room that he was staying in.

When I opened the door and walked in, I was greeted by complete silence.

Nick hadn't arrived yet.

It seemed that he was being really careful.

He threatened me into having sex with him, but he wasn't cavalier about it.

Was he afraid that if our affair was discovered, his head would be on the chopping block? I had barely sat down on the bed when the door opened again.

Nick entered the room and locked the door behind him.

"My dear, I missed you so much."

He strode up to me and cupped my breasts over my clothes.

"No wonder our future Alpha fell in love with you. You are such a beauty. You have big breasts, a curvy butt, and a small waist. You're such a slut. Were you born to seduce men?"

He raised his hand and spanked me hard.

"Bitch, I'll let you Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! over his face as he pressed me down on the bed, tore off my clothes, and began to lick my breasts.

His tongue Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone!
all the way down to my pussy.

Although I felt disgusted, I had to endure his assault.

“Nick, I’ve come here like you asked. When will our deal end?”

I decided to ask him the question that was weighing on my mind while he was still in a good mood.

“Bitch, why are you in such a hurry to get rid of me? Did I disappoint you in bed? Don’t worry, I’ll let you go once I get tired of you. But until then, you’d better be obedient. Don’t Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! I’ll tell everyone what you did and expose your true colors.”

Nick punctuated his speech by pinching my pussy, making me hiss in pain.

“Every sound that comes out of your mouth is so sexy. Aren’t you having fun too? Bitch, don’t you want me to fuck you?”

By this time, Nick had already taken off his clothes.

He thrust his hard cock into my pussy.

At first, he just thrust in and out, leading me to hope that maybe it would be better this time.

But not long Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone!
normal sex.

He bent down and grabbed his belt.

As soon as I saw the belt in his hand, my eyes widened in fear.

I knew that he wanted to whip me with it.

“Nick, please don’t do that. I’ll give you a blowjob instead, okay?”

I begged him for mercy.

Every time I had sex with him, he would leave many marks on my body that could easily give me away if someone were to see them.

Besides, being whipped was very painful.

I couldn’t stand it anymore.

"Bitch, do you Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! with the belt, Nick pushed it into my pussy.

"Argh..."

The stimulation was too much, and I couldn't help but scream.

Nick didn't stop there.

He was so scary that he even started rotating the belt inside my pussy, making me feel hurt and sore.

Was I bleeding? I knew that I must be in a bad condition right now. But he didn't listen to my pleas at all.

Instead, he covered my mouth to stop me from making any sounds.

I was on the verge of breaking down, but at this moment, I could only endure the pain silently.

Lying on the bed while being brutally assaulted, I stared blankly at the ceiling and made up my mind.

I would make Nick pay twice the price for what he had done to me.

Once I became Jerome's Luna, I would definitely get revenge on this wretched werewolf!

Jennifer's POV:

I was playing with Andy in the garden when Anthony suddenly came over and pulled me aside.

"What's up? Why are you behaving so strange?" I asked Anthony, frowning at him.

"Jennifer, I just got word from my men that Linda left Rainbow House and went to Hilton Hotel alone. Nick also went there. I suspect that the two of them struck a secret deal."

Anthony's tone was serious, and he seemed confident about his words.

"Let's go to the hotel and see what they're up to. We should take Jerome with us." I glanced at Andy and sighed.

I felt sorry for him for having such an awful mother.

Linda was a wretched woman who would use her own child to get what she wanted.

Over the past few days, I found that Andy was good at lying, which was odd for such a small kid.

It must be Linda who had taught him to lie.

Linda wasn't setting a good example for him.

Sooner or later, the little boy would be led astray.

"Andy, can you play with the maid for a while? I have something to deal with," I told the little boy.

Andy nodded, but his eyes looked out into the distance.

I didn't know what he was looking at.

It was possible that he had only come here and asked me to play with him because Linda had told him to do so.

After asking the maid to keep an eye on Andy, I rushed to Hilton Hotel with Jerome and Anthony.

"Excuse me, has this woman checked in today?"

I enquired at the front desk, showing the receptionist a photo of Linda.

"I'm sorry, miss. The hotel doesn't allow us to reveal any information that would infringe on the privacy of the guests."

The receptionist's words were polite, but her attitude was cold.

"What if I told you that they're the ones asking?"

I pointed at my brother and Anthony, who were standing nearby.

Since Jerome was going to take over the position of Alpha, his photos had been plastered all over the newspapers these days.

Besides, he was handsome and had a memorable face.

At this moment, I had no choice but to take advantage of Jerome's identity to get information about Linda.

Sure enough, the receptionist's attitude softened after a glance at Jerome.

"I'm sorry, miss. Of course, the Alpha has the right to check any information he wants. What do you want to know, miss?"

There was a 180-degree change in her attitude.

"I want to know which room this lady is in. By the way, can you help me check if there is any guest who booked a room today in the name of Linda or Nick?"

"Of course. Please give me a moment."

The receptionist looked for the booking information on the computer.

After a few seconds, she looked up and smiled at me.

"It's Room 408."

"Give me the spare room card."

"Okay. Do you need anything else, miss?"

"No, thanks."

With the room card in hand, I walked back to Jerome and Anthony.

"Let's go catch them in the act,"

I said to Jerome.

The receptionist had just confirmed that Linda and Nick were in the same room.

There was no doubt now that they were having an affair.

All we needed to do was go to that room and catch them in the act.

Anthony waited outside the room, letting me and Jerome take the lead.

I opened the door with the room card and strode in with Jerome.

We had barely taken a few steps inside when the sight in front of us made us freeze in shock.

Linda and Nick were having sex, and he was even holding a whip in his hand.

The two of them were completely naked, and the room was in a mess.

All my suspicions until now were right.

I looked at Jerome, whose lips were pressed into a thin line.

His face was gloomy.

Underneath, he seemed to be burning with fury.

We were both so shocked that we didn't know what to say. Of course, it didn't matter.

The truth was now out in the open. I wanted to wait and see how Linda would explain herself this time.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 160

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved
Jerome's POV:

When I heard from Jennifer that Linda and Nick went to the same hotel at the same time, I was naturally a little suspicious, so I went to the hotel with Jennifer and Anthony.

On the way there, I guessed that Linda and Nick might be more acquainted than I thought.

But the last thing I expected to see was them having sex.

It was downright ridiculous.

I had never imagined that she would do such a thing.

What was worse, their way of having sex was too obscene for me to swallow. It was fortunate that Anthony was waiting outside the room instead of coming in with us.

I didn't want him to see such a disgusting scene. Pressing my lips into a thin line, I asked Jennifer to go out.

"You'd better put on your clothes before you say anything,"

I told Linda coldly as I handed her the clothes on the floor to cover her bruised body. It was obvious that Linda had wild sex with Nick.

Standing there completely naked, she had marks all over her body from being whipped.

Even scarier was the fact that she was bleeding here and there.

When Jennifer and I walked into the room, Nick was holding a whip in his hand.

The two of them looked so vulgar at this moment that I didn't think it was appropriate for me to be present either, so after handing the clothes to Linda, I promptly left the room as well.

Jennifer, Anthony, and I waited outside for a while.

After making sure that Linda and Nick had gotten dressed, I walked back into the room, followed by Jennifer and Anthony.

Linda and Nick were kneeling on the floor, as if ready to beg for forgiveness.

As soon as she saw me, she burst into tears and crawled forward on her knees to grab my pants.

"Jerome, please trust me. Nick forced me into doing this. He said that if I didn't listen to him, he would kill me. I only did all this so that I could survive! Please give me another chance,"

Linda cried loudly, pointing an accusatory finger at Nick.

"Linda, after what I just witnessed, do you think that I will still trust you?" I asked in disgust, shaking off her hand.

"I won't believe a word of what you say anymore. So many years have passed since I last saw you, and it seems that you're no longer the woman I used to know. Now, every word that comes out of your mouth is a lie. Or maybe you haven't changed at all. I think this is the woman that you've always been. I made a mistake. I didn't see your true colors back then."

Ever since Linda reappeared in my life this time, I felt that her temperament and personality were completely different from before.

At first, I concluded that it must be because of all the difficulties that she had gone through in the past few years, which made me feel guilty and want to help her.

But now, I finally realized that it was not that Linda had changed, but that she had always been like this.

It was just that I had been blind to her true ways in the past.

Even after being shaken off by me, Linda still tried to crawl forward again to explain.

However, Jennifer stepped forward and blocked her away.

She narrowed her eyes and asked Nick, "What's going on? You'd better tell the truth. Otherwise, neither the prince nor I will spare your life."

Her tone was cold and aggressive, forcing Nick to tell the truth.

"It's all Linda's fault. That bitch seduced me, asking me to fabricate the result of the paternity test. I can show you the real report. Please let me Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! over.

"Then show us the real report," I demanded furiously.

We all followed Nick to the hospital, where he took out the real report Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! Jennifer.

After taking a look at it, she shook her head and gave it to me.

I carefully looked through the report, which clearly stated that Andy and I were not related by blood.

"I never imagined that you would be such a scheming woman. I was stupid to trust you before."

In a fit of anger, I threw the report onto Linda's face. She took it with tears streaming down her face. But if she thought that she could win my sympathy again with her tears, she was Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! of our future. I just wanted to be with you. Can you forgive me? I'll never lie to you again."

Seeing my indifferent silence, Linda crawled over again, held my ankle tightly, and begged for mercy.

But there was no point.

I had already made up my mind to get rid of her.

For this woman, lying seemed to be second nature.

I couldn't believe a word of what she said anymore.

"Linda, behave yourself. This is my last warning for you."

After saying that, I wanted to storm out of the Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! at her face anymore.

But Anthony stopped me.

"This matter is not over yet. There's something else that Linda has hidden from us. We don't know who Andy's real father is," he pointed out.

Anthony was right.

We couldn't solve this matter without tying up all the loose ends.

Anthony's POV: Jerome was already disappointed with the truth that we had uncovered so far about Linda.

But just then, I received a message from one of my attendants, informing me that Alpha Bard of the Lavender Pack had arrived at Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! werewolf from another pack. The strange thing is that he claims to know you. Would you like to go and see him?"

I asked, raising my eyebrow at Linda. Linda shook her head fervently.

"No, that's impossible. I don't know anyone from other packs."

"You'll know whether you know him or not once you see him."

I blinked at my attendants nearby, signaling to them to capture Linda and take her away.

Jennifer looked at me, and the two of us exchanged a glance.

We went back to the Rainbow House together with Jerome.

Once everyone was gathered together, I asked Bard to enter the room.

We still needed to investigate what had happened in the past.

By now, we knew that Linda was a liar, so we couldn't trust her account of things.

The moment Bard appeared, Linda shook from head to toe, and fear was written all over her face.

Bard's eyes lit up in recognition, and he rushed towards Linda.

"Linda, you bitch! Where have you taken my son?"

Bard went straight up to Linda and gave her a hard kick, which was strong enough to knock her to the floor.

"Bard, are you talking about Andy? What's the relationship between you and Linda?" Jerome asked, stepping forward.

"Andy is my son. He's the child I have with this bitch. She used to be my mistress, but I got bored of her."

After saying that, Bard looked at Linda again.

"Where is Andy?"

If Bard's words were true, then he and Linda must have known each other for a long time.

Otherwise, she couldn't have given birth to a baby for Bard.

Considering that Andy had been born just shortly after Linda disappeared from Jerome's life, it seemed that she had been sleeping with Bard while she was still Jerome's girlfriend.

Jerome had been cuckolded.

Jennifer and I looked at Jerome worriedly.

His fists were clenched in fury.

"Linda, aren't you going to tell me the truth even now?" Jerome asked with a self-mocking smile.

"Yes, you're right! I met Bard a long time ago! I got pregnant with his child while I was still Jerome's girlfriend. I left Jerome and followed Bard to his pack out of greed, but I didn't expect that I would be abandoned in the end. When I found out that Jerome was the future Alpha of the Rainbow Pack, I came to see him with Andy to blackmail him. Are you satisfied with my answer?"

Linda roared hysterically in a nearly hoarse voice.

She covered her face with her hands and sobbed uncontrollably.

"Did we have sex after I got drunk that night?" Jerome asked in a low voice.

"Of course not. I just made that up to get rid of Skylar! Nothing happened between us. You don't need to worry about it at all. You can be with your dear Skylar again!"

Linda let out a humorless laugh through her tears, which sent a chill down my spine.

Jennifer and I were both taken aback by her confession.

The more we uncovered the truth behind Linda's lies, the less I wanted to hear.

Her schemes were too vulgar, but Jerome was the one who had the right to decide what to do with her.

"Jerome, what are you going to do?" I asked.

"I don't want to see this liar ever again. Mr. Jones, you can punish her however you want to," Jerome said, turning to me.

He didn't spare Linda even a single glance after that, as if he was too disgusted with her.

"I'll order her to be exiled from the Rainbow Pack. She'll never be able to come back here again. What do you think?"

Jerome nodded in agreement, but at this time, Linda crawled over to me and pleaded for mercy.

Soon, Andy walked into the room and held his mother's hand.

The two of them knelt in front of me, and the little boy cried pitifully.

"Mr. Jones, please forgive us for the sake of our miserable situation. If you kick us out of the Rainbow Pack now, we will have nowhere to stay."

"So now you realize that. But did you ever think about what Skylar's situation would be when you played those evil tricks to drive her away? She might have nowhere to stay either, right? You've done too many evil things. If we can't find Skylar, I will get even with you," Jennifer growled.

"Take them away," I told my attendants.

At my order, Linda was finally taken away.

She would live a miserable, roving life with Andy from now on, but that was the punishment she deserved. Not everyone in the world deserved forgiveness.

Linda had gone too far and didn't have a conscience at all. Karma would punish her.

"Bard, you can leave now. Thank you for testifying today," I said to Bard.

Although he had kept a mistress and even abandoned her, which was a vile thing to do in my eyes, he hadn't done anything to harm others.

I couldn't convict him.

After Bard left, silence enveloped the hall again.

"Jerome, I know that this must be a big blow to you, but it's not your fault. Linda is such a good actress. You're the victim here. Don't beat yourself up about it. What are you going to do next?"

"I want to look for Skylar by myself. Jennifer, can you help me manage the pack in my absence?" Jerome asked Jennifer.

Jennifer hesitated for a moment before nodding.

The matter of Linda had come to an end, but the burden on everyone's shoulders was even heavier.

In particular, it would be a big challenge for Jennifer to take over the pack's affairs.

However, I believed in her ability. She would handle everything well.

I was looking forward to seeing her achievements.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 161

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved
Skylar's POV:

Time seemed to fly.

I had been in the Black Stone Pack for a few days, and it was time for me to find a job. I couldn't stay here too long. I needed to save enough money to leave the Black Stone Pack and find a new pack to settle down.

After preparing a simple breakfast, I headed out to look for a job.

When I walked out of the hotel, I found Robin standing idly outside. Had he been waiting for me? As I was walking, my eyes happened to meet his. When I saw him smile at me, I grinned back and approached him.

"When I found out you were living here alone, I decided to come over to see if you were doing okay," Robin said sheepishly.

"Thank you, Robin," I replied gratefully.

"You've helped me a lot. I really appreciate it. I'm sorry if you waited long, I didn't know you were downstairs."

"Don't worry about it. Where are you going?"

"I'm trying to look for a job."

"Why are you in such a hurry to find a job? Last time we met, you were also looking for a job. Skylar, are you in trouble?"

Robin squinted at me in surprise.

I didn't answer him at first, not knowing whether I should tell him the truth or not.

After all, we had only known each other for a few days, but Robin helped me and seemed genuinely concerned about me.

Maybe he thought of me as a friend.

I decided not to hide the truth from him.

"Here is the thing. I want to find a job and make money so I can leave Black Stone Pack," I told him.

"If that is the case, you don't have to find a job to do that. I can help you. You can leave any time you want,"

Robin offered with a smile.

"Robin, I appreciate the offer, but I want to make money by myself." I shook my head.

He had already helped me so much. I couldn't ask him for anything more. But to my surprise, he insisted.

"But it seems to me that your luck has run dry. If you're having a hard time, let me help you. Getting you out of here is a piece of cake. Skylar, I think we are friends, so we should help each other."

He sounded so Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! leave the Black Stone Pack as soon as possible.

Otherwise, the longer I stayed here, the more likely Daniel was to find me.

After Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! suggestion.

"Thank you, Robin. Please loan me the money for my travel expenses. I'll pay you back as soon as possible."

"It's just a small sum of money. Don't sweat it." Robin waved his hand dismissively.

"No away. We might be friends, but I refuse to take advantage of your kindness. Let me pay you back."

Seeing how determined I was, Robin finally nodded in agreement.

But now, there was the question of where I should go.

When Robin saw my hesitation, he suggested we go to the Blue Rose Pack, which was Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! Rose Pack. Thus, it seemed highly unlikely that Jerome would go there to look for me.

So I agreed with Robin.

Once I got onto the plane, I had mixed feelings.

Although I didn't know whether I was making the right decision or not, I was determined to live my life to the fullest.

Robin's POV:

What kind of girl was Skylar? The first time I met her, she had defeated an entire group of males by herself.

At first, I was just curious about her, but the more I visited <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! I was.

She was so strong-willed in the face of difficulties. She was mysterious and fresh, which drew me towards her.

During the process of getting to know her, I found that my interest in Skylar was growing.

I found myself longing to see her, and at times, even wanting to protect her.

I had never had such a wonderful feeling for a she-wolf.

When we were seated on the plane, I saw her checking her phone from time to time.

After reading through some messages, she seemed to give up and tucked her phone away, as though she was afraid of something.

I didn't know what was going on in her mind, but I wanted to find out.

"What's wrong? You seem a little anxious," I asked her.

Skylar eyed me nervously for a while before finally letting out a heavy sigh.

"The reason why I needed to leave the Black Stone Pack is because my mate has been looking for me. But I don't want to go back to him. I decided to give up on him so that he could be together with his ex-girlfriend. I don't want him to find me. I really can't take being sandwiched between them anymore. It was such a suffocating feeling." Skylar smiled bitterly.

So that was why she had left everything behind. Knowing what she had gone through, I couldn't help but feel bad.

"Skylar, you're an interesting girl, but you're way too kind-hearted. Why didn't you fight for your mate? His ex-girlfriend should've been nothing but a reminder of his past. You should've respected the arrangement of Moon Goddess and cherished your mate." I shook my head in disbelief.

This silly girl actually went so far out of her way for other's happiness, while sacrificing her own.

"No, I don't want to cause them any more suffering. I have a feeling my mate still likes his ex. I don't want to be in a relationship where my mate has eyes for another woman. It's better to leave them alone than to share his love with another girl. More importantly, I believe that I can also live a wonderful life alone," Skylar explained simply.

"Skylar, I believe you need to think more about yourself and your own happiness. But since you've already made the decision to leave, I'm sure things will get better for you. You will definitely find your own happiness."

I felt sympathetic towards her situation.

If she really wanted to break away from her past, then I sincerely hoped she could live a better life from now on.

"Thank you, Robin. You're right. Now that I've made my decision, I need to move on and look toward the future. Everything will turn out fine. What about you? I don't know anything about you."

Skylar finally began to inquire about me.

I couldn't help but feel a little happy, as it looked like she was slowly beginning to warm up to me.

"I'm the son of the Blue Rose Pack's Beta. Actually, the only reason why I was in the Black Stone Pack in the first place is because a friend of mine is getting married, so I visited him. His name's Daniel, and he's the son of the Black Stone Pack's Alpha. We used to be classmates. I heard he's deeply in love with his mate. I'm really happy for him."

I didn't know if I was just seeing things, but it looked like Skylar stiffened at the mention of Daniel's name.

"How long will it take for us to reach the Blue Rose Pack?" she asked, abruptly changing the topic.

I stole a glance at her.

Did Skylar know Daniel? But before I could ask her, we started experiencing turbulence and the plane jerked up and down.

As the plane shook, I heard Skylar scream.

A cup of hot water had spilled onto her, scalding the back of her hand.

“Are you okay?”

I quickly grabbed her wrist and wiped her hand with a tissue.

“Yeah, don’t worry about me. It’s nothing serious.”

Skylar took her hand back.

“You should be more careful.”

Worried about her hand, I looked for some burn salve and carefully applied it on her hand.

Then, I wrapped her with a blanket for fear that she would catch a cold.

Skylar shifted uncomfortably.

It looked like she wasn’t too happy with the way I cared about her. I could see that she hadn’t completely given up on her mate.

My fingertips were still warm from touching Skylar’s hand. I couldn’t help but smile slightly.

Skylar was a really complicated but lovable girl.

Outcast: The Alpha King’s Beloved

Chapter 162

/ Outcast: The Alpha King’s Beloved
Daniel’s POV:

Helen and I had been in the Black Stone Pack for several days now.

Ever since we got here, we had been searching high and low for Skylar, but it was as though she had disappeared into thin air.

No matter where we looked, we couldn’t find a trace of her.

At some point, we even started to suspect that Skylar hadn’t even come back to Black Stone Pack.

I texted Jerome that there was no sign of Skylar yet, hoping that they would turn their eyes towards other packs.

Despite things looking bleak, I sent a large number of werewolves to continue the search for Skylar in Black Stone Pack.

Amidst everything, I received a message from my brother, Devin.

“Let’s have dinner at my place at eight o’clock tonight, Daniel. Bring Helen with you.”

That was strange.

Devin and I had always had a complicated relationship.

Why was he inviting us to dinner? Was he just trying to act friendly in front of our parents? Or perhaps he actually wanted to improve our relationship.

After some slight hesitation, I replied, “Okay.”

Then, I turned off the phone.

I needed to focus.

What was Devin up to? Even though I racked my brains, I still couldn’t figure him out.

There was nothing I could do but wait and see.

Later that day, Helen and I went to Devin’s house at eight o’clock sharp.

But to my surprise, my parents were nowhere to be found.

Did Devin not invite our parents? How awkward if it was just the four of us! After all, my relationship with Devin was, to put it lightly, strained.

“Helen, be careful. I don’t think tonight is as simple as it seems,” I told Helen.

She nodded and slipped her hand into mine.

We headed to the dining table together.

There was an unexpected guest waiting there.

It was my childhood friend, Mandy.

As soon as we sat down, Mandy approached us.

My expression darkened.

What was she doing here? Why did Devin invite her? “I’m sorry, but this is my seat.”

Mandy stood beside Helen, smiling at her.

She gestured for Helen to switch seats.

Helen eventually relented and sat in the other seat next to me.

"So, you're the famous Helen. I've heard so much about you. Now that you're at the Black Stone Pack, please feel at home here," Mandy said with a smile.

"Who is she?" Helen whispered in my ear.

"She's the daughter of the Black Stone Pack's Beta, and we were playmates growing up. I didn't expect her to be here."

As I explained to Helen, I put some food on her plate.

"Eat up!"

"How sweet! At this rate, you two will have a child in no time!" Mandy teased.

At the mention of a child, Devin's face turned livid, while Grace's Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! parents declared that whoever produced an heir would become the next Alpha, my brother and I had been at odds.

Devin and Grace Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! married, so obviously, they took my incoming marriage as a threat.

They were afraid that we would produce a child, and that my parents would make me the next Alpha.

"There's no rush. Helen and I have no plans of having a baby anytime soon." I tried to smooth things over.

"Daniel and I aren't even married yet. It's too early to talk about having kids. And even when we do get married, we still want some time to ourselves for a few years," Helen echoed.

I hoped that Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! really didn't want our relationship to be so tense.

"True. You two shouldn't be in a hurry. After all, Devin and Grace don't have kids yet," Mandy said.

It sounded like she was on my side, but wasn't she stirring up even more trouble by saying that? I narrowed my eyes at her, wondering what she was up to.

As expected, Devin snorted in response.

Grace didn't say anything either.

An awkward atmosphere hung over the dining table, with tension so thick, one could cut it with a knife.

I Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! brother and sister-in-law.

When we were done eating, Grace stood up suddenly and went to Helen's side.

"Helen, come with me. Our first meeting was too rushed, so I wasn't able to prepare a gift for you last time. Let me make it up to you now. My gift for you is waiting upstairs. I hope you will like it."

"I'll go with you." I also stood up hurriedly.

"This is between girls. There's something I need to discuss with Helen, too. You'd better wait here," Grace said.

I had no choice but Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! two women were gone, Mandy leaned towards me.

She was scantily clad tonight, and as she leaned, her cleavage popped out.

Ignoring her, I turned my head the opposite direction.

I was worried about Helen.

She didn't know anyone here. "Daniel, you've been gone for months. I was beginning to think you would never come back,"

Mandy pouted.

"What made you think that? Black Stone Pack is my home," I replied absentmindedly.

Out of the corner of my eye, I could see that Mandy was inching closer and closer to me, Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! I had known earlier, I would've worked harder so that I could've gone to Marge Island with you. Unfortunately, I was not selected back then. If I had also become a trainee, do you think our relationship would have been different?" Mandy sighed.

What on earth was she trying to say to me? Just then, Helen came back with a gift box in her hand.

I abruptly ended the conversation with Mandy and hurried to receive Helen.

"Let's go home." I took the gift box from Helen and said goodbye to everyone.

"We're going back. Let's do this again some other time."

Helen waved goodbye to everyone and together, we headed home.

Helen's POV:

Tonight's dinner party was definitely strange.

I knew that Daniel's relationship with his brother was on the rocks, so I had been on edge all night.

But Mandy's presence was also strange.

She spoke sarcastically at the dinner table, as though she was deliberately trying to stir up a fight.

Grace, on the other hand, was somewhat kind to me.

On the way back to Daniel's house, I thought about what had happened just now.

Grace brought me to her room and took out a gift box from her closet.

"Helen, this is my gift for you," she said, handing me the box.

"Please accept it."

"Thank you!" I accepted it gratefully.

"You're welcome. We're going to be family soon, so don't be too formal with me," Grace said with a smile.

We chatted in her room for a while. Just as I was about to excuse myself, Grace pulled me aside.

"Wait. There's something I need to tell you," she said seriously.

"Helen, I like you ever since we first met. I really hate to see you hurt, so I want to warn you about Mandy. She and Daniel were very close they almost became a couple. After all, they grew up together. We always thought they would become mates until Daniel came home with you."

"Okay, thank you for telling me this."

I couldn't help but feel uncomfortable afterwards.

I loved Daniel so much, so naturally, I felt jealous knowing that he and Mandy could've been something.

When Daniel and I got home, I set the gift box down and sat on the bed, thinking about what Grace had told me.

At this time, Daniel had finished washing up and sat down next to me.

"What's wrong? You look like something's on your mind." Daniel held me in his arms.

"I have something to ask."

"Honey, what is it? You can ask me anything." Daniel pinched my cheek dotingly.

"Who is Mandy to you?"

"We were playmates when we were kids," Daniel replied simply.

"But Grace told me that you almost became a couple and you used to be very close to her." I looked at Daniel with a sad face.

"Daniel, you're mine, right?"

"Of course, both my body and my heart belong to you and you alone. Silly girl, you shouldn't trust whatever Grace says. Maybe she just wants us to fight so that we won't get married and have kids. I promise that there is nothing special between me and Mandy," Daniel explained hurriedly.

"Okay, I believe you." I heaved a sigh of relief and nestled contentedly in his arms.

"As for Grace and Devin, I'll be careful with them from now on."

"Helen, please believe me when I say that; now that I have you, I will love you and only you."

"I love you, too." Daniel's words touched me.

I leaned over and pecked him on the lips, but he looked dissatisfied.

"Not enough."

"What? Then what do you want?" I blushed and asked shyly.

"This,"

Daniel whispered before leaning over to kiss me deeply.

He slipped his arms around my waist and held me tightly.

With our lips and tongues intertwined, I could feel his hands reaching up my blouse to rub my breasts.

"Honey, I can't kiss you enough."

When we finally pulled away, we were both out of breath.

"By the way, a werewolf sent me a message just now. He said that he found evidence of Skylar being here," Daniel said suddenly.

"Really? Where is she now? How is she? Let's hurry up and find her!" I was so excited.

This was the first time we had heard anything about Skylar ever since she left.

"Unfortunately, my men found out too late. While she did show up at Black Stone Pack, she was last seen at the airport. We don't know where she went." Daniel sighed.

"Skylar left the Black Stone Pack? Now it'll be even harder to find her. Let me call Jennifer. She texted me yesterday, asking about Skylar."

"Okay. Tell them the news. We can also take this as an opportunity to follow up on this clue at the airport. Maybe we can find out where she went."

"Okay." I reached for my phone called Jennifer in front of Daniel.

"Helen, how are you doing over there?" Jennifer asked when the call connected.

"We're fine. Thanks for asking. Jennifer, we found out that Skylar was here, but she has already flown out. We're still trying to figure out where she has gone."

"Thanks for telling me, Helen. I'll tell Jerome." Jennifer sounded a little disappointed.

"Okay. I won't take up any more of your time. I'll keep you posted if we find out anything more."

After bidding each other goodbye, we hung up.

"How do you think Skylar's doing now? Do you think she's in trouble?" I leaned against Daniel's chest.

"I don't know. We'll find out more tomorrow." Daniel rubbed my hair affectionately.

"Don't worry, babe. Skylar will be fine. You must be tired. Get some sleep."

"Okay. Let's sleep together."

Daniel tucked me in and got in bed next to me.

But we didn't sleep well that night.

We were both worried sick about Skylar.

"Skylar, where could you be? Please come back. We're all worried about you."

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 163

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Jennifer's POV:

Right before I fell asleep, my phone rang.

It was Helen.

She told me that Skylar had left Black Stone Pack.

I sat bolt upright when I heard the news, anxious because now, it would be even more difficult for us to find Skylar.

The world was huge. Where on earth could she have gone?

"I have to tell Jerome," I said to Anthony urgently.

Jerome was so busy with work lately, trying his best to solve the matters of the pack as soon as possible so that he could search for Skylar himself.

I figured he would move even faster once I told him the news.

"I'll go with you."

Anthony also got out of bed.

The two of us hurriedly got dressed and rushed to Jerome's room.

Nodding slightly to Anthony, I raised my hand and knocked on the door.

Soon after, Jerome opened the door.

There were dark circles around his eyes.

"What's up?" he asked tiredly.

"Jerome, I'm just here to tell you that Skylar has left the Black Stone Pack."

“What?”

All the color drained from Jerome’s already pale face.

“Where could she have gone? Do you think she’s in danger? I can’t wait any longer. I’m going to look for her right now. Jennifer, I don’t have the time to properly hand over the affairs of the pack to you. Please summon the elders and have a meeting tomorrow to explain the situation.”

As he spoke, Jerome had already headed back into his room to pack his things.

“Since you’ve made up your mind, we will support you. Call me if you need anything, okay?” I sighed.

Because time was of the essence, Jerome only took a few attendants with him.

Anthony and I escorted him to the airport.

“I’m going straight to the Black Stone Pack to personally investigate the matter. If Skylar was there, she must’ve left some clues. I’m sure I’ll find something at the airport. Hopefully, she didn’t go far.” Jerome waved at me.

“Thank you, Jennifer.”

“Don’t worry,” I said with a forced smile.

“I’ll do what I can to take care of the pack. Be careful, okay? Call us as soon as you find Skylar.”

“I will,” Jerome agreed.

“If you encounter any difficulties, don’t hesitate to tell me.”

“Okay.” Jerome nodded.

Then, all of a sudden, he threw his arms around me tightly.

“Jennifer, I’m sorry. I’m a bad brother. We were separated when we were children. I’ve never taken care of you properly. And now, I’m asking you to take over the Rainbow Pack for me.”

“So you have to come back soon, or I’ll never forgive you.” I felt a lump in my throat.

Jerome nodded and let go of me.

“All right. Mr. Jones, Jennifer, I’m leaving now.”

He walked towards the plane steadily, glancing back at us from time to time.

When we were sure that Jerome was on board, Anthony and I went back to Rainbow House.

That night, I tossed and turned in bed, and Anthony hugged me from behind.

"Don't worry. I'll always be with you."

He pecked me on the neck.

"Anthony, I don't know when my brother will come back. Do you think the elders will agree to let me temporarily lead the pack?" I was really worried.

"Of course they will," Anthony said firmly.

"You're an excellent girl, Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! you? Besides, I will help you."

"I'm so glad you're there for me. With you by my side, I almost feel certain I can Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! so I won't be able to accompany you back to the kingdom until my brother comes back."

I felt terrible. I had been separated from Anthony for so long, and our reunion was no easy feat. I had initially agreed to go back to the Osman Kingdom with him, but now my promise was put on hold.

"It's okay, Jennifer. Don't overthink things. We will have ample time together. And we love each other; nothing can separate us." Anthony kissed me gently on the cheek.

"I want to sleep with Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! my arms around Anthony's neck.

He kissed me on the forehead and slipped his arms around my waist.

His embrace was warm and the air was sweet.

The next day, we prepared for the meeting with the elders.

Jerome was supposed to show up and hand over the affairs of the pack, but with him gone, the purpose of the meeting was for me to convince them to let me manage the pack in his absence.

When I arrived at the hall, the elders were already busy Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! main chair.

"Jennifer, that's the seat for the Alpha of Rainbow Pack."

When the elders saw me sitting down, they all looked at me in confusion.

Only Simon and Tony were calm.

This was because I had contacted them beforehand, informing them of Jerome's situation.

They were the most likely to support me among all the elders present, so I had made preparations in advance, hoping they would help me at the meeting.

"There's something we need to discuss. Jerome left the Rainbow Pack last night. In his absence, I visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! with objections.

"Jennifer, are you kidding? The Rainbow Pack has never been managed by a she-wolf. The pack can only be managed by the future Alpha. You can't do this!"

I understood their sentiments, and I was not angry with them.

But I had to find a way to appease them.

While my brother was away, I couldn't let the Rainbow Pack go without leadership.

So I glanced at Simon, hinting at him to help me out.

"Who says she isn't qualified? Jennifer is strong and independent, and she's the one who visits <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! isn't here, it's only right that she take over the affairs of the pack," Simon said.

"You don't know Jennifer well enough. She is as capable as Jerome, if not even more so. I think the Rainbow Pack will flourish under her leadership," Tony added.

"I heard that it was Jennifer who found Tony and helped him regain his consciousness so that the evil Arthur would be brought to justice. She is indeed very strong-willed. I think she can lead the Rainbow Pack."

Several other elders spoke on my visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! is, she is still a she-wolf. The affairs of our pack have always been handled by the Alpha—who has always been male. We have never had a female Alpha."

"But Jennifer is not trying to become the Alpha. She'll only manage the affairs of our pack while Jerome is gone. What's wrong with that?"

Chaos broke loose as everyone spoke their mind.

Finally, I stood up from my seat and spoke loudly.

"Please listen to me first."

As soon as I said that, everyone fell silent.

It was so quiet that one could've heard a pin drop.

"Jerome has some personal affairs to deal with, which is why he left Rainbow Pack in a hurry last night. I'm sorry that we weren't able to inform you in advance. In the past, my father worked hard to rule the pack, but his position was usurped by Arthur. In order to prevent the Rainbow Pack from falling into a similar situation, I think the burden of leading the pack should fall on me. I know there has never been a she-wolf who has intervened in the affairs of the pack, but rules are always man-made. As a result, rules can change. My brother is not here. There is no one else except me who can lead the pack. In a time as critical as now, we need to be united and can't go out of order. Since I have promised my brother to temporarily manage the pack's affairs, I will try my best to do it. Why don't you give me a chance? If I can't live up to the task, then I will be at your disposal," I said calmly.

The elders who had initially opposed me finally agreed.

"What you said makes sense, Jennifer. I have no objection anymore," said one of the elders.

"I agree."

"We agree, too."

The other elders also agreed. I finally breathed a sigh of relief.

"All right. I hope we can cooperate with each other from now on. Let's manage Rainbow Pack together."

"We will cooperate with you, Jennifer."

"Thank you for your trust, elders."

I sincerely bowed to them.

When the meeting was over, I couldn't help but feel relieved.

Anthony's POV:

Jennifer went to attend the meeting while I stayed in our room alone.

I suddenly received a message from an attendant I had sent out previously.

As I read his text, my heart beat quickened with excitement.

"Mr. Jones, we have found a wizard named Roy. He was spotted near the Rainbow Pack recently. Maybe you can try to contact him. This is his location."

Soon after, Jennifer came back.

I told her about the message, which made her jump with joy.

We both hoped that this wizard would help me regain my memories.

Jennifer quickly called Jeff and asked him if he knew a wizard named Roy.

We believed in Jeff's connections in this field.

As expected, Jeff's friend happened to know Roy, and even Jeff himself had met Roy many times.

So then we decided to go and meet Roy together.

It was said that Roy was an old and mysterious wizard who lived in a small log cabin in the forest.

Werewolves often tried to convince him to leave the forest, but he was unwilling.

Some even tried to bribe him with money, but he refused.

Jeff continued talking to us about Roy's story as we waded through the forest in search of his home.

"Roy is there!" Jeff exclaimed all of a sudden.

We followed his sight and saw an old werewolf sitting on a rattan chair, basking in the sun.

"Hello, are you Roy?"

I walked up to him and asked.

He popped open one eye to glance at us before nodding.

"What's the matter this time, Jeff?" Roy asked.

From his tone of voice, it sounded like he knew Jeff well.

"It's nice to meet you, Roy. Actually, we could use your help. My mate has lost his memories. Is there anything you can do to help him?"

Jennifer walked over and explained our purpose to the wizard.

"Bring him forward and let me check," Roy said.

I stepped forward as requested.

Roy took out his scepter and waved it in front of my body.

I noticed him frown for a second, but he quickly became straight-faced afterward.

"Your memories have just been sealed, which can be unsealed by magic," Roy announced calmly.

"Roy, can you do it? He's a friend of mine, and Jennifer here is his mate. They love each other very much, but he can't remember how he met her. We all hope that he can regain his memories," Jeff said.

"Fine. I'll help you, for Jeff's sake. Come in with me."

Roy was pointing at me.

I glanced at Jennifer to reassure her that I was going to be okay, then followed him into his house.

Inside, I saw bottles upon bottles of various shapes, sizes, and colors.

Maybe they were magic potions.

I followed Roy's instructions and lay down on a lounge chair.

"Close your eyes and relax."

As Roy's hand moved over my head, I felt a warm stream of air moving around my head as though a wind was billowing about me.

All of a sudden, some fragments of old memories started flashing in my mind.

I could see myself visiting some packs to select outstanding werewolves to train.

That was when I met Jennifer.

The first time I ever laid eyes on her, I felt oddly drawn towards her.

I had never seen such a girl.

She was gentle and beautiful yet unyielding.

I knew right then and there that she was my mate.

I paid much attention to her during the training and even conducted solo sessions with her.

We had gone through so much together.

I normally found girls troublesome and annoying, but Jennifer was different.

I fell head over heels in love with her.

It was fate.

“Jennifer, I remember it all now. I remember every sweet moment between us. I will never forget you ever again. I will love you all my life and protect you” I thought.

“Congratulations! The seal around your memories has been removed and your sense of smell has been restored. But there seems to be some strange incantation on you. Although the incantation hasn’t taken effect yet, it might be dangerous in the future. I’m sorry, but I’m not strong enough to remove it. I don’t even know what it is exactly. You should ask a more powerful wizard for help. If you like, I can give you the contact information of several wizards I know. You should visit them. Maybe one of them can solve your problem.”

As Roy spoke, he jotted down a few numbers on a piece of paper to give to me.

“Thank you for all of your help, Roy.”

I took the paper from him gratefully and carefully tucked it inside my pocket.

Even so, I couldn’t relax just yet.

I had finally regained my memories, but a new problem cropped up.

Why was there an incantation on me? Was this Caroline’s doing? But the good news was that I remembered every detail between me and Jennifer.

“Jennifer, my love, I will cherish you more!”

Outcast: The Alpha King’s Beloved

Chapter 164

/ Outcast: The Alpha King’s Beloved
Jennifer’s POV:

Anthony emerged from Roy’s room with a sense of clarity in his eyes.

Together, we thanked Roy over and over again.

Then, we said goodbye to Jeff and headed back to the Rainbow House.

Anthony headed straight to the bathroom to take a shower as soon as we got home.

I could sense that he was a little restless.

"Anthony, have you regained your memories? How do you feel? Do you feel stressed in any way?"

I asked anxiously when he was done showering.

Anthony was covered only by a white bath towel I wrapped around his waist.

His chiseled body glistened with water droplets, highlighting his toned muscles.

Seeing this made me swallow hard.

"Jennifer, I remember everything now,"

Anthony said with sudden urgency, grabbing my hands and pulling me close to him.

His eyes burned with passion as he looked me over from head to toe.

"I remember that the first time we made love was on the yacht."

"You remember everything? Anthony, I'm so happy!"

I gave his hands a squeeze.

However, I accidentally jerked him towards me; in doing so, his bath towel unraveled and fell to the floor, revealing his big, erect cock.

"Honey, are you teasing me?" I asked.

We had been through so much together, yet the memory he chose to mention was that of the first time we ever made love.

Was he trying to seduce me? If he was, then I had to admit that he was successful.

"Honey, do you want to recreate that memory?"

Anthony raised my chin and whispered in my ear, which made me tremble all over.

"That's exactly what I want,"

I whispered back, planting a kiss on his neck.

“Jennifer, regaining my memories is one of the best things that has ever happened to me. I might’ve fallen in love with you again, but I always felt bad that I had forgotten about you. Now that I remember everything that we went through, I realized we’ve shared so many beautiful moments together. Yet at the same time, I feel so guilty. How could I have forgotten the most important part of my life? I never want to be separated from you again.”

“Anthony, if I hadn’t met you, I know things wouldn’t have been the same. You came into my life like a ray of light. The truth was, when we went to see Roy, I mentally prepared myself for the worst. I decided that even if you didn’t regain your memories, I would stay by your side forever. No matter what happens, nothing will change that. As long as we love each other, that’s more than enough for me.”

As I spoke, I felt a lump in my throat as tears welled up in my eyes.

“Honey, don’t worry. I remember everything now. Today is a special day. We should celebrate. How about some wine?” Anthony offered.

“Sounds like a good idea.”

A smile played at the corners of my lips and I immediately felt lighter.

As Anthony prepared the glasses of wine, I quickly changed into a sexy nightgown.

When I emerged, I found Anthony in bed with two glasses of wine, waiting for me.

“A toast to your recovery.” I took my glass and proposed a cheer.

“To every moment we’ve shared,”

Anthony replied, raising his glass too.

“To my dearest Jennifer.”

“To the great prince!”

I threw him a playful wink.

Anthony pinched my cheek dotingly.

The two of us downed our glasses.

I drank a lot perhaps because I was so happy.

Anthony couldn't pry the wine glass out of my hand, so in the end, he had no choice but to kiss me instead.

The moment Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! in my mind, as though fireworks went off in front of me.

Stimulated by the alcohol and lust, I could feel my pussy Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! but moan as his hands reached under my nightgown.

My nightgown ended right above my thighs, so it didn't take much for Anthony to reach my pussy.

"Honey, I can feel your wetness," Anthony said, smiling at me smugly.

Then he lifted the gown over my chest, exposing my tender breasts.

He leaned forward and started kissing my nipples.

No matter how many times he had done this before, I couldn't help but feel shy and excited at the same time.

I unconsciously let out another loud moan.

This Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! impatient and ripped my underwear off.

Soon, he too was naked.

"Jennifer, be a good girl. Bring me the box on the bedside table."

I didn't know why Anthony was keeping me in suspense.

I was already sitting on his lap, feeling his hardened cock under me, but he insisted on asking me to get the box on the bedside table.

I stood up and retrieved the box.

He signaled to me to open it in front of him.

"What's this?"

I asked upon lifting the lid.

There was something like a Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! rubber spikes.

I also found a vibrator inside the box.

“Honey, just try it. I want to watch you play with yourself until you climax.”

Anthony took out the vibrator and gently put it in my hands.

I hesitantly took the sex toy.

“Oh, my God! Is he going to put it in my body? How embarrassing!”

But I couldn't resist Anthony's request, so I found myself turning on the vibrator and pressing it against my pussy.

As soon as it made contact, I screamed and practically collapsed into Anthony's arms.

‘How could a sex toy make me so happy?’ I wondered with a slight frown.

But I still liked Anthony's cock best.

Seeing that I was having fun, Anthony took the vibrator and inserted it inside my pussy.

Anthony's hands were magical.

My body trembled and shook under his touch.

I soon grew impatient and started rubbing my own breasts with both hands, moaning uncontrollably.

“It feels so good. Oh, my God! I'm going to climax soon. Argh!” I screamed hysterically as I climaxed the first time.

“Honey, come inside,” I begged breathlessly.

“I want you to fuck me hard.”

“Okay, babe.”

I watched hungrily as Anthony put on the special condom.

Finally, he inserted his huge cock into my pussy.

“It itches!”

As soon as the spiky condom touched my pussy, it felt unbearably itchy.

I just wanted Anthony to keep thrusting inside of me and keep fucking me hard.

As though he could read my mind, Anthony pushed himself all the way inside.

I felt the walls of my pussy tighten around his hardened cock, but even then, I felt that it wasn't enough.

I shoved Anthony onto his back and got on top of him, moving my hips around to let his cock go inside deeper.

Satisfied, I leaned forward and kissed Anthony's lips.

His cock felt so good inside me, driving me insane; my eyes rolled to the back of my head from the pleasure.

"I didn't expect this little thing would make my babe so happy," Anthony exclaimed.

"No, it's you that makes me happy, not the toy! I love you, Anthony!"

I expressed my love to him.

Anthony seemed pleased with what I said, because I felt his cock swell even further inside my body.

He was already familiar with my body, so he soon found my G-spot.

As his cock pressed against it, I couldn't help but twitch.

Anthony fucked me so hard I wanted to scream.

Finally, he too climaxed before sinking into the bed next to me.

"Honey, there's something I need to tell you. Roy told me that I has been cursed, but even he couldn't tell what the incantation was for," Anthony said in a serious manner.

So that was why he was so restless earlier.

"Did he tell you how to remove the curse?" I asked worriedly.

"No, but he gave me the contact information of some powerful wizards. I won't know the specifics until I talk to them."

"Anthony, don't worry. I'll be with you. Maybe it'll turn out to be no big deal," I said hopefully.

"I hope so, too. The memory loss incident was bad enough, I hope this is nothing."

Anthony lovingly wrapped a quilt around me to keep me warm.

"I have a feeling Caroline's behind this. When I go back to the kingdom, I must find out the truth. If she really did do it, I must settle accounts with her."

"I agree," I said with a nod.

Anthony's POV:

I didn't know why, but I felt really uneasy, as though I could sense something bad was going to happen.

I hoped everything would go smoothly.

I just needed to find those wizards and solve the problem of the incantation.

After everything that had happened, I just wanted to be with Jennifer.

"Honey, do you want to try fucking out in the open?" I whispered into Jennifer's ear.

Jennifer nodded shyly, which was a pleasant surprise.

It didn't take much to convince her.

I happily carried her to the rooftop.

"Anthony, look at all the stars!" Jennifer looked up at the sky with sparkling eyes. I smiled at her affectionately.

"Let the stars watch us make love."

After saying that, I inserted my cock into her pussy again.

Feeling her pussy sucking on my cock, my body got fired up all over again.

Hearing Jennifer's moans echo in my ears only fueled my desire further.

I pushed myself into her harder and harder.

"Do you remember our first date?" I asked, panting, as I rubbed her plump breasts and pinched her pink nipples.

"Of course I do," Jennifer said in between gasps.

The excitement brought about by the open air was incomparable.

I couldn't help but suckle on her breast as though my life depended on it.

"Ah, that feels so good. Anthony, you're killing me!"

Jennifer ran her fingers through her hair as she arched her back.

I took this as an opportunity to put my hands behind her back and shoved into her deeper.

“Jennifer, you are everything to me,”

I whispered to Jennifer as I recalled our past.

Tonight, Jennifer was incredibly enthusiastic.

I tried my best to satisfy her.

We made love to our hearts' content.

It wasn't until she reached climax in my arms again and again and even passed out that I stopped.

I leaned over and kissed her on the cheek before carrying her back downstairs.

Jennifer was my love. She and she alone ignited my desire and lit up my life.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 165

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved
Jerome's POV:

“Excuse me, sir. Have you seen this woman?” I asked a passing werewolf while showing him Skylar's photo.

“She looks a little familiar. I think I've seen her somewhere.”

The old werewolf squinted as he peered at the picture in my hand.

“Look closer, and please try to remember.”

Since I arrived at Black Stone Pack, I had inquired about Skylar everywhere.

Now that I was faced with a possible link to Skylar, I felt a little excited.

“I remember her now. This woman is Skylar! She performed excellently during the elite werewolf trial. She was so awesome that she was the only female selected from Black Stone Pack.”

“Have you seen her again after that? Has she been in this area?”

"Oh, I just saw her a few days ago. I happened to pass by just as she was about to get raped at a fast-food restaurant. I wanted to help her but the restaurant owner looked fierce and I'm a weak old man. Luckily, some young werewolf came to her aid before anything bad could really happen."

The old werewolf sighed. What? Skylar had been through such an awful situation?

"Do you know who the young werewolf is? Where did they go after that?"

"No, I didn't recognize him. And I don't know where they went either. I recognized Skylar but I don't know the werewolf who saved her. He didn't look like a member of our pack."

"I see. Thank you!"

What that old werewolf had said shocked me.

I did not know that Skylar had gone through such a difficult time.

My heart ached for her.

I was getting sick with worry.

"Jerome, why don't we go to the airport and find out where Skylar was headed?" one of my attendants suggested.

That was a good idea.

We could go to the airport to check.

Maybe then I would learn which pack Skylar had gone to.

With this in mind, I took a taxi with my attendants to the airport.

"Hello! I need to know which flight one of your passengers went on."

As soon as we arrived at the airport, I rushed over to the ticket counter.

"I'm sorry, sir. We have a policy about protecting our passengers' privacy. We cannot share that information with you."

"Could you please do me this favor? She is my mate, and I'm looking for her. I just need to know where she was headed."

"Jerome? Why are you here?" a familiar voice called out.

I turned around and saw Daniel and Helen standing behind me.

"Daniel! Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! here as well to investigate Skylar's whereabouts?"

"Yes. Are you planning to go look for her in person?" Daniel asked me.

"I am. I can't imagine what kind of Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! left me. I just met an old man who told me that Skylar is in the company of a werewolf from another pack after almost getting raped."

"Everything will be fine. We'll find Skylar, and the two of you will be together again." Daniel put his arm around my shoulder to reassure me.

"By the way, Daniel, do you have any way to get Skylar's flight information? I tried just now, but the airport staff refused to tell me anything."

"Let's see what I can do." Daniel Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! which flight one of your passengers went on. And if there are any surveillance videos that she is in, I would like to see those as well." Daniel showed his ID to the staff.

"Yes, sir. Please wait a moment."

Once the receptionist looked at Daniel's ID, her attitude changed immediately.

She typed away on her computer and searched for Skylar's flight details.

Not too long after that, she showed Daniel a portion of the surveillance video.

"Look here, sir. Is this what you wanted?"

"Yes. Thank you very much."

After taking Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! Daniel learned that Skylar had taken a plane to the Blue Rose Pack's territory.

"Thank you, Daniel. I'm going to the Blue Rose Pack now."

"Good luck, Jerome,"

Daniel and Helen told me sincerely.

After bidding them goodbye, I bought a ticket for the earliest flight to Blue Rose Pack.

"Wait for me, Skylar. I'm coming for you."

Skylar's POV:

After arriving at the Blue Rose Pack, I stayed in the residence that Robin had arranged for me.

However, I was still depressed about Jerome.

Robin treated me kindly.

He often took me out on walks or shopping trips.

He gave me all sorts of gifts and tried every means to make me happy.

This only burdened me emotionally because I didn't know how to repay his kindness.

After thinking about my situation and how dependent I was becoming, I knew that I couldn't go on like this.

I needed to find a job so that I could have a steady source of income.

I sent applications online, but sadly, with my educational background, I was only qualified to work as a waitress.

Considering the mess that I was in, I was willing to give my all no matter what the job was.

So the next day, I got up very early so that I could apply for jobs in person.

My first stop was at a well-known restaurant.

It was often crowded, and its staff members were mostly female so what happened at the Black Stone Pack fast-food restaurant was unlikely to happen here.

The owner of the restaurant asked me a few questions and nodded with satisfaction until he saw what household I was registered under.

"I'm sorry, miss, but we can't hire you," the owner told me regretfully.

"May I ask why?"

"You are not a member of Blue Rose Pack. Our company has been quite stable because we only recruit people from our pack. So you don't meet our requirements."

"I see. That's understandable. Thank you for your time."

I got up from my seat and left.

I thought that the first restaurant was an exception.

I had not expected the next restaurants I applied at to have a similar policy.

It was going to be difficult to find a job in the area since I was not a member of Blue Rose Pack.

“Don’t let this get you down, Skylar. Cheer up!”

After rallying my courage, I went to my next interview which was at a cafe.

This was my last interview for the day, but I was hoping for success.

The cafe was famous and owned by a middle-aged she-wolf who looked very easy-going.

However, because of my previous job interviews, I was uncertain if she was going to hire me.

“I think you look good and have a pleasing personality, which are my minimum standards for recruiting people. If you’re ready, you can work here starting tomorrow.”

After going over my resume and asking me questions, the cafe owner was kind enough to give me a job.

“Thank you, ma’am. I’ll work so that I don’t disappoint you!” I was so happy that I wanted to cheer out loud.

“That’s good to hear. We need employees who are as passionate as you are,” the owner replied.

I walked out of the cafe with a skip in my step.

The more I thought about it, the happier I felt.

I finally had a job! I hummed a song as I passed by an alley.

It was an alley where very few werewolves passed.

After my experience of nearly getting raped, it was not a place where I wanted to linger so I walked faster.

But before I could pick up my pace, I noticed two beggars kneeling before me.

“It’s going to rain soon. You should find some place where you won’t get wet.”

The two felt familiar somehow so I approached them.

My hand automatically went to my pocket to offer them the only money I had on me.

“Here you go.”

I took the money out of my pocket and handed it over to them.

Now that I had a job, I knew that I was going to get paid regularly.

I wanted to pay forward the kindness that I had just received.

“Skylar? Why are you here?”

My hand froze in the middle of handing the money over.

I took a better look at the two beggars before me.

Oh my God! Were my eyes deceiving me? The two beggars were actually Linda and Andy! Why were they here?

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 166

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Linda's POV:

I had not expected Jerome to banish me and Andy from Rainbow Pack.

Because of his heartless order, we could not enter their territory for the rest of our lives.

I had no choice but to wander around with Andy in tow.

We went to Red Sun Pack first.

But when the Alpha there heard that we had been banished by the Rainbow Pack's Alpha, Jerome, and Prince Anthony, he had the nerve to turn me and Andy away.

We tried going to Lavender Pack next.

I had hopes of taking my place once more as Alpha Bard's mistress Andy was his child after all.

However, he kicked us out as well, claiming that he did not want Jerome's trash.

In the end, Andy and I ended up becoming beggars in Blue Rose Pack.

Fortunately, the werewolves here were kind so we were at least able to keep ourselves from starving to death.

I had not expected to cross paths with Skylar in this damned place.

How unlucky of me! I was kind of hoping that she would be living miserably after leaving Jerome, but the reality was different from my expectations.

She seemed to be living well, and she didn't look as dejected as I had thought.

On the contrary, Andy and I were in an awful situation.

"Linda, Andy, why are you here?"

Skylar looked shocked to see us.

I lowered my gaze because I didn't want her to see me like this.

I frowned when she continued to question us. Did she want to make fun of our situation that badly?

"You're Linda and Andy, aren't you? Are my eyes deceiving me?"

"Yes, it's me, Linda. Long time no see, Skylar!"

I lifted my chin stubbornly and met Skylar's gaze.

I was willing to admit when I had lost as long as the other person was not Skylar.

I never wanted to lose to her.

"Why are you two here? What happened?"

Skylar crouched down, keeping her gaze on me and Andy.

We were in this miserable situation because of her.

Why did this bitch look sympathetic? How ridiculous! Jerome probably did not know Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! was a great opportunity to pay him back for the pain that he had inflicted upon me.

"Skylar, I didn't expect to see Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! would be begging for the rest of our lives. Please help us."

"What on earth happened to you?"

"We got kidnapped during an outing. I assumed that our kidnappers wanted to sell us off, but when I overheard them talking, I learned that they were actually Jerome's enemies. They kidnapped us in hopes of using us to threaten Jerome. I didn't want that to happen so I took a risk and managed to escape with Andy. We have been wandering at Blue Rose Pack ever since."

"Jerome has been working Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! to hurt him?" Skylar asked.

"They are probably Arthur's men. Or they could have also been Jerome's political rivals. Either way, they kidnapped us, hoping to prevent Jerome from becoming Alpha. I did not want Jerome to deal with that so I found a way to escape. Andy and I have resorted to begging just to stay alive. What I had not expected was that Jerome did not come looking for us."

"Jerome isn't that kind of man. Why didn't you call him? Maybe he doesn't know that you are Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! ashamed to show my face to Jerome because I've been raped by other beggars."

I forced myself to shed some tears as I wove an extraordinary yet miserable tale to invoke Skylar's sympathy.

"Don't cry, Mom. I will protect you."

Andy hugged me, but he started crying as well.

"Get up. I'll help you!" Skylar sighed.

What a softhearted girl! This was the opening that I was waiting for.

"Thank you, Skylar. That's very kind of you."

I helped Andy to his feet and thanked Skylar once more.

After all, she was the Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! moment.

Suddenly, a werewolf walked over to us.

He came to a stop by Skylar's side, and he seemed like a close acquaintance.

"Robin? Why are you here?" Skylar asked him.

This handsome young man named Robin was wearing expensive clothes.

I had not expected Skylar to find a new boyfriend so soon a rich one at that.

Did she hook up with this werewolf right after leaving her mate? I felt sorry for Jerome.

"You weren't at home so I went looking for you," Robin replied.

Robin's POV:

From a distance, I saw Skylar talking with two beggars before taking some money out to help them.

Skylar was kind, but she didn't know that most beggars in Blue Rose Pack were liars.

Afraid that she was being deceived, I went over to help her.

But once I was by her side, I learned that Skylar was acquainted with the two beggars.

"What's going on here?"

I stepped forward and pulled Skylar to my side.

Although the beggar Skylar had been talking with was a beautiful she-wolf, her eyes were full of greed.

I had a bad feeling about her.

Even after Skylar explained their situation to me, I didn't feel sorry for the she-wolf at all.

But if Skylar wanted to help them, I was willing to lend a hand.

"I can give this lady some money so that she and her son can live comfortably."

"No, Robin. I know that you're really kind and generous, but you've already helped me out a lot. I can't keep letting you solve problems with money." Skylar shook her head.

"Skylar, we are friends. And when my friend needs help, I should help, right? That is unless you don't consider me as a friend."

"Of course we're friends." Skylar hung her head.

"Stop being so formal around me."

I took out my wallet, pulled out a credit card, and handed it to the she-wolf.

But she didn't take it.

"I can't accept this because it's too much. Can't you help me get a job instead? I'm willing to do anything to support myself because I have a child to raise. I want something long-term so that I don't have to keep relying on others."

"Will you be willing to work at my house as a maid?"

When the beggar nodded in agreement, I reluctantly decided that I had misjudged her.

She wasn't as bad as I had thought.

I asked someone to guide the two beggars back to my residence and prepare a place for them to stay.

I accompanied Skylar to her new home.

"Thank you, Robin. You've been a great help again. I wanted to persuade Skylar to be more casual with me, but before I could speak" she added, "Don't worry. I just landed a job today. I'll save up my wages and pay you back as soon as I can."

I was stunned by Skylar's stubbornness.

I wished that she could be more at ease around me.

"Skylar, if you are in a hurry to repay me, why don't you become my girlfriend instead? I don't really need anything except for a significant other," I teased her.

"Sorry. There is someone I like."

Skylar stepped back to put some distance between us.

I couldn't help laughing at her reaction.

"I was just kidding. Don't take it so seriously. We are friends, and friends should help each other. You can stay here, rest assured. As for your two friends, I promise not to mistreat them in any way. Don't worry. I know you already have a mate. I won't take advantage of you."

"Thank you, Robin," Skylar replied gratefully.

As I kept my gaze locked with hers, my heart started beating faster.

Since when did I start to feel differently about her? I hoped that she could forget her mate one day.

When that happened, I could express my love for her fair and square.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved

Chapter 167

/ Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved
Jennifer's POV:

I had difficulty sleeping recently because I was worried about the curse that had been placed on Anthony.

One morning, I texted Jeff.

"I'm sorry to bother you again, but I need your help. Roy said that a wizard had cast a spell on Anthony. However, he couldn't figure out which spell had been cast. He could only give us the contact information of other wizards and advise us to visit them one by one. I will forward you the information so that you could look at it as well."

Not long after I sent the message, Jeff replied, "I happen to know a witch named Cynthia. I can take you to see her, but I don't know if she can remove the curse on Mr. Jones."

I told Jeff to go ahead with setting an appointment.

We made plans to see Cynthia together.

Like most wizards, Cynthia lived in a remote place.

It took us some time before we found her.

"Hello, Cynthia. We came here today to ask for your help. My mate seems to have a curse on him, but we don't know how to break it. Could you help us figure out exactly what the curse is so that we could find a solution?"

"Was it Roy who told you about me? He gave me a heads-up regarding this matter."

Cynthia looked at us with a serious expression.

"Yes, it was Roy who suggested that we come here," Jeff replied.

"In that case, let's not waste any more time. Come in."

The witch warmly invited us into her house.

Anthony and I looked at each other before entering her abode.

Cynthia had simple furnishings, and she made Anthony lie down on the bed.

She then inspected him several times using black magic.

About half an hour later, Cynthia shook her head with a regretful expression.

"I'm sorry. I can't figure what kind of curse has been put on him, but there are traces of magic in his blood. You'll have to ask another spell-caster for help."

"How is that possible?"

I was greatly disappointed.

What kind of curse did Anthony have? Why was it unidentifiable that most wizards and witches could not figure out how to break it?

"Don't be sad, Jennifer. Roy gave you the contact information of many wizards, right? Surely, one of them can help us solve this problem," Jeff told me.

"But the next wizard on the list lives far away. Let's go another day. I'll be fine. Don't worry."

Anthony got up from the bed and held my hand.

Even though he said that to reassure me, I still felt worried about him.

I didn't want anything bad to happen to Anthony ever again.

"Ordinary wizards might not be of much help to you. You should find Larry, a grand wizard. He is currently the most powerful one among us," Cynthia suggested.

"Do you know where this Larry lives, Cynthia?" I asked.

"That I do not know. Sorry."

Cynthia shook her head helplessly.

"Larry is very mysterious. Only a few people have seen him."

"That's okay. Thanks anyway for your help today." I bowed to Cynthia.

"I haven't really done anything to help, but you're welcome."

I hope you can find Larry soon so that you can break the curse. Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! left her residence.

Anthony's POV:

"Jeff, do you know Larry, the grand wizard?" Jennifer asked on our way back.

"To be honest, his name has Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! wizard alive, but he rarely appears in public. Only a few people have seen him in person so I don't know where he lives or how he can be located. I'm sorry I can't be of help." Jeff sighed.

"That's fine. You have already helped us a lot. Thank you, Jeff," Jennifer told him.

"You know you can come to me if you need any help. I'll head back first. Good luck in your search for Larry."

"Thanks again."

After Jeff left, Jennifer and I went home together.

As soon as we arrived, Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! residence and contact information.

After doing that, I found Jennifer on the bed.

She was sitting on it, and she seemed to be in a daze.

"Honey, everything will be okay. Look at me. I'm still fine, right?"

I hugged Jennifer.

I really did not want her to worry about me.

She had been losing weight ever since she decided to deal with the pack's affairs.

It made me feel sorry for her.

"I feel useless, Anthony. Even though you're facing many difficulties, I can't be of any help to you."

Jennifer leaned against Visit <https://novelebook.com> to read the newest content, everyone! face.

"What are you talking about? How can you say that you're useless? If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have been able to live this long. Jennifer, you are the light of my life."

"Well, you are my most important person and the owner of my heart. No matter what kind of curse it is, we are going to find a solution."

Jennifer's expression became determined.

"That's right. Come here and take a nap. You haven't slept well in days."

I tried to guide Jennifer into lying down, but she suddenly sat up.

"I haven't called Jerome yet. I need to know what's going on with him."

"All right. Go call him first."

I stroked her long hair lovingly.

Jennifer was always busy.

She had too many things to worry about.

Jennifer called Jerome and put him on loudspeaker.

"Jerome, have you found Skylar?"

Jennifer asked before Jerome could even say anything.

"No, but I learned that she came to Blue Rose Pack. I'm in their territory right now."

"Okay." Be careful. Call us if you get any more news.

"I will. I'll try to find her as quickly as possible. Jennifer, thank you for looking after the pack for me. It's a tough job."

"It's what I should do. Don't worry, my dear brother. I will guard the pack that was left to us by our father."

The two siblings chatted a bit more and then ended the call.

I kissed Jennifer's forehead and pulled her into my arms.

But before we could fall asleep, we heard someone shouting outside.

We opened the window and saw Tony standing in the yard with a panicked expression.

We realized that something was wrong so we quickly got dressed and went to check on the situation.

"Mr. Jones, Miss Smith, you came at the right time. There is something important I must tell you. The stars have changed!"

"Elder Tony, what are you talking about? What do you mean the stars have changed?" Jennifer stepped forward and asked him.

"I was charting the stars as usual, and according to my prediction, a big catastrophe is going to happen. That catastrophe is related to the two of you so you must prepare yourselves."

Tony looked at us with a frown.

"What kind of catastrophe? How can we prepare for it?"

Jennifer asked anxiously.

"I can't say for sure at the moment. I'll keep observing the stars. If there are any more changes, I'll let you two know immediately. The point is that you have to be more careful from now on. Watch out so that you don't get framed by others,"

Tony told Jennifer with a shake of his head.

"I'm sorry to disturb you at this hour. I shall take my leave now. Take care of yourselves."

"Thank you for the warning, Elder Tony."

Jennifer said goodbye to Tony and returned to the room with me.

But this time, she was even more anxious.

She tossed and turned in the bed.

Tony's latest prediction was quite concerning.

Every member of Rainbow Pack firmly believed him when he had predictions because his divinations had yet to be wrong.

If he said there was going to be a catastrophe, there was going to be one.

"Go to sleep, Jennifer. I'll always be with you."

I kissed Jennifer on the lips and tried to lull her to sleep.

"I can't."

"Let me read you a story then."

I gently stroked her hair. I heard that Jennifer liked listening to her parents tell stories when she was a child.

Although her parents were dead, she had me now, and I was willing to spoil her.

"That's really kind of you, Anthony."

I picked up a novel on the bedside table, wrapped my arms around Jennifer, and began to read out loud. I told the story in a gentle voice.

As Jennifer listened, she began to relax and yawn.

"The next full moon, the young prince went to see the princess, but she had fallen asleep. The prince had come a little too late." A witch stepped up and said, "If you want her to wake up, you have to give up what is most important to you."

Jennifer fell asleep before I could finish reading the story.

I put the book down, tucked her in, and pondered over our situation.

"Zane, what should I do to make Jennifer worry less?"

At this moment, I really wanted to talk with my wolf.

"Don't stress about it. You can keep her happy by continuing to stay by her side," Zane replied.

"I once made up my mind to protect her from any danger, but she always seems to get in danger if I am by her side."

"Anthony, you shouldn't think that way. Couples are bound to have many sweet moments, but dangers and difficulties are inevitable in life. As long as you two love each other, everything will turn out fine."

"Zane, you've matured. Everything you've said is quite wise."

"Of course. I'm Zane, the wolf of the Osman Kingdom's prince."

I couldn't help smiling when I heard this. I now knew what I should do.

No matter what difficulties we would face in the future, Jennifer could count on me to be by her side.