Chapter 272

Jennifer's POV:

When Anthony and I got back to our room, we took a shower before settling down in bed.

"Anthony, so much has happened the past few days."

I sighed heavily.

"I can't believe Skylar and Jerome are leaving us. It feels like a dream."

I nestled into Anthony's arms, feeling his warmth surround me.

He kissed me on the forehead.

"It's not the last time we're going to see them. Plus, if they don't leave now, Skylar will be in danger. You don't want anything bad to happen to her, right? This is the only solution."

Of course, Anthony was right.

I lay there, deep in thought.

Initially, I was worried that the elders would go so far as to suggest killing Skylar.

Fortunately, they agreed to let her live in peace, as long as it was far away from here.

I looked up into Anthony's eyes and smiled at him.

"You're good at comforting me. Thank you, honey. I've thought it over. Skylar will have a better life if she leaves. After she gives birth to the baby, we can always visit her and Jerome."

"It's good that you came around," Anthony said, smiling back at me.

Then, we lapsed into silence once more as I started thinking about what to give Skylar and Jerome as a parting gift.

They were headed towards a strange, unfamiliar place.

Of course they would need money and supplies.

"Anthony, we should give Skylar and Jerome a parting gift—but what? How about money? I know it's a little tacky, but I'm just worried Jerome and Skylar will struggle when they move to a new place. They'll probably be too embarrassed to ask us for help if they find they can't afford things they need."

Anthony rubbed my nose affectionately.

"Don't worry. I've already asked my men to prepare some emergency supplies for them to take when they leave. Also, Jennifer, your brother used to be an Alpha. He's resourceful. I doubt he'll let his mate and child suffer!"

I blushed with embarrassment.

"I'm just worried about them, okay? I guess I'm overthinking things."

"Stop worrying about them. Babe, you've been so caught up with Skylar and Jerome's situation these days. You haven't been paying attention to me."

Anthony sighed.

I looked at him with surprise.

Was Anthony actually jealous of Skylar and my brother? Albeit amused, I comforted him hurriedly.

"Don't say that, Anthony. You know I love you the most."

As I spoke, I leaned in closer and closer until my lips were pressed against his chin.

"Words aren't enough. I need to know you love me the most. You need to show me."

Anthony shook his head stubbornly.

Knowing what he meant, I reached down and stroked his penis through his trousers.

"Then let me show you how much I love you, okay?"

As I stroked him, Anthony let out a low, husky moan. I kissed his lips passionately as his hands began to wander underneath my clothes.

"I miss your breasts and butt," he whispered hoarsely.

"Oh, my God! What's the matter with you?"

I teased him, but I also wanted him bad. I began to rub my body against his crotch.

"Honey, I want to fuck you hard,"

Anthony murmured as he got on top of me, pressing me against the bed.

Then, he shrugged off his trousers and rubbed his hard penis against my thigh.

"Ah..." I moaned.

"Fuck me, Anthony."

However, he didn't do as I asked. He simply kissed me.

"Honey, I've asked the doctor, and he said we can't make love for the time being since you're pregnant."

I smiled at him helplessly, gesturing at his erect part.

"But you need some sort of outlet. I'm worried you won't be able to bear it."

"I might not be able to fuck your pussy, but what about your mouth?" Anthony's tone was serious, but I couldn't help but burst into laughter.

"Okay."

I began to shift my body downward.

"I don't want to see you like this. I want to make you happy."

When I was done speaking, I stuck out my tongue and started licking Anthony's penis.

That night, Anthony and I had a great time.

Anthony's POV:

The following morning, Jennifer and I got up early.

After sharing a quiet breakfast, we went straight to the hall of the Rainbow House for the elders' meeting.

The coronation ceremony was fast approaching.

Jerome had to properly turnover the pack's affairs to Jennifer at the meeting.

I strode over to the main seat and sat down.

Jennifer was seated to my left, while Jerome was on my right.

Skylar sat next to Jerome. She looked much better than before.

After we settled down, the elders also took their seats, one by one.

Seeing that everyone was here, I nodded to the elders.

“Now, I declare that this meeting is now in session. Jennifer will host today’s meeting.”

At the mention of her name, Jennifer smiled respectfully at the elders.

I sat back in my seat, nodding at Jerome.

He took the hint and stood up, looking at the elders seriously.

“I hereby declare that, due to personal matters, I am no longer qualified to be the Alpha of this pack, so I am abdicating the position. I apologize for letting you all down.”

He bowed humbly.

“I’m going to pass the position to my sister, Jennifer. From now on, she will be the one to lead the Rainbow Pack to prosperity.”

At this, Jennifer also stood up.

The two of them began the process of turning over pack affairs, with everyone present serving as witnesses.

“Thank you for your trust and support. I won’t let you down. I promise to lead the pack well.”

Jennifer behaved like a great leader, which made me look at her with approval.

This was my mate.

In that moment, she was the most outstanding and confident woman I had ever seen.

And it seemed the elders thought so as well.

They all stood up and applauded—even Jacob. This was a good beginning, wasn’t it?

“Please continue making preparations for the coronation ceremony. I too will do my part.”

Jennifer smiled.

After a slight pause, she nodded.

"If there's nothing else, the meeting is over."

No one objected, and the meeting ended.

Jerome and Skylar waved goodbye at us and quickly rushed off to pack up all their belongings.

Meanwhile, Jennifer and I went out to look for a dress she could wear to the ceremony.

On our way to the store, we suddenly found ourselves surrounded by a group of hostile-looking werewolves.

With a frown, I stepped forward to teach them a lesson, but then Jennifer suddenly pulled my hand to stop me.

When I looked back at her questioningly, she simply shook her head.

I understood what she meant.

She must've wanted to solve this issue herself.

I nodded and didn't say anything. I just stood aside and watched, curious as to how this scene would unfold.

It was clear that these werewolves didn't know who I was.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have been so arrogant.

"Are you the new Alpha?" one of them shouted at Jennifer.

Another stared at her with suspicion.

"You? You're a she-wolf. Why should you be the Alpha?"

They looked Jennifer up and down with distrust written all over their faces.

Jennifer remained calm in the face of the dubious crowd.

"Yes, I'm Jennifer, the younger sister of former Alpha Jerome and the daughter of the deceased Alpha Lewis. My brother needed to step down due to some personal affairs, and he has appointed me to be the next Alpha. All the elders have agreed. I know I'm qualified and strong enough to become an outstanding Alpha."

A werewolf wrinkled his nose with disdain.

“What makes you so confident? Quit bragging.”

Jennifer smiled calmly.

“My strength is comparable to that of my brother’s.If you don’t believe me, I’m willing to spar with you to prove it.”

At this, the werewolves surrounding us backed off a little.

I was amused by their cowardice.

Since no one had risen to the challenge, Jennifer said, “Then I’ll take it no one has any objections.”

She smiled so confidently, like royalty.

Seeing her like this made my heart beat faster.

My mate was so beautiful! Jennifer continued, “As the Alpha the Rainbow Pack, I want to listen to its members.If you have any complaints, simply write a letter to our office, and I will keep an open mind to the constructive ideas.But if anyone tries to make trouble for me for now reason, I will not let them off easy.After all, I need to maintain the order of the pack.”

Hearing Jennifer’s words, the werewolves surrounding us exchanged wary glances.

Finally, the one in the lead stepped forward.

“Alright.Sorry for being rude.I hope you will keep your word.”

Then, he turned to leave with the others.

“Okay.Anthony, let’s go.”

Jennifer took my hand.

At the mention of my name, the werewolves all fell to their knees all of a sudden.

“You’re Prince Anthony? I’m sorry we failed to recognize you.We didn’t mean to offend you just now.Please forgive us!”

They bowed to me in fear.

I looked at them nonchalantly.

“Just remember that Jennifer is not only the Alpha of your pack, but also the future queen of the Osman Kingdom.”

“Yes, Mr. Jones. Miss Smith, we believe you’ll make a great Alpha!”

They also bowed to her.

Jennifer and I looked at each other and didn’t say anything more.

We simply left, hand in hand, and went to the store to pick out an exquisite dress.

Outcast: The Alpha King’s Beloved Chapter 273

Jerome’s POV:

Jennifer’s coronation ceremony began soon.

The event was rushed as there was very little time for preparation.

As such, only members of the Rainbow Pack were able to attend the event. I spoke to Skylar about leaving right after attending Jennifer’s coronation ceremony.

However, since everyone had heard about Skylar’s special power, we attended the ceremony in disguises and watched the whole thing from a corner, so as to avoid any unnecessary chaos at the ceremony.

Anthony personally presided over Jennifer’s coronation ceremony.

The proud werewolves of the Rainbow Pack came to pay their respects.

It seemed as though most members supported Jennifer.

I was glad.

It was a beautiful sunny afternoon when they publicly announced the coronation of the first she-wolf to be the Alpha with everyone bearing witness to such a momentous occasion in the history of the Rainbow Pack.

Anthony stood on stage gracefully and said, “Now, let’s welcome the new Alpha of Rainbow Pack, Jennifer.”

Jennifer came to the stage dressed in a stunningly exquisite dress, fit only for an Alpha.

Her gait was of assured confidence and she bowed her head in respect to everyone.

"Hello, everyone. Today, I stand before you proudly, as the new Alpha of the Rainbow Pack. We have made history by showing the world that a she-wolf can also be fit to rule a pack. I vow to protect and lead our pack to prosperity in the future."

Jennifer spoke with conviction and compelling kindness.

The werewolves seemed impressed by her as they ungrudgingly applauded her.

"Long live our new Alpha, Jennifer!"

Tony stood up and took the lead in pledging loyalty to Jennifer.

Seeing this, the other elders also bowed to Jennifer and said, "Long live Alpha Jennifer! We believe in you, and we will try our best to assist you in any way we can!"

I was so happy to see such a scene.

Our parents would have been very proud.

Their daughter had finally grown up to become the Alpha of our pack.

At the end of the ceremony, they set off fireworks in the sky as the pack was full of joy and merriment.

"Everyone loves Jennifer!" Skylar whispered to me.

"Jerome, I'm really proud of her!"

I nodded and replied, "Me too."

At this time, Jennifer stood on the stage and began her speech.

"Hello, everyone. It's an honor to be the new Alpha of Rainbow Pack. I believe many of you know that my father is Lewis, the former Alpha. Although my father is no longer with us, I still remember his teachings. I am the person I am today, all thanks to my father's guidance."

Tears welled up in Jennifer's eyes.

"Thank you for your support. I will try my best to live up to his name and keep the pack he left behind safe."

Jennifer's POV:

I never felt more nervous than I did when I gave a speech in front of everyone.

The lump in my throat felt like it was the size of a cannonball.

The image of my father appeared in my thoughts when I mentioned him and somehow I could feel his power surging through me.

I would do everything in my power to protect the Rainbow Pack.

The moment I finished my speech, the sound of people cheering and applauding me shook the venue.

The coronation ceremony had gone through a lot better than I had anticipated.

I was officially the Alpha of Rainbow Pack. I had to pinch myself to believe that it was really true.

It was a wonderful feeling, but I didn't have time to think about it carefully, since I got pulled to the celebration party.

All the elders attended the party.

Anthony and I walked to the table and proposed a toast to the elders.

The elders knew that I was pregnant, so they didn't make things difficult for me.

They let me off easily after just one drink.

However, Anthony joined them in the revelry.

In fact, he was having such a good time with them that he almost forgot that he was a prince.

Tony sighed.

"Alpha Jennifer, you and Mr. Jones are a perfect couple!"

Anthony put on a sincere smile and said, "Thank you for your kind words. Indeed, I am lucky to have a mate like Jennifer. I never thought that I would fall in love with someone so deeply before. I believe we will be happy together."

Anthony's words made me blush again.

I shyly glanced at him and whispered, "Anthony, I need you to behave yourself in public."

"What do you mean? What's wrong with my behavior?" Anthony winked at me playfully.

Seeing him like this made me feel warm inside my heart.

I found myself feeling helpless to his boyish charms.

In truth, I didn't have a problem with Anthony expressing his love for me in public.

Although the awkward glances made me uncomfortable, I couldn't deny the fact that it also made me feel loved.

In the middle of the party, I stood up from my seat.

I was still worried about Skylar and Jerome.

They weren't at the party for obvious reasons, so I decided to see them in their room.

"I'm sorry, everyone. I'm feeling a little drunk. I'm going to get some rest for a while. I hope you all have a good time."

I made up an excuse and left the banquet hall with Anthony.

"I'm not drunk. I just want to see my brother and Skylar," I explained to Anthony after walking out of the banquet hall.

Anthony wrapped his arm around my waist and said, "I knew it. You only had one drink. Come on, let's go."

Anthony and I stood outside Skylar and Jerome's room and knocked on the door.

Soon, the door was opened from inside and Skylar came out.

"Jennifer, what are you doing here? You looked incredible at the coronation."

When I thought about parting with Skylar, I felt sad, but I didn't want her to feel bad about it. I forced a smile on my face and said, "Thank you, Skylar. By the way, when are you two thinking of leaving?"

Jerome came to me and said, "We've booked air tickets for tonight. We'll be leaving soon."

Anthony nodded and took out a black card from his pocket.

He handed it to Jerome and said, "Jerome, this is a pass with a royal seal. With this, you can freely enter and exit the royal palace. If you need any help, do not hesitate to come to us at any time."

Jerome took the pass and sincerely expressed his gratitude.

"Thank you, Mr. Jones."

I talked with Skylar for a while, and then my phone suddenly rang. I glanced at the phone screen to find that Daniel was calling me. I answered the phone.

"Daniel, what's up?"

"Congratulations, Jennifer. We heard that you've taken over the position of Alpha today. Unfortunately, your coronation ceremony was held in such a hurry that Helen and I couldn't make it. We're really sorry," Daniel apologized sincerely.

"Oh, it's no big deal, Daniel." I smiled.

"Anthony and I are getting married soon. You have to attend our wedding."

"That's settled then, Jennifer," Daniel said.

"See you later."

After I hung up the phone, Anthony held my hand with a smile and reminded me, "Honey, it's time for you to go back to the party. After all, they are celebrating your big day."

I nodded and looked at Skylar and Jerome. I could tell that they were reluctant to leave me.

"I will miss you, Jennifer." Skylar hugged me.

I hugged her back and said, "Me too."

I had to leave in a hurry after that because I didn't want to cry.

However, I asked one of the maids to prepare some food for Skylar.

When I came back to the party, I saw werewolves going in and out of the banquet hall.

"Anthony, I've become Alpha and we're finally getting married. Isn't it amazing? My only regret is that Skylar and Jerome won't be attending our wedding."

The exhilaration of the unpredictable future and our disappointed expectations left me with mixed feelings.

Outcast: The Alpha King's Beloved Chapter 274

Anthony's POV:

When I saw the disappointment on Jennifer's face, my heart softened.

"Honey, don't let it bother you," I said in a soft tone and held Jennifer in my arms.

"Life is full of ups and downs. Don't worry about it too much. We can make up for it in the future."

Jennifer rested her chin on my shoulder and said in a low voice, "But I can't help but feel regretful, Anthony. Why should we have to part? Why does a kind girl like Skylar have to suffer like this? She was supposed to attend our wedding together with Jerome. I used to think that we would both show up at each other's wedding and bless each other in person."

I cupped her face, peered into her eyes, and said, "Jennifer, think about it. When you look up at the starry sky, Jerome and Skylar will look at the same sky. We have many means of staying connected with our loved ones and our hearts will always be close to each other. Some bonds cannot be broken by time or distance. As long as we think of each other, the distance becomes nothing because our souls are together."

Jennifer looked at me with sparkling eyes.

"You are right, Anthony. Now that you've put it that way, I don't feel so bad anymore. I'm sure that even if they can't be there at our wedding, they will give us their blessings from Rube Island."

I patted Jennifer's head and said, "That's right. Now just relax, for both you and our child."

"All right. I want our child to grow up healthily."

Jennifer touched her belly and smiled at me.

There were smiling faces everywhere in the banquet hall.

Jennifer and I were happy to be surrounded by such enthusiastic guests.

She took me to greet everyone in the hall.

I could tell that she had thought everything through to the smallest detail.

Suddenly, someone shouted behind us, "Alpha Jennifer! We turned around and found that it was Tony."

"Hello, Elder Tony. How may I help you?" Jennifer asked curiously.

"Elder Simon is back," Tony said with a smile.

"Really? That's great! Anthony, let's go and greet him."

Jennifer was so happy that she held my hand and walked towards the entrance of the hall.

Unexpectedly, Simon saw us at the entrance and greeted us first.

"Miss Smith, Mr. Jones! It's good to see you both again!" Jennifer and I walked over to shake hands with him.

"Congratulations on becoming the new Alpha, Miss Smith. Oh, no, it's time to call you Alpha Jennifer." Simon smiled.

"I'm sorry I wasn't able to attend your coronation ceremony."

Jennifer shook her head with a smile.

"Elder Simon, I'm just happy that you're here. By the way, how's the preparation for Daniel's coronation ceremony going?"

"We just had a funeral for the late Alpha Marlon. It may be a few days before the coronation ceremony, but it shouldn't be too long. After all, the Black Stone Pack now needs an Alpha to govern the pack," Simon replied.

"When Daniel takes over the position of Alpha, Anthony and I will surely attend his coronation ceremony. I believe that with Daniel's support, he will definitely become an excellent Alpha. Simon, you will have an excellent son-in-law," Jennifer praised.

Simon nodded with a smile, looking very happy.

We exchanged a few more words and drank a few glasses of wine with him.

After the party came to an end, Jennifer and I said goodbye to the elders, and then left to see Jerome and Skylar.

After all, we had to see them off.

Skylar's POV:

As soon as I finished packing up, there was a knock on the door again. I pushed the door open and saw Jennifer and Anthony.

"Jennifer, I knew you would come," I said happily, but tears welled up in my eyes.

"We are going to be separated again. I don't want to leave you, Jennifer."

"Don't cry! Distance only makes the heart grow fonder!" Jennifer held my hand and wiped my tears.

"You always cry like this. What if your baby also cries like you?"

"I won't cry then." I tried my best to hold back my tears, but it didn't work.

"Jerome, I have packed a bag for you. There is some money, daily necessities, and some desserts made by Jennifer's maid for the journey. After all, pregnant women are always prone to hunger."

Anthony walked in and handed a suitcase to Jerome.

"Thank you. You two have been very generous to us."

Jerome took over the suitcase and thanked Anthony sincerely.

I was also moved. I didn't expect Jennifer and Anthony to be so thoughtful.

Although Jerome and I were not short of money, their kindness was greatly appreciated.

"I also have a gift for you, Skylar."

As Jennifer spoke, she suddenly took out a diamond bracelet from her pocket.

"I hope you like it. I bought it when I was picking out the dress. I think it would suit you very well. Tears welled up in my eyes again. I couldn't help but put my arms around Jennifer and pull her into an embrace. I reached out my hand and smiled while crying."

"Jennifer, can you help me put on the bracelet?"

Jennifer nodded with a smile and put the bracelet on my wrist.

I looked at the bracelet with a grateful smile and said, "I'll take good care of it, Jennifer."

My words came through muffled sobs as I couldn't stop crying.

"Please, stop crying," Jennifer said, sniffing to catch a breath.

I smiled at her teasingly and said, "Hey, I can you crying as well!"

We just hugged each other and laughed for a while without saying anything to each other.

Jerome and Anthony stood quietly aside and didn't disturb us.

Just as we had stopped crying and composed ourselves again, there was an unexpected knock on the door again.

I Jerome walked to the door as he said, "Let me open the door."

As soon as the door was pushed open, my eyes widened in surprise because I saw Helen and Daniel standing outside.

Simon and Tony were also there.

“Oh my God!”

Jennifer shouted excitedly.

“Everyone, come in!”

“What’s going on?”

I looked at Helen and Daniel blankly and then turned around to look at Jennifer.

“Did you ask them to come here?”

“No, I had no idea either,” Jennifer replied with confusion in her eyes.

“We wanted to surprise you.” Helen smiled.

“Yes. When Daniel and Helen found out that you and Jerome were leaving and that Jennifer was going to take over the position of Alpha, they decided to come and see you. However, the tickets for the flight I took were sold out, so they had to take a later flight. They only arrived just now,”

Simon explained.

“It’s a pity that they didn’t make it to the party.”

Daniel let go of Helen’s hand, gently pushed her forward and said, “Helen, go ahead and talk to Skylar.”

With that, Daniel, Tony and Simon stepped aside and made way for me and Helen.

Helen rushed to me, sobbing.

“Skylar, why didn’t you tell us that you were leaving? The thought of us not seeing each other for so long makes me sad!”

“Helen, I’m so sorry. I just didn’t want to make the separation too painful. Besides, I figured that you and Daniel would be very busy, so I decided not to bother you.” I hugged Helen and cried.

“Thank God you’re here! “Well, stop crying then!”

Jennifer held our hands.

“Hey, at least, we will have a lot to catch up on when we see each other again, right?”

Jennifer was right.

I should have been thankful.

At least, I was able to see my friends before leaving. I no longer had any regrets.

However, it was hard not to feel bad as we were leaving the Rainbow Pack.

I would always remember my time and the friends.
