

PAMPERING 374

Chapter 374: Your medicine _1

“They are innocent, but isn’t qianyue innocent?” Xu Youyou stepped forward and pulled her hands away, not wanting her to touch Great White with her dirty hands!

She was not worthy!

Qin zhengzhen fell to the ground and cried. He wanted to beg mo shenbai again, but he was stopped by Xu Youyou.

Mo shenbai’s dark eyes were filled with coldness, and he said, ” “Drag him out.”

When Cang Ming heard this, he stepped forward and picked up the skinny old lady.

Although it wasn’t very kind to treat an old woman like this, he felt inexplicably happy when he thought of the inhumane things she had done!

Truly, there must be something hateful about a pitiful person!

Xu Youyou looked at the media personnel. all of you saw and heard what happened today with your own eyes and ears. I hope that everyone will not let down their dreams and announce the truth to the public so that my husband can be fair and just!

The few of them quickly nodded and assured Xu Youyou that they would definitely write this report well and ensure that not a single word was false.

Xu Youyou bowed slightly and thanked them. thank you.

“Mrs. Mo, you don’t have to be so polite! As media personnel, it’s our responsibility to spread the truth to the public and to get the truth out of the way!”

“Since you want to get to the source, why don’t you be more thorough?”

A soft and soothing voice came from the door, like a spring breeze.

The few of them turned around at the same time and saw a woman in a white suit walk in. She had short hair, delicate facial features, and a pretty face. The smile on her face seemed to have been carefully trained. It was just right.

Mo shenbai’s lowered eyelashes flitted up, and a trace of doubt flashed across his eyes when he looked at her. His peripheral vision fell on the small head beside him, and he instantly understood.

A smile appeared on Xu Youyou’s face as she stepped forward to welcome her. you must be doctor Shen.

Mrs. Mo, I’m Shen Zhiwei. Nice to meet you. Shen Zhiwei took the initiative to reach out her hand.

Xu Youyou held her slender and soft hand. Hello, it’s been hard on you to make a trip here.

Shen Zhiwei’s lips curled into a smile and she said politely, ” “It’s not hard, this is what I should do.”

She paused for a moment before she looked up at mo shenbai, " President mo, Mrs. Mo has invited me to clarify your situation to everyone. Of course, I will not reveal your condition. Is that okay? "

She usually could not disclose the patient's privacy to the outside world, but helping the patient to clarify whether he had an antisocial personality was not considered disclosing the patient's privacy!

Mo shenbai knew that this was all Xu Youyou's painstaking efforts, so he naturally would not let her down. He nodded slightly.

After Shen Zhiwei got his approval, she turned around and introduced herself to the media. everyone, I'm Mr. Moshen Bai's psychiatrist. My name is Shen Zhiwei. This is my business card.

She took out her business card from her bag and handed it to the person closest to her.

I would like to clarify with my professional ethics and professionalism that during Mr. Mo's treatment, I am very sure that Mr. Mo has never had an antisocial personality.

A psychiatrist came out to clear mo shenbai's name. His antisocial personality had been completely beaten up for being fake!

As for why mo shenbai needed to see a psychiatrist, it was his personal privacy, and they could not invade other people's privacy.

Not to mention, with a mother like Bai Ying, who was framed by a servant, and her biological sister dying in front of her, anyone would have to see a psychiatrist.

Things went more smoothly than Xu Youyou had expected. The media personnel were very cooperative. They had recorded everything and asked everything they needed to ask. It was already past one o'clock when it ended.

Xu Youyou was afraid that they would be hungry, so she asked them to stay for dinner.

In the end, they were all in a hurry to go back and write their drafts, so they only brought some snacks and rushed back to the company.

Mo qinghuan was also angered by Qin zhengzhen to the point that she had a headache. She returned to the hotel to rest.

Xu Youyou looked at Shen Zhiwei, who was sitting on the sofa and drinking coffee, and expressed her gratitude again.

Shen Zhiwei had a slight smile on her face. Mrs. Mo, you don't have to be so polite. After all, I charge President mo a sky-high consultation fee every year, but he doesn't come for follow-up visits often.

He had made a special trip today, so he didn't get paid for nothing.

Xu Youyou liked this psychologist very much. He was beautiful and spoke gently. From then on, she read novels and learned that women had images in their minds.

Shen Zhiwei finished her coffee, stood up, and said, " "The matter has been resolved, I won't disturb you any longer."

Xu Youyou was a little surprised that she was leaving so soon. don't you want to stay for dinner? "

Shen Zhiwei shook her head. no, my husband is very busy with work. If I stay for dinner, he will probably be worried to death outside.

Only then did Xu Youyou realize that her husband had come with her, so she did not force him to stay.

"Then I'll send you off."

Shen Zhiwei did not reject her good intentions. Before she left, she looked at mo shenbai and said, " President mo, although you said that you have found your cure, the consultation fee you paid previously still counts. If you have any problems in the future, you can still contact me at any time.

I'm really a good psychologist with professional ethics. She praised him in her heart!

Confusion flashed in Xu Youyou's clear eyes. She looked at the two of them strangely. What medicine?

Moshen's long, white eyelashes drooped down to hide the impatience in his eyes as he squeezed out two words. "Take care,"

Shen Zhiwei smiled. She had expected this to happen. Without saying anything more, she turned and walked towards the door.

Xu Youyou sent her out. When she reached the door, she saw a man get out of a Hummer. His short hair was sharp and his eyes were full of spirit. When he saw Shen Zhiwei, he could not help but show some tenderness.

"Officer Gu!" Xu Youyou was a little surprised.

She had asked PEI Chuan to invite doctor Shen over, so she really did not expect that doctor Shen's husband would be Gu xiuci.

Gu xiuci's gaze shifted from his wife's face to her. Mrs. Mo, we meet again.

Xu Youyou thought of what had happened at the entrance of the police station last time and squeezed out a smile. officer Gu, you've worked hard.

"It's not hard." Gu xiuci held Shen Zhiwei's waist as she walked towards him, his thin lips pursed into a smile, and said with deep meaning, " after all, President mo is my wife's patient. You can say that you are serving the people.

Xu Youyou pursed her lips and maintained a smile. She praised him sincerely, " officer Gu, you're a good officer who serves the people. The people are proud to have a grassroots cadre like you!

Gu xiuci choked.

Shen Zhiwei couldn't help but lower her head and smile. She really didn't expect that her team leader Gu would be defeated one day!

Gu xiuci stopped teasing her. we won't disturb you any longer, then. Goodbye.

Xu Youyou waved her hand. doctor Shen, goodbye, officer Gu.

Gu xiuci held Shen Zhiwei's slender waist and walked to the front passenger seat. He opened the door and helped her into the car.

When he got into the car, he nodded at Xu Youyou as a farewell and got into the car.

Xu Youyou stood at the door and watched the Hummer drive away. She heaved an obvious sigh of relief.

Fortunately, officer Gu didn't ask about what happened before!

The car drove out of the canvass lunar restaurant. Shen Zhiwei put her hand on the car door, her palm against her face, and she looked at the man driving with a smile in her bright eyes.

officer Gu, Mrs. Mo seems like an innocent little girl. Why did you describe her as a little demon?"
