Chapter 101 the vanguard of the demon race

Zhang Shan decided not to chat with Feng Yun Qing Qing for now. He could not handle this woman.

at this moment, feng yun realm said, "Our team is complete. If you have a team, leave first. I'll form a new team."

Zhang Shan dismissed his and Wu Qinglin's team. He looked around and did not see Secretary Feng Yun. He asked Feng Yun one blade, "

"Where's the Secretary? Why don't I see him?"

"With your panda baby tanking the boss, what do we need him for? he went to help another team tank monsters."

What a heartless little Secretary. She had been abandoned just like that.

After the party was formed, Feng Yun realm registered the party for the event.

Someone asked in the party channel, "

"Are we still going to fight the orange BOSS this time? Why don't we try a red BOSS?"

"It's not easy to fight a red BOSS, right? The bosses in monster sieges all have 10 times the HP. A level 30 red BOSS should have 100 million HP, right? can we kill it?"

yeah, the event only lasts for an hour. It's a bit risky.

zhang shan estimated that with his current damage output and the panda baby, he could at most deal 400000 damage in one minute.

Even if they did nothing but stand still and attack the boss for an hour, they would only be able to deal around 20 million damage.

It was hard to say how much damage the others could deal. Logically speaking, their equipment was quite good.

he should be able to deal a lot of damage. if there were no accidents, it was possible to kill the red boss.

it was just a little unsafe.

"I have a new skill, curse. Target that has been cursed will receive 50% damage. Duration of 5 seconds. Cooldown of 1 minute."

Feng Yun Qing Qing proudly displayed her new skill.

this skill is awesome. It's a godly skill for fighting bosses. With this skill, we'll definitely be able to defeat the red boss within the event time.

It would increase the damage dealt by 50% for five seconds. The key was that the cooldown time was short. It was a godly support skill when fighting a boss.

then there's one last question left. During the monster attack, are there any red bosses near our Guild base? what kind of bosses are they? can we hold them off? "

there were a few red bosses that appeared near our Guild's base last time. I wonder if there will be any changes this time? " since there were some last time, there should be some this time. If there are several of them, I'm sure I can find one that's easier to fight.

that's right. Just find a dummy BOSS like the wolf King and fight it. Simple.

Everyone was in a heated discussion and Feng Yun realm waved his hand and said, " then find a red BOSS to fight. Let the other members of the Guild see the red BOSS's coordinates and find a physical type to fight.

the guild leader set the tone and started to fight the red boss. no one had any objections, as it was rare to see a red boss.

Since there was one in the event, he should try his best to create a wave.

the red boss would drop good items and give a lot of contribution points for defending the city. as long as they could kill it, they would definitely get a lot of benefits.

Everyone stayed in the Guild base, quietly waiting for the event to begin.

As for why they didn't spread out and wait for the monsters to respawn?

The reason was very simple. If he accidentally brushed it against his side, he would be dead.

With the experience from the last event, everyone knew how to play the monster siege.

They would first stay in the building and wait for the event to start. When the group came out to find the monsters, they would clear the small monsters and surround the boss.

It was simple to say, but it was a test of the equipment's strength.

the war drums beat and the horns sounded. the second monster attack had officially begun.

Just like the last time, the city Lord would go out of the city to block the big boss, while the other small bosses would respawn in the city.

let's go. Once we find the red boss, we'll kill it.

Wind and cloud Guild's tens of thousands of online members rushed out of the Guild residence in a mighty manner, with 50 people in a team.

They split up and started attacking the boss.

Zhang Shan and the rest also quickly ran out of the Guild base to look for the red boss.

After sending the coordinates to the Guild channel, he went around it and continued his search.

It didn't take long before someone sent a message in the Guild channel.

“discovered red boss, demon vanguard official, level 30 red boss.” He then sent the boss’s coordinates over.

“Let’s go, there’s another red boss to fight, hehe.”

the last event’s boss was level 25. Why are the bosses this time all level 30? ”

this is very normal. As the players level up, the boss’s level will naturally increase as well. Otherwise, how can we continue with this event? ” following the coordinates provided by the guild members, zhang shan and the rest quickly found the red boss, the demon vanguard official.

f * ck, there are at least 300 elite monsters. How long will it take to clear them? ” there’s nothing we can do about it. It’s normal for the red BOSS to have bigger cards. Let’s get ready.

there are too many small monsters around. It’s going to be difficult to lure the BOSS out.

Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby. Seeing the demon Vanguard official and the many small monsters at the side, he didn’t know what to do.

“Six-barreled Bodhisattva, lure the monsters first. The rest of you intercept the elite monsters.”

It was time to test their strength. More than 300 elite monsters with 100000 HP were no joke.

he didn’t even know if they could handle it.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to approach the BOSS. Before he could walk over, the demon Vanguard official rushed over with a group of underlings.

Without another word, Zhang Shan recalled the Panda baby and quickly ran away.

The others also started to move forward and intercept the slower elite monsters.

Seeing that the BOSS was getting closer and closer, Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby again, went forward to pull the BOSS, and started to fight.

The support classes who were already prepared also quickly stepped forward and healed the Panda baby.

At this moment, Zhang Shan finally had the time to check the BOSS’s attributes.

[demon Vanguard official: level 30,100 million HP, 8000 attack power, skill 1, enhanced charge, skill 2, three blade stream, skill 3, Demon God’s will, skill 4, earth splitting slash, special state, Demon God’s morale.]

[enhanced charge: charges towards the target at high speed and attacks, dealing double damage. After being stunned for one second, the speed of the target’s movement will decrease for three seconds.]

...

[three-blade stream: attacks three times in a row. The second attack deals double damage, and the third attack deals triple damage.]

[Demon God's will: summon a Demon God's shadow to assist in battle.]

[earth-splitting slash: by slashing the ground, the damage will spread in all directions, dealing five times the damage to nearby enemy units. Effective range of five yards.]

The active BOSS was awesome. Not only did it have more HP, but it also had 3000 more attack power than the Wolf King.

Fortunately, the BOSS's skills were considered normal, and it was basically no threat to long-range attackers. However, it was not easy for melee players to deal damage. If the BOSS used a big move, the melee players on the side would die.

The BOSS had 8000 attack power, and the earth splitter dealt five times the damage. As long as someone was standing next to the BOSS and was hit by the boss's big move, no one could withstand it.

This ultimate skill was a superb skill for all warrior classes.

if players could get their hands on such a skill, they would definitely be overpowered.

Chapter 102 A small scene

Zhang Shan sent the boss's attributes to the team channel.

"F * ck, the vanguard's big move is awesome. If only the Berserker could get such a skill.

all of them can be like general zilong, charging into the enemy group and killing as many as they want is a piece of cake."

f * ck, I'm drooling just looking at this skill. Will it drop a skill book? "

Windcloud blade asked expectantly.

"In your dreams! Do you think a boss' ultimate skill will drop a skill book so easily? You're so naive."

"Can't you just think about it?"

you guys hurry up and take care of the small monsters. I'm so slow fighting the boss alone.

Although Zhang Shan's attack power was very high, in addition to his attack blessing and the title of the nemesis, his theoretical damage was close to 6000.

The actual damage was more than 4000, but the boss had 10000000 HP, which was a little too much.

After fighting for a long time, his health was still at 100%, and his health bar didn't even change.

It was really hard to imagine how high the HP of those high-level bosses would be in the future.

However, with such a huge amount of HP, it wouldn't take an entire day, right?

He hoped that the players' attack power growth would keep up with his.

As long as the attack power was high enough, the boss's HP would be nothing.

Zhang Shan brought seven or eight support players to pull the boss, while the others cleared the elite monsters.

After two to three minutes, the boss's health finally dropped by 1%. In other words, Zhang Shan had dealt a million damage.

He took a look at the progress of the others. A few minutes had passed, and they had not even cleared a hundred elite monsters.

There were at least two hundred elite monsters left on the battlefield. It was a little slow. It would take more than ten minutes to clear all the small monsters.

However, there was no other way. Each elite monster had 100000 HP, so 300 of them would have 30 million HP.

There were over forty of them. Even if they stood there and dealt 30 million damage, it would take a long time.

Not to mention, many players couldn't hold off the elite monsters and could only kite them slowly, so they couldn't clear the monsters quickly.

It was better for him to slowly fight by himself first.

"Brother artifact, shall I curse the boss?"

Feng Yun Qing Qing had originally planned to wait for more people to attack the boss together before using the curse skill.

However, looking at the current situation, there was no need to wait any longer. After all, the curse skill's cooldown wasn't long.

yeah, let's do it. I'll use my berserk and fanatic skills. Let's fight a wave of strong ones first.

Feng Yun Qing and Qing Qing cast a curse skill on the vanguard. Instantly, the boss was in a skull state. damage increased by 50%.

Zhang Shan also activated his berserk and fanatic skills at the same time, and the damage output was explosive.

The level 5 fanaticism skill increased attack speed by 50%. With the addition of berserk, it could increase attack power and attack speed by 20%.

His attack speed was extremely fast for a short period of time. He could attack twice in a second, and each attack dealt around-6000 to-7000 damage.

Moreover, it had even managed to deal a single Divine Strike, dealing over-80000 damage. It was extremely powerful.

Unfortunately, such a powerful attack was short-lived, and the fanaticism skill only lasted for six seconds.

Berserk only lasted ten seconds.

After the skill's duration ended, Zhang Shan's damage output returned to normal.

Fortunately, he had more critical hit special effects, and the little wild wolf of the wind and cloud Cannon was nearby.

It could increase his critical chance by an additional 3%, making Zhang Shan's overall critical chance more than 10%.

From time to time, all kinds of special effects would appear.

Heavy strike, Holy Strike, critical strike.

More than ten minutes passed. Zhang Shan would check on the progress of the others from time to time.

They were almost done with the boss. He alone had dealt more than 7000000 damage.

Of course, Feng Yun Qing Qing had a part to play in this. Curse skills were indeed very useful when fighting a BOSS.

Especially when combined with Zhang Shan's burst skill, it was very powerful.

He really didn't know where this lady had gotten such an exquisite skill book from.

Speaking of which, Taoist priest and witch doctor were both auxiliary professions, but now it seemed that the auxiliary effect of witch doctor was much stronger.

A totem and a curse.

Just these two godly skills were enough to support the cards of an auxiliary profession.

Of course, although the skill was good, it was not easy to get a skill book. In the entire game, Feng Yun Qing Qing was the only one who could learn the totem technique.

He had never heard of anyone else having this skill. It was the same for curses. Perhaps someone knew this skill, but Zhang Shan had never heard of it.

At the very least, this skill book was very rare. If one wanted to buy it, they would have to sell it first.

Even if there were, the price would probably be frighteningly expensive.

In comparison, the priests were far worse. Other than offensive blessings, they could only heal.

Of course, the Taoist priest's personal ability was stronger. At least, he knew summoning skills. Bringing a summoned creature with him was much better than a pure support, whether it was leveling up or fighting.

After the elite monsters were cleared, they could finally gang up on the boss.

Other than the support, the boss's HP was slowly decreasing with more than 40 people attacking it together.

Having more people was the way to go.

Zhang Shan was alone. No matter how strong his damage output was, it would not be effective against such a Big Boss.

After hacking for more than ten minutes, he still had not lost 10% of his health.

Now that there were more people dealing damage, the effect was obvious.

brother artifact, your panda baby is really strong. Its HP is maintained at more than half. It's not giving face to the red boss.

it's much stronger than the little Secretary. No matter how strong a physical boss is, it's nothing when facing the divine weapon boss 'panda baby.

"Haha, the little Secretary got shot again."

"don't talk bad about the secretary behind her back. i'll tell on her, hehe."

"Hmph, despicable."

"If only I could tame a panda baby."

In addition to the wind and cloud Cannon, there was another big Boss in the Guild who was also a Hunter. However, he was unlucky and could not find a suitable pet.

brother, don't ask for too much. Just get one like me, a little wild wolf. Why are you thinking about pandas? " damn, it's easy to say. Where am I going to find another little wild wolf? " if you have nothing to do, run around the map more. Maybe you'll meet them.

"I might as well buy a lottery ticket. The chance of winning is higher than the chance of running into a pet."

For hunters, finding a good pet was a long-term topic, but it depended on fate.

A suitable pet was too hard to come by.

When the boss's HP was reduced to 20%, a Demon God's shadow slowly appeared.

Everyone's HP dropped rapidly, and Feng Yun Qing Qing immediately cast a totem in the middle, dealing with it easily.

Everyone was already used to these kinds of skills and didn't feel any pressure at all.

"Oh my God, big brother carrying a blade has fallen."

zhang shan turned around and saw that boss wu was already dead.

He had forgotten about him just now. It was not difficult for everyone to deal with the demon God's will, but boss Wu could not.

He was only level 10, and his HP was less than 500. If he were to be instantly killed by this skill, there was no way to save him.

"I'll run back here after I revive at the Guild residence. It's not far away anyway."

Zhang Shan said to boss Wu.

Lying on the ground was definitely not a good idea. There would be no experience points for killing the boss later. Only those who stood would get experience points.

Chapter 103 the nemesis of close combat

Under Feng Yun Qing Qing's curse, Zhang Shan could deal more than 400000 damage per minute.

In addition to the damage dealt by the others, they could deal more than 3000000 damage to the BOSS in one minute.

No matter how tanky a BOSS was, it was destined to fall under the attacks of a group of people.

Of course, this was also related to the event. In the monster siege event, the BOSS 'HP only increased by 10 times.

Although its attack power had also been enhanced, it had not even doubled.

The players could still take it if their attack power was the same as their HP, which was ten times stronger.

In that case, everyone could only think of ways to fight the purple BOSS. No one dared to fight a red BOSS.

"it's so cool to fight a dummy boss. i can just kill it as i please."

when the boss uses its ultimate skill, you'll be in tears. You can't just randomly attack.

"what are you afraid of? if he dies, it's just one more trip."

why do you think the bosses in the New World are so different? there's an overpowered boss like the priest, and there's also a dummy monster like the vanguard official.

it has to be something simple, right? otherwise, how can we play? " it would be great if all the red bosses were like this. It'd be so cool to fight them every day.

you're dreaming. You're still fighting every day. You have to find the boss first.

yeah, bosses are too hard to come by. We have to buy our equipment. We can't even get a few pieces of equipment ourselves.

I heard that someone has obtained an instance dungeon Scroll and used it to enter an independent map. There will be bosses inside. In the future, this kind of scroll might be an important way to obtain equipment.

problematic scrolls are also very rare. In any case, we've never gotten one.

"don't even talk about equipment. i can't even level up now. i'm only level 23. it'll take me more than a day to level up."

yeah, this game is so hard to play. I can't level up and I can't get any equipment.

why can't I level up? that's because you guys are noobs. Look, I'm already level 27. Leveling up is like playing around.

Zhang Shan was stunned.

What are you saying? it's very difficult to level up, okay? how is it like a game?

he can't be compared to the divine weapon boss, he's not a human.

"Brother artifact, how much experience do you guys need to level up now?"

level 28 requires 17000000 experience points.

"F * ck, do you need nearly 20 million experience points? While I was still worrying about the two million experience points, you actually told me that one level up would cost 17 million experience points, sob sob sob "

"F * ck, I don't even want to level up anymore. Can I still level up? I can only earn 100000 experience points in an hour."

that's f * cking Bullsh * t. Doesn't that mean it takes ten days to level up? he's not even level 30 yet.

I hope that there will be something in the future that can increase my leveling efficiency.

"what can you get? Double experience?"

who cares? I'll just play with it slowly. When I get a divine weapon one day, I'll be able to play with it happily.

"That's right, you must have dreams."

Under the attack of a group of people, the demon Vanguard official's HP slowly decreased, and the horse's HP was down to half.

During this period, the BOSS had cast the will of the demon God several times. Except for boss Wu, no one else felt any pressure.

He had been dealing damage with peace of mind.

Poor boss Wu. He was a newbie who had just left the novice village. He would get used to it after dying a few times.

it wasn't easy to gain experience.

why do I suddenly feel a little nervous? the wolf King uses his ultimate when his health is at 50%. Is the vanguard the same? ”

Windcloud blade asked worriedly.

“Even if it is, what can we do? Don’t tell me you’re not going to fight the boss anymore?”

that’s right, hurry up and chop them. If you die, just run back. Look at him, he’s carrying a saber. He’s run back and forth several times.

before he could finish his sentence, the vanguard slashed at the ground, and damage instantly spread to the surroundings.

all the melee classes that stood around the boss, regardless of whether they were thieves or warriors, were all lying on the ground.

Not a single one.

What an awesome move.

After saying “f * ck,” wind and cloud blade and the other melee classes that had fallen returned to the Guild residence to revive.

“this skill is so cool. if a warrior had this skill, he would be so cool.”

that’s right. He used charge to get into the middle of the crowd and used earth splitter. It was such a beautiful scene. It’s a pity that I don’t know if there’s such a skill book.

even if there is such a skill book, it’s not that easy to get it. Do you think a player can get such a powerful skill so easily? ”

After Windcloud blade and the others revived and ran over, they continued to attack the boss.

However, it didn’t take long for the vanguard official to use another big move and send them all back to the resurrection point in the Guild residence.

“F * ck, what’s going on? doesn’t the boss” ultimate skill have a cooldown? Why are you casting it so frequently?”

...

“What do we do? we’ve lost about twenty people’s damage output.”

“it should be fine. there’s still time. we can blow it up.”

Zhang Shan looked at the time. There was still half an hour before the event ended. As long as there were no other accidents, it should not be a problem to defeat the boss.

Not long after, Windcloud blade and the others resurrected and ran back, but they did not go forward to attack the boss again.

“boss, what should we do? Do we still have to go up and cut it? Going up means lying down.”

He was very depressed now. He had wanted to be in the top ten of the city defense contribution list, but now he fell to the ground. He had no chance to deal damage at all.

“Go on, it’s good to deal more damage.”

alright, there are no more top ten on the contribution list. Try to cut it a few more times. Don’t be hurt just because you’re not in the top ten thousand.

Windcloud blade did not even last half a minute before he was killed again.

Fortunately, this place was relatively close to the Guild residence, so it didn’t take long for them to run over.

In the beginning, boss Wu was the only one who kept dying and resurrecting.

Now, every once in a while, the vanguard official would use a big move to send a group of people back.

This boss was simply the nemesis of melee combat.

It was really nonsense to use big moves so frequently.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan’s Panda baby had enough health. If it was the little Secretary, he wouldn’t be able to take on this kind of boss with big moves.

although the melee classes were all lying down, the damage output of the ranged classes was not affected at all.

The boss didn’t have any damage skills that could threaten long-ranged attackers.

The rest of the players were able to deal stable damage.

brother Yidao is so miserable. He definitely won’t be on the list this time. Hehe.

haha, I think I’ll be in the top ten this time. I’ve always been able to deal explosive damage, and little wild Wolf’s critical hit Halo might also count in contribution.

The wind Cloud Cannon shouted proudly.

However, it was really possible. Support skills could be counted as contribution points, so the aura that pets gave everyone should also be counted.

He had been dealing damage all this time. Perhaps the Windcloud cannon could really be ranked in the top ten of the city defense contribution list.

big brother cannon, you’re awesome. Remember to send red packets before opening the treasure chest later.

“Why do I have to give out red packets?”

“Shouldn’t you give a red packet to a top ten? Be careful, the treasure chest will only give you trash.”

” f * ck you, i won’t send you anything. i’ll get a top-grade skill book. ”

“Enough, you guys. The birds are still flying in the sky, and you’re all thinking about whether to cook or roast it?”

zhang shan was speechless. he was thinking too far ahead. the BOSS had not been defeated yet.

Chapter 104 the second guild skill

When the boss ‘HP dropped to 20000000, it went berserk and used its three blade stream and earth splitter skills more frequently.

Even if there were no melee players, the BOSS would still use earth splitter.

fortunately, the panda baby was very strong and could take it.

As for Windcloud blade and the others, after resurrecting countless times, they no longer kept attacking the BOSS.

Only after the BOSS had finished using earth splitter would they go up and attack it a few times. Then, they would retreat and stand on the side, waiting for the next BOSS to use its big move.

It wasn’t that they were afraid of dying, it was just that there was no need to do so. After going berserk, the BOSS would cast its skills too frequently.

If he just stood there and attacked, he probably wouldn’t be able to make many attacks, so he might as well use the interval between skills to attack.

No matter how often the BOSS used big moves, it couldn’t be done in a row. It had to wait for a cooldown.

The BOSS’s HP was dropping rapidly, and it was not far from being killed. There were still more than ten minutes left before the monster attack ended.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief. With only 50 of them, they were able to take down an active boss with 100 million HP in an hour.

There couldn’t be any accidents. Fortunately, it was a dummy monster. As long as they could hold on, the rest would depend on their damage output.

If not for Zhang Shan’s Panda baby, which had been strengthened by the heart of nature and had double its health, they would have really screwed up.

even secretary feng yun wouldn’t be able to tank the boss’s attacks. a boss that kept using its ultimate skills was just too overpowered.

“What do you guys think this boss should drop for us?”

“Earth splitting slash.”

“F * ck, you’re still thinking about it? do you have skill points to learn new skills?”

” i can get more skill points later. good skill books are rare. ”

“You’re so naive.”

don’t think too much about it. We should be snickering if two more red equipment were dropped.

red equipment should drop for sure, right? there’ll be at least one, and no more than three.

Zhang Shan didn’t seem to have any requirements. A boss only dropped one or two pieces of red equipment.

moreover, there might not even be an agility-based job. even if there were, they would have to roll for it. with so many people rolling for it, it would not be easy to get one.

As for the skill book, he didn’t need it at the moment. His fanaticism still needed five skill points to Max out.

Even if he had a skill book, he wouldn’t have any skill points to use.

This kind of thing couldn’t be rushed, so he could only do it slowly.

if they wanted equipment, they could wait for a few days. after boss wu’s level had been brought up, the two of them could find some bosses to fight and see if they could get some equipment.

To Zhang Shan, bosses below orange were all trash. With boss Wu, the two of them could easily take care of them.

When boss Wu became stronger, they might even be able to defeat a red BOSS.

that was why he wasn’t in a hurry. he just wanted to earn some experience points by killing bosses. he just wanted to secure first place.

The reward of a 5-star Treasure chest was more practical than anything else.

“Come on, the BOSS” health bar is empty.”

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to hit the boss seven times, but it was not enough to kill the BOSS.

It was a little awkward.

There was no other way. Even if the BOSS ‘health bar was empty, it might only have a few hundred health points left, but it could still have millions of health points.

The last bit of health was completely unnoticeable, so he could only rely on luck.

Everyone launched another round of attacks, and finally, the demon Vanguard fell to the ground.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and wind Cloud Cannon for successfully killing the demon Vanguard official. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

f * ck, I didn’t know that there’s an announcement for fighting an event BOSS. Why didn’t it happen last time? ”

maybe it's because they're fighting an active BOSS, so the requirements for the announcement are higher. The last time they fought an orange BOSS, but this time it's a red one, so the announcement was made.

who cares? I got a free skill point. It's so cool.

"haha, we actually killed a BOSS with 100 million hp. i can't believe it."

yeah, we're just over level 20, and we're already able to kill a BOSS with hundreds of millions of HP. That's amazing.

hurry up and take a look at the city defense contribution rank. We've taken the top three. Impressive.

After the vanguard officials were defeated, Zhang Shan was firmly at the top of the city defense contribution rank. He was three times stronger than the second-place wind Cloud Cannon.

Feng Yun realm was in third place and no one else was in the top ten.

by the way, why aren't you other ranged players strong enough? you're fighting the same BOSS, but you can't even get into the top ten.

wind cloud blade teased.

"Didn't you also fail?"

I can't deal any damage. I died the moment I went up. Otherwise, I would definitely be in the top ten.

"Who doesn't know how to brag?"

"Loot the equipment, loot the equipment, what are you talking about? we can still fight another BOSS after looting the equipment."

Indeed, there were still ten minutes before the end of the event. If they were quick, it would be a piece of cake to take down an orange BOSS.

It was simply unreasonable not to fight a free BOSS.

usually, she couldn't be found even if she wanted to.

yes, hurry up and loot the equipment. After that, we'll kill the next BOSS.

Feng Yun realm displayed all the drops.

There were two red and two orange materials and a skill book. This drop was considered average, but considering that they were the first to get it, it wasn't too bad.

This was considered to be relatively bad.

f * ck, what do you guys think that skill book is? "

Eh? Did he really drop the earth splitting slash? that's impossible.

what the hell are you shouting for? I thought it was an earth-splitting slash.

Windcloud blade said unhappily.

earth splitting slash my ass, it's a Guild skill. Our Guild is currently Level 2, so we can just get another Guild skill.

Hearing that it was a Guild skill, Zhang Shan looked at the skill book's introduction seriously.

[mutual aid (Guild skill): when guild members form a party, experience gain increases by 10%.]

for every additional guild member added to the party, the experience gained will increase by 5%, up to a maximum of 20%.

In other words, if two guild members formed a party to farm monsters, their experience would increase by 10%.

if it was a three-person team, it would increase by 15%, and if it was a four-person team, it would increase by 20%.

It would be best to group up with four people. If there were more people, it would not increase.

This Guild skill was not bad. The New World finally had a mechanism to encourage parties to level up.

f * ck, there's finally some hope for leveling up.

that's right. If we form a party of four, it'll be equivalent to grinding for a day. We'll gain three hours of experience. It's a good skill.

Feng Yun realm distributed the mutual aid skill book to himself and used it immediately. Soon, everyone else had an additional skill.

Guild skill books could only be used by the Guild leader.

for every level of the guild, players could learn a guild skill without spending skill points. as long as the guild was at a certain level, they could learn it.

"let's roll for the equipment."

there were two pieces of red equipment, a battle sword for guardian warriors and a piece of intelligence-type clothing.

On the other hand, the orange equipment were all strength-type equipment, a bracer and a helmet.

Chapter 105 End of work four pieces of equipment, all missing out on the agility type. zhang shan could only participate in the ROLL for the materials.

"f * ck, aren't we agility classes human too? It's ridiculous that he didn't even give us a useful one."

The wind Cloud Cannon said indignantly.

No one paid attention to him. This was how fighting bosses were. If they didn't drop your equipment, what could you do?

even if it did drop, it would be useless if you couldn't ROLL for it, unless you killed the BOSS by yourself.

This was how games were like. Luck was everywhere.

The four pieces of equipment were rolled for, and Mr. Wu even participated in the ROLL for the intelligence clothing.

However, his character wasn't good, so he just played a round of dice and got nothing.

Everyone rolled for the last red-colored material.

Zhang Shan casually threw out the die. 92 points.

The points were not bad, but soon, a Big Shot threw out 100 points.

Zhang Shan's face was full of tears. After fighting a red boss, he had gained nothing but hundreds of thousands of experience.

Although boss Wu didn't get any items from rolling, he had leveled up twice.

When his level was low, it was easy to level up. Just giving him 200000 to 300000 exp was enough for him to level up twice.

The real difficulty in leveling up was after level 25, while the first few levels were not that difficult.

after the items were distributed, they had less than ten minutes left to fight the next boss.

"Let's go. The next boss will drop any skill book that I use."

"you don't look that good, but you're dreaming."

the bosses near the guild's base had already been marked, and the others were also fighting them.

However, there would be a lot of bosses during a monster siege. It would be impossible to kill all of them.

Zhang Shan and the rest found an orange boss that no one was fighting, the elite team leader of the Nephilims.

They had fought this boss in the last event. It was simple.

our equipment is much better than last time. Do you guys think we can defeat two orange bosses in less than ten minutes? "

Zhang Shan suggested.

brother six steward, this is difficult, right? it's still okay to fight the BOSS alone since it only has 10 million HP. If we fight it together, it won't take too long, but there are many elite monsters to clear.

"Yeah, we just need to get another one."

we don't have to clear the small monsters. We can just split up to ten aggro players. The others will fight the BOSS. The 30 of us will deal 10 million damage. Let's see if we can finish it in five minutes.

"Then let's give it a try."

Feng Yun realm arranged for ten people to pull the monsters while the rest focused on the BOSS.

zhang shan controlled the panda baby to lure the monsters and the BOSS out. the 10 people who were pulling the small monsters intercepted the small monsters behind and pulled them to other places.

The others and Zhang Shan quickly began to attack the BOSS.

"Come on, don't save any skills. Hurry up and finish the game."

feng yun qing qing cast her curse skill on the elite team leader, and zhang shan immediately activated his berserk and fanatic skills.

In an instant, he dealt a huge amount of damage.

The HP of the demon elite team leader dropped rapidly.

after fighting a BOSS with hundreds of millions of HP, I feel like a BOSS with tens of millions of HP is just so-so, it's not very good to fight.

"Stop bragging, hurry up and cut it."

"I'm not bragging. I'm just telling the truth."

to be honest, I'm afraid that even if you fight a BOSS with 10 million HP, you won't be able to heal as fast as it.

"f * ck, who are they looking down on?"

on zhang shan's side, there were about 30 people and a few support players fighting the boss. on the other side, there were ten people pulling a group of elite monsters and running around.

It was impossible for them to clear hundreds of elite monsters, so they might as well stop fighting and think of a way to pull the aggro.

you guys should hurry up. There are too many elite monsters. It's not easy to pull them all.

"trash, you can't even handle 10 monsters each?"

"Are you kidding me? Do your monsters have 10000HP?"

it's fine. You guys just have to pull the monsters further away. Even if you die, it's fine. When the monsters come back, we'll be almost done.

"Won't we lose the experience if we go too far?"

brother, experience is like floating clouds to you. It's fine even if you don't waste your time.

"Damn, I want to get some experience. I want to level up."

even though they said so, they still pulled the elite monsters far away.

The rest was up to Zhang Shan and the rest. With the speed at which they attacked the boss, they did not have to worry about the interference of the small monsters.

As long as they were fast enough, they would have a chance of defeating the two orange bosses in the remaining time.

“Brothers, come on, let’s do it.”

“Support, leave three people behind to heal the Panda baby. The others, attack the boss.”

Feng Yun realm looked at Zhang Shan’s Panda baby. It was able to tank an orange boss without any pressure. That meant that there was no need for support to heal.

Although the support damage output was a little weak, it was always good to have a few more people to deal damage.

Under everyone’s powerful attacks, the boss’s HP dropped rapidly. 80%, 60%, 40%, 20%.

After the boss entered berserk, it fought even faster and was quickly killed by them.

let’s go and get the next one. We’ll split the equipment later.

This boss had not been fought for five minutes, and there were still about five minutes left in the event time. There was a chance to kill the next boss.

Feng Yun realm directed everyone to move towards the next boss and recalled the ten players who were pulling the elite monsters.

Everyone followed the same method and took down the second orange boss before the event was about to end.

haha, we actually defeated one red boss and two orange bosses. We’re so strong, I’m starting to admire myself.

“What are you admiring? it has nothing to do with you.”

“How can it not matter? I also dealt a lot of damage.”

he can’t even enter the top ten of the contribution list. What kind of damage output is he going to have?

“is it that easy to get into the top ten? Damn you.”

alright, the event is over. Let’s split the equipment.

Feng Yun realm displayed the drops of the two orange bosses.

three orange and two purple, two orange materials, and one skill book.

The orange-colored BOSS had dropped another skill book, and it was the same as the one from the previous event. It was a Berserker's two-blade stream.

"Oh my God, are the operators starting to take special care of the Berserkers? Why is a Berserker skill book so old? give us some for other classes too."

"That's right, are we going to fight a magic boss next time? These wooden dummy monsters always drop warrior-type items. This is too much."

it's not just skill books. The equipment is also more strength-type. As an Archer, I've only seen a few agility-type equipment.

"F * ck, two of the three orange equipment are strength type."

"We can't do anything about it, we can't beat a magic BOSS."

it's not like we can't beat all of them. We should be able to beat some of the magic bosses too. It's just that we'll keep dying and it'll be very slow.

that's the same as not saying anything. Speed is the key to a monster siege. What's the point of fighting, old cheater? "

"stop chit-chatting, quickly distribute the equipment and go level up."

feng yun realm rolled the equipment one by one.

There were a total of five pieces of equipment and two orange materials.

Only a pair of purple boots and two materials were related to Zhang Shan. The other four pieces of equipment were not agility-type.

It had nothing to do with him.

Chapter 106 enhanced rejuvenation

Among the three orange equipment, there were two strength-type and one intelligence hat.

The relevant personnel rolled the points, and this time, boss Wu was lucky and got the orange hat.

"Big brother carrying a saber, you're quite lucky. I have high hopes for you."

hehe, thank you, big bosses, for letting me gain experience while lying down. I even got an equipment.

After boss Wu rolled the hat, he felt a little embarrassed. He didn't do anything, especially when he was fighting the red boss.

He kept falling to the ground, almost running through the entire process.

"it's a small matter. let's play together in the future."

next, they rolled for purple equipment. zhang shan's luck was pretty good. in the entire event today, the only equipment that dropped was an agility type equipment. he had rolled for it.

However, it was only a pair of purple boots. It was not worth much and might not even be able to sell for 300 gold coins in an auction.

Zhang Shan and boss Wu did not roll for the last two orange materials.

Materials were the most difficult to roll. If the entire team participated, only one out of 50 people could roll for it.

It was harder than a critical hit.

let's split up after we're done. Open your own boxes and level up.

feng yun realm disbanded the party after he finished speaking.

"Everyone, let's go kill some monsters."

Zhang Shan put boss Wu in the team and said to him.

let's go. I'll bring you to level up. We'll go to the auction to get you a pair of boots first. Otherwise, you won't even be able to reach the monster-farming map by the time you sleep.

"F * ck, where are you farming monsters? is it this far?"

a level 40 monster map is very far away. I'll have to run for more than 40 minutes. If you don't change your boots, you'll need at least an hour and a half.

boss wu was still wearing the white boots he got from the novice village. its movement speed was unparalleled.

he had to get him a pair of level 10 purple boots. he didn't have any other requirements, as long as he could run faster.

"Let's go to the auction house."

Teleporting to the auction house, Zhang Shan selected the intelligence boots, level 10 purple equipment.

F * ck, level 10 boots could be sold for 1000 gold coins, and level 30 boots could only be sold for 200 to 300 gold coins. It was really practical.

No one had any use for level 30 purple equipment now, and no one wanted it even if it was put up for auction. Level 10 equipment was still in high demand.

This was because there were always new players joining the game, and there was a demand for it.

He didn't have to consider the attributes. He found a pair of level 10 boots that gave the most speed, which was a movement speed +6.

The small premium item was sold for 2000 gold coins.

he didn't mind if he had money. he could only earn more by running faster and saving time.

After he handed the boots to Mr. Wu, he waved his hand and said, "

“let’s go and level up.”

After Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate with boss Wu, they ran towards the map of ant mountain. They could not run too fast.

Although boss Wu had changed into a pair of boots, his movement speed was still much slower than his. He could run slowly.

why did you go and farm level 40 monsters? you’re only level 27.

“I had no choice, I was after the monster’s passive skill.”

“What do you mean by the passive ability of the monster? Boss Wu has countless question marks above his head.”

He did not know about Zhang Shan’s passive King talent.

Zhang Shan displayed his talent on the team channel and said, “You’ll know when you see my talent.”

f * ck, your talent is amazing. Even without the divine weapon, you’re still a Big Boss in this game.

“Hehe, it’s not bad, but without a divine weapon, it’ll take a long time to develop. It won’t be as good as it is now.”

your talent breaks the game’s balance. In the later stages of the game, you’ll have dozens of passive skills. No one will dare to fight you.

it’s hard to say. This game is strange. There are more and more items and skills. It’s useless no matter how strong one person’s skills are. It’s still up to more brothers.

so that’s why you joined the wind and cloud Guild. But they’re pretty nice people, so you should be able to play with them.

let’s help each other. After all, whether it’s fighting a Big Boss or fighting and slashing people, there’s no future in fighting alone.

“You don’t plan on starting your own Guild? The divine artifact boss is so famous, it shouldn’t be hard to gather a group of people.”

it’s boring. I don’t want to do it. There’s too much trouble. It’s better to just do it like this. I don’t have to care about anything. Other than fighting bosses and important guild activities, I don’t participate in anything else. I just focus on killing monsters.

that’s right. You’re playing the game to make money anyway. You just have to rely on the big tree and don’t have to set up your own Guild. If you offend a Big Boss you can’t afford to offend, you won’t be able to make money.

“yes, that’s what i’m thinking. anyway, if there’s anything, feng yun realm and the others can take care of it. i just want to quietly farm monsters.”

how much do you think the orange equipment I rolled just now can sell for? ”

“You’re not thinking of selling it, are you? There’s no need for that, no one wants level 30 equipment right now, so keep it.”

alright then, I’ll keep it for now. How can i earn money in the game? I used to spend money playing games, and I didn’t know how to earn money.

“There’s no rush. After you level up, the two of us will go fight the boss. We’ll get a few good skill books and we’ll get the money.”

“It’s that simple?”

“It’s not easy at all. First of all, it’s not easy to find a boss. Second, if others want to beat a boss, they need a lot of people. think about it, if there are a lot of people, there will only be a few items. how can there be enough to share?”

“then there’s only the two of us, can we defeat the boss?”

don’t worry. Other than the red boss that we might not be able to defeat, the rest are just noobs.

“haha, there’s a purple equipment in the chest.”

what?

He had almost forgotten that there was also the matter of opening chests during monster attacks. He just wanted to increase boss Wu’s level.

he had forgotten that there were treasure chests that he could open.

At the end of the event, other than giving treasure chests, the city defense contribution points would also be automatically converted into merit points.

Zhang Shan took a look at his own merit points. 9018, almost reaching 10000. His official position had also automatically become a 100-man commander.

in the future, he could go to the civil affairs officer’s office every week and receive a salary of five gold coins.

...

however, it would take 50000 merit points to be promoted to lieutenant. it was a little too much, and it would take a long time.

“You’re pretty lucky. There’s only a one in ten thousand chance of getting a level 1 treasure chest, but you actually got a purple equipment.”

hehe, not bad. A level 15 Taoist’s magic sword. I’ll be able to use it soon.

“I’ve also opened my chest. Let’s see if I can get something good.”

your five-star Treasure chest has a chance of getting a divine weapon, right? ”

“there aren’t any finished divine artifacts at the moment. they’re all broken and have to be repaired by npcs before they can be used. no divine artifact is so easy to get.”

zhang shan took out the five star treasure chest from the mail and opened it.

‘Holy F * ck, What’s this? it’s another skill book.’

The last time he had gotten a berserk skill book from the event box, and this time, he had gotten another skill book.

Was it because he was too lucky, or was it because a 5-star Treasure chest had a higher chance of dropping a skill book?

This time, it was an enhanced rejuvenation skill. It was boss Wu again. It seemed that his luck today was not wrong.

“I opened a skill book for you. Here you go.”

Zhang Shan traded the enhanced rejuvenation to Wu Qinglin.

“I don’t think that’s a good idea. I’ve heard of this skill book before, it’s very expensive.”

“What’s the point of selling it? isn’t it good to use it for yourself? By then, you’ll have two healing skills to heal the Panda baby. Maybe even if it’s a little weaker than the red BOSS, the two of us will be able to beat it. That’s when we really make money.”

Playing games with the iron Brothers, it felt like they had returned to their school days.

I have to find a way to make him quit that lousy job, and then we can roam the New World together, hehe.

Chapter 107 Level 28

After an hour of travel, Zhang Shan and boss Wu finally arrived at the map of Yi mountain.

Boss Wu was a little confused when he saw the Army ants all over the mountain.

“F * ck, there are so many ants, and they’re all level 40. Did you farm here before? how did you do it alone?”

” it’s not difficult. the panda baby can take the damage of more than 20 army ants. it can lure one team to fight one. when the panda baby’s hp recovers, it can continue again. ”

you’ve managed to get such an awesome pet. You’ve taken all the good things in the game. I wonder when I’ll be able to get a summoning skill book? ” skill books will depend on fate. Currently, there is only one kind of summoning skill book for Taoist priests, summoning the celestial general. It is a very rare skill book, but I don’t know if there are any other skills.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby and headed straight for a group of army ants.

now that boss wu, the taoist, was here, there was no need to lure monsters anymore. he let the panda baby rush into the group of monsters.

Although Mr. Wu's level was still very low, he could still heal the Panda baby.

After the army ant was held back by the Panda baby, Zhang Shan immediately started farming. He had the attack blessing of the priest.

His current attack power had increased a lot compared to when he was farming alone. the speed at which they farmed monsters had also increased.

Seeing Zhang Shan cut down the Army ants as if he was cutting vegetables, killing one with a few shots, boss Wu's hands were itching.

He held the wooden sword in his hand and slashed at an army ant. Damage -1.

"Damn, it didn't break his defense at all?"

"Of course. With that little attack power and such a low level, even a level 30 monster wouldn't be able to break your defense, let alone a level 40 army ant."

"Attack power is the king. Your level is more than ten levels lower than an ant, but you can still deal more than 2000 damage."

"Yes, as long as the attack power is high enough, even with the level suppression, you can still deal a lot of damage. The suppression should be based on proportion."

The two of them chatted as they killed monsters. Boss Wu only needed to heal Zhang Shan's Panda baby.

After reaching level 10, the duration of the attack blessing skill reached three minutes, and there was no need to keep adding it.

Although there was one more person to share the experience, Zhang Shan's experience gain speed did not slow down.

Instead, it became faster.

Since both of them were members of the wind and cloud Guild, forming a party could increase their experience by 10%. Originally, one army ant would only give 420 experience points.

Now, he was giving 460 experience points.

Boss Wu's level was lower, so he received less experience. Now it was just one monster, so Zhang Shan could get around 400 experience, while boss Wu could only get 50 to 60 experience.

After adding the attack blessing status, Zhang Shan's attack power had also increased to 4600, and each attack could reach 2500.

It was much faster than before.

the most important thing was that he no longer had to be careful and do it slowly. the baby panda was in front.

All he needed to do was to keep shooting, and it was completely brainless.

The fanaticism skill could be used as long as it was on cooldown. With all kinds of bonuses, the leveling efficiency had increased a lot.

After farming for more than an hour, Mr. Wu had leveled up once and reached level 13.

“I’m going offline now. I can’t stay up too late, or my wife will scold me.”

“Okay, go offline at the entrance of the map. I’ll be farming monsters nearby tomorrow and wait for you to come online.”

Then, the two of them slowly retreated to the entrance of the map.

Boss Wu went offline, and Zhang Shan could only continue to kill monsters by himself.

People with families couldn’t play around like him. Perhaps boss Wu had a mission to complete tonight.

Zhang Shan was once again the only one left in the entire ant Mountain Map. He was quietly farming monsters.

Without the support to heal the Panda baby, it was really uncomfortable to farm them. He could only lure out groups of army ants and slowly kill them.

She also had to feed the baby to recover her health from time to time. It was really troublesome.

Let’s take it slowly.

For the next three days, boss Wu was online all day during the weekends. He could not do it on weekdays, so he could only enter the game after having dinner at seven in the evening.

After three days of hard work, Zhang Shan had not only risen to level 28, but had also gained an additional few million experience.

However, when he saw the experience requirement to level up to 29, he was a little speechless. It actually required 25 million experience.

If he wanted to reach level 30, he might need a week’s time. It was so difficult.

In three days, boss Wu had reached level 21. With Zhang Shan’s help, leveling up was as fast as taking a plane.

Tomorrow was Wednesday, and the dungeon would be refreshed. Zhang Shan had not used up this week’s dungeon entry.

Later, when boss Wu came online, they would go and do it together. The possibility of two people clearing the dungeon was not high, but they couldn’t waste the dungeon entry.

Mr. Wu was also over level 20, so he could enter the second floor of the dungeon with him. They could also go and kill the monsters together.

maybe he could even get a mini-boss.

I'll go to the forum to understand the second floor's dungeon first. I wonder if it's the same as the first floor.

A large group of monsters, an orange BOSS, and a red BOSS.

Currently, most players were already over level 20. There were even a large number of level 24 and level 25 players. Many players had also tried to raid the second-floor Dungeons.

It was just that no one had cleared it yet.

there should be some information on the forum.

After searching on the forum, Zhang Shan quickly found a number of corresponding posts. He opened the one with the most views to take a look.

the New World operator really knows how to play. So this is what the second floor of the demon-suppressing dais is like.

The title of the post was very attractive. Hopefully, there was something interesting about it.

Zhang Shan opened the post and took a look.

Not bad. The original poster was a very honest person. Other than the final boss, he had not met anyone else.

The rest of the information regarding the second floor of the instance dungeon should be more or less complete.

First of all, the monsters on the second floor were different from the monsters on the first floor. They were no longer normal monsters.

Instead, they were like the small monsters in the monster attack event, all elite monsters.

Level 30 elite monsters had 100000 HP and high attack power. If the party was too small, they might not be able to kill more than a few of them.

The number of people required to enter the dungeon was one to fifty people. There were also many people who had the same plan as Zhang Shan. They wanted to enter the dungeon with only two or three people.

The original poster was trying to persuade those who had such thoughts to leave.

However, Zhang Shan did not plan to gather more people. There was no need. It was only an elite monster with 100000 HP. To him, it was not difficult.

Moreover, the original poster also mentioned that the elite monsters on the second floor of the dungeon gave a lot of experience points, unlike those monsters that attacked the city, which only gave the same amount of experience as normal monsters.

As for the orange-colored bosses on the second floor, the thread starter and the others had encountered a total of three of them, some strong and some weak.

As long as the team had a strong tank and enough support, they could defeat the weak ones.

However, there was also an orange-colored BOSS that was very strong. It would be difficult for an average team to defeat it.

The original poster and the others had not been able to defeat the orange-colored BOSS, so they had not seen the final BOSS and had left the dungeon.

Chapter 108 The second level of the demon-subduing stand

He didn't know if the original poster did it on purpose. Although there was a lot of content in the post, he didn't post the monster's information.

He wanted others to try it themselves.

Zhang Shan carefully read the content of the post.

The two weak orange bosses should be physical monsters, so as long as the tank was tanky enough, most people could take them down.

The stronger one might be a magic monster, so it would be a little difficult to deal with.

However, it did not matter. A level 30 orange-colored BOSS would probably have less than two million HP.

To Zhang Shan, there was no level suppression effect. He could be taken down in three minutes at most. It was too easy. By then, boss Wu would heal him.

The Panda baby couldn't possibly not last three minutes, right?

The orange-colored BOSS should not be difficult to deal with. The main problem was that there might be a lot of elite monsters. It would take a lot of time for him to clear them all by himself.

As for the final boss, he had no idea. He would kill it with Feng Yun realm and the others next time.

I'll play for a while and wait for boss Wu to come online.

on a working day, boss wu could only come online at 7 pm.

For a man with a wife and child, even if he was not affected by work, he could not be as carefree as Zhang Shan.

Perhaps this was life.

The days of being single like Zhang Shan's could not be called life. It could only be said that he was still alive.

He didn't have to wait long before boss Wu came online on time.

“Have you had dinner yet?” boss wu asked.

“I just went downstairs to eat.”

you’re from the rich class, but you still go downstairs to eat fast food every day. That’s so unrepresentable.

“Then what can we do? You’ve been to the apartment I rented. It’s a doghouse, do you need to hire a chef?”

“Didn’t you earn more than 10 million? We can buy a house. If we can’t live there, we can rent a bigger house.”

let’s talk about it after a while. Besides, we can only buy an ordinary house in Pengcheng with millions of people. It has to be in a remote area.

yeah, the houses in Pengcheng are too f * cking expensive. My wife used to urge me to buy a house, but she stopped saying that after that. I can’t afford one at all.

“It’s okay. We’ll do our best in the New World. We’ll definitely be able to afford it in the future.”

“i hope so. otherwise, mengmeng won’t have anywhere to go to study in the future. she’ll have to bring her home to be a left-behind child.”

It was the sorrow of working as a worker. After working hard in a big city for a few years, there would be no roof tiles above and no place to stand on. Even children’s education would be a big problem.

This was the reality. He could only say that he had not worked hard enough in the past, or that he had bad luck.

“Let’s not talk about this nonsense. Let’s go back to the city and clear the instance.”

“Can we even pass the dungeon with just our current one?”

Boss Wu had never played a new world dungeon before. He had only seen the relevant information on the forum.

Regarding the instance dungeon in the New World, the conclusion on the forum could be summarized in one word: difficult. Not to mention that there were only two of them.

“at our current level, we can only enter the second floor of the dungeon. the possibility of clearing it is not high. however, we can go and gain some experience. fighting a few small bosses should not be a problem.”

let’s go. Let’s hope that we can get something to sell for money. If we can’t earn money by playing games, even our wives won’t support us.

Mr. Wu was excited when he heard that he could kill the boss in the dungeon. He had been playing for a few days but had not made his first pot of gold.

“Don’t worry, I’ll get you the money sooner or later.”

After the two of them cast the teleport skill together, Zhang Shan brought boss Wu to the auction house.

he had to change his equipment to level 20. other than his level 15 purple equipment, everything else was trash from the new village.

it was as if he was not wearing any equipment.

Level 20 purple equipment was not expensive, ranging from a few hundred gold coins to one or two thousand gold coins. The key was to get a good Cape for boss Wu.

It was not good for the fragile professions to not have a good cloak. Any AoE damage from the boss would kill them.

There was no need to think about the purple cloak. Although it was occasionally dropped, after seeing the price, Zhang Shan wanted to sell off his priest cloak.

The price was simply too beautiful.

Zhang Shan spent 80000 gold to buy a level 20 Blue cape.

As for the other equipment, he could get them all for less than 10000 gold coins.

In total, he had spent less than 100000 gold coins.

Although the price of equipment had been reduced a lot, it still depended on the person.

100,000 gold coins was nothing, but for a civilian player to spend 100000 gold coins for equipment ...

That was basically impossible.

he then traded the equipment to boss wu.

“Put on your new equipment, and throw your garbage into the shop.”

Boss Wu took the equipment that Zhang Shan had traded to him and said, “there’s no need to get me such good equipment, i just need to heal.”

“It’s just a small amount of money, don’t worry about it. Us two brothers want to move unhindered in the New World, so how can we not have good clothes?”

...

Boss Wu didn’t insist. They were brothers back in college, and Zhang Shan used to freeload from him.

after they graduated, they went to pengcheng together to make a living. boss wu had helped zhang shan a few times, even though he himself was not doing well.

True brothers, there was no need to say too much. Friendship was in the heart.

Teleporting to the office of the military affairs officer, Zhang Shan chose the demon subduing platform’s second level, normal difficulty.

there was no need to think about the other difficulty modes. with just the two of them, they would probably be sent back to the city by the mobs.

After entering the second floor of the dungeon, he saw that not far away, the monsters were in groups of three to five, with about ten in each group.

It wasn't like the first floor, which was filled with small monsters.

However, he had heard that the monsters on the second floor were all elite monsters, so it was normal for there to be fewer of them, if there were as many as there were on the first floor.

Who could clear them all?

Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby and went up to fight. Boss Wu gave him an attack blessing.

The elite monsters in the second-floor dungeon had the same name as the ones in the monster siege event. They were also demon elite warriors and were level 30. There was no level suppression on Zhang Shan. He could basically deal full damage.

Each attack dealt more than 4000 damage, so he could kill an elite monster with 100000 HP in less than 20 hits.

This was because he still had many critical strike effects. Basically, he could trigger one critical strike effect every ten consecutive attacks.

It didn't take long for him to defeat an elite monster. He had gained 1600 experience points, so Mr. Wu should be able to get more than 1000 experience points.

This meant that one elite monster would give him more than 2000 experience points. It felt great.

f * ck, the experience points here are so much. One monster gave me thousands of experience points. Doesn't that mean I can level up again after killing a thousand monsters?"

The experience points were so good. Mr. Wu was now level 21, so he only needed 1.5 million experience points to level up.

Although there weren't as many elite monsters in the instance dungeon as the small monsters on the first floor, there were still thousands of them.

At this rate, after killing these elite monsters, boss Wu would be able to level up.

Chapter 109 demon race strong man

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to block the front and then fired non-stop. One by one, the elite demon Warriors were defeated by him.

the attack of an elite monster was quite high compared to a normal monster. it was around 1000.

To the Panda baby, it was nothing. It was even worse than the Army ants of the ant Mountain Map.

Boss Wu didn't really need to heal the Panda baby.

Since he had nothing to do, he took the magic sword in his hand and joined in the killing.

After changing into a full set of level 20 purple equipment, Mr. Wu's attack power had also reached 1000, and the level difference was less than ten levels.

the level suppression effect wasn't too obvious, and boss wu dealt 700 to 800 damage with each slash.

even though the damage from the slashes was not even a fraction of zhang shan's, it was still better than standing there doing nothing.

Because of the limited skill points, Mr. Wu didn't learn any attack skills. As a Taoist, he could only use his magic sword to kill monsters.

He had no face at all.

However, there was no other way. He was in short supply of skill points. A Taoist's general attack skill book was not very expensive.

It could be bought for a few thousand gold coins, but learning it would be a waste of skill points.

It would take boss Wu 29 skill points to master his attack blessing and the two healing skills.

in the previous monster attack event, boss wu had followed zhang shan and the others and had also gotten a skill point.

However, he was still far from that. For now, he still had to rely on leveling up to get skill points.

After he reached level 30, he would have extra skill points to learn other skills.

f * ck, these elite warriors are so hard to kill. I have to hit each monster more than 100 times. They're like mini-bosses.

100000 HP, of course, it's not that easy to kill. Otherwise, the second floor of the dungeon would have been cleared long ago.

it's so cool to have a divine weapon. You're slashing ten times faster than me.

the main reason is because of the divine weapon. However, my passive skills can also increase my damage output by a lot. I also have the title of nemesis of the demon race, which can increase my farming speed by a lot.

"What the hell is a title? How did you get it?"

Zhang Shan displayed his demon title.

[title: nemesis of the demons, the pride of the human race, the nemesis of the demons. When equipped with this title, damage dealt to monsters is increased by 10%.]

this title is awesome. It directly increases damage by 10%. It's so useful. How did you get it? " in the novice village, the first kill of the wild boar King gave him such a title. It's very useful, and it's very helpful for farming monsters and fighting bosses.

" i really want to get a title. i wonder how i can get a title. "

This Zhang Shan really did not know what to do. He only knew two titles now. One was the nemesis of the demon race.

The other was the title of Feng Yun realm's pioneer.

The title of Scout increased defense and health. Unless he was in a fight, the title of Scout would not be of much help to his mage profession.

Usually, Feng Yun realm also wore the title of nemesis of the demon race. He would only change it to the title of Scout when he was fighting.

However, they didn't fight much, so the title of Scout was rarely used.

Title effects could not be stacked. No matter how many titles a player obtained, they could only wear one.

I'll take my time in the future. As long as I'm always ahead of the other players, I'll always have the chance to get a title.

that's right. The best things in the game will always be obtained by the top players. It's a pity that I still have to go to work. Otherwise, if I continue to follow you, my level will quickly surpass the others.

" when we get lucky and make some good stuff to sell for money, you can quit your stupid job. " okay, it's settled then. When I get my first bucket of gold, I'll resign. Working in the factory is so annoying.

"How are you annoying? there are so many girls in your factory. Didn't you get your wife in the factory? hehe."

that was in the past. Now, my child is almost two years old. No matter how many girls there are in the factory, they have nothing to do with me.

f * ck, you're a saint now? we both know each other.

it's true. I'm not interested in the girls in the factory anymore. You'll know when you get married.

F * ck, Zhang Shan felt as if he had received a ten thousand critical hits. This was a direct blow to a single dog. Wasn't this clearly saying that he was still single? you wouldn't understand.

"Okay, you're a good man in the Alliance. Hurry up and kill some monsters."

it would take a long time to kill thousands of elite monsters. zhang shan could take down about four to five in a minute.

As for boss Wu, he couldn't even kill an elite monster in a minute.

It would take more than four hours to clear them all. Fortunately, it was still early, only seven o'clock, not yet eight o'clock.

he should be able to finish it by 12 pm.

In any case, the elite monsters of the instance dungeon gave a lot of experience, so he just treated it as killing monsters to level up.

Time passed by slowly. The two of them killed monsters and blew water at the same time. It was as if they had returned to their school days, when they were fighting in the game.

“Look! Isn’t that the boss?” boss Wu suddenly shouted.

zhang shan looked in the direction he was pointing. indeed, there was an orange-named boss holding a sledgehammer in the distance. it was a demonic strongman.

“Let’s clear the nearby mobs first, then we’ll fight the boss later.”

after clearing Dungeons for half a day, I can finally fight a boss to refresh myself. Hehe.

“Do you think this boss will drop anything good?” Boss Wu asked him.

it’ll only drop some trashy purple quality equipment. The orange-named boss in the normal mode of the instance dungeon basically doesn’t drop anything good. Don’t have too much hope.

Zhang Shan had ruthlessly shattered boss Wu’s fantasy. The drops from the normal difficulty instance dungeon were indeed trash.

Other than the final boss, which might drop some good items, the chance of an orange-colored boss dropping good items was very low.

Oh my God, it’s still an orange BOSS. I thought it would drop one or two orange equipment or skill books.

“Who cares, it’ll know after it’s done.”

To Zhang Shan, a level 30 orange BOSS was not a problem at all, not to mention that he had boss Wu as a support.

Even if he was alone, he would have a way to handle it.

Very quickly, other than the few small monsters beside the demonic strongman, the other small monsters nearby had all been cleared.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to move forward and pulled the BOSS and the few elite monsters.

He immediately activated damage output mode and killed the small monsters first, then focused on attacking the demon strongmen.

[demonic strongman: HP 1500000, attack 3000, skill 1, charge, skill 2, hammer of the storm, skill 3, crush.]

[charge: charges towards the target at high speed and deals damage. Speed reduction of 3 seconds.]

[windstorm hammer: the demonic strongman throws the sledgehammer in its hand to attack the target, causing double damage and stunning it for three seconds.]

[crush (passive): the sledgehammer of the demonic strongman. It has a crushing effect and increases damage by 50%.]

The BOSS's attributes were not too strong. It only had 1500000 HP and 3000 attack power. It was considered weak. Perhaps it was because the normal mode of the dungeon had a certain reduction.

As for the BOSS's skills ...

Not counting the charge skill, it was similar to the warrior class, but the other two skills were not bad. One was an active stun skill, and the damage was doubled.

The other passive skill increased damage by 50% for every attack. In other words, the BOSS's theoretical damage should be 4500.

It was already very strong. The red BOSS Wolf King's attack power was only 5000, if not for the wolf King's critical hits.

The damage from a normal attack was about the same as a level 30 demon strongman.

Chapter 110 Demon race's Warlock

Zhang Shan brought the Panda baby and kept attacking the demonic strongman. Boss Wu stood at the side and healed the Panda baby.

It was as easy as killing small monsters.

Of course, this was also because the Panda baby's attributes were extremely high, especially after being strengthened by the heart of nature.

If it was any other weaker tank, it would be hard to say. They might even flip over.

From time to time, the demonic strongman would use its hammer of the storm skill to stun the Panda baby.

Every time it hit the Panda baby, it would deal more than 3000 damage, and this was only because the Panda baby had thick skin and passive damage reduction.

Otherwise, the damage would be even greater.

However, this bit of damage was only considered small to the Panda baby, which had more than 100000 HP. There was no pressure at all.

With boss Wu's constant healing, the Panda baby was almost always at full health.

At this stage, a pet with more than 100000 HP was so strong that no one had friends.

In less than four minutes, the demonic giant fell to the ground and left, giving Zhang Shan more than a million experience. Boss Wu directly leveled up.

haha, the BOSS's experience is still the best. I leveled up just like that. Let's see what it dropped!

Zhang Shan checked his bag and displayed the drops.

Two pieces of trashy purple quality equipment, one orange quality material, and that was all.

this is f * cking garbage. This is all it dropped? it's such a waste of the orange BOSS's cards.

it doesn't matter. I'll just treat it as gaining experience. Besides, the materials don't count. These two purple quality equipment can be sold for a few hundred gold coins.

that's right. Since it's so easy, I can't ask for too much. Let's keep farming. Didn't you say there were three orange bosses? if we kill all of them, even if they drop purple equipment, we can sell them for one or two thousand gold coins.

"that's right. 2000 gold coins is equivalent to half a month's salary. if that's the case, the harvest is not bad."

"Ah Q's spirit."

you have to be content with what you've got. You'll be happy when you're content. Hurry up and farm. If you're too late, your wife will be urging you again.

killing an orange-colored BOSS did not take up too much time to clear the monsters.

In just a few minutes, he had only managed to save a dozen or so elite monsters.

"It's too slow to clear the dungeon with just the two of us. If I had known earlier, I would've gotten another helper to come in."

it's not easy to find a good helper. Besides, we're not in a hurry. We just have to finish it before you go offline.

"Alright, I might have to sleep a little later today."

One by one, the demon race's elite warriors were defeated by Zhang Shan. Slowly, they had cleared more than half of the small monsters in the entire dungeon.

In the middle, they encountered another orange-colored BOSS, which was also a demonic strongman. It didn't take much effort before it was destroyed.

as for the loot, it was the same as the previous one. two pieces of purple equipment could only be sold for gold coins.

Unless it was red grade or above equipment or skill books, Zhang Shan was not interested in any other equipment.

It was not worth mentioning at all for that small amount of money.

Eh? What kind of monster was that? it was a little far away, so he couldn't see clearly, but it was obvious that he looked different from those elite demon soldiers.

"Is that a boss?" zhang shan pointed to the distance and asked boss wu.

I can't see clearly. Let's quickly go over and take a look.

forget it. There's no hurry. I'll finish them all sooner or later.

why do you have to finish them all? do you want to kill the final BOSS? "

it doesn't matter if we can defeat it or not, we have to give it a try. At least we have to see the BOSS's attributes and skills. Then, we'll know what to do next time we come back.

Zhang Shan had another goal for clearing the dungeon this time, which was to find a path for the next time. Currently, there was no information on the second floor's gatekeeper BOSS on the forum.

He had to try it out himself.

Otherwise, in a few days, when he cleared the instance dungeon with Feng Yun realm and the others, he would also be in the dark.

It was not easy to choose the difficulty mode if one did not know anything.

As long as he could confirm the BOSS's attributes and skills, he would know what to do next time.

when he was near the boss, zhang shan took a look at the boss's name. demon warlock.

"i don't think this boss will be easy to deal with. let's save it for the last time. let's clear out all the small monsters first."

Based on his experience with bosses, Zhang Shan felt that every magic type boss was disgusting.

None of them were easy to deal with. Even if it was just an orange boss, it couldn't be underestimated. Who knew what kind of disgusting skills it had?

Let's clear the mobs in the dungeon first and get some experience before dealing with the demon Warlock.

"is this demon warlock very difficult to fight? It's the same level as the previous one, and it's also orange. Will there be a big difference?"

it's hard to say for a magic-type boss before you see its skills. Let's kill the small monsters first. Once you're done with the small monsters, you should be able to level up again, and your healing ability will also improve.

They had already fought two orange-colored bosses, and it was just the two of them sharing the experience, so the experience was very good.

Mr. Wu had already leveled up in the dungeon. If he finished all the dungeons, he should be able to reach level 23.

OK?

At around 11 pm, they had finally cleared out all the elite demon soldiers.

...

In the entire dungeon map, there was only one demon Warlock left, standing there alone.

Then, the final boss should be showing up.

“What should we do?” Boss Wu asked.

“Let’s do it as usual. Let the Panda baby test out the BOSS’s attributes and skills. We’ll stand further away.”

the hunter class could control pets from a much further distance than their attack range. basically, they could control pets within their field of vision, so he let the panda baby try first.

No matter how strong the demon Warlock was, it was impossible for him to kill the Panda baby in one hit. After all, it was only an orange BOSS.

Zhang Shan controlled his pet to attack the demon Warlock, while he and boss Wu stood far away.

Very quickly, the BOSS’s attributes and skills were revealed.

[demon Warlock: HP 1500000, attack 3000, skill 1, life fire, skill 2, binding, skill 3, Inferno array.]

[life fire: demon warlocks use their life fire to attack, increasing damage by 50%.]

[binding spell: randomly locks a target, rendering the target immobile, unable to attack, unable to recover HP and mana. Lasts for three seconds.]

[blazing inferno: the demon Warlock will set up a powerful Inferno in the target’s position, causing 5000 damage per second for five seconds within a 20-yard radius.]

Its attributes were normal, but its skills were a little strong. As long as he paid attention, he should be able to do it.

Zhang Shan quickly ran forward and started to attack the boss. Boss Wu also started to heal the Panda baby.

“Let’s not stand together. You stand behind the boss and just heal the Panda baby.”

I know. The BOSS’s ultimate skill can kill me instantly. It deals 3000 damage per second. I can’t even last three seconds.

” it should be fine. this skill’s range isn’t that big. if it’s thrown to the panda baby, we’ll be fine. ”

I’m afraid it’s aimed at us. I can only take damage once. I can’t run more than ten yards in a second.

It was a little difficult. Although boss Wu had changed into a blue cloak, it was still a little fragile and couldn’t withstand the BOSS’s big move.
