Chapter 131 The big golden ant

Zhang Shan rode on the red Hare and galloped through the ant Mountain Map, quickly passing through groups of army ants.

Riding a horse was so cool. Not only was it fast, but most importantly, it could quickly pass through the gaps between the monsters.

if they were to run on two legs, it would not be so easy to pass through the group of monsters.

if they were not careful, they would be surrounded by monsters and could only clear the monsters while moving forward.

Before he had a Mount, Zhang Shan had to rely on this method to clear monsters in maps with high monster density.

Now, he was much more comfortable. Riding on the red Hare, before the Army ants could even react, he had already left in a cloud of dust.

As long as he didn't seek death, he wouldn't be surrounded by monsters as long as he stayed in the middle of the monsters.

Zhang Shan quickly swept through the groups of small monsters and carefully checked if there was a boss among them. The ant Mountain Map was a Little Big.

even if he were to ride on the red hares, he would probably need half an hour to scan the entire map.

He hoped that he would be lucky enough to find the boss as soon as possible and not have to go through the entire map.

after killing the boss here, there were still many things waiting for him. just now, there were many announcements. although the world war and monster siege activities had not started yet, it was not the time to start.

However, that public map, Heaven's Gate, was already open to the players. Looking at the comments on the world Channel, many players had already gone over. Zhang Shan also wanted to go over and take a look.

However, before leaving the ant Mountain Map, he had to find the boss and fight it. Otherwise, he would not be able to live up to the 20 days he had spent farming here.

Following the planned route, Zhang Shan carefully screened the monsters he saw, not letting go of any red dot.

They had better not miss out on any of the bosses. If they were unlucky and missed the boss, they would have to search again.

Just as Zhang Shan was riding on the red hares, searching for bosses all over the map, he received a call from wind and cloud blade.

“Brother Liu Guan, what are you doing? do you want to go to the map of heaven’s gate to kill people? it’s so lively there now.”

“i’m still looking for the BOSS here. let’s talk after we’re done here.”

“What? Do you have a BOSS?”

there should be. They’re all ant monsters. No matter what, there should be an ant King or ant queen Boss, right? ”

“You guys have been farming there for so long and you still haven’t seen the BOSS?”

no, the map here is a Little Big. We’ve been farming in small areas before, so there are still many places we haven’t been to.

okay, then you can slowly look for the BOSS first. When you find a Big Boss that you can’t beat, remember to call for it so that we can get some experience or something.

“Didn’t you plan to go to Heaven’s Gate to kill people? You don’t have time even if I call you, hehe.”

“I wanted to go and kill people, but boss and the others didn’t want to go. They said that it’s too chaotic there now and that they would go and take a look after a few days when it’s more peaceful. I’m going alone. If I don’t pull a few strong teammates, I’ll just be courting death.”

“let’s go take a look after we’re done with the boss. i heard that there are many bosses at heaven’s gate.”

“you’re awesome, you still want to fight the boss of heaven’s gate? you don’t know how chaotic that place is right now, there are players from other countries everywhere, how can you fight the boss in peace?”

it’s fine. We’re just fighting the boss. We’ll just kill anyone who dares to mess things up.

okay, Big Boss is awesome. I’ll kill some monsters first. Call me when you find the big boss.

“yes, yes. we’ll talk about it when i find it.”

After ending the call, Zhang Shan continued to fly on the map.

He did not seem to be very lucky today. He had already covered more than half of the entire ant Mountain Map, but he still did not see the BOSS.

He wasn’t going to have to run through the entire map, was he? was his luck that bad?

What the f * ck was that? The Golden ant?

Zhang Shan was about to complain. Why was his luck so bad? he had covered half the map and still could not find the BOSS.

Soon, he saw a huge golden ant not far away. It was so eye-catching.

As long as one wasn’t blind, they would be able to see it. They thought of the vileness of the Mountain King and then looked at the might of the big Ant.

There was no comparison between bosses. Such an arrogant BOSS should be very powerful.

however, zhang shan was riding on a horse. no matter how strong the boss was, there was no need to worry. if the situation did not look good, he would run.

No matter how fast the boss could run, it couldn't outrun the red Hare.

Zhang Shan rode forward on his horse and circled around the big golden ant to observe it.

It was a red boss, a demonized army ant queen. As for its attributes, he couldn't tell.

Zhang Shan did not dare to try it out rashly. Riding on the horse, he could run away. However, if he got off the horse to fight the boss, it would be very difficult to run away.

summoning a mount required a channeling time, and the boss would not give him the chance to mount the mount.

forget it, i'm not going to try. i'll just shake people and fight together.

A level 40 red boss, if it was just him and boss Wu, there was no need to consider it at all.

It was impossible to defeat them. Moreover, the marching ants all had passive ant strength, and their attack power was terrifyingly high.

As the big BOSS, the Queen ant must have had the ant's power as well, so its attack power must be very high.

Not to mention, just him and boss Wu, even if it was Feng Yun realm and the others, they would have to think carefully about the class combination of the team.

Otherwise, they might not have been able to defeat the boss. Bosses with high HP were not scary. At most, it would take some time.

Bosses with high attack power were the scariest. No one could withstand them, just like the King of the Mountains.

In the end, even the Panda baby couldn't withstand it. This ant Queen's damage output should be higher than the Mountain King's.

Although the Panda baby had leveled up two more times with him and its HP had increased a little, it had only just reached 130000 HP.

He was not much stronger than when he fought the Mountain King.

He had to rely on his teammates, especially more support. As for the damage output, there was no need to worry.

After Zhang Shan's godly weapon was unsealed, his damage output had almost doubled. Even if the others were just assisting from the side, he could kill the BOSS alone without having to attack it.

The key was how to let the Panda baby take it.

Calling wind and cloud blade:

brother Yidao, we've found a red boss. It's a demonized army ant queen. It's level 40. Call some people over to fight it.

haha, you really found it. Did you see the boss's attributes and skills? " no, I don't dare to try. This boss is obviously very powerful. It's shining with golden light and looks very arrogant.

let's give it a try. Maybe it's just a counterfeit? "

I don't think we should try. You guys can come over together. You have to bring more support. Otherwise, I'm afraid that the Panda baby won't be able to take it.

...

"that's impossible. if the panda baby with more than 100000 hp can't even hold on, then the other players can't play. The Mountain King is a special case. It's impossible for all bosses to have such insane damage output."

" then you guys make the arrangements. i'm also going back to dangyang city to upgrade my equipment. it'll take a lot of time for you guys to come anyway. " stir up. People with horses are so willful. They can just go back to the city. I'll go get people first.

Chapter 132 A full change of clothes

Perhaps Windcloud blade was right. Not all bosses were as overpowered as the Mountain King.

The Mountain King's insane damage output was mainly due to mad demon's passive, which increased its attack speed too much.

the other bosses 'attack speed was basically normal, even if their attack power was higher than the mountain king.

However, in reality, the damage output per unit time was not stronger than that of the Mountain King.

Thinking about it this way, this golden ant didn't seem to be that difficult to deal with. As long as the boss didn't have too difficult of a skill, it would be fine.

I'll go back to the city after I tell boss Wu.

we found the boss. It's a level 40 red boss. The two of us can't beat it. We've already shaken people. Wait for a while. I'll go back and update my equipment before coming back.

"Alright, then I'll slowly kill the monsters by myself."

After Zhang Shan returned to the city, he first went to the warehouse to change into the three red equipment.

He then teleported to the auction house to see if he could buy the few pieces of equipment he was still missing at an appropriate price.

His current equipment consisted of weapons, clothes, boots, necklaces, and a bracer. he was still missing two rings, a hat, and a wrist guard.

I'll try my best to buy red equipment. I hope they're not too expensive.

Although he still had 10000000 gold coins, he couldn't spend it all at once. Red equipment could only be used for about ten levels.

He had to save some gold coins so that he could buy skill books, divine weapons, spiritual weapons, and the like in the future. Those were the real top-tier items.

let's take a look at the level 30 hat first. among all the equipment, the hat should be the cheapest, especially for jobs with weak defense.

because the hat only added some defense and hp, even the red hat didn't add much. for brittleskins, it didn't have much effect.

Zhang Shan was mainly interested in the agility attribute and equipment special effects of red equipment. Red equipment would have two equipment special effects.

The hat had a fixed HP recovery effect, and the other effect was randomly generated.

In the auction house, all level 30 hats for agility were selected, and there were not many red equipment.

There were only about 50 pieces of equipment like the hat that were not in high demand, and their prices were between 50000 to 100000 gold coins.

this price was acceptable.

Zhang Shan found a hat that cost 60000 gold coins and bought it. His health points increased by 1000, his defense by 200, and his agility by 160.

of the two special effects, one was health recovery +10, and the other increased defense by 3%. these special effects could only be considered trash.

However, there was nothing he could do about it. There was no agility-type hat with good special effects in the entire auction house.

After the hat was done, he looked for the bracer. The bracer increased attack speed, and it was very important to Zhang Shan.

The wrist guard was slightly more expensive than the hat. It was about 10000 to 20000 gold coins.

Generally, for the equipment of fragile professions, equipment that added attack could be sold at a higher price, such as weapons and accessories.

Other than the Cape, it was difficult to sell the other pieces of equipment for a high price because they would not change the quality of a player's strength.

Zhang Shan had spent 80000 gold coins to buy a bracer. One of the special effects was an attack speed increase of 10, which was normal. The other special effect was really trashy, which was an increase of 3% magic recovery.

The mana recovery effect was completely useless to him, but there was no other way. For the sake of attack speed, this trash effect was ignored.

He was still missing two rings, which was the most important thing. He selected the agility-type rings. There were only twenty or so level 30 red rings on the auction house.

Moreover, they were all sold at extremely high prices. The highest price had already set the starting price to 300000 gold coins.

it couldn't be helped. everyone liked attack power, especially for fragile professions. only with attack power could they survive.

It was impossible for fragile classes to rely on defense and HP to tank damage when they were farming monsters. They could only rely on more powerful damage output and knock down the monster before it could get close.

To them, defense and HP were only useful in PvP and boss fights. They wouldn't be of much use when they were farming monsters.

However, attack equipment was different. No matter what the situation was, attack power would always be the best choice.

Hence, weapons and accessories were always more expensive than other equipment, and their prices were usually two to three times that of other equipment.

Perhaps in the later stages of the game, players would need to consider the balance of attributes, and the price of different equipment would slowly close.

However, in the early stages of the game, attack power was undoubtedly the priority.

he could not help it if it was expensive. he would just buy two rings. zhang shan still had tens of millions of gold coins anyway.

he had to spend some of the gold coins he earned. only with investment would there be returns. the better his equipment, the more fun he could play.

Zhang Shan picked two rings with similar attributes and bought them together. He spent almost a million gold coins.

Although he still had a broken ring, as long as it was repaired, it would be a divine artifact, but he didn't know how long it would take to fix that.

it was better to just buy two rings first. in the future, if the divine artifact ring was really repaired, he was not afraid that the red ring would not be able to be sold.

red equipment would always be in high demand, even in the later stages of the game.

after all, red equipment was the highest level of equipment that players could get their hands on.

The attributes of the two new rings were similar, and so were their special effects.

Perfect purple-gold ring (red): Level 30, physical attack power 600 – 680, agility 158, special effect 1, critical hit, special effect 2, power attack.

[critical strike: increases critical strike trigger rate by 2%.]

[power attack: increase attack by 3%]

Not bad, two rings and a necklace. The critical hit rate of the three accessories added up to 6%.

The two rings had a special attack effect that increased the attack by 6%.

He also had two passive skills that increased his attack power, and the God equipment also had a special effect that increased his attack power by 10%.

In other words, on top of his basic attack power, his total attack power could be increased by an additional thirty-six percent, which was super fierce.

He changed into all his level 30 equipment and checked his stats:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: Hunter]

Chapter 133-riding a horse is awesome

After changing into a full set of level 30 red equipment, Zhang Shan's character's attributes had an explosive growth.

his attack power and agility attributes had increased to a terrifying number.

More than 9000 ATK, almost four to five times that of the other players. Before the others reached level 30, no one could last two seconds in front of Zhang Shan.

Even if he was a tank, he would not be able to withstand such an abnormal attack.

In addition, due to the red equipment, there were many additional agility attributes. His main attribute was almost 1500 points, which was already a very high number.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had as many as 14 skills. He had obtained seven through his talent.

If other players were to see Zhang Shan's skill panel, they would probably be in despair. With so many skills, it was really a little scary.

At the moment, other players only had four or five skills. The rich players might have more, but no matter how many, they would only have seven or eight skills.

He didn't have that many skill points to level up their skills. It was impossible to only learn one level for each skill.

Some skills could be learned at Level 1, but damage-type skills would be too weak if they were not maxed out.

zhang shan's passive king's talent did not only allow him to obtain additional passive skills and save money on skill books.

The key was the passive ability obtained from the talent. He didn't need to spend any skill points and it was basically a white ticket skill. The more he went on, the more he felt that the passive King talent was amazing.

Once the equipment was ready, he set off. After taking care of the big golden ant, he would go to Heaven's Gate to take a stroll and see if there were any ignorant people. He would kill a few of them and use them as a sacrifice.

He put the level 20 purple equipment that he had just replaced up for auction. Although purple equipment was not worth much, it could still be sold for a few hundred gold coins.

Seven pieces of purple equipment could be sold for 2000 to 3000 gold coins.

After putting up the equipment for auction, Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate, summoned the red Hare, and rode it towards the ant Mountain Map.

When the players nearby saw Zhang Shan riding past on his Red Hare, they all revealed envious gazes.

“Holy sh * t, is this a Red Hare? He’s so handsome, the divine artifact boss is awesome.”

this Red Hare is running too fast. It’s only been a while and it’s already gone.

I’m going to work hard to kill monsters and reach level 30 as soon as possible. I’ll buy a horse to ride and run with my two legs. It’s so f * cking unpleasant.

Zhang Shan rode on the red hares, quickly passing one by one. For the players who were running, a 200% increase in movement speed was awesome.

After bidding farewell to the nonsense of running with two legs, Zhang Shan truly experienced the joy of the game. This was the game.

On the way, Zhang Shan even saw wind cloud blade and his gang gathering at the ant Mountain Map. Other than the two “f * ck “, nothing else could express their feelings. Hehe.

you guys run slowly. I’ll go to the ant Mountain Map to kill some monsters first.

that’s enough, six-barreled boss. You even said you’d kill some monsters first. Are you looking down on us two short legs? ”

“No, no, I just wanted to express a fact. I’m leaving, hehe.”

f * ck, it’s so sad to not have a Mount. We set off before him, and he can still go to the place to farm monsters first. This is too much.

” then hurry up and level up. when you reach level 30, won’t you have a horse to ride? ”

“Sigh, that’s true, but I’m really not happy.”

what’s even more unpleasant might be coming. Six-barreled boss ‘Red Hare was a reward from the system. If we go to the palace to buy a horse ourselves, I don’t think we can get such a good one, right? ”

f * ck, that’s completely possible. I wanted to work for a while and reach level 30 earlier. Now that you’ve said that, I’m no longer enthusiastic.

In just ten minutes, Zhang Shan had reached the ant Mountain Map.

Now that he had the red hares, running around the map was no longer a problem.

he entered the ant mountain map and found boss wu, who was still farming monsters there.

“Let’s go to the BOSS and farm for a while. We’ll wait for the others to come.”

“How long will it take them to arrive?”

“it should be about 20 minutes. i saw them on the way.”

Zhang Shan got off his horse and summoned his panda baby. He brought boss Wu and headed towards the location of the big golden ant.

With his current attack power, he could kill an army ant with two shots, and there would still be a lot of damage.

The demonized army ants only had 12000 HP, but he could now deal more than 8000 damage with one shot.

If he didn't have a critical hit, he wouldn't be able to kill the monster with one shot, but with two shots, the damage would exceed the target.

It was also a little troublesome to have too high an attack power. There were no suitable monsters to kill. If the monsters were too high in level, there would be a level suppression, which would affect his damage output.

The low-level ones weren't enough for him to shoot twice, and he couldn't kill them with one shot, so it was a little annoying.

Not only was Zhang Shan's attack power insanely high, but his attack speed was also very fast. Hand of maedas increased his attack speed by 50%.

Mad man's passive skill gave him a 20% bonus, and he also had two bracers, which also gave him a lot of bonus points. Moreover, his agility attribute was now over 1400.

The effect of the agility attribute on the attack speed had already been shown to a certain extent. Zhang Shan felt that even if he did not wear any equipment now, he would not be able to do so.

Their attack speed would also be faster than when they first entered the game. The advantage of an agile class in attack speed was slowly showing itself in the game.

This was to be expected. After all, agility-type jobs were not as tanky as strength-type jobs. Their skills were not as useful as theirs, and their survivability was even worse.

as for the intelligence-type, they completely relied on their skills to survive, and all kinds of fancy skills emerged one after another.

He was several streets ahead of the agility classes.

Of course, the attack speed of other classes also had a certain increase compared to the novice stage, but the increase was less than that of the agility class.

Bringing boss Wu along, Zhang Shan advanced quickly and soon reached the location of the big golden ant. After farming in the vicinity for a while, wind and cloud blade and the others also entered the ant Mountain Map.

stir-fry! These ant monsters have such high attack power.

“don’t talk nonsense, hurry up and farm.”

f * ck, it’s a good thing we have a lot of people. Otherwise, I’m afraid we wouldn’t have been able to reach the boss.

Seeing how slow they were moving forward, Zhang Shan was a little speechless. The big shots of this world were a little weak. He should go and pick them up.

“Let’s go and pick them up.” after zhang shan had finished speaking to boss wu, he turned back and refreshed the map.

Not long after, Zhang Shan met up with wind and cloud blade and the others.

“Where’s the big golden ant you mentioned? How come I didn’t see it?”

“Follow me, it’s not far ahead.”

Zhang Shan led the Panda baby in front to open up a path. Wave after wave of army ants were defeated by him, and very quickly, they arrived at the location of the big golden ant.

holy sh * t, this boss is so domineering. He’s wearing a full set of golden armor and he’s so handsome.

how can you say that you’re handsome? you’re clearly a female ant. You should be very beautiful.

“What do we do? do we just do it?”

“It’s just a small red BOSS, what’s the point of strategy? Six-barreled boss, let your panda baby go.”

Alright, these big bosses were getting smug. In their eyes, the red BOSS was just a small fry.

Chapter 134

Zhang Shan didn’t waste any time. After clearing the small monsters around the BOSS, he immediately called for the Panda baby to pull the BOSS.

The support quickly followed and healed the Panda baby. The others immediately joined in the attack.

“What the f * ck, is a level 40 BOSS that tanky? Why can I only deal a few hundred damage?”

it’s because of the level suppression. The BOSS is more than ten levels higher than us, so there’s a two-level suppression effect.

even if I suppressed two levels, the damage shouldn’t have been reduced so much. I have more than 2000 attack power.

“don’t ask. you’ll know when you see the boss’s attributes and skills. take your time. it’s a bit tiring.”

“F * ck, what’s going on? Let me see.”

After stabilizing the boss, Zhang Shan did not stop attacking. At the same time, he also checked the boss’s attributes and skills.

Demonized army ant queen (red): Level 40, attack 12000, HP 3000000, skill 1, Queen's attack, skill 2, status suppression, skill 3, ant power, skill 4, hatching.

[Queen's attack: when the demonized army ant queen casts this skill, damage is increased by 100%.]

[status suppression: the Queen ant is high and mighty. Damage dealt to it by normal attacks is reduced by 50%.]

[ant strength: greatly increases the Queen ant's attack power.]

[incubation: when in danger, the demonized army ant queen will hatch a large number of army ants to assist in battle.]

'So that's how it is. The ant Queen's status suppression skill is a bit shameless. It directly reduces damage by 50%.'

No wonder every time Zhang Shan attacked, he could only deal a little more than 4000 damage. He had more than 9000 attack power now.

In addition to his title as the nemesis of the demonic race, even if he could deal more than 10000 damage, it would still be reasonable. In the end, he could only deal around 4000 damage.

As for the other members of the party, they could only deal around 300 to 400 damage. They might be able to deal a little more damage when they used their powerful skills, but that was all.

"This BOSS is cheating! Reducing damage by 50%? Are you serious?"

it's alright. At least the BOSS's other skills aren't that strong. It's easy to deal with, but it'll take a little more time.

"Is this how you understand the BOSS" skills? you don't even care about that big move?"

what's there to be afraid of? at most, it's similar to the wolf King's big move, summoning hundreds or thousands of underlings to help him in battle.

" are you sure it'll only summon a few hundred monsters? i'm afraid the BOSS will summon thousands or even tens of thousands. " don't scare me. Do you think we can handle a few thousand soldiers? "

"Think about it, these are ants. It's not strange for a nest to have a few thousand of them, right?"

f * ck, you're right. But this is a game. You can't be like ants in reality.

who knows? let's fight quickly. We'll know when we're at half health.

The group of people stepped up their attacks. The boss had 30 million health. It would take a long time to fight it, even though Zhang Shan's attack power was very high.

His attack speed had also been greatly enhanced, but the boss's earth suppression skill had greatly reduced his damage.

Fortunately, the boss's other skills were not strong. Each hit on the Panda baby only dealt less than 20000 damage.

moreover, the attack frequency was not high, so there was no pressure at all with a group of support healing.

the key was to see how the boss 'ultimate skill worked. if the boss really summoned thousands of army ants at once, then it would be a big deal.

It wasn't that they couldn't defeat the boss, but that they would have to spend a lot of time clearing the small monsters. The boss already had a lot of health, and now that the damage was reduced by half, it would take a lot of time to clear out the small monsters.

It would probably take more than an hour to defeat this boss.

Feng Yun Qing Qing cast a curse on the boss, increasing the damage by 50% for five seconds. Zhang Shan quickly activated his berserk and fanaticism skills.

The bullets shot out rapidly, and one of them even dealt Holy damage, dealing 140000 damage in one hit. Holy damage ignored defense, and even damage reduction could not block it.

Zhang Shan's attack was over 9000, and with the curse effect, he had directly hit the maximum damage. The damage was off the charts.

f * ck, that's blinding my eyes. 140000 damage in one shot. The six-barreled boss is really a monster."

yeah, I think the divine weapon boss is the boss, and the ant queen is just a little cutie that's being trampled on.

" f * ck, what a heavy taste. can ants be cute? "

"F * ck, I'm just sighing, can you stop arguing? does your family run toll stations? He's a professional bicker."

The ant queen was a dummy monster. Other than her ultimate skill, she had no other skills that everyone was afraid of.

That was why everyone was happily attacking the BOSS while bragging in boredom.

" speak. we won't be able to use the equipment dropped by a level 40 BOSS for a while. it might take a month to get to level 30, let alone level 40. "

"Who said it wasn't?"

"Didn't you guys pay attention to the news from Heaven's Gate? Don't worry, I'll level up faster in the future, and the Monsters in Heaven's Gate map will give more experience."

"Really? I really didn't notice."

" i heard that the monsters there give double the experience points compared to normal maps. the only difference is that they're harder to fight, and the monsters have higher defense and are more tanky. "

" f * ck, then let's hurry up and kill the BOSS. i'm going to heaven's gate to farm monsters and level up. " you want to level up at heaven's gate? be careful not to get killed by someone. You'll lose a level and it'll take many days to level up again.

" what's there to be afraid of? if someone dies, i'll just lie on the ground and call for someone to resurrect me. at my current level, i won't do it even if i'm killed. i'll just resurrect in the city. i can't afford to lose a level. "

"Be careful of being spawn camped."

"i didn't offend anyone, who's going to guard my corpse?"

...

as everyone continued to attack, the BOSS's hp gradually decreased and finally, it was almost at half.

"Boss, are we still going to form a defensive formation like we did with the wolf King?"

" yes, prepare to deal with the BOSS's incubation skill. long-range professions, stay close to it. strength-type professions, guard the periphery. " sigh, I have to be a meat shield again. But the attack power of the Army is really high. I'm afraid I can't hold off a few monsters.

"It's okay. After you died, I'll be happy with a million families."

When the demonized army ant Queen's HP dropped to half, a large group of army ants suddenly appeared around the BOSS.

"F * ck, is this how the Queen ant hatches monsters to help it in battle? They're trying to protect it, right? there are so many monsters around the BOSS that they can't even lock onto it. "

"F * ck, we can't see the Panda baby anymore. We can't heal it."

Zhang Shan was also helpless. The Panda baby and the BOSS were surrounded by a large group of army ants, and the support had no way to heal it.

In fact, even if it could be added to its health, it wouldn't be able to keep up. The Panda baby could completely withstand the damage of a BOSS, but with the addition of such a large number of monsters, it could not recover.

How could it withstand this? not long after, the Panda baby directly fell to the ground.

Chapter 135 the generous ant queen

As soon as the Panda baby died, the scene immediately became chaotic.

The BOSS that no one could hold on to charged over with a group of underlings, and several strength-type players in the front row fell instantly.

It was a BOSS with 12000 attack power. Furthermore, the BOSS's skill could increase the damage by 100%.

in other words, each of the BOSS's skills could deal more than 20000 damage. even a guardian warrior would not be able to withstand two hits.

As for the other strength-type players, they were all killed in a second. Whoever the BOSS hit would be killed.

f * ck, six-barreled boss, quickly summon the Panda baby again. We can't hold on at all.

Zhang Shan quickly summoned his panda baby and fed it. However, he still had to wait for some time. After the pet died, its happiness level dropped drastically.

It had to be fed before they could continue to fight, which would take some time.

"You guys think of a way to hold on for a while, I'll feed you soon."

if there's a stun skill, cast it quickly. Try to stall the boss for a while and wait for six-barreled Bodhisattva's Panda baby to be fed.

After Feng Yun realm finished speaking, the thieves, archers, and ice mages on the battlefield continuously cast stun skills on the boss.

The game had been open for more than a month, and only these three classes had hard crowd control skills.

There were no other classes, and a warrior's charge could only slow down.

spellblades, hunters, fire mages, priests, and witch doctors didn't have stun skills.

In the future, when players pk-ed, it would not be easy to kill people. After all, if they did not stun them, it would be difficult.

It was very difficult to directly cut down people. If they couldn't win, they would run, unless they could kill them in a few seconds.

after being stunned and slowed down by their skills, they managed to stall the BOSS for a while.

After increasing the Panda baby's happiness and the support had filled up its health, Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda baby and went forward to pull the BOSS.

f * ck, that's dangerous. Pull up the people on the ground and quickly clear out the monsters.

While the others cleared the small monsters, Zhang Shan brought a group of support to continue attacking the BOSS.

He could not stop dealing damage to the BOSS. Otherwise, it would not be long before the boss 'health recovered. Then, he would not have fought for nothing.

Fortunately, although the ant Queen's incubation skill had caused them some chaos, the number of monsters that had been hatched was not as many as they had imagined.

There were only a few hundred of them. They weren't prepared just now, thinking that the incubation skill was the same as the wolf King's ultimate skill.

It had summoned a group of minions to attack, but the minions that the ant queen had summoned were all surrounding it.

The Panda baby, who was tanking the boss, died in an instant. It was only because no one was tanking the boss that it caused chaos.

in fact, as long as they were prepared, this skill was not difficult to deal with. they just had to prepare a few sub-tanks and when the main tank fell, the sub-tanks would hold the boss back for a while.

Although the current Guardian Warriors could only withstand the ant Queen's damage twice, it would only take three or four of them to survive.

He could wait for Zhang Shan to summon the Panda baby again and feed it.

"f * ck, it's so scary to fight a boss and destroy a tower. a boss with no one to tank is so scary."

it's okay. Clear the small monsters quickly. We don't have to be afraid of them if we're prepared.

that's true. This BOSS is actually very easy to fight. I just didn't know what the BOSS's ultimate skill would do, so I made a mistake.

Feng Yun realm and the others spent five to six minutes clearing out all the small monsters before attacking the BOSS again.

The rest was simple. They just had to get a few Warriors ready to watch from the side if the BOSS used a big move.

When the Panda baby died, they took turns to pull the BOSS. Each of them held the BOSS for two seconds, easily dragging it out until Zhang Shan's Panda baby came up again to take it on.

haha, the BOSS is about to die. I think the Queen ant will drop something good for us.

it's very possible. The ant Queen's body is shining with golden light. It's obvious that she's a BOSS with good stuff.

"i'll drop a golden armor for you, do you want it?"

that's not bad. Even if it doesn't add any attributes, i'll still want it. He's so handsome. I can just pretend to be handsome.

"let's choose one for six-barreled bodhisattva this time. he was the one who found the boss, and without him, we wouldn't have been able to defeat the BOSS."

Feng Yun realm discussed with the others.

"sure, brother divine weapon. if there's anything you can't use, you have to sell it to me."

"Don't worry, even if it drops a divine artifact, i'll sell it to you if I can't use it, hehe."

"f*ck, a divine weapon? it's so far away. the game has been on for so long, but i haven't seen a second divine weapon. how can i get a divine weapon?"

"When you get your hands on the divine artifact mission item, you won't be far from the divine artifact."

"Where are we going to get a divine artifact?"

I don't know about that. I got that pipe from killing small monsters.

I wonder when I'll be able to get lucky and get a God-tier quest item from killing monsters.

"Go to bed early tonight. You can dream about everything."

Very quickly, the BOSS's health was reduced to zero. Zhang Shan carefully estimated the final amount of health.

When the boss only had 1% of its health left, its health bar was empty, which meant that it had 3000000 health left.

Zhang Shan wanted to control the Panda baby to make the last attack. The Panda baby's 10 points of luck had a big impact on the drop rate of items.

However, the last 1% of his health bar was gone, and it was a little difficult to control the timing of his attack.

He could only rely on him to estimate everyone's damage. Looking for the right time, Zhang Shan controlled the baby panda to release a combo skill.

A 7-hit combo directly killed the boss.

[system notification: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and Feng Yun single blade for successfully killing the demonized queen ant.]

Skill point +1, medal +100.

His luck wasn't bad. He had calculated correctly this time. He just didn't know what the drops would be like. This was the first kill of a boss, so it shouldn't be too bad.

hurry up and open the equipment. I don't want the divine weapon anymore. Give me a skill book. I still have skill points that I haven't used yet.

even if the skill book drops, it's not yours. Six-barreled boss, go first. You'll be so angry.

"bitch, i don't want to talk to you."

Feng Yun realm displayed the drops.

there were three red and one purple equipment, one red material, and two skill books.

f*ck, what a big harvest! It actually dropped two skill books.

the skill book is amazing, but that purple equipment is a Cape. A purple cape is so rare.

f * ck, there's really a purple cloak. I don't think there are more than ten purple cloaks in the entire game.

you're thinking too much. There are ten of them. Other than the one that brother artifact has, I've only heard of one player in the state of Qin who got one.

yeah, there shouldn't be more than ten. Even if there are players who didn't say anything after obtaining the purple capes, there shouldn't be more than a few.

"Ah, a purple cape is so rare."

it's a pity that this Cape is level 40 equipment. Maybe in another two or three months, no player will be able to equip it.

it's okay if you don't equip it. This cloak can add 60000 HP at most. You can save it until you're level 40 and wear it.

"the ant queen is so generous. why don't we come here every few days? maybe we can fight a few more times."

it's a pity that this place is too far away. Without a horse, a trip would take too much time. If we can't find the boss after a few rounds, it would be a waste.

I'll run. I'll run back here every few days in the future.

After seeing the ant Queen's loot, Zhang Shan was tempted. This boss was so generous. He would try to fight it a few more times.

he didn't need to spend too much time running over anyway. in addition to searching the entire map, it would take less than an hour.

As long as they could find the boss, they would make a huge profit.

Chapter 136 The cloak of the ant queen

"Brother artifact, which one do you want? they are all good stuff. Hehe."

how could that be? divine weapon bro would definitely choose a Cape. Where can I find a purple cape?

" no matter how good the cloak is, you still need to be level 40 to equip it. the skill book is so good that you can sell it for a high price. you can just buy any equipment you want. "

stop talking. Both skill books are for Warriors. Why would godly equipment bro choose them? " of the two skill books, one was for berserkers, berserker's wrath. One had dropped when they were fighting the Wolf King.

It was rolled away by Windcloud blade, and it was an extremely impressive skill book. Even though the price of skill books had dropped by a lot, this book should still be able to sell for millions of gold coins.

The other skill was the Guardian's block. It had a 2% chance to block damage for 10 seconds and a 1-minute cooldown.

After maxing out the skill level, the blocking rate should be increased to 20%, which was a very practical skill.

The duration was decent as well, lasting for 10 seconds with a cooldown of 1 minute.

The key was that this block skill could block all damage, which meant that it could even block the damage from a high-level skill.

As long as one's luck was good enough, there was a 20% chance of triggering it, and the possibility of successfully activating block was very high.

the two skill books were very practical and rare, and they were very valuable.

However, to Zhang Shan, the purple cloak was still better. It added 68000 HP, which was very strong.

The only downside was that this cloak could only be equipped when one was level 40.

he had just reached level 30. even if his leveling speed was much faster than others, it would still take a long time to reach level 40.

I'll choose the cloak. I'm afraid I won't be able to buy a purple cloak in the future even if I want to, so I'd better prepare it first. He hoped that the Heaven's Gate map could really speed up his leveling.

"Choose the cloak." Zhang Shan said to Feng Yun realm.

"Alright," he said.

Feng Yun realm gave the purple cape to Zhang Shan.

[Queen's Cape (purple): level 40, increases HP by 68000]

"haha, godly equipment bro has indeed chosen the cape. hurry up and roll for the berserker's wrath. i've been waiting for this skill book for a long time."

alright, let's roll for the Berserker's wrath first. All Berserkers will roll for it together.

boss, one blade, don't roll anymore. He already has this skill.

"Why can't I roll? am I not a Berserker? So what if you've learned it? let's have another one, hehe."

Feng Yun realm thought for a moment before saying,

"How about this, let's set up a rule. If the same item appears again, the item obtained through the team can not participate in the roll. If you obtain it yourself, for example, if you spend your own money to buy it, you can still participate in the roll."

"Why are you guys so easily teased? I was just joking. How could I really snatch it from you?"

Feng Yun realm activated the Berserker's wrath and rolled the dice. Seven to eight Berserkers rolled their dice one after another.

"Haha, I got 91 points. The skill book is mine."

thousand miles on a single horse, this guy who had joined the wind and cloud guild together with zhang shan from the novice village. every time they were fighting a BOSS, they would come over to join in the fun.

Like Zhang Shan, they didn't spend much money. The only difference between them was that Zhang Shan had a set of good equipment.

Not only did Zhang Shan not spend any money on the game, he had even earned quite a bit.

As for making money, he had not yet. However, as long as he continued to follow them, it would not be a problem to make a small amount of money.

Although he was a solo player and was just a hooligan, no one criticized him because every time he fought a boss or cleared an instance dungeon, he would be a hooligan.

Zhang Shan's performance was too outstanding, to the extent that the others were all slackers. No one could say who was better, but they were all the same.

f * ck, I'm just short of two points. It's a pity that I don't have a chance to use the skill points that I've been saving up for so long.

hehe, brother, don't worry. It might drop again next time.

how can such a good skill book drop so easily? we're already very lucky to have two of them.

that's right. The two times that this skill book was dropped, it was the first clear of a red boss. Let's take it slow, there will be some.

Next, they rolled for the Guardian's block. It seemed like there was no need to roll for this as the entire party had two guardians.

As Zhang Shan's Panda baby was tanking the boss, The Guardian was completely useless. Feng Yun realm brought two people along to prevent any accidents.

However, he did not bring any more.

"brother, it's just the two of us. why don't we play rock-paper-scissors? hehe."

Feng Yun's little Secretary said to the other Guardian.

I'm not guessing. I'm afraid you'll cheat. I still believe in the system's rolling settings.

"F * ck, our friendship is over."

The two of them rolled, one 17 points and the other 35 points. Both of them had terrible luck.

If it wasn't for the fact that only the two of them were involved in the roll, they wouldn't have had anything to do.

“Hehe, isn’t this still mine? I didn’t cheat, did I?”

Secretary Feng Yun took the skill book and learned it directly.

I’ve already saved up nine skill points, and now I can finally put them to good use. I’ll be able to tank bosses in the future too, and I’ll be able to prove my worth as a Guardian.

come on, with your luck, even if there’s a 20% chance, you still won’t be able to activate block.

“F * ck, who are they looking down on?”

I just don’t like you. Just be your Deputy tank. Brother artifact’s Panda baby is more reliable.

yeah, a meat shield like you is far too weak. You’re not as good as a beast.

feng yun’s little secretary:

Out of the three red equipment, two of them were strength type, and the other one was a Taoist’s magic sword. Zhang Shan had no say in the equipment, and the others rolled.

Mr. Wu’s luck was so good that he rolled for the red Magic sword with 100 points.

“F * ck, big brother carrying a saber, have you been hanging out with brother divine weapon for too long that you’ve also gotten some of his luck? You can even roll 100 points.”

“I’m lucky, hehe.”

big brother carrying a saber, how much luck do you have? ”

“Nine O ‘clock,”

” f * ck, does your luck have 9 points? ”

Zhang Shan had not asked boss Wu about his luck before. Anyway, they did not rely on him to fight monsters. The level of luck would not be of much use to their gains from fighting monsters.

Who would have thought that he would also have 9 points of luck, the same as Zhang Shan. This was amazing.

f * ck, when you two registered your characters, did you two have some sort of trick? why did you both get 9 points of luck? ” sigh, thinking of my 4 points of luck, I had to spend a few hours taming the small wild wolves. I’m so envious of your high luck.

The wind Cloud Cannon ridiculed from the side.

Initially, in order for him to tame the little wild wolf, Zhang Shan and Feng Ling had accompanied him for a long time. Speaking of which, his four points of luck were really trash.

alright, enough with the nonsense. Let's quickly roll for the materials. After we're done, I still have to go to Heaven's Gate to kill people.

50 people rolled the red material together. Zhang Shan casually rolled the die, 99 points.

f * ck, brother divine weapon is too much. I'm in despair. Am I still going to roll the dice? "

"Go ahead. What if you roll a hundred points?"

I don't dare to think about it. I've played for so long, but I've never seen anyone roll 100 points.

After everyone had rolled their dice, Zhang Shan's points were still the highest. Feng Yun realm allocated the red material to him.

He had gained a lot from this boss battle. He had obtained a purple cloak as a material, and boss Wu had also gotten a weapon.

He was very lucky.

Chapter 137 Heaven's Gate

After the equipment was distributed, it was time to consider going to Heaven's Gate.

The other side was currently in a heated battle. The players from the seven countries were fighting furiously. Zhang Shan did not want to go and kill them.

Killing people was a waste of time. Although killing one would sometimes drop some items, they were not red-named.

The chances of dropping items were not very high.

He wasn't interested in killing people, but the monsters at heaven's gate gave much more experience than the monsters in normal maps.

Furthermore, there were bosses in the Heaven's Gate map that he could fight. If he didn't go and fight them now, he would be letting him down. He had just changed into a set of level 30 red equipment.

As for whether he would be killed by others, there was no need to consider this problem. As long as he was careful, who would kill him?

With an attack power of over 9000, who could rush to his side? if he didn't bully others, they would have to thank the gods.

"Does anyone want to go to Heaven's Gate to kill people?"

Windcloud blade asked in the party channel.

let's not go. They're in a mess over there. Their brains are all damaged. If we go, we'll just be giving away a level.

f * ck, what are you afraid of? if you die, just lie on the ground and wait for help. The experience points of the monsters at heaven's gate are very high.

no matter how high the experience is, it's useless. I can't farm monsters in peace. What's the use? "

"Oh my God, you're not going to such a lively event? Boss, let's go over and do it together?"

"Not now, it's too chaotic there. We'll talk about it after a few days when it's more peaceful. If you want to go, you can group up a few people and have some fun."

"Alright, brother Liu Guan, are you guys going?"

"Go, go over there and take a look. Kill some monsters, fight some bosses, and so on."

Zhang Shan did not care about the chaos at heaven's gate at all. He was only there to kill monsters and fight the BOSS. What did the chaos have to do with him?

brother six steward, you're awesome. You're still thinking of farming monsters and fighting bosses. Will big brother saber be coming with you? "

of course I'm going. I'm with six-headed Bodhisattva. If he's gone, I can't kill the monsters alone.

that's good. The three of us are enough. We have support and damage output. We can kill any foreign player we don't like, hehe.

After the BOSS was defeated, the others scattered to other places to farm monsters. Zhang Shan, boss Wu, and Windcloud blade started channeling to return to the city.

To get to The Map of Heaven's Gate, one had to take the teleportation formation in the city. Even though, in theory, all maps were connected.

He could run to any map in the game on his two legs, but the distance would definitely make people despair.

Not to mention, there were many high-level monster maps along the way, and there were even places where they might have to pass through Max-level monster maps.

Currently, no player could run across it.

after returning to dangyang city, zhang shan asked boss wu, "

"you still have skill points left, right?"

yes, I still have three skill points. I've been fighting bosses with you guys recently and got a few skill points. I'm still saving them, but I don't know what skills I should learn for now.

let's learn a resurrection skill. It's not interesting if you don't know how to use the resurrection skill.

alright, wait for me. I'll go to the auction house first and buy a resurrection skill book.

The last time they got a skill book together, it was sold for 150 million, and boss Wu got half of it.

buying a skill book was a piece of cake, even though resurrection was a very useful skill book.

Among all the skill books, it was one of the more expensive ones. However, boss Wu could still afford it.

let's form a party and meet at the teleportation Hall. I still have to repair my equipment.

after saying so, windcloud blade teleported away.

The durability of the equipment of the melee classes dropped faster, and they had to be repaired once a day. Zhang Shan, on the other hand, did not need to repair his equipment.

When he was farming monsters, the monsters basically couldn't hit him, and his durability dropped very slowly.

He looked at his backpack. He didn't buy any supplies, but he had enough pet food and a frightening amount of bullets.

Previously, when he was leveling up his engineering proficiency, he had created a large number of ordinary bullets. He estimated that he would not be able to use them all in two to three months.

after zhang shan stored the items that he had no use for in the warehouse, he teleported to the teleportation hall.

Not long after, wind and cloud blade and boss Wu teleported over one after another.

"Let's go to Heaven's Gate to kill some people."

brother one blade, we're mainly going there to farm monsters. Don't cause trouble.

come on, even if you don't provoke others, others will still provoke you. If you want to farm monsters, you have to kill them first.

"Alright, let's teleport over first."

The three of them arrived at The Map of Heaven's Gate.

Heaven's Gate was also a huge city. According to the game's background introduction, this was the front line where the humans resisted the demons' attack.

The impregnable pass was built between two mountain peaks, with only one entrance and one exit. This was the so-called Heaven's Gate map.

In reality, they were going out from the gates of heaven's Gate, to the demon camp outside the impregnable pass.

Zhang Shan and the rest walked out of Heaven's Gate's teleportation Hall and saw players from all over the world outside. They all had purple character names above their heads.

Of course, there were also many players in Chu State.

Heaven's Gate's regional chat channel was also flooded with messages. Anyway, it didn't cost money to send messages in the regional channel.

"Players from the great Qin State, come and form a party to kill the foreign dogs."

"Dragon slaying saber heaven and earth, so what if you have more people? you even dared to guard the city gate and kill people. now you're comfortable lying down, right?"

damn Chu dogs, Qi country people, come over and guard the corpses together. Guard them for an hour until their levels drop.

you're really trash. You dare to guard the city gate on a public map? do you think you're aotian? "

"Are there any brothers from Chu? come and save me!"

What the f * ck, what was going on? they had just arrived and they were already being targeted? People like the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber were really good at drawing hatred.

Now, the players of Chu State were all targeted.

"What should we do? can we still leave the city? Don't get chased by hundreds of people the moment you go out."

Although Windcloud blade was a PvP fanatic, he saw that the other players were all targeting the Chu players in the chat channel.

They were also a little scared. No matter how good their Kung Fu was, they were still afraid of a knife. There were only three of them. If there were hundreds of people guarding outside, they would be afraid.

They couldn't possibly fight against hundreds of people with just three of them.

"don't worry, even if they target the players of chu, it's fine. it's impossible for the players of all countries to really unite."

that's right. The other six countries can't even be considered as allies. It's already good enough that they don't stab us in the back. How can they really work together to target the players of Chu? " that's true. The seven nations in the game can attack each other at will. If they're not from the same nation, who would trust each other? "

who cares? let's go out. I'll open the way. You guys pay attention to protect my surroundings. If you see players from other countries, kill them. We'll talk after we get out.

zhang shan summoned his panda baby and brought wind cloud blade and boss wu out of the city.

heaven's gate didn't allow teleportation, so they could only run in the city. fortunately, the teleportation hall wasn't too far from the city gate.

He could run there in a minute or two.

Chapter 138-a tiger in a flock of sheep zhang shan led the way, and the three of them jogged all the way. very quickly, they reached the city gate.

not far away from the city gate, a group of qi players were scattered and guarding the surroundings. dragon slaying saber heaven and earth and the others were lying on the ground, waiting for their teammates to come and revive.

after level 25, every level up was extremely difficult. unless there was no other way, no one was willing to resurrect in the city.

They would lose one level when they resurrected in the city, and they would have to farm for a few days before they could level up again.

Zhang Shan took a look at the situation outside the city. He did not care much about it.

in fact, there were less than 300 to 500 people. he could just go around them. after all, the terrain of heaven's gate was very complicated.

He just had to take a slight detour.

"Ignore them. Let's go around them."

Zhang Shan brought wind and cloud blade and planned to quickly go around the side.

f * ck, more Chu dogs are coming. Brothers, let's go and cut them down.

wait a minute, that seems to be six-barreled Bodhisattva, the one with the divine weapon. Should we just ignore them?"

"What's a divine weapon? they only have three people, and we have hundreds of people. let's attack together and kill them."

Zhang Shan did not intend to argue with them, even though there was a possibility of dropping items after killing players.

However, to be honest, Zhang Shan really did not care for them. With their little items, other than red equipment, the other equipment would at most be sold for a few thousand gold.

What use could that little gold coin be?

Although Zhang Shan did not want to cause any trouble, the other party did not want to let them off. So, there was no need to be polite with them.

Speaking of which, this was the first time he had killed players from another country.

he saw the qi players in the distance rushing towards zhang shan. they no longer guarded the heaven and earth dragon slaying saber corpse.

get ready. Brother Yidao, you guys just stay by my side. Just focus on protecting me. There's no need to rush up.

that goes without saying. There are a few hundred of them. How would I dare to charge forward? they can cut me into pieces with a single blade.

Initially, Zhang Shan had planned to take a detour. Since the Chu players did not allow him to leave, he would clear them out before leaving. It would be the same.

Without waiting for them to rush forward, Zhang Shan led wind cloud blade and the others and charged forward. Charging at each other, who was afraid of who?

Very quickly, the Qi players were within Zhang Shan's firing range.

Zhang Shan stopped in his tracks. The musket in his hand fired out one bullet after another. The Qi Kingdom players who were charging at the front were basically all Warriors.

However, against Zhang Shan's attack power of more than 9000, they were still knocked down in two or three shots.

In front of Zhang Shan, there was no meat shield. They were all trash.

f * ck, what's going on? I have more than 20000 HP, how did I die in three shots? " the divine weapon's attack power is so f * cking high. The damage is so terrifying. One shot is eight to nine thousand.

what's there to be afraid of? let's charge together. No matter how powerful six-barreled Bodhisattva is, there are only three of us. We have hundreds of people here. Even if we just stand there and let him attack us, we'll still need a few minutes.

brothers, don't be afraid. Let's continue.

More and more Qi Kingdom players were rushing towards them, and some of the long-range professions could already attack them.

F * ck, if I don't show you guys what I'm capable of, you won't know why the flowers are so red, right?

zhang shan activated his fanatic skill, increasing his attack speed by 100% for six seconds.

After activating the fanatic skill, the musket in his hands seemed to have become a machine gun, and a large number of bullets shot out.

In an instant, a large number of Qi players who were charging at the front were knocked down.

His attack speed was already very fast, and he could basically fire three shots in two seconds. After activating fanaticism, his attack speed became even faster.

The Qi Kingdom's charging momentum was stopped.

After charging twice and dozens of them were beaten down by Zhang Shan, the Qi players could not hold it in any longer.

this group of people were not from the same guild. they were just a group of people who had temporarily gathered at heaven's gate.

There was no unity to speak of. It was fine if they fought a favorable battle, but once they encountered a disadvantageous situation, they would immediately become a pile of loose sand.

While the Qi players were still hesitating whether to continue charging forward, Zhang Shan did not give them any time to consider.

He rushed forward with the Panda baby, while wind and cloud blade and boss Wu followed closely behind him.

Since they had already started fighting, there was no need to be polite. He would kill this group of Qi players first.

Zhang Shan was like a tiger among a flock of sheep. He directly charged into the middle of the group of Qi players, and his bullets were fired continuously.

“F * ck you, six-barreled Bodhisattva, don’t go too far.”

“You’re the only ones allowed to hack at others, but you’re not allowed to be hacked at.”

Zhang Shan did not care about them. He would take advantage of their chaotic formation and kill them first. After all, they were not players from the same camp.

No matter how many he cut, he would not be red-named.

zhang shan rushed into the crowd and killed in all directions. the situation was reversed in an instant. the qi players, who had been extremely arrogant just now, scattered and fled.

wind and cloud blade was no longer by zhang shan’s side. the other side could no longer organize a decent offensive.

He scurried around like a rabbit. How could he let go of such a good opportunity to kill people?

he caught up with a qi player, used charge, and two-blade stream, and killed one with one slash.

Zhang Shan continued to chase after the Qi players and cut them down one by one. He cut down those with purple names.

He even accidentally killed a few players from other countries who were passing by.

Zhang Shan did not have the time to distinguish. As long as he saw purple names, he would cut them. As for whether it was Qi country or other countries, he did not care.

Anyway, there was no difference. In The Map of Heaven’s Gate, except for the players of Chu, everyone else was an enemy. It was not wrong to kill them.

zhang shan chased after the group of qi players. after two or three minutes of slashing, only the three of them were left in the vicinity. they were not standing, and the ground was covered with corpses.

Zhang Shan did not know how many people he had cut down just now. There were at least a hundred people.

As for the others who had fled too quickly, Zhang Shan did not continue to pursue them. The Map of Heaven’s Gate was different from other maps.

The terrain was very complex, with mountains and forests everywhere. After a slight detour, they would not be able to see anyone.

Windcloud blade ran over, still not satisfied, and said, ”

“It’s still better to kill people from a distance. I’m a warrior, but I can’t kill anyone when charge is on cooldown. I’m running too fast.”

“Then how many did you just cut down?” Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

I didn’t cut down many. The charge skill’s cooldown is one minute. I only charged three times in total, so I just cut down three people.

not bad, brother one blade. You can take down one after another with charge.

there’s no sense of achievement. These players are just relying on their numbers. Their equipment is not good, and they can’t take a beating. They just rush up and take a few hits.

f * ck, brother six-eyed, don’t make fun of me. You killed hundreds of people by yourself, but I only killed three. Sigh, my equipment isn’t bad either, but why do I still feel so weak? ”

“You’ll be stronger when you reach level 30.”

it’s still too early to level up to level 30. Let’s not talk about it anymore. Let’s pick up the equipment that was dropped on the ground. Although they’re all trash, they’re still worth some money.

Zhang Shan and the rest split up and picked up the items that had fallen on the ground.

The Qi players who had dropped items lay on the ground, watching Zhang Shan and the others pick up the items.

He was cursing non-stop, but Zhang Shan did not care about them.

Who asked them to court death? Zhang Shan had originally wanted to take a detour, but he refused. Then, he could not be blamed.

If he didn’t pick up the things that had fallen on the ground, was he supposed to return them? he was already being kind by not guarding the corpse.

Chapter 139-when things are done, leave

After picking up the items on the ground, Zhang Shan brought wind cloud blade and boss Wu and left, heading towards The Map of Heaven’s Gate.

As for the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber and his gang lying on the ground, Zhang Shan could not care less. There was still a huge grudge between them.

If not for the group of Qi players looking for trouble, Zhang Shan would not have helped them.

Now, it was great. Zhang Shan had helped them along the way. As long as his teammates were fast enough, there was still a chance to pull them up.

It saved him a level of experience.

Zhang Shan and the rest ran towards the interior of the Heaven's Gate.

Their goal here was to kill monsters and fight bosses. Killing people was just a side goal. If they were not blocked, Zhang Shan would not even bother with them.

After Zhang Shan and the others left, the Qi players and the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber who were lying on the ground were slowly pulled up by their teammates.

As the chaotic battle had taken place at the city gate of Heaven's Gate, many other players had seen it.

The reputation of the divine weapon boss once again shocked the whole new world.

The world Channel:

there was an earth-shattering battle at heaven's gate just now. The divine weapon boss fought against hundreds of people alone and killed the players of Qi state.

f * ck, bro, you're exaggerating. How can one person chase after hundreds of people and kill them? even if there are hundreds of pigs, it's not that easy to deal with.

it's not an exaggeration at all. Many people saw it. Hundreds of Qi players were blocking the city gate. The boss of the divine weapon happened to pass by and didn't let them go. As a result, they started fighting. The boss of the divine weapon was like a tiger among a flock of sheep, and he instantly crushed hundreds of people.

"F * ck, why can't I believe it? it's like I'm listening to a heavenly book."

the person above is exaggerating. The boss of the divine artifact isn't alone. There are three of them.

"Can the other two be counted? A Berserker who can't catch up to people and a Daoist priest who just plays a supporting role the whole time."

it's true. I saw it too. The divine weapon boss's attack power is terrifyingly high. One shot can deal 8000 to 9000 damage. The brittleskin can be killed in one shot, and the meat shield can only be killed two or three times. It's like cutting melons and vegetables. Hundreds of people are scattered and running away.

sob, sob, sob. I was also killed by the divine weapon boss when I passed by just now. I was unjustly implicated.

"f * ck, are you serious about 9000 damage? How did the six-barreled Bodhisattva increase his attack power?"

I don't know. Looking at the equipment list, the divine weapon adds 4000 attack power. The other 5000 attack power, I wonder how he got it? "

f * ck, a level 30 accessory only adds a few hundred attack power. With the main attribute, how could it have more than 9000 attack power? "

it's really puzzling, but that's the truth. Maybe the divine weapon boss still has some awesome skills, the kind that increases attack power.

“Could it be that the Hunter profession also has a skill like the heart of the fire? Increase damage by 50%?”

“who knows? anyway, six-barreled bodhisattva won’t tell us. we’ll know when we get a skill book in the future.”

As Zhang Shan was running, he saw the comments in the world Channel.

It had to be said that these players really knew how to imagine. However, even if they were beaten to death, they would never have thought of Zhang Shan’s passive King talent.

Zhang Shan’s attack power, other than the God equipment and other equipment, mainly relied on two passive skills, each with an additional 10%.

With his current attack power, a 20% increase was a huge number.

it was equivalent to having two more pieces of damage-dealing equipment than the others.

After Zhang Shan and the rest ran for a while, they saw a group of wild monsters.

“Are we just going to farm monsters here?” boss wu asked him.

let’s find another place. This place is too close to the main road. I’m afraid there are always players from other countries who come to harass us.

Before Zhang Shan could decide, wind and cloud blade said from the side.

“Then let’s find another place.”

Speaking of which, The Map of Heaven’s Gate was really huge, to the point of being exaggerated.

zhang shan made an estimation based on the scale on the mini-map.

Even if he were to ride on the red Hare, if he wanted to run from one end of the map to the other, even if he didn’t stop in the middle, it would probably take several days.

However, it was normal for the map to be a little bigger. After all, Heaven’s Gate was a public map.

There were so many players in the New World, and it was possible for them to come here. If the map wasn’t big enough, there probably wouldn’t even be enough space for so many people to stand on.

Not to mention, he still had to kill monsters to level up.

The map was big enough to accommodate so many players.

However, there was still a flaw in Heaven’s Gate’s map setting. All players could only exit from one city gate.

No matter where you wanted to go on The Map of Heaven’s Gate, you had to be teleported to Heaven’s Gate first and then leave through the city gate.

In the later stages, when more and more players came to the Heaven’s Gate map, Zhang Shan was a little suspicious. Would the city gate be blocked by the flow of people?

He wondered if the game designers of the New World had arranged other settings that could solve this problem.

Zhang Shan and the rest followed the minimap and looked for other groups of monsters nearby, hoping to find a safer place to farm monsters.

Otherwise, if players from other countries kept coming to harass them, how could they farm monsters and level up?

Not long after, they found another group of monsters far away from the main road.

let's just farm here. Even if some players see us, it's fine. Normal players won't dare to mess with us.

alright, let's farm here. If we really encounter players who are specifically targeting us, we won't be able to farm anywhere. This position is not bad, it's convenient to advance and retreat.

There just happened to be a long and narrow entrance here. As long as this entrance was blocked, no matter how many people there were, they would not be able to break in.

Only three to five people could enter at the entrance, and they had to enter side by side at the same time. If there were not many people who came to cause trouble, they would not be a problem at all. Zhang Shan would be able to settle it with a few shots.

If there were more people, and Zhang Shan blocked the entrance, no matter how many people there were, they would not be able to get past his firing range.

After all, only three to five people could enter at the same time. If they rushed in, they would just be delivering food to him.

Since he had found a good place, he might as well start farming.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to move forward, while he himself also fired his gun and attacked non-stop. Wind and cloud blade picked up his axe and followed behind the Panda baby to kill monsters.

With the Panda baby tanking the monsters, he could save some of his equipment durability. He didn't have to worry about the monsters hitting him, so he just had to focus on attacking.

One slash after another was used with the horizontal sweep skill. The wind and cloud slash could attack all the monsters in front of it at the same time.

If it was not for the fact that his attack power and attack speed were slightly worse, his efficiency in killing monsters would not be any worse than Zhang Shan's.

it was great to have an aoe skill.

Currently, in new world, many classes had AoE skills. For the time being, only hunters, thieves, and supports had not had AoE skills.

Zhang Shan could only fight the monsters one by one, while the others could kill a group of them at a time, even though group attack skills had a cooldown.

However, the cooldown time wasn't too long. After the skill points were maxed out, it only had a cooldown of a few seconds. It was very useful when killing monsters.

Chapter 140 Holy demon's protection

The Panda baby went to the front, and the three of them followed behind to kill the monsters. Boss Wu only needed to occasionally heal the Panda baby.

After all, they were just small monsters, so they didn't deal much damage to the Panda baby.

Although boss Wu's attack power was weak, he could still deal some damage. Moreover, the monsters here were only level 35 elite warriors.

There was basically no level suppression effect on them.

of course, even though the level 35 monsters did not have any level suppression on them, the monsters at heaven's gate were much harder to kill than the monsters in normal maps.

damn, why are these monsters 'defense so high? I can't even cut them.

With every sweep of wind and cloud blade, the HP that each monster lost was less than 1000.

He had over 2000 attack power. Even without the level suppression, his damage had been reduced by more than half. It was unbelievable.

look at the attributes of these monsters. They have an outrageous status skill compared to the ones we farmed in other maps.

"No way, let me see."

Zhang Shan checked the monster's attributes:

[demon elite warrior: level 35, attack 1000, HP 9200, skill, chop, status, Holy demon's protection]

[chop: increases damage by 200 points.]

[Holy demon's protection: a protection state that the Holy demon gives to invading demon Warriors, reducing damage by 50%. Will lose its effect after passing Heaven's Gate.]

this Holy demon's protection is really f * cking awesome. It directly reduces damage by 50%. No wonder we're fighting so hard.

This Holy demon's protection didn't have any effect after demons passed Heaven's Gate. No wonder they hadn't encountered any demons in this state before.

It should be a special status skill only for the monsters in the sky Gate map.

what's a Holy demon? why can it give all the demon Warriors such an outrageous status? "

Windcloud blade asked in confusion.

“Those stronger than demon gods are called Holy demons.”

When Zhang Shan was in the East Capital, Master Lu had told him that the true threat to the human race was the Holy fiend.

As for the nine great demonic gods, they weren't too strong for the entire human race. The Emperor of the East and Grand Preceptor Jiang of the West capital could easily exterminate them.

However, there was no point in killing the nine demon gods because of the demon race's deity position. Soon, a new demon would inherit the deity position and become the new Demon God.

that was why the emperor and grand preceptor jiang did not eliminate the nine fiendcelestials.

“Holy F * ck, are there even stronger Holy demons above Demon God? Why are the demons so strong while the humans are so weak?”

the human race also has Saints, but these can only be considered as the background of the game. They shouldn't appear.

Zhang Shan was not too sure about the settings of the Holy demons and Saints, so Master Lu did not tell him much.

however, zhang shan felt that those at that level would not appear so easily, at least not in the current version.

Unless the game entered the later stages and there was a new version update, these elements would probably be added.

To the current players, defeating a Demon God was still a long way off, so they should forget about Holy demon.

this game is getting more and more interesting. It turns out that there are still Holy demons above demon gods.

Although the monsters at heaven's gate had the Holy demon's protection, they were much more difficult to fight than the monsters in other maps.

However, the experience it gave was also a lot. The experience from a level 35 monster was much more than the experience from a level 40 army ant.

With the three of them farming together, Zhang Shan could get more than 200 experience from each monster, and leveling up was a pleasure.

However, why were there only small monsters here? didn't they say that there were many bosses in Heaven's Gate?

“Didn't they say that there were many bosses at heaven's gate? Why didn't we see a single one of them?”

zhang shan asked, puzzled. he still wanted to find some bosses to fight, since leveling up was very slow now.

It was better to fight bosses, get some equipment, and sell them for some money.

I heard that there are many bosses, but you have to know that Heaven's Gate is a public map. There are so many players there. Others may be lucky enough to encounter them, but that doesn't mean that we will be able to encounter them.

"You're right, we just arrived and only encountered a few groups of monsters. It's normal that we didn't see the boss. Pay attention to the regional chat channel and see if anyone else has discovered the boss. We'll go and take it out when the time comes."

"F * ck, brother six steward, are you trying to steal someone else's boss? We only have three people."

"They're all players from other factions, so it'd be a waste not to fight for them."

"Alright, you're ruthless."

Of course, Zhang Shan was just saying it casually. If one wanted to snatch the BOSS, one had to look at the opportunity and be close to it.

If they were too far away, by the time they got there, the others would have already finished fighting.

They also had to know the strength of the others. If they were a large group of players, they would not be able to snatch the BOSS.

If you wanted to fight a BOSS, you had to rely on yourself. Snatching other people's bosses depended on fate.

Zhang Shan and the rest continued to farm here for two to three hours. Occasionally, players from other countries would find this place.

However, when he saw that Zhang Shan and the rest had already occupied the place and were farming monsters, he did not stay any longer and left immediately.

Although there were many players in the game who liked to cause trouble, most of them still focused on killing monsters and bosses.

If there was no direct conflict of interest, not everyone would stoop so low as to slash at anyone they saw.

After all, there were only a few cheap people.

sigh, it's so boring to just farm monsters. Although the experience here is much higher, there's no one to kill. It's so boring.

Windcloud blade said smugly as he killed the monsters.

"Isn't it good to quietly farm monsters and level up? I really don't know how you managed to level up."

hehe, it's fine to just kill people occasionally. It's not like I'm going to find people to pk every day.

Just as Zhang Shan was about to talk to Feng Yun realm, boss Wu suddenly interrupted,

“look at that player from qi. he has been watching us for a long time. he has been staring at us and hasn’t killed any monsters. is he trying to cause trouble?”

“Eh? There’s also this matter.”

Zhang Shan looked in the direction that boss Wu was pointing. There was really a Qi country standing outside the entrance, staring at them.

The player was a little far from them. If boss Wu had not mentioned it, Zhang Shan would not have noticed.

could they be spies? the main force is behind? ”

don’t worry about him. Let’s wait a little longer. If he still doesn’t leave, we’ll just kill him. He’s always staring at us. I don’t think he’s a good person.”

...

“why don’t you let me do it this time? i didn’t manage to cut anyone just now. let me cut someone to satisfy my craving.”

Windcloud blade said eagerly.

“You? By the time you run over, he’ll have already run away. How long will you have to chase him for?”

“Then what should we do?”

“If he still doesn’t leave, I’ll chase after him on my horse. After I catch up, I’ll get off my horse and shoot him twice.”

brother Liu Guan, don’t show off your Red Hare. It hurts.
