Chapter 161-the heart is on fire

Following heart used an invincible slash and instantly turned a group of foreign players who were blocking the way into pieces.

after picking up the ten or so pieces of trash equipment, they continued to run towards the monster farming area.

As for the players who were killed by heart follows me, they were lying on the ground with a dumbfounded expression, waiting for others to revive them.

“What’s the situation? What skill did that person use just now? Why was he so fierce? I don’t even know how I died.”

“i don’t know. i’ve never seen such a powerful skill.”

Oh right, that Spellblade is called ‘heart moves with me’, right? I remember that he once set up an international bounty for his head. He’s a very rich in-game rich Big Shot.

fired? why are we so unlucky? I’ve been keeping an eye out for six-barreled Bodhisattva. I didn’t expect there to be someone even more powerful among them.

forget it, I’ll just admit that I’m unlucky. I need to quickly get someone to resurrect me. Otherwise, I’ll be finished once the time is up.

do you guys think that we can make some money if we post the video of that skill on the forum? ”

“F * ck, hurry up, don’t let others get there first.”

The group of unlucky players lying on the ground quickly uploaded the video of ‘your heart moves’ and ‘invincible slash’ to the game forum.

not long after zhang shan and the rest arrived at the monster-farming map, this video caused a sensation in the entire game.

“What the f * ck, what skill is this? It’s too awesome, killing over a hundred people in an instant and there’s still a surplus.”

it’s the Spellblade’s ultimate skill, invincible slash, right? only an ultimate skill would be so powerful.

“Is the Hunter beside him the six-barreled Bodhisattva? Doesn’t that mean that the person who used the invincible slash is also from the wind and cloud Guild?”

look at the name. The one who used the skill is heart follows me. He was in Yingtian city before. It’s not in the same city as the wind cloud Guild. I don’t think he’s from their Guild.

“then how did they end up together?”

who knows? maybe he just joined the wind and cloud Guild.

” you guys are focusing on the wrong point. the point is that the ultimate skill is so powerful. how are the others going to play with it? ”

“What else can I do? of course, I’ll work hard to get skill books.”

Where can I find it? I’ve only seen one book like this in the entire game, and it’s sold for 150 million gold coins. How many people can afford it? ” if you can’t afford it, just be a salted fish. There will always be a Big Boss who can afford it.

I miscalculated. I should’ve increased the price last time and bought the invincible slash skill book. This skill is so cool.

boss, you’re awesome. Did you film it last time? ”

“I did, but after the price went up, I didn’t follow. It was a mistake.”

I hope the drop rate of ultimate skill books will increase in the future. Otherwise, how are ordinary players supposed to survive? ”

“Commoner players want to play this? Don’t you see that the mana cost of the skill is 20000 points?”

” sigh, the gap is getting bigger and bigger. it’s not easy to survive. ”

Zhang Shan’s team of four returned to the monster-farming map and began to farm monsters.

some of the other members of the guild recognized heart moves with me.

brother artifact, is this Big Boss a new member of our Guild? ” that’s right. He was previously in Yingtian city. He just joined the Guild.

f * ck, it’s really that Big Shot who used the invincible slash skill? ”

Zhang Shan found it a little strange. The few of them had not said anything yet, so how did these people know?

“How did you guys know?”

“the big boss is on fire, don’t you know? There are videos of you guys all over the forum.”

‘ASIBA, I forgot about this. I should have posted the video on the forum just now.’

It was a loss of a small amount of money. It was a mistake.

” i’m so depressed. if i had known, i would have gone to find someone yesterday and launched the wrath of the stars. the limelight was stolen by big brother heart follows. ”

The wind cloud Cupid said gloomily. After he bought the mana pool yesterday, he was able to use the wrath of the stars.

however, they were all farming monsters and didn’t go out to fight, so he didn’t have the chance to use his big move.

you deserve it. You're so perverted. Yesterday, I told you to release the wrath of the stars for us to see, but you didn't. Now, the big boss has gotten it first.

that's right. Everyone only remembers the first. Who would remember that you were the second to use your ultimate skill?"

so wretched. Maybe he's not even in second place. Hehe.

"Hmph, if you continue, I'll go out and find someone to release a wave of skills."

go ahead. You'll probably be chopped into pieces by the time you finish using your skills.

Of course, this also meant that the wind cloud Cupid would not go out alone just to show off.

It was better to reveal a trump card like the ultimate skill as late as possible. When it was used at a critical moment, it could immediately reverse the situation.

Right now, there were two players in the wind and cloud Guild who could use their ultimate skills.

How could they possibly trap them inside? two skills were enough to wipe out a large number of them.

It was an ultimate skill that could destroy peerless in an instant.

He was much more useful than Zhang Shan. He could only hit people one by one, no matter how high his attack power was or how fast his attack speed was.

...

He couldn't take down many people in a short time, unlike ultimate skills that could instantly clear the field.

Of course, such a powerful skill had many restrictions, not to mention the mana cost.

The cooldown time was 24 hours, which was a major flaw.

It could only be used once a day, and it would be gone once it was used.

The people from wind and cloud Guild had been blocking the entrance of the passage, while the others were farming monsters inside with peace of mind.

Feng Yun realm finally spoke when it was almost eight o'clock in the evening.

"The Guild War is about to begin. The five of us will return to the Guild residence first. The others will continue to farm monsters and level up here."

"Good luck! Destroy peerless!"

"A one-sided match. There's nothing to look forward to."

to participate in the guild war, one had to enter the challenge map at the stone tablet in the guild residence.

Hence, Zhang Shan and the other four had to return to the Guild residence first.

...

This was because the Guild challenge this time would be a five-man Challenge Tournament.

Zhang Shan, Feng Yun realm, Feng Yun one blade, Feng Yun little Secretary, and Feng Yun Qing Qing stopped farming monsters.

He would return to Heaven's Gate and teleport to Dangyang city before teleporting to the Guild's residence.

At this moment, the Guild residence was deserted. All the Guild members had gone to the Heaven's Gate map to farm monsters and level up.

It wasn't just their Guild base that was empty. In fact, the number of players in the entire Dangyang city had clearly decreased by a lot.

With the Heaven's Gate map open, the monsters there gave more experience, so a large number of players went there to farm monsters.

Although Heaven's Gate was filled with danger, the temptation of more monster experience made everyone willing to take the risk.

After all, it was very difficult to level up in the New World. In order to gain more experience, it was okay to take some risks.

Moreover, players were usually very confident that they wouldn't die, so they weren't afraid of being harassed by foreign players.

One of life's three great illusions-I can counterattack.

Chapter 162 crushing

The five of them went to the stone tablet in front of the Guild Hall and waited for the challenge to begin.

"Do you guys think that the unparalleled gentleman will really give up? Then does it mean that after we enter the challenge map, if we don't have an opponent, the group arena will directly end?"

windcloud blade asked, bored.

"Don't worry, they won't give up. Even getting beaten up is better than giving up. How embarrassing would it be to give up?"

"That's good. I hope brother Liu Guan can leave one person for me to kill. Don't beat them all by yourself."

"Don't be too careless, be careful of the car flipping."

Secretary Feng Yun reminded.

are you kidding me? if this car can flip over, I'll eat sh * t while doing a handstand.

yeah, with such a thick thigh like brother divine weapon, isn't beating up five people a piece of cake? "

Feng Yun Qing Qing chimed in.

Zhang Shan alone, as long as he played it right, it was possible for him to fight against dozens of people, not to mention in the group arena, the other side only had five people.

He didn't know how to lose.

"That's true, but you have to be serious. After all, this is a guild challenge, hehe."

what Guild War? unparalleled gentleman is here to give us benefits. 100000 gold coins per person and Guild contribution points. He's simply a God of Fortune.

one blade, you're a little too arrogant. But it has nothing to do with you. You might not even be able to kill a single person.

who are you looking down on? I'm a Berserker's Fury, using charge and two-blade stream. I'll take down one person as soon as I cut them down.

"then try to cut me."

Feng Yun's little Secretary said with a smile.

These words immediately stunned Windcloud blade.

How could he possibly hack it to death? if it just stood there and let him hack it, it would probably take half a minute.

The five of them were happily chatting away, not at all nervous before the battle. Feng Yun realm also did not plan any tactics.

After a wave of brute force, he would be able to crush them directly.

Once the time for the challenge was up, Zhang Shan and the rest followed the instructions and entered the challenge map.

the map for the five-person group arena was very small, with only a small stage. after they entered the map, they directly appeared on the stage.

After a short while, unparalleled gentleman also brought his men into the arena.

"Hey, I say, unparalleled gentleman, didn't you say you wanted to give up? Why are they here again? are they planning to trick us?"

"I didn't want to come either, but I had to stand at attention after being beaten, so I had no choice but to come."

The unparalleled gentleman said helplessly.

Looking at the lineup of the peerless Guild, Zhang Shan was speechless. What was this?

There are still five kitchen knives in the challenge Tournament? What was this? Zhang Shan could not understand it at all.

Of the five players from peerless Guild, four were Berserkers. In addition, peerless gentleman was a Spellblade.

All of them were melee kitchen knives. Could they even fight in the arena? Would he be struck like a dog?

“Brother Jun Zi, why are you doing this? the five melee fighters are fighting in the arena?”

Feng Yun realm also asked curiously.

I’m just playing around. We can’t win anyway. This lineup can still try to cut down one of you. It’s even more impossible if it’s another lineup. I don’t think they can even beat a single one of you.

it had to be said that the unparalleled gentleman was a person with his own thoughts.

Indeed, Berserkers had meat and damage. The key was that they could charge as long as they were close enough.

if four or five of them focused on one of them, they had the chance to kill one of them first.

Of course, that was it. After using charge, he would be struck into a fool and easily killed.

It was a pity that the unparalleled gentleman’s idea was good, but Zhang Shan would not give them a chance.

Feng Yun realm and Feng Yun Qing Qing would definitely be standing at the back, sneakily standing at the back, not allowing them to charge in.

In front of him were Windcloud blade and Secretary Windcloud. It seemed like peerless gentleman was not interested in these two people.

It wasn’t that easy to take down a warrior in an instant. Everyone was a pay-to-win player.

No one’s equipment was bad. At most, there might be a slight difference in skills.

How could a warrior with the same equipment be cut down so easily?

I’m probably their target, “Zhang Shan guessed.

If they wanted the five of them to focus fire on him, they could only say that they were thinking too much. That way, peerless would fall even faster.

Zhang Shan’s HP was not any less than wind cloud blade’s. It was just that his defense was slightly worse.

However, it was impossible to kill him with just five kitchen knives, even if the five of them had the best equipment in the game.

get ready to start. Let me experience the power of the five vegetable knives.

Windcloud blade said eagerly.

Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby to protect him.

...

The wind and cloud Guild stood in a simple formation with two melee at the front and two ranged and support at the back.

On the other hand, peerless's five members stood in a horizontal line, planning to charge through. the one-minute preparation time was over.

The five players from peerless quickly closed in on the Secretary and Windcloud blade.

Suddenly, they used their jumping skills together and directly jumped over the two front rows of the wind cloud Guild.

The four Berserkers faced Zhang Shan and activated their charge skill.

F * ck, all five of them had the jump skill. This skill book was very difficult to get.

The wind and cloud Guild had only gotten one, which was rolled by Feng Yun realm.

The others had also wanted to buy one from the auction house, but the leap skill book was just too popular.

he hadn't been able to buy it.

It was a skill that could be used by all classes, and it was also a godly skill that could save one's life and intercept enemies. Every time it appeared in the auction house, it would be immediately snatched away.

The price had been raised to tens of millions of gold coins. Such a skill that did not deal any damage and only had a displacement effect could actually be sold for a high price.

it was so unbelievable that even though zhang shan had skill points, he did not have any thoughts about it.

It was too expensive, and it didn't help in farming monsters or fighting bosses, so what was the point of having it?

Now that he had seen the five members of the peerless Guild use the jumping skill together, Zhang Shan finally saw the power of the jumping skill.

The five members of the peerless Guild jumped together, bypassing the little Secretary and Windcloud blade. The four Berserkers charged towards Zhang Shan.

However, unparalleled gentleman was a Spellblade. He did not have the forward charge skill.

However, he was unable to take another step forward. Seeing that he had been played for a fool, wind and cloud blade was extremely angry.

he used charge to stop unparalleled gentleman, and little secretary feng yun followed suit. the two of them surrounded unparalleled gentleman and hacked at him.

On Zhang Shan's side, the four Berserkers were using charge, and all sorts of berserk skills landed on him at the same time.

damages of over-4000 appeared above his head one after another, almost emptying his hp.

Feng Yun Qing Qing, who was standing not too far away, continuously healed him while she released her totem.

feng yun realm was not idle either as he continuously cast all sorts of spells.

As for Zhang Shan, since the first wave of damage did not kill him, then the peerless Guild naturally had no chance of defeating him.

Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills, at the same time controlling the Panda baby to use its combo skills.

In a flash, the remaining three players were also knocked to the ground by him and Feng Yun realm's violent damage.

Unparalleled gentleman, on the other hand, had not fallen to the ground yet. Windcloud blade and the little Secretary were still hacking at him.

Unable to cut him down in a short time, Zhang Shan quickly turned the muzzle and fired two shots, knocking the Guild leader to the ground.

Chapter 163 Returning to the East Capital

A guild challenge ended just like that. Peerless gentleman, who was lying on the ground, did not leave the map immediately.

Instead, he said gloomily, " the divine weapon boss is still awesome. If we knew earlier, we would have chosen brother under the heavens as our assault target. 0:5, depressed.

"No matter who you choose to attack, the result will be the same, hehe."

"alright, the loser has no right to speak."

After peerless's members left the challenge map, the group arena was over.

≪ system announcement: all of peerless Guild's participants have died. Challenge over. Wind and cloud Guild wins. ≫

f * ck, it's over just like that. Did you guys even fight? "

In the Guild channel, the members of other guilds were also paying attention to the Guild War. However, they could not see the competition.

that's right. Didn't the competition just start? how did it end so quickly? did peerless Guild really give up on the competition? "

"they didn't give up the match. do you think it's going to take time to beat them? One slash, one kill, and it'll be over in a few seconds."

Windcloud blade called out smugly.

I'm guessing that Big Boss one blade didn't manage to cut down a single person.

"Haha, I think so too."

that's right. Brother Yidao was played for a fool. Everyone's watching the show.

feng yunqing said, adding insult to injury.

f * ck, what's going on? do you have a video? "

the video has been uploaded to the Guild section. Go and see for yourself.

Everyone went to the Guild's section to check the video of the group arena.

"ASIBA, where did the peerless Guild get these? there are five jumping skill books."

that's right. They're really good at jumping. I didn't know that jumping skills could be used in this way.

I've learned it. I have to quickly think of a way to get a jumping skill book to learn it. I still have skill points left anyway.

it's useless no matter how much you try. Brother divine artifact's strength is overwhelming.

"Yeah, peerless Guild's operations were as fierce as a Tiger, but they all fell in a few seconds."

The Guild members were watching the video of the competition, while Zhang Shan and the other four were happily checking the rewards of the Guild War.

The rewards of the five-person Challenge Tournament were not distributed according to the contribution ranking. They were all distributed equally among the participants.

This was because the five-person competition tested the team members' coordination.

Of course, their wind and cloud Guild had overwhelming strength. Without any cooperation, Zhang Shan could win the challenge alone.

but the rules were as such.

It did not matter if they were evenly distributed. Zhang Shan had received 100000 gold coins, and his Guild contribution was also more than 2000.

It was a good harvest. They had only spent a few minutes from Heaven's Gate to the end of the arena battle.

Earning 100,000 gold in such a short time was like picking up money.

unparalleled gentleman was a good person.

Zhang Shan could not help but feel emotional. He gave the unparalleled gentleman a good person card.

it's too easy. It's boring. Let's go to Heaven's Gate to farm monsters and level up.

After checking the rewards, wind and cloud blade said.

“You guys go ahead, I want to run a mission.”

“What’s the situation? Brother Liu Guan, what kind of mission item did you get this time? It can’t be another divine artifact, right?”

Hearing that Zhang Shan was going to complete a mission, the other four could not help but think of the divine weapon.

This was because Zhang Shan’s divine weapon had been obtained when he was completing a mission.

I’m not too sure. The main thing is that there are no hints on the quest item. I don’t know which NPC to find to trigger it. I don’t know if I can make it or not.

Zhang Shan was not very sure.

Although the ring was broken, it was still a divine weapon quest item. However, if he could not find the NPC that triggered the quest, it would be useless.

In that case, the broken ring would be one, and he would never be able to trigger the quest collection.

As for the mission reward, there was no way to talk about it.

how are you going to complete the quest if there’s no NPC that prompted you to trigger the quest? you can’t just say that you’re blindly trying your luck, right? ”

Yes, we can only rely on luck. I plan to search everywhere. If I really can’t find anything, then forget it.

“My God, have you ever thought about how long it would take to run all over the East and West? Don’t you know how big these two things are?”

there’s no other way. I have to try. What if it really is a godly weapon? anyway, it’s slow to level up now. I’ll spend a few days trying it out. If it doesn’t work, I’ll come back and continue farming monsters.

fine, you’re ruthless. We’re taking advantage of our time every day to level up, but you’re planning to spend a few days trying your luck. The big boss at the top of the ranking is awesome.

yeah, I don’t have any pressure to level up anyway. Even after a few more days, no one will be able to catch up to your level.

“You’re so capricious that you level up quickly.”

...

I’ll take my leave first. Brother Yidao, remember to help my brother level up. He’s a Daoist priest, so he can’t level up alone.

“Don’t worry, I’m not afraid that no one wants it. I’m leaving.”

Everyone teleported away from the Guild residence while the other four continued to farm monsters at heaven’s gate.

Zhang Shan went to the warehouse and took out the damaged ring and the five divine materials.

Although only one divine material was needed to repair the strange tube the last time, it was not a big deal.

However, who knew if the requirements for repairing a divine artifact were the same every time? in any case, he had five divine materials, so he would just bring them all.

He was teleported to the East Capital again.

Zhang Shan sent a message to boss Wu, telling him to hang out with someone else for a few days, and wait until he finished this mission.

To come to the East Capital again, the teleportation had cost him 10000 gold coins, which made Zhang Shan's heart ache.

This was a real 10000 Yuan, and it would be gone after one teleportation. In reality, even taking a plane wasn't so expensive.

The game really didn't welcome players. No matter how rich they were, they wouldn't teleport here for no reason.

looking at the huge city, zhang shan's head swelled. such a huge city, so many npcs.

In the vast sea of people, where could he find the NPC that triggered the quest of the broken ring?

even though he was already mentally prepared. However, when they arrived at the East Capital, they were still a little flustered.

Forget it, since I'm already here, let's plan out the route first and mark out the NPCs related to the accessories.

Zhang Shan felt that the broken ring was obviously a ring. It should be correct to find an NPC related to accessories to repair the ring.

riding on the red hare, zhang shan began to follow the marked positions and ran one by one.

although the speed of a horse was twice as fast as his two short legs, the east capital was simply too big.

He ran all the way until 12 o'clock in the evening before he finished marking the ten or so decorative NPCs.

The result was extremely disappointing. After more than four hours of running, he found nothing.

He had never seen an NPC with a question mark above his head like Master Lu.

He even tried to communicate with some NPCs, but they were like Blockheads.

No matter what he said, no one paid him any attention.

In the New World, NPCs would not communicate with players unless they had a quest item to trigger a quest.

He had wasted his time today. He would continue tomorrow. It seemed that there was no shortcut.

Tomorrow, I'll just sweep the streets. With the broken ring, I'll sweep the streets row by row.

As long as the NPC that triggered the quest to destroy the ring was in the East Capital, he would definitely be able to find it.

Chapter 164 The West capital

Zhang Shan was a little disappointed that he had wasted a night, but he quickly adjusted his mood.

A divine weapon would not be so easily obtained by him. Otherwise, it would not have been so long without a second divine weapon appearing.

It must be known that since the opening of the New World, the total number of registered players was already close to 200 million.

other than the casual players who were only online for entertainment, there were tens of millions of people who were online often.

so many players had been doing this for more than a month, but no one had managed to get a second divine weapon.

One could imagine the difficulty of this.

He had gotten Aglu's hand cannon previously purely out of luck. It had dropped a strange tube when he was fighting a small monster.

The mission was clear. He only had to find Master Lu in the East Capital. It was not difficult at all, and he only had to spend some gold coins.

But now that he thought about it, the exchange rate for gold coins back then was still very high. There were not many people who could take out so many gold coins in one go.

In order to repair the strange tube, he had to spend 10000 gold coins to teleport to the East Capital.

He had also spent nearly 100000 gold coins on materials. This was a huge sum of money when the game had just started.

Zhang Shan had also been extremely lucky to have earned enough gold.

That was how he came to the East Capital and found the strange tube that Master Lu had fixed.

It allowed him to obtain the first divine weapon in the New World.

However, this damaged ring was no longer that simple. There was no need to mention the requirements of repairing it.

he didn't know at all now, because he didn't even know who to find to repair it.

Just as Zhang Shan was about to go offline to rest, he received a call from boss Wu.

Hmm, why did this guy stay up so late today? Could it be that his wife was keeping a lookout for him?

“Boss Zhang, I heard you went to get divine artifacts again? How’s the progress?”

there’s no progress at all. We don’t even know where the divine artifact is.

“You really have a divine artifact mission item?”

yes, as long as we can find the NPC that triggered the quest, we should be able to restore it to a divine artifact.

Zhang Shan handed out the damaged ring and showed it to boss Wu.

He had not told anyone about it since he had bought it at the auction house.

Previously, when they had separated from wind and cloud blade and the others, they had not asked. Naturally, Zhang Shan would not take the initiative to mention it.

Everyone had their own secrets. Of course, Feng Yun realm was very curious about the details of Zhang Shan’s divine weapon.

However, they had never asked, just like how Zhang Shan knew that the big bosses in the wind cloud Guild were all people with big backgrounds.

However, he had never thought that there was no need to find out about their origins.

A divine weapon was a good item, and it was probably the highest grade of equipment that players could obtain.

As long as he didn’t reveal the information, others could only explore on their own if they wanted to obtain a divine weapon. They could slowly find a way to obtain a divine weapon.

To Zhang Shan, the later the others obtained the divine weapon, the more beneficial it would be for him.

In that case, he could rely on the advantage of the divine weapon to widen the gap between him and the other players.

As for boss Wu, of course, he didn’t need to keep it a secret.

Boss Wu took a look at the damaged ring that Zhang Shan had shown him and said in disbelief.

“This thing can be made into a divine artifact? How come I didn’t see it?”

it should be possible. I feel that items with the word ‘mysterious’ in them might be related to divine artifacts. That’s how I got my hand cannon.

then I’ll go to the auction house to see if there are any similar items. Maybe I can pick up some scraps.

zhang shan was speechless. how could it be so easy to pick up scraps in the auction house?

it’s not that simple. Every time I return to the city, I’ll go to the auction house to take a look. After so long, I only managed to get this one.

“alright, go ahead then. oh right, if you see any materials with a mysterious aura, remember to bid for them. they’re necessary for repairing divine artifacts.”

“Alright, I got it.”

also, remember not to tell anyone about this. No one knows how to get a divine weapon yet. I haven’t told anyone about it.

“Don’t worry, I’m not a fool. I won’t tell anyone.”

In the next three days, Zhang Shan went around the entire Dong Du city. Other than the Emperor who was in the palace and could not be seen, he was sure that he had not missed any fixed NPCs.

however, he still did not see the NPC with the question mark above his head.

‘ASIBA, you wasted three days trying to repair this broken ring. Don’t tell me you’re looking for a mobile NPC?’

if that was the case, there was no need to run at all. mobile npcs were not something he could encounter just by running.

that was really a matter of luck.

What was he going to do? there was nothing in the East Capital. Should he try the West capital?

This was a problem.

He had already wasted three days, even though Zhang Shan had not been to the West capital.

However, thinking about it, these two capital cities should be about the same size. Didn’t that mean that it would take another three days?

If he could trigger a mission in the West capital, it would be fine. However, he was afraid that he would have wasted three days without any gains. That would really be a waste of time.

if he had not come out to complete this quest, he would have reached level 31 by now.

Zhang Shan was conflicted. What should he do? should he continue to the West capital?

After thinking for a while, he decided to go to the West capital if he still couldn’t find the NPC that triggered the quest.

Then this broken ring could be considered a collectible. Spending one million gold coins to buy a game collectible was too extravagant.

Since he had already wasted three days, there was no harm in wasting another three days.

In any case, no one would be able to catch up to his level in three days, so he still had time.

Zhang Shan rode his horse to the teleportation Hall in the East Capital and spent another ten thousand gold to teleport to the West capital.

He had already spent 20000 gold coins before even seeing the shadow of the divine weapon.

Fortunately, he was earning money now. Otherwise, he really couldn't afford it.

after arriving at the west capital, zhang shan realized that this place was completely different from the east capital. it was filled with the aura of spells.

in the north of the city, a huge wizard tower rose from the ground.

That should be where Grand Preceptor Jiang was.

Zhang Shan had previously heard Master Lu say that the Emperor of Zhou in the East Capital used the emperor's sword, while Grand Preceptor Jiang in the West capital used the annihilation magic staff.

This meant that the Emperor was a magic swordsman and Grand Preceptor Jiang was a sorcerer?

He did not know how powerful the Saint weapons in the hands of these two big shots were. Would they be able to kill the demon gods outside the city in one move?

Pfft, what was the point of thinking about this? anyway, the NPCs in the New World were all wooden people.

No matter how impressive the Saint weapons of these two big shots were, they would not lend them to him.

It was better to hurry up and sweep the streets. Only divine weapons were real, and they were equipment that players could obtain.

as for the holy weapon, it was probably just a game background.

Zhang Shan rode his horse through the West capital, sweeping through the rows of streets. This time, he did not plan to look for an accessory NPC first.

Don't try to take shortcuts, just watch every single NPC.

If he still couldn't trigger the quest, he would go back and farm monsters.

Chapter 165 divine craftsman an qisheng zhang shan rode on the red hare, sweeping through every street in the west capital in rows.

Every time he saw a fixed NPC, he would go up and try. However, another two days passed.

He still did not trigger the mission.

His mood had also changed from anticipation to calmness.

Let's go through all the NPCs as planned.

In reality, Zhang Shan had already lost all hope. He had almost finished running the entire West capital.

It seemed that he had no fate with this divine weapon.

However, he had already wasted five days, and the last bit was not a problem.

zhang shan rode past the npcs one by one. when he passed the south city gate ...

Suddenly, he noticed that there seemed to be some light at the city gate.

Yes, Zhang Shan was excited. The color of the light seemed to be the light of the question mark above the NPC's head when a mission was triggered.

Zhang Shan quickly stepped forward.

Sure enough, at the city gate, he saw a beggar with a question mark above his head.

'ASIBA, could this beggar be able to repair divine artifacts? why does it feel so strange?'

did he trigger another mission?

Zhang Shan did not think too much about it. Who cared if it was to repair artifacts? as long as it was a mission, it would be fine.

Even if it was the demon-killing mission issued by the village chief of the novice village, that kind of mission would also work.

He had almost earned hundreds of gold coins from the demon-killing missions he had completed so far, and they were valid permanently.

Although he didn't lack gold coins, why wouldn't he accept gold coins that were given for free?

Zhang Shan did not think that this beggar would be able to help him repair the divine weapon, but he still went forward to talk to him.

"Hello," he said.

"Oh, young hunter, did you bring me food?"

zhang shan was speechless. he looked at his backpack. there was no food. how was he supposed to talk?

I forgot to bring food today, but I brought some gold coins. Why don't I give you some gold coins and you can go buy your own food? "

Money was god-like, what food did he want? he could just pay directly.

zhang shan handed a hundred gold coins to the beggar.

"Thank you, kind Hunter."

the pauper kept the gold coins and prepared to leave.

F * ck, he's leaving just like that? Then what's with the question mark above your head?

Where's the mission? it's fine if you can't repair the broken ring, but why don't you post the mission?

Seeing that the beggar was about to leave after keeping the gold coins, Zhang Shan became anxious and quickly went forward to ask.

“uncle, is there anything else i can help you with?”

She couldn't let him leave just like that. It wasn't easy to encounter a mission by accident.

The beggar looked at Zhang Shan and shook his head, ”

“You can't help me,” uncle, if you need any help, please tell me. If I'm not capable enough, I can find other friends to help.

Zhang Shan felt that it might be a large-scale mission, the kind that required a lot of people to complete.

no matter how difficult it was, he had to get the quest first.

However, the beggar's next words made him drop his glasses.

The beggar said.

“I need gold coins. I need a lot of gold coins.”

zhang shan was a little confused.

“I don't know how many gold coins you want.”

“I'm not sure how much I need. I was once a great Alchemist, but the demons invaded and destroyed my laboratory. I need a lot of gold coins to rebuild it.”

Upon hearing this, Zhang Shan was overjoyed.

asiba, he had gone one round and returned.

this beggar used to be a master alchemist, so didn't that mean that he made ornaments?

no wonder there were question marks above her head. it turned out that she was really looking for him to repair the broken ring.

Zhang Shan quickly took out the broken ring and handed it to the beggar.

“Master, can you help me take a look at this item? is there any possibility of repairing it?”

The Pauper took the broken ring and looked at it.

“This is the ring of the ancient heavenly Eagle King. I didn't think that even a God as powerful as the heavenly Eagle King would fall, and his ring would be so damaged.”

...

Knowing the background made things easier. This time, Zhang Shan was convinced that this beggar was an NPC with a big background.

What a joke. Otherwise, how could he tell the origin of the broken ring with a single look?

“Master, look at this ring. Is there any chance of repairing it?”

” this ring of the heavenly hawk is too damaged. it will cost a lot to repair it, but i don’t have my laboratory anymore. i can’t help you. ”

Zhang Shan understood. If he did not help this master alchemist and set up his laboratory, there was no need to talk about anything.

“master, i wonder how much it would take to rebuild your laboratory?”

it’s impossible to restore my laboratory to its original state at the moment, but it’s still possible to rebuild it so that it can be used.

“How many gold coins would it cost?”

zhang shan was very depressed. master, can you be more straightforward? who are you looking down on? don’t you know that i am very rich now?

Zhang Shan’s gold coins added up to about 80 to 90 million gold coins. He was truly rich.

Any problem that could be solved with money was not a problem.

20 million gold coins. If you want to rebuild the laboratory to a usable state, you’ll need at least 20 million gold coins.

what the f * ck, she must have known that he had just made a fortune. otherwise, how could there be such a coincidence?

if he had not blown up the chakra and sold the mana pool to the wind cloud cupid ...

Where did he get so many gold coins?

Although this beggar master was demanding an exorbitant price, Zhang Shan had no other choice.

Unless he didn’t want to repair the divine artifact.

think about it, a divine artifact could be used in the game forever, it was the best equipment.

Zhang Shan was not conflicted. A one-time investment would benefit him in the long run.

Having one more divine weapon meant that he could worry less about one piece of equipment in the future. In total, 20 million gold coins was a lot.

But it was not unacceptable.

Zhang Shan transferred 20 million gold to the beggar master.

“Thank you very much, generous Hunter. With these gold coins, I can rebuild the laboratory. I, an Qisheng, am back again. Hahaha.”

After receiving the gold coins from Zhang Shan, the beggar master’s image changed.

even the name had changed.

previously, when zhang shan had seen him, there was only the word “beggar” above his head. he did not even have a name.

Now, he was the divine Alchemist an Qisheng.

ASIBA, a divine craftsman? Then, could he forge a divine weapon? What was the point of repairing it? why couldn't he just ask him to make a set of divine artifacts and accessories?

Zhang Shan asked expectantly.

“Master, so you're a divine craftsman. I wonder if you can help me forge a divine artifact or accessory?”

sigh, although I was once a divine craftsman, I can't make divine-level accessories anymore.

“Why is that?”

every divine weapon is related to the fate of the human race. Ever since the invasion of the demons, the fate of the human race has been in chaos. No new divine weapons can be made, not even divine craftsmen.

What was going on? Didn't that mean that in the future, even if a player's life profession was promoted to a divine craftsman, they would not be able to forge divine weapons?

This didn't make sense. This was a game. There was no need to be so realistic.

Chapter 166 Spatial sack

When he heard an Qisheng say that even divine craftsmen could not forge divine weapons, Zhang Shan could not believe it.

If they were unable to create new godly items, how were the players going to play in the future?

He couldn't just rely on repairing damaged divine artifacts, right? how much could he get just by doing that? it was completely insufficient.

“then when will the human race be able to create a new divine weapon?”

Zhang Shan asked an Qisheng.

this was a game. since a life profession could be promoted to a divine craftsman, there was no reason that they couldn't forge divine weapons.

it'll be fine after the reversal of fate. Now that the human race is rising again, I think it won't be too long.

Well, that meant that it would be fine after the player's level increased, but it was so mysterious.

To put it bluntly, it would only be possible in the later stages of the game. In the early stages, red equipment was considered the best for players.

Only a very small number of lucky people could get their hands on spirit weapons and God weapons.

It seemed like it was impossible to get an Qisheng to help him forge a set of divine artifacts and accessories.

It's better to just look at how I can fix this broken ring.

"Master, when will you be able to repair this ring?"

this heavenly Hawk Ring is too badly damaged. It will cost a lot to repair it.

A huge price? it couldn't be that he had to pay more, right? zhang shan didn't think much of it. this beggar master must have fallen into the eyes of money.

Forget it, as long as it could be repaired, money did not matter. Zhang Shan did not have any need for money now.

anyway, he had already exchanged 70 million blue dollars, enough to buy a house and live in the future.

He didn't have any big dreams, and he didn't plan to do business after he stopped playing games.

To him, as long as he had enough money, he would not bring it with him when he was alive, and he would not take it with him when he was dead.

In the future, he would basically be making money in the game and spending it in the game, and playing in the game freely.

"Master, what else do you need to repair this ring?"

first of all, the divinity of this sky Falcon ring has basically been completely lost. I need many materials filled with divinity to reactivate the ring's divinity. Second, I also need a large number of supplementary materials.

An Qi handed a list of materials to Zhang Shan.

The list was densely packed with hundreds of types of materials. Zhang Shan even found many on the list, which were obviously construction materials.

ASIBA, why do you need building materials to repair the ring? How many of these hundreds of materials were actually smuggled by this divine craftsman?

this was the rhythm of zhang shan's slaughter.

However, what could he do? he didn't have the skill.

There were five divine materials on the list, which was just enough to empty Zhang Shan's inventory.

As for the other hundreds of materials, Zhang Shan had never even heard of most of them. He did not even know where to buy them.

He had to ask an Qisheng. Perhaps this Big Shot was like Master Lu back then.

If he had a big face, he could introduce him to a material merchant that could give him a discount and save him some gold coins.

"master, i wonder where i can buy so many materials? How many gold coins would it cost?"

Oh, you can just find the largest material store. You should be able to buy them all. The total of these materials is probably less than ten million gold coins.

What the f * ck, the big boss is so arrogant. Less than ten million gold coins?

I'm afraid you've forgotten that you were just a beggar a moment ago. How did you become so arrogant in the blink of an eye?

Forget it, he had no choice but to lower his head. Zhang Shan was preparing to ride the horse to get the materials.

She suddenly recalled that an Qisheng was a beggar who did not have a fixed place previously. Where would she find him after she bought the materials?

"Master, Where can I find you after I buy the materials?"

"I'm planning to rebuild my alchemy laboratory on the east side of the mage tower. later, you can go there and find a place called an qisheng's alchemy room."

After an Qisheng finished speaking, he teleported and disappeared.

What the f * ck, a divine craftsman was amazing. He could actually use teleportation in the West capital. Poor Zhang Shan could only ride his horse slowly.

After an Qisheng left, Zhang Shan checked the mission panel and realized that other than the demon-killing mission that had always been there, there was no other mission.

with the addition of the damaged ring mission, the next step of the mission was to buy materials.

Luckily, it was just a game. If this was real life, Zhang Shan would have suspected that he had been cheated.

Now that the mission had been activated, he just had to follow the instructions step by step.

he had to find the biggest material store to buy all the materials on the list.

zhang shan searched through the map and found a place called the mage god's material store.

With such an impressive shop name, it should have all the materials.

let's go to this one. if we can't buy all of them, we can just buy them from another material store.

Anyway, he had been running for five days, so he didn't mind this little bit of time.

riding a horse was indeed fast. although it wasn't as cool as an qisheng's teleportation, it was still much faster than running on two short legs.

Not long after, Zhang Shan arrived at the Majin material store.

He handed the list of materials to the shop owner.

"Boss, do you have all the materials on the list?"

" mr. hunter, our shop has the most complete collection of materials in the entire west capital. as long as you have materials in the west capital, we have them here. "

Alright, your restaurant is awesome.

"Then help me see how much the materials on this list cost."

After the shop owner looked at the list, he quickly gave a price.

"12 million gold."

After he finished speaking, he returned the list to Zhang Shan. He saw that behind each material on the list, there was an additional price.

The lowest cost was a few copper coins, while the highest cost was hundreds of thousands of gold coins. The key was that each material was not just one.

Some of the materials required were few, only ten or so. Some materials, especially the building materials, required tens of thousands of each.

It was definitely an Qisheng's private goods.

In order to rebuild his alchemy laboratory, this divine craftsman had thrown away his pride and slaughtered Zhang Shan as much as he could.

Buy it. After Zhang Shan handed over 12 million gold coins to the shop owner, he suddenly picked up his backpack. There was no way he could fit so many materials.

What was he supposed to do? was he supposed to buy them in batches and send them to an Qisheng in batches?

He wondered if there was a door-to-door delivery service in the game.

uh, boss, these materials are a little too much. I can't bring them all at once. I wonder if you can arrange for someone to help me deliver them to the designated location? "

" oh, mr. hunter, you don't have to go through so much trouble. since you've spent tens of millions of gold coins in our shop, we can give you a special item. "

After the shop owner finished speaking, he handed Zhang Shan a small cloth bag.

"the materials you bought are all here, please take a look."

'ASIBA, what's so awesome that it can hold hundreds of materials?'

One must know that Zhang Shan's backpack only had 95 slots. At most, it could only hold 95 items.

After Zhang Shan took the small cloth bag, he checked its attributes.

[space bag: expand the bag to 1000 slots after use.]

Chapter 167 Strengthened Vajra scroll

After seeing the attributes of the small cloth bag, Zhang Shan was shocked. A thousand slots?

This was too awesome. In the New World, materials and consumables could be stacked in the backpack.

A backpack with a thousand slots, even if he farmed in the wild for a few months, he wouldn't be able to finish it.

The missions in the New World were interesting. He felt that the gift was not worse than the mission reward itself. Master Lu had given him a spiritual weapon the last time.

With the 50% increase in attack speed from hand of maedas, the materials he bought this time actually directly expanded his backpack to 1000 slots.

In the future, he would not have to worry about the number of slots.

When the interspatial bag was put into the backpack, the 95 slots in the backpack would be reduced to 1000 slots.

All the materials he had just bought appeared in his backpack.

With the materials settled, he went to find an Qisheng. Hopefully, there wouldn't be any more trouble.

Zhang Shan rode on the red hares and found an Qisheng's alchemy room among the rows of buildings on the east side of the mage Tower.

The entire place looked like a run-down little courtyard.

After Zhang Shan entered the small courtyard, he realized that it was still empty. There was nothing.

Only an Qisheng stood there in a daze.

Was ASIBA really waiting for his materials before he started to rebuild the laboratory?

"Hello, master. I've bought all the materials."

Zhang Shan handed all the materials on the list and the five divine materials to an Qisheng.

she didn't know what an qisheng had used to store them, but he had managed to keep all these hundreds of materials.

"Master, can you repair the heavenly Eagle Ring now?"

Zhang Shan was not confident. Such a broken place was not even as good as the wind and cloud Guild's workshop building.

Could they repair divine artifacts here? Zhang Shan did not believe it.

"Not now. It'll take a few days to rebuild the laboratory. Come back in five days."

Alright, there was finally a confirmed time. That was fine too. He would come back in five days.

Just as Zhang Shan was about to turn around and leave, An Qi suddenly called out to him.

by the way, I remember that there's a demonic creature under the demon subduing platform called the strongman commander. Its shattered heart is very helpful in repairing the sky Eagle Ring and can increase the ring's effect. Go get it for me.

what? a strong warrior commander? Isn't that The Guardian boss of the demon-suppressing dais 'second floor?

They had already tried it twice, one in normal mode and one in hard mode, but they had not seen any heart of destruction.

Zhang Shan opened the mission panel and found that the broken ring mission had indeed changed.

the next step was to head to the second level of the demon-suppressing platform and kill the strongmen commander in extreme mode. after obtaining the heart of destruction, he would hand it over to an qisheng.

ASIBA, extreme mode? Isn't this messing with me? how hard is the extreme mode? Zhang Shan had never tried it before.

However, the forum was filled with relevant information.

The minions in the ultimate mode were already insanely strong. As for the final boss, no one had ever seen it before.

Not to mention the strongmen commanders on the second floor of the demon-suppressing dais, even the priests of the demon tribes on the first floor of the demon-suppressing dais were no match for them.

No one had seen it in extreme mode before.

The monsters in extreme mode were too strong, and all of them were in a berserk state.

Their attack power and attack speed were both insane. The main point was that when the monsters saw players, they would surround them in a large group, completely disregarding martial arts.

Even a powerful team would find it difficult to withstand the siege of so many berserk monsters.

In their wind and cloud Guild, there were also members who had formed parties to try, but they were all defeated by the mobs.

An Qisheng was simply making things difficult for him by asking him to kill the Hercules commander in extreme mode.

Moreover, he only had five days. After five days, he would have to come back to an Qisheng to repair the divine artifact.

If he did not manage to obtain the heart of destruction by then, would he fail the mission of obtaining the broken ring?

Did he have to be so ruthless?

If the mission failed, then wouldn't the 30 million gold he had invested be for nothing?

“Er, master an Qisheng, that strongman commander seems to be very powerful. I might not be able to kill it right now.”

Zhang Shan could only cry to an Qisheng and see if he could lower the difficulty of the mission.

young man, you must face the challenge bravely. How about this, I have a scroll here for you. I hope it can help you.

An Qisheng handed a scroll to Zhang Shan.

[strengthened diamond scroll: after use, increase the defense of yourself and the surrounding teams by 100%. Duration: 30 minutes. Can only be used in the mission.]

f * ck, it was a good thing he had cried miserably to an qisheng just now. otherwise, how could there be such a powerful thing?

This strengthened diamond scroll was not bad. It increased his defense by 100%. To Zhang Shan, who was a fragile person, it was basically useless.

However, it was very useful against tank classes. Their defense was very high to begin with.

After increasing his defense by 100%, he could completely block the monsters on the second floor of the demon-suppressing dais.

Moreover, the duration was 30 minutes, which was enough for them to clear out all the monsters on the second floor.

...

There weren't many monsters on the second floor of the demon-subduing platform dungeon. There were only a thousand of them, but they were all elite monsters.

A level 30 elite monster was not weak to begin with. It had 100000 HP and 2000 attack power.

After going berserk, it would definitely be even more powerful. Other than Zhang Shan, the others had not reached level 30.

They were all level 20 or level 25 equipment, so they were very difficult to deal with elite monsters in a berserk state.

even a high-quality meat shield like secretary feng yun would not be able to hold on for long.

However, with this strengthened diamond scroll, things would be much easier. He could bring more support.

they could easily clear out all the monsters in extreme mode.

Of course, this scroll could only help them clear the small monsters. As for the final boss ...

They would have to rely on themselves.

Half an hour was definitely not enough for them to clear the mobs and then kill the Hercules commander.

In normal mode, the health of the Hercules commander was 10000000, while in hard mode, it was 5000000.

Zhang Shan estimated that the health of a strongmen commander in extreme mode should be 100 million.

A team of 50 people, even if they didn't lose any members, would still take at least half an hour to fight.

He hoped that the Panda baby would be able to hold on.

if he didn't destroy the hercules commander in extreme mode, he would fail the divine weapon mission.

After bidding an Qisheng farewell, Zhang Shan returned to Dangyang city.

Before he decided to run this divine weapon mission.

zhang shan rebound the resurrection point to the guild base, only when he went to the sky gate to farm monsters.

only then would the resurrection point be bound to heaven's gate, so as to avoid being teleported back and forth.

He had to call the big bosses of wind and cloud to prepare to clear the dungeon together.

it just so happened that today was wednesday and the dungeon entries had just been refreshed. everyone's dungeon entries were still there.

He had to do something about it. This couldn't be delayed for too long. Not to mention that he had to come back in five days to find an Qisheng to repair the divine artifact.

Even he wouldn't be able to level up for long if he kept grinding.

In four days at most, he would be able to reach level 31.

If he leveled up again, he wouldn't be able to enter the demon subduing platform's second floor.

Then where would he go to kill the strongmen commander? The mission would fail immediately.

Chapter 168 Target in extreme mode

Zhang Shan had to defeat the Hercules commander in the extreme mode dungeon before he reached level 31.

only then would he be able to obtain the heart of destruction and complete the mission an qisheng gave him.

however, it was impossible for him to clear the dungeon by himself, even with the help of boss wu.

Dungeons required the strength of a team. No matter how strong an individual was, it was impossible to clear the dungeon.

Not to mention extreme mode, even normal mode wouldn't work. The first time he entered the second floor of the dungeon with boss Wu, he had been in the same mode.

Even though they had only chosen the normal difficulty, they had almost failed to kill the mini-boss in the dungeon, let alone clear it.

As for the final boss, Zhang Shan's two lives could not last more than a few seconds.

A level 30 red BOSS, to the current Zhang Shan, was not considered too overpowered.

however, it was not something that could be settled by one or two people.

He needed the help of his teammates, especially a lot of support, to heal the Panda baby.

One or two supports simply couldn't keep up.

The mission that an Qisheng had given him was to defeat the Hercules commander in extreme mode.

The difficulty increased exponentially.

He didn't know if the big bosses of the wind and cloud Guild he brought along could win.

'no matter what, i'll have to give it a try.' he called for wind and cloud blade.

"Are you guys still farming monsters there? My mission here is to clear the second floor of the demon-suppressing dais dungeon. It requires extreme mode."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he showed wind and cloud blade the heart of destruction mission that an Qisheng had given him.

"holy sh * t, brother liu guan, did you really trigger another divine weapon mission? Can I get a divine artifact if I clear the dungeon?"

I don't know about that. This quest is a little ridiculous. I've already spent more than 30 million gold coins. The next step is to defeat the strongmen commander in the extreme mode and obtain the heart of destruction.

"this seems a little difficult. can we beat it in extreme mode? We can't even defeat the small monsters in extreme mode, let alone the Hercules commander guarding the pass, right?"

Windcloud blade did not have any confidence at all. The dungeon's extreme mode was very overpowered.

The final BOSS was one thing, as no one had ever seen it before. However, many people had seen the minions in extreme mode before.

Under normal circumstances, even if all of them reached level 30, they would still be able to defeat the boss.

It wasn't likely that they could do it.

however, zhang shan wasn't worried about this. he and an qisheng had cried their hearts out and managed to get an enhanced diamond scroll.

Increasing the defense of his teammates by 100% was enough for them to hold off the mobs in the extreme mode dungeon.

As long as they could clear the monsters quickly, the only thing left was to defeat the final BOSS, the Hercules commander.

“Don’t worry about the monsters in the dungeon. I still have this.”

after zhang shan finished speaking, he showed the scroll of strengthened diamond to wind and cloud blade.

f * ck, where did you get such an awesome scroll? no, this scroll can only be used in a mission. It can’t be a gift for you when you trigger a mission, right? ”

” yes, but this NPC is a scammer. if i didn’t cry to him, he wouldn’t have given me this scroll. ” you’re awesome. I didn’t know that you could cry miserably while doing a mission. It’s a pity that I’ve never seen a mission before. I don’t even know what a mission in the New World looks like.

“Take it slow, there will be a mission, hehe.”

damn it, you’re just being cocky. Alright, with this enhanced diamond scroll, we should be able to try challenging the extreme mode dungeon. Is there a time limit for this quest? ”

yes, I have to submit the quest in five days. Most importantly, I’ll reach level 31 in three or four days. I can’t waste time.

Feng Yun suddenly felt as if he had received a critical hit. This was too much. Zhang Shan was actually afraid that he would level up too quickly and would not be able to complete the mission.

This made them, who had been trying to reach rank 30 as soon as possible, feel extremely embarrassed.

“Fine, you’re actually afraid of leveling up too fast, that hurts me a lot.”

hehe, you should quickly communicate with the boss and the others and see if they have time now. If they don’t have time now, then I can only find a place to farm monsters.

As early as two days ago, the wind and cloud Guild had raised its guild level to Level 3. Currently, there were 50000 members in the Guild.

The safe monster-farming map they had found at heaven’s gate was not enough for so many people to farm.

those who joined the guild later could only find another place to farm monsters, even if it was zhang shan.

they were too embarrassed to run over to blade of wind and cloud’s side and kill-steal with other guild members.

If he wanted to farm monsters, he would have to find another place at heaven’s gate.

Fortunately, Heaven’s Gate was no longer as chaotic as before, and small-scale pk-ing continued.

However, it had been many days since a large-scale war between players from various countries had happened.

This was normal. After the passion, it would naturally return to calmness.

The players couldn't just keep pking, could they? if that was the case, would they even need to level up?

More importantly, if he accidentally died and was spawn-camped again, he would lose a level.

Now that leveling up was so difficult, no one was willing to face the risk of losing a level for a moment of passion in pk.

Not long after, wind and cloud blade communicated with the other big bosses in the Guild and replied to Zhang Shan.

"Wait for us in Dangyang city. We'll be there soon to challenge the extreme mode instance dungeon. It's a rare opportunity, so we have to clear it this time."

...

"alright, then i'll wait for you at the dangyang city's military affairs officer."

Zhang Shan teleported to the office of the military affairs officer. Not long after, Feng Yun realm brought the other 49 people over.

brother divine weapon, I heard that you're about to get your second divine weapon. Do you have any tricks? "

Alright, I can't hide it from them anymore. I still need the help of these big shots to clear the extreme mode dungeon.

I'm not sure about the specific tricks. I think some of the strange items with the word 'mysterious' are probably related to divine artifacts. As for the difficulty of obtaining divine artifacts, it's hard to say.

Zhang Shan's first God equipment, the difficulty of obtaining it could be said to be very low. It took less than a day's time and 100000 gold coins to get Aglu's hand cannon.

However, the ring of the heavenly Eagle that he was currently working on was extremely difficult. Just running away had taken him five days.

He was lucky. Otherwise, he might not have been able to find an Qisheng.

As for the mission to trigger the divine weapon, there was no need to even mention it.

furthermore, he had already spent more than 3000000 gold coins on the divine artifact, the sky falcon ring.

They hadn't even seen the shadow of the divine weapon yet.

...

He hoped that an Qisheng wouldn't go too far, not after he obtained the heart of destruction.

it would be ridiculous to assign him another task.

However, Zhang Shan had no choice. He had to settle the shattered heart first. As for whether there would be any follow-up missions, he had to think about it.

Then, he could only leave it to fate.

Chapter 169-strategy for the divine weapon mission

Zhang Shan had just said it casually, but he had already pointed out the key to the divine weapon mission.

That was, the mission item with the word “mysterious” on it had to be first.

Almost every mission in the New World could only be triggered with a mission item.

For example, Feng Yun Qing Qing’s spiritual weapon was triggered by the bandit extermination certificate.

However, what she had could not be considered a mission. To be more precise, it was just a mission reward.

Feng Yun Qing Qing was just going to claim the reward with the bandit extermination certificate. There was no difficulty in that.

it was just a matter of making a trip.

It was not like what Zhang Shan was currently doing. The mission of the broken ring had tormented him many times.

It had taken him more than five days and more than 30 million gold coins. The key was that he didn’t know if he could get it done.

Of course, even though the divine weapon mission was very cumbersome, it was for the sake of the divine weapon.

Even if there was only a small chance of obtaining a godly item, the players would not be able to obtain it.

It was worth it no matter how much he invested.

Needless to say, the effects of a divine weapon were simply too powerful.

In Zhang Shan’s rise in the New World, the role of the divine weapon was of utmost importance. It was even more important than his passive King talent.

The passive King talent would only show its power in the later stages. It was useless in the early stages.

Even now, Zhang Shan had already gained seven to eight passive skills.

It would also be of great help to him in increasing his strength.

But if one had to say, in a horizontal comparison, it was not as useful as a divine weapon.

The attack power of a divine weapon was already as high as the sky, more than twice that of equipment of the same level.

most importantly, the four special effects of the godly item were too powerful.

It was not something that red equipment could compare to.

Even the special effects of a spiritual weapon were a grade lower than a divine weapon, let alone a red equipment.

Moreover, a divine weapon had four special effects, one more than a spiritual weapon and two more than a red equipment.

Every special effect could be said to be a qualitative change. They were all very powerful special effects.

Zhang Shan explained to the big bosses of the wind and cloud Guild the key to obtaining the divine weapon mission.

As for whether they could get their hands on a divine weapon, that was hard to say.

items with the word 'mysterious' in them were extremely rare.

Other than Zhang Shan's own dog shit luck, killing small monsters and getting a strange pipe that exploded.

After that, he didn't get any similar items.

He had also been paying attention to the auction house.

in the past month, he had only found one item with the word 'mysterious' on it.

It was the mission he was currently working on, the broken ring.

As for the rest, Zhang Shan had never seen them again. It could be seen how rare these things were.

It was simply a rare encounter.

One must know that Zhang Shan's luck was as high as 9. Even so, he had not been able to obtain any similar items.

Not to mention divine weapons and quest items, he had not even managed to get any divine materials.

out of the five mysterious materials he had used this time, only one had dropped from the demonic priest, the first time he had killed a red BOSS by himself.

The other four divine materials had all been obtained through the auction house.

the drop rate of this kind of item was too low. zhang shan even had a wild guess.

In the entire game, it was still uncertain if there was a third mysterious item.

it must be known that the number of players in the new world was already close to 200 million.

There were so many players, but in more than a month, no one had managed to get a divine artifact.

One could imagine the difficulty of this.

Moreover, even if he could get his hands on a similar item, it was another question as to whether he would be able to trigger a mission.

just like zhang shan, he had to run around for five days before he finally met an qisheng and triggered the mission.

This also required a lot of luck.

before he triggered the mission, an qisheng was a beggar.

The beggars didn't have a fixed residence and were wandering around.

To be more precise, it was a moving NPC. He didn't appear at a fixed location.

It wasn't easy for players to encounter him.

This time, Zhang Shan's luck was still considered good. If there was a next time, he might not have such luck again.

in that case, doesn't that mean that we can get divine artifacts as long as we can get an item with the word 'mysterious' on it? "

One of the big bosses in the Guild asked Zhang Shan.

it's hard to say. I triggered the divine weapon mission through this method, but I can't be sure that items with mysterious characters will definitely trigger the mission.

you've already triggered it twice, so it should be an effective way. I just don't know where to get the mysterious item.

"Yeah, if brother divine weapon didn't mention it, I wouldn't even know that such an item exists."

why haven't I seen any mystery items before? my luck isn't low either.

you're talking nonsense. If you can get your hands on a mystery item, then you can get your hands on a divine weapon too. What are you thinking? "

"Oh heavens, please bestow me with a mysterious item."

you're thinking too much. You might as well ask the heavens for a divine weapon. It's more practical and you don't have to waste your energy on missions.

"Hehe, I'm just thinking about it."

" let's take it slow. now that we finally know how the divine weapon came about, at least we won't miss the opportunity if we encounter it in the future. "

that's true. Otherwise, I'm afraid that if I get my hands on a mysterious item, I might not notice it and dispose of it like garbage.

by the way, have you guys ever gotten any mystery items before? think about it carefully. You didn't dispose of them like garbage, did you? "

" no, how could that be? even if i don't know its use, i'll just put it in the warehouse first. how could i dispose of it like garbage? "

Zhang Shan had only told them the first step. As for what was needed after that, he did not tell them in detail.

For example, when repairing a divine artifact, divine materials would be needed.

They did not ask Zhang Shan about this, so Zhang Shan would definitely not tell them.

He still wanted to collect more divine materials.

The five divine materials he had collected before had all been used up in this mission.

The next time he wanted to make a divine artifact, he would have to collect divine materials again.

This thing was also very difficult to get.

The chances of them dropping it on their own were not high. The key was to buy it from the auction house.

He had to count on the other players to help.

No matter how high his luck was, it couldn't compare to the drop of 100 to 200 million people in the game.

The auction house was the key to Zhang Shan's collection of divine materials. This secret had to be kept as long as possible.

He wanted him to collect more, not to mention store more goods to trade with others in the future.

It would be good even if he kept it for his own use in the future.

Perhaps divine materials could be used for other purposes other than repairing divine artifacts.

Zhang Shan had to find a way to get more of this.

Chapter 170 the ferocious monsters

Zhang Shan was not someone who could keep secrets. This time, he revealed the key to the mission of obtaining the divine weapon.

He didn't regret it. The big shots in the Guild had helped him a lot.

Especially Feng Yun realm and wind cloud blade, they treated him well.

Perhaps it was because he was powerful in the game.

The big bosses in the wind and cloud Guild wanted to rope him in, which was why they were so good to him.

However, no matter what the reason was.

these big shots were good to him. it was fine as long as this was true.

Although Zhang Shan was usually just a bystander in the Guild, that was because he did not want to be too involved in the Guild's Affairs.

His way of repaying the Guild was to contribute a little more when the Guild had an event.

anyway, there was no harm in participating in guild activities.

Whether it was fighting bosses, clearing Dungeons, or fighting Guild Wars with other guilds.

As long as he could succeed, he would be able to gain a lot.

for example, when he was fighting a boss, even if he was unlucky and did not roll for an equipment, he would still roll for it.

However, just sharing the boss's exp was already a pretty good harvest.

The experience he gained from killing a boss was much more than what he gained from killing monsters.

If they were lucky, they could even get one or two pieces of equipment, which would be even better.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had also brought boss Wu along. So far, boss Wu had already gotten quite a few pieces of equipment.

As for skill points, he had also earned quite a bit.

If they didn't join any guilds, they wouldn't be able to take down many bosses by themselves.

As for obtaining the first kill of the BOSS and obtaining skill points, that was even more difficult.

Moreover, there were many brothers in the Guild. he was also full of confidence. when he could beat them, he didn't have to be afraid of revenge.

When he couldn't win, he would call his brothers for help.

Playing games meant having more brothers.

No matter how strong a person was, there was nothing to worry about in a real PK.

No matter how good his Kung Fu was, he was still afraid of a vegetable knife.

Under the random chopping of the vegetable knife, even the strongest person would fall.

Just like before, Zhang Shan, wind and cloud blade, and boss Wu had been blocked by the Dragon of West Mountain.

It was Feng Yun realm who brought his men over to help them out.

this time, i'll tell them the key to obtaining a divine weapon. i'll treat it as a repayment to them.

” let’s go. let’s clear the dungeon first. we’re going to clear extreme mode this time. maybe the strongmen commander will be generous and drop me a mysterious item.”

f * ck, that’s making my heart itch. Hurry up and enter the dungeon.

feng yun realm formed a party and chose the extreme mode difficulty. everyone began to enter the second floor of the demon subduing platform.

don’t move. Let’s get into formation first. We’ll pick up the monsters at the entrance. The monsters in extreme mode are too strong. Don’t let your guard down and let them all die.

Feng Yun realm loudly reminded everyone after they entered the dungeon.

The monsters in extreme mode were all in berserk mode.

To these Guild bosses, most of them had no problems and could handle it.

The key was that the monsters in extreme mode didn’t follow the rules.

When they saw players, they would swarm over and attack them.

If they didn’t get into formation, they really wouldn’t be able to hold on, not even Zhang Shan’s Panda baby.

Think about it, there were dozens or even hundreds of berserk elite monsters attacking at the same time.

Who could withstand this?

If there were a large number of monsters, their damage would not be much weaker than the boss’s. In fact, they might even be much stronger.

Not to mention, the monsters in extreme mode were all in a berserk state.

Both attack power and attack speed would be greatly increased.

That would be even more difficult. They had to get into formation and assign tasks.

Which Guardian would tank in which direction, and which support would focus on which Guardian to heal.

after all these arrangements were made, they could start to go up and fight the monsters.

“The tanks will split into eight directions. The seven Guardian Warriors will each defend one direction. Six-barreled Bodhisattva’s Panda baby will defend one direction. Pull all the attacking monsters. Support, pay attention to healing them.”

Feng Yun realm arranged the formation and Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby to act as a meat shield.

Everyone else was protected inside and just had to focus on dealing damage, even if there were a few monsters that were not blocked.

It didn’t matter much as long as the number of monsters that passed through wasn’t too high.

These brittleskin could hold on for a while, and then they would be quickly cleared.

“Guard your positions and advance to receive the monsters.”

After the formation was set up, the 50-man team slowly approached the monsters in front of them.

The monsters that had been wandering around immediately charged at them after seeing them.

Two to three hundred of them rushed over at once.

“ASIBA, why are there so many of them at once? can we hold on?”

don't f * cking talk nonsense. Clear the monsters quickly.

zhang shan did not hesitate and quickly took out the scroll to use it.

The fifty people present were immediately covered in a Halo of light, flowing light in all directions, very beautiful.

Enhanced diamond scroll increased defense by 100%, and it was an AoE effect.

it had a duration of 30 minutes, and its effects were extremely powerful. it was practically made specifically for dealing with the berserk monsterlings in the dungeon.

haha, these monsters aren't that strong. Each time they hit me, I don't even have 1000 hp. I can take it.

secretary feng yun said with a satisfied expression as he fought against five or six monsters.

f * ck, pay attention to healing me. Why do I have more than ten monsters on my side? I can't hold on much longer.

One of The Guardian Warriors was a little unlucky. There were more than ten monsters surrounding him at the same time.

Each of them dealt a few hundred damage to him, and more than ten of them could deal nearly 10000 damage to him at once.

moreover, after these monsters went berserk, their attack speed was particularly fast. if not for the guardian warrior's high hp, they would have been able to attack at a very high speed.

It was really hard to hold on.

trash, you're a Guardian warrior. Why can't you even handle a few monsters? ”

“F * ck, it's easier said than done. Are these small monsters? These are elite monsters, and they're all berserk. Can't you see?”

“I saw it. but i only see the panda baby. it's very easy and the support doesn't have to heal it too much.”

There weren't many monsters surrounding the Panda baby, only three or four. Each time the monsters hit the Panda baby, the damage they dealt was less than 700.

Even if he didn't need to heal himself, he would still be able to deal this much damage. Even a panda baby could hold on for a long time.

The monsters' attack wasn't even, but they couldn't adjust their formation anymore.

the eight tanks in the front line each guarded one side, each pulling a different number of monsters.

If they changed positions, they would miss a lot of monsters and no one would be able to pull them.

In that case, brittleskin, who was dealing damage inside, would be in a bit of danger.

Therefore, even if The Guardian Warriors in the front row were to fall, they had to hold on at the front.

If too many small monsters were missed, it would be a complete mess.
