

Passive Skills 211

Chapter 211 Assemble and set off

Since they were going to snatch it, of course, they could not rely on Zhang Shan alone. They called for wind and cloud blade.

brother one blade, we found a good place. There are level 50 monsters without the Holy demon's protection, and they still give us a lot of exp. Quickly bring some people over to fight for territory.

"What's the situation? Was there such a monster in The Map of Heaven's Gate? Don't all the monsters here have the Holy demon's protection?"

I don't know about the other places, but there are no monsters here. There are only Tiger monsters here, and they don't have the Holy demon's protection.

"F * ck, are there still beast-shaped monsters here? I thought they were all demon fighters. What's the situation now? have they been occupied by others?"

it's the West Mountain Guild of the state of Qi. They're the group of people who fought with us before.

Oh, then there's nothing to say. F * cking snatch.

The West Mountain Guild had wanted to snatch their map before. Now that the wind cloud Guild had taken it back, it was quite fair.

Windcloud blade was as calm as water. He just needed to snatch it.

this map is extremely large. It can accommodate millions of players at the same time. There won't be any problems grinding here. Bring more people over.

Zhang Shan reminded one blade of wind and cloud. One should not look down on the West Mountain Guild just because they were weak.

It would be embarrassing if he brought too few people and couldn't beat them up.

that's impossible. How can there be such a large grinding spot in The Map of Heaven's Gate? " wind and cloud blade could not understand.

if it was said that he had not come to the beast king valley, zhang shan would not have believed it.

This was because the monster spawn points he had seen before, whether they were in open areas or hidden areas, were all extremely dangerous.

Most of them could only accommodate tens of thousands of players at a time, grinding in one place.

If there were more people, the monsters would not be enough.

However, beast King Valley was different. It looked like a complete map.

It was huge inside, and Zhang Shan would need half an hour to run even on the red Hare.

Wasn't this big enough?

"Do you have many people from the West Mountain Guild there? Did they call for other reinforcements?"

"I don't know,"

Zhang Shan was not familiar with all of this. After charging through the entrance of the tunnel, he had been checking the map and the situation of the monsters.

As for West Mountain Guild's situation, he had no idea.

alright, send me the coordinates. I'll discuss it with the boss. Let's go and take the territory first.

After Zhang Shan sent the coordinates, he found a place to farm the Tiger monsters.

The people from the wind and cloud Guild were still far away. He didn't want to be alone in front of a Dragon from the West Mountain.

Wouldn't it be troublesome if he were to provoke them and they came after him with thousands of people?

Although he could ride his horse away, there was no need to do so now.

This place was quite Far From Heaven's Gate pass if they ran on their two short legs.

It would take at least an hour to run from the city gate of Heaven's Gate to here. He really didn't know how the people of West Mountain Guild found this place.

Zhang Shan estimated that from the position of blade of wind and cloud and the others, it would take them about an hour to get here.

There was no rush now. He would farm some monsters first.

In any case, the West Mountain was the only Dragon that should be anxious.

we've already set off. Other than a few thousand people guarding the previous farming point, the other 40000 or so people are here.

Not long after, wind and cloud blade said to Zhang Shan.

"You guys take your time. It's quite far. I'll kill some monsters first."

be careful not to get killed by the West Mountain Guild.

"Don't worry, they're all standing guard near the entrance of the passage. I'll go and harass them when you're almost here."

Zhang Shan was not worried that Feng Yun realm and the rest would not be able to rush in, even though the entrance was very narrow.

Generally speaking, if a few dozen people were placed on guard, it would be difficult for the people outside to rush in.

However, don't forget that the wind and cloud Guild had three ultimate skills.

In front of the ultimate skill, they were all trash.

Even Zhang Shan did not dare to take the damage from the ultimate skill, let alone others.

One ultimate skill could clear a large area, and with three skills, no matter how many people West Mountain Guild had to defend, they would be able to do it.

It was of no use.

Over at the wind and cloud Guild, more than 40000 players set off in a grandiose manner, quickly attracting the attention of others.

Of course, that included the Dragon in the West Mountain.

With more than 40000 people moving together, even though The Map of Heaven's Gate was large enough, it was impossible to keep it a secret.

Other than the people involved, the wind and cloud Guild and the West Mountain Guild, no one else knew what had happened.

Heaven's Gate region channel:

...

"What happened? I just saw tens of thousands of players from the wind and cloud Guild. I wonder where they are going?"

"did they find another big BOSS?"

it's possible. I have to follow them and take a look. Maybe I can pick up something.

"You're really bold. Do you have the ability to snatch food from a Tiger's mouth?"

"Can't I just go and take a look?"

"Alright, be careful. Don't get swept back by others. Hehe."

The wind and cloud Guild was fully mobilized. The group of onlookers didn't know what was going on and thought that they were going to fight the BOSS.

In fact, this was just a normal guess.

normally, other than large-scale chaotic battles, the only time that so many people were needed was when dealing with an ultimate BOSS.

Usually, there was no need for so many people.

However, the West Mountain Dragon knew very well that the wind and cloud Guild was definitely not going to fight the BOSS.

...

They were here to snatch their territory.

“boss, what should we do? the wind and cloud guild is really coming, and they’ve sent over 40000 players. can we stop them?”

yeah, there are so many people in the wind and cloud Guild. We don’t seem to be able to hold them off. Should we get someone to come over and help? ”

“last time, so many people came to help us. this time, as long as we call out on the national channel, there will definitely be more coming.”

When the Guild members saw the Dragon of the West Mountain, they thought that he was afraid that he would not be able to call for help.

In fact, West Mountain Bulong was not worried at all that he would not be able to call for help.

however, the situation this time was different. this time, they were the ones defending their territory.

What if others wanted to farm here too?

He couldn’t just chase them away, could he? besides, he had scammed peerless the last time.

This time, no matter what, it was impossible for them to come and help them for free, unless the Dragon of the West Mountain was willing to give up the map of beast King Valley.

If that was the case, why would they need their help? wouldn’t it be the same if they just gave it to the wind and cloud Guild?

“Let’s not call for reinforcements. We’ll defend ourselves. There’s no reason we can’t defend such a good defensive terrain.”

The Dragon of the West Mountain was very confident in guarding this place.

It was such a narrow passage. As long as they set up a line of defense outside the passage, they would be able to escape.

If one came out, they would kill one. If a group came out, they would kill a group. They focused on the more people there were, the less they attacked.

it didn’t make sense that they couldn’t defend it.

When the wind cloud Guild attacked the entrance of the passage, only a few people could pass through at a time.

As long as they rushed out, they would have to face the attack of a large group of West Mountain guild members.

Normally speaking, no one would be able to withstand it.

The Dragon of the West Mountain was very confident in defending the beast King Valley.

Chapter 212-let’s run first

West Mountain Dragon's worry, wind and cloud Guild's attack, and all sorts of speculations from the outside world.

Zhang Shan did not even pay attention to it. He was happily farming monsters.

It had to be said that the monsters without the Holy demon's protection were really easy to farm.

Although these demonized forest Tigers were level 50, they had a three-tier level suppression effect on Zhang Shan.

however, each of zhang shan's shots could still deal more than 7000 damage.

If boss Wu's attack blessing was added, the damage of each attack could almost break 10000.

The demonized Tiger of the forest had 23000 HP.

Three or four shots could kill a monster, if boss Wu's attack blessing was added.

Maybe two shots, or at most three shots would be enough.

These Tiger monsters were level 50, so they gave much more exp than level 40 monsters.

in a situation where there was no one to share the experience with, a tiger gave him thousands of experience.

On average, Zhang Shan could defeat a Tiger in about two seconds, earning 1050 experience points.

30,000 experience points per minute, that was close to 2000000 experience points per hour. This leveling speed was amazing.

If he farmed here for two more days, he would be able to reach level 32.

his leveling speed was even faster than when he was in his twenties. it was simply unbelievable.

from this, one could see how important a good grinding spot was.

He had to snatch this place over.

Zhang Shan had made up his mind. Even if the wind and cloud Guild could not snatch it, he would stay here alone to farm.

He couldn't let go of such a good opportunity to farm monsters.

He believed that the Dragon of West Mountain wouldn't give up this place so easily. Their wind and cloud Guild had to be prepared to fight with West Mountain Guild for a long time.

Feng Yun realm led his guild members and quickly headed over. The West Mountain guild members were also waiting for them.

As for the other onlookers, they slowly learned the truth of the matter. It turned out that the wind and cloud Guild was going to compete with the West Mountain Guild for territory.

Then there was nothing to see.

Speaking of which, when Heaven's Gate had just opened, the guilds had been fighting for the farming spots, and it had been quite intense.

However, as time passed, everyone slowly went to their own territories to farm monsters.

Very few people would snatch other people's territory.

After all, there were many farming spots in the Heaven's Gate map.

The only difference was that some places were safe as long as some people blocked the entrance.

The rest of them could farm monsters in peace.

However, there were only a few of these grinding spots, and most players would just find a more remote place.

As for safety, it all depended on how vigilant he was.

Once the relatively safe farming spots were occupied, it would be difficult to snatch them again.

after all, as long as they put tens or hundreds of people on the defense, they could forget about fighting in from the outside.

In the past, their wind and cloud Guild had defended like this. Even with unparalleled gentleman leading tens of thousands of players, they had not been able to break in.

"Why does wind and cloud Guild want to snatch West Mountain Guild's farming spot? Don't they have their own farming spots?"

who knows? maybe he's been farming monsters for a long time, so he's out for some exercise.

"What are you saying? is there a need to snatch other people's territory when we're out for a bit of activity? This doesn't make any sense."

maybe it's revenge. The West Mountain Guild already had the idea of snatching their farming spot, but they didn't manage to.

"That's right, it should be revenge."

"Do you know what's the situation at the West Mountain Guild's farming spot? Will the wind and cloud Guild be able to snatch it?"

that's hard to say. Since the wind cloud Guild has sent out such a large force, they should be confident.

sigh, the second divine weapon of six-pipe Bodhisattva has been born. He's going to sacrifice the West Mountain Guild to his flag, hehe.

The wind and cloud Guild's Army was approaching, and the West Mountain Guild could only wait there. The problem was that the wind and cloud Guild was quite far away. It would take nearly an hour to get there.

many of the west mountain guild members were getting impatient.

"Boss, are we just going to wait here?"

“Then what else can we do? do you still want to go and farm monsters?”

A Dragon in the West Mountain was also very annoying, but there was no other way. What else could he do if he didn't wait?

Who knew when the people from wind and cloud Guild would arrive? they said it would take an hour, but what if they suddenly ran faster?

“Why don't we send some of our people to encircle and annihilate six-barreled Bodhisattva? we have nothing to do anyway,” that's right, the main culprit is six tube Bodhisattva. If he hadn't barged in, there wouldn't have been so much trouble. Let's take care of him first? ”

how are we going to deal with him? six-barreled Bodhisattva is riding a horse at lightning speed. We can't catch up to him at all. If he doesn't want to fight us, we can't do anything to him.

The Dragon of the West Mountain was also helpless. Why did this damn mount system have a level limit?

...

Now, only Zhang Shan had a horse to ride. The others had to rely on their short legs to run. It was too unfair.

don't worry about him running away on his horse. Let's find his position first, then form a large encirclement from a distance. There are so many people here, let's see where he can run to.

“That's right, so what if you ride a horse? We have more people, so we can force our way through and defeat six-barreled Bodhisattva.”

The Dragon of the West Mountain said after thinking for a while.

alright, then. Half of you will go and encircle six-barreled Bodhisattva. I'll continue to guard this place with the rest.

He was mainly afraid of the wind and cloud Guild. They might be using some kind of bewitching tactic. Those 40000 players looked like a mighty force.

In fact, some people had already set off in advance.

This was because the timing of the wind and cloud Guild's departure was not quite right.

About half an hour after Zhang Shan had rushed into the beast King Valley, there was finally movement from the wind cloud Guild.

This clearly didn't make sense.

If the wind and cloud Guild wanted to snatch the territory, they would have set off long ago.

...

In fact, the Dragon of the West Mountain did not know that Zhang Shan had only done so after he had investigated the map of beast King Valley.

Only then did he inform the other guild members.

This caused Feng Yun realm and the others to leave much later.

The Dragon of the West Mountain was not aware of this situation, and he was still very worried.

As for the other impatient guild members, they had no choice but to personally guard the entrance.

Let them surround Zhang Shan. There was no need for so many people to guard the entrance anyway.

Zhang Shan was currently happily farming monsters. Seeing his experience increase, he was very happy.

It seemed that leveling up wasn't that difficult.

It would probably only take a month for him to reach level 40.

He was leveling up faster and faster, and it felt really good.

Just as Zhang Shan was feeling great, he suddenly saw a few West Mountain guild members in the distance.

What? What are these people from the West Mountain Guild doing? are they coming to find trouble with me?

Are they not guarding the entrance anymore? It was so weird.

Zhang Shan did not understand the actions of the West Mountain guild members.

However, he still immediately stopped farming monsters, rode on the red Hare, and ran away first.

He was alone now, while the West Mountain Guild had tens of thousands of people. He didn't want to be surrounded by a large group of people and beaten to death.

Let's run first.

Chapter 213 encirclement

When Zhang Shan saw the West Mountain Guild's people appear, he immediately rode his horse and ran.

Now was not the time to fight them head-on. He had to wait for the main forces of wind and cloud Guild to arrive first.

if he were to die, no one would be able to revive him.

zhang shan didn't know how many people from the west mountain guild had come. he instinctively chose to run away from the entrance of the passage.

However, he had only run a few steps when he discovered a large group of people from the West Mountain Guild in front of him.

It was pressing down on him from the other side.

'F * ck, did I choose the wrong direction? should I try another direction? he can run fast on a horse anyway.'

No, there should be people in all four directions, and they were all about the same. Even the direction away from the passage entrance.

If it was a large group of people, then there should be more people on the side closer to the passageway.

whatever, he couldn't hesitate now. if he really let the west mountain guild's people surround him from all sides ...

Then he really wouldn't be able to escape.

Although there were many enemies, there were only a few hundred of them. however, there were even more west mountain guild members around him, and they were currently surrounding him.

In order to prevent him from riding away, the West Mountain Guild had put in a lot of effort this time.

Zhang Shan had no other choice. He immediately dismounted and charged straight ahead.

To him, he could not afford to waste time. The longer he delayed, the more disadvantageous it would be for him. He could only break through the encirclement quickly.

Only then would he be able to break out of the encirclement. As long as he could rush out, there would be no problem.

When there was no one to stop him, he rode very fast and no one could catch up to him.

However, Zhang Shan was now being blocked.

If he were to ride a horse at this time, he would be courting death.

The current Red Hare was not a battle Mount, so it could not ride on a horse to battle.

In other words, when Zhang Shan was riding a horse, he could not attack others.

However, others could attack him if they were intercepted.

If he still dared to ride on a horse, all kinds of speed reduction and stun skills would kill him directly.

The West Mountain Guild's people had surrounded him from all sides, not wanting him to escape on his horse.

if zhang shan wanted to leave, he had to first break through the defense line of west mountain guild in one direction.

These people from West Mountain Guild were quite sinister.

Zhang Shan was furious. Did they really think that if he did not ride a horse, he would be a pushover?

After getting off the horse, Zhang Shan looked at his status. His health was full, and his battle intent skill had been stacked to 50%.

It could last for another five to six minutes. F * ck him up.

Zhang Shan did not retreat, nor did he change his direction. He directly charged towards the West Mountain guild members in the front.

did they really think that a few hundred people would be able to take him down? They were looking down on his divine equipment and passive skills.

The two sides quickly approached each other, and the West Mountain guild members from the other three directions also quickly surrounded them.

When he was within attack range, Zhang Shan quickly opened fire and knocked down the West Mountain guild members who were at the forefront.

hurry up and use meteor arrow and stun. We can't let six-barreled Bodhisattva deal stable damage. His attack power and attack speed are too strong.

Countless meteor arrows were shot towards Zhang Shan. Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to block in front.

He didn't plan to activate the berserk skill, as it was his last life-saving skill.

He would not hand it over easily and would try his best to avoid the meteor arrows.

More than a dozen meteor arrows landed on the Panda baby's body, directly taking half of its HP.

zhang shan had no time to care about the panda baby's state. anyway, the pet could be recalled at any time.

After avoiding the first round of meteor arrows, Zhang Shan continued forward.

The hand cannon kept firing bullets, relying on its long range and terrifying attack speed.

A large number of West Mountain guild members were defeated by Zhang Shan.

" this won't do. continue shooting meteor arrows, but don't shoot them all at once. it's fine if you can't stun six-barreled bodhisattva, but you have to interfere with his output. " zhang shan's explosive damage output had directly shocked the west mountain guild.

If they let Zhang Shan continue to deal damage at such a steady rate, their few hundred people would not even be enough for Zhang Shan to fight for two to three minutes.

The West Mountain Guild's people changed their strategy and shot out a few meteor arrows each time, forcing Zhang Shan to Dodge.

It seriously interfered with his output space.

however, zhang shan was not panicking at all. to be honest, he was completely confident that he could take care of these few hundred people.

However, more people were approaching from the other three directions.

He had to break out of the encirclement before the enemies from the other three directions arrived.

He had to think of a way to get rid of the enemy as soon as possible.

Zhang Shan did not have to think for long before he thought of a solution.

...

He had to expose a flaw and let the people of West Mountain Guild think that he was about to die and attack him together.

Then, he would go all out and instantly clear these people out, and he could safely escape.

As for how to expose the flaws without leaving any traces, it was a little particular.

Zhang Shan purposely went around the Panda baby, charging left and right, even though the speed of the hand Cannon's bullets did not decrease.

However, he did not charge forward.

It gave people the feeling that he couldn't move anymore and was being restrained by the West Mountain Guild.

hurry up, six-barreled Bodhisattva is done for. So what if it's a divine weapon? we're going to take it down anyway.

"Let's attack together and chop him to death with our random blades,"

Zhang Shan specifically chose to attack those who had stun skills. As for those teams that had already closed in, they would be attacked by Zhang Shan.

He chose to let it go.

The current Zhang Shan was no longer the same as before. With his current 13% lifesteal effect, he was no longer the same as before.

...

In addition to his terrifying attack power and attack speed.

Even if there were more than ten vegetable knives cutting him at the same time. The speed at which he lost HP was not as fast as the speed at which he absorbed it.

He focused his attacks on classes that might have stun skills, such as ice mages and thieves.

As for the archers, he didn't care if they were a little far away. In any case, the other party had already released many rounds of meteor arrows.

There shouldn't be many archers left with the meteor arrow skill.

After Zhang Shan had knocked down a large number of people, the West Mountain guild members surrounded Zhang Shan.

let's attack together. Let's see where you can run to this time. So what if you have a divine weapon? so what if you ride a horse? let's kill him.

Zhang Shan observed his surroundings carefully. The people from the other three directions would need some time to rush over.

The members of West Mountain Guild had already swarmed forward. When they were close enough to charge, they were already in the middle of the battle.

One by one, the Warriors used their charge skill on Zhang Shan.

all sorts of speed reduction effects caused zhang shan's current movement speed to be as slow as a snail.

Zhang Shan saw that the situation was about right. He activated fanaticism, increasing his attack speed by 100% for six seconds.

In an instant, Zhang Shan's hand cannon shot out a line of fire.

The various long-range classes that were preparing to cast skills at him were instantly knocked down by him.

And the warrior class that had already charged to Zhang Shan's side was waving a vegetable knife and cutting him non-stop.

However, even with the vegetable knife, Zhang Shan did not lose any health.

Chapter 214 A one-man battle

After activating the fanatic skill, under Zhang Shan's super high attack speed, the West Mountain guild members on the field were getting fewer and fewer.

And the people who were slashing at Zhang Shan with their vegetable knives were on the verge of collapse.

"What is this? Why can't we cut down six-barreled Bodhisattva?"

"he's able to cut it, and he's able to deal damage every time he attacks. however, six-barreled bodhisattva's hp has never decreased. it's so weird, is there a bug?"

did this guy use a health-locking hack? damn it, I'll report him later.

The vampirism effect could not be seen from the outside, and would only be displayed on Zhang Shan's health bar.

When his HP was not full, every time he attacked, lifesteal would fill up his HP bar.

Hence, the people of West Mountain Guild could not understand what was going on with Zhang Shan.

After all, no lifesteal skill had been seen in the game yet. As for equipment with lifesteal effects, they were very rare.

Not everyone had seen it before. The Warriors of the West Mountain Guild had never seen the lifesteal effect in the New World.

Under Zhang Shan's fierce attacks, the West Mountain Guild's people were gradually cleared out by him or had run far away.

They were afraid. With so many hundreds of people surrounding Zhang Shan, more than half of them had actually been defeated.

If they didn't run, they would die.

As for the dozen or so Warriors around him, they couldn't run even if they wanted to.

They were right beside Zhang Shan. If they were to turn around and leave, they would probably not be able to run far.

They would all be defeated by Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan did not have time to be polite with them. He still had to quickly defeat these people and run away on his horse.

The enemies from the other three directions were about to surround them.

After beating up the dozen or so Warriors around him, Zhang Shan quickly rode away on his horse, running far away.

He would take it slow and figure out the general location of the West Mountain guild members in beast King Valley before considering his next move.

After scanning the surroundings, Zhang Shan came to the vicinity of the passageway and confirmed the approximate location of the West Mountain guild members.

He wasn't a person who would take a beating and not fight back. Just now, he was almost set up by the people of the West Mountain Guild again.

Originally, he just wanted to farm some monsters. As for fighting, he would wait until Feng Yun realm and the others arrived.

Now that the people of the West Mountain Guild didn't let him farm monsters in peace, there was no need to say anything.

When Zhang Shan appeared near the entrance of the passage, the dragon in the West Mountain was stunned.

Didn't they send half of their men to attack Zhang Shan? What was Zhang Shan doing here?

"Didn't you guys go to annihilate the six tube Bodhisattva? Why is he at the entrance of the passageway?"

The Dragon of the West Mountain asked in the Guild channel.

"We didn't surround him. He ran away and we're still looking for him. Did he go to your side?"

“Should we attack together and attack from the front and back to finish off six-barreled Bodhisattva first?”

A Dragon from the West Mountain was a little eager to try.

That’s right, Zhang Shan was already in front of him, and it just so happened that there were many people here.

In addition, the people who had surrounded Zhang Shan earlier were now rushing over from behind. There was absolutely a chance to defeat Zhang Shan.

When a Dragon in the West Mountain was still struggling.

Zhang Shan did not give them a chance, and immediately rode away.

He had come here to confirm the location of the other West Mountain guild members.

After that, he would consider how to play with them.

There was no need to wait for Feng Yun realm and the others. Zhang Shan decided to slowly play with the West Mountain Guild for a while.

Since he wasn’t allowed to farm monsters, he had to exercise a little.

After Zhang Shan circled around the passageway, he rode his horse back to the vicinity of the battle.

Previously, the West Mountain Guild had a few hundred people knocked down by Zhang Shan. Now, their support classes were arranging for the resurrection of the fallen.

There were a lot of people who had been knocked down by Zhang Shan just now. The West Mountain Guild did not have that many support classes with resurrection skills.

As a result, the support players who had used up their resurrection skills could only wait for their skills to cool down before resurrecting a second player.

Zhang Shan observed from afar and realized that those who had been resurrected did not stay for long before leaving.

Only the support classes and the players lying on the ground were left behind.

This was an opportunity to take down this group of Auxiliary members of West Mountain Guild and see how they could play.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly rushed over on his horse. He got down from the horse and fired a shot, shouting in one go.

before the west mountain guild’s people could even react, one by one, the support classes were beaten down by zhang shan.

f * ck, six-pipe Bodhisattva is with us. Someone come and help us!

The support of West Mountain Guild no longer had the time to save the Guild members lying on the ground.

After Zhang Shan reappeared, they immediately scattered and fled in all directions.

Zhang Shan would not let them escape so easily. He chased after them one by one on his horse. When he caught up with one, he dismounted and fired.

...

auxiliary professions were really fragile. zhang shan did not even need a second shot to hit people. they were all killed in one shot.

Zhang Shan got off his horse and fired a shot. Then, he got on his horse and chased after the next person. The entire movement was as smooth as floating clouds and flowing water. He was extremely skilled.

The West Mountain guild members in the distance, after hearing that Zhang Shan had attacked their support profession, were shocked.

They all felt like they were going crazy. Weren't they the ones who were surrounding Zhang Shan? Why did it seem like Zhang Shan was surrounding them?

One person to annihilate their entire Guild?

"hurry up and go support the support. without the support, what's the point of fighting?"

what happened just now? why wasn't there anyone protecting the support? " other than six-pipe Bodhisattva, everyone else on the map is our Guild's people. Who knew he'd still dare to come? "

Xishan's Dragon felt like he was going crazy. The people from the wind and cloud Guild had not even arrived, and Zhang Shan alone had already caused a mess.

Now, many of their supporting vocations had been defeated by Zhang Shan. They were practically vomiting blood.

" revive the support on the ground first. don't worry about the others. what's the point of playing without a support later? "

...

Zhang Shan's wave of sneak attacks did not really knock down many of West Mountain Guild's support classes.

At most, they had only knocked down a few dozen people. Compared to the entire West Mountain Guild, which had one or two thousand support members, the loss was not big.

however, zhang shan's actions had hurt their morale.

After seeing a large number of West Mountain guild members appear, Zhang Shan quickly turned his horse around and ran.

he didn't want to fight them head-on, and he didn't want to be surrounded and annihilated by the west mountain guild again.

If there was an opportunity, they would launch a sneak attack. If there was no opportunity, they would ride their horses around and make the people of the West Mountain Guild suffer.

“What do we do now? Are we still going to encircle and annihilate six-pipe Bodhisattva?”

After West Mountain Guild gathered everyone near the entrance of the passage, they were all a little sullen.

What was going on? their Guild of tens of thousands of people was actually being held back by Zhang Shan alone.

In fact, that was really the case. Under Zhang Shan’s threat, when they were few in number, they did not dare to move around casually.

If they were to accidentally bump into Zhang Shan, a surprise attack and a few shots would be enough to kill them.

They were completely at a loss for words.

Chapter 215 arrival

The West Mountain Guild had been completely defeated by Zhang Shan. They all hid at the entrance of the passage.

It wasn’t to say that they had tens of thousands of people and couldn’t deal with Zhang Shan.

It was because they could not split up. If they did, they would be ambushed by Zhang Shan.

Since they had to stay together, they might as well stay at the entrance of the passage.

In any case, the people from the wind and cloud Guild were about to arrive.

zhang shan rode his horse around aimlessly, but he did not find another target to ambush.

However, he couldn’t go and farm monsters. What if the West Mountain Guild came to attack him again when he was farming monsters?

That would be troublesome. He wouldn’t be so lucky to be able to escape every time.

There were no monsters to farm, and no players to deal with. Zhang Shan felt quite bored, so he went to the entrance of the passage from time to time to show off.

In the beginning, the Dragon of West Mountain was still very angry. Zhang Shan had not taken them seriously.

Their entire Guild, with tens of thousands of people gathered together, Zhang Shan still dared to come and provoke them.

it was simply intolerable. every time zhang shan appeared near the passageway, the dragon of the west mountain would arrange for a group of people to chase him away.

Although Zhang Shan was riding a horse and they could not catch up, they could not let him stay here to disgust them, right?

However, every time they came out to chase Zhang Shan away, there would always be people who were not careful and were too far away from the main group.

Zhang Shan had sneaked an attack on them and knocked down a few.

Later on, when Zhang Shan came near the entrance of the passage, the people of the West Mountain Guild chose to ignore him. They were all Buddhist.

You can't beat them with a few people, and when there are many people, they won't fight you, and they won't be able to catch up.

They could only hope that the people from the wind and cloud Guild would come quickly and have a decisive battle to determine whether they were Dead or Alive.

Even if they lost in the end and the wind and cloud Guild took their territory, it would be better than this torture.

The Dragon of the West Mountain was very regretful now. He should have called for backup in the beginning.

He had no confidence in defending beast King Valley.

One Zhang Shan was enough to make them feel like they were about to die. There were also more than 40000 people from the wind and cloud Guild.

How could they defend it?

the problem was that time was running out. even if he called for backup now, it would be too late.

the beast king valley was quite far from heaven's gate, and it would take more than an hour to get there.

The people from the wind and cloud Guild had already set off for more than half an hour and would probably be here soon.

If they called for reinforcements now, how could they be in a hurry?

Besides, it was too unreasonable to ask for help without even fighting a battle. He should at least fight with the wind and cloud Guild.

Zhang Shan was riding his horse, wandering around from time to time. At this time, wind and cloud blade called out.

"Brother Liu Guan, how's the situation over there? you didn't die, right? we're almost there."

"I'm not dead. I can run fast. They can't do anything to me."

"Can you tell how the West Mountain Guild is defending? They didn't call for backup, did they?"

how else can they defend? they're just a group of people guarding the entrance. I don't see anyone else, so they probably didn't call for help.

"They're all at the passageway entrance? The entire Guild has over 10000 players?"

Wind and cloud blade was a little strange. The entrance of the passage did not need so many people to guard it, right?

The entire Guild had tens of thousands of players. It was a bit exaggerated.

yes, they're all here. There's no one else. I've walked around a few times.

"They let you wander around like this, didn't they cause any trouble?"

what the hell? they're just sending themselves to their deaths even if they don't have many people. I'll run when there's a lot of people. They won't be able to catch up.

"Alright, riding a horse is so capricious. I'll be able to ride a horse soon, hehe."

As time passed, more and more people were about to reach rank 30.

Perhaps after a few days, horse riding would no longer be Zhang Shan's exclusive right. He would no longer have the advantage.

The wind and cloud Guild was getting closer and closer, and the Dragon of the West Mountain was getting nervous.

"get ready, feng yun realm is about to arrive. surround the entrance of the tunnel and set up a few lines of defense. fire at anyone who comes out."

"Then what about six tube Bodhisattva? He's just walking around behind us, don't we need to care about him?"

arrange a few hundred people to keep an eye on six-barreled Bodhisattva. Follow him wherever he goes. Don't let him come up and cause trouble.

The Dragon of the West Mountain said after thinking for a while.

The most important thing now was to withstand the impact of the wind cloud Guild. As for Zhang Shan.

In any case, he was alone. He could still harass them and cause some damage, but it was impossible for him to attack their formation directly.

Zhang Shan did not have such plans.

In fact, he had no intention of going up to help Feng Yun realm and the others. Currently, the Feng Yun Guild had three ultimate skills.

It would not be a problem to break through the West Mountain Guild's defense and charge into beast King Valley.

...

At this moment, under Feng Yun realm's lead, the 40000 players from the wind cloud Guild finally arrived outside of beast King Valley.

this should be the place. It's a little difficult to charge through such a narrow path.

"it should be here. the coordinates sent by brother divine weapon are here."

Zhang Shan could not see them. He was inside the beast King Valley while Feng Yun realm and the rest were outside the beast King Valley.

All he could do now was to be prepared and wait for Feng Yun realm and the others to destroy West Mountain Guild.

he couldn't do anything else after chasing down the scattered soldiers.

"What's going on? this place is so narrow that only three to five people can enter at a time."

Last time, they were the ones defending, and West Mountain Guild and peerless Guild attacked them, so they didn't feel anything.

This time, it was their turn to attack the other side's defensive line. It felt really difficult.

If only a few people could enter at a time, wouldn't they be instantly crushed the moment they rushed out?

the first group will be led by Cupid, all with Guardian Warriors. After entering, aim at a place with a lot of people and cast the wrath of the stars. Guardian Warriors, think of a way to expand the space outside. There's no need to kill people, just squeeze them a little.

...

that's right. The wrath of the stars can clear out a large space. As long as we occupy this empty space, the people behind us can quickly rush out.

the second group, follow me. I'll take over the third group. We'll use our big moves to clear out some of the people guarding the entrance. Then, we'll keep charging forward and try to mess up their formation. The ones at the back will do the same. Follow them quickly. We don't have to kill them first. As long as enough of our people go in, they won't be able to hold on.

"Alright, let's do that. We have three ultimate skills. If we still can't break in, then we'll be a joke."

don't worry, I think just the wrath of the stars is enough to scare the West Mountain Guild to tears, hehe.

The wind cloud Cupid said proudly.

Among the ultimate skills that had appeared so far, the Archer's wrath of the stars was the strongest.

Ten times the damage for five seconds was a lot. As long as he used his skills, he would be able to kill whoever he saw.

And it was a large area in seconds.

For example, the invincible slash of heart follows me and the fire rain of Feng Yun realm dealt five times the damage.

Although it also lasted for five seconds, it only dealt five times the instant damage.

they could still hold on for a second or two.

chapter 216 collapse

Feng Yun realm was outside arranging his troops while Zhang Shan was waiting quietly on the beast King Valley map.

Suddenly, the sky darkened, and countless meteors fell toward the entrance of the passage.

F * ck, using a big move at the start? This was not giving West Mountain Guild any chance of survival.

Under the protection of a few Guardian Warriors, the wind cloud Cupid cast the wrath of the stars the moment it rushed out of the tunnel.

They cleared out a large number of West Mountain Guild players near the entrance of the tunnel.

The ultimate skill was really awesome.

Zhang Shan only looked from afar. In the originally dense formation of the West Mountain Guild, there was suddenly a large empty space.

As for the specific situation, Zhang Shan was far away and could not see clearly.

As the defenders, the West Mountain Guild could feel the power of the wrath of the stars more directly.

They were all scared silly.

“What the f * ck, what skill is this? How can he be so strong? he instantly killed over a thousand of our people. What’s the point of fighting?”

this should be the ultimate skill of an Archer. It’s too f * cking strong. We can’t defend against it.

“Don’t panic, they can only use this skill once. Hurry up and press forward to fill in the empty spots.”

The West Mountain Dragon was also stunned by the wrath of the stars, but he quickly reacted.

They had to block the gap immediately. Otherwise, a large group of people from the wind and cloud Guild would soon rush out.

In terms of numbers, they definitely wouldn’t be able to win against the wind and cloud Guild. As long as they filled the gap and continued to suppress the entrance of the passage, they would be able to win.

Otherwise, the wind and cloud Guild would soon push them to the brink of collapse.

Wind cloud Cupid used the wrath of the stars to create an opening, and the wind cloud guild members behind quickly followed.

However, this passage was too narrow. In a few seconds, they couldn’t rush out many people.

Under normal circumstances, as long as there were no other accidents, and the West Mountain Guild was determined to press on.

It was still possible to defend it.

However, the fantasy of a Dragon in the West Mountain was soon broken. He rushed out of the passage with his heart.

an invincible slash was released, and a large number of sword lights swept toward west mountain guild.

It directly created a huge gap in the formation of the West Mountain Guild.

f * ck, they're coming again. They're still defending the basic wave. Let's retreat. Boss, we can't defend it.

The members of West Mountain Guild were already wavering, even though they were still holding on.

However, any rational person would know that they could not hold on to beast King Valley.

The wind cloud Guild's two big moves had wiped out nearly 3000 of their players, throwing their defensive formation into chaos.

There were also a large number of wind and cloud guild members who were quickly entering the beast King Valley map through the passage.

Perhaps after some time, the number of people from the wind cloud Guild who had entered the beast King Valley would be more than the number of people from the West Mountain Guild.

Not to mention, there were even more wind and cloud guild members outside. They could enter at any time.

How were they supposed to defend? they couldn't defend at all.

The Dragon of the West Mountain had also collapsed. He knew that there was no point in continuing to defend.

However, he was still unwilling to give up. They had finally found such an ideal grinding spot.

Was it going to be snatched away by the wind and cloud Guild just like that? He didn't want to give up.

"Hold on a little longer. I'll call for help on the National channel."

The words of the West Mountain Dragon made the other members of their Guild speechless.

There was no rush to call for reinforcements now. By the time they arrived, the cucumbers would have gone cold.

A large number of their players were dying every second, even though there were also many from the wind and cloud Guild.

however, the wind and cloud guild had more than 40000 players. even if they lost 10000 players, they didn't have to worry.

However, the West Mountain Guild couldn't do it. Now, they had one less member, and if they continued, more than half of them would be gone.

It was mainly because the two ultimate skills of the wind and cloud Guild were too ruthless. They had killed nearly 3000 of their players in an instant.

"Boss, let's retreat first. If we lose our territory, we can still get it back. If we all die Here, the losses will be too great."

that's right, boss, let's go first. When the reinforcements are here, we'll take back beast King Valley from the wind cloud Guild.

The members of West Mountain Guild could not see any hope of victory, and all they wanted to do now was to run.

No one wanted to die. If they could avoid dying, of course, it was best not to die. Losing one level of experience was very difficult to level up.

This was especially so now that everyone was about to reach level 30.

if he were to die now, it would take a long time to reach level 30. he was not willing to die.

but if we leave now, what about those people who have already fallen? "

The Dragon of the West Mountain wanted to leave too, but so many people had already fallen. If they ran now, they would be killed.

those who had already fallen to the ground were definitely beyond saving and could only resurrect in the city. losing one level of experience was very damaging.

As the boss of the Guild, West Mountain Dragon didn't want to be seen as an existence that abandoned his brother.

...

"Let our fallen brothers resurrect back in the city. We can't just let them die Here."

that's right. Let's try to escape first. We'll find a place to channel back to the city. Let's save our lives first.

"let's run, boss."

It's always good to have fewer people die. I can't let them all die Here for the sake of Brotherhood.

Under the persuasion of the Guild members, the Dragon of the West Mountain finally relented.

okay, then let's retreat first. We'll split up and retreat. If there's a chance, we'll read the teleportation channel to return to the city.

in fact, as long as the dragon in the west mountain needed a way out, it was everyone who wanted to retreat. it was not that he wanted to abandon his brothers.

The situation was beyond saving, and it was better to save more people.

as soon as nishiyama yitiao gave the order, the rest of the guild members scattered and fled in all directions of beast king valley.

zhang shan rode his horse and strolled around the periphery. he had not found a chance to make a move.

West Mountain Guild had arranged for a few hundred people to follow him closely. As long as he appeared near the passage, these few hundred people would keep a close eye on him.

...

He didn't even have a chance to step forward.

He couldn't directly fight with these hundreds of people, not because he was afraid he couldn't handle them.

It was mainly because West Mountain Guild still had a lot of people.

If the other West Mountain guild members split up to attack him, he would be in for a tragedy.

in any case, the situation was stable now. the wind and cloud guild's two big moves had smashed the defense line of west mountain guild into pieces.

As the number of wind and cloud guild members entering beast King Valley increased, it was likely that the West Mountain Guild would not be able to hold on for long.

As expected, not long after, Zhang Shan suddenly realized that the West Mountain Guild had completely collapsed and was fleeing in all directions.

The hundreds of people who had been staring at him also fled with their heads covered.

F * ck, finally, an opportunity.

Zhang Shan rode on his horse and chased after the members of the West Mountain Guild who were fleeing. He did not chase after them since there were many of them.

They focused on the ones with fewer people, catching up and beating them up.

chapter 217 chase to death

After the collapse of the West Mountain Guild, Zhang Shan quickly chased after them on his horse. The other members of the wind cloud Guild who had already entered the beast King Valley also followed behind.

No one had any intention of letting the West Mountain Guild off. These people were old enemies.

When Heaven's Gate had just opened, the Dragon of the West Mountain had led a group of people and blocked them at the monster-farming spot for a long time.

this time, if he didn't seize the opportunity to make a big mess, he would be letting himself down.

The Dragon of the West Mountain had originally planned for them to escape in different directions.

he could find an opportunity to cast a teleport spell.

However, he soon realized that no matter how they ran, there would always be people from wind and cloud chasing after them.

They didn't give them any time to breathe.

come to me. There's a Dragon in the West Mountain. Come with more people and kill him.

wind and cloud blade carried his axe and chased after the dragon of west mountain. back then, he, zhang shan, and boss wu were the first to be ambushed by the people of west mountain guild.

That was how the battle started. Chou Fengyun's blade had always been in his mind.

Hearing wind cloud blade's call, Zhang Shan quickly turned his horse around and ran towards the location he had marked.

He was a professional when it came to chasing people. This was a Dragon from the West Mountain, and he would not be able to escape this time.

However, the Qi country's peerless Guild had sent reinforcements too quickly, and Zhang Shan and the others were unable to guard the corpse.

The Dragon in the West Mountain was resurrected by the Qi state's auxiliary and did not suffer any losses.

This time in beast King Valley, let's see who else will come to save him.

Zhang Shan quickly caught up on his horse. He saw that there were hundreds of people around the Dragon in the West Mountain.

The group of people huddled together and ran towards the depths of the beast King Valley.

Although the Dragon from the West Mountain had hundreds of people with him, Zhang Shan had no intention of stopping.

A group of stray dogs was nothing to be afraid of.

He did not plan to intercept them directly. Anyway, the horse was fast, and Zhang Shan followed behind.

When they caught up, Zhang Shan quickly got off his horse and opened fire, knocking down the people at the back of the West Mountain Guild team.

after that, he continued to chase after them. there were people who were continuously beaten down by zhang shan.

A Dragon in the West Mountain ran with his head down. Seeing that there were fewer and fewer people around him, he felt that something was wrong.

we have to beat six tube Bodhisattva first. Otherwise, none of us will be able to escape.

"How do we fight? If we stop, more and more people from the wind and cloud Guild will come after us."

Yes, we can't stop. Let's split up. No matter how fast the six-barreled Bodhisattva is, he can't chase in several directions at the same time.

Without waiting for Xishan Yidao's reply, the others ran away separately and no longer grouped up.

If the People's hearts were scattered, it would be difficult to lead the team.

to them, it seemed safe to stick together. although there were benefits, it was easier to attract the attention of the wind and cloud guild if they were a big target.

There were also more people chasing them, which was not conducive to their escape.

Other than Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade, there was also a large group of people who had been called over by wind and cloud blade, and they were currently rushing over.

I'm going to chase a Dragon in the West Mountain.

Looking at the other party disbanding, Zhang Shan identified a Dragon in the West Mountain and chased forward on his horse.

damn it, I'm so unhappy without a horse. I can't even catch up to a person.

windcloud blade shouted as he chased after him.

In a situation where both parties had similar equipment, their movement speed was about the same.

Unless there was a specific profession that had some skills that could temporarily increase movement speed.

In other situations, whoever started to run first would have the advantage.

If the people behind wanted to catch up, they could only hope that the other party made a mistake while running.

Otherwise, it wouldn't have been easy to catch up.

Seeing that Zhang Shan was chasing after him on his horse, the Dragon from the West Mountain was in despair. He could not escape.

When Zhang Shan got off his horse and was ready to shoot, the Dragon of Xishan waved his axe and wanted to struggle a little.

However, he was directly knocked down by Zhang Shan's two shots.

He kept his gun and got on his horse to look for the next target. Zhang Shan did not want to pay any more attention to the person who had already fallen to the ground.

No one would come to save him, so he just returned to the city and resurrected.

the dragon of the west mountain was determined. he turned into a white light and left, returning to heaven's gate to revive.

As more and more members of the wind and cloud Guild entered the beast King's Valley, they began to hunt down the West Mountain guild members all over the map.

Only a small number of people were lucky enough to not be caught at the beginning and directly cast a channel to return to the city.

Most of the West Mountain guild members had been killed.

“Search the entire map, don’t let any fish escape.”

Feng Yun realm shouted in the Guild channel.

...

This might only be the first round of free-for-all, and if the West Mountain Guild was not convinced, they might even gather again.

They wanted to take back the territory they had lost.

Of course, the wind and cloud Guild would not give them this opportunity. Other than arranging for people to guard the entrance of the passage, they could not do anything else.

He also had to clean up the entire beast King Valley, making sure that there were no members of the West Mountain Guild who had not escaped and were hiding in some corner.

While the wind cloud Guild was still sweeping through the beast King Valley, the Dragon in the West Mountain had resurrected at heaven’s gate.

He was so depressed that he went crazy. He immediately went to Qi country to seek help. This time, not only did he lose an excellent monster-farming spot, but he also lost a lot of money.

he even caused so many members of the west mountain guild to drop a level. if he didn’t take revenge, how would he lead his team in the future?

The first person he looked for was peerless gentleman, even though he had caused peerless Guild quite a lot of trouble last time.

However, the unparalleled gentleman did not blame him. He was not strong enough and had misjudged the situation. Who could he blame?

brother Jun Zi, the wind and cloud Guild has gone too far. They killed our people and robbed our farming spots. We would like to ask you to help us.

After receiving the call from the Dragon of the Western mountains, the unparalleled gentleman felt a slight headache. When the wind and cloud Guild had set off.

...

The West Mountain Guild did not look for reinforcements, so the unparalleled gentleman thought that they had become unyielding this time.

He was planning to fight against wind and cloud Guild alone. Why couldn’t he do it so quickly? Wasn’t the West Mountain Guild supposed to be on the defensive? You can’t even beat them?

“What’s going on? is your farming spot hard to defend? We can’t beat them no matter how we guard them.”

we could have defended and fought, but the wind and cloud Guild released two ultimate skills and knocked out two to three thousand of our players. We couldn't defend.

The West Mountain Dragon still thought that if it wasn't for the wind and cloud Guild's ultimate skill ...

They would definitely be able to hold on.

The unparalleled gentleman was speechless.

Everyone knew that the wind and cloud Guild had an ultimate skill. After following your heart used invincible slash, someone had recorded a video and posted it on the forum.

Didn't the Dragon of the West Mountain have a targeted defense? They had directly let the other party use two big moves, and they had already killed so many people.

"what's the situation now? Are you guys still guarding it?"

Unparalleled gentleman didn't know that the West Mountain Guild was almost completely annihilated. He thought that they were still holding on.

That's why he called for backup.

He was thinking that although the distance was a little far, as long as the Dragon of the West Mountain could hold on a little longer, he would be able to escape.

Peerless Guild could also go and provide some support. At the same time, they could also ask for some benefits from the West Mountain Dragon.

He didn't intend to help for nothing this time.

Chapter 218

However, the unparalleled gentleman quickly realized that he had miscalculated.

Because the Dragon of the West Mountain's next answer made him very speechless.

"Uh, we're all dead."

"How can that be? weren't you guys supposed to be on guard? How did they all die so quickly?"

Unparalleled gentleman could not understand this at all. Back then, when wind cloud Guild was blocking the entrance of the passage.

Peerless Guild couldn't do anything to them, so why was it West Mountain Guild's turn to defend?

'They all died so quickly? this is too ridiculous. Are ultimate skills that powerful?'

we really had no choice. Their two ultimate skills have completely disrupted our defensive formation. We couldn't defend anymore, so we gave up.

The Dragon of the West Mountain also felt quite embarrassed. Originally, they could still defend for a while.

Although the two ultimate skills of the wind and cloud Guild had taken down a large number of their players, they still had more than 7000 players.

As long as they were determined to defend, they might be able to hold on a little longer.

however, the other members of west mountain guild were all scared of wind and cloud guild and didn't want to defend anymore.

Even the Dragon of the West Mountain himself was shaken, let alone others.

The unparalleled gentleman didn't even want to say anything. If the West Mountain Guild had already given up, then what was there to say?

could it be that they still wanted peerless to help them take back their territory? How could that be possible?

Putting aside the wind and cloud Guild, they would definitely be on a tight defense and not give them any chance.

Even if there was a chance, he didn't want to waste this effort. Who would be the one to take back the territory?

"If you've all given up, then why are you still looking for me?"

"I would like to ask you guys to beat the wind and cloud Guild out of here. I'll leave that farming spot to peerless."

The Dragon of the West Mountain also knew that it was impossible to get free help from others at the monster farming point in the beast King Valley.

West Mountain Guild could forget about it, but they couldn't just give it to wind and cloud Guild.

It was better to encourage peerless to compete with wind and cloud Guild. As long as they could deal a blow to wind and cloud Guild, they would win.

He could be considered to have gotten his revenge.

why would I want that place? Heaven's Gate can be found everywhere.

Unparalleled gentleman was completely uninterested. To them, it didn't matter where they farmed.

With peerless Guild's reputation, even if they were farming monsters in an open area, not many people would dare to cause trouble for them.

the monsters at our grinding spot are different. The wild monsters there don't have the Holy demon's protection state, and the experience they give is the same as the other places in Heaven's Gate.

Seeing that the unparalleled gentleman was about to back out, the Dragon of the Western mountain hurriedly said.

This was also the reason why he dared to come and find the unparalleled gentleman. The beast King Valley was not an ordinary farming spot.

With the same amount of experience points, the difficulty of farming monsters would be reduced by half. Unparalleled gentleman would definitely be tempted by such a good place.

eh?

The unparalleled gentleman hesitated when he heard the words of the Dragon of the Western mountain.

it was unbelievable that there was such a place on the map of heaven's gate.

however, new world was different from other games, so it was possible for it to have some special settings.

If that was the case, he would have to think about it carefully.

If that was the case, wouldn't farming monsters there be equivalent to double the experience?

"Is that grinding spot really that good?"

Unparalleled gentleman was still in disbelief. Could it be that the Dragon in the West Mountain had made it up so that unparalleled Guild would help him take revenge?

it's true. The monsters there don't have any damage reduction effects, but they're all level 50 monsters. The level suppression is very strong. It's hard to farm them now, but it'll be easier in the future.

Although West Mountain's lone Dragon was hoping that peerless would help him take revenge, he did not dare to speak blindly.

Hearing this, unparalleled gentleman was moved. It didn't matter if the monster's level was high.

Even if it wasn't easy to farm now, he could still occupy it first.

Moreover, level 50 monsters were easier to kill due to the level suppression than the 50% damage reduction.

The problem now was how to snatch the territory from the hands of the wind and cloud Guild.

The wind and cloud Guild wasn't a pushover like the West Mountain Guild. They definitely wouldn't give up so easily.

In terms of strength, unparalleled was no match for wind and cloud.

Not to mention, the wind and cloud Guild had the absolute advantage of terrain. With just peerless Guild, there was no way they could snatch the territory.

It was almost impossible.

Although he could still call for a large number of Qi players to join the war, these motley crew could still be of some use in a large-scale chaotic battle.

in a head-on battle like this, these people were not of much use. they still had to rely on the elite players.

just as peerless gentleman was still thinking about how he could get his hands on the monster-farming spot in beast king valley ...

The people from wind and cloud Guild were happily farming monsters.

...

They had just swept through every corner of the beast King Valley to make sure that there were no members of the West Mountain Guild hiding.

it's good to farm experience here, but it's really hard. These demonized jungle tigers are really fierce. Their attack power is so high, and the level suppression is so strong.

f * ck, don't take advantage of us. It's much better to farm monsters here than anywhere else. It'll be easier to farm monsters here when we level up.

that's right. The level suppression is nothing. It's much better than the damage reduction state of the Holy demon's protection.

Speaking of which, we've already scanned the entire map, but why didn't we see any bosses? "

I don't know. Maybe it was destroyed by the West Mountain Guild? " impossible! This is a level 50 monster. The BOSS should be at least level 50. Can they defeat it? "

"It probably hasn't been refreshed yet, or maybe we didn't see it?"

BOSS, don't be in a hurry. Let's defend this place first. The Dragon of the West Mountain will definitely not give up and will definitely find help before coming back.

"Who else can he find? It can't be that you're looking for the unparalleled gentleman again? That guy doesn't learn his lesson?"

" that's hard to say. as long as there are benefits, the unparalleled gentleman might still be willing to take the risk. "

...

After understanding the situation of the monsters in beast King Valley, Feng Yun realm had already expected that it would not be easy for them to occupy this place.

no one would believe that no one would come to fight for such a good grinding spot.

he had already arranged for a few hundred people to guard the entrance of the passage. he had also randomly arranged some bandits outside the map as a sentry.

As long as a large group of people came, they would know immediately.

feng yun realm had already thought it through. without a few tough battles, their feng yun guild would not be able to occupy this place.

He wasn't worried at all about whether they could defend it or not.

Although the wind and cloud Guild couldn't be compared to those old guilds, in new world, they were still very strong.

They were definitely top tier, not to mention the existence of Zhang Shan, who had such a monstrous combat strength.

The strength of the other big shots in the Guild was also at the top in the game.

in terms of numbers, they were a level 3 guild, so they were only stronger than others.

As long as it wasn't a few large guilds that Allied together, the wind and cloud Guild had nothing to fear.

Chapter 219 The second level 30 player

The wind and cloud Guild had snatched the best monster-farming spot, beast King Valley, from the hands of West Mountain's Dragon.

He didn't think that he could rest easy.

Although the monsters in beast King Valley were all level 50, it would not be easy to farm them for the time being.

However, it was still much more efficient than the other places in Heaven's Gate.

The most important thing was that as everyone's level increased, the efficiency of farming monsters here would increase.

Such a good place, even if West Mountain was a Dragon, he didn't intend to take it back.

he would definitely not let the wind cloud guild occupy it so easily. he would definitely have other tricks up his sleeve.

On the other side, the wind and cloud Guild was farming monsters while waiting.

Unparalleled gentleman, on the other hand, decided to give it a try after much consideration.

even if he did not completely obtain the beast king valley's map, he would at least get a share of it.

After making up his mind, the unparalleled gentleman said to the Dragon of the West Mountain.

alright, I'm gathering the members of the Guild and as many Qi players as possible to go with us. You guys of the West Mountain Guild should also get ready and try to get back the farming spot.

Although those non-guild members were a motley crew and had weaker combat power, it was always good to have more people go.

The unparalleled gentleman liked to make a big scene the moment he made a move.

After hearing that the peerless gentleman was willing to help, the Dragon of the West Mountain could not help but be overjoyed. Peerless Guild was going to help.

He refused to believe that he couldn't deal with the wind and cloud Guild. In terms of strength and influence, peerless was much stronger than the wind and cloud Guild.

The reason why he didn't manage to snatch it last time was because he was a gentleman and didn't want to be afraid of losing.

But this time, it was different. With the beast King Valley as the bait, there was no reason for unparalleled gentleman not to put in his best effort.

alright, I'll arrange for the Guild members to gather. We'll set off together at heaven's gate later.

It didn't take long for the peerless Guild and the West Mountain Guild to meet up. There were also some players from Qi country who responded to the call of the peerless Guild.

More than two hundred thousand people were charging towards beast King Valley.

Peerless's actions immediately attracted the attention of all the players.

Although there were many players in the New World, the level of the guilds created by the players was not high.

A large-scale operation like peerless's was still a rare sight.

At the very beginning, the players from Qin led by the domineering air Guild and the players from Wei led by the war god Guild fought a chaotic battle.

This was the second time in the New World that more than 200000 people had been mobilized.

what are these Qi Kingdom players doing? why are there so many people moving together? "

"Do you still need to think about it? They're definitely going to find trouble with the wind and cloud Guild. The wind and cloud Guild has snatched the territory of the West Mountain Guild. As the Big Brother of the players in Qi country, the unparalleled gentleman would definitely not sit by and watch."

why do I feel that your words are so fake? how could an unparalleled gentleman make such a big move just to avenge a Dragon in the West Mountain? " that's right. Not to mention the Dragon of the West mountains and the unparalleled gentleman, just the players from the same camp, even if they were from the same Guild, would not make such a big fuss just for revenge.

have you all forgotten? peerless Guild lost to wind and cloud Guild once in the Guild challenge. This is just an excuse for revenge.

who cares what the reason is? let's just eat the melon.

I really want to go and watch the show. It's a rare scene.

how can we watch such a large-scale battle? if we stand outside, we probably won't be able to see anything.

that's right. Are there any players from Qi country who can livestream the progress? "

” i don’t think so. it’s so embarrassing to lose. ”

“How can we possibly lose? the unparalleled gentleman has gathered more than 200000 players. if he still can’t beat the 50000 players from the wind and cloud guild, then he can just go and buy a piece of tofu.”

“What are you buying tofu for? Stir-fried tofu? Hehe.”

“Don’t play dumb.”

Unparalleled gentleman led his large Army and charged towards beast King Valley with great momentum. Meanwhile, the people from wind cloud Guild were still calmly farming monsters.

We’re still far away, what’s the rush?

It would take at least an hour for unparalleled gentleman and the others to get here. Moreover, the more people there were in the team, the slower their speed would be.

They would talk about it when they were almost at the beast King Valley.

just as everyone was happily farming, heart with me suddenly said.

“i’ll go back for a while. i’m level 30, so i’ll go to the capital to buy a horse first.”

ASIBA, there’s finally a second person who has reached level 30. Let’s go and see what kind of horses are being sold in the capital. Are they all as handsome as brother artifact’s Red Hare? ”

“if you go back now, how are you going to come back? you won’t be blocked by the qi players on the way back, right?”

what are you afraid of? if you buy a horse and ride it fast, those short legs of Qi country can’t catch up with you.

that’s true. Look at brother divine weapon. Every time he’s surrounded, he runs fast on his horse. No one can do anything to him.

“Alright, come back quickly.”

Under the envious gazes of the Guild leaders, heart with me channeled a Return Channel to the city and went to the capital to buy a horse.

it should have been more than ten days since zhang shan had obtained the red hare.

...

Finally, a second player had reached level 30.

He wondered what the attributes of the horses sold in the palace were like and whether they were expensive.

zhang shan’s red rabbit horse was a gift from the system. he did not need to spend any money, just in terms of speed.

He was satisfied with the 200% increase in movement speed. He could run as if he was flying.

Zhang Shan felt that the red hares should be the best type of mount in the current game.

Other than not being a battle Mount and not being able to ride a horse to battle, there were no other problems.

After a while, there was still no news from heart with me, and many people were getting a little anxious.”

Windcloud blade asked in the Guild channel.

“Big brother heart following, haven’t you found a place to buy a horse yet? It’s just two teleportations, why did it take so long?”

uh, the taishu temple is a little far from the teleportation Hall of the Imperial City. It’ll take more than ten minutes to get there.

Well, the royal city and the East and West were the same. One could not use teleportation in any of them, unless they had a Mount.

...

He could only rely on his two legs to run.

f * ck, the settings in the New World are so f * cking ridiculous. It’s so big everywhere, and we have to run. It’s so tiring.

big brother heart follows, when you get to the place where you buy horses, remember to send a message. Let us see what kind of horses are there.

“Alright,” he said.

Everyone was looking forward to what kind of horse the players could buy.

Before the other players reached level 30, only Zhang Shan had a horse to ride. And Zhang Shan’s Red Hare was a gift from the system, so it was not of much use as a reference.

To everyone, only the horses sold by the taishu sishi in the palace were mounts that players could obtain.

Zhang Shan was also very curious. He wanted to compare the horses he bought from the taishu temple.

What was the difference between it and his Scarlet hares? were there also Scarlet hares for sale there?

Was there a horse with better attributes that he could buy?

Chapter 220 four types of mounts

After another 10 minutes, while everyone was anxiously waiting, heart moves finally sent a message.

This Big Shot didn’t say much and directly displayed all the mounts that could be sold in the palace.

“haha, there are so many horses to choose from. let me take a look and choose first. in a day or two, i’ll also reach rank 30.”

Wind and cloud blade called out proudly. Right now, in the Guild, other than Zhang Shan and heart moves, there was no one else.

Only he and boss Wu were at the top of the level rankings.

ASIBA, isn’t the operator making too much money? why are they selling the mounts so expensive? how many people can afford it? ”

it’s too f * cking expensive. It’s inhumane.

“there are cheap ones. who told you to only look at the expensive ones?”

f * ck, can those cheap date red horses even be called horses? they’re not even as fast as a good pair of boots.

brother, you’re going too far. Although the date red horse’s attributes are indeed a little bad, it should still be faster than two legs.

sigh, the difference is too big. The worst jujube-red Horse only increases movement speed by 50%, while the fastest hero Mount can increase movement speed by 200%. How are normal players supposed to play with this? ” don’t think too much about it. It doesn’t really matter. They’re not battle mounts, and they can’t fight on horses. They’ll just run faster.

“Alright, let’s see if the players are willing to spend time or money.”

indeed, the current mounts are just a means of transportation. As long as those who don’t need to spend money are willing to spend more time on the road, it’s the same.

Zhang Shan looked at the horse that was displayed by moving your heart.

The cheapest was the date red Horse, which increased its movement speed by 50%, although it was still too little when compared to the Scarlet Hare.

However, it was still much faster than running on two legs, and it was a means of transportation for civilian players.

Moreover, the price was not expensive, only 100 gold coins. Even an ordinary player could earn about 100 gold coins in a day.

This was a Mount that everyone could afford.

The second type was the White Horse, which increased movement speed by 100% and had decent attributes.

Of course, the price was also very beautiful. It cost 10000 gold coins for a White Horse. He believed that many players would not be willing to spend this money.

The third type was the Dawan horse, which increased its speed by 150%, only slightly slower than the red Rabbit.

It should be considered a top-tier Mount.

The DA Wan horse had good attributes and was fast. Of course, it was very expensive, 500000 gold coins each.

If it was a White Horse Mount, commoner players could still afford it if they worked hard to save up gold coins.

The price of the Dawan horse was a blatant refusal to the commoners. It was 500000 gold coins.

If they weren't rich big shots, who would spend this money?

However, although the Dawan horse was expensive, it was not the most expensive.

the most expensive one was the fourth type, the hero's mount.

The mounts of historical heroes included lures, Red Rabbits, Dragon elephants, snowy trudging, and so on.

its attributes were the same as zhang shan's scarlet hares. it increased movement speed by 200%, but the price was different.

It was likely that not many people would be willing to buy it. It was simply too expensive.

A hero's Mount was priced at 10000000 gold coins.

If one didn't plan to play this game for a long time, even the rich big shots wouldn't be willing to spend this money.

This price was a difficult choice for many high-end players.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan did not need to choose. He had the red Hare gifted by the system, which was equivalent to saving him 10 million gold.

ah, I really want to get a hero's Mount. That Lu is so handsome, but the price is too expensive.

that's right. It can only be used as a means of transportation and can't be used to ride a horse in battle. It doesn't have any other additional attributes, yet it's still so expensive. It's too outrageous.

"Even if it's expensive, I still have to buy it. I'll have to buy it sooner or later."

"you're rich, you're awesome, alright."

what Mount? it's not even at the level yet. When it reaches the level, those who are willing to spend money can buy a hero's Mount. If not, they can just get a date red Horse and it'll be over.

"You're ruthless, but the date red Horse is still alright."

"Otto from the game?"

"You're overestimating it, how can the date red Horse compare to AOTA? A bicycle, I guess."

“Kill monsters, kill monsters, and quickly reach level 30.”

sigh, there’s going to be a fight later. It’ll affect our leveling.

fight my ass! Even if we put a thousand people on guard, the others will still be farming monsters as usual.

“don’t be careless. things are different now. who knows if the unparalleled gentleman has any hidden cards?”

“Trump card my ass, isn’t it just relying on numbers to charge forward? With this terrain, no matter how many people charge forward, they’ll just be courting death.”

“You can’t say that. Didn’t we still fight our way in? Since the unparalleled gentleman dared to come, he must have a trump card up his sleeve. Otherwise, why would he come here?”

yeah, we’re not afraid of him having too many people. We’re just afraid that he has some hidden tricks that we don’t know about.

“could it be that peerless also has an ultimate skill?”

...

that’s hard to say. Maybe there really is one. Our Guild already has three ultimate skills. It’s reasonable for others to have one or two, right? ” even if they have ultimate skills, we’re not afraid. We’re not like the West Mountain Guild. They’re pushovers. Don’t even think about crushing us in one wave.

indeed, a single ultimate skill isn’t scary. I’m just afraid that he has other trump cards.

“Who cares, we’ll deal with whatever comes our way,”

In the face of the unparalleled gentleman’s aggressive attack, everyone did not seem to care much on the surface, but they were actually very cautious in their hearts.

Up until now, there were all kinds of strange things in the game. The wind and cloud Guild had divine weapons and ultimate skills.

Of course, the other guilds might have other items, such as scrolls.

The eastern sea Dragon King had used two scrolls in their first guild War with traversing Four Seas.

one of them was extremely powerful, while the other was similar to a group invincibility scroll.

“I see the members of Guild peerless.”

While everyone was farming monsters, moving heart said this in the Guild channel.

...

This Big Shot had just bought a Mount and was currently riding towards beast King Valley.

where? how long until they reach us? ” they'll probably take another half an hour. There are too many people. They won't be able to run fast.

"Did they see you? Didn't he cause you any trouble?"

I saw it. I ran around them. They can't catch up.

well, there was nothing much to say about the speed of horses compared to walking.

not long after, my heart followed me back to beast king valley.

Feng Yun realm said.

everyone, stop farming for now. We'll gather 2000 people to defend first. The rest of you, try to farm monsters near the entrance of the passage. Don't run too far and be ready to support at any time.

Zhang Shan stopped his farming. He would definitely be needed to defend the passageway. There was limited space for defense near the entrance of the passageway.

a powerful fort was far more important than dozens or hundreds of people.