

Passive Skills 231

Chapter 231 Passive divine power

Zhang Shan knocked nakaris unconscious with one shot, interrupting nakaris 'channeling and saving the situation that was on the verge of collapse.

However, the others still understood what was going on. Wind and cloud blade's words made everyone even more confused.

They did not know what Zhang Shan's stun was about. Was there a passive to a stun? This didn't make sense.

"Brother Yidao, what happened? Does brother artifact have a passive stun skill?"

"Uh, yes,"

Wind and cloud blade did not go into detail. Not many people knew about Zhang Shan's talent. Even in the wind and cloud Guild, not many people knew about it.

Everyone only knew that Zhang Shan's divine weapon was very strong, but they did not know that his talent was even more abnormal.

as he continued to gain passive skills, he would only become stronger in the future, even if he had trash equipment.

In the later stages, it would still be very powerful.

"What kind of skill is a passive stun? where did you get the skill book?"

a lot of people did not know about it and thought that zhang shan had gotten his hands on it. it was some sort of skill book for passive stun.

"Hehe, I won't tell you. You'll know when you get the skill book."

Zhang Shan did not want to deal them a blow, so he did not go into detail. He was afraid that they would not be able to take it.

While others were still struggling for skill books, on Zhang Shan's skill panel, there were already almost 20 skills.

f * ck, no wonder when we were fighting the boss just now, the stun effect would appear from time to time. It turned out that it was caused by godly equipment bro. He's too strong.

yeah, if you hit someone and stun them, wouldn't that be too disgusting? you can't move all of a sudden, hehe.

"The chance of triggering such a passive skill isn't too high, right?"

what's there to be afraid of if the probability is low? one hit can make me feel good for an entire day.

alright, that's true. If it wasn't for brother divine weapon's unconscious attack, we would have been dead.

don't be ridiculous. Hurry up and finish off the BOSS. It's going berserk.

After the thrilling scene just now, everyone became more careful. Those who were responsible for interrupting the BOSS 'casting time.

They were also more cautious. Feng Yun realm had also added more people to make up for the loss of consciousness, in case there was a situation of consecutive misses.

It was impossible to say that the stun skills of these few people would all miss, right? that would be unreasonable.

after nakaris entered berserk, other than continuously channeling, he would occasionally attack the panda bear.

This boss was completely different from the other bosses. Zhang Shan and the rest had fought bosses before.

after a failed channeling, the channeling bar would be reset instead of a normal attack.

Nakaris, on the other hand, would attack a few times after his channeling bar failed before continuing.

This was also good. Although it would increase the pressure on the Panda bear, it was for the team responsible for interrupting the boss's big move.

the pressure on them was greatly reduced, and they didn't need to keep watching and interrupting.

When nakaris was attacking the Panda team, he didn't cast any spells.

"Come on, we're about to kill the BOSS."

support, be careful. Just now, the Panda bear almost died.

"Don't shout. We're trying our best to heal, but the BOSS" attack is so high. There's nothing we can do."

sigh, the Panda ball's HP is still too little. If only it had 200000 HP.

"That's f * cking daring. The little Secretary doesn't even have 80000 HP. If the Panda bear had more than 200000 HP, how would he survive?"

who cares? the Secretary doesn't have much of a presence anyway.

feng yun's little secretary was once again implicated, until after he received the strengthening from the heart of nature.

They had been relying on the Panda Group to tank the boss, and The Guardian Warriors in the Guild had basically lost their jobs.

there was no room for them to display their abilities.

Moreover, the big bosses in the New World were really too strong. The Guardian Warriors at the current stage really couldn't take them on.

it wasn't just their wind and cloud guild. the other guilds were the same. no one could withstand a real-name boss.

If they really wanted to fight, they could only rely on numbers. As for whether they could successfully kill the BOSS in the end.

That would depend on fate. As long as there were enough people, it would not be a problem to kill a normal BOSS below red.

However, it was hard to say for a powerful real-name BOSS like nakaris.

Didn't they almost die just now?

haha, the last 5% of his health. The son of the beast deity is only so-so.

don't f*cking scream. I get a little nervous when I hear you.

"What's there to be afraid of? I don't believe that the boss can still do anything at this point."

"Just don't randomly call me that."

After the last 5% of his health was left, nakaris did not cause any more accidents.

Although the Panda team had been beaten to a sliver of health several times, with the hard work of the group of supports, they still managed to bring their health back.

As for nakaris 'big move, it looked scary, but he didn't manage to use it even once.

Nakaris was interrupted by countless stunning skills, but he still could not finish his channeling.

As Zhang Shan controlled the Panda bear, he used his combo skill and smacked the son of the beast God, naris, to death.

The announcement rang out. They had finally managed to defeat the big tiger with much difficulty.

Skill point +1, medal +100.

[system notification: your passive King talent has obtained a divine power passive skill by killing the son of the beast God, nakaris.]

What? Did he just get a skill? Could he even get such a skill?

Wasn't the divine power skill the life skill that the beast God had given to the son of the beast God, nakaris?

He could even brush this out.

Zhang Shan was in disbelief, even though he had already seen the boss's passive skill from the start.

However, after looking at the skill description, Zhang Shan thought that this skill was nakaris 'exclusive skill.

She didn't expect him to come here and only fight once. He was too lucky.

...

He quickly looked at the effect of the skill. When the divine power skill was on nakaris, the description said that all attributes were increased.

Because of this skill, the son of the beast God's attack power and HP were more than double that of Gitanas, who was at the same level.

There were also other attributes that could not be seen, but they might have also been improved, such as defense and movement speed.

He did not know what kind of effects it would have after Zhang Shan obtained it. If it also increased all his attributes, that would be too awesome.

He did not need to double all his attributes like nakaris. He would be satisfied with just a little increase.

Especially his blood volume. In order to increase his blood volume, Zhang Shan had thought of all sorts of ways.

However, there was nothing he could do. There were too few ways to increase his HP in new world.

Apart from the strength attribute that increased HP, the other attributes were equipment for strength-type classes, and some equipment added HP.

As for the equipment of other classes, there were very few that could heal, and even if there were, it was very little.

The health of his entire body was supported by a cloak.

Fragile professions couldn't go out.

He checked his newly acquired skills.

[divine power: a power bestowed by the beast god. all attributes increased by 10%.]

Chapter 232 Positioning bead hahaha.

After seeing the description of the divine power skill, Zhang Shan could not help but be happy. It really increased all attributes.

Then, his strength would have increased by a huge margin. It was a complete surprise.

He quickly checked to see what kind of changes his character's attributes had undergone after obtaining the passive godly power.

Checking attributes:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: Hunter]

[title: nemesis of the demons]

[merit points: 25890 (Bai Chang)]

[level: 32]

[HP: 25300]

[MP: 1970]

[physical attack: 13395-13912]

[strength: 70]

[agility: 2088]

[intelligence: 70]

[defense: 1324]

Luck: 9

[Endowment: King of passive (every time you kill a monster, there is a chance to randomly obtain a passive skill from the monster. The chance of triggering it is one in a million.)]

Skill 1, headshot (passive), skill 2, tame, skill 3, Eagle Eye (passive), skill 4, rage, skill 5, fanaticism, Skill 6, battle intent, skill 7, leap.

Skill 8, learning proficiency (Guild skill), skill 9, mutual aid (Guild skill).

[skill 10, heavy strike (obtained through talent), 11, magic resistance (obtained through talent),][skill 12, grant strength (obtained through talent),][skill 13, rebirth (obtained through talent),][skill 14, wild wolf talent (obtained through talent),][skill 15, demonic madness (obtained through talent),][skill 16, ant strength (obtained through talent),][skill 17, stun (obtained through talent),][skill 18, divine strength (passive)]

[equipment: aruge's hand cannon, Skyhawk king's ring, maidas's hand, extreme wind boots, priest's Cape, violet-gold necklace, violet-gold ring: Kasaya]

Hehe, it really did increase all attributes by 10%. Not only did the attack power increase, but it also increased the attack power.

his other attributes had also been improved.

zhang shan's hp had increased by more than 2000, and his other attributes had also increased accordingly.

Even his pitifully small strength and intelligence attributes were all because of the passive divine power.

it increased by a few extra points.

At the same time, his mana had also increased by nearly 200 points. As long as he leveled up again, he would be able to cast the battle intent skill without having to switch to a magic leaf.

It would not be right to say that the attributes of the entire character had increased. Zhang Shan's luck had not increased at all.

His luck was still fixed at 9 points. It had been fixed since the character was created and could not be increased anymore.

Even divine power, which was a passive skill that increased all attributes, could not increase his luck at all.

However, it wasn't too bad. One shouldn't be too greedy. This was already very good.

Moreover, other than these visible attributes, there were also hidden attributes like movement speed. I'll test it out when I'm free.

There was no rush now, let's wait for Feng Yun Realm to finish looting.

Zhang Shan had obtained another passive skill, and it was a very powerful passive skill.

He couldn't help but look happy. However, no one was paying attention to him, and no one knew that he had obtained another passive skill.

The other members of the Wind and Cloud Guild were only concerned about what good items Nakaris had dropped for them.

This was the beast deity's child, and it was so difficult to defeat. No matter what, it should drop at least one or two amazing items.

Perhaps even a divine weapon or a quest item could be dropped.

Feng Yun Realm did not let everyone wait for too long. He immediately displayed all the dropped items.

There were three red equipment, one red material, one special item, and two skill books.

There was no need to mention the red equipment. Level 50 equipment was not a spiritual or god equipment, so no one would care.

In any case, no one would be able to use it for a while, and they would just be thrown into the warehouse to eat dust after distributing it.

Zhang Shan had his eyes on the special item at first glance. It was just too amazing and too special.

He had never even heard of such a thing before, let alone seen it.

[positioning ball (special item): sets three map coordinates and can be transported anywhere within the three coordinates.]

Cooldown time: 3 minutes, unlimited uses, durability, never-worn, can be used once placed in the backpack, can be bound.

This was simply too awesome. If he were to set a location in the Beast King Valley, he would not be able to return after going to other places.

He didn't even need to run. He could just use the positioning bead to teleport back. How convenient would that be?

The key was that such a location could be set up at three locations.

If he set a location for each of them, they would arrive within seconds. Not to mention riding a horse, it would be faster and more convenient than a plane.

Moreover, it didn't take up any equipment space and could be used just by putting it in the backpack.

it was the same as the return setting of the identity token.

To Zhang Shan, such an item would not be exchanged even if he was given a divine weapon. It was really too practical.

Other than the positioning ball, the other two skill books were also pretty good. They should be said to be two very impressive skill books.

However, because the positioning ball was too magical, it overshadowed the glow of these two skill books.

this caused everyone's attention to be diverted from the skill book.

The first one was a Guild skill book, agility, which increased guild members' attack speed by 5%.

There was no bad Guild skill, and there was a limit to the number of guild skills they could learn. Every time the Guild leveled up, they could learn a Guild skill.

Guilds could level up to level 9, which meant that each Guild could learn up to nine guild skills.

In fact, there were only nine types of guild skills in the game.

In other words, as long as it was a skill that their Guild had not learned, it was very useful and in urgent need.

Currently, any Guild's skill book was extremely rare.

this flexible guild skill book would definitely sell for a sky-high price.

of course, they wouldn't sell it. they were a level 3 guild and only had two guild skills.

This flexible Guild skill book was something that they did not have before, so Feng Yun realm could learn it.

Although there were already hundreds of guilds of all sizes established by the players.

However, there were less than ten who had obtained guild skills. Most of the guilds had not even gotten a single Guild skill.

it was their wind and cloud guild that had been established for such a long time. in addition, the flexible guild skill book had dropped this time.

He had only managed to obtain two Guild skill books. In addition, he had been rewarded with a Guild skill for being the first to establish a player's Guild.

Now that they had obtained three guild skills, they were far ahead of the other player guilds.

Guild skill books were simply too difficult to obtain. They had never been sold in the auction house before.

they were already considered lucky to be able to get two books.

This Guild skill book did not need to be distributed. Feng Yun realm directly distributed the flexibility skill book to himself and learned it.

A new skill was added to everyone's skill panel.

although it only increased his attack speed by 5%, it didn't seem like much.

However, all the Guild members would benefit from this.

Moreover, 5% was not a small amount. For Zhang Shan, it would be good to increase his attack speed.

He had so many passive skills, but they were all based on attack speed.

Chapter 233 How much is the value?

The other skill book was also very impressive. It was the witch doctor's totem.

Their Guild's Feng Yun Qing Qing had this skill, and it was Zhang Shan and the others who had obtained it in the novice village.

This skill would become more and more precious as the game progressed, especially when it came to dealing with difficult bosses.

The effect was very obvious.

Previously, the son of the beast God, nakaris, had summoned the will of the beast God, which was very powerful.

Most of the players could not withstand the BOSS's all-map damage skill.

if it wasn't for the fact that they had so many people and supports, not many of them would have been able to stand.

However, it was different with the totem. The group healing effect was a percentage recovery.

It was a godly skill to deal with this type of BOSS.

the totem technique was a very impressive support skill, but the drop rate of the totem technique was too low. anyway, zhang shan had never heard of anyone who had this skill.

one had to know that totem was different from other skills. it was a group support skill.

if anyone had this skill, there was no need to hide it. they would definitely use it.

If Zhang Shan had not heard of it, it was probably because no one else had managed to get it.

This time, nakaris was really generous. Although he didn't give them any divine or spiritual equipment, he was still very generous.

However, the three items that they had dropped were not inferior to divine artifacts, especially the positioning bead.

in zhang shan's eyes, just the positioning ball alone was not any worse than a divine artifact.

Of course, he only thought this way because he already had two divine weapons.

to the others, they had never experienced the power of a divine weapon. no matter how good an item was, it was not as attractive as a divine weapon.

"this son of the beast deity is quite generous."

" yeah, this is the first time i've seen a BOSS drop several top-tier items at the same time. "

" that positioning bead is so f * cking awesome. it can set three coordinates and can be teleported at any time. if we set the coordinates behind the enemy before the battle, we can't even defend against a sneak attack during the battle. "

"How is that possible? how can you use it like that? what's the use of teleporting over in a chaotic battle? aren't you afraid of being surrounded and beaten to a pulp?"

" that depends on who's using it. if you teleport over and launch a sneak attack, you'll definitely be beaten to a pulp. but brother divine artifact won't. "

that's right. Brother divine weapon is a tough guy who can take on hundreds of people alone. This is the most suitable for him.

this teleportation bead originally belonged to brother divine weapon. According to the previous distribution method, who can snatch it from him? "

" that's hard to say. what if divine artifact bro doesn't like the teleportation bead? totems aren't bad either. if they were to be put up for auction, how could they be sold for more than ten million? "

f * ck, how can i buy a totem with ten million? give me a dozen.

the value of totems is hard to estimate. If we have a few more, it will be much easier to fight big bosses in the future.

Looking at the items that nakaris had dropped, the Guild channel was filled with discussions.

In this boss battle, they had indeed made a huge profit, although only a few people could get a share of the items.

However, they were all members of the Guild, after all. Nakaris had been defeated by the wind and cloud Guild alone.

It wasn't like the previous Gitanas, where there were only two good items and 12 guilds had to compete for them.

now, let's start distributing the items. We'll follow the old rules from last time. We'll choose the items according to the ranking of the output. Those that don't use them will be auctioned internally. One-tenth of the auction amount will be given to the Guild as a red packet. If you use them, give them an estimated value and give them a red packet.

Before distributing the items, Feng Yun realm explained the distribution rules.

No one had any objections to this rule. Previously, when splitting the loot from the chakra, they had used this rule.

Such a rule might be slightly unfair to some of the big shots.

After all, many of the Guild leaders had contributed a lot, but they were destined not to get any items.

They could only grab a few red packets for fun like normal guild members.

However, there was nothing they could do about it. Defeating a BOSS like nakaris was the result of everyone's joint efforts.

If there were only a few people, it would be impossible to settle it.

Not to mention Zhang Shan and the rest, there were hundreds of people who had been dealing damage, and those who were responsible for using stun skills to interrupt the BOSS's big move.

there were a few thousand of them, and the outer circle members were also ready to join the attack at any time.

the guards at the entrance of the passage also made their contributions.

If no one was guarding the entrance, how could they fight the BOSS in peace?

in a BOSS fight where the entire guild was involved, it was only natural to take into account everyone's interests.

With this rule of distributing red packets to the people who got their share of the items, everyone would get something relatively.

Moreover, it could also increase the Guild members 'sense of participation.

Other than the Guild skill book that Feng Yun realm had already learned, there were only equipment and items left.

There were also three pieces of red equipment, a material, a positioning bead, and a totem, making a total of six items.

feng yun realm displayed the damage ranking.

Without a doubt, Zhang Shan's damage output was the first. His damage output was five times higher than the second place.

In third place was Feng Yun realm, fourth place was Feng Yun cannon, and fifth place was Feng Yun one blade. A Berserker's continuous damage output was also extremely strong.

If it wasn't for the Windcloud cannon and the AoE critical hit Halo of the small wild wolf, his ranking wouldn't be higher than Windcloud blade's.

the sixth place was also a berserker, bloody cloud. he was one of the big bosses in the wind and cloud guild. zhang shan was not very familiar with him.

Following my heart relied on a spiritual weapon and a special item, sword spirit.

Their damage output was much stronger than the bosses of other guilds.

He firmly occupied the second place in the damage output ranking and was much higher than Feng Yun realm who was in third place.

"Six-barreled, choose the first one first."

Feng Yun realm said to Zhang Shan after starting the item distribution.

I'll choose the teleportation bead.

Zhang Shan did not hesitate. Whether it was in terms of practicality or the value of the item, the teleportation bead was far better than the totem technique.

Moreover, the teleportation Pearl was very suitable for someone like Zhang Shan, who would usually stay in one place to farm monsters.

At the same time, he could set two coordinates in other places that he might need to go to at any time.

It saved time and energy. It was such a convenient thing. There was no reason for him not to choose it.

"brother divine artifact, are you selling the positioning bead?"

"I'm definitely not selling it. Do you think I'm short of money now? Such a useful thing, of course he would use it for himself."

"I'm not selling it, I'm using it."

"Alright," he said.

Feng Yun realm gave the positioning ball to Zhang Shan and the others could only be envious.

zhang shan asked after getting the positioning ball.

"Well, how much is the most appropriate price for the positioning bead? I'll give out red packets."

He still had to send a red packet, a red packet that was one-tenth of the item's value.

however, this was the first time a special item like the locating pearl had appeared, so it was hard to evaluate it.

It had never appeared before, and there was no target for reference. Zhang Shan did not even know how many red packets were suitable.

Chapter 234 engineer

Zhang Shan could not be sure himself. He could only ask others about the value of the positioning Pearl. Otherwise, it would be embarrassing if he sent too little red packets, but he was not a fool if he sent too much.

” this is hard to estimate. there’s no previous transaction record. ”

“That’s a problem. What did boss say?”

Feng Yun realm was also in a dilemma. It was not that he wanted Zhang Shan to give him more red packets.

It was just that it was really hard to estimate.

let’s just say it’s worth 50 million. You can send a red packet of 5 million gold coins. What does everyone think? ”

It was hard to say how much the positioning bead was worth. Fifty million was not considered expensive.

Back then, the mana pool that Zhang Shan had received had been auctioned off in the Guild for 50 million gold coins.

In terms of practical value, the positioning ball was much better than the source of magic.

A special item like the positioning ball was very valuable to the rich big shots.

Even if they spent one or two hundred million, there might still be people who wanted it.

Unless they obtained it by themselves, they would never buy it, because positioning beads would not directly increase the player’s strength.

It only increased the player’s mobility and saved time.

To Zhang Shan, if he were to spend 50 million gold coins, or even more, to buy a positioning ball ...

He had to think about it. It wasn’t that he didn’t want to spend money, but he had to repair the broken ring.

He had also spent more than 30 million gold coins. By right, it should not be a problem to spend 50 million gold coins to buy a positioning bead.

however, he did not have that many gold coins. all the gold coins on zhang shan’s body added up was still a little short of 50 million.

Fortunately, this was a Guild operation. When they fought the BOSS together, the items were distributed according to the damage ranking.

Now, he only needed to give out a red packet of five million gold coins. Needless to say, Zhang Shan had no objections.

seeing that no one had anything to say, zhang shan immediately sent out a red packet of five million gold coins in the guild channel.

At the same time, he set one of the coordinates in the positioning bead to be in the beast King Valley.

Beast King Valley, this grinding spot, was undoubtedly his main activity spot for a period of time.

As a player who aspired to be a Pro, Zhang Shan planned to grind here until he reached level 40.

Then, he would consider his next step.

“Haha, I got 10000 gold coins.”

ASIBA, this is too unfair. There are only 5000000 gold coins in total. Our Guild has 50000 people to split it, but you took 10000 gold coins by yourself. This is too much.

“Hehe, I have a good character. Are you not convinced?”

“I just don’t like it. I really want to chop you to death.”

There were more than 40000 guild members in the beast King Valley. Some of them were still farming monsters at the previous location.

By right, they had nothing to do with the BOSS event this time.

however, there was no need to be too clear about it. in any case, they were all brothers in the same guild, so he would let them have a share of the joy.

Zhang Shan also snatched the red packet that he had sent. It was 10 gold coins. That was a little too little.

However, it didn’t matter. He had taken the best things. He couldn’t take all the good things.

The second item was ‘let’s choose as we wish’.

This Big Shot didn’t have much to think about, so he chose the totem technique.

He would then auction it in the Guild. Moving heart was a magic swordsman, and totem was a witch doctor’s skill book.

He couldn’t use it, so he could only use it internally.

Unfortunately, such a good skill book was not sold for a high price.

It had just reached 10 million gold coins before it stopped.

Normally, if such an impressive skill book were to be put up for auction, it would be possible to sell for tens of millions. However, if it was only auctioned within the Guild, then it would be sold for tens of millions.

The number of participants was a little small.

There weren’t many big shots in the Guild who played support, and the other weak players didn’t have the ability to spend this money.

in the end, the totem was won by a big shot of the guild, the witch doctor.

Following that, heart with me sent out a red packet of over a million in the Guild channel.

Zhang Shan managed to grab a few dozen gold coins, which was just the average amount. He did not lose out.

The remaining three pieces of red equipment and materials would be split among Feng Yun realm and the rest.

As for the red packet, it was not worth mentioning. To be able to grab a gold coin was already considered heaven-defying luck.

“Done. Let’s go and farm monsters.”

feng yun realm said as he waved his hand after the items were distributed.

The BOSS battle had ended just like that, except for Zhang Shan and heart following me.

The others did not gain much, but the big boss in Zhang Shan’s team was still okay, at least he got a first clear.

After getting a skill point, the rest of the people only got a few dozen to a few hundred gold coins.

However, there was only one boss, and there were only a few good items. It was impossible for everyone to have one, so it was important to participate.

the next day, after dinner, zhang shan strolled on the streets for a while and went online again.

“I’m going back to the city first. There’s still a monster attack at night.”

zhang shan said to the other three people in the team.

it’s still early. The monster attack will start at eight o’clock. It’s not even seven o’clock yet.

Wind cloud blade asked curiously.

yes, I know. I’m going to go back and level up my engineering to see if I can become an engineer.

“Oh, then you can go back first. We’ll play for a while more.”

“I’ll see you later.”

After Zhang Shan returned to Heaven’s Gate, he went to Dangyang city through the teleportation formation.

First, he would go to the auction house and buy the materials again, even though he already had enough.

However, it was not easy to obtain the levels of the lifestyle classes. There was no harm in preparing more materials.

At the same time, he would also look for divine materials to buy in the auction house.

So far, other than boss Wu, no one else knew the importance of divine materials.

Blade of wind and cloud had been struggling with his mission to challenge the demon general.

That guy had no idea that without divine materials, even if he completed the mission, it would be useless.

zhang shan only had one divine material in stock, but boss wu had a few.

This item wasn't easy to find, and there weren't many drops. Anyway, Zhang Shan had only farmed two of them.

After scanning through the engineering Materials, he found another divine material in the auction house.

Without any hesitation, he slapped it away.

he teleported to the warehouse and took out all the engineering materials and stored the divine materials.

Then, he teleported to the Guild residence.

It was time to level up his engineering skills. He was still an apprentice engineer, and his proficiency had not yet reached the maximum.

Zhang Shan started to make the fireworks. He had successfully made this before.

It would be much easier to do it now. After spending a lot of materials, he could raise his Trainee Engineer proficiency to 100.

Each life profession blueprint could only be used to raise 100 proficiency points, and from apprentice engineer to engineer, it required 200 proficiency points.

there was no point in making more fireworks, so he would make wooden birds.

After many failures, Zhang Shan finally made his first wooden bird.

He continued to rush, and after making a bunch of wooden birds, Zhang Shan's engineering level finally rose to engineer.

Chapter 235 Elementary burning bomb

[I've finally been promoted to an engineer. I can now craft a level 3 engineering item, basic burning bomb.]

Zhang Shan had already prepared the blueprint. He had learned the manufacturing method of the basic combustion bomb.

All that was left was the liver.

To be precise, it was a payment for in-game currency. The materials used to make elementary-level combustion bombs were not cheap.

The price of each set of materials added up to almost a hundred gold coins.

Based on his previous experience, he would fail at least a hundred times on his first try.

Zhang Shan would have to spend tens of thousands of gold coins to succeed.

But it didn't matter. Ten thousand gold coins was only a small amount to the current Zhang Shan.

He didn't feel any heartache at all.

He placed the materials to make the basic combustion bomb on the operating table and began to make.

Without a doubt, it was a failure.

don't worry, one more time.

In order to produce bullets with attributes, Zhang Shan had prepared a lot of materials.

After countless failures, Zhang Shan had finally succeeded in making his first set of elementary combustion bombs.

Looking at the red glow of the bullet on the control panel, Zhang Shan could not help but laugh.

asiba was finally bidding farewell to the days of using ordinary bullets.

Since he was able to create bullets with attributes, he would naturally use the elementary burning bullets in the future.

Zhang Shan kept the bullets from the control panel.

Then, he checked his backpack. There were a total of 10000 basic burning bombs.

This number was a little small. Even if he raised his proficiency in the future and achieved a 100% success rate, he would still be able to produce the gene reagents.

The production cost of each elementary combustion bomb was also one copper coin.

It didn't seem appropriate to use it to farm monsters.

Let's take a look at the bullet's attributes first.

[elementary burning bomb: attack power +100, attacks have a burning effect, 500 damage per second, lasts for three seconds.]

It was not bad, which meant that each attack would add an additional 600 damage.

To be honest, the basic combustion bomb did not improve Zhang Shan much. His current attack power was almost 14000.

With the nemesis of the demon race and the crushing effect of the sky Eagle king ring ...

The theoretical damage was almost 17000, so 600 was nothing.

this elementary combustion bomb came a little late. if zhang shan had had this kind of bullet at the beginning ...

That's more like it. Now, it felt useless.

Forget it, let's not care about it. I'll make a batch first.

As he had successfully produced it once, the subsequent production was much smoother, although there were still many failures.

However, as his proficiency increased, the success rate of his production would also increase.

In the end, it was basically a one-time success.

zhang shan had used up all the materials for the primary incendiary bomb.

A total of more than two million bullets were produced.

I'll save some for bosses and fights, and sell the rest at the auction house.

Although the basic combustion bomb did not improve Zhang Shan much, it was very useful for other Hunter professions.

Even if the other hunters changed into a full set of level 30 red equipment, they would still be able to use it.

The highest attack power was probably around 3000, and the basic burning bullet had an additional 600 damage.

To them, it was no worse than having one more piece of equipment.

There should be people who would buy it.

After some consideration, Zhang Shan teleported to the auction house.

after checking, he found that there were already people selling the basic burning bombs at the auction house.

Thinking about it, it made sense. Zhang Shan did not specialize in engineering. He usually just collected materials.

There were only two times where they focused on leveling up. There were so many players in the New World.

There would always be people who had nothing to do and would rush to level up their lifestyle classes early on.

Engineering was considered an unpopular profession. It was said that some people in the apothecary profession had even reached the Grandmaster level.

He looked at the price of other people's basic burning bullets. Generally, a set of 10000 bullets was worth more than 100 gold coins.

It didn't seem like it would work. The materials cost about a hundred gold coins.

If not for the Guild's workshop, he would have to rent a control panel from one of the workshops in the city.

Charging per session was not cheap.

...

He could only earn a few dozen gold coins from a set of low-level burning bombs, and he had to ensure the success rate.

Otherwise, they might lose money.

forget it, i'm too lazy to sell them. i'll keep these two million or so elementary burning bombs for my own use.

He had originally planned to make some money by making attribute bullets, but it seemed that he was not a fool.

this path had already been taken by someone.

It seemed like it wasn't that easy to earn money with a life profession.

He had to get a special blueprint.

If only Zhang Shan could get his hands on those practical yet rare engineering blueprints.

In that case, the engineering products produced would be able to sell for a high price.

zhang shan went to the auction house to check on the level 3 engineering blueprints.

Only then did he realize that other than a few basic burning bomb blueprints, there was not a single other blueprint.

what?

Are there no other blueprints?

What was he going to do in the future? how was he going to become a master engineer without blueprints?

To become a master engineer, he needed 300 proficiency points, which meant that he needed three different blueprints.

He had only learned the recipe for the beginner-level incendiary bomb, so where was he going to get the remaining 200 proficiency points?

Don't tell me that I have to rely on myself to obtain the blueprint? this is a little difficult.

Up until now, Zhang Shan had not obtained a single life profession recipe.

Whether it was his own engineering recipe or the recipes of other lifestyle classes.

He had never seen it before anyway.

f * ck, did it have to be so difficult?

He had only just started his life profession. How was he going to level up after this?

Life professions were divided into nine levels in engineering.

They were divided into apprentice engineers, probationary engineers, engineers, master engineers, Grandmaster engineers, great Grandmaster engineers, legendary Masters, divine craftsmen, and Saint Masters.

Apprentices could only make white grade items, while apprentice engineers could make green grade items.

In this way, legendary Masters could make spiritual weapons, and divine craftsmen could make divine weapons.

As for the sagemaster, he should be able to create a Saint artifact.

However, he had only been promoted to an engineer. It's only at Level 3, and it's already impossible.

What was he going to do with the rest of the road?

forget it, i'll take it slow. i'll spend more time in the future and pay more attention to the auction house.

See if there are any engineering blueprints for sale, and as long as there are, bid for them first.

He would need to use blueprints above level 3 in the future.

He would need even more blueprints. If he didn't prepare in advance and got them at the last minute, he wouldn't be able to get them at all.

Forget it, i'll take it slow. That's all for today.

Fortunately, at least he had managed to produce the basic burning bomb, just in time for the monster attack.

It could at least increase his combat power and also give some bullets to the other hunters in the Guild.

He believed that they would need it.

Zhang Shan looked at the time. It was still half an hour away from 8 O'clock. The monster attack would still take a while.

What should he do now? he couldn't just wait in the city.

Alright, i'll continue to farm monsters in the beast King Valley. Anyway, the coordinates have been marked by the positioning bead.

It would not take much time to get to beast King Valley.

Arriving instantly was willfulness.

Zhang Shan returned to the beast King Valley through the positioning ball. The previous monster-killing team had not disbanded.

He quickly found the three of them through the team information.

zhang shan ran over.

“Didn’t you go to level up your profession? Why did you come back?”

Wind and cloud blade asked curiously after seeing Zhang Shan.

“I’m done. Let’s come back and farm some monsters first. There’s still a long time before the monster attack event. I can’t just wait in the city, right?”

“you’re awesome. It’s great to have a positioning bead. You can come and go as you wish.”

“hehe, it’s alright.”

It was also because Zhang Shan had the positioning bead. Otherwise, he would not be able to start the event in half an hour.

Even if it was an hour later, he would have to stay in Dangyang city and wait. It was impossible for him to come to beast King Valley to farm monsters.

Even if he was fast on the red Hare, it would still take him half an hour to reach the beast King Valley.

It would be better to stay in Dangyang city than to waste that effort.

It was different with the positioning bead. He could arrive instantly without any trouble.

“By the way, do you have any plans for the monster attack?”

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

“what else can we do? it’s the first event after the update. Who knows how it’ll be played? just try not to be too far away.”

“okay, but the main thing is that we’ll lose experience points if we die. We can’t be too reckless. Otherwise, I’m afraid that the support won’t be able to save us.”

“yes, let’s play it safe for now. When the event begins, our Guild will stay outside the East Gate and observe the situation first.”

“Our guild members are still too few. There are almost ten million players in the entire Dangyang city. We only have 50000 people. We can’t control the entire city.”

Zhang Shan could not help but feel emotional.

Although there were no other powerful guilds in Dangyang city, there were many solo players.

They only had 50000 people and had no control over Dangyang city.

In addition, the wind and cloud Guild was not very good at management. It would be a joke if they were messed up by independent players.

“It’s fine. We’re almost a level 4 Guild, so we can recruit more people.”

They chatted as they killed monsters. After another 20 minutes, Feng Yun realm shouted in the Guild channel.

the monster attack is about to begin. Everyone, get ready to return to the city.

got it. Let’s do it and try to take down a few big bosses.

don’t be too greedy. It’s already good enough that you can take down one big Boss.

that’s right. In the previous monster sieges, the BOSS ‘HP was 10 times that of the wild. I wonder if it’ll still be the same after the change? ”

I don’t think so. The event this time is fought outside the city. If it’s still 10 times the HP, how can we possibly kill it? ”

” i don’t think so either. the son of the beast deity that we just killed had 250 million hp. if the BOSS in the event has 10 times the hp, it would have 2.5 billion hp. it’s impossible to kill it in an hour of the event. ”

” that’s true. an active BOSS should be similar to a wild BOSS. ”

“why are you thinking so much? you’ll know when the event starts.”

“That’s right, cast a return bar.”

Everyone gradually returned to the city. Zhang Shan and the rest also stopped farming monsters and returned to Dangyang city first.

They still had to form a new team.

After returning to Dangyang city, the others went to repair their equipment and buy supplies.

This Zhang Shan did not need it. He had already done it just now.

“where should we gather? at the guild residence, or just outside the city?”

Zhang Shan asked in the Guild channel.

let’s just gather outside the East Gate. We’ll be fighting outside the city anyway.

Feng Yun realm replied.

Zhang Shan teleported to the East Gate and rode out of the city.

Although the event had not started yet, the players outside the East Gate had already formed a large black Mass.

There were people everywhere. It was usually not obvious, but when it was time for activities.

only then did he realize how many players there were in dangyang city.

Based on his calculations, the number of players in Dangyang city had already exceeded ten million.

The cities in the New World were all extremely large, so much so that one had to teleport in the city. If he had to run, he would have to run for a long time.

However, no matter how big the city was, when the number of players increased, it still felt a little insufficient.

After the others were done replenishing their supplies, they also left the city one after another.

f * ck, there are people everywhere. Where are we going to gather? ” there are so many people. This is a monster attack. It's a player attack.

...

“Yeah, I feel like there are more people than monsters.”

don't worry, the monster event has just been updated, so it won't let the players have an easy time. With so many people, most of them might not even be able to kill a small monster.

that's too much. For the current players, level 40 to 50 monsters are easy to kill.

I wonder what the difficulty of the event in the new version is.

“Why do you want to do that? gather.”

Feng Yun realm marked a location outside the city where there were not many people.

All the Guild members were to gather there.

“everyone, form your own teams of 50. try to make sure that there are a few assistants with resurrection skills in the team.”

After everyone had arrived, Feng Yun realm made the arrangements.

Everyone formed their own teams and quietly waited for the event to begin.

After a while, the war drums beat and the horns sounded.

≪ system announcement: the ninth Demon God's right general Loke will lead his troops to attack Dangyang city. All players, please be prepared. ≫

The opening scene was the same as before. The general of the right of the demon race made a clamor, and then the Lord of Dangyang city flew out of the city.

Loke was blocked at an unknown place. Red light filled the sky in the distance, but the players could not see the exact situation of the battle.

this Dangyang city Lord is a little weak. Why didn't I see him kill Loke? ”

” brother, if you're serious, you'll lose. just treat it as an opening GG animation. ”

“I wonder how strong Loke is. I really want to go and take a look.”

In fact, there was no need for them to say anything. There were already quite a few pub players riding their horses towards the red light.

As for whether he could see Loke, that was unknown.

The event began, but no monsters had appeared yet.

This time, it was different from the previous events. The monsters from before had directly descended into the city.

This time, the monster would probably run over from a distance, which might take a while.

While everyone was waiting, the ground suddenly trembled, and a Black Wave spread over from the distance.

“F * ck, look, what are those? are they all monsters? just how many monsters are there?”

“F * ck, can this event be held? Why don’t we return to the city?”

looking at the black waves approaching from afar, everyone was afraid that there were more people than monsters.

However, he no longer had such thoughts, even though he could not see the number of monsters.

However, one look at the situation and one could tell that it would not be simple. This event was going to be difficult.

He saw a few figures on horses running quickly in front of the Black Tide, but they were soon drowned.

These were the players who had wanted to go and see the right general Loke. Not long after they ran out, they were killed by the monsters.

Chapter 237 Reappearing as a strongmen commander

Looking at the black wave that was approaching from the distance, everyone was not confident.

The number of monsters was ridiculous, and they even knew what level and strength they were.

If the monster’s level was much higher than the player’s, then the monster’s level would be much higher than the player’s.

Even their wind and cloud Guild would not be able to establish itself outside of the city.

get into formation. Form a few dozen large circular formations. Guardian Warriors, stay on the outside. BrittleSkin, stand on the inside.

Even though they did not know the strength of the monster, Feng Yun realm still cautiously told everyone to defend.

The entire wind and cloud Guild quickly formed dozens of large circular formations.

many people had already returned to the city. they didn't even need to fight. looking at the situation, those who didn't have any ability wouldn't be able to stand outside the city.

"We'll try to get as close to the city gate as possible. If the situation doesn't look good, we'll retreat back into the city."

that's right. The city gate and the city wall are guarded by the NPC Army. The monsters can't possibly destroy the NPC Army as well.

"That's impossible. The NPC Army's level is very high. If we can't even stop them, we can find a place to log off, hehe."

When they were ready, the monsters in the distance were getting closer and closer, and they could finally get a clear view.

"What the hell is this? Why do I feel like there are all kinds of monsters?"

"Yes, it seems that the monsters we have killed before have all appeared outside Dangyang city."

that's good. I wonder if there are any Wolf Kings and ant queens. If there are, then it'll be great. It'll be a free red boss.

don't think too much about it. Even if there is one, it might not appear here. There are four gates of Dangyang city.

"Get ready, the monster is coming."

The first wave of monsters that charged over were only level 20 demonkins. To them, they didn't have any pressure.

The dozens of circular formations were firmly guarded, so it would be fine no matter how many monsters there were.

"haha, that's too easy. i was nervous for nothing."

what are you being cocky for? be careful, a high-level monster is coming.

the monsters that attacked the city did not come in waves, from low to high levels.

Instead, there were monsters of all levels, and they were all charging over.

They had been fighting the level 20 demon dweller with ease, but a group of level 30 wild wolves immediately came.

In the distance, level 40 army ants appeared, and many other monsters that Zhang Shan had never seen before.

The lowest level was level 20, while the highest was level 50.

"be careful, a boss has appeared on our side."

"Don't be nervous, it's just an orange boss. Watch me kill it."

"Don't move, maintain the formation."

Although in the Guild channel, some people said that they had seen an orange boss, Zhang Shan had not seen it.

The boss wasn't at the edge of their circle, and the outside of the circle was filled with monsters.

There were all kinds of things, and she didn't even care about her boss.

"F * ck, what's the meaning of this event? is it a tower defense game? You want us to guard a place and keep farming monsters?"

"this is just the beginning, don't be anxious."

that's right. If the big BOSS appears from the start, what's the point of playing? "

Everyone chatted as they killed monsters, even though there were no bosses.

However, there were contribution points for killing monsters. As long as they killed monsters, they would gain contribution points.

Zhang Shan went all out, quickly taking down the monsters one by one. He could take down any monster below level 40 with one shot.

Looking at the ranking on the contribution board, Zhang Shan was in the lead in no time.

He had never been afraid of anyone when it came to farming speed.

Not to mention the fact that he had two divine weapons and all sorts of passive skills, his attack was terrifyingly high. Just based on Zhang Shan's attack speed ...

He was only two to three times faster than other players. Who could beat him in terms of farming monsters?

If this was a monster attack, they would have to kill the monsters like this until the end.

That Zhang Shan's city defense contribution might even reach 10 times that of the second place.

In addition to the wind and cloud Guild, the other players from Dangyang city were also in a group of dozens.

They got into all sorts of formations and slowly killed monsters.

there were many monsters, and many of them were high level.

However, they were still small monsters, and they didn't receive any additional enhancements.

for most players, if they grouped together, as long as they were careful and did not encounter any other accidents, they would have no problem farming.

look at the regional channel, a Hercules commander has appeared outside the South Gate.

"Nani, isn't the Hercules commander an instance dungeon boss? why did he come out?"

damn it, why didn't it spawn on our side? the Hercules commander is so good. It's a level 30 red boss, you can't even find it.

...

“Are there any strong teams at the South Gate? It can't be that they can't even deal with commander Lishi, right?”

in dangyang city, there were two other small guilds besides their guild, the wind and cloud guild.

However, one of the guilds had just been established, and it was only a level 1 Guild.

The other Guild was also a level 2 Guild. They were not very strong.

If they weren't all gathered together, they might not even be able to defeat a rank 30 strongmen commander.

Zhang Shan opened the regional channel to check.

“F * ck, is no one going to fight this BOSS?”

” what's there to fight? who's going to take it? one hammer for one. no one can block it. ”

“F * ck, I'll leave, alright? I'm so scared to see a BOSS running around here.”

Outside the South Gate were all solo players, and no one was willing to go up and take the BOSS.

To current players, the Hercules commander wasn't too strong. At least, it wasn't strong until the BOSS used its ultimate.

...

As long as a Guardian warrior with better equipment and a little more support, they could withstand the first half.

However, after half of its HP was lost, it was not easy to deal with. The strongmen commander's trample was a great counter to melee.

Previously, Zhang Shan and the others had also relied on him to keep recalling the Panda balls and then summon them again.

That's how he managed to hold off the Hercules commander.

it seems like no one's fighting that strongman commander. Should we go and fight him? ”

Zhang Shan asked in the Guild channel.

“Is there a need? We should be facing a boss too.”

I think we can do it. It won't take too much time to fight a Hercules commander. We can come back after that.

“Boss, do you want to go and get one?”

A normal Hercules commander had 10000000 HP, but the one in the extreme mode dungeon only had 7000000 HP.

they only needed one or two thousand people to defeat the lishi commander in minutes.

I wonder what the Hercules commander looks like. No one has posted his attributes.

yeah, I'm just afraid it's a waste of time. It's not worth it for a level 30 red boss.

Zhang Shan had wanted to try it out. Red bosses were also very rare. Usually, it was hard to find one.

Although the Hercules commander was only a level 30 BOSS, Zhang Shan did not want the equipment that it dropped. He wanted to get something else.

As long as he killed it, he could get a skill book or special item. That would be great.

Chapter 238 Outside the South Gate

when he heard that a strong commander had appeared at the south gate, and that no one was fighting, zhang shan could not hold it in.

It would be a waste if they didn't fight the BOSS, and it was shameful to waste.

however, feng yun realm did not seem to be willing to do it. this big shot was a little too steady.

" why don't we just go and do it? it's not too much trouble anyway. once we get to the city, we can teleport to the south gate and rush out to find the BOSS. "

it's not that simple. We're surrounded by monsters. How do we get into the city? "

Now that they had formed a large circular formation, it was no problem for them to guard and farm monsters. However, if they wanted to move their positions ...

It wasn't that easy. There were so many monsters, and they were still quite a distance away from the East Gate. How were they going to charge?

"What's there to worry about? I'll just brush my way through. At most, I'll just be a little slower."

"You guys are so stupid. Do you need to rush back to the city? The people on the outside will hold off the monsters, and the people in the inner circle can just split a small portion of them to cast the spell and return to the city."

f * ck, that's a good idea. We'll split some people from each circle formation to cast a spell and return to the city. It won't affect our defense and farming monsters. We just have to shrink the formation a little.

There were simply too many monsters outside the city. They had been discussing for a long time how to run from the East Gate to the South Gate.

there's no need to go through so much trouble. We can just go in groups of 50 people. It's very easy to fight a Hercules commander.

Zhang Shan opened his mouth and said. Wasn't it just fighting a Hercules commander? there was no need to make it so formal. It wasn't like they had never fought before.

Previously, they had even defeated the Hercules commander in the extreme mode dungeon.

There was no way the Hercules commander would be stronger than the one in the extreme mode.

“Uh, brother artifact, we should send more people. It’s not that the Hercules commander is difficult to deal with, but there are too many players there. We need more people to control the situation.”

don’t worry, we’ll just focus on the BOSS. I’ll take down anyone who comes up to cause trouble with one shot.

do you have to be so ruthless? what if you kill a red name? if you’re a red name, you can’t return to the city. You can only run around the city and come back.

that’s right. There are monsters everywhere outside the city before the event ends. You can’t run back to the East Gate from the South Gate.

” brother artifact, you can’t be a red-named player. if a BOSS appears at the east gate and you don’t come back, what are we going to do? ”

it’s alright. I’ll use the positioning bead to set the coordinates outside the East Gate. After I beat the Hercules commander, I’ll be directly teleported to the East Gate.

What was there to worry about with a red name? with the positioning Pearl, Zhang Shan could not enter the city for half a month. Anyway, it would not affect him from farming monsters in the beast King Valley.

ASIBA, I almost forgot that brother divine weapon still has a positioning bead. It’s awesome.

“Then there’s no problem. There’s no need for all of us to go. Just 50 of us will go. You guys go, I won’t go.”

Feng Yun realm said.

Indeed, there was no need to send people to every big circle formation. Their wind and cloud Guild was divided into dozens of big circle formations, and each circle formation had nearly a thousand people.

It was not a problem to lose 50 people, and it was easy to make arrangements.

“Okay, I’ll start the party. If you want to go, just say the word. Only ranged and support, no melee. The strongmen commander is specialized in close combat.”

after deciding to go and cause a ruckus, windcloud blade shouted in the guild channel.

“f * ck, you don’t want close combat? then what the hell are you?”

The strongmen commander was indeed useless if too many melee players went. After the boss’s health reached half, the melee players could only watch and could not go up at all.

otherwise, the strongmen commander would have fallen to the ground with a single stomp.

However, the problem was that Windcloud blade was a melee player himself. It was a little too much that he did not team up with other melee players.

I’m in charge of killing people. What can you do if you go? you should just stay here and farm monsters, hehe.

Very quickly, Windcloud blade had formed a 50-man party.

Many of the Guild leaders also joined the team, preparing to go to the South Gate to fight a group of Hercules commanders.

Under the lead of Windcloud blade, the 50 players cast a spell to return to the city. They then quickly teleported to the South Gate of Dangyang city.

After they rode out of the city gate, they looked at the dense monsters outside the city and felt a headache.

f * ck, where's the Hercules commander? there are so many monsters, where can we find it? ”

“Look over there, commander Lishi is there.”

A sharp-eyed Big Shot stretched out his hand and pointed into the distance.

Zhang Shan looked in the direction he pointed out. Indeed, he saw the Hercules commander in the distance.

There were also many players at the South Gate. They gathered in groups to defend and farm monsters outside the city.

The players who were close to the city gate retreated back into the city.

However, most of the players were still a little far from the city gate and would not be able to retreat for a while.

They could only grit their teeth and stay outside the city to farm monsters. The Hercules commander rampaged around, pushing the player parties to the brink of collapse.

“There are too many monsters. How are we going to get there?”

Looking at the monsters everywhere, everyone was a little worried. If they couldn't get close to the Hercules commander, how could they fight?

“Follow closely, I'll open the way.”

Zhang Shan got off his horse and summoned the Panda bear. His hand cannon started to shoot out bullets, knocking down the small monsters one by one.

He slowly opened up a path and approached the Lishi commander.

The rest of the team followed closely behind him, protecting Zhang Shan's surroundings.

it's not going to be easy. Even if no one comes to harass us, we can't concentrate on fighting the BOSS with so many small monsters.

don't panic. If you really can't handle it, you guys just focus on clearing the small monsters. I'll fight the BOSS alone.

Zhang Shan wasn't worried at all. To him, the Hercules commander wasn't strong. As long as he had a few supports, he could help him heal the Panda team.

He could blow up the Lishi commander all by himself, and it wouldn't take long.

If he could defeat a level 50 real name BOSS, Zhang Shan would not even be bothered by a level 30 red BOSS.

Not long after, under Zhang Shan's fierce firepower, everyone fought all the way from the South Gate to the vicinity of the Lishi commander.

"You guys think of a way to clear the small monsters and clear a small open space. I'll start the BOSS and get a few support to heal the Panda bear."

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda bear to move forward.

Waving the hammer in his hand, he rushed up and hit the Panda ball on the head. -13400.

the strongmen commander's damage to the panda ball was only 13000.

It could withstand more than ten attacks.

...

There was no pressure at all for him to hold off the Hercules commander.

After the Panda ball held back the Hercules commander, Zhang Shan quickly began to attack, completely ignoring the densely packed monsters around him.

He still had more than 40 teammates around him, all of whom were powerful big shots.

It was impossible that they couldn't even stop these small monsters.

Moreover, the wind cloud Cupid had come with them.

if he used his ultimate skill, he could clear a large number of small monsters.

chapter 239-if you can fight, don't talk nonsense

The others gathered around to clear the small monsters. Zhang Shan began to attack the Hercules commander.

At the same time, he checked the attributes of the Hercules commander.

after the update, the bosses in the monster siege event were no different from the bosses in the wild.

This Hercules commander wasn't very strong. It was slightly weaker than the one in extreme mode.

It only had 8000 attack power and 30000000 HP.

zhang shan was alone, so it would not take too long to destroy it. he estimated that he would be done in less than ten minutes.

after you guys clear the small monsters, take some time to fight the BOSS and finish it off quickly. This Hercules commander isn't strong.

Zhang Shan continued to attack as he spoke.

” leave 20 people to clear the mobs. the rest of you, follow six-shots to fight the BOSS. ”

Wind and cloud blade said.

He would not come to fight the BOSS. If wind cloud blade, a melee fighter, came to fight the Hercules commander ...

After half health, the strongmen commander would not have any close combat skills.

hence, windcloud blade decided to just stay in the periphery and clear the monsters. he was too lazy to come up and fight.

After clearing the monsters for a while, the party split up into 20 or so people and attacked the Hercules commander together.

feng yun qing qing cast a curse on the hercules commander.

Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills, and the bullets shot out quickly.

It was slowly descending at a speed visible to the naked eye.

it doesn't seem difficult at all. I feel like we can blow it up in less than five minutes.

“Who are you looking down on? do you need five minutes? Three minutes should be enough.”

“Be careful, be careful of people coming to destroy it.”

what are you afraid of? in Dangyang city, who would dare to provoke our wind and cloud Guild? ”

“That's hard to say.”

yes, just be a little more careful. There are a few lunatics everywhere.

When they had almost beaten the Hercules commander to half of its health, they suddenly saw a team of about a hundred people in the distance.

It was pushing against a large group of small monsters and approaching them.

f * ck, what are those people doing? don't tell me they're here to steal the BOSS.

“Are you kidding me? you dare to steal our BOSS? Isn't that just looking for death?”

don't say anymore. Those people don't have good intentions. What should we do? ”

He looked at the group of people that were approaching from a distance. They were either here to cause trouble or to steal the BOSS.

Anyway, nothing good would come out of it. Otherwise, he would just watch Zhang Shan and the others fight the BOSS here.

Why did he have to charge in this direction with a large group of monsters? it was not normal at all.

Hey, guys over there, don't lure the monsters over here. We're fighting the BOSS here, you guys go somewhere else.

windcloud blade shouted at the people in the distance.

They didn't know any of them.

It could not be helped. There were so many players in the game, even Windcloud blade, who had a wide network of friends.

He also did not know any of them.

However, regardless of whether they knew each other or not, they should first greet each other and distinguish between friend and foe.

"this is your house. we can go wherever we want to go. it's none of your business."

that's right. Your Guild of wind and cloud is too controlling. Those who don't know better might think that Dangyang city belongs to your family.

"These big guilds are probably used to being overbearing. Just ignore them."

Windcloud blade had only spoken a single sentence when he was immediately rebuked.

This was also good. It was good to know that this group of people were not good people, so that he would not accidentally kill good people later.

"brother yidao, ignore them. let them come."

Zhang Shan stopped wind cloud blade. Why were they talking so much with these people? if they could fight, then they shouldn't be talking nonsense.

when they got close, he would let zhang shan's hand cannon teach them a lesson.

okay, you can do it later. If it wasn't for the event, and it's really inconvenient to be red-named, I would have rushed up and cut them down. How arrogant.

Windcloud blade was furious. Did they think that he had a good temper and was talking nicely to these people?

They were all biting like crazy.

The wind and cloud Guild was considered to be very peaceful. They rarely fought with others for resources or bosses.

in particular, he would not compete with the pub players. there was no need to do so at all. he had plenty of resources.

If they weren't on the same level, they could only fight with the other guilds.

Whoever knew that these people were so insensible, they were really sick.

let's slow down a little. We can't let the boss's health drop to half. We'll talk about it after we've dealt with those idiots.

Zhang Shan said as he slowed down his attack.

After the Hercules commander's health reached half, it would keep using big moves, which was a bit difficult to deal with.

Even Zhang Shan had to take it seriously.

The strongmen commander's big move would send the Panda ball flying, so he had to keep recalling his pets.

after that, he would have to use it again. this required constant manipulation, and he wouldn't have the time to deal with that group of people.

He might as well wait for them to get closer first.

zhang shan and the rest slowed down their pace of attacking the BOSS, while the others turned around to clear the surrounding small monsters.

he expanded the surrounding space. even zhang shan did not keep attacking the hercules commander.

He would occasionally clear some small monsters, and let the Panda ball tank the Hercules commander alone.

In any case, there were a few supports healing it before the Hercules commander used its big move.

...

Even if he had to hold on until the end of time, the Panda ball would not die.

That group of people did not let Zhang Shan and the rest wait for too long. Very quickly, they were within Zhang Shan's firing range.

"You guys fight your boss, we'll stay here and farm monsters."

one of the idiots said.

That arrogant look was really detestable. During the monster siege event, the number of wild monsters outside the city was as many as rice.

He could farm monsters anywhere, but he had to come to Zhang Shan's place.

There was nothing much to say. Zhang Shan was too lazy to say anything.

he changed his attack mode to guild mode, turned the gun around, and fired at the group of people like rain.

With Zhang Shan's current attack power, plus boss Wu's attack blessing, the theoretical damage was close to 20000.

Dealing with this group of noobs, wasn't it just one shot one kill?

“F * ck, you still dare to hack people? Brothers, let’s attack together so that they can’t beat the boss.”

f * ck, people from wind and cloud Guild, don’t be too arrogant. You guys are fighting the boss while we’re farming monsters here. Did we offend you guys too? ”

Zhang Shan was too lazy to say a word. He kept shooting at this group of people, and soon, a large number of them were knocked down.

There were only a hundred people in total, and Zhang Shan had instantly defeated more than ten of them.

As for charging forward and preventing Zhang Shan and the others from beating the boss ...

That must be a joke. These noobs didn’t know who they were.

At the scene, other than Zhang Shan, no one else attacked. It would be troublesome if they were red names.

anyway, it was not a tough idea. zhang shan alone could easily handle it.

“Holy F * ck, Bodhisattva six tubes, don’t go too far.”

you only know how to bully solo players. Trash wind cloud Guild.

After Zhang Shan had knocked down more than ten people, the remaining people could not even hold on against the small monsters. They were all cursing.

Useless barking.

Zhang Shan had specifically picked their tank classes to fight. Without any tank to tank the monsters, they could only rely on these weaklings.

There was really no way to gain a foothold in a group of monsters.

Chapter 240 lightning

Seeing that the threat had been removed, Zhang Shan resumed his attack on the boss. Those who had not been defeated by Zhang Shan.

He was still struggling in the middle of the monster horde, but he probably wouldn’t be able to last much longer.

These people probably wouldn’t have the chance to come and disturb Zhang Shan’s boss fight.

Even if they resurrected back in the city, they would not be able to make it in time. Zhang Shan would not need to waste a few more minutes to defeat the Hercules commander.

In order to deal with this group of people, he had wasted two to three minutes of his time fighting the boss.

Otherwise, the Lishi commander would have been blown up.

zhang shan and his teammates continued to attack the hercules commander. not long after, the health of the hercules commander had dropped to 50%.

The boss stomped and sent the Panda bear ball flying. However, the Panda bear ball did not die.

zhang shan had experienced it before. when the panda ball was still flying in the air.

He recalled his pet and summoned it again, blocking the Hercules commander that was rushing towards him.

His actions were smooth and fluid, and he was very skilled.

The supports quickly raised the Panda's blood.

Everyone's attacks continued to land on the body of the Hercules commander without wasting any time.

"what's going on? did you guys just kill someone? Someone is scolding our Guild in the regional channel."

Secretary Feng Yun shouted in the Guild channel.

Those unspecialized players that Zhang Shan had defeated could not do anything, so they could probably only be flammers in the regional channel.

Zhang Shan could not be bothered with them. He did not even bother to look at the regional channel.

there was a group of idiots who wanted to cause trouble. They were taught a lesson by six-in-charge, so let them spit.

windcloud blade replied in the guild channel.

"Can you guys do it? do you need any reinforcements?"

what support? the Hercules commander is almost dead. What's the situation at the East Gate? did a BOSS appear? " there are only two orange bosses here. I haven't seen a single red boss.

there's no rush. It's still a long time before the event ends. The real big Boss hasn't entered yet.

Windcloud blade was clearing out the monsters while chatting with the others in the Guild channel.

And Zhang Shan brought along 20 or so of his men, and the health of the strongmen commander dropped rapidly.

before the event began, zhang shan had already switched the bullets to the elementary combustion rounds.

he also gave some basic burning bombs to the hunters in the association.

When the bullets hit the body of the Hercules commander, the burning effect was still present. The damage of -500, -500, did not stop.

For the strongmen commander with 30000000 HP, 500 damage was nothing.

However, as time went on, the total damage dealt was quite considerable.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, after two to three minutes, the level 30 strongmen commander's health was empty.

zhang shan controlled the panda bear and used his combo skills to get the last hit.

With the increase in the Panda ball's level, its attack power had also increased to more than 10000.

a seven-hit combo skill could deal nearly 100000 damage. it was getting more and more stable for him to kill the boss at the end.

As The Guardian boss of the demon suppression platform's second floor, the Hercules commander had long since been defeated.

that was why there was no system announcement after they killed the boss, so they didn't get any skill points.

quick, let's see if there's any good stuff. You went to the South Gate to fight the BOSS, don't tell me it only dropped some trash.

"what's the hurry? let me see."

After examining his bag for a while, Windcloud blade displayed the loot.

"Not bad, there's a skill book."

The strongmen commander had dropped a total of two red equipment, a material, and a skill book.

There wasn't much to say about the equipment. Level 30 red equipment was in high demand.

Everyone had just reached level 30 not long ago, and there weren't many players in the game who had collected a full set of level 30 red equipment.

As long as it was put up for auction, it could be sold very quickly. Currently, the price of a level 30 red equipment was between 10000 and 50000 gold coins.

They were considered rather valuable.

However, the skill book was a little interesting. It was a Taoist's lightning strike.

Damage increased by 50%. It was a very good attack skill for the Taoist class.

In the New World, the Taoist priest's attack skills were mainly all kinds of lightning spells, which were also auxiliary professions.

the witch doctor's main attack skills were usually all kinds of poison techniques and the like. both had their own advantages.

in terms of pure damage, the daoist priest's damage was higher.

let's roll for the equipment. Distribute the equipment and return to the East Gate.

there were a total of four items, two of which were red-colored equipment, and they were both for strength-type jobs.

...

However, there was only wind and cloud blade here, a strength-type, so wouldn't he have to share everything with him?

"Uh, how do we ROLL for this?"

windcloud blade was a little embarrassed. if they were to ROLL based on the equipment's corresponding class ...

It didn't feel good to let him take all the advantage.

" we can ROLL. you're the only strength type, so i'll just give it to you. if you're embarrassed, you can give us a big red packet, hehe. "

He had no choice. The rules were there. What was supposed to be wind and cloud blade's was his.

The others had nothing to say.

"Alright, I'll give everyone a red packet."

speaking of which, windcloud blade had no use for these two red equipment as he had already gathered the entire set of red equipment.

Even if they were to give him some, they would be goods for auction.

Windcloud blade shared the two pieces of equipment with himself and then sent out a red packet of 50000 gold coins in the party channel.

...

These two pieces of equipment would probably only be worth this much if they were put up for auction. It was equivalent to Windcloud blade converting his equipment into gold coins and sending them out as red packets.

"Brother one blade is generous, hehe."

Zhang Shan opened the red envelope and snatched 3000 gold coins. Not bad, it was more than the average.

[lightning strike] skill book was rolled by the Taoists.

This time, there were only five supports, three witch doctors, and two Taoist priests.

This skill book was rolled by Mr. Wu and another guy.

In the end, boss Wu was lucky and rolled the skill book.

this was mr. wu's first attack skill, which he had never learned before.

He had been using a magic sword to kill monsters all this time. It was quite pitiful.

He did not have enough skill points before.

As an auxiliary profession, Mr. Wu had to Max out several main auxiliary skills first.

An attack blessing, a rejuvenation, an enhanced rejuvenation, and resurrection.

He had four skills to level up, and if he wanted to Max them all, he would need 40 skill points.

And this was every time they fought a boss, Zhang Shan would bring him along to get the first clear.

Otherwise, he would have needed to be at least level 40 to Max out these four support skills.

The lightning strike skill book came at the right time. Mr. Wu had already maxed out the four auxiliary skills.

He still had two or three skill points left, which were just enough to learn the lightning strike skill.

Finally, there was only one red material left. 50 people rolled together. Zhang Shan casually threw out the die, 32 points.

Forget it, he had nothing to do this time.

The materials were rolled away by the others.

“Let’s wrap up and return to the East Gate.”
