Chapter 251 The birth of the third divine weapon

wind and cloud blade was still running his god equipment quest. zhang shan could only form a party with boss wu and heart moves. the three of them formed a party to complete the quest.

He did not want to bring anyone else as Feng Yun realm, Feng Ling, and the little Secretary all had fixed teammates to farm monsters.

Zhang Shan wasn't familiar with the others and couldn't usually hang out with them, so he couldn't be bothered to group up.

"Is the divine weapon mission so difficult? Hadn't wind and cloud blade already completed the quest to challenge the demon general? Why is it taking so long?"

Boss Wu asked Zhang Shan.

I don't know. I've only gotten two divine artifacts, and the two divine artifact missions were completely different. The first one was easier, but the second one was much more difficult. If it wasn't for my good luck, I probably wouldn't have been able to complete it.

what the f * ck, why is it so difficult to get equipment in this game? " that depends on what you think. For the average player, it's as hard as ascending to the sky to get a red equipment.

that's true. Actually, red equipment is already very good. Spiritual weapons and divine weapons are rare, after all. We'll just leave it to fate.

"Is there no place to buy divine artifacts? I'm depressed."

Heart follows me said unhappily.

Well, for this Big Boss, as long as he could buy equipment with money, it was not difficult to deal with. He just had to spend money.

However, the problem was that there was no place to buy a divine artifact. No matter how much money you offered, you couldn't buy it.

"The next time I get a divine artifact mission item, I'll sell it to you, hehe."

Zhang Shan said jokingly.

"That's yours. I'm taking it seriously."

"Haha, we'll talk about it when I get it."

It was really hard to say about things like divine weapon missions.

When he was killing monsters, he had encountered a strange pipe and obtained his first divine artifact.

After that, he didn't manage to get any God equipment or task items.

He had picked up the broken ring at the auction house.

They had fought countless bosses, from normal purple bosses to real-name bosses.

He had fought many different types of battlefields, and the only one that had dropped was the axe blade shard of wind and cloud blade.

And this was his Panda dumpling, which had 10 points of luck. Zhang Shan always tried to control the Panda dumpling as much as possible so that he could be the last one to kill it.

He didn't even get this much, which showed how rare divine artifacts were.

As for the other players in the game, some of them might have gotten it before, but they didn't know where to start the mission.

Just like the broken ring that Zhang Shan had bid for.

If he didn't know that it was a divine weapon mission item, who knew what it was for?

Where could he find the quest NPC?

if someone else were to take the ring, they would at most run around their own city.

If he could not find the NPC that would trigger the quest, then he would just drop it.

He would not be like Zhang Shan, who had run around with the ring, from the East to the West, and had spent a few days.

There were also quests like wind and cloud blade that targeted NPCs, but the quest could not be completed.

No one had even seen a demon general before, so how could they challenge him?

A demon general had finally appeared in today's monster attack, but how many people could defeat it?

There were over 200 million players in the game.

Only the wind and cloud Guild, the God of War Guild, and the domineering aura Guild had successfully defeated the guerrilla general before the event ended.

This was only the type of divine weapon mission that Zhang Shan knew of. Perhaps, there might be even more ridiculous ones.

Zhang Shan checked the equipment ranking.

Other than his two God tools, there were now two more spirit tools on the list.

Previously, there were three spirit weapons on the equipment list.

One of them was the flying snow sword that could move with his heart, the other was Feng Yun Qing's staff, and the last was the axe, a spiritual weapon of the Dragon King of the eastern sea.

Now, there were two more. The wind cloud Cupid took the Arsenal token and went to the East Capital Marshal's mansion to get a bow at the level of a spiritual weapon.

The tyrant king had also gotten his hands on a spiritual weapon axe. He wondered if he had gotten it from killing the guerilla general during the monster siege.

On the other hand, the war god Guild had also defeated the guerrilla generals, but they did not obtain any spiritual weapons.

He wondered what kind of good items they had dropped this time.

It was impossible for the drops of a real name boss to be trash, right? there should at least be one or two decent items.

Perhaps they had gotten their hands on an ultimate skill book.

Zhang Shan and the rest farmed all the way until night. Just as they were about to go to sleep, wind and cloud blade suddenly shouted in the Guild channel.

"Haha, look at my divine weapon. It's finally done."

After saying so, Windcloud blade displayed his newly obtained divine weapon in the Guild channel.

"F * ck, brother one blade is awesome."

...

"Speaking of which, brother one blade, didn't ou Zi make things difficult for you? You got your hands on the divine artifact so easily?"

"Easy? do you know how much i spent? I spent almost 50 million gold coins just to buy the materials. I've walked around the entire East Capital and visited all the material dealers in every corner."

what the f * ck, do you have to be so exaggerated? can't we just buy materials from the same place? "

God knows what kind of mingtang ou is doing. Anyway, he's buying one kind and asking for another. The horses are going to lose weight from all the running.

"Haha, it's okay if the horse becomes thinner."

let me see. It's a divine artifact. I really want it.

Zhang Shan took a look at the legendary axe that wind and cloud blade had displayed.

[sky-splitting battle axe (divine weapon): physical attack power 4000 – 4000, strength +400]

Equipment level (sealed): currently level 30. The artifact will be unsealed as the player's level increases. It will be unsealed once every ten levels.

Durability, never worn out, bound to player wind and cloud blade.

[special effect 1: power attack. basic physical attack power increased by 10%.]

...

[special effect 2: splash. When attacking a target, there will be a splash effect. It will deal 50% damage to other enemy targets in front of it. Damage range: 5 yards.]

[special effect 3: Fury-10% chance to deal double damage.]

[special effect 4: holy strike. there is a chance to trigger the holy strike effect. it ignores the target's defense and deals 10x the damage. the chance of triggering it is 1%.]

asiba, this axe is fierce. the damage effect is much stronger than zhang shan's hand cannon.

In particular, the splash effect was the essence of this divine axe.

It was much more useful than AoE skills. Each attack would deal damage to the enemy in front of him.

He didn't even need to cast any skills, and every slash had a group attack effect. He was so strong that he had no friends.

If he were to use this axe to farm monsters, his leveling efficiency would probably not be any worse than Zhang Shan's. How would the other Berserkers survive if that happened?

Other players could only kill one monster at a time and would occasionally use an AoE skill, but Windcloud slash was able to kill a large number of monsters every time.

This was too strong, too much. Even Zhang Shan was a little jealous.

The rage effect was also a top-tier one. It had a 10% critical hit effect, which was unreasonably strong.

It was not easy for Zhang Shan to obtain a passive skill, but the critical hit rate was only 3%.

Compared to the axe known as wind cloud blade, there was no way it could be compared.

Chapter 252 The birth of the third divine weapon

After wind and cloud blade obtained this axe, his combat strength immediately underwent a qualitative change.

A level 30 godly-level weapon had more than double the attack power of a red equipment of the same level.

In other words, wind and cloud blade's attack power had increased by more than 2000. In addition to the special effect of the power attack, it had also increased the attack power by 10%.

Right now, Windcloud blade's attack power was probably over 6000, or even 7000.

Although compared to Zhang Shan, it was still far from enough. Zhang Shan's current attack power had already reached 14000.

However, they were much stronger than other players.

If he activated Berserker's wrath, his attack power would be increased by 100% for a short period of time.

The instant damage of wind and cloud blade was not any less than Zhang Shan's.

Moreover, Berserkers had many skills that could increase their damage.

For example, the two blade stream skill dealt double damage.

A charge and a two blade stream skill could deal about 30000 damage if it was a critical hit.

He could even kill a powerful Guardian in one hit.

He was really amazing.

"Haha, Heaven's Gate, here I come."

After wind and cloud blade obtained the divine weapon, he could not stop showing off.

"It's already so late, why are you here? we're all going to sleep."

" why sleep? i'm going to kill someone tonight. i'm not sleeping. "

what's there to cut? it'll be a waste if I don't use such a good axe to farm monsters.

that's right. The splash effect is so good. It's a godly weapon for professional monster farming.

"F * ck, is this how you guys understand it? Shouldn't the splash effect be to charge into a crowd and cut down a group of people with one swing of the axe?"

"Do you think others are fools? They can stand together and let you shoot them?"

that's hard to say. At least a few of them can be shot, right? "

This splash effect was very useful, other than when farming monsters.

It was the same when he was killing people, even though the others would not stand together for him to kill.

However, the splash effect was only effective against all enemies within a five-yard radius.

When Windcloud blade charged over, even if others wanted to hide, they couldn't.

It should be able to hit a few targets.

don't be in such a hurry to go offline. I'm currently running towards beast King Valley. I'll let you all see the power of my divine weapon, the battle axe.

After wind and cloud blade dealt with the divine weapon, he was teleported to Heaven's Gate and was running towards beast King Valley.

It would be a joke if he were to go and chop people up. Who would go and chop people up for no reason?

Unless someone had provoked him.

"did you come here alone? aren't you afraid of being killed on the way? we just finished the monster attack today and there are players everywhere on the heaven's gate map."

are you kidding me? who am I afraid of? if I run into anyone who's looking for trouble, I'll kill them with my axe and send them home.

The wind cloud blade that possessed a divine weapon was especially arrogant.

you're a melee class. No matter how good your equipment is, how many people can you cut? after using charge, you'll just be kiting.

In the Guild channel, a certain Big Shot instantly poked at Windcloud blade's sore spot.

This was the difference between a melee and a ranged class.

When it came to one-on-one battles between melee and ranged classes with the same equipment, the melee class was definitely stronger.

Strength-type classes had more HP and more berserk skills.

He could chase and slash long-ranged players all the way, making them not dare to turn their heads.

He could also use the charge skill to slow the opponent down.

However, in terms of group battles, it was the world of long-range.

With a group of artilleries standing there, no matter how meaty a blood cow was, if it dared to charge forward, it would also be a product that was courting death.

with the legendary axe in hand, it was not a problem for windcloud blade to kill two or three people.

He could kill one person first and then chase after the rest.

However, it would be hard to say if he was facing more than five or six enemies.

He had no place to use his martial arts, and no one would fight him head-on.

If he sacrificed one or two people to kite them, the rest would be able to grind him to death.

Just like Zhang Shan, it was fortunate that he was playing the Hunter profession, which had a long range and fast attack speed.

As such, when one's equipment was far superior to other players', one could take on a few hundred people at once.

If he were any other melee class, no matter how amazing his equipment and skills were ...

To be able to fight against more than ten people was already considered ruthless.

...

While blade of wind and cloud was still running around the Heaven's Gate map, the news of the third divine weapon's appearance slowly began to spread.

The world Channel:

"What did I just see? Another divine weapon?"

“F * ck, what’s going on? Who’s the one who got his hands on the divine weapon? it can’t be the Bodhisattva of six tubes, right?”

I just checked the equipment ranking list. This time, it’s not six-barreled Bodhisattva. It’s Windcloud blade from the Windcloud Guild who got his hands on a divine axe.

ASIBA, What’s the Difference? they’re all from the wind and cloud Guild.

there must be some secret to getting a divine weapon in this game. Otherwise, why did the wind and cloud Guild get all three divine weapons? ”

“There must be a secret. It’s confirmed.”

let them reveal their secret. Otherwise, the people from wind and cloud Guild will kill them all. I’m going to be angry.

go ahead. I just saw blade of wind and cloud running around the Heaven’s Gate map. He should be heading to beast King Valley. Go and kill him.

“Ignore him, he’s just a piece of trash who can’t stand seeing others do well. If you want the divine artifact, go and find it yourself.”

that’s right. You don’t like other people holding divine weapons, but other people don’t like you in red.

Zhang Shan had originally planned to go offline and sleep when it was about time.

However, he really wanted to see wind and cloud blade’s divine weapon axe. What was the effect of killing monsters?

He had never seen the splash effect before.

Just from the description, it looked very impressive. As for how impressive it was, he would only know after seeing it.

After half an hour or so, Windcloud blade ran to beast King Valley, and Zhang Shan added him to the team.

Many of the Guild members who were farming monsters stopped and came over to look at the freshly made divine equipment.

“How is it? handsome, right?”

Windcloud blade said smugly after swinging his heaven splitting battle axe.

you’re indeed very handsome. Such a good divine weapon is wasted on you. It’s like casting pearls before swine.

“Don’t you know how to speak? isn’t this heaven splitting battleaxe a perfect match for my mighty and domineering image?”

“You can continue to be smug.”

“Speaking of which, we’ll have two divine weapon brothers in the future. We’ll have to address each other separately, hehe.”

the six-barreled Big Shot has long transcended. Can he be described by a divine artifact Big Shot? ” that’s right. The six-barreled boss can take on a few hundred people at once. Even if he had a divine weapon, he wouldn’t be able to kill more than a few people.

the six-barreled boss is the true God. One blade is at most a pseudo-God, hehe.

brother one blade, quickly find a group of monsters and kill them. Let us see the power of a divine weapon.

Chapter 253 The birth of the third divine tool (2)

Windcloud blade wielded his divine weapon, the battle axe, and charged at the group of jungle tigers.

He waved his axe and slashed down. The jungle Tiger that was cut by Windcloud slash had a damage of-7200.

In front of him, there were still quite a few jungle tigers that were not cut by wind cloud blade.

damage values also appeared above his head, but the damage values were much lower.

the damage value on each jungle tiger was basically over 3000.

f * ck, it’s really awesome. One person is farming faster than four or five people.

“A divine weapon is so terrifying.”

this splash effect is really amazing. Is it specially made for killing monsters? ”

“Brother Yidao, what’s your current attack power? How did he deal more than 7000 damage?”

“About 7500.”

ASIBA, I’m not even 4000 yet, and your attack power is almost twice as strong as mine. Is a divine weapon that powerful? ” that goes without saying. Look at your weapon’s attributes and look at brother Yidao’s sky splitting battleaxe. The difference is like heaven and earth.

not only does a divine weapon add a lot of attack power, but it also has a strong attack special effect, which increases attack by 10%. How can it not be strong? ”

I have to get a divine artifact. Otherwise, I can’t play with it.

“what’s the use of just saying it? where can we get it?”

“Fight the boss. Go find a boss to fight.”

there's no point in fighting bosses. We've fought quite a few bosses before, but didn't they just drop this one divine weapon quest item? " who said we have to kill bosses to get the divine weapon quest item? six-barreled boss 'first divine weapon was obtained from killing small monsters.

"You're good at killing small monsters, but can you trust your own character?"

"it's fine even if you're unlucky. if you farm more monsters, you might be able to get a divine weapon mission item."

keep dreaming. The probability of that happening is probably less than one in a billion.

yeah, it's too unbelievable to get a divine weapon by killing small monsters. Not everyone has the luck of a six-barreled boss.

"Sigh, divine artifacts are too difficult to deal with."

damn it, when I become a divine blacksmith, I'll wholesale divine weapons.

"ASIBA, this is a good idea. By the way, where are you now? Are you still an apprentice?"

it's even more difficult to advance to a life profession. Not to mention that I have to collect materials every day, I don't even know where to get those blueprints.

"By the time you become a divine craftsman, we'll be able to torture demonic gods as we please."

by the way, what's the attack power of the six-barreled boss now? "

"uh, about 14000."

Zhang Shan said after looking at his character's attributes. Last time, he had defeated the son of the beast God, nakaris.

he had obtained another passive skill, and it was a passive skill that increased all attributes by ten percent.

His overall strength had increased by quite a bit.

"ask your mother, you must have suffered a blow."

damn it, my attack power hasn't even reached a fraction of the six-barreled boss'.

how many people's attack power can reach a fraction of his? this is too f * cking high. How can it be this high? "

that's not right. The six-barreled boss only has one more divine weapon than brother Yidao. Why is his attack power almost double? " there are a lot of things you don't know. How can I compare to the six-man Butler? "

Windcloud blade said unhappily.

Although he had finally gotten his hands on a divine weapon, compared to Zhang Shan, he was still far from being able to match up.

Just Zhang Shan's passive skills alone were enough to make people drool.

especially those passive skills that added attack power. when several passive skills were stacked together, the attack power was frighteningly high.

The key was that as time went on, Zhang Shan would be able to get more passive skills, and the gap would only get bigger.

No one else could catch up.

"I'm going offline to sleep. I'll continue tomorrow."

He had also seen the divine weapon. It was indeed not wrong. Not to mention others, even if Zhang Shan was ambushed by wind and cloud blade, he would not be able to escape.

They would also be cut down by a charge.

After all, his current HP was only around 26000. It was impossible for him to block a set of berserk skills from Windcloud blade.

the others were probably the same, except for the guardian, who had a little more hp. as long as there were no critical hits, they would not be killed so easily.

To an average person, wind and cloud blade basically killed whoever he saw.

"Let's go, let's go to sleep."

the group of people went offline one after another. it was already very late.

When he went online the next day, Zhang Shan realized that wind and cloud blade was already farming monsters there.

...

He couldn't help but wonder if this guy didn't sleep last night.

"Why are you so early? did you not sleep last night?"

"I'm sleeping. I just couldn't sleep, so I woke up early."

Zhang Shan was a little speechless. Was he that excited after getting a divine weapon? he could not even sleep.

"Brother Liu Guan, why don't we do something today? we can't keep killing monsters."

"What else can I do if I don't farm monsters?"

'This guy got his hands on the divine axe. He can't really be thinking of killing people, right? but the question is who he's going to kill.'

he couldn't just kill the dragon king of the east sea.

Now that Heaven's Gate was open, the Dragon King of the East Sea was considered to be in the same camp as them. In the future, they would have to work together during the World War.

how could he go and find trouble with others for no reason?

As for the other factions, to be honest, they didn't offend them too much.

...

At most, only the peerless Guild and the West Mountain Guild in the state of Qi had some grudges with them.

However, the wind and cloud Guild had always taken advantage of the situation. They had never suffered a loss.

It wasn't good to mess with others for no reason.

let's go fight the boss. Just the four of us will go. With big brother saber's support and the three of us with strong damage output, we should be able to take down the weaker red boss.

So wind and cloud blade was going to fight a boss. Zhang Shan had thought that he was going to kill people.

Zhang Shan considered for a while and decided that he could use it to fight bosses.

although he wanted to reach level 40 as soon as possible, fighting bosses didn't delay his leveling.

As long as there weren't too many people sharing the experience, it would be fine.

If a few of them went to fight the boss, the EXP would be even more than killing monsters, and they might even level up faster.

If the four of them worked together, they would be able to defeat a normal boss.

The three of them had strong damage output, each stronger than the last. With the help of boss Wu.

Other than the real name bosses, they were probably some particularly difficult red bosses.

They might not be able to defeat the other bosses, as long as they were below level 50.

it wouldn't even be a problem to blow it up.

the key was that bosses were not easy to find.

Although Heaven's Gate was a big place with many bosses, it was still a big place.

However, there were even more players.

The players from the seven nations had gathered in the Heaven's Gate map. There were people everywhere, and if they did not run further away ...

They probably wouldn't even be able to find a single strand of hair from the boss.

okay, when the priest comes online with his sword and Big Boss heart follows, we'll go fight the BOSS. This time, we'll run further away.

that's right. Heaven's Gate's map is so big anyway. Although there are many players, it's impossible to go through all the maps.

Chapter 254 sneak attack

Not long after, boss Wu and heart follows me came online one after another. Zhang Shan told them that he was going to fight a boss.

boss wu didn't have any objections. if he wanted to make money, he had to kill more bosses. of course, he wanted to go.

His purpose for entering the New World to play games was the same as Zhang Shan's. It was to earn money.

Boss Wu still had a big family to support, so how could he not make money?

If he wanted to make money in the game, he had to fight more bosses.

if one wanted to earn money by killing small monsters, they would have to be extremely lucky.

Otherwise, it was already impressive to be able to support himself.

His heart moved as he wished and he didn't have any desire to fight the boss.

This Big Shot just wanted to be a worker with a peace of mind. Other than killing monsters to level up, there was no other fun.

However, they couldn't do it without him. It wasn't safe to move around in the Heaven's Gate map without some strength.

Under normal circumstances, Zhang Shan would be able to handle it easily.

He was just afraid that he would encounter a large group of people who would come and cause trouble.

that zhang shan and wind and cloud blade could not deal with it. most of the players now had mounts.

Zhang Shan's advantage had been weakened.

previously, when he was facing a team of hundreds of players, he could still deal with them.

But now, it was impossible. Over a hundred people were directly charging at his face on horses.

Zhang Shan would not be able to take it either.

As for wind cloud blade, that was even more impossible.

Although this guy had just gotten his hands on a divine artifact and was a little arrogant.

However, when it came to fighting with people ...

It could only be mighty for a few seconds.

However, it was different when you put your heart on and follow me. This Big Shot had an ultimate skill.

seeing that the situation wasn't right, he used an invincible slash.

That wasn't killing gods or Buddha if they were in his way.

Only with an ultimate move in hand would he be safe when walking on The Map of Heaven's Gate.

His heart was his to control. Zhang Shan could only think of a way to convince him.

uh, bro, killing bosses doesn't affect our leveling. Bosses give a lot of experience. We just have to kill two bosses and we'll get more experience than a day.

"Alright then, as long as it doesn't affect my leveling up."

After being hoodwinked by Zhang Shan, his heart moves with me no longer insisted. He was finally willing to go.

"Let's go and fight the BOSS. I hope it drops something good."

Windcloud blade said excitedly as he waved his battle axe.

I hope we can find a few more bosses. Even if it's a purple boss, it'll do.

we'll definitely find it. Let's just run further and go to more places.

the four of them rode their horses out of beast king valley and ran towards the depths of the map of heaven's gate.

Along the way, they saw players from other factions from time to time, but they only met each other.

There was no conflict.

in fact, this was normal. even if he liked to cause trouble, he wouldn't kill anyone he saw.

In the New World, there was no reward for killing people.

even if they killed players from different factions, they would not receive any rewards.

everyone was a person who wouldn't get up early if there were no benefits.

If there was no reward, he might find someone to chop it off when he was interested.

However, he couldn't just think about PvP every day.

"are we just going to keep running deeper into the map? could it be that the monsters inside are too high level and difficult to deal with?"

Mr. Wu asked as he rode at the back.

His Dawan horse was the slowest among the four of them. If it wasn't for the fact that everyone stopped from time to time to wait for him, they would have lost him.

"don't worry, heaven's gate's map is huge. from here on out, there are only level 50 monsters. no one has seen any higher level monsters yet."

"no way! could it be that the highest level of monsters in the entire heaven's gate map is only level 50?"

I don't think so. The players' activity range in Heaven's Gate map is not even a small corner. There are still many places in the depths of the map that no one has been to. There must be high-level monsters.

sigh, this map is too big. I'm going to die from running.

you should be content. It's much more convenient now that you have a Mount. In the beginning, you had to run when you walked on two legs, right? "

The four of them rode past groups of monsters and occasionally saw some players who were trying their best to kill monsters.

However, after running for more than half an hour, they still could not find a single boss.

ASIBA, where the hell did the bosses go? why can't I see a single one? "

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

I say, brother, you have to be patient. We've only just arrived. Take your time.

"Should we split up? it'll be more efficient that way."

Windcloud blade suggested.

I don't think so. If I get cut down, I'll have to find someone to resurrect me. That'll be so troublesome.

"What are you afraid of? who would dare to cut us down?"

Before wind cloud blade could finish his sentence, more than ten meteor arrows shot over from somewhere, sealing off their path of escape.

they were riding very fast, so they didn't have time to turn around.

Except for boss Wu, who was at the back, the other three were all shot and were stunned for five seconds.

dozens of players quickly rushed out of the small forest on both sides, casting all kinds of skills at the three of them.

Boss Wu still wanted to step forward to help them, but Zhang Shan shouted at him.

run away first. I'll come back to save you later.

zhang shan knew that the three of them could not be saved. they had been stunned for five seconds.

He still had to face the attacks of dozens of people, so it was impossible for him to survive.

not to mention zhang shan, even wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me, as two strength-type jobs, were a little tankier than him.

It was impossible to withstand the attacks of dozens of people for five seconds.

Even though Zhang Shan had a berserk skill that could remove the crowd control status.

But the sad thing was, he was riding a horse.

the red hare was not a battle mount. while riding it, one could not attack or use skills.

They could only dismount and fight after the stun was over.

“Cao Nini, where the hell did this person come from? why does it feel like he’s been waiting for us?”

Windcloud blade was furious. He felt that he had been targeted.

It was a pity that he had just obtained the divine artifact axe and had not yet had the time to show off his might in front of others.

Now, however, he was unconscious and could only be like a wooden stake, allowing people to hack at him.

In less than two seconds, all three of them fell to the ground.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me were already dead, but Zhang Shan could still be saved.

He also had a passive skill, [rebirth], which would allow him to resurrect in full health after ten seconds.

Zhang Shan, who was lying on the ground, finally saw the enemy clearly.

It was a group of Yan country players, but the names of their characters were very unfamiliar. They were all from the same Guild.

However, Zhang Shan had never heard of the name of the guild. It was probably a small guild. Anyway, he did not know who it was.

After cutting down Zhang Shan and the other two, the group of Yan Kingdom players split up and chased after boss Wu.

However, it was just for show. They couldn’t hurt boss Wu.

Everyone was riding on horses. If they didn’t want to be entangled, they wanted to catch up and cut down the people.

That would require the Mount to be several grades higher than others.

Furthermore, they had to have skills that could keep people around or have extremely high damage that could instantly kill people.

Otherwise, they wouldn’t be able to kill him even if they chased him until the end of time.

moreover, boss wu’s dawan horse was not as good as the hero mounts of zhang shan and the other two.

However, it was still a top-tier Mount, and he had spent 500000 gold coins to buy it.

Most of the Yan Kingdom players were riding white horses, so they could still launch sneak attacks.

It was impossible to pursue boss Wu.

Chapter 255 Something feels wrong

Boss Wu and a few Yan Kingdom players were circling around the area.

He was ready to run back to help at any time. These Yan country players couldn't catch up with him anyway.

come and guard the corpse together. Six-barreled Bodhisattva has two lives. When he gets up, we'll cut off one more.

One of the Yan Kingdom players who was leading the team shouted.

Near where Zhang Shan had fallen, the remaining Yan country players had all gathered together.

Now, almost everyone knew that Zhang Shan had two lives.

Although he didn't know how his two lives worked.

However, he knew that after he had defeated Zhang Shan, he had to guard his corpse seriously.

Otherwise, Zhang Shan would have been able to revive with full health again in no time.

The Yan Kingdom players obviously knew about it.

Hence, they were all standing guard beside Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan said to boss Wu in the team channel, "Don't be in such a hurry. Wait for me to resurrect in ten seconds, then you'll come over and resurrect Windcloud blade first. Then, we'll take down this group of people together."

Even though heart moves with me had an ultimate skill, he should be resurrected first.

However, he didn't need to use his ultimate skill to deal with these dozens of people.

With just Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade, they could totally deal with these people.

Zhang Shan was also furious. He had always been the one chopping others. When had he ever been chopped by others?

This time, they had been too careless and were ambushed.

He was immediately stunned by the meteor arrow, not even giving him a chance to struggle.

Not only did he cut them down, but he also had to guard their corpses. Was there such a big grudge?

Zhang Shan did not even know these people.

"Where did these people come from? Do you know him?"

Zhang Shan laid on the ground and asked wind and cloud blade.

I don't know. It should be a small guild in Yan country.

“Then why did they attack us? I don’t have any grudges with them.”

I don’t know. Maybe they just randomly blocked the way and killed people. We just happened to bump into them, so they killed us.

Windcloud blade guessed gloomily.

Although The Map of Heaven’s Gate was very dangerous, and one could be ambushed at any time.

however, zhang shan had run here many times before, but this was the first time he had encountered such a player who specialized in blocking and killing people.

And he even cut down three of them. He was a little depressed.

He silently counted the seconds. The ten seconds were about to be up.

The group of Yan Kingdom players surrounded him tightly. Many bandits and ice mages with stun skills were also prepared.

He wanted to take advantage of the moment when Zhang Shan had just woken up to knock him out again.

This would depend on whose reaction was faster.

The moment Zhang Shan reincarnated, he activated his berserk frenzy skill.

The violent bullets swept around, one shot one, two shots one, with Zhang Shan’s current attack speed. after activating the berserk and fanatic skills.

He could attack more than four or five times in a second, and his terrifying attack speed matched his 14000 attack power.

In an instant, a large number of them were knocked down.

The group of Yan Kingdom players also reacted.

he started to try to use all sorts of stun skills on him.

However, they were all immune to berserk skills.

A berserk skill could make him immune to crowd control skills for 10 seconds. This was Zhang Shan’s trump card.

Otherwise, no matter how high your attack was or how fast your attack speed was, it would be useless once you were stunned.

At this time, boss Wu, who had been running in circles nearby, also rushed over and quickly dismounted.

He then cast revive on Windcloud blade, who was lying on the ground.

wind and cloud blade, who had stood up again, charged towards the yan country players who were surrounding zhang shan.

At the same time, activate the Berserker’s heart skill, increasing attack power by 100% for 10 seconds.

With a single two blade stream, he instantly killed one of them.

After Windcloud blade was resurrected, the situation quickly reversed.

If the other party wanted to surround Zhang Shan and attack, they would be cut down by the wind and cloud blade.

Not only did wind and cloud blade have high attack power, but his divine axe also had a splash effect.

If he were to swing his axe a few more times in the crowd, this group of Yan Kingdom players would probably all die.

However, if they did not attack Zhang Shan, but instead attacked wind and cloud blade or boss Wu ...

That way, they would die even faster. With no one to harass Zhang Shan, he would be able to defeat this group of people in less than half a minute.

“quickly retreat, we can’t win.”

The Yan Kingdom player who was leading the team shouted.

you still want to run? in your dreams. All of you, stay behind.

Windcloud blade was furious. It was too late to run now.

Zhang Shan did not care whether the other party would continue to attack or escape.

He just stood there and kept shooting, knocking down the Yan players one by one.

As for them wanting to run away on their horses?

Zhang Shan would not give them a chance. There was a slight pause when he got on the horse.

whoever got on the horse would be beaten.

Zhang Shan’s shooting range was so far, and almost all of these people were within his range.

Not a single one of them could escape.

wielding the divine weapon battle axe, wind and cloud blade charged into the crowd and hacked at them.

It didn’t take long for this group of people to be defeated, except for the two or three people who had been chasing boss Wu.

because he had not dismounted, he had temporarily escaped with his life.

Of course, this was only temporary. After wind and cloud blade finished cutting down the enemy, he immediately mounted his horse and gave chase.

He had no intention of letting these people go.

He had just obtained the divine weapon battleaxe and was cutting off cow's hide in high spirits.

He had said that no one would dare to cut him down, but as soon as he finished speaking, he was sneaked and knocked down.

One could easily imagine how depressed wind cloud blade was.

Zhang Shan did not chase after them. There were only two or three of them, and wind and cloud blade could handle them.

This side's heart moves with me, still lying on the ground.

Boss Wu's skill, [resurrection], had a cooldown of five minutes.

Zhang Shan had to stand guard here for a while to prevent another sneak attack and kill boss Wu.

in that case, there would be no support to resurrect them for a while.

hey, why did you guys cut me for no reason? I don't even know you guys.

Since he had nothing to do, Zhang Shan asked the Yan country players who were lying on the ground.

These people did not choose to resurrect in the city. Perhaps they were waiting for someone to save them.

so what if I Cut You Down? I just don't like the sight of you big guilds. Just you wait, our boss will bring people over soon. Don't run if you have the guts.

Hmph, there's only four of you, and you dare to be so arrogant. I'll definitely chop you all into pieces and guard your corpses for an hour.

"So what if you have good equipment? If you can beat a few dozen of us, let's see how arrogant you can be when boss brings a few thousand people over."

"So what if you have a divine weapon? I'll turn you into a corpse immediately."

Looking at these people's stern appearance, Zhang Shan could not help but feel suspicious.

These Yan country players' words were a little wrong.

It was normal for someone to come and save them.

It was a game after all. Who didn't have three to five bad friends? moreover, these people were from the same Guild.

However, their words seemed to be hoping that Zhang Shan would be afraid and leave quickly.

This was obviously not right.

Chapter 256 ghost tiger

Zhang Shan stood there and looked at the group of Yan country players lying on the ground.

It didn't feel right.

if they had a large force to rescue him, shouldn't they be hoping that zhang shan would not run?

In that case, when their people arrived, wouldn't they have another chance to cut down Zhang Shan and the other three?

Why did he have to say it out loud? if he did, ordinary people would be scared away.

Could it be that this group of Yan Kingdom players 'Guild troops were doing something nearby and were afraid of being disturbed?

could it be that this group of players 'guild was fighting a BOSS somewhere nearby? he was afraid of being harassed.

That was why they had sent people to guard this road in advance, and when they saw players passing by, they would ambush and kill them.

Zhang Shan and the other three just happened to be there.

They couldn't handle Zhang Shan and the rest, so they wanted to scare him away?

It was very possible. Zhang Shan had thought of a possibility based on the other party's words.

this won't do. i have to call wind cloud blade back and have him search the area.

Zhang Shan and the rest only had four people, and their hearts were still on the ground.

He had to protect boss Wu and wait for the cooldown of the skill to end before he could revive with heart follows me.

Now, only wind cloud blade could be maneuvered.

If there was a BOSS to fight, why would he still chase after someone?

How could a grudge be more important than the BOSS?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan immediately called for wind and cloud blade.

"Did you catch anyone? come back quickly!"

"What's the situation? Don't tell me they have more people coming and you can't hold them off?"

Windcloud blade asked in confusion.

In his mind, with Zhang Shan's strength, as long as he was not ambushed, it would be very difficult to kill him.

The last time at the beast King Valley, the West Mountain Guild had surrounded him with thousands of people. Even with hundreds of people attacking him together, they could not kill Zhang Shan.

Why would he ask him to go back now? that shouldn't be the case. He still wanted to kill the remaining guy.

“No one from the other side is coming. I suspect that they still have a large group fighting the BOSS nearby. I have to guard the Daoist priest with his saber and heart, so I can't leave.”

“What? There's still a large group of Yan country players here to fight the BOSS?”

I don't know. That's what I guessed. You can go and look for it.

Zhang Shan wasn't too sure either. He had only made up his mind based on the words of the Yan country players.

As for whether it was true or not, who knew? that was why he had asked blade of wind and cloud to look for it.

“ASIBA, you're not just making a wild guess, are you? I've only just cut down one, and the other one is still chasing after me.”

chase my ass. Don't run further and further away. Finding the boss is more important.

“Alright, this guy's dog life is spared. I won't chase him anymore.”

Wind and cloud blade turned around. Although it was only Zhang Shan's guess, what if it was true?

Bosses were very hard to find, so he shouldn't miss this opportunity.

windcloud blade asked in the party channel as he ran back.

“Where should we start? the map is so big.”

“Let's start from the front of this road and search in a fan shape.”

Zhang Shan said after thinking for a while.

Since the other party was blocking this path to defend, if they were really fighting the boss ...

It should be in front, not behind.

Otherwise, there would be no point in guarding here.

As for the exact location in front, he would have to look carefully.

However, it shouldn't be difficult to find them. When a large group was fighting a BOSS, the commotion wouldn't be small, and they could be seen from afar.

“okay, i'll go and look for them. i hope they're really fighting a BOSS. that'll be fun, hehe.”

even if you find it, don't show your face. Don't alert the enemy. There must be a lot of people fighting the BOSS. You have to follow the big boss's resurrection and rely on his big move.

To be able to place a few dozen people to defend and block, there must be at least hundreds or thousands of people fighting the BOSS.

Zhang Shan was afraid that wind cloud blade would act rashly, so he went up himself.

Wouldn't that be sending them to their deaths?

“Don’t worry, I’m not an idiot. When they’re down to zero health, the ultimate boss, Big Boss heart follows, will be killed in seconds. It’s a beautiful picture to think about, haha.”

When wind cloud blade went to the front to take a look ...

There was indeed someone fighting the BOSS over there. It was the same group of people who had ambushed Zhang Shan and the others. They were from the same Guild.

The other party was the HU Guild from Yan country, and they were only a level 2 Guild.

In terms of strength, he could only be considered third-rate in the New World.

At this moment, their Guild Master, Phantom Tiger, was leading a few hundred people to surround and attack a red BOSS with difficulty.

Although the duanhu Guild was a level 2 Guild, there should be tens of thousands of members.

However, this place was too far away from Heaven’s Gate pass. There were only a few hundred players in their Guild who had mounts.

As for the other guild members who did not have mounts, they were not called over to fight the BOSS.

It was impossible to run. If he didn’t ride a horse, it would take him at least two to three hours to run from Heaven’s Gate pass to here.

By then, the cucumbers would have gone cold.

therefore, after discovering this red BOSS, ghostly tiger immediately organized a team of people from guild hu who had mounts to fight the BOSS together.

for safety’s sake, he also arranged for dozens of guild members to block the way.

When they heard that Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade had knocked out their defensive personnel, they were stunned.

Ghostly Tiger was a little flustered, but they had already fought more than half of the BOSS.

They couldn’t give up now. Besides, they still had hundreds of people. As long as they were careful, they shouldn’t be afraid.

“after the six-barreled bodhisattva defeated you, which direction did he run off to?”

he didn’t run. One of their spellblades fell to the ground, waiting to be resurrected. However, Windcloud blade isn’t here. He’s gone after ninety thousand.

“Boss, don’t worry. I lured wind cloud blade far away. He didn’t catch up to me and went back.”

The lucky player who had not been caught by Windcloud blade said smugly to Hu in the Guild channel.

He had deliberately lured Windcloud blade in the opposite direction. However, he did not know why Windcloud blade had stopped chasing after him.

"boss, don't worry about the BOSS. six-barreled bodhisattva and the others don't even know that we're fighting the BOSS. they'll probably leave after resurrecting the fallen spellblade."

"Yes, we're just trying to scare six-barreled Bodhisattva by telling him that we're sending a large group over. They won't dare to stay for too long."

Ghostly Tiger was just asking. The BOSS still had to be fought, and he couldn't be afraid of being harassed by four people.

they had a few hundred people, so they should just give up.

Of course, it would be best if Zhang Shan and the rest did not interfere with them.

Unfortunately, ghostly Tiger's idea was about to be destroyed.

Not long after, Windcloud blade excitedly shouted in the party channel.

haha, brother Liu Guan, you guessed it right. They're really fighting the BOSS here. There are hundreds of people, but the BOSS is already half dead.

"They didn't notice you, did they?"

Zhang Shan asked, a little worried.

"No, I just watched them fight the BOSS from afar. No one saw me."

Chapter 257 quietly watching

That group of people was indeed fighting the boss there, and they had already been found by wind cloud blade.

Not only would they be able to take revenge for the sneak attack, but they would also be able to steal their boss as well, hehe.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan continued to ask wind cloud blade.

how long do you think they'll have to fight before they can kill the boss? can they wait until Big Boss heart follows resurrects? "

Zhang Shan was afraid that they would fight too quickly. If that happened, he would have to consider changing his plan.

Without waiting for heart follows me to move, the three of them attacked directly.

In fact, it wasn't impossible.

Even though the enemy had a few hundred players, more than half of them were held back by the boss.

Zhang Shan brought along wind and cloud blade and boss Wu, and they could still cause chaos to the other party.

It was not impossible for them to snatch the BOSS.

Of course, it would be even better if he could drag it out until he resurrected at will.

at that time, with a big move, he could directly clear out the hundreds of people from the hu guild.

They didn't have to waste much effort and could directly pick up the dead BOSS.

" don't worry, they'll be here in time. they're so slow. they probably won't be able to kill the BOSS in less than ten minutes. "

Hearing wind and cloud blade's reply, Zhang Shan was relieved. Then, he would just wait for his heart to resurrect.

"How much longer does your resurrection skill need to cool down?"

Zhang Shan asked boss Wu.

"two minutes and ten seconds."

after a while, boss wu cast the skill [resurrect] on heart with me and resurrected him.

"Let's go. We'll go in the opposite direction first and then go around the forest."

Zhang Shan said to boss Wu and heart with me.

Even though it was said that taking down the opposing Guild Hu was a matter of certainty.

However, wouldn't it be better if he didn't let the other party find out? Enter the village quietly, don't shoot.

Zhang Shan and the other two first rode their horses back for a while, then went around the forest by the side and met up with wind and cloud blade.

"Hehe, look, they're over there."

The place wind and cloud blade had found was not bad. It was quite hidden.

as long as he didn't want to expose himself, it would be hard to find him.

However, by staying here, he could clearly see the battle against Guild Hu and the BOSS.

zhang shan looked in the direction that windcloud blade was pointing at. a large group of people were surrounding the BOSS.

It was a red BOSS demon Lieutenant. Zhang Shan and the rest did not participate in the attack.

He could not see the BOSS's attributes and level.

However, the BOSS that appeared here should be level 50.

A level 50 red BOSS was still quite powerful.

If it was just the four of them, they might not even be able to win. The main reason was that boss Wu was the healer.

He might not be able to keep up.

at this moment, the demon lieutenant still had more than 20% of his health left. he had not entered berserk mode yet.

But against Guild Hu, they were already having a hard time.

the guardian warriors that were tanking the boss fell one after another.

each guardian could not even last ten seconds before falling.

When one fell, another Guardian would take the hit, and then the support would revive the fallen Guardian.

just like that, the seven or eight guardian warriors took turns to tank the damage, barely managing to hold the demon lieutenant back.

they can't do this. I doubt they'll be able to hold on after the boss goes berserk.

Boss Wu said gloatingly.

"Don't worry, they still have so many people, they can still hold on. It's just a red boss."

sigh, I'm getting a little worried for them as I watch them fight the BOSS. They're too slow. How long do we have to wait?"

Windcloud blade said, bored.

"asiba, you picked up a free BOSS. are you not willing to wait? If there's a red BOSS to pick up every day, I'm willing to do nothing for a day. I'm even willing to wait for a day."

hehe, brother six steward, you're right. They've been fighting for half a day. If we rush up and steal the BOSS, will we be scolded to death?"

"What are you scolding them for? you allowed them to attack us, but you won't let us steal the BOSS? Where does this logic come from?"

"alright, it's also an excuse. Even if there's no reason, we'll still fight for it. If we don't fight for it when we see the BOSS, then we'll have made a wasted trip, hehe."

"Isn't that a little bad?"

Heart moves said, feeling a little embarrassed.

...

"Brother, you're a little too reckless. Why wouldn't it be good? isn't it normal to steal bosses? I got it with my own ability, so don't be embarrassed."

Windcloud blade, on the other hand, did not feel anything. If he could snatch it, he would naturally snatch it. If he did not, then wouldn't he have made a wasted trip?

Not to mention, he had even ambushed Guild Hu once, if not for Zhang Shan's rebirth skill.

They were still lying on the ground, waiting for someone to save them.

"What do we do later?"

the BOSS's hp was slowly decreasing, and it was about to enter berserk mode.

Boss Wu asked Zhang Shan.

They had to cooperate Well first. Otherwise, they might not be able to do it well and let the cooked duck fly away.

"Do you still need to say that? when the BOSS's hp is empty, big boss heart will use his ultimate skill and kill both the BOSS and the player."

Without waiting for Zhang Shan to reply, wind and cloud blade spoke first.

"It can't be that simple, right?"

my ultimate skill isn't enough. A level 50 red BOSS should have 50000000 HP. It should still have 500000 HP when it's empty. I can't kill it with one ultimate skill.

Heart with me expressed that he could not do it. He only had 5000 to 6000 attack power, and his ultimate skill dealt five times the damage.

at most, he could only deal 20000 to 30000 damage to the BOSS. he was still far from killing the BOSS instantly.

of course not. We can't wait until the BOSS's HP is empty. If we don't make it in time and let them kill the BOSS, it would be a joke.

Using a high-level skill to instantly kill both the BOSS and the player was just a joke. Of course, they couldn't do that.

"Then what do you guys think we should do?"

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

how about this? when the boss's HP drops to 2 – 3%, we'll rush over together and boss heart follows will use his ultimate skill to kill them all.

if there are any more fish that slipped through the net, you guys block them for me. I'll fight the boss with the priest and my sword.

After Zhang Shan considered for a while, he shared his thoughts.

When the time came, he would let the Panda bear the boss. He would go all out and boss Wu would heal the Panda bear.

It shouldn't take too long for them to take down the boss's remaining HP.

This was a little safer.

“then you’re the only one fighting the BOSS. big brother carrying a blade, you’re healing the panda bear? Can you kill the BOSS alone? 2% hp is over a million?”

don’t worry, I’ll go all out. It won’t take long to deal one or two million damage.

Zhang Shan was very confident in his damage output.

With his attack power and attack speed, plus boss Wu’s attack blessing, he was able to defeat the boss easily.

The damage output was terrifyingly high.

In addition, he had all kinds of passive critical hits and the special effect of the two divine weapons, which could always be triggered once or twice.

It shouldn’t take more than half a minute to take out a million HP from the BOSS. In such a short time, it shouldn’t be a problem, right?

Chapter 258 stealing the BOSS

Zhang Shan and the other three were watching quietly, while ghostly Tiger was leading the Guild members to deal with the berserk demon race major.

Even though normal red bosses were much weaker than real-name bosses, they were much weaker.

But it also depended on who was fighting.

For guilds that weren’t even third-rate, they couldn’t withstand the red BOSS after it went berserk.

Tanks fell one after another and were resurrected again and again.

Even many Berserkers were forced to take the damage from the boss. Even if they could only take two or three hits, they would fall to the ground.

Even a normal attack from a level 50 red BOSS would deal more than 20000 damage.

Currently, the top Guardian, like little Secretary Feng Yun, had more than 70000 HP.

As long as the support was strong enough, it should not be a problem to withstand the BOSS’s damage.

However, there was no Guardian warrior like Secretary Feng Yun in the HU Guild.

Their Guardian Warriors were still far from enough.

Zhang Shan looked at The Guardian Warriors who were fighting each other. Sometimes, they would be defeated by the boss in a few hits.

And this was under the condition that there was a healer.

The feeling they gave off was really weak. These Guardian Warriors were probably made of paper.

Zhang Shan felt that even if he were to go up, he might be able to hold on longer than them.

He usually hung out with the big bosses of wind and cloud Guild and was used to seeing all kinds of high-end players.

When he suddenly saw the performance of Guild Hu, he felt like they were playing a different game.

There were hundreds of people. Was it really that hard to fight a red boss?

they can't really do it, can they? we don't seem to need to fight. I feel like we can't beat the demon race major if we go against Guild Hu.

Heart with me said with doubt.

don't worry, they can beat it, but it'll take more than one person's life. The people who fell to the ground before can be resurrected, but now that more and more people are dying, they can't save them.

Windcloud blade was very certain that Guild Hu would be able to defeat the demonic major.

As long as there were enough people, there was no need to mention a normal red boss like the demon race's lieutenant colonel.

Even if it was an extremely powerful real name boss, some of them could still be killed by a pile of human lives.

There were still hundreds of people from the HU Association, and the demon race's small Colonel only had a dozen percent of his health left.

It didn't make sense that they couldn't handle it, just that more people would die.

I feel like we're a bunch of supervillains. So many people have died and they've been fighting so hard for the BOSS, but we're going to take it away. It's too cruel, hehe.

"Haha, we're the villains who specialize in killing weak chickens. What, you can't bear to do it?"

how can I not? think about the BOSS's loot. What if it drops a divine weapon? " alright, it's too far away to think about dropping a divine weapon. However, for the sake of a red boss, cruelty and all that are just fleeting clouds.

why are you talking so much? just because they attacked us first, it makes sense to chase them every day. Not to mention, it's just stealing a boss.

The players from Guild Hu continued to fall, and the boss's health was slowly decreasing, gradually dropping to 5%.

"let's make our preparations. it's almost time for us to act. by the way, if the exp from the level 50 red boss is shared among four people, it should be enough for me to level up half a level, right?"

"There should be."

Bosses had always given a lot of exp, let alone a level 50 red boss.

If the four of them were to share the experience, each of them should be able to get ten to twenty million experience.

get on the horse and prepare to charge. Boss heart follows, pay attention to your big move. Once you're within casting range, get off the horse and use your big move. The three of us will ride the horse and charge straight at the boss.

seeing that the demon lieutenant colonel's health had already dropped to 3%, zhang shan immediately got on his horse.

the four of them rushed out of the forest and directly rushed towards the crowd of people from guild hu.

be careful, someone's coming. One team, go out and kill these people. The others, kill the boss as soon as possible.

Ghostly Tiger, who was directing the fight against the boss, saw the figures of Zhang Shan and the other three.

However, they were still quite far away, and ghostly Tiger did not recognize Zhang Shan and the other three.

He had thought that it was a normal player's harassment, so he had responded normally and sent people to intercept them first.

However, ghostly Tiger, although he did not see the names of Zhang Shan and the other three clearly, he quickly recognized them from the other members of the HU Association.

"f * ck, boss, it's the six-barreled bodhisattva."

when he heard that it was zhang shan who was charging over, the ghostly tiger felt his scalp go numb.

Zhang Shan's name was known by everyone in the game. He had previously won against a hundred opponents by himself.

Under normal circumstances, it was still possible for ghostly Tiger to take on Zhang Shan with the advantage of numbers.

But he couldn't do it now.

Right now, they were facing Guild Hu and fighting the boss. It was the most crucial time.

Moreover, many of them had been knocked down by the boss. If it was just a normal player, it would be easy to deal with.

However, for an abnormal existence like Zhang Shan, how could he deal with this?

...

He thought that if he sent too few people, against a strong player like Zhang Shan, it would be sending them to their deaths.

The ghostly Tiger simply ordered.

“Ignore him. Everyone, attack the BOSS. Let’s try to kill the BOSS first.”

The ghostly Tiger had thought it through. If Zhang Shan wanted to come over and take revenge, then he would let him.

Yes, yes, Guild Hu continued to fight the BOSS. Anyway, the BOSS was about to be destroyed.

Zhang Shan couldn’t possibly defeat all of them at once.

If Zhang Shan was here to fight for the BOSS, then they would compete in damage.

There were only four people on Zhang Shan’s side, while the opposing Guild Hu had a few hundred people.

Ghostly Tiger didn’t believe that a few hundred people couldn’t win against four people.

However, all of ghostly Tiger’s schemes were in vain.

When heart with me was close enough to cast the ultimate skill, he immediately dismounted and used it.

...

Countless sword lights fell, enveloping the people of Guild Hu in the range of their big moves.

the sword light fell, and in an instant, guild hu’s people were basically cleared out, with only a few dozen people.

Because he was standing a little further away, he did not take any damage from the invincible slash skill and was lucky enough to survive.

As for the others, including ghostly Tiger, they were all killed by heart follows me’s ultimate skill.

Zhang Shan seized the opportunity and charged straight at the boss.

when he got close to the demon race’s small colonel, he immediately summoned the panda ball to take over and activated the berserk and fanatic skills at the same time.

The fierce firepower swept toward the demon race’s small Colonel.

Boss Wu followed closely behind Zhang Shan. When Zhang Shan got down from his horse to attack the boss.

He also got off the horse and raised his hand to start healing the Panda bear.

as for blade of wind and cloud, he was currently chasing and killing the remaining members of guild hu.

ignore wind and cloud blade. Focus on six-barreled Bodhisattva instead. Don’t let him fight the boss.

Ghostly Tiger, who was lying on the ground, shouted in the Guild channel.

The boss that they had fought so hard for was about to be snatched away by Zhang Shan.

How could he be willing?

He immediately commanded the remaining guild members to rush towards Zhang Shan.

Chapter 259-the boss is killed and the players are killed

The remaining dozens of people from Guild Hu had originally scattered and fled.

But now, they had turned around to attack Zhang Shan.

Windcloud blade was completely unable to block this attack. There were still dozens of players here, and he was only a Berserker.

It was good for a solo attack, but it was far from good for crowd control.

After cutting down one person with charge, he could only watch as the rest of the people rushed towards Zhang Shan. He could only give chase.

Windcloud blade was helpless. No matter how good his equipment was.

They could only chase and slash them one by one, unlike Zhang Shan, who could stand on a pole without any enemies.

Everything within the range was the truth.

At this time, following your heart had finished releasing his ultimate skill and had also rushed over on his horse, helping Zhang Shan block a wave of attacks.

However, he couldn't be of much use.

Similar to Windcloud blade, after cutting down a pair of Hu guild members ...

Spellblades had many skills, and their damage was pretty good.

However, he did not have any skills to retain his targets. In this aspect, he was not even as good as a Guardian warrior.

guardian warriors had the charge skill, so they could hold people back.

Spellblades, on the other hand, didn't have such skills. Spellblades 'skills were more focused on single-target or area-of-effect damage.

It's good for farming monsters, but it's a bit useless for fighting.

If it wasn't for his ultimate skill, his equipment would have been destroyed.

It wouldn't be of much use in a fight.

If he didn't do it well, he might die easily.

Seeing that Windcloud blade and heart follows me were unable to stop the remaining members of Guild Hu.

zhang shan also felt that it was very troublesome.

He was not afraid that these people were really here to kill him.

To be honest, it didn't matter if he cut him.

He just needed to hold on for a little longer and he would be able to defeat the demon Lieutenant. Now, the boss's health had already been reduced to zero.

If the boss were to receive a few more critical hits, it might just take about 10 seconds to kill the boss.

With boss Wu by his side, and Zhang Shan's 13% lifesteal effect.

Tanking the damage from these people and continuing to attack the BOSS for more than 10 seconds was not a problem at all.

As long as they could kill the BOSS, it didn't matter even if he died. Boss Wu was there anyway.

A resurrection skill could resurrect him.

Zhang Shan was worried that these people would not attack him, but instead attack boss Wu or the BOSS.

That would be a little troublesome.

If they were to cut down boss Wu, then Zhang Shan and the other two would be left. What was the point of playing?

Without the support, they couldn't do anything after that. They had to wait for someone to save boss Wu, which was a waste of time.

Forget it. What Zhang Shan was most worried about was that these Guild Hu members would not attack the two of them, but would directly attack the BOSS. That would be a little troublesome.

Even though Zhang Shan's attack power was very high.

Generally speaking, they weren't afraid of others stealing their BOSS, but who could say for sure when it came to luck?

Just in case, just in case the last BOSS attack was dealt by the opposing team and the BOSS was snatched away.

That Zhang Shan would be depressed to death.

No, he had to clear out these players first. It would be fine even if they fought the BOSS later.

After much consideration, Zhang Shan said on the team channel.

" you guys fight the BOSS, i'll clear out the players. kill anyone who dares to get close. "

They couldn't stop attacking the BOSS. Otherwise, the BOSS's health would recover very quickly.

It would be troublesome if the BOSS recovered a large amount of health after Zhang Shan had cleared the players.

In any case, Windcloud blade and heart follows me's efficiency in killing players was too low. It was better to let them kill the boss.

moreover, the attack power of these two players was not bad, even though the damage output per unit time was high.

The two of them added together could not compare to Zhang Shan.

However, it was still possible to suppress the boss's HP recovery.

As for whether the Panda bear could still pull the aggro after Zhang Shan shifted his attack?

Then there was no other way. In case the Panda ball couldn't pull the boss's aggro.

Then let wind and cloud blade and heart follow me for a while. It's fine even if they die. At most, he could just pull it up later.

After hearing Zhang Shan's call, wind and cloud blade and heart move with me no longer cared about the people who were against Hu.

The mounted riders charged at the boss and then dismounted to hack at the demon Lieutenant.

...

"You guys just need to suppress the boss's HP recovery. I'll clear out the players first."

After Zhang Shan had finished speaking, he swept a glance at the members of Guild Hu who were rushing over.

these people's horses were a little lacking, until windcloud blade and heart follows me started to attack the boss.

they had only just gotten close to zhang shan's firing range.

Seeing these people approaching, Zhang Shan did not say a word and turned his gun.

he opened fire at these people. the bullets flew out rapidly, and a few of them were knocked down in an instant.

The others could not help but hesitate and did not dare to charge forward again.

It was best not to charge. Zhang Shan turned around to attack the boss. At the same time, he locked his gaze on the members of the HU Guild.

you still have dozens of people, what are you afraid of? go and kill the boss. The boss's HP is almost empty. Try to snatch it back and see if you can get it.

Ghostly Tiger lay on the ground and kept urging the surviving guild members.

At this time, what else was he waiting for?

...

Under the urging of ghostly Tiger, those people began to prepare to charge again, a group of people riding on horses.

Although their horses were not as good, they were much faster.

The dozens of people could totally withstand Zhang Shan's firepower and rush to the boss' feet.

then, he would get off his horse and slash a few times. as for whether he could snatch the boss or not, that would be up to fate.

Seeing this group of people rushing forward again, Zhang Shan observed the situation.

the BOSS's health had been empty for quite a while, so it should be about to drop.

Damn it, after the BOSS's HP was empty, it was really troublesome to not know how much HP it had left.

forget it, let's give it a shot. zhang shan controlled the panda baby to use its combo skill and hit the demon race's junior high.

He didn't hang up.

At this time, the group of people had almost reached the BOSS's feet. Zhang Shan and the other two had turned their heads to attack.

It was impossible to clear everyone out in one go.

this demon lieutenant colonel's life is really tough, why isn't he falling yet?

Zhang Shan and the other two had no other choice but to deal as much damage as possible.

Hopefully, before these people's attacks hit the boss, Zhang Shan and the rest would be able to destroy it.

He didn't want to have to rely on his luck.

Just as Zhang Shan was feeling conflicted, a Holy attack damage appeared above the demon lieutenant's head. -160377. The boss fell to the ground.

F * ck, he finally blew it up.

Since the boss had fallen, there was nothing else to say. They had to quickly clear out these people. They were so annoying.

Zhang Shan's gun was once again aimed at the members of Guild Hu. Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me were also chasing after them.

Even boss Wu had his hands free at this time, and he kept shooting lightning bolts at these people.

Although boss Wu was in the wind and cloud Guild, he didn't seem to have much of a presence and was just a pure support.

However, he was also wearing a full set of red equipment, so the damage from the lightning strike was also very significant.

after the demon lieutenant colonel fell to the ground, the four of them turned to attack the people who were fighting the hu team at the same time.

Chapter 260 Guarding the corpse for an hour

This time, there was no chance for Guild Hu's people to run away again.

Just now, he had almost reached the boss's feet, just right beside Windcloud blade and heart moves with me.

And Zhang Shan was far away, under a pincer attack. Under the invincible slash skill, the surviving members of the HU Association were all killed.

they were quickly defeated by the four of them, and not a single one of them escaped.

At this moment, Zhang Shan and the other three were extremely excited. The four of them had defeated a red boss. This should be the first time in the New World.

After the boss fell to the ground, all he could think about was fighting.

without paying attention, zhang shan realized that he had leveled up. he was now level 33.

Killing the demon Lieutenant Colonel gave him more than 20 million experience points. It would take him a day or two to farm for that. Killing a boss gave him more experience points.

Looking at 'let me move' them, their faces were also filled with joy. The amount of experience they had gained was probably similar to Zhang Shan's.

after all, their levels were about the same, and zhang shan was only one or two levels higher than them.

After they had killed the boss and defeated the remaining members of Guild Hu, they had become more and more powerful.

Before he could celebrate, he heard the members of Guild Hu lying on the ground cursing.

"You guys from the big guilds are really shameless. You only know how to steal other people's bosses, but you don't know how to fight them yourself."

"The trashy wind and cloud Guild."

"All you can do is show off your power in front of us."

you only know how to bully commoner players. If you have the ability, then go steal the bosses from the God of War Guild and the domineering aura Guild. Trash.

F * ck, is this what it means to be weak?

It was normal for them to ambush Zhang Shan and the other three. Zhang Shan stealing their boss was evil?

Where did this logic come from?

He couldn't bear it.

"What's wrong? You're the only ones allowed to ambush and kill people, can't we just steal a boss?"

Zhang Shan retorted.

"You guys didn't die, right? You even knocked out our people, and you didn't lose anything."

Alright, that made a lot of sense.

But if you haven't killed someone before, can't you cut them back?

What did he mean by no loss?

Wasn't the time that Zhang Shan had wasted a waste?

Besides, what was wrong with stealing bosses? there were plenty of boss snatching incidents in the game.

Why was it that when it came to him, he couldn't accept it?

Zhang Shan didn't believe that Guild Hu had never killed other players or snatched other people's monsters and bosses.

"If you guys want to steal the boss, then just steal it. Why do you have to beat all of us down?"

Ghostly Tiger, who was lying on the ground, said in a weak voice.

What are you saying? if we don't kill them all, Can Zhang Shan and the other three snatch the boss?

If they couldn't get the boss, wouldn't they have come for nothing?

Wasn't it normal to kill and steal the boss?

Why did Zhang Shan feel that this group of people were like children? it made him want to pull them up and beat them up again.

what are you shouting for? if you can't afford to play, then go home and hold your child. What's the point of shouting while lying on the ground? "

Windcloud blade said unhappily from the side.

It's just a game, don't play if you can't afford to.

When he was chopping others, he was happy, but when he was being chopped, he felt like the whole world owed him.

Windcloud blade's words were like detonating a gunpowder box, drawing even more violent curses.

"What's so great about having some stinky money? this game isn't even opened by your family."

without us civilian players, what are you guys playing? go and play monsterlings.

"So what if you have a divine artifact? you're just a small fry."

“the wind and cloud guild is a bunch of trash.”

hearing guild hu’s endless abuse, windcloud blade was enraged.

” f * ck, i’m going to fight you guys today. i’ll guard your corpses for an hour. i won’t leave until you resurrect in the city. ”

Generally speaking, the matter was over after the person was knocked down. Unless there was real hatred, they would not guard the corpse.

Camping the corpse could force others to resurrect in the city and lose one level of experience.

But wasn’t he also wasting time?

They had to wait for an hour. Who would wait for an hour for no reason?

it was completely unnecessary. no one would do things that would harm others.

However, to Guild Hu’s players, it was enough to enrage Windcloud blade.

Since they said that the wind and cloud Guild was bullying them, then they might as well bully them to the end. They would camp the corpse for an hour and let them curse.

Let alone wind cloud blade, even heart moves was a little disdainful.

It was clearly the other party who started it first, so why did she have to act like a victim?

If not for the strength of Zhang Shan and the other three, they would have been beaten to the ground.

don’t waste your time with them. Find a place nearby to farm monsters and guard them for an hour.

The big boss couldn’t bear to listen anymore. Why waste his saliva? couldn’t he find a place to farm monsters on the side?

alright, let’s go to the side to farm monsters and divide the equipment. I’ll see how long they can lie on the ground.

Wind cloud blade expressed his agreement.

Since they were already at it, there was nothing else to say. It didn’t matter if they wasted an hour.

...

In any case, they had already exceeded their target.

The four of them had defeated a red BOSS, and this harvest had already exceeded their expectations.

Even if he didn’t do anything today, he wouldn’t make a loss. He would earn experience.

Moreover, there were still BOSS drops that had yet to be distributed. A red BOSS should at least drop something, right?

Even if nothing was dropped, there should at least be one or two pieces of red equipment.

Although the four of them didn't care much about red equipment, they could still sell it for tens of thousands of gold coins, right?

Moreover, they could still farm nearby.

Although it was definitely not as efficient to farm monsters here as it was in beast King Valley, they had nothing to do anyway.

I'll just guard the corpse while farming monsters.

As for their act of camping the corpse, they had completely offended the small guild, the right against the HU. It might even be publicized and it would be a little damaging to their reputation.

Zhang Shan and the other three did not care at all.

To be honest, he had been playing this game for almost three months. Zhang Shan's initial goal of making money had long been achieved.

Now, he could basically be said to have financial freedom.

Not to mention offending such a small guild, even if it was Wargod Li Jing or Subjugator ...

As long as the reason was good enough, Zhang Shan would still dare to cut them. He was not afraid of offending them.

Now, he didn't have much concern about making money. He just wanted to have fun.

To the current Zhang Shan, it was too easy to earn money in the game.

it was easy to earn some living expenses by simply killing monsters, bosses, or dungeons.

Even if he helped others level up, or helped others fight bosses, he could still earn money easily.

Without the pressure of life, why didn't they have fun? if their hands and feet were tied, what was the point of playing?

as for wind and cloud blade, he did not care even more.

Although the wind and cloud Guild didn't cause trouble easily, they were never afraid of offending people.

They would not have pulled the heaven and earth Guild down and made it into the top ten guilds last year.

"Let's go. We'll go over there to kill some monsters and split the equipment."

Windcloud blade said after swinging his battle axe.
