Chapter 32: Number One on the Level Ranking Board

After killing the other two sacrificial guards, Zhang Shan leveled up to level 15 directly. He was ranked first on the level ranking board and was a level away from My Heart Follows Me who was ranked second.

The four guards contributed three levels of experience and some purple equipment, it was a small harvest.

Now left the big boss, the demon tribe priest.

He changed into level 15 equipment and checked the attributes.

Equipment: Arug's Hand Cannon, Hand of Midas, Temple Ring, Elven Leather Boots, Exquisite Iron Necklace, Exquisite Iron Ring, Leather Armor, Leather Hat, and Leather Wrist Guard.

The white-tier equipment of the Agility type, regardless of the level, the name was the same. It was just that the attributes of the equipment were slightly different.

After equipping the equipment, his attack power reached 1,600, and his defense had also increased a little. However, this little bit of defense was not very useful.

He was now fully equipped. His accessories included a white-tier hat, clothes, and wrist guard. If he could change them all into purple equipment, it would greatly increase his combat power.

The guards dropped a total of eight pieces of purple equipment. They were all Strength-type. Since he could not equip them, he could only throw them to the auction house when he returned to the city. Right now, purple equipment should still be very valuable. As for his own equipment, he would not buy them for now. In any case, he was already very powerful. The demand for equipment was not strong.

After dealing with the four guards, Zhang Shan did not plan to leave. He had to try out the red boss no matter what.

At most, he would just die once. Anyway, he was leveling up very quickly now. If he died, he would be able to level up in about three hours. There was no need to care much.

"Everyone, I am going to challenge the red boss. Please give me more advice." Zhang Shan said jokingly in the team.

"Have a good journey."

"Isn't it good to be alive?"

"You guys are too much, can't you give me some encouragement?"

"You're encouraged to lie down early, hehe."

None of them were optimistic. To be honest, Zhang Shan himself was not optimistic either. Thus he did not plan to use the Silence Scroll first. He would consider using it after he had a clear look at the boss's attributes and HP.

Of course, there was a greater possibility that he would die the moment he saw the boss's attributes.

Zhang Shan stood under the altar and controlled the baby panda to attack the boss. Before the baby panda could even get close to the priest, the boss waved its scepter and a flash of flame fell, dealing close to 4,000 HP to the baby panda. It was almost instantly killed.

After taking some damage, Zhang Shan controlled the baby panda to continue moving forward. Finally, he arrived in front of the boss and slapped the boss, dealing 500 damage. At the same time, the second skill of the priest instantly killed the baby panda.

After quickly checking the attributes of the demon tribe's priest, Zhang Shan ran away. The huge shadow of the priest was chasing after him.

"There's no need to run. The boss doesn't seem to be going down the altar," someone in the team shouted.

Before Zhang Shan fought the boss, he had activated the shared view. The others could also see what was happening at his end.

Hmm? Zhang Shan turned around and saw that it was true.

The priest had only chased for a few steps and went back. He did not leave the altar at all. This time, there was no need to die.

He looked at the attributes of the boss.

Demon tribe priest: level 20, HP 1,000,000, attack power 3,000, skill 1: Skyfire Meteor, Skill 2: Immobilization, skill 3: Will of the Demon God, skill 4: Rain of Fire.

Skyfire Meteor: lures Skyfire to attack the target, increasing damage by 100%.

Immobilization: cast a spell to immobilize a target. The target can not move, attack, or recover HP or mana. Lasts for 3 seconds.

Will of Demon God: as the representative of the Demon God in this world, the priest can summon a demon god's shadow to assist in battle.

Rain of Fire: cast a spell on a designated area, causing 100% damage; lasts for 5 seconds; damage range of 50 yards.

"This is too strong, 1,000,000 HP and 3,000 attack power. The key is that the skill is too powerful. How do we fight this?"

"This Rain of Fire is an AOE skill, right? It basically has a full-range attack of 50 yards, and it lasts for five seconds. Who can withstand for five seconds?"

"The Will of Demon God is even more powerful. It summons the Demon God's shadow to assist in battle. How strong is this shadow?"

...

"Who knows?"

"The first skill, Skyfire Meteor, is still okay. It's probably just a boss's general attack skill. However, even a general attack can double the damage. It's really killing people."

"Immobilization isn't bad either. You can't move, can't attack, and the main thing is you can't recover HP and magic points. Doesn't that mean that it's useless for the support to heal the target that is immobilized? If the tank is immobilized, then wouldn't he just collapse?"

"This boss isn't easy to fight. It requires a few tanks to pull aggro and rescue each other. A single tank won't be able to fight it."

“Everyone, do you think I should go up and deal with it?”

“Do what sh*t? The Silence Scroll only has five minutes. Can you deal 1,000,000 damage in five minutes?”

Zhang Shan thought for a moment. If baby panda could deal 500 damage, then this boss’s defense should be very low.

His divine artifact also had a suppressive effect, reducing defense by 50%. Then the boss’s defense would not affect him.

With his current attack power of 1,600, plus the bonus from the title, each attack could deal more than 1,600 damage.

Adding in the Critical Strike, Holy Strike, and the ring’s critical strike special effect, there was a total of 3% chance of exploding.

If this was the case, Zhang Shan’s damage should be over 120,000 in one minute. Adding on the panda cub’s ability to deal some damage, he should be able to deal around 600,000 to 700,000 in five minutes.

...

There was still quite a bit to go.

“Is there any way to increase my damage a little bit more?”

Zhang Shan...

Getting another divine artifact, was that said by a human?

“Just now, you guys saw how fast the boss’s movement speed was. Can you all kite it?”

“Are you kidding? It’s a red boss and you still want to kite it? Does the boss not care about its face?”

Sigh, he still couldn’t get it done.
