

Passive Skills 331

Chapter 331-the skill:

The three guild leaders were discussing how to fight the World War tomorrow.

Zhang Shan and the others were farming monsters. The matter of buying a house was settled. They just had to wait until the afternoon.

Boss Wu's wife went over to take a look. As long as they were satisfied, it would be fine.

Anyway, Zhang Shan was a single dog. He did not have many requirements for the place to live. It was fine as long as there was one.

while he was on the forum, looking at everyone's discussion about the world war, he was also farming monsters.

Boss Wu suddenly said.

"Eh, I think I got a skill book."

haha, even small monsters can get skill books. Old Wu, you're pretty lucky.

"Quick, let's see what skill book it is."

as long as it's a skill book, it's not bad. No matter how bad it is, it can still be sold for thousands of gold coins. Big brother carrying a blade has made a profit.

Boss Wu showed the skill book and said to Zhang Shan.

"It's yours,"

After saying that, he traded the skill to Zhang Shan.

[ejection (passive): Level 1. When attacking, the damage will bounce back and forth between the targets.]

Each attack can only bounce two times. Every time the skill is upgraded, the number of jumps will increase by one. Profession requirement: Hunter.

after zhang shan received the skill book, he immediately used and learned it, and maxed out the skill.

Fortunately, he hadn't maxed out his jump skill, otherwise, he wouldn't have enough skill points to level up this ejection skill.

This ejection skill came at the right time. After the skill was upgraded to level 10, one attack could eject up to 11 times of damage.

this was even more useful than normal aoe skills.

"F * ck, this skill is strong. Does a Hunter have an AoE skill? How come I've never seen this skill book before?"

After seeing the skill book's description, Windcloud blade said enviously.

“haha, i’m surprised. i thought hunters could only attack a single target. i didn’t expect there to be an aoe skill. let me try it out.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he fired a shot at the group of monsters.

The bullets flew back and forth between the monsters. Including the target he was attacking, there were a total of twelve damage lines.

f * ck, he hit 12 targets in one shot. He’s too strong.

it’s much stronger than the Archer’s split arrow. The split arrow can only attack eight targets.

A little fairy said sourly.

Zhang Shan fired another shot and said after observing the damage.

The bullets shuttled back and forth among the monsters.

It will continuously fire at 12 targets when there are not many monsters.

They would eject back and forth until there was only one monster left, then they could no longer eject.

If there were only two monsters, the bullet could only be fired back and forth between the two monsters.

However, Zhang Shan’s ATK was very high, and he could kill a monster with two shots.

Therefore, one round of ejection was enough to defeat the monster, and the remaining times of ejection would not be used.

In addition, if the monsters were too far away, they could not be ejected.

It felt like they were playing some sort of piano.

this skill still has some limitations. The target can’t be too far away to be able to shoot damage.

aren’t you talking nonsense? everyone’s AoE damage has a range limit. You can always hit full damage.

Windcloud blade said unhappily.

Although Berserkers also had AoE skills, they were much less effective than catapulting.

Zhang Shan thought about it and agreed.

At least he now had an AoE skill. In the future, when he was surrounded, he could shoot at a maximum of twelve people.

Just thinking about it made him feel good.

In the past, when he attacked, he could only attack them one by one, no matter how high his attack power was or how fast his attack speed was.

When they were surrounded, there was not much they could do.

After all, he could only shoot people one by one and not kill many in a short time.

Now that he had the launch skill, things were different.

Just like the average fragile professions, Zhang Shan might be able to knock down 12 of them with one shot.

This was a little scary. Coupled with Zhang Shan's attack speed, killing people would be like harvesting wheat.

It was even better than a mage's area-of-effect attack skill.

And this ejection skill came at the right time.

Tomorrow was the day of the country war with the Qin players, and Zhang Shan had been worried.

...

There were too many players participating in the world war. No matter how much he improved, he would not be of much use in the world war.

However, with the launch skill, Zhang Shan felt that he could still be of great use.

During a world war, the enemies would definitely be very dense, so the catapulting skill would be able to show its effect.

If there was a terrain that could be blocked, Zhang Shan felt that he could hold out against ten thousand.

It was so stuck that the enemy felt despair.

Coincidentally, the Wind and Cloud Guild had reached Level 4 today, and they had gained another Guild skill.

Increases shooting range by 5%.

This would make it safer for Zhang Shan to beat up people.

In the past, Zhang Shan felt that ever since the other players had also mounted their mounts, the pressure on him had become even greater.

He could no longer be like when the game started, able to suppress others out of his shooting range.

Now, he had the launch skill and a Guild skill that increased shooting range by 5%.

...

He felt that even if a group of people rode horses, they might not have the chance to rush to his side.

In this game, there were some skills that were too overpowered.

Zhang Shan was even happier to obtain this launching skill than to obtain the ultimate skill.

After all, even though the ultimate skill was overpowered, its cooldown time was too long.

It would be gone once it was used, unlike a passive skill like ejection, which would be permanently effective once learned.

“Just how many skills are there in this game that have never appeared before?”

Zhang Shan asked the others curiously.

He had never seen this ejection skill before. After all, he had been paying attention to the auction house.

He would always look at a Hunter skill book, but he had never seen this catapult skill before.

The game had been open for three months, so the skills should have appeared by now.

Wind cloud blade said to Zhang Shan without even thinking.

what’s so strange about that? some skill books are just so rare. It’s hard to say if there’s even one every year. Just like your berserk skill, I’ve never seen a second person use it.

Zhang Shan thought for a moment. That’s right, the skills in this game were indeed a little special.

that berserk skill seemed to be his exclusive skill. every time he activated berserk, it would make the enemy despair.

He wasn’t affected by the stun effect at all, so no one could do anything to him.

the problem was that he was the only one who had such a skill.

No matter how envious the others were, there was nothing they could do. Many of them saw a “MISS” when the stun skill hit Zhang Shan.

He couldn’t figure it out at all.

They didn’t understand why a directional stun skill would also miss.

It was only later that people guessed that Zhang Shan should have a skill that made him immune to crowd control. As for what skill it was, and how he got the skill book.

Others did not know.

chapter 332 moving house

He had learned another skill, and it was a super practical skill for Zhang Shan. Take flight. It was wonderful.

The five of them continued to play until the afternoon when boss Wu’s wife arrived at Wanghai residence.

a little fairy went offline to accompany her to look at houses, while the others continued to farm monsters.

During this time, boss Wu kept going offline to call his wife.

The couple was discussing the house.

After about two hours, boss Wu said to him, ”

“We’ll choose that place. It’s not bad, but it’s a little expensive. If we buy everything, it’ll cost 50 million each. Do you want to take a look, or ask the little fairy to send you some photos?”

no need. Just take a good look. I’ll buy a house next to your house.

Zhang Shan was just a single man. He was not as conflicted as boss Wu. He just needed a place to stay.

As for whether it was expensive or not, he didn’t really care.

To be honest, it was too easy to earn money in the game. It was like picking it up.

He didn’t even know how to cherish it.

Not long after, a little fairy also came online.

“I’m so tired. Old Wu, you have to treat me to a meal. I’m so tired after spending the entire afternoon with your wife.”

of course you can. We’ll treat you to a meal after we move in. Thank you for your trouble today.

it’s a small matter. Speaking of which, we’ll be neighbors in the future. Be careful that I don’t go to your house every day to get free food, hehe.

“Haha, you’re very welcome.”

Boss Wu had finally chosen the house. Zhang Shan did not need to choose. He only needed to go and look at the house and pay.

The remaining problems would naturally be handled by professionals.

“By the way, is the house over there renovated? Can we live there with things?”

zhang shan wanted to move in earlier. it would be best if he could move in with his bag.

This was because they would be fighting the Qin players tomorrow night. If they won, they would receive a week’s double experience.

If that was the case, he planned to work for a week until he reached level 40.

However, if he wanted to work, he would have to use the gaming pod. He couldn’t work with the gaming helmet.

it would be great if they could move in tomorrow. they could just buy a gaming pod and place it in their new home.

After that, he could focus on the country war at night. It was perfect. He just didn’t know if the house there had been renovated.

“Uh, brother Guan, are you in such a hurry? The house was decorated normally and had all kinds of furniture, so there was no problem for people to live in it. But aren’t you planning to renovate your big villa?”

“No need, it’s fine as long as it’s habitable. It’s much better than the apartment I’m renting now. When can the procedures be done over there? can i move over tomorrow?”

“F * ck, brother Liu Guan, you’re buying cabbage, right? are you buying a house? You’re not even going to take a look and you’re going to move in tomorrow?”

Windcloud blade, who was farming at the side, could not bear to listen any longer. He felt that Zhang Shan buying a house was as simple as buying a bundle of cabbage.

“Is there a problem? The place I’m living in now is too small, it can’t even fit a game cabin. I’m planning to play for a week if we win the World War tomorrow, it’s not easy without a game cabin.”

alright, I’m optimistic about you. If you win the World War tomorrow, you’ll have to play for a week. You’ll farm monsters for a week without sleeping, hehe.

alright, I’ll send you the photos later. You can decide which house you want to move in. I’ll get the Auntie to clean it up. You can move in tomorrow.

The little Vixen did not say anything else. It was not like she had never seen people like Zhang Shan who bought a house and wanted to move in on the same day.

Zhang Shan looked at the photos that she had sent. The building next to boss Wu’s house was too close to the entrance of the community. He didn’t feel too good.

He wanted to find a quiet place. Since he was the only one living here, it would be more comfortable for him to play games in a quiet place.

Although this was only his illusion, after entering the game, no matter how noisy the outside was, he couldn’t hear it.

However, he still planned to choose a building that was a little more remote.

“This one.”

He chose the one at the corner of the neighborhood. He felt that it was quieter there.

zhang shan circled the house he had chosen and sent the photo back to the little fairy.

haha, brother Guan, you really know how to choose. The one on the right is where I live. How many people do you have in your family? can I come over to your house to freeload food in the future? ”

“No, I’m single. I’m all alone in Pengcheng. If you want to freeload at my place, you can only eat takeaway, hehe.”

“You’re so pitiful. Do you want me to reward you with a meal?”

“Then I’ll move in tomorrow morning. I don’t have to prepare anything, right?”

“No need, you can move in first. I’ll get someone to go through the procedures. I’m not afraid that you don’t have money. A single hair from a divine artifact boss is worth a house.”

Zhang Shan was speechless. However, it was good to save some trouble. He was just afraid of trouble.

the next morning, zhang shan woke up to pack his clothes and personal belongings.

Then, he packed the game helmet into his suitcase and left all the other random things behind.

it wasn't worth much in total, so he'd better move there and buy it again.

She dragged her luggage and walked to the door.

Zhang Shan looked back at the home he had been living in for a few years and was filled with emotions.

He left.

After locking the door, Zhang Shan gave the landlord a call and checked out of the house.

as for the down payment for the rental, he didn't want it at all.

Not only was he rich now, he didn't need this much money.

The key was that it was too difficult to get a refund when renting an apartment in Pengcheng.

the landlords who managed the apartments were all second-hand landlords.

When he rented it, everything was fine.

However, it would be troublesome when it was time to check out.

The landlord didn't say that he wouldn't return the deposit, but he would find all kinds of reasons to deduct it.

For example, they didn't do a good job of cleaning, or the walls were dirty.

In short, he could deduct about half of your deposit before giving it to you very unwillingly.

He had encountered this kind of situation before when he first came to Pengcheng to rent an apartment.

This time, he didn't want any more trouble, so he gave the deposit to the second-hand landlord.

This was how society was, so there was no need to take it seriously.

Walking out of the apartment, Zhang Shan took a taxi to Wanghai residence.

Looking at the villa area in front of him, it was like the difference between a Fairyland and the human world compared to the apartment he used to live in.

The rows of villas were well-arranged, quiet and elegant, far away from the hustle and bustle of the city. He really didn't expect to be in a big city like Pengcheng.

He was going to live here in the future. Three months had passed, and in the blink of an eye, he had become a rich man.

Zhang Shan stood at the entrance of the community and called a little fairy.

Yu Qingqing was the little fairy's name. They had exchanged contact information before going offline yesterday.

the call connected.

"I'm Zhang Shan. I'm at the entrance of the community. Security is not allowing me to enter."

"Brother Guan? You're a little too early, I just got up. Wait a moment, I'll come out to pick you up."

Not long after, a beautiful girl walked out of the neighborhood and stood in front of Zhang Shan.

He asked Zhang Shan.

"You're Guan Zi?"

"I have a name. Don't you know that?"

Zhang Shan was speechless.

Chapter 333 Gaming cabin

Yu Qingqing asked curiously when she saw Zhang Shan dragging a box.

"Where's your stuff? Don't tell me it's this box?"

"Yeah, how many things can one person have?"

Oh my God, you men are so simple. Come with me, let's go see your new home.

Zhang Shan followed Yu Qingqing into the neighborhood and arrived at the house he had chosen in no time.

"This is the building you chose. I asked the Auntie to clean it up yesterday. Let's go in and take a look."

The two of them walked into the villa.

The feeling that this house gave Zhang Shan was that it was huge.

It was even bigger than his house in the countryside.

In the city, where every inch of land was worth its weight in gold, such a large villa was a little beyond his imagination.

Of course, this was also due to his lack of knowledge.

Yu Qingqing brought Zhang Shan to look around the house.

"How is it? This one's not bad, right?"

"Sure."

Zhang Shan did not have any requirements, as long as he could accommodate his servants.

However, even if one were to be picky, this villa was still very good. The money was not wasted.

"Do I need to go through any procedures? When are you going to sign the agreement?"

since zhang shan had no opinion on the house, all that was left was to pay.

“This will have to wait. It’s too early now and the company hasn’t started yet. I’ll call you when they’re done. By the way, do you still want to buy anything? Do you want me to go with you?”

zhang shan considered for a moment. he did not seem to need to buy anything. he had already brought his toiletries. he was only missing a blanket.

All that was left was to quickly book a game cabin.

I don’t need to buy anything. I’ll just buy a bed and a blanket online and book a game cabin later.

yu qingqing held her forehead.

“You men are too easy to get rid of. No, it should be you. I don’t think other men are as casual as you.”

the yu qingqing in the real world was completely different from the little demon in the game.

It was as if she had changed into another person. The little demon in the game would still act cute from time to time.

In reality, Yu Qingqing looked very capable and didn’t speak as casually as she did in the game.

However, she looked like she was in her twenties. Even if she wanted to act cute, she couldn’t afford it.

As for looks ...

In Zhang Shan’s eyes, it was very beautiful.

Yu Qingqing asked after passing the house key to Zhang Shan.

“Then what are you going to do next?”

what else can I do? I’ll go into the game and kill monsters after I place an order online.

“Alright, is this how you work? You deserve to be so strong in the game. Then I’ll go first, call me if you need anything.”

After Yu Qingqing left, Zhang Shan closed the door and went to the bedroom on the second floor.

He first ordered a blanket online, then placed an order for a gaming pod and some nutrient fluids.

Six million blue dollars for a travel cabin, that’s f * cking expensive.

This was not something that the poor could afford. Six million for the old Zhang Shan was simply unimaginable.

If he didn’t eat or drink for the rest of his life, he didn’t know if he could earn this much money, let alone buy the nutrient solution package.

this item was not cheap either. zhang shan had bought it for 500000 blue dollars in one go.

After buying everything, he took out the gaming helmet and connected it to the power supply.

Let’s go into the game and kill some monsters first.

The blanket and game cabin that he had just bought would probably be delivered in half an hour.

he couldn't just sit there and wait for half an hour.

Zhang Shan went online and entered the game. Boss Wu, wind and cloud blade, and heart moves were already farming monsters.

"Aren't you moving in today? Why are you online?"

Windcloud blade asked curiously.

"I've already moved there."

"So fast? you didn't start moving before dawn, did you?"

no, I just dragged a box over. It's not that troublesome.

While they were talking, little fairy came online.

haha, I just saw brother Guan dragging a suitcase. I can't believe that's all he has.

...

"F * ck, is brother Liu Guan so carefree? It's really just one box."

"It's true. I went out to bring him in. Don't you know?"

"Alright," he said.

"what do you guys know? What else does brother sixth steward want? his skills and two divine weapons are better than anything else."

The player who was farming monsters at the side said quietly.

big brother, you're right. I can't refute you.

After killing some monsters, the gaming pod and blanket were sent over.

Zhang Shan went offline to receive the delivery.

The game cabin was different from the helmet. In addition to the porters from the logistics Guild, the game company had also sent them over.

This thing needed a professional to install and adjust it.

since there were many rooms in the villa, zhang shan used the room beside the bedroom as a gaming room.

...

The gaming pod was installed there.

After the staff had installed and tested the game cabin.

The exquisite and compact game cabin looked like a piece of art.

Although Zhang Shan did not understand the principles behind its operation, it looked very comfortable.

No wonder it was so expensive.

After sending the staff off, Zhang Shan was in no hurry to try it out.

He opened the cabin door and lay down. It was very comfortable.

He turned on the power and connected it to the game. The opening screen was the same as the game helmet, but it was much clearer.

It made people feel like they were in it.

He entered the game and returned to the place where he had been farming monsters.

boss wu asked zhang shan.

done. The game cabin is much better than the helmet. After you move in, you should change to another one.

“I do need to change one, but I’ll move it in first. It’ll probably take a few days.”

boss wu wasn’t like zhang shan, who could just drag a box and walk.

he was from a big family, especially children’s things, which were enough for his family to pack for a few days.

With the game cabin settled, all that was left was to wait for the World War at night. Hopefully, he could win against the Qin country.

It would be a joke if they lost.

however, zhang shan was confident that after learning the catapulting skill, his combat power would increase by several times.

Although there were tens of millions of players participating in the world War on each side, no matter how strong he was, he would not be able to defeat them. It also had a great effect.

but with so many people, it was impossible for them to come together.

With his firepower, he felt that even if he couldn’t win, he should be able to defend the divine beast statues on his side.

“what are the plans for the kingdom war tonight? what did boss say?”

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

“What can we do? we’ll do it when the battle starts. Also, before the world War, don’t go out to PK and save your skills.”

hehe, that’s for you. The boss is afraid that you’ll accidentally use your ultimate move. If you don’t have any ultimate moves during the World War, it’ll be a waste of time.

aren't you the same? your passive rebirth's cooldown time is also 24 hours.

Zhang Shan was speechless. He had almost forgotten his passive rebirth.

an extra life was such a powerful skill.

The main thing was that he rarely used it. Under normal circumstances, no one could kill him.

if he didn't fall to the ground, he wouldn't be revived.

However, it might be useful in this country war. After all, the 20 million people on both sides were killing each other.

no one could guarantee that they wouldn't die. it was normal for everyone to die two or three times.

Chapter 334 Initiative

During the World War, not to mention Zhang Shan, even Secretary Feng Yun, who was equipped with a God-tier shield.

It would probably be difficult to guarantee that they wouldn't die. No one could withstand the overwhelming damage.

Perhaps in the end, it would be hard to say if they would have to compete in the number of resurrections.

Other than keeping the skills, Feng Yun realm would probably ask the others to exchange for more gold coins.

If he fell during the World War and didn't have any gold coins to revive on the spot, there would be no more fun.

Fortunately, gold coins were produced in large quantities in the game. Otherwise, with so many people exchanging for gold coins, the price of gold coins would probably go up again.

everyone, look at the National channel. The boss and the others are there, announcing the World War.

Wind cloud blade said to Zhang Shan and the rest.

"Eh? I'll go and see what these big shots are saying."

Zhang Shan opened the National channel and saw a joint proposal by Feng Yun realm, Eastern Sea Dragon King, and freedom King.

The content was roughly:

First, he hoped that all the players in Chu would participate in the country war. He only needed to spend 100 gold coins to teleport to the royal city and nothing else.

100 gold coins was not much. He would just treat it as a trip to the capital.

Second, I hope everyone will listen to my command and protect the statue of the country protector beast.

After all, the outcome of the World War was related to everyone's interests. If they could not protect the divine beast statue, they would be destroyed by the Qin players.

Then the next week of punishment would be too sad and hurtful.

Third, those who didn't want to follow The Guardian beast statue and wanted to act alone were also fine.

They could form their own teams with their friends and hunt down Qin players in the world War map.

The kingdom war will start at 8 pm tonight. Please pay attention and don't miss the time.

Be online on time, defeat Qin eat meat, if you lose, turn off the lights and eat noodles, QAQ.

Zhang Shan took a look. Feng Yun realm and the rest's proposal did not mention any specific content.

In fact, this was normal. No matter how much you said, no one would listen to you.

We're all here to play games, why should we listen to you? can't you just enjoy yourself?

Not everyone had the spirit of unity.

For many players, it was already good enough that they didn't undermine you.

in summary, the three guild leaders 'proposal was to hope that everyone would try to participate in the world war.

It was fine as long as the person was here, everything else was up to him.

After all, during the World War, there were so many people participating. The three guild leaders didn't expect these solo players to listen to their commands.

As long as there were enough people, it could also play the role of balancing the combat power of both sides.

He also repeatedly emphasized that the National war was related to everyone's interests and that one should not just think about winning without doing anything.

It was only through everyone's joint efforts that they could win the country war. If they lost, then everyone could turn off the lights and eat noodles.

the three guild leaders were probably powerless to do anything about it, so they could only tactfully make this proposal instead of making arrangements.

You're afraid that no one will listen. If no one listens to your arrangements, wouldn't it have the opposite effect?

The main issue was that the Guild wasn't strong enough yet. There were too few members in the Guild.

In the future, when the Guild's level increased, the number of guild members would increase.

it would be much easier to organize such a big chaotic battle.

After all, guild members would still listen to orders. If they didn't, they would be kicked out.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but admire the charisma of the domineering King. That guy could easily gather hundreds of thousands of players every time.

Who knew how many players from the Qin country would participate in the country war.

The Overlord didn't want to drag all 30 million players of the Qin country into this world War.

If the difference in numbers was too great, they wouldn't know how to fight.

sigh, i'll let the guild leaders worry about these things. i'm just an emotionless brush.

When it was almost noon, everyone went offline to have lunch.

The little fairy asked.

"Where are you going for lunch, Guan Zi?"

"we'll order takeaway."

Zhang Shan replied without thinking.

This was the disadvantage of the Wanghai residence. It was too remote, far from the city center.

There wasn't even a place to eat nearby. It wasn't like when he used to rent an apartment, where he could find a place to eat just by going downstairs.

He didn't cook for himself, and he didn't plan to hire a cook, so he could only order takeaway.

"Why don't we eat at my house? I'll ask the Auntie to make more."

"Forget it, it's not convenient."

Zhang Shan rejected tactfully.

He wasn't familiar with the little Vixen, so it would be inconvenient for him to eat at her house.

there's nothing inconvenient about it. I live alone in my house. It's not good to eat takeaway.

There was nothing wrong with eating takeaway. Zhang Shan had been eating takeaway for a few years, and he did not suddenly die.

"haha, big boss six-tucked just said it's inconvenient because you're alone at home. what if he can't hold it in? hehe."

wind cloud blade could not help but tease shi feng.

Upon hearing wind and cloud blade's teasing, little fairy could only roll her eyes at him and continued to speak to Zhang Shan.

“let’s go to my house for dinner. it’s settled then. i’ll ask the auntie to make another serving.”

Since the other party was so insistent, Zhang Shan did not continue to be unreasonable. It was also good to be able to freeload a meal. It would save him trouble.

When it was time for dinner, everyone went offline.

Zhang Shan went to Yu Qingqing’s house next door.

He seemed a little reserved when going to a girl’s house for dinner. He casually finished the meal, thanked her, and went back to his own house.

No melodramatic plot had happened.

At seven o’clock in the evening, the entire game was bustling with activity.

As there was going to be a World War later, the number of players in Chu and Qin were much higher than usual.

even the other five unrelated national camps had a large number of players online.

They didn’t fight country Wars, but they could watch.

The operators of new world also showed some importance to the First World War in the game.

During the country war, the forums would release a live video collection.

Although it wasn’t a live broadcast of the battle, everyone was very excited to see the highlights of the battle.

This was the first time the game officials had released a collection of videos after the opening of the New World.

In the past, the videos on the forums were all uploaded by the players themselves.

This time, the operators were going to do it themselves and attract everyone’s attention.

“I’m done. Let’s go back.”

Windcloud blade said to everyone after looking at the time.

“It’s still early, have the others gone back?”

Zhang Shan looked at the time. It was just past 7:30. There was still about half an hour before the world War began.

why did he go back so early? why did he wait in dangyang city or the capital?

the others have basically all gone back. We have to go to the prime minister’s residence in the capital first and occupy a good spot. There are too many people. We don’t know how long it will take to enter the kingdom war map.

F * ck, Zhang Shan had never thought of this problem. He had always thought that new world would run smoothly, and there was no need to worry about queuing or getting stuck.

however, there were too many people participating this time, so everyone could only enter the kingdom war map through the prime minister's residence.

With tens of millions of people, the prime minister's residence would probably explode.

Chapter 335-corpse whipped by the operator then let's go back together. Don't get stuck outside and not be able to enter the World War map. That would be a joke.

The five of them returned to Dangyang city together. Zhang Shan repaired his equipment and then bought some supplies.

At the same time, he packed up his backpack. The World War would last for four hours, and he didn't know how many people he could defeat by then.

In the world War map, he would probably be able to pick up trash until his hands were tired.

Although his backpack was super big with a thousand slots, it was still a big bag.

However, he still had to clear them in advance, in case the equipment dropped on the ground and the backpack couldn't be used anymore. Wouldn't that be a pity?

the world war announcement didn't say that they wouldn't drop anything upon death, right?

He did not say that it would drop. With so many players participating, if Zhang Shan killed tens of thousands of them ...

Wouldn't he be able to pick up a pile of trash?

Even though trash equipment was not valuable, when the number of pieces accumulated, their value would still be considerable.

after everything was settled, they arrived at the chu country's capital through the teleportation hall.

After finding the location of the prime minister's residence, Zhang Shan rode his horse over.

However, when he was 500 yards away from the Prime Minister's estate, he could no longer run.

It was all people, a sea of people.

F * ck, why are there so many people? is everyone so enthusiastic?

There was still half an hour before the kingdom war started. Why were they all here?

this was too exaggerated.

What should he do? he was still 500 yards away from the Prime Minister's mansion. He had to find a way to squeeze forward.

If not, he definitely wouldn't have been able to enter the country war map at the first moment.

"Is everyone here?"

Feng Yun realm said in the Guild channel.

"we've just arrived in the capital. may i know how to get close to the prime minister's residence?"

"Fly over here, hehe."

haha, I came here at seven o'clock. I'm waiting outside the prime minister's residence.

brother, you're awesome. The country war started at 8 am and you were there at 7 am.

"I have good foresight, right? hehe."

everyone, squeeze forward. If you can't see the prime minister's residence, how are you going to enter the World War map later? "

" we can't squeeze at all. there are people everywhere. how can we squeeze? " sigh, if I had known earlier, I would have adjusted my body to a 200-pound fatty when I registered my character.

f * ck, you're ruthless. Unfortunately, it's too late to say that now.

"Don't panic, it's fine even if we enter the kingdom war map a little later."

I suddenly thought of a question. After entering the world War map, do we land randomly or at a fixed place? "

"What do you want to say?"

"If we land at the same place, wouldn't we be squeezed together again after we get there?"

it's fine if we stick together. I'm just afraid that we'll land in different places. Where should we gather? " after we enter, look at the map and gather at the divine beast statue. We'll guard this wave first and see what happens next.

"Are you going to defend and fight? This is too passive. I really want to charge into the enemy's crowd and kill them all."

stop dreaming, you piece of trash. You want to kill everyone? "

"Haha, I'm just thinking about it."

Zhang Shan barely managed to squeeze forward for less than 100 yards before he could no longer move.

Forget it, let's stop here. I hope it won't delay things.

He tried his best, but there were too many people and he couldn't move them.

He looked at the time. There were still 20 minutes before the world War.

He didn't know where the others had run off to. He was surrounded by Chu players, but he didn't know any of them.

The scene was so chaotic that no one could gather together.

Let's take a look at the forums first, and we'll talk about the rest after entering the world War map.

After entering the forum, the first thing he saw was a section dedicated to the country war.

After Zhang Shan clicked in, the first was the official post, and the second was the player's post.

the official posts were all videos.

The country war had not even started, but the highlights were already out.

One of the videos showed them squeezing into the prime minister's residence. There was a sea of people everywhere.

It was even more exaggerated than what Zhang Shan had seen.

...

It seemed that he had arrived quickly. In the video, a large sea of people spread directly to the teleportation Hall of the royal city.

F*ck, it seemed like the enthusiasm of the players was even higher than Zhang Shan had imagined.

He had thought that many people would not be willing to spend 100 gold coins to teleport to the capital.

It seemed that he had underestimated the enthusiasm of the players.

Don't you care about spending money when there's a fight?

He had been worried for nothing. If everyone joined the battle, the number of players from Chu would be no less than the number of players from Qin.

Furthermore, there were many more lone wolves in Chu than in Qin. After all, there were many in-game players in Yingtian city.

although there were no large guilds in yingtian city, the strength of an individual player was not inferior to that of a guild player. in fact, they might even be stronger.

Zhang Shan took another look at the collection of videos from the Qin country. It was from the prime minister's residence.

Just like the Chu country, there were as many people as there were grains of rice. As for which side had more people ...

He would have to look at the game's background data to know.

the other official video highlights were of the battles between players from both countries.

There were scenes of PvP battles, and there were also scenes of players forming parties to kill monsters and bosses.

Two of the collection was about Zhang Shan. One was about the time in cloud dream city when Zhang Shan had teleported over and knocked the domineering King to the ground.

The other was after that, when Zhang Shan was chasing after Subjugator, when they were making a detour.

Zhang Shan charged straight into the forest, blocking the path with his firepower and knocking the tyrant king off his horse.

It had to be said that the domineering King was a little sad. He had even been dragged out by the officials to be flogged.

The video was edited and did not show the names of the two characters.

But the scene of Zhang Shan's handsome killing, those who knew could easily guess that the one who fell was the domineering King.

The two highlights of the game had cast a shadow over the hearts of the players in the state of Qin.

Who knows if there was really a bet on the outcome of this country war.

If it was true, after these two videos were released, the number of people who bet on the Qin country winning would be greatly reduced.

Although Zhang Shan was powerful alone, it would not have a big impact on the outcome of the country war.

however, these two videos were a little demoralizing.

how could the game producers release such a video at a time like this? it's so unfair.

"how is it unfair? Isn't there a video of Qin players cutting down the Dragon King of the East Sea?"

the Dragon King of the eastern sea is a fake. How can he compare with the domineering King?"

"What's there to compare? aren't they all defeated? Hehe."

the video of six-barreled Bodhisattva charging into the forest and killing domineering King was so cool.

" the domineering king is also a fool. he didn't take the straight path and chose to take the wrong path. otherwise, six-pipe bodhisattva wouldn't have taken advantage of this. "

you'll die faster if you take a straight road. If you ride a horse into the forest, your speed will be reduced, and you'll be defeated by six-pipe Bodhisattva who's chasing you.

" if you want to blame someone, then blame it on subjugator for being too weak. he can't win and still wants to run. he doesn't have any cards to play. "

Chapter 336 Entering the country war map zhang shan was quietly waiting for the world war map to open while reading the posts on the forum.

this was especially so when he saw the highlights of the game, two of which were about him.

This felt a little good and a great sense of accomplishment.

So what if he's the boss of the second-ranked Guild? he's still being beaten to the ground by a little loser like me, hehe.

as a background character, the domineering king must be very depressed.

Unfortunately, the domineering King was not in front of him.

If not, Zhang Shan would have taken a good look at this Big boss's expression.

He also told him not to be depressed, because there was more to come.

the country war would last for four hours, such a long period of free-for-all.

If he did not find a chance to beat him a few more times, he would not be able to face Zhang Shan's strong combat power.

I hope that the domineering King has prepared enough gold coins to revive on the spot, hehe.

just as zhang shan was secretly feeling good, windcloud blade spoke in the party channel.

"when we enter the world war map, don't disband the team. let's go and kill people together."

Their five-man team did not disband when they left the beast King Valley.

the world war was not like fighting a big boss. there was no need to form a large team. small teams were enough.

that's right, that's right. When the world War begins, let's continue together. Brother Guan will take us to kill people.

a little fairy agreed excitedly.

" where are we going to kill people? didn't boss say that we should defend first? "

Zhang Shan had originally planned to go hunting after entering the world War map. However, Feng Yun realm had asked everyone to gather together to defend first.

Since that was the case, it would not be good for him to secretly kill people. It was better to listen to the arrangements and defend well.

" it's fine. after entering the world war map, we'll kill a wave of them before returning to defend. "

"Alright, then let's meet up earlier."

Not long after, a system notification sounded.

[ system notification: Kingdom war (Kingdom of Chu, kingdom of Qin) has officially begun. All participating players, please enter the kingdom war map through your respective prime minister's residence. ]

The moment the system notification appeared, Zhang Shan realized that the number of people in front of him had decreased.

F**k, these people were so fast. They had already entered the World War map.

Zhang Shan quickly ran forward and quickly arrived in front of the prime minister's residence. He chose to enter the country war map.

As soon as Zhang Shan landed, he saw a few Qin players with purple names above their heads.

F*ck, landing in the same place as the enemy?

He didn't have time to think too much. He quickly opened fire and knocked them down.

He then checked the World War map.

There was an altar on both sides of the map, one for Chu State and one for Qin State.

the divine beast statues of both sides should be there.

Also, the map was very large. Zhang Shan had estimated according to the scale of the map, and with the speed of the red Hare.

It would take at least ten to twenty minutes to run from the altar of Chu State to the altar of Qin State.

As for those who were riding slower, they would take even more time.

let's move closer to the altar in Qin. We'll go and kill a wave of them first.

after zhang shan had finished speaking in the team channel, he summoned the red hares and quickly ran towards the qin altar.

Since he was going to kill someone, of course he would go to the Qin country to take a look.

He believed that the players from the state of Qin would all gather at the statue of their divine beast when they first entered the map.

He didn't know where the other four people in the team were. The World War map was so big.

Everyone had landed at random, so they couldn't meet up in a short time.

We'll decide on a direction first, and we'll meet up while killing.

Zhang Shan had just ridden a few steps and quickly realized that riding a horse was a wrong choice.

Damn it, although the World War map was huge, there were even more players participating in the war.

After running for a few steps, he would encounter people. Sometimes, he would encounter players from Chu State, and sometimes, he would encounter players from Qin State.

If they encountered players from the state of Qin, they would have to dismount and shoot.

There was no need to keep getting on and off the horse.

It was better to just run away on two legs.

As Zhang Shan ran towards the Qin altar, he fired continuously.

There were simply too many people participating in the world War. It felt like there were players appearing near Zhang Shan at every moment.

When the country war had just started, no one had gathered together.

...

To Zhang Shan, this was the perfect opportunity to kill.

He would kill anyone in the Qin country he saw. No one could pose a threat to him.

Zhang Shan ran forward as he killed.

Slowly, more and more players gathered together, unlike when they first landed.

They were all acting alone.

However, it didn't matter for the time being.

Although there were many Qin players who had gathered together.

But for the time being, they had not gathered into a large force and could not threaten Zhang Shan.

Moreover, the five of them had already gathered together, and their strength had greatly increased.

One had to know that among the five of them, other than Zhang Shan and boss Wu.

The other three all had big moves.

...

If he really encountered a crisis, he could solve it with a big move.

"brother guan zi, are we just going to cut down the qin people's divine beast statues like this?"

He saw Zhang Shan leading everyone towards the altar of the Qin country.

A little fairy asked curiously.

"You're thinking too much. There are only five of us. How can we go and cut the divine beast statue? we're only going to take a look."

Zhang Shan wasn't arrogant. To challenge a country's players with just five people, that would be suicide.

He had originally estimated that there would be tens of millions of players from both countries.

however, when the world war was about to begin, zhang shan knew that he had underestimated the enthusiasm of the players.

the total number of players participating in the battle was definitely not just 20 million. it was more or less 20 million on each side.

In the face of so many people, Zhang Shan could not even get close to the statue, let alone cut it.

All he wanted to do now was to take advantage of the chaos to defeat more Qin players.

He would try his best to reduce the number of people on the other side. That way, it would be possible to cut the other side's statues at the back of the battle.

Although his role was limited, he could kill hundreds or thousands of people during the chaos.

Compared to the 20 million players in the state of Qin, it was just a drizzle, but little drops make a Mickle. It was always good to beat more.

Zhang Shan and the other four swept across the country war map.

As long as they encountered Qin players, they would be defeated.

Whether it was the Qin players who were acting alone or those who had already gathered dozens of people.

To a five-man team like them, there was no difference. They could deal with it in an instant.

in fact, there were many people who had the same idea as zhang shan. both sides had a large number of strong players.

As for the God beast statues, no matter if they were Qin players or Chu players, they would be able to kill them all.

For the time being, he didn't have any ideas.

They hadn't even gathered together yet, and they wanted to cut down the other party's divine beast statue. Wasn't that asking for death?

Chapter 337 chaotic period

As he got closer to the altar, he encountered more and more Qin players.

The number of people they killed rose rapidly, but it was a pity that this world War system didn't have a contribution list or a kill count.

If not, Zhang Shan would have wanted to see how many Qin players he had killed in that short while.

haha, killing is so fun. This is a Kingdom war. It's much more fun than the usual small fights.

windcloud blade wielded his god equipment battle axe and hacked madly, even though he was only a melee fighter.

When there was no charge, it was not easy to cut people.

however, that was only relative to players with the same equipment.

In the world War map, there were a huge number of newbie players.

These people's equipment was very poor. Not to mention Zhang Shan, even wind and cloud slash did not need a second slash to kill people.

Moreover, these noob players not only had low HP and defense, but they also had low defense.

their shoes were also trash, and they ran extremely slowly. wind and cloud blade could easily catch up to them and cut them down.

Although his killing efficiency was not as high as Zhang Shan's, he was still very strong.

we're meeting more and more Qin players now. Should we prepare to go back? if we continue to charge forward, we'll be surrounded.

Seeing everyone's passion in killing, heart follows me calmly reminded them.

zhang shan looked at the map. at this time, they were still a few minutes away from the divine beast statue of the qin country.

However, their five-man team had long been targeted by the players from the state of Qin.

There were a few times just now when he was besieged.

However, there weren't many people on the other side. In addition, Zhang Shan had just learned the catapulting skill.

During the group battle, they were extremely strong, so there were no dangerous situations.

However, they couldn't go any further, in case domineering King personally organized a group of people to attack them.

Then they might be dead.

Once they were defeated, they could forget about resurrecting. Subjugator would definitely arrange for people to guard their corpses until the end of the world War.

although he could spend money to revive on the spot.

However, if a large number of Qin players were camping the corpse, it would be meaningless to resurrect on the spot.

Wouldn't he still be defeated after resurrecting?

For safety's sake, it's better not to be too wild.

let's not charge forward directly. Let's wander around and kill for a while. We'll go back and guard the divine beast statue later.

Zhang Shan said to the others.

"Don't be so fast. I don't think it'll be a problem to kill a little more."

Windcloud blade was in the midst of slashing. He did not even want to leave now. His opponents were all rookies. It was not easy to find such an opportunity to kill.

that's right, that's right. I feel like the people who are participating in the world War are all noobs. I can kill them all with one arrow. It's too easy.

Little fairy was just like wind cloud blade, addicted to killing and not wanting to leave.

they swept through the world war map and killed many qin players.

However, he had never encountered a truly tough one.

Every time he encountered them, they were all weaklings.

In fact, this was also normal. There were not many people in the two countries who could be considered experts.

And in the entire map. There might be as many as 20 million players in the state of Qin.

The chances of them meeting an expert were indeed not high.

However, it was still better not to be too reckless. Zhang Shan felt that it was better to be stable. After all, the World War would last for a long time. If there were no divine beast statues that were destroyed, it could last for a maximum of four hours.

There was no rush now. It was still early, and there would be plenty of opportunities to kill him later.

let's move around. Don't always rush in one direction. We'll be targeted easily.

Zhang Shan continued to speak to the rest.

"It's good that I can continue killing people, hehe."

The five of them quickly turned around and no longer charged towards the other side's divine beast statue.

Sure enough, not long after they changed direction, they found that the number of Qin players was decreasing.

He could only encounter a few people each time, and sometimes he would only encounter individual players who acted alone.

the five of them had to fight to kill him.

"Have the players from the state of Qin already gone to meet up with their divine beast statues? i feel like i'm meeting very few people now."

that's normal. The country war has already started for a few minutes. The chaotic period in the early stages will probably end soon. Next, it will probably be a large-scale attack and defense Battle.

"Then what should we do? Do we continue to kill?"

Zhang Shan said after thinking for a while.

"Continue to kill, we need to increase the distance between us. Don't walk together as a group of five, and when you see a large number of Qin players, quickly run away on your horses."

...

alright, then let's continue killing. If we kill more people now, it will be easier to guard the statue later.

by the way, what's the situation with the statue? what's the terrain like? is it good for defense?"

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

After entering the world War map, he had been running around and killing people, so he didn't have time to pay attention to other things.

He had yet to look at the divine beast statue in the state of Qin.

He didn't have the time to look at the divine beast statues on his side.

He did not know what was going on at the altar, so he went to ask Windcloud blade.

" the terrain is average, and it's not easy to defend. you'll know if you go to the forum and take a look. there's a video on the forum. "

After hearing what Windcloud blade had to say, Zhang Shan immediately opened the forum and clicked on the World War section.

In this section, there were already countless players who were posting.

the game producers were also constantly updating their collection of videos.

...

One of the highlights was the scene near the altars of both parties.

Zhang Shan clicked on the video to view it.

The altars on both sides occupied a large area, almost like a small city.

The statue of the country protector beast stood in the middle.

The Qin state's protector beast was a Black Dragon, while the Chu state's protector beast was Bai Ze.

Damn it, the difference between The Guardian beasts of the two countries was too great.

The Black Dragon of the state of Qin looked so mighty.

What the hell was Bai Ze of Chu State? why did he look like a little white dog?

Of course, although Bai Ze's appearance was not as powerful as the Black Dragon, Zhang Shan knew that Bai Ze was also one of the ancient mythical beasts. It was not inferior to the Black Dragon.

Besides, it was just a statue in the game, so he just had to look at it.

there shouldn't be any difference in the attributes.

The statue of the divine beast was not Zhang Shan's focus. He wanted to take a look.

How could he defend the statues on his side? at the same time, how could he attack the other side's altar?

After watching the video in detail, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. No wonder Blade of wind and cloud said that the altar was not easy to guard.

Although the altar looked like a small city, it did not have any city walls or gates.

He didn't know where to start.

however, it was fortunate that there was only one path that led to the statue.

The other places couldn't even reach the divine beast statue.

In other words, if he wanted to attack the divine beast statue, he had to take this path.

logically speaking, the defenders only needed to guard this road well.

However, the path to the statue was a little too wide. It could fit at least a few hundred people walking side by side.

What was there to defend? he could only rely on a human wall to defend.

Chapter 338 My kingdom war

As Zhang Shan swept through the world War map, looking for Qin players to kill, he was also looking at the video highlights of the game's operations on the forum.

He also looked at the posts and replies of all kinds of funny players.

Most of the players who were still alive had already gathered near their altars.

Those who were still wandering outside were those who had entered the map late, and also hunters like Zhang Shan.

There weren't that many people to kill, and he didn't have much passion for it. But Zhang Shan didn't want to go back to defense now.

it was still early, and the domineering king had yet to start preparing to attack. what was the point of going back now?

If they went back, they could only wait like idiots. If no one attacked, what was the point of guarding?

It was better to stroll around outside, pick up some fish that had escaped the net, and read the forum to pass time.

Suddenly seeing a player's post, Zhang Shan felt that it was particularly interesting.

the post was called my country war.

It was sent by a player from the state of Qin.

18th of November, 2058. I participated in the First World War in the New World.

When the world War announcement first came out, I was so excited that I didn't even sleep last night.

Half an hour before the start of the kingdom war, I had already arrived at the prime minister's residence and waited for the kingdom war map to open.

Looking at the prime minister's residence, there was a sea of people everywhere. I couldn't help but feel lucky that I came early.

Otherwise, he might have missed out on a few hundred million Yuan. He was a little glad.

After half an hour of anticipation and suffering, it was finally 8 O'clock, and the world War map opened.

I quickly ran to the prime minister's residence and chose to enter the kingdom war map.

Haha, great kingdom war, here I come.

However, the moment I entered the map, I found myself on the ground.

fatty four, didn't i enter the world war map? why did i fall to the ground? Did I come in lying down?

After looking at the battle log, I found out.

It turns out that the moment I entered the country war map, I was already defeated by those damn Chu country players.

that damned chu player was called a little demon.

'You damned Vixen, don't let me see you again. Otherwise, I'll kill you 800 times.'

Could it be that my country war journey could only last for less than a second before it was about to end?

I spent 1000 gold coins and chose to revive on the spot.

'This damn game, can it not be so dark? you actually need to spend 1000 gold coins to revive? I'm willing to call you the most dark.'

Fortunately, I had made preparations in advance. Before the kingdom war, I had cleaned up and sold all the trash in the warehouse.

He had saved more than 1000 gold coins.

after spending 1000 gold coins, i, hu hansan, have returned. this time, i will fight to the end.

However, he was only handsome for three seconds.

I don't know where, but I'm hit and I'm down again.

waa! i burst into tears.

My country war, my gold coins, this f * cking garbage game, is it playing me?

i'm no longer in the mood to see which b * tch killed me.

now, i just want to say, f * ck, this is a trashy game. goodbye.

Seeing this post, Zhang Shan could not help but laugh out loud.

He was also a talent.

He was just a sad talent. Speaking of which, there should be quite a number of players who had been defeated the moment they entered the World War map.

However, there shouldn't be many who chose to resurrect on the spot after being knocked down.

This was because when choosing to resurrect on the spot, one had to first look at the surrounding situation.

No matter what, he wouldn't be so miserable like the OP, falling to the ground again after just standing up.

By the way, the OP even hung little fairy up. The first person who killed him was actually little fairy.

This post was going to be popular. He wondered if the little demon, who was the culprit, would also be popular.

The post had just been posted, and it had only been a few minutes, but the number of replies below the post had already reached a terrifying number of hundreds of thousands.

It was simply an exaggeration. This pathetic child had become famous too quickly. He had directly taken off from the spot.

Zhang Shan glanced at the replies below the post.

haha, I feel sorry for you for a second.

you're too unsympathetic. The OP is already in such a miserable state, and you only feel sorry for him for a second. I'll feel sorry for him for three seconds, hehe.

"hahaha, what a pitiful man."

that's weird. I've looked at it a few times, but I can't find it. How can I tell that the OP is a man? how did you tell? "

...

" it has to be a man. it's too tragic. if it's a woman, i can't even bear to look at it. hahaha. "

"Let's talk about serious matters. Speaking of which, is a country war that tragic? He's instantly killed and can't even be resurrected?"

"it's definitely going to be tragic. don't you know how many players there are in the world war map? a rough estimate is that there might be more than 30 to 40 million players. with so many people in a chaotic battle in the same map, isn't it normal to be killed in an instant?"

but it's not that exaggerated. I heard that the World War map is quite big, so it shouldn't be that easy to meet an enemy.

let me put it this way. You haven't encountered a single enemy in the first minute of the game. You can go and buy the lottery.

"F * ck, is it that intense? It's a pity that our Wei country doesn't have a country war. Otherwise, we could also have a good time."

"you said one, but i'm afraid it's not three seconds, right? hehe."

"F * ck, I didn't dare to speak all this time. So there are so many people like me."

hehe, I was also instakilled as soon as I entered the map. However, I can't revive with gold coins. I'll just go back and farm monsters.

me too. I fell the moment I entered. I'm currently on my way to Heaven's Gate to farm monsters. The World War has nothing to do with me.

op is much better than me. I resurrected on the spot twice, but I only played half a minute longer than him.

capturing a rich person alive and reviving on the spot twice would cost 11000 gold coins.

don't cry out. Even if it's tragic, at least you guys have participated in the country war. We, who didn't even fight in the country war, are the ones who are truly miserable.

" why can't we fight? can't we just spend 100 gold coins to go to the capital? "

"I'm from the DA Qi Kingdom. Who can I fight a Kingdom war with?"

then why are you shouting? go to Heaven's Gate and kill people. Try to get the country war out as soon as possible.

"F * ck, I was late for dinner just now. Is it still time to enter the World War map now? Seeing you guys in such a miserable state, I don't want to go anymore. I'm afraid that I'll waste a hundred gold coins."

of course he'll go. Even if he's instantly killed after entering, he's still someone who participated in the First World War in the New World.

this country war is not interesting at all. Noobs can't play at all. It's a stage for the big shots.

"i'm afraid you're wrong. if the big boss is unlucky, he'll also be knocked out in seconds. didn't you see the video collection by the operator? As soon as freedom King entered the map, he was beaten to the ground by a group of people."

haha, you're right. It all depends on luck. If you're unlucky and fall into the middle of the enemy, even six-headed Bodhisattva will fall to the ground.

Chapter 339 The overbearing King's killing intent rises

Zhang Shan continued to look at the posts on the forum. He realized that other than the player who had just been depressed, there was no one else.

There were many people like him who fell as soon as they landed.

Many people were like him, killed the moment they entered the country war map.

There were players on the forums who were crazily criticizing what a large-scale country war it was.

However, they did not have any gaming experience, because they only played for a few seconds during the entire world War.

And then nothing more.

to these players, 99% of them would not choose to revive on the spot.

Not many people were willing to spend the 1000 gold coins to revive.

After they fell to the ground, they could only choose to revive in the city and leave the World War map.

This country war had nothing to do with them.

Someone had calculated on the forums that within a few minutes of the World War, the number of players who left the World War map should be close to half of the total number of people who participated in the war.

There were at least ten million people, and it might even reach twenty million.

When Zhang Shan saw the statistics, he could not help but be shocked.

Were there so many people who had been thrown out of the battlefield map?

He had not knocked down many people so far, Zhang Shan estimated.

From the time he entered the World War map until now, he had defeated about a thousand people.

the main thing was that when the country war had started, there were people everywhere. zhang shan was practically running and killing people at the same time.

The bullets didn't stop.

Even so, the number of people he had killed should not have exceeded two thousand.

However, the number of people on the forum was actually more than 10 million, even 20 million.

This was a little exaggerated.

Zhang Shan thought about it carefully and felt that the statistics on the forum made sense.

Although Zhang Shan was powerful, if he was alone, no matter how fast he killed, he would not be able to kill many.

However, if everyone was killing, the number of people killed in a short period of time would be very terrifying.

In fact, it was true.

On the country war map, hunters like Zhang Shan were everywhere.

There were many players who were confident in their abilities, regardless of whether they were from Qin or Chu.

They would form small teams of three to five people and randomly kill people from the other side.

he had encountered such hunting teams many times.

There were even more players who died because of the rookies pecking at each other.

After all, the number of newbies was the highest, and the possibility of them running into each other was very high.

The rookies of the two countries would not be at peace after meeting each other.

They would still fight fiercely, and when they fought, someone would naturally fall to the ground.

Although they were all rookies, there would always be some rookies who were slightly better. After defeating the other party, they might be quickly defeated by other rookies.

Under the endless cycle, many people fell to the ground.

In reality, most of the people who were killed and forced out of the world War map were killed by the rookies of the other side.

For a Hunter like Zhang Shan, although he killed quickly, he also killed many.

However, on the whole, it was impossible to kill tens of millions of people in a short period of time.

However, the number of players in the world War map had indeed decreased by a lot, so they could only die in a chaotic battle between rookies.

ten minutes after the world war began, zhang shan's five-man team was wandering around the world war map.

However, it was already very difficult for them to encounter Qin players again. Even if they encountered them, they would only encounter hunters who had the same goal as them.

These people had good equipment and were very slippery. He accidentally missed them and let them escape.

"Shall we go back and guard the statue?"

Zhang Shan said to the others.

" let's walk around for a while more. there's nothing to do if we go back now anyway. "

Although it would be hard to kill anyone again, wind and cloud blade was still unwilling to leave.

Of course, he couldn't kill anyone, but that was only in comparison to before when he could casually cut people.

in fact, as long as he wandered around the map, he would definitely encounter some qin players.

It was just not as much as before.

Just as Zhang Shan and the rest were still unwilling to leave.

The tyrannical King was currently preparing to attack the Chu country's Guardian beast statue.

A member of the domineering aura Guild said to him.

"Six-barreled Bodhisattva and blade of wind and cloud are still wandering around the world War map. Should we kill them first?"

When he heard Zhang Shan's name, the domineering King was furious. But he also knew.

Right now, the country war was the most important thing, and he shouldn't cause any more trouble.

"Forget it, there's no need to care about them. Let them do whatever they want. We only need to destroy the statue of the Chu country's protector beast. As long as we win the kingdom war, everything else is secondary."

Of course, the domineering King wanted to bring his men over and cut down Zhang Shan.

However, this was a country war, and winning the country war was the most important thing. He could not lose the big picture for the small.

it won't affect the kingdom war. We're going to push our way through anyway, so sending a portion of our people out first won't delay things.

The domineering Little Prince at the side also chimed in.

In reality, almost all the members of the domineering aura Guild were full of resentment towards Zhang Shan.

As long as there was a chance to cut down Zhang Shan, they would not let it go.

" that's right, boss. we should take this opportunity to kill six-barreled bodhisattva while he's still out there. that way, we'll have less pressure when we attack the divine beast statue later. "

you're right. Six-barreled Bodhisattva is too annoying. He has high attack power and fast attack speed. It's not easy to charge in wherever he's around. It's better to take him down first.

alright, you guys go and deal with six tube Bodhisattva first. I'll be back with the rest of the team soon.

After a moment of consideration, tyrant king finally relaxed.

Anyway, they were going to push towards the altar of Chu State. It would be good to let the Vanguard team sweep Zhang Shan away.

Moreover, if one were to talk about hatred, no one's hatred for Zhang Shan was as deep as his.

Fortunately, he did not know where Zhang Shan was in real life. Otherwise, he would have wanted to slash him.

Initially, he had been developing smoothly in the New World.

Not to mention their Guild domineering aura, even he, as the boss, had been defeated by Zhang Shan countless times.

This was simply intolerable.

Now that he had the chance to teach Zhang Shan a lesson, he would do it.

The number of people that the Overlord King had sent out was not many, only less than a thousand.

It wasn't that he didn't want to send more people, but this damn game operator.

From time to time, they would release a collection of videos of the operations of their large team.

If they made it into a collection and posted it on the forum, Zhang Shan and the rest would have run away.

so he first sent out a thousand people. this number was compared to the entire country war map.

It could only be a light drizzle, so it should not attract any attention.

However, even though there were not many of them, they were all the elites of the elites in domineering aura.

As long as they quietly surrounded Zhang Shan, the domineering King believed that they would be able to easily defeat him.

at the very least, he would be able to force out one or two big moves. of course, it would be best if he could force out the other party's big move in advance.

If it wasn't for the wind cloud Guild's ultimate skills, Subjugator would have no chance of attacking the divine beast statue in Chu.

It would be much easier.

Chapter 340-a head-on clash

Zhang Shan and the others had no idea that Subjugator had sent out the vanguard to surround them.

At this moment, the five of them were running around the world War map.

During this period of time, they had killed a few hundred Qin players.

Although his killing efficiency was not as fast as it was at the beginning, it was still passable.

Windcloud blade said smugly after cutting down a noob from the state of Qin.

sigh, why are they all rookies? can't you send some experts who are on par with me and let me kill them? " zhang shan teasingly replied.

one blade, you're going too far. You're holding a divine weapon axe. Where are you going to find an opponent that's on par with you? if you're so capable, put down the divine weapon axe.

haha, that makes sense. No wonder I feel that killing people is so easy now. It's because I'm too strong.

don't be happy too early. Be careful not to get beaten up by others. You won't even be able to cry then.

“do you think i'm afraid of being surrounded? One destructive move and they'll have to call me daddy.”

don't be ridiculous. It's better to save your big moves for later when we're defending or attacking the statue.

” don't take it seriously. of course, i know that we have to save the ultimate skill. isn't an ultimate skill like a weapon of mass destruction? how can we use it so easily? ” the five of them were happily playing with the water while wandering around the world war map, killing people along the way.

It was very pleasant.

Suddenly, a little fairy shouted crazily.

run! There are many players from the state of Qin. They are all from the domineering aura Guild.

“Holy sh * t! Could it be that they are really here to encircle us? could it be that they are going to attack the divine beast statue of Chu State and just happened to run into us?”

Zhang Shan lifted his head and looked at the little fairy. He saw a large number of members from the domineering aura Guild.

He was riding his horse towards them.

They were extremely fast. By the time little fairy had finished speaking, the players from the domineering aura had already reached their attack range.

Where the hell did so many members from the domineering aura Guild come from? was this all planned?

You want to trick us?

However, no matter what these Qin people were here for, it was too late for Zhang Shan's group of five to escape.

This was because they had never ridden a horse before. They had always been on foot.

They couldn't attack on horseback, and they had to keep killing people, so they could only run on foot.

Now that they had suddenly encountered the Qin Army, they wanted to get on their horses and run away.

It was already a little too late.

zhang shan shouted.

“Close in.”

don't panic. There aren't many people coming. Only a thousand. Don't be afraid.

the players from domineering aura charged forward on their horses and arrived in front of them in an instant.

It was only at this moment that Zhang Shan and the others realized that it was a false alarm. There were only a thousand or so members of the domineering aura Guild.

What was there to be afraid of? there was no need to run.

Not to mention that they still had three big moves. Even if they did not have any big moves, Zhang Shan would not be afraid of these people.

After Zhang Shan had learned the launching skill, he felt that an enemy team with less than a thousand people would be much stronger.

it was already very difficult for them to pose a threat to him.

Moreover, he was talking about the players who were slightly more capable, like the members of the domineering aura Guild.

He wasn't talking about the noobs who didn't have any equipment.

One shot killed 12 enemies. With such high damage, he wouldn't be afraid of a siege.

Besides, he had four other teammates with him, all of whom had amazing equipment.

These guild members of the domineering aura Guild were probably not aware of the situation. They were here to give up their lives.

They didn't have time to think about it now, and the five of them quickly gathered together.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me, blocking the front and back.

zhang shan, boss wu, and a little fairy stood in the middle.

By the time they had gathered their formation, the players from the domineering Guild had already arrived in front of them.

Zhang Shan fired rapidly and activated fanaticism at the same time, increasing his attack speed by 100% for six seconds.

there was no need to save this skill. after this wave, they would have to go back and guard the statue.

As for guarding the statue, it wasn't something that could be solved with just a few seconds of explosive power.

The problem now was that they had to get rid of these guild members as soon as possible.

Zhang Shan still did not know why these people had come to find them. Was there a large group of people following behind them?

Although they had said it so easily just now that it was a piece of cake to deal with a thousand people.

...

However, if there was a large force behind the other party, the five of them would be finished.

If they were to be held back by these thousand people and then surrounded by the Qin Army.

They would definitely die.

He had just read on the forum that there was going to be an intense war between nations.

it was over after a few seconds.

if zhang shan and the rest did not kill their way out as soon as possible, their country war journey might be over.

Once they were defeated, the players from the domineering aura Guild would definitely guard their corpses until the end of the world War.

No matter how many times he revived, it would all be for nothing.

thus, when the battle had just begun, zhang shan had gone all out. other than the berserk skill that he used to save his life, he had temporarily kept it.

The berserk skill was instantly activated, and a fierce fire swept toward the players from domineering aura.

One shot killed 12 players. Some of the members of the domineering aura might be more tanky.

But he couldn't withstand two shots.

A large number of domineering Aura's members fell to the ground before they could even figure out what had happened.

In less than 10 seconds, Zhang Shan had knocked down more than 100 of them.

One must know that these people were the elite players of the domineering aura Guild. However, in front of Zhang Shan, they were no different from noobs.

He was also swept away.

Out of the 1000 players, more than 100 had been knocked down in an instant. It was only then that the players from domineering aura finally reacted.

what's going on? why did our people fall so quickly? "

I don't know. Let's continue. Let's cut down their support first.

Although over a hundred players had been knocked down in an instant, the members of the domineering aura Guild still didn't know why.

They only thought that it was Zhang Shan's sudden outburst.

In any case, for a perverted player like Zhang Shan, it seemed quite normal for him to have a burst of power from time to time.

Don't worry, after this explosive period, it would be their turn to show their might.

The remaining members of domineering aura didn't seem to care and continued to charge forward.

Very quickly, they clashed with wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me.

At the same time, there were also quite a few players from domineering aura who went around Windcloud blade and heart moves.

He rushed toward boss Wu.

zhang shan took a look and did not pay much attention.

Boss Wu wouldn't die for a while.

Moreover, since they were in the world War map, they could revive on the spot.

At most, he would ask boss Wu to spend 1000 gold coins to revive him.

What he needed now was efficiency. He needed to defeat as many members of the domineering aura Guild as possible.

Thus, Zhang Shan did not care about anything. Wherever the domineering aura players gathered, he would point his gun at them.

His ejection skill was the most efficient when dealing with concentrated enemies.
