Chapter 34: A Bumper Harvest

Although it was only past seven in the morning, and many players had not gone online yet, the announcement that Zhang Shan had single-handedly defeated the red boss had made the entire game boil with excitement.

On the World Channel...

"F*ck! He could defeat the red boss single-handedly? is that for real?"

"The divine artifact is so terrifying."

"That's right. Can the divine artifact be so terrifying? He could actually defeat the red boss single-handedly. That's too fake."

"Could it be that there is a bug again? This big boss of divine artifact had previously used a bug to get the first kill of the wild boar king."

"That's impossible, the boss's is called priest. At a glance, you can tell it's a magic monster. It's of long-range attack, so even if it's stuck, it's doesn't help."

"Big Boss of divine artifact, come forth to tell us. Don't leave us in suspense." 2

Seeing the various doubts and suspicions on the world channel, Zhang Shan thought for a moment and spent a gold coin to explain it on the world channel.

"There was no bug, I used a tool. When I log off later, I'll upload the video to the forum. Everyone will know once they see it."

"F*ck, what tool is so awesome that it can take damage and defeat the boss? Could it be that there's some super tool that can kill the boss?"

"I beg Big Boss to quickly log off and upload the video."

Hehe.

Zhang Shan ignored the various voices in the world channel. He wanted to quickly take a look at the rewards.

Opening his backpack, the first thing he saw was a shining item, the Order of Heroes.

F*ck, it was dropped in this manner?

He called Storm of the World.

"Boss World, the Order of Heroes has appeared. Where should I hand it to you?"

"Return to the city, I'll see you at the Civil Affairs Officer's place."

Okay.

“Brother Six Guan, other than the Order of Heroes, what else were dropped? If there’s anything I can use, help keep it for me, I’ll buy it at a high price.”

“I haven’t looked at it yet. There are three pieces of red equipment. They’re probably magical. I’ll return to the city first, we’ll talk about it later.”

When Zhang Shan cast a spell to return to the city, he realized that the surrounding terrain had changed. The altar was gone, and the surroundings had become exactly the same as the other places in the Bo Wang Wasteland.

Perhaps this demon priest was a quest boss, and he would open up the dungeon after completing it, and would never respawn again.

After returning to the city, he teleported to the Civil Affairs Officer’s place and directly traded the Order of Heroes to Storm of the World.

“Later, I’ll ask Little Secretary to transfer 10 million to you,” said Storm of the World.

“Alright.”

It was always good to have money. Zhang Shan had originally wanted to give it to Storm of the World since he did not intend to establish a guild himself.

The key was to establish a guild, it would cost one million gold coins. He did not have that kind of money.

As for selling the Order of Heroes, Zhang Shan had never thought about it. His own guild had not even been established yet.

If he sold the Order of Heroes to others, how would he be able to establish a foothold in the guild in the future? Unless he wanted to leave the guild.

However, Zhang Shan felt that he was quite happy in the guild. Anyway, he only had skills and had no intention of leaving the guild. 1

Moreover, Storm of the World was also good at winning peoples’ hearts. Although he did not say that he would sell it, didn’t Storm of the World also give him 10 million blue coins?

This was already quite a lot of money. Although if he were to put the Order of Heroes up for auction, he might be able to sell it for a higher price.

However, Zhang Shan was already very satisfied with the price of 10 million.

After receiving a large sum of money, Zhang Shan was very happy in his heart. He looked at the other equipment.

They were three pieces of red equipment, two pieces of orange equipment, one piece of purple equipment, three skill books, and mysterious material.

This was a huge drop. Not only in terms of the quantity, but the quality was also high.

The equipment was all level 20. The three pieces of red equipment were all magic-type. There was nothing for him to use. He was depressed.

Perfect Sacrificial Prayer (red): magic attack 650-700, intelligence +89, special effect 1: Magic Enhancement, special effect 2: Magic Mastery, level 20 equipment, durability 100-100.

Magic Enhancement: increases magic attack by 3%.

Magic Mastery: increases casting speed and reduces skill cooldown by 5%.

Perfect Mind Robe (red): defense 200, HP 1,000, intelligence +86, special effect 1: Magic Resistance, special effect 2: Magic Affinity, level 20 equipment, durability 100-100.

Magic Resistance: increases magic resistance, reduces magic damage by 10%.

Magic Affinity: increases magic recovery speed by 10%.

Perfect Soul Necklace (red): magic attack 300-324, intelligence +87, special effect 1: Critical Hit, special effect 2: Magic Enhancement, level 20 equipment, durability 100-100.

Critical Hit: increase critical hit rate by 2%.

Magic Enhancement: increase magic attack by 3%.

These three pieces of equipment were really strong. Unfortunately, they were all magic-type equipment. If they were all equipped, they would not be inferior to his divine artifact. In fact, they might even be stronger.

He would ask Storm of the World if he wanted these three pieces of equipment later. Anyway, he was a Mage, so these three pieces of red equipment were just right for him.

After looking at the red equipment, Zhang Shan began to look down on the two orange equipment. One was an ax, and the other was a war blade used by a Guardian Warrior. The attributes were not bad, but compared to the red equipment, they were far inferior.

The purple equipment was actually a level 20 cape. It was a good item, and it was exactly what Zhang Shan needed urgently.

Just now, when he killed the boss, he had leveled up three levels, directly to level 18. He would level up to level 20 very soon, and it was just nice for him to use.

Priest's Cape (purple): increases HP by 16,000. 2

Directly increasing HP by 16,000 was simply terrifying. After wearing this cape, who would be able to kill him? It was even stronger than a tank.

The Purple Cape was truly a top-tier item. Right now, not to mention the Purple Cape, even the Blue Cape which he sold to Wind Chimes, no one had ever been heard of dropping it. Those big shots were still using Green Capes.

One of the three skill books was the Hunter class, Eagle Eye, of which Zhang Shan had been envious for a long time.

He directly learned the skill and leveled it up to level 10. He now had a lot of skill points. After leveling up Eagle Eye, he still had two skills left.

Eagle Eye (passive): level 10; increases attack range, vision, and perception by 20%. 1

The skill was simple and crude, but very powerful. If he had this skill long ago, he would not have to pull the boss back and forth until morning. He would probably be able to kill it at around 3 am.

He had strengthened his attack range, vision, and perception. Now, as long as he did not seek death, no one would be able to kill him.

The other two skill books were not bad either. One was the Resurrection skill book which could bring back the dead. It was very popular. Zhang Shan had not gone to the auction house to look at it. He estimated that it would cost at least a million gold coins, to begin with.

The other skill book was also used by support. It was the priest's skill book, Summoning Heavenly General. It could summon a heavenly general to assist in battle. It was similar to the Taming of the Hunter. The summoned creature could exist forever.

The mysterious material was also a good thing. Just look at Zhang Shan's divine artifact, the musket. If he did not have that mysterious metal material back then, who knew when he would be able to use the divine artifact.

What a bumper harvest! It was not in vain that he did not sleep for the whole night. He even used a rare item.

Looking at the name of the item with the word "rare", one could tell how precious the Silence Scroll was. If it was not used to fight the demon tribe priest this time, it would still be of great use in the future. It was definitely a good item that could not be bought with money.
